HOLSTEIN BREEDERS HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Officers Elected and Necessary Business Transacted—Mayor Vermilyea Gave an Address of Welcome—Annual Banquet Took Place at Night—A Prolonged but Pleasing Function

To encourage the breeding of Holstein cattle in this district and to advertise the district as a centre for high class stock, a Holstein Club was formed here over a year ago, named the Belleville District Holstein Breeders' Club. The club has been a success in every particular. At the present time there is a membership of 76, with every prospect of increasing. Yesterday afternoon the second annual meeting was held here, and in the evening a banquet was held, both of which were largely attended.

At the afternoon meeting, which was held in the Liberal Conservative Auxiliary room, Mr. A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, the President of the Club, presided, and in his opening remarks referred to the pleasure it gave him to see so many present at the annual gathering. He also referred to the success attending the first sale conducted by the Club last spring.

Mayor Vermilyea, who came in, was warmly received by the gathering and in a few words extended to the members of the Club a hearty welcome to the city. He hoped their gathering would be both profitable and pleasant.

The President, in replying, thanked His Worship for the hearty welcome he had extended to the members of the Club.

After the auditors had presented their report, which showed the Club to be in a prosperous condition, and some other routine business had been transacted, the officers for the year were elected as follows:

President—A. D. Foster, Bloomfield.

First Vice-President—G. A. Brethen, Norwood.

Second Vice-President—E. B. Mallory, Frankford.

Sec.-Treas.—F. R. Mallory, Frankford.

Executive—W. W. Dawson, Napanee; A. Parks, Napanee; R. Honey, Brickley; J. A. Caskey, Madoc; B. R. Leavens, Bloomfield; Geo. Anderson, Rossmore; E. Terrill, Wooler; E. R. Tote, Lakefield.

Auditors—Jas. R. Anderson, Rossmore, and Wm. Shaw, Foxboro.

At the adjournment of the meeting the matter of having a sale in the spring was taken up, and some details for the same were arranged. The sale will be held on April 3rd.

The Banquet.

The second annual banquet was in every respect a grand success. It was largely attended, and the after-dinner addresses were of a high order and educative in their character. It was held in the Anglo-American Hotel, and the spread provided by mine host Mr. John Harte was all that could have been desired, and it was served by most capable waiters. Over 100 did ample justice to the good things provided.

Mr. A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, President of the Club, occupied the chair and the vice-chairman was Mr. F. R. Mallory, of Frankford, Secretary-Treasurer of the Club. Associated with the chairman was Prof. H. H. Dean, of the Guelph Agricultural College, and other visitors.

After supper had been partaken of the following toast list was carried out, the various speakers demonstrating that they were capable of dealing with the task assigned them.

"The King"—"Long Live the King" by Mr. H. Wrightmyer, who never sang to better advantage.

Mr. F. R. Mallory, in proposing the first toast, said the Holstein Club was a national club, hence the toast "Our County" was most appropriate.

"Our Country"—Prof. Dean, of the Agricultural College, was the first speaker. He was pleased to be present at the gathering of the Belleville District Holstein Club, a club which was doing good work. In speaking of the Guelph College, he said that at present there were 1,500 in attendance at the college. The institution was so overcrowded that it was necessary to enlarge the college, and he had no doubt the Legislature would provide means for the purpose of not only enlarging the college but also providing more professors. The Professor, in speaking of Guelph, the Royal City, eulogized it as a place to reside in. Last year the public utilities owned by Guelph brought into the city treasury a revenue of $84,500. In referring more particularly to the toast of Our Country, he cited the landing of Jacques Cartier in this country in the Province of Quebec, and led step by step the growth of Canada up to the present time. From 1840 to 1867 it was a trying time in this country. From 1867 Canadian history really began. The foundation of the Government of Canada was spoken to by the speaker. Our educated men should take an active part in the government of the country, as they are able to help form a policy which would materially assist in the country's development. Give the boys and girls an education which is far better than money. Let the young men win their spurs, give them an education, not money. It is a mistake for parents to send children to college with more money than they know what to do with. A young man who has simply enough money to pay his tuition and board will no doubt make his mark in life. Money is important upon the farm, but it is not the main object. Education upon the farm is necessary. The advance-

AGED COUPLE DIED ON THE SAME DAY

Mr. and Mrs. James Trimble, of Toronto, Will Be Buried Together.

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. James Trimble, an old couple of the same age, who had been married for fifty years, passed away on Tuesday at the home of their daughter, 996 Queen street east. Having been gradually sinking for four months past, Mr. Trimble's death was expected. Mrs. Trimble, however, had been about doing her share of the nursing up to last Thursday. She passed away only a few hours after her husband.

For the last half century the couple lived on Yorkville avenue, until recently the daughter took them to live with her.

Mr. Trimble was a member of the Yorkville Orange Lodge, and of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and was a Methodist. For twenty years he has been in the employ of the city, in the medical health department. He is survived by six children.

A double funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2.30 to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

DROWNED IN SUGAR KETTLE.

Donaldson, La., Jan. 31.—Made insane by disastrous crop losses, Augustin Le Blanc, sugar planter, 50 years old, bound his ankles, and tying his wrists securely, standing on a plank across an old style open sugar kettle, fell backward into four feet of water. One end of the rope which bound his ankles was attached to a fence and kept his feet up and his head submerged.

PREPARED FOR RIOTS AT BELFAST

Government Introducing Large Force of Cavalry, Infantry and Police

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The rival camps in Belfast are awaiting February 8 with anxious expectancy.

"Churchill for Paradise," is to-day's ironical headlines on Belfast newspaper bills. "Paradise" is the name of the playing field of the Celtic Football Club. A tent which will accommodate 4,000 people is being erected there.

Mr. Winston Churchill, having been denied access to Ulster Hall, will make a mid-day speech from the platform in and on the field where the champion boxers give displays. As a countermove, the Unionist Council is issuing circulars to Orange lodges and Unionist clubs for a simultaneous anti-Churchill demonstration at the Northeast Agricultural Show Ground in Belfast.

The Government realizing the grave danger of a conflict between these excited rival forces, are introducing, as quietly as possible next week, large numbers of cavalry and infantry, and also police, who are being gradually augmented day by day in batches of fifty or thereabouts, drafted from country districts, with which it is intended to make an overwhelming display of force along the dividing lines of the Nationalist and Unionist quarters.

Mr. Churchill will be accompanied by his charming young wife, herself the daughter of a soldier, and is expected to leave his train at a station outside of Belfast and enter the city by a back door, and proceed to the meeting without passing through the Orange quarter. He has abandoned his intention of inspecting Belfast harbor and will proceed to Scotland and London by the midnight train.

How inflamed is public feeling is shown by the action of the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of Ireland, which issues a manifesto declaring Home Rule would "surrender the Protestant minority to an admittedly murderous ascendancy and would supply the Jesuits with a new lever for promoting civil and international war, in order to further the development of their fatal power and the corruption, humiliation and destruction of Protestant Britain."

The Liberal and Nationalist attitude in reply, is expressed in the Daily Chronicle, which says:

"Experience is a good teacher. We must not take Ulster's violent language too seriously. It is a way they have in the North of Ireland. All the same, these ebullitions reveal a very unlovely spirit, which assuredly is not the spirit of Protestantism, for the spirit of Protestantism is liberty."

Tilbury's Corn Exhibition.

Tilbury, Feb. 1.—The fourth annual corn show held by the Ontario Corn Growers' Association is now in full swing here. Tuesday was preparation day, and the largest number of exhibits in the history of the show were placed in position yesterday morning.

Prof. J. Klinch, Macdonald College, gave a talk on the method of selecting good seed corn, and yesterday afternoon Prof. Chamberlain of St. Paul, who is a native of Essex County, gave an excellent address on corn growing for profit.

Last evening the big official opening was held, Mayor Crawford of Tilbury in a neat address of welcome presenting a large bronze key of the town to the president of the association. Hon. James E. Duff, Minister of Agriculture, was unable to be present, and the opening address was delivered by D. O. C. Creelman of the O.A.C., Guelph. There was also a musical and literary program.

Attack Judge Who Released Burns.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—Condemning Federal Judge Anderson for releasing Detective William J. Burns, accused of kidnapping in connection with the arrest of J. J. McNamara, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday adopted a resolution demanding that Congress investigate the action with a view to removing him.

The resolution also criticises the federal judge for taking documents held by the country court, declaring that his action set at naught the laws of the state.

Sister's Confession Unavailing.

New York, Feb. 1.—James McDermott was convicted of manslaughter in the first degree by a jury yesterday afternoon, notwithstanding the testimony of his sister, Mrs. Theresa Martin, that it was she and not the defendant who stabbed to death Charles Muldoon in the back room of a saloon. The woman made this confession on Tuesday, when promised immunity, but the judge charged the jury to take into consideration when weighing her testimony that she had lied to the coroner and that she was a participant in a saloon brawl.

Don't let force of habit spoil your porridge.

Force of habit says "porridge should be cooked all night."

But that habit was formed a long time ago when people had to make porridge out of oatmeal instead of rolled oats.

Even yet some women through force of habit, are cooking Tillson's all night, though 15 minutes is ample.

They forget that where oatmeal was coarsely ground oats, Tillson's is thinly rolled oats. So filmy and thin are the Tillson flakes that they can be cooked as thoroughly in 15 minutes as the coarse particles of old-fashioned oatmeal could be in a whole night.

Tillson's Oats

Puree of Oysters

Bring a quart of oysters to boil in their own liquor. Drain. Chop the oysters fine. Return the oyster liquor to the fire. Add two tablespoonfuls of Tillson's Rolled Oats. Simmer fifteen minutes. Add the oysters, rub through sieve, return to fire, add one pint of milk and cream, cook carefully until heated. Season and serve. If too thick another half cupful of cream should be added. If too thin add one beaten egg yolk.

Will the bear see his shadow at noon to-morrow?

Enter February, coldest month; but if it should beat January, just past, it will be what the boys call "a corker."

Dr. Cook of North Pole notoriety, has the audacity to ask the people of Toronto to listen to another fake story of what he probably did not see in his alleged travels.

January has gone without regret, excepting from the coal dealers.

Manitoba people have no good cause to regret the bursting of that Minitonas gold bubble. It's far safer to depend for prosperity on the golden wheat than on the elusive gold in the rocks.—Hamilton Herald.

During the spring and summer the birds are the farmer's best friends, eating millions of eggs of insects which injure crops, fruit trees and other growing things. It is well to remember this during the cold winter days and throw out a little food to them.—Rochester Times.

The British Islands lie in the same latitude as the provinces of Saskatchewan, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium and the northern part of Manitoba. Edinburgh, Scotland, is farther north than any settled parts of Saskatchewan. Christiana, the capital of Norway, and St. Petersburg, Russia, are in the 16th parallel of north latitude, the northern boundary of Saskatchewan.—Sydney News.

The receipts at French theatres last year were $6,000,000, one-fourth of which was paid to the moving-picture theatres. The great returns from this form of entertainment have caused some of the authors of scenery to demand royalties, as if they were writing for the regular stage. At present the author sells outright the plot he has invented, and keeps no copyright.

The Toronto Globe, in classing as "ridiculous humbug" the absolute fact that the workingmen voted against reciprocity, quotes Montreal as evidence, with its strong racial bias in favor of Laurierism. Very conveniently, it sidesteps Toronto, its own constituency, not to mention Hamilton, the "Birmingham of Canada."—Hamilton Spectator.

True, and the Spectator might have mentioned every industrial centre in Ontario, as having voted against the pact; and the larger the industrial population, the bigger the majority against the Taft-Laurier project.

NEW AUTOMOBILE COMPANY WANT TO START FACTORY IN BELLEVILLE

The United Motor Company Select This City Because of it Transportation Facilities by Land and Water—The Plant Will be Costly and Will Employ from 300 to 400 Men—It Will Require Ten Acres of Land—Other Interesting Details

The United Motor Car Company, lately organized for the manufacture of automobiles in Canada to use the Augustine Rotary Engine which was exhibited a few weeks ago in the City Hall and explained by the inventor, after looking over Canada for a site for its factory, has fixed upon Belleville on account of its railway and water navigation facilities as a very desirable place in which to establish the business.

It is estimated that it will take from $150,000 to $200,000 to build and equip the plant, the buildings for which will cover at least two acres and requiring probably ten acres for all purposes connected with the business.

From 300 to 400 men will be employed at once and from the experience of other automobile manufactories in Canada and the United States, the number will be probably increased to 1,000 within a year or two.

The Augustine Rotary Engine will entirely revolutionize the use and manufacture of motor cars, as it can be started without cranking, does not vibrate, is as noiseless as an electric motor, has no exposed moving parts, is lighter per horse power than any other type of engine, and takes up only a fraction of the space required by any of the reciprocating engines now in use, and best of all can be manufactured at a very much less price than any automobiles now made.

The Company has the exclusive right for Canada to manufacture the Augustine engine for motor cars.

To procure the establishment of the factory and headquarters for the Company here, the Company requires a certain amount of stock to be subscribed in Belleville. They offer $75,000 seven per cent. cumulative preference stock with a bonus share of common stock for each share of preference stock subscribed for, and consent that the money may be deposited in one of the Belleville banks until required to be used in the erection of buildings and installation of the plant.

We are informed that the bonus of common stock is not offered or intended to be offered on the sale of any stock except in Belleville.

A considerable amount of stock has already been sold and the Company makes this offer to Belleville in order to procure sufficient funds to commence operations with as little delay as possible, being desirous of commencing the manufacture of cars early in the spring.

This seems to be a matter that our citizens should take hold of at once. It appears to be an undertaking in which the investors are sure to receive not only large returns on the money invested, but will secure to Belleville an industry that will be of great benefit to the city.

Mr. W. G. Dickson, of Toronto, the accredited agent of the Company, is now at the Hotel Quinte and will be glad to give any information required and receive subscriptions for stock.

It is expected that the City Council will attend with Mr. Dickson at the Council Chamber on Saturday evening, and we hope to see a large attendance of the citizens interested in the city's welfare.

It may be interesting to some of our citizens to know that automobiles to the value of $12,000,000 were imported by Canada from the United States, England, France and other countries last year. Over $8,000,000 of this amount went to the United States.

Canadians are ingenious, industrious, intelligent. Canada's forests and mines are capable of yielding inexhaustible supplies of raw materials required for manufacturing purposes. Canada's banks are as full as they can hold of money.

We have the men, the materials, the money. Now for the enterprise!

Let everyone interested in Belleville's prosperity turn out and assist in securing this very much to be desired industry.

ALDERMANIC RUMORS

To hte Editor of The Intelligencer.

Dear Sir,—It is rumored on the streets that on account of non-payment of taxes Mr. Flagler is disqualified to fill the position of Alderman for Bleecker Ward. If this be the case, is not Mr. Hunter eligible to succeed to the position, although receiving only three votes?

Another rumor going about is that a certain Alderman was debarred from voting the other day in Bleecker Ward on account of the collector's roll showing that his taxes were not all paid. Perhaps you would, in the interest of the taxpayers, enquire into these matters and give your readers the facts.

Yours, etc.
TAXPAYER.

Editor's Note—The Intelligencer has learned as the result of enquiry from the Tax Collector, that the rumor above mentioned is correct so far as the taxes of Alderman-elect Flagler is concerned. As to the other Alderman in question, the report is incorrect.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Suddenly all his fear went away, all his trepidation. The spirit of recklessness which had vised him a little while ago again empowered him. He was afraid of nothing.

"How shall I describe her?" he said. "I have seen only paintings and marbles, and these are inanimate. Have you ever seen ripe wheat in a rainstorm? That is the color of her hair. There are jade and lapis lazuli in her eyes." He leaned toward her. "And I love her better than life, better than hope, and between us there is the distance of a thousand worlds. So I must give up the dream and go away, as an honorable man should."

Neither of them heard the chancellor's approach.

"And because I love her!"

Her fan dropped to the floor.

"Your highness," broke in the cold, even tones of Herbeck, "your father is making inquiries about you."

Carmichael rose instantly, white as the frill in his shirt.

Hildegarde, however, was a princess. She gained her feet leisurely, with a half smile on her lips.

"Count, Herr Carmichael tells me that he is soon to leave Dreiberg."

"Ah!" There was satisfaction in Herbeck's ejaculation. But there was a glint of admiration in his eyes as he recognized the challenge in Carmichael's. "We shall miss Herr Carmichael."

Her highness moved serenly toward the door. Carmichael waited till she was gone from sight; then he stooped and picked up the fan.

• • • • • • •

The entrance to the vast ducal vineyards was made through a small lodge where the ducal vintner lived and kept his books and moneys till such time as he should be required to place them before the proper official. Upon the morning following the ball at the palace the vintner was reclining against the outside wall of the gates, smoking his china pipe and generally at peace with the world. He discerned a solitary figure approaching from the direction of Dreiberg—a youthful figure, buoyant of step and confident. Herr Hoffman was rather interested. The youth paused at the gate and inspected the old man highly.

"Herr Hoffman, I want work."

"So? What can you do?"

The youth recounted his abilities.

"I have a letter to you also."

"Let me see it."

Hoffman saw it, but with starting eyes. There was, then, something new under the sun. A picker of grapes recommended by a princess!

"Du lieber Gott! You are Leopold Dietrich?"

"Yes, herr."

"How did you come by this letter?"

"Her serene highness is patron to Gretchen, the goose girl, at whose request the recommendation was given me."

This altered matters. The two entered the office.

"Can you write?"

"A little, herr."

"Then write your name on this piece of paper and that. Each night you will present yours with the number of pounds, which will be credited to you. You must bring it back each morning. If you lose it you will be paid nothing for your labor."

Dietrich wrote his name twice. Still Hoffman was not wholly satisfied with his eyes.

"Gottlieb," he said to one of the men, "take him to terrace 98. We'll see what sort of workman he is." He spoke to Dietrich again. "What is Gretchen to you?" For Hoffman knew Gretchen.

"She is my sweetheart, herr." And there was no mockery in the youth's eyes as he said this.

"Take him along, Gottlieb."

Terrace 98 was given over to small grapes. Thus many bunches had to be picked to fill the basket. But Dietrich went to work with a will. His fingers were deft, and his knife was sharp, and by midsun he had turned his sixth basket, which was fair work, considering.

As Hoffman did not feed his employees, Dietrich was obliged to beg from his coworkers. Very willingly they shared with him their coarse bread and onions. He ate the bread and stuffed the onions in his pocket. Once more the youth was alone. He set down his basket and laughed. Was there ever such a fine world? The very danger of it was the spice which gave it flavor.

"I love her, I love her!" His face grew bright again, and the wooing blood ran tingling in his veins. "Am I a thief, a scoundrelly thief, because I have that right common to all men to love one woman? Some day I shall suffer for this; some day my heart shall ache. So be it!"

His fingers were growing sore and sticky and there was a twinge in his back as he shouldered his eighth basket and scrambled down to the man who weighed the pick. He was beginning his ninth when he saw Gretchen coming along the purple aisle.

"What a beautiful day!" said Gretchen, with a happy laugh.

"Kiss me."

"When you fill that basket."

"Not before?"

Got His Deserts

The long expected has been accomplished. Mr. Jeremiah Hurley, Fishery Inspector for the Dominion, has been relieved of the responsibilities of the sinecure which he has enjoyed for many years. His services to his party in and out of season during the past eight or ten years have met the fate of those, who on the principle affirmed by both parties that officials who dabble in politics otherwise than by casting their votes, should be removed from office—a fate looked for even by his own party, some of whom had become disgusted, and avowed it openly, of being placed in the position of having, when anything was wanted from the late Government, to apply through the Fishery Inspector, before they could approach the high and mighty in Ottawa. No doubt they will be satisfied now.

Other changes of officials which have taken place in this city and county have met the approval of the community, and no doubt this change will be equally acceptable.

Market Prices

The Ottawa Citizen tells a few things about market prices that should make the housekeepers of our province put on their thinking caps and discover if they can why it is they have been so patiently allowing the middleman to work his own sweet will with them, the consumers. The writer in the Citizen points out some facts that are pertinent to the present condition of high prices. He says:

The innocent and unorganized consumer, for whose pocket book middlemen are gunning, must occasionally be mystified by the extraordinary prices that occasionally rule on the Ottawa market for certain articles of food, and the explanations which are offered are, as a rule, quite beyond his comprehension. For instance, he is being told just now that because there is some trouble between the drovers and the abattoir authorities in Toronto the price of meat in Ottawa will go up "for a while," depending on the duration of this deadlock in a city 300 miles away. All the unfortunate consumer can do is to shake his head dubiously and wonder whether the price will come down again after the deadlock is ended. From time to time there occurs on the local market a deadlock in potatoes, or hay, or almost anything, the prices soar like a boosted stock on Wall Street, and the source of the boost is equally mysterious.

This state of affairs is not peculiar to the Ottawa market, it occurs elsewhere, more particularly in American cities. In fact, there has been more experience of that sort of thing on the other side of the line and the consumer is gradually becoming wise and calling upon the municipal authorities to get busy and protect him. There is an interesting case cited from Indianapolis, where the price of potatoes was boosted to $1.40 a bushel on the local market, when their real value was about 70 cents. The consumers complained to the mayor, who is a gentleman of energetic temperament and also has an ambition to achieve well founded popularity. The mayor immediately ordered a carload of potatoes to be sent in and asked the reporters of the local newspapers to announce that he would dispose of them to the citizens in small lots at half the market price plus the cost of handling. It took a week for the car to arrive, but in the meantime the price of potatoes on the market proceeded to slump on the announcement in the newspapers of the mayor's action, but not as low as it should be. The mayor's municipal potato market disposed of about sixteen cars, or about 8,000 bushels, before the potato ring came to the conclusion that he meant business, and the citizens of Indianapolis have had potatoes at reasonable prices ever since. About Thanksgiving Day the price of poultry soared like a skyrocket on the Indianapolis market as the result of a combine among the middlemen, who bought up the farmers' supplies. Once more the mayor established a municipal market and beat the prices down to reasonable figures. Now the proposal is made that the city shall employ a purchasing agent, whose business will be to keep informed of outside and local prices, and whenever a ring of middlemen get to work to whipsaw the innocent and helpless consumer, similar steps will be immediately taken to break the combine.

Under Ottawa's system of city government there is a controller whose special business it is to look after the market. The market is maintained for the benefit of the consumers, who are practically the people of Ottawa. Hitherto the administration of the market has merely meant that certain fees are collected and certain expenditures are made for salaries, improvements, etc. It might well be considered whether the market portfolio should not properly carry with it the much larger responsibility of seeing that the people of Ottawa, whose market it is, are given a square deal. The market is maintained for the benefit of the farmers and of the consumers, not for the benefit of a lot of middlemen who take it out of both the farmers and the consumers. It should be the duty of the custodian of the municipal market portfolio to take a broader view of his responsibilities.

Mr. Graham In Renfrew

In fighting the return to Parliament of Mr. Geo. P. Graham, the Government, says the Toronto News, breaks no agreement. Before the Liberal leaders made their hole-and-corner agreement with the Conservative committee of South Renfrew, they were told plainly by Ministers of the Crown that no arrangement to facilitate the election of Mr. Graham would be recognized. Yet the arrangement was made and now the Liberal press presumes to call it a moral obligation upon the Government. Mr. Graham was warned that he would have to fight. Why does he not fight like a man? A usual majority of over 600 is in his favor. Why should he be so anxious for an acclamation?

The Liberal press declares also that Mr. Graham should be in Parliament, that his experience and knowledge are necessary for the guidance of the House, and that his return should be facilitated by the Government. Mr. Graham is a likeable man. Personally he stands well with his opponents. As a Minister he was not ineffective. It is believed that, unlike many of his colleagues, he was not wholly given to the idols of Patronage. But why should the Conservatives help him to find a seat? He is a Liberal leader. The Opposition demands a perfection of chivalry on the part of the Government that would stagger even the famous Bayard.

When the Liberals were in office it was their declared policy to pursue relentlessly every Opposition leader. Mr. Foster was beaten in St. John and North Ontario. Sir Charles Tupper was beaten in Cape Breton. Mr. Borden was beaten in Halifax. He was elected for Carleton because the Government could not have beaten him in that constituency with all the organization and money imaginable. In view of that record the Liberal press displays an impudence almost thrilling in the suggestion that the Government should make it easy for Mr. Graham. Joel Chandler Harris' story is apt: After eating Speckle Pig and Big Pig Brer Wolf came to Runt's house and knocked on the door "Blam blam!" He remarked:

"If you open de do' an' let me in I'd wom my han's an go home agin."

But Runt peeped under the door and after careful investigation remarked "Yo' done got too much ha'r on yo' hoof." Mr. Graham is on the outside—and the Conservative Government sees a superabundance of Liberal hair on his hoof.

A Great Task

The commissioners appointed by the Government to enquire into the construction of the Transcontinental Railway will have to shoulder a gigantic task, involving as it does a detailed enquiry into the largest individual expenditure ever made by a Canadian government. The fact will be recalled that during the vague discussion which preceded the undertaking of this great work the statement was made in Parliament that it would not cost the people of Canada more than $51,000,000. Already, says the Ottawa Citizen, it has run over $200,000,000, and it will be up to the commissioners to solve the problem as to where the money went. In selecting Mr. T. P. Gutelius, a thoroughly practical railway man, and Mr. Lynch-Staunton, one of the ablest lawyers in Canada, and clothing them with the widest powers of enquiry, the Government is assured that the calcium will be turned on every dark corner. All the same it will be a herculean task, and its successful accomplishment will constitute an achievement that should earn the commissioners the highest appreciation of the country.

WANT SUNDAY SLIDES

Large Assembly of Torontonians Pass a Resolution.

Indignation Meeting Is Held in Massey Hall to Protest Against the Proposal of Council to Cut Off Tobogganing on Sunday — Many Prominent Men on Platform—Dignified Attitude Preserved.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—"Britons never shall be slaves" was the music played by the Grenadiers' Band at the opening of the citizens' meeting in Massey Hall last night. And "Britons never shall be slaves" was the sentiment of the 4,000 people who crowded there to make their protest against the proposal of the City Council to close the slides on Sunday. It was no assemblage of juveniles or people particularly interested in sports. It was essentially a representative gathering of the citizens of Toronto, of the fathers and mothers of Toronto and of the whole people generally. Scores of men well advanced in years were seen in the audience. Rich and poor vied with each other in enthusiastic applause of the speakers, and the presence of 100 Y.M.C.A. boys showed that there was no ill-feeling intended on the part of either of the factions in the fight for the liberty of the individual. Ladies were there, too, in great numbers. The sane, sensible tone of the meeting in evidence all the way through, even up till the time the crowds were filing out of the hall, with the band playing the National Anthem. There was no cheap ridicule of any section of the community, no boisterous language, no enmity.

Entirely in keeping with the tenor of the whole proceedings was the simple, straightforward wording of the resolution that was carried unanimously at the close. With uplifted hand, practically every individual in the big assemblage gave his endorsation to the following:

"That in the opinion of this meeting the bylaw which has received its first reading providing for the closing of all park slides be not passed. And that the opinion of this meeting be conveyed to the mayor and City Council by the chairman and secretary of this meeting."

German Paper Assails Knox.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—The Kreuz Zeitung couples with a despatch giving the substance of the speeches of Secretary Knox and the German Ambassador Count von Bernsdorff, at the National Press Club in Washington Tuesday night, a half column attack upon the American Secretary of State as one of the bitterest enemies of Germany in the United States, "as shown in his recent attempt to inaugurate anti-German tariff reprisals."

"Those well informed on American conditions," says the paper, "assert that Mr. Knox is chiefly responsible for the strong anti-German trend which is now and then manifested in the official American policy."

The Kreuz Zeitung says that the very manner of taking up the arbitration treaties indicates that President Taft and Secretary Knox are interested, first and foremost, in concluding the French and British treaties, to hold as a club over Germany. American comment on the visit of the Duke of Connaught, it adds, shows that American statesmen are more inclined to an alliance with Great Britain than to a friendship with Germany.

Chinese Smuggling Plot.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 1.—It became known yesterday that five Chinamen were smuggled across the border into the States last Thursday or Friday night. The Celestials are now being held by American immigration authorities in New York, pending their deportation to China.

It is believed the same gang has been interested in smuggling undesirable aliens into Canada during the past two years. Smugglers has been active since the Dominion Government placed the immigration inspectors on duty along the frontier several years ago. So far the principals have succeeded in escaping apprehension, although many of their subordinates have been arrested and heavily fined.

It is known that the gang that smuggled aliens into Canada has agents in Hamilton. It is believed these men arranged for smuggling the Chinamen into the States.

Schooner In Peril.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The British schooner Success, with three of her crew washed overboard, is off the coast of Florida, appealing to passing vessels unavailingly for help to get to a haven of safety, according to wireless despatches to the Navy Department.

The few remaining men aboard are striving to pilot the little craft into Jacksonville. One wireless message stated that the steamer Antilla had been asked for two men to assist the diminished crew. Volunteers were called for, but none replied.

The revenue cutter Yamacraw, which has been advised of the schooner's plight, will go to her assistance.

Queen's Makes Concession.

Kingston, Feb. 1.—At a conference between the legislative committee of Queen's University and committees representing the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, it was decided to waive the provision in the bill now before the House of Commons requiring the university to build within five years a building for the theological faculty. In view of this the faculty will continue in the old Arts Building, the name of which will be changed to the Theological Hall.

Three Days' Carnival.

Lindsay, Feb. 1.—The Lindsay Advancement Club was organized in Lindsay with Mr. Allan Gillies, proprietor of The Warden, as president, and it has been decided to hold a three days' carnival on Feb. 14, 15, and 16.

SHOULD BUY OUT LINES

J. E. Armstrong Urges Purchase of Phones and Telegraphs.

Member For Lambton Introduces a Resolution Favoring the Appointment of a Commission to Investigate Conditions With a View to Improving Service in All Departments of Communication.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—J. E. Armstrong (E. Lambton) brought up in Parliament yesterday afternoon the question of nationalization of telephones, telegraphs, wireless telegraphy and cables. He urged that the commercial telegraph system of Canada could be purchased for $10,000,000. The Government should own the trunk lines of telephones.

In both telegraphs and telephones we get "the lean end of it," the monopolies reaping the big profit. It was the same with the parcel post and the express companies.

Mr. Armstrong moved the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this House, a commission should be appointed to investigate the systems of national telegraphs and telephones, wireless telegraphs and cables, also postal conditions, laws and regulations, parcel post, means of collecting and distributing mails, with a view to submitting such data and information to the Postoffice Department as would help to improve existing conditions in all the above, and to further enquire into postal facilities in rural districts in other countries in order that a better system of rural free mail delivery may be inaugurated."

The Premier had declared on his Halifax platform of 1907 that he did not see why the nationalization of telegraphs and telephones, which had been demonstrated a success in Great Britain should not be equally so in Canada.

"If Canada went about acquiring these great public utilities under common sense business methods," declared Mr. Armstrong, "they would become a source not only of revenue, but of great advantage to the people.

"There were five great means of transmitting intelligence of vital importance to every man, woman and child in the country, the telegraph, telephone, wireless telegraphy, cables and postoffice. They should all be part of the postoffice system.

"To-day the Dominion operated 8,000 miles of telegraph at a loss of $270,000. The C.P.R. operated over 12,000 miles of pole lines, and over 76,000 miles of wire, and their net profit last year was $1,270,000. The G.N.W., with 11,000 miles of pole line, and 50,000 miles of wire had been able to cover up their earnings to a great extent because they were controlled from the U. S. The purchase of the entire telegraph system of Canada, however, should not exceed $13,000,000 or $14,000,000 or probably $10,000,000 after deducting the lines necessary to operate the railways.

As to telephones, there were 460 independent companies in Ontario, and in the Dominion about 1,000. These were practically on their knees to the Bell Telephone Co.

"The proposal that I have to make to Parliament," said Mr. Armstrong, "is that we should own the trunk lines of telephone, that these trunk lines should go to the independent companies and let the municipalities or the independent companies own, control and operate these lines and make them local concerns."

Telegraph and telephone should go hand and hand as the same wires could be used for both.

In telegraph and telephone we owned the "lean end of it," the productive end was left to the great monopolies.

Wireless telegraphy was in much the same position. Of the 25 stations, costing Canada $10,000 to $25,000 each, 15 were controlled by the Marconi people, the unprofitable end being operated by the Government, at a very great loss. The whole system should be nationalized.

As to parcel post, the postoffice again did the unprofitable end of it. The remunerative end was done by the express companies, who were able to par 100 and 200 per cent. dividends.

The bulk of the stock owned in our principal telegraph companies, said Mr. Armstrong, was owned in the United States. There was no British-owned cable.

Lowering of rates did not necessarily mean lowering of revenue, as was shown in lowering of the postal rate from 3 to 2 cents in 1896. The "night letters" advertised by the telegraph companies showed that there was profitable business at a much lower rate. A telegram of 10 words could be sent anywhere in Holland for 10 cents.

The proposed commission should go abroad to study public utilities and get information about the most improved systems. Not one per cent. of the people used the cables. Surely this was an argument for the Government taking over the system.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock, Mr. Armstrong not having concluded his discussion.

Richard Blain's (Peel) resolution declaring, that where possible, telephones should be placed in the postoffices, was declared out of order, although Hon. L. P. Pelletier expressed his anxiety for the discussion to go on, on the ground that a private member could not introduce a resolution involving expenditure of money.

Bye-Election March 25.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—It is very possible that the South Renfrew bye-election may be held on March 25 with nominations a week earlier, March 18. If the new lists are used this is the earliest possible date and it is considered highly probable these dates will be fixed, as it is felt the new lists should be used. The old lists were made up in 1910, which makes them two years old. The campaign in South Renfrew is proceeding vigorously on both sides. A big mass meeting will be held in Arnprior on Friday night when Hon. W. J. Roche, Secretary of State, and Mr. Haughton Lennox will be the chief speakers.

MARKS FOUND ON BODY

Inquest at Toronto Reveals Peculiar Circumstances.

Widow of John Sterling, Who Died In Weston Consumptive Hospital Testifies to Finding Blood on Arm of Body, and Bruises on His Face—Hearing Is Adjourned Till Feb. 7 to Hear Evidence of Doctors.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—When the body of John Sterling, who died Saturday night, at the Weston Consumptive Hospital, was brought home Sunday evening, his widow, Annie Sterling according to her testimony last night noticed that his right arm was so tightly bound behind him that for a moment she thought he had lost that member. In lifting the arm into proper position she discovered it bathed in blood, which had spread over his shoulder. At the inquest opened at the morgue, at the request of the chief coroner, by Coroner Hopkins of West Toronto, last night, she was firmly convinced that her husband's body had been opened without permission after death, which gives a new phase to the already peculiar circumstances surrounding Sterling's death.

"My husband's arm and shoulder were saturated with blood where he had been opened," said Mrs. Sterling, on the stand, "and I want to know who did this, for it was done without any permission."

Coroner Hopkins assured her that the next session of the inquest, Wednesday, Feb. 7, would bring out evidence that would ascertain the truth. Accordingly some of the physicians and nurses at Weston Sanitarium will be summoned to give evidence next Wednesday.

Sterling was found dead beside his cot at the sanitarium last Saturday night. He was in a ward with one other patient, who discovered the lifeless body on the floor and immediately rang for a nurse, who quickly responded. The pulse had stopped completely, she found, and the physician who was later called said he believed Sterling must have been dead when he struck the floor, rolling from his cot during his last struggle.

When the body was removed to Atterlink's home, 250 Berkeley street, several marks and abrasions about the man's head, which could not be accounted for, gave rise to curiosity as to how he met his death, and the case was reported by Mrs. Sterling to the chief coroner, who gave orders that an inquest be held and that the funeral be deferred. The body was later removed to a vault in St. James' Cemetery, whence it was taken to the morgue yesterday.

Mrs. Sterling, the widow, and Andrew Phiney, 285 Sumach street, were the only witnesses to give evidence last night. Phiney's evidence was immaterial.

Postmasters Want Raise.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, heard a deputation yesterday representing the Postmasters' Association of Canada, asking for an increase in salary.

There are six thousand members of the association and they claim the postmasters are underpaid.

They ask that the commission on the sale of stamps may be made a sliding one in proportion to the revenue of the office. They also want an allowance for heating, lighting, and maintenance of offices which are not situated in Government buildings and that for work before eight in the morning and after seven in the evening over time be paid at the rate of twenty-five cents an hour.

Mr. Pelletier promised the matter every consideration. The deputation consisted of J. V. Bourque, Shediac, president of the association, H. E. Proctor, Aurora, Ont., secretary, and H. S. Moore, Norwich, Ont.

Farmers May Be Ruined.

Winnipeg, Feb. 1.—Hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain have been exposed to the weather all the winter for want of storage facilities. At Verigin, Sask., in one pile there is 500,000 bushels covered with snow. This belongs to the Doukhobors.

"It is not a question," said a grain man yesterday, "of the ruin of an individual. It is a question of the ruin of whole districts. We are on the verge of the worst calamity which has ever happened in Western Canada. From 15 to 20 per cent. of the cars of grain which have come into Winnipeg has been wet.

A few days of wet weather would destroy the value of every bushel of this grain. Yesterday I heard of one elevator with 25,000 bushels which had already all gone bad. The same thing may happen in a month to 10,000,000 bushels of wheat and to similar quantities of flax, oats and barley.

Expect an Agreement.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—"I have nothing to say yet on the boundaries question," said Premier Roblin. "Everything is getting along smoothly and the details are being worked out even more satisfactorily than I expected. We anticipate no trouble in coming to our agreement with Ontario."

At the close of the Conservative caucus Premier Borden was asked as to the accuracy of the report that Ontario had made an offer of 25,000 square miles of territory in exchange for 4,000 square miles at the mouth of the Nelson river.

"The Globe," he said, "evidently knows more about it than we do. It is the first I have heard of it."

Taft's Message of Sympathy.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 1—President Taft ordered that the following message of sympathy be sent to King George on the death in Egypt of the Duke of Fife:

"I extend to you my sincere condolence in the sorrow that has come to your family in the death of the Duke of Fife. (Signed) William H. Taft."

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Wheat prices tumbled in the last half hour today as a result largely of signs of a let up in the recent extraordinary demand for corn. CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 31.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 27 were 1100 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 200 hogs and 400 calves, while the supply on the market this morning for sale amounted to 850 cattle, 225 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 300 calves.

The trade in cattle was very slow, owing to the fact that the quality of the stock was common, and a large percentage of it showed that they were taken out of the barns half-finished, consequently the demand was limited, as buyers only bought sufficient to tide them over the balance of the week, and a number were left unsold. The tone of the market for this class of stock was weaker, and the prices accepted by the drovers for what there was sold showed big losses, the top price realized being $6 per 100 pounds for the best steers; but if there had been a hundred good to choice beeves on the market in place of all the above trash, a good trade would have been done at firm prices. There is a good demand for milch cows at present, of which the offerings are also limited, and the undertone to the market for them is stronger.

The trade in small meats was quiet, and the quality of the stock offered was generally poor. Supplies of common calves were ample, but good stock continues scarce.

Receipts of hogs were in excess of the requirements, and an easier feeling prevailed in the market, the bulk of the trading being done at $7 to $7.15, with a few odd lots selling as high as $7.25 for selected stock, weighed off cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.50 to $6.75; do., medium, $4 to $5.50; do., common, $1 to $3.75; do., choice cows, $4.75 to $5.25; do., medium, $3 to $4.75; do., bulls, $3 to $5; milkers, choice, each, $75 to $80; do., common to medium, each, $50 to $65; springers, $30 to $45.

Sheep, ewes, $4.50 to $4.75; bucks and culls, $3.75 to $4.25; lambs, $6.50 to $7.

Hogs, f.o.b., $7 to $7.25.

Calves, $3 to $12.

Decree Does Not Apply.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Rev. Father O'Connor, of St. Bridget's Church, an authority on Roman Catholic ecclesiastical law, in a statement to the press yesterday says that the Quantavis Deligentia, the papal decree which forbids Roman Catholic laymen to bring clerics of their faith before the courts, is not applied to this country. He explains that in the decree, after it is set forth that excommunication will be the lot of whomsoever brings a priest or bishop before a lay court, there appear the words "contrary to canon law." Furthermore, he stated, the Quantavis is really but the restatement of an old decree and by expert authorities it is considered that it will apply only where the old decree was in force. The latter, in Canada as well as other English-speaking countries, was not enforced and there is in this country a general ecclesiastical permission to bring clerics before lay judges when such course becomes absolutely necessary.

Freight Wrecks Near Kingston.

Kingston, Feb. 1.—A wreck with no loss of life, but with heavy damage to rolling stock, occurred on the Grand Trunk at Thousand Island Junction, when freight train 96, one of the fastest in that division, was thrown off the track by a sharp flange. Ten cars, filled with merchandise, went off, the two cars being thrown clear over the fence.

Shortly after this mishap the engine of a Grand Trunk freight train jumped the track at Thousand Island Junction, with the result that five cars were thrown into a ditch. None of the crew were injured.

A wire was sent to Belleville and a wrecking crew was sent out to clear away the wreckage.

Galt, Feb. 1.—A $75,000 project, in which Toronto capital is concerned, is being promoted here. The proposition is an extensive plant to manufacture pressed brick, of sand and lime. An option has been secured on an immense sand deposit adjoining the Grand Trunk track north of the town.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE GIRL AND THE TRAMP.

"The Girl and the Tramp" is a new play which has been written by Chas. Inkeep to fill out the gap which has been left by the passing of the common melodrama, with its thrills and its unlikely characters and situations and the high class musical show which cannot possibly be given at popular prices.

Fun the people always want. "It is the laugh," said Louis Mann, and theatrical men who take the money know that a play which really will produce the laughs always takes the money.

In "The Girl and the Tramp" is told a story of a man whose home was ruined many years before the play starts by a villain, and who has been forced into the "submerged tenth," as a common tramp; well educated, yet saddened and reduced to the level of a vagabond he roams the country until the beginning of the play, he is engaged by the same man who ruined his home, but whose identity is not known to him, to work out another piece of villainy. "The Girl and the Tramp" will be seen at Griffin's Opera House to-night. Prices within reach of all: 25, 35, 50 and 75c., Plan at Doyle's ment of this young country can only be materially assisted by education. The Professor, in his closing remarks, referred to agriculture generally. There were many farmers in this country who were not making yearly a fair wage. Our farmers should have more capital, and he thought the Government could loan to farmers money at a low rate of interest and it would prove advantageous to the agriculture of the country and advance its interest. There are many things essential in the development of this young country. This is our native land and we should do all in our power to improve Canada. (Loud applause.)

Mr. McCrea, of Ottawa, was called upon and tendered his thinks for having been invited to the banquet. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to Prof. Dean, who was doing valiant work in the interest of agriculture in this province. The Holstein Club was a good thing in more than one respect. It was a step in the right direction. The good work would spread. Their achievement and success would be copied by others. In helping the breeders the Belleville Club was helping the country as a whole. Dominion and Provincial associations were all right, but local associations were necessary. It was an honor to the club and an honor to the Ontario Agricultural College, of which he was a graduate, that a member of the Belleville District Club had the honor of having had the champion cow of the world. We were in a transition stage in Canada at present. The Maritime Provinces and the provinces of the west are asking for dairying cattle. What they want is good stock. Clubs like this can help meet the demand. Let the breeders of this district and the Province of Ontario generally deliver good goods. He wished the Holstein breeders every success.

Song—"The Dear Little Girl," by H. Wrightmyer, who was compelled to respond to an encore entitled "Heroes and Gentlemen."

"The Dairy Industry"—Dr. C. A. Publow, of Picton, was the first speaker to this toast. Although a medical man he said he was still much interested in dairying. The Holstein men of the world are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts to promote the dairy interest. The Holstein cow was a pioneer cow of the world. We were in a transition stage interest in this country. During the year there were some 225,000 persons in this country in the dairy business with a capital of $175,000,000. Much money is lost to the dairymen of this country on account of poor methods of management. A tremendous problem for the dairymen to solve was the providing of pure milk. The quality of milk in many cases is lamentable. Cleanliness is of more value than butter fat, the latter of which is essential. Produce all the milk you can, but produce it in a clean manner. He advocated the cooling of milk even if it is sent to the cheese factory.

Mr. M. Sprague, a cheese exporter of this city, was called upon and responded appropriately to the toast. The Holstein breeders are doing a good work. He had been associated in the dairy business all his life and he was much interested in dairying. In speaking of the price of cheese, Mr. Sprague said the prices for cheese last year were high, in fact the factory men received the highest prices for cheese last year of any year in the business.

Mr. James R. Anderson, of Ameliasburg, spoke from the producers' standpoint in the production of cheese. Every class of men are blending together and looking out for themselves, and the farmers should do likewise The dairy farmer must have farm implements for a dairy farm. It is a fact, however, that farming implements made in Canada are sold in the United States and the old country at a cheaper price than in this country. This he considered was not right. If there was a set of men who needed education it was the farmers. It was necessary for the farmers to have an education in order to make all it is possible to make out of the farm.

"The Holstein-Friesian Cow"—Dr. McCormick, of Napanee, in speaking to this toast, referred to the question of tuberculosis in animals. Cattle, he said, should be tested annually, and by this means have infected animals weeded out. Owing to the Government taking an interest in this matter, the expense is great, as the owner of a herd who has some tested has only to pay the veterinary surgeon. To guard against tuberculosis is to have your animals clean and keep them clean.

Mr. B. Mallory, County Treasurer, a well-known Holstein breeder, paid a tribute to the Holstein cow. It is an established fact that the milk from the Holstein cow is a vitalizing milk, and a milk that is highly recommended by the medical fraternity. Our Canadian herds have made records which are exceptionally good and our cows will hold their own in testing with cows in other countries.

Mr. C. A. Brethren, of Norwood, in speaking, said he hoped the spirit of co-operation would prevail with each member of the club. The Holstein cow has been known for hundreds of years. The Holstein cow answered a call to come westward from her native land, and this country is the richer of it. Jacob, when he chose the speckled cow, commenced to prosper.

Song by Mr. H. Wrightmyer.

"Our Association and Organization"—To this toast Messrs. A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, President of the Club, J. A. Caskey, of Madoc, and E. R. Tate, of Lakefield, responded. The President spoke of the sale held last year by the Club and the success attending same. In speaking of tuberculosis in cattle he said feed the cattle well, but at the same time let them have exercise.

Mr. Caskey predicted for the Belleville District Holstein Breeders' Club great success. The club started out well and he had no doubt that it would continue to prosper.

Mr. E. R. Tate, of Lakefield, made a brief but appropriate address in speaking of the Association and the good it had and was accomplishing.

Song by Mr. H. Wrightmyer.

"The Press"—Mr. Cowan, of Peterborough, representing the Farm and Dairy; Mr. J. O. Herity, of The Ontario; P. Harrison, of The Intelligencer, and Mr. Kingston, of The Campbellford Herald, responded to this toast.

"Our Financial Institutions"—Mr. J. Elliott, manager of the Standard Bank, responded to this toast in his usual able and affable manner. In speaking of the banking institutions he said they were going ahead in leaps and bounds in this country. The paid up capital of the banks in this country to-day is $100,000,000. The depositors are increasing largely every year. No country is better off financially to-day than Canada. In the old country to-day Canada is being advertised, and no place more than the Bay of Quinte district. The speaker referred to Canada as a great country that was prospering in every respect. We want to do all we can to build up this fair Province of Ontario, the banner province of this Dominion. The field crops of Ontario last year were of the value of $195,000,000. The banking institutions were prepared to help the farmer.

Mr. R. Honey, of Brickley, said the farmers were the men who produce the finances of the country. They make work for all classes of the world.

"Our Visitors"—Messrs. McVannell, of Picton, district representative of Duncan district, representative of Northumberland; Mr. Anderson, of Overton, Lennox County, were called upon. The latter spoke of the necessity of the farmers to be organized the same as many classes are organized.

Messrs. R. Moutgomery and D. J. Fairfield gave brief addresses.

Solo—"Sweet Mary," by Mr. H. Wrightmyer.

"Our Host"—Mr. J. Harte fittingly responded to this toast, which was enthusiastically received.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers of the evening, to Mr. Wrightmyer and Mrs. Col. Campbell, the accompanist, and to Mr. F. R. Mallory, the chairman. The latter tendered his thanks for the kindly references to him.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem brought the pleasant gathering to a close at an early hour this morning.

The banquet committee, to whom credit is due for its success, was composed of Messrs. G. W. Anderson, J. R. Anderson, F. R. Mallory, A. D. Foster, Jas. A. Caskey and G. A. Brethren.

THAT FARCIAL ELECTION IN BLEECKER WARD

Belleville, Jan. 31, 1912.

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Sir,—Right you are on the Bleecker Ward election farce, as it was a farce from the passing of By-Law No..... to the closing of the poll, and I, a candidate, before the election day, maintained that the election was in my estimation, illegal, from the fact that the candidates did not have any knowledge of who were no qualified voters' list being made not paid all their taxes could do so up to 5 o'clock p. m. on the 27th.. You will observe that the candidates could not act to secure the votes of Bleecker Ward from Saturday p. m. to Monday a. m. of the 29th, owing to no qaulified voters' list being made out; also, that Candidate Mr. Flagler, was nominated at 1911 nomination and did not qualify, and who would have been elected by acclamation and saved the city from the expense of a bye-election.

It is now up to the Council with new blood for 1912 to have the By-law changed to read on or before nomination day instead of election day. By so doing the Tax Collector could have the qualified voters' list for the information of the candidates some days before the election. As a candidate for Bleecker Ward that was one reason why I did not resign, as I wanted to give the by-law a test prior to the election of 1913, so that there will be no farcial election in 1913. And to prove what I have stated, I have no hesitation in making it known, and explaining to a number that I maintained that the election according to my views, was not legal, some days before the 29th, even if I was elected owing to the facts as stated, the farcial result being the polling of only 33 votes. I am,

Yours respectfully,
JOHN HUNTER.

15 YEARS A DYSPEPTIC

Forced to Live on Stale Bread and Porridge.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

AVONDALE, N. B., October, 15th.

"I have been a great sufferer from Indigestion for fifteen years. I was forced to deny myself all such hearty foods as beans, meats, potatoes and could not drink tea or coffee. For the past two years, I lived on porridge, stale bread, etc. I had treatment from two doctors, and tried nearly every kind of medicine, but got worse.

"Finally I saw a testimonial of "Fruit-a-tives" and concluded to give them a trial. I took nearly four boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and they have made me feel like a new man. I can eat all kinds of hearty foods without suffering, and am no longer constipated."

LEMUEL A. W. BROWN.

Many people look on "Fruit-a-tives" as a miraculous medicine. It has indeed performed what have seemed like miraculous cures in hundreds of cases of chronic Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fresh fruit juices and valuable tonics. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Empress Dowager of China Signs the Abdication Decree.

London, Feb. 1.—The edict of abdication of the Chinese throne has been signed according to a message from Tientsin.

The court will not quit Pekin for a month as the Manchu troops of the garrison threaten to shoot the royal family and the princes if they attempt to leave the capital.

Empress Orders Flight.

Pekin, China, Feb. 1.—The Imperial Foreign Board announces that the Empress Dowager informed the members of the Cabinet at their meeting in the palace yesterday that the throne had decided on a solution of the situation which would insure peace. She instructed the Ministers to arrange accordingly.

It is believed that Premier Yuan Shi Kai and the Republicans are now in complete agreement. While he is endeavoring to persuade the recalcitrant Manchu elements to accept abdication peaceabaly, Yuan Shi Kai is taking measures to prevent any outbreak on their part from becoming serious.

Martial Law in Tientsin.

London, Feb. 1.—A terrible panic among the officials in Tientsin has caused many of them to seek shelter in the foreign concessions.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the native city, according to a special despatch received here yesterday.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

BASEBALL.

SOON OFF FOR TRAINING.

In six more weeks the crack of the bat against the cork-centre ball will be heard in all sections of Dixieland, for by that time a small army, consisting of about 1,000 major and class AA minor league players will have invaded that country south of the Mason and Dixon line, says the New York Free Press. The sixteen major league teams will be scattered over eight states. Arkansas is the favorite, as four teams will train within its borders. Texas and Georgia are tied for second place, as each state will entertain three battalions. Louisiana is only one step behind the Lone Star and Cracker states, as two of the big fellows will train there. Alabama and Virginia will each see one big league club get into action; Indiana will be the stamping ground for other members of the fast set for one week, while Missouri will have a chance to peek at two of the big fellows getting in fighting trim.

The claim of Arkansas for distinction as a training ground is due to the fact that Hot Springs is with the state lines. Hot Springs always has been a favorite place with big league teams and this season, Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Philadelphia of the National League and the Boston Americans will get into condition at this health resort. Hot Springs lost one of its regular visitors when Cincinnati decided to train in Columbus, Ga.

Texas in recent years has been looming up strongly as a training ground. The two champion teams of last season—the Giants and Athletics—will do their preliminary work in the Lone Star state, unless the prevalency of meningitis there compels these teams to look for another place. The Giants will start the ball rolling on their own ground in Marlin, while the Athletics will round into shape in San Antonio. Jimmy Callahan's White Sox, as the white-hosed warriors from the Windy City are called, will train in Waco.

Georgia is another popular training state, and this season will entertain the New York Highlanders, Boston Nationals and the Cincinnati Reds. The Hilimen will train in Atlanta, the Bostonese in Augusta, and Hank O'Day's charges will limber up in Columbus.

The teams which will make Louisiana their temporary homes are the two former champions of the big leagues—the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers. Chance's stalwarts will hold forth in New Orleans, while Jenning's Tigers will do their preliminary work in Monroe. Alabama's claim for fame is due to the fact that the Cleveland Naps will train in Mobile.

The Washingtons will be the attraction in Virginia and will hold forth in Charlottesville, where Griffith's men will play on the University diamond. Last season the Nationals trained in Atlanta, where the Kilties will be put through their capers this spring. The St. Louis Cardinals will go to West Baden, Ind., for a week, and will finish their training in their own park in St. Louis. The Browns will also use their own park for training purposes.

The International League teams will be as well scattered as the two majors. Larry Schlafly will take his Skeeters to the Bermudas, being the second team to go outside Uncle Sam's borders for a training camp. Several years ago the Chicago White Sox trained in Mexico. Three other teams in Ed. Barrow's circuit will get into condition in the Cracker State. Stallings will take his Buffalo Bisons to Athens, where the Highlanders trained last season; Fred Lake's Providence Grays will be the attraction in Savannah and Joe Kelley's Toronto Maple Leafs will do their conditioning in Macon. Two teams will train in Virginia. Billy Lush will get his first managerial experience in teaching baseball, to the Montreal team in Charlottesville, while Joe McGinnity's Newark Indians will train in Petersburg. John Ganzel and his Rochester Bronchos will do their stunts in Aniston, Ala, and Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles will train in their own ball-yard.

HOCKEY.

A friendly but exciting game of hockey took place on the D. & D. rink last evening between seven from the Holloway Street S. S. and a team from the Institution. In the first half the S. S. boys had it all their own way, the score being 5 to 2, but in the last half the "Mutes" came out strong, scoring 5 goals, while the S. S. boys could find the net only once. After the game both teams with the referee adjourned to the dining room where they partook of a feed having the class of a banquet. Mr. L. Barrett, the referee, performed the almost impossible task of pleasing everybody. A return game will likely take place in the near future.

The line up:—

D. & D.		Holloway St.
E. Smith	goal	C. Stratton
C. R. Ford	point	L. Yerex
J. Green	cover	M. Vandervoort
E. Meloche	rover	W. Finkle
E. Kindrie	centre	R. Cronk
C. Droschmer	right	R. Minns
P. Smith	left	W. Vandervoort

Total score, 7—6 in favor of the Institution. There was only one penalty meted out during the game.

At Toronto last night Kingston Frontenacs put the University of Toronto seniors out of the O. H. A. running by 9 to 5.

For the Junior championship of Groups 1 and 2, Trenton will play at Peterborough to-morrow, and on Tuesday Peterborough will play at Trenton.

STOVE MEN EXTINGUISHED.

At the Arena last evening, a hockey match took place between the Young Canadians and the Gurney—Oxford teams. The Young Canadians proved to be too swift for the stove men, winning by a score of 6 to 1. Mr. Dawkins made a capable referee.

SHE CONFESSED KILLING FOR WHICH HER BROTHER WAS TRIED

Woman, Under Promise of Immunity, Told How and Why She Stabbed Muldoon--The Jury, However, Convicted the Accused

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Theresa Martin brought the trial of her brother, James McDermott, to an abrupt and dramatic climax in Judge Foster's court, by declairng it was she and not McDermott, who stabbed to death Charles Muldoon, a customs inspector, in a Lennox avenue cafe on March 17th of last year.

Mrs. Martin had admitted that she was in the room when the crime was committed, but refused to tell who struck the blow in a severe cross-examination that lasted more than an hour.

When she left the stand her counsel asked Judge Foster if the district attorney's stipulation of immunity from prosecution on what his client was to tell still held good. The judge replied that it did unless perjury was proven. Mrs. Martin was then recalled.

"Who drove the knife into Muldoo?" was the first question of the defence. "Did you?"

"Yes, I did," she replied. She wept, as did her brother and many others in the room.

Mrs. Martin testified that Muldoon insulted her while they were drinking in the Lennox avenue cafe. She went home, brought back a bread knife—having told Muldoon that he would never insult her again—and killed him.

McDermott testified that he was in the saloon when the crime was committed, but was so intoxicated he didn't know what happened.

New York, Feb. 1.—Evidently influenced by Mrs. Martin's testimony on Tuesday that it was she, and not her brother, James McDermott, who stabbed and killed Charles Muldoon on March 17, the jury which had been trying McDermott for manslaughter in the first degree, brought in a verdict of guilty, but with a strong recommendation to mercy, yesterday afternoon after being out for a little over two hours

Judge Foster in his charge to the jury simply interpreted the law which applied to the case in question, and then gave a short review of the facts. Promptly at 2.40 o'clock in the afternoon the jury filed in and McDermott was brought up from the pen. He looked into the face of each juror, and as he saw their stern faces and averted gaze he smiled slightly and those in the courtroom noticed that he straightened up.

As the foreman pronounced clearly and distinctly the words which may send him to Sing Sing for twenty years, McDermott's smile grew and his chest expanded, giving the impression that he rejoiced in the fact that he had been convicted despite his sister's heroic effort to save him from imprisonment.

Judge Foster then remanded the prisoner until to-morrow for sentence. While the jury was giving its verdict Mrs. Martin became hysterical, and attempted to force her way into the court room, although Judge Foster had instructed her to remain outside.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

TRAMPS SHELTERED.

The only occupants of the police cells last night were seven tramps, all being comparatively young men. At present there appears to be a great number of this class of humanity on the move.

STAGE DELAYED.

The Ivanhoe stage was some two hours late this morning in arriving in the city. The delay was caused by a run-off of the C.P.R. near Tweed village during the night. We understand that no one was injured, but some damage was sustained to rolling stock.

A POOR SHOW.

"The Girl and the Tramp" was last night presented at Griffin's Opera House to a fair audience. The company is composed of five members. some of whom have certainly no license to be upon the stage. Fred A. Byers as "Happy Jack" a tramp, has a good conception of his part and plays it well. He is virtually the whole show.

A COLD JANUARY.

The average temperature at Toronto for the month of January this year was 13.8 degrees, which is 9.1 below the average, and the coldest but one in the whole records. There are, in fact, only three colder months on the record, which were Februaries. The lowest in Belleville was 24 below zero, which occurred on the 13th of the month, and the highest was 35 on the 18th. On only six days of the month was the temperature above the average. The snowfall reached a depth of 21 inches, being 4 1-2 more than the average. Rain fell on two days, and no January thaw occurred.

RAN SEVEN MILES

A horse belonging to S. Amodeo, of this city and attached to a delivery sleigh, ran away yesterday afternoon and was finally stopped at Shannonville, having travelled for 7 miles. No particular damage was done.

DRIVING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Queen Street, last evening entertained a number of their friends to a sleigh irde about the city and afterwards at supper at their home. All thoroughly enjoyed themselves and voted Mr. and Mrs. Simpson to be ideal host and hostess.

ARM WAS INJURED.

Mr. George Hale, an employee of the Burrell Rock Drill Company, which industry is situated a short distance east of the city limits, was yesterday the victim of a painful accident and one that will incapacitate him from work for some time. He was operating an emery wheel when his right arm came in contact with the swiftly revolving wheel, with the result that the arm was badly lacerated. The unfortunate man was conveyed to his home and his injuries attended to by a physician.

CASE ENLARGED.

A young man named James Smith was arrested a few days ago on a charge of theft, it being alleged that he stole a quantity of tobacco, cigars, etc., from Lackas Bros.' establishment on Bridge Street. This morning the accused was brought up before the Magistrate, but the case was enlarged for a week as neither the Crown nor the defence was prepared to proceed. In the meantime Smith will remain in the County Jail.

HOME RULE BILL; A LIBERAL FORECAST

DAILY CHRONICLE SAYS IT GRANTS CONTROL OF CUSTOMS AND EXCISE.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a forecast of the home rule bill. This provides that the Irish Parliament shall have full control of customs and excise, and provisions will be made for the continuance of complete free trade between England and Ireland.

Ireland is to receive for fifteen years an annual subsidy of $10,000,000, after which she will make contributions to the Imperial expenditure based on a percentage of her revenues.

The Irish Parliament will consist of two Houses—a Legislative Council of about fifty members, and a Legislative Assembly of 103 members. The Council will have a suspensory veto on legislation. In the event of a disagreement between the two House after the second rejection of a bill by the Council, it will be submitted to the two Houses deliberating and voting together, and adopted or rejected according to the decision of the majority.

Ireland will continue to be represented in the Imperial Parliament, but in greatly diminished numbers. The Irish Parliament will have no control with respect to the navy, army, militia, foreign policy, coinage, military camps, or coast lighting, and will be forbidden to establish or endow any religion or deal with any religious matter.

According to the forecast it is understood that the Irish Constabulary will be controlled by the Imperial authorities for a period of twelve years.

SUBMARINE RAMMED BY TORPEDO BOAT

The Submarine Sunk With Crew of Eleven--Both Crafts are British

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Submarine A3. was rammed to-day by the torpedo boat Hazard, near Princess Shoals, Isle of Wight, and sank immediately wtih her entire crew of eleven. Little hope is entertained that the men will be rescued, if still alive. Warships and divers are trying to bring the craft to the surface.

A later wireless message announces that all the compartments are flooded and the whole crew are dead.

EARLY ELECTION IN SOUTH RENFREW

Nomination on Feb. 15th With the Polling on Feb 22nd

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—The South Renfrew bye-election will take place on Feb. 22, with nominations on the 15th. The writ issued to-day. This is the Government's answer to the repeated charges that the constituency was being disfranchised and the electors gagged.

An early election was the professed desire of the Opposition, without regard to the condition of the lists in South Renfrew, and without regard to the fact that scores of men competent to vote in the riding are necessarily absent in the lumber camps at this time and cannot take part in an early election.

The difficulty in regard to the lists in the Township of Sherbrooke has been removed and the Government loses no time in giving the electors an opportunity to choose their representative. With the issue of the writ to-day the Liberal allegations that an unfair advantage was being taken by the Government with the deliberate object of keeping Hon. Geo. P. Graham out of Parliament are disproved.

People familiar with public sentiment in South Renfrew, declare that Maloney will easily defeat Mr. Graham, whatever the duration of the campaign. South Renfrew will have been vacant less than eight weeks, counting from Dec. 31, up to which time as stated by the Premier in the House yesterday, the former member drew his indemnity.

MARRIED IN BANDAGES.

Bride and Groom Severely Burned and Bridesmaid May Die.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 31.—Susie Terlicka and Joseph Giekl were married in a Polish church this morning, standing before the altar, with the upper parts of their bodies swathed in bandages because of burns received just before they were to start for the church.

Miss Terlicka's bridal veil caught fire from an open grate, igniting her clothing and that of Agnes Lopatki, the bridesmaid, who also was seriously burned. Giekl was burned in rescuing the two women

The ceremony was delayed while the sufferers were attended by physicians and the bridal party proceeded to the church, leaving Miss Lopatki writhing in pain at the home of the bride. During the festivities at the latter place, after the ceremony, the Lopatki girl was taken to a hospital. She may die.

GENDARMES SLAIN BY FLEEING THIEVES

Long Chase Across Country in France—Two of the Burglars Suicide

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Two murders and a long chase across country, ending a suicide, were incidents of a robbery at the railway station at Orleans early to-day. The affair resembled in some ways an anarchist outrage at Tottenham some years ago.

At 2 a. m. employes at the railway station discovered that three burglars had broken into the freight depot and were engaged in ransacking it. The alarm was given and the depot was surrounded. The assistant station master and his subordinates advanced on the intruders.

The burglars opened fire with Browning pistols. The assistant station master received a bullet in his thigh, while a porter was wounded. The burglars then escaped and disappeared in the dark, pursued by two policemen on bicycles. who reached the station at LeSaubrais after the burglars had departed by train.

The alarm was given along the line, and before the train stopped at Angersville local gendarmes were waiting on the platform. As the train slowed down two men leaped to the track and fled to the country, with the gendarmes in hot pursuit. A third burglar remained in the train.

The gendarmes profiting by a short cut, finally headed off the fugitives. When the burglars saw this they fired at the nearest gendarme, a man named Donnoy, who fell dead. Another gendarme was the next victim, and the two men again made a dash off across country.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE DURING THE CAMPAIGN

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Further statements were communicated to Parliament this afternoon by Postmaster-General Pelletier in response to questions by Mr. Armstrong, East Lambton, relative to the matter of newspaper postage during the last election campaign.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier stated that, in response to a question by the member for East Lambton, on July 27, last, the then Postmaster-General, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, had replied that clause 60 would be enforced, any complaints thoroughly inquired into, and any infringement stopped.

"During the last general election contest did the postmaster at Toronto refer a question of excess postal charges against The Toronto Globe to the department at Ottawa? If so, what reply did the department make?" asked Mr. Armstrong.

"No reply was made, nor was any necessary. The rules were known," was Mr. Pelletier's reply.

"Did the Toronto postoffice make a similar request for a ruling regarding excess postal charges against The Toronto News or other newspapers? If so, what was the department's ruling?" was the next query.

"The same answer meets this question," said the Minister.

"Is it true, as claimed, that The Toronto Globe had a binding agreement on the part of the Postoffice Department to carry these papers at the regular rate of postage, viz., one-quarter of a cent per pound?" Mr. Armstrong continued.

"No," replied Mr. Pelletier.

"If so, is it true that as a result of this special mailing privilege certain newspapers were enabled to circulate thousands of copies daily at the ordinary postage rate, while other newspapers were compelled from time to time during the election cmapaign to meet the department's bill for excess postage?"

"This question is answered by the answer to the preceding one," was the Postmaster-General's final declaration.

SLEUTH MADE CONFESSION.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 31.—The Examiner to-day says that Bert Franklin, former confidential agent of the McNamara defence, made on Jan. 14 a detailed confession of alleged jury bribery, implicating attorney Darrow, and that the $4,000 paid to Jurors Bain and Lockwood was brought fro mthe east by a man who will also be indicted. The next move it is said will be the release of Franklin so that he may aid in the apprehension of this man.

DEATH ROLL.

MRS. H. MOSSMAN.

Mrs. Ann Maria Mossman, widow of the late Harry Mossman, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 2nd con., Thurlow. The immediate cause of death was an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Mossman, who was in her 59th year, was born at Claphill, Bedfordshire, England, and had lived in this vicinity many years. She was well and favorably known to many. In religion she was an Anglican, being connected with Christ Church. A family of two sons and three daughters survive. The sons are Fred and George, at home, and the daughters are Mrs. Wm. Oliphant, of this city, Mrs. H. P. Phayer and Mrs. H. Bowler, of Auburn, N. Y.

MRS. WM. SAGER.

Mrs. Wm Sager, an aged lady, died yesterday at the residence of her son, Mr. Wm Sager, at Albury, in Prince Edward Co. Deceased had been in failing health for some time. In the year 1824, the deceased was born at Demorestville, and all of her life was spent in Prince Edward county. She was a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her. Mrs. Sager had been for years a member of the Methodist church. Beside the son, one daughter, Miss Mary E. Sager, at home, survives.

FELL FROM A HAY LOFT

Suffered Tortures With His Kidneys Until He Tried Gin Pills

You might think that Mr. Baker needed a surgeon more than GIN PILLS. But there were no bones broken. His back was strained, which was harder to cure because nothing seemed to do any good. It is the same with a sprained ankle and broken leg. You can set the fracture and it will be well in six weeks—but the sprain may take months to get well.

However, Mr. Baker found the quick way to get relief from the pain—here are his own words.

AULTSVILLE, ONT.

"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney Trouble from an injury to my back caused by falling from a hay loft about six years ago. This left my kidneys weak, so that every cold I got would settle in my kidneys and cause intense suffering. I was advised to try GIN PILLS. I found, to my surprise, after taking two boxes, that the pains were relieved and I began to feel better. I am still taking GIN PILLS and feel sure I will be completely cured. I recommend GIN PILLS to all who suffer from any Kidney Trouble". C. BAKER.

You see, the fall had strained the kidneys and they were affected by the slightest chill. GIN PILLS immediately strengthened the kidneys—soothed any irritation and thus enabled the kidneys to overcome the effects of the fall.

If you are having pain in the back—or trouble with kidneys or bladder through accident or overwork—do just as Mr. Baker did—take GIN PILLS. They will help you—cure you—or we will promptly refund your money. Buy six boxes at your dealer's. If, after taking them, you feel that Gin Pills have not helped you, return the empty boxes and get your money. We will take your word for it. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. RANK OF KING'S COUNSEL DATES BACK TO ELIZABETHAN ERA

By His Own Ambitious Efforts Sir Francis Bacon Thus Endowed Himself—Once Established, New Order Acquired Special Forms and Privileges

Prior to the recent appointment by the Government of Ontario of fifty-three new King's Counsel, there were 339 King's Counsel in this Province. The total now is slightly greater than one-fifth of all the barristers in Ontario.

Legend instructs us that good King Arthur was surrounded by sixty knights, the guerdon of whose integrity was a seat at the Round Table. The flight of generations has transformed the face of Britain so that it is no longer necessary for trusty warriors to fare forth and uphold the honor of their King with lance and sword. But it has ever been the way of monarchs to flank their positions with orders of men, varying in degree of nobility, whom they choose to raise above the commoners. In the opening chapters of British history these were selected almost exclusively from those whose valor on the field of battle made them valuable as allies of the sovereign.

The scene of the activities of the most far-reaching importance has been shifted with the centuries, till now it lies in the council chamber, not on the battle-field. A result which would have appeared inevitable to one had he the power to read the future has come to pass—alongside of the military orders, other orders have arisen, the members of which are granted admission to them by the monarch for services of value they are able to render in the conclaves of the nation. Among the latter may be placed the "King's Counsel."

KING CONFERRED HONORS

At the dawn of history in Britain, the King, conferred every honor that was in the gift of the nation. Time has, as invariably, left its imprint of change on the custom, till to-day to the commoners, in the persons of their representatives, belongs the right of suggesting the ones upon whom certain of the honors shall fall. This is so as regards King's Counsel; in fact the right has been greatly extended till the Government of Provinces in the Empire's colonies have the power, hampered practically by no advice, to or from the sovereign, of elevating barristers to be counsellors to the King.

When the Government of Ontario exercised the right recently in the appointment of fifty-three new King's Counsel, the question as to when and where the order originated arose in many minds. Like several other institutions which are traditional with the British people, this seems to have had a rather fortuitous beginning. Alexander Pulling, Sergeant-at-law, in his work, "The Order of the Coif," published in London in 1884, tells thus the birth of the custom:

ORIGIN OF CUSTOM.

"We find then a permanent law officer called the King's Attorney-General and up to the seventeenth century there were no other King's counsel recognized in the courts than the King's Sergeants, and the Attorney and Solicitor-General. The first deviation from this rule was made by the contrivance of Sir Francis Bacon, the originator of so many other innovations, who succeeded for special reasons in 1604 in getting himself appointed King's Counsel Extraordinary without being either a Sergeant-at-law or one of the ordinary staff of law officers or even being retained in any case for the Crown."

It cannot be said that Sergeant-at-law Pulling betrayed an uncontrollable admiration for the manner of Bacon's becoming a King's Counsel, as witness his use of "contrivance," "getting himself appointed," and "innovations." The complexion of his remarks was no doubt tinged by a realization of the fact that Sergeants-at-law had paled before the brighter rising sun of King's Counsel. Pulling was hardly the most dependable of historians when dealing with this particular subject, but later he adduces a weighty argument as support for his remarks.

"Bacon," he continues, "thus afforded a precedent for royal patronage and promotion at the Bar which is altogether opposed to its ancient traditions and the public interest—a system admitted to be properly described as an anomaly."

FIRST RECIPIENT OF HONOR

Pulling gives place to no doubt that Sir Francis was the first recipient of the honor, but Bacon, whose name has been pushed forward for generations by people who sought to seat upon it the glory of one beside whose name his must seem forever puny, was not so well treated by all.

"There have been many mistakes and misstatements made as to Bacon's appointment as to the fact of his having really been the first of all modern class of King's Counsel. The more usual mistake is based on Bacon's own version of his conduct, inducing even Blackstone to believe that the place he held was mere honoris causa, and that the Northern was the first of the modern class we are referring to, whilst Lord Campbell, equally wrong, speaks of such appointments as being known for many years before Bacon's time."

WAS AN INNOVATOR.

Pulling's expression of his attitude toward Sir Francis no doubt found thousands outside the law prepared to admit that he had been an innovator. While he may never had intended that posterity should believe him to be the author of some of the plays to which the weight of public opinion has affixed Shakespeare's name, the fact that he lived at the same period as the Bard of Avon made the contention tenable, and the resulting turmoil has been the same. His existence at that time has given rise to the innumerable dissertations upon the theory of his connection with the works. He may have been the unconscious cause, but he was the cause. And Pulling, believing that he secured the first King's Counsellorship through his own ambitious activities, branded him as an innovator.

Precedent has ever been one of the most powerful influences in British law, so it is not surprising that once a beginning had been made, the new rank grew, and took to itself certain forms and privileges. The "Bar," a partition, usually of wood, between which and the Bench, the King's Counsellors have seats, and beyond which the junior barristers may not advance, became part of the court fixtures. A ceremony whereby the new counsel were sworn, recognized and admitted to their places of honor, assumed shape.

WERE SWORN IN.

Of this, as it takes place in England James Kirby in Volume X. of his Legal News, published in Montreal in 1887, says:

"Arrangements have then to be made for being sworn in, and formally taking his seat, and as there is not sufficient time between the receipt of the letter of appointment and the day fixed for the ceremony, a dress wig and silk gown have to be borrowed from the wig-maker, and thus arrayed, with the addition of knee breeches, silk stockings, and patent shoes with ornamental buckles, the newly appointed Queen's Counsel attends at the private room of the Lord Chancellor, and there takes the oath.

"The oath having been taken, each gentleman receives a box covered with crimson leather, containing his patent. This document is engrossed upon parchment and has attached to it by a plaited woollen cord, a wax seal of goodly dimensions, being about eighteen inches in circumference and one and a half inches thick."

MUCH EXTRA EXCITEMENT.

"To formally take their seats in the various courts is the next thing to be done. On the day when this ceremony is appointed to take place a visitor to the neighborhood of the "Royal Courts" would not fail to notice an extra amount of excitement. Senior and junior counsel, solicitors and clerks, are awaiting at the entrance to the building the arrival of the newly appointed gentlemen, discussing their merits and the probabiltiy of their success of failure. The Appeal Court, where the ceremony first takes place, is speedily filled with barristers and visitors, among the latter being the wives, daughters or sisters of the gentlemen who have been appointed. The new Queen's Counsel, attired as when to be sworn in, presently enter and stand at the end of the seat they will be entitled to occupy in future."

A few words from the Bench follow, in which the newly appointed ones are informed that henceforth they may sit "within the bar."

Health for Every women
No More Headaches

FROM WEAKNESS AND DESPAIR THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN RESTORED TO ROBUST GOOD HEALTH BY DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS.

That sick women are made well by Dr. Hamilton's Pills is proved by the following letter:

"For years I was thin and delicate. I lost color and was easily tired; a yellow pallor, pimples and blotches on my face were not only mortifying to my feelings, but because I thought my skin would never look nice again I grew despondent. Then my appetite failed. I grew very weak. Various remedies, pills, tonics and tablets I tried without permanent benefit. A visit to my sister put into my hands a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. She placed reliance on them, and now that they have made me a well woman. I would not be without them whatever they might cost. I found Dr. Hamilton's Pills by their mild yet searching action very suitable to the delicate character of a woman's nature. They never griped me, yet they established regularity. My appetite grew—my blood red and pure—heavy rings under my eyes disappeared, and to-day my skin is as clear and unwrinkled as when I was a girl. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

The above straightforward letter from Mrs. J. Y. Todd, wife of a well-known citizen in Rogersville, is proof sufficient that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. Use no other pill but Dr. Hamilton's, 25c. per box. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Not such a little one," mischief in her glance.

Out came the knife, and the vintner plied himself furiously. Gretchen had a knife of her own, and she joined him.

"There!" he said at last. "That's what I call work. But it is worth it. Now!"

Gretchen put her hands behind her back, closed her eyes and raised her chin. He kissed not only the lovely mouth, but the eyes and cheeks and hair.

"I ask only for your love, Gretchen—only that." And he pressed her hands. "All men are rogues more or less. There are so many currents and eddies entering into a man's life. It is made up of a thousand variant interests. No; man's love is never like a woman's. But remember this, Gretchen—I loved you the best I knew how, as a man loves but once, honorable as it was possible, purely and dearly."

He ripped a bunch of grapes from the vine, a thing no careful vintner should do, and held it toward her.

"Have you ever heard of the kissing cherries?" he asked.

She shook her head. He explained. "This bunch will do very well."

He took one grape at the bottom in his teeth. Gingerly Gretchen did the same. Their lips met in a smothered laughter. Then they tried it again.

GRETCHEN RAISED HER CHIN.

And this Watteau picture met the gaze of two persons on the terrace below. The empurpling face of one threatened an explosion, but the smiling face of the other restrained this vocal thunder. The old head vintner kicked a stone savagely. Gretchen and her lover turned.

CHAPTER XIII.

A WHITE SCAR.

"YOU"— began the steward.

"Patience, Hoffman!" warned her highness. Then she laughed blithely.

"Your hat, scoundrel!" cried Hoffman.

The vintner snatched off his hat apologetically and swung it around on the tips of his fingers.

"Is this the way you work?"

"I have picked nine baskets."

"You should have picked twelve."

It interested her highness to note that this handsome young fellow was not afraid of the head vintner. So this was Gretchen's lover? He was really handsome. There was nothing coarse about his features or figure.

The pause was broken by Gretchen.

"Pardon, highness!"

"For what, Gretchen?"

"For not having seen your approach."

"That was my fault, not yours. When is the wedding?"

"After the vintage, highness."

Her highness then spoke to the bridegroom elect. "You will be good to her?"

"Who could help it, your highness?"

The pronoun struck her oddly, for peasants as a usual thing never used it in addressing the nobility.

"Well, on the day of the wedding I will stand sponsor to you both. And good luck go with you."

She passed down the aisle, the head vintner following, wagging his head.

The day was ended. The lad swung the basket to his shoulder, and the sun, flashing upon its contents, turned the bloomy globes into dull rubies. He presented his card at the office and was duly credited with three crowns, which, according to Gretchen, was a fine day's work. Hoffman said nothing about dismissal.

"Come day after tomorrow. Tomorrow is a feast day. You are always having feast days when work begins. All summer long you loaf about, but the minute you start to work you must find excuses to lay off. Clear out, both of you!"

"Work at last," said Dietrich as he and Gretchen started for the city.

Arm in arm they went on. Sometimes Gretchen sang. Often he put her hand to his lips. By and by they came abreast of an old gypsy. He wore a coat of Joseph's, and his face was as lined as a frost bitten apple.

"Will you tell me how to find the Adlergasse?" he asked in broken German. His accent was that of a Magyar.

They carelessly gave him specific directions and passed on. He followed grimly, like fate, whose agent he was, though long delayed. When he reached the Adlergasse he looked for a sign. He came to a stop in front of the dingy shop of the clock mender. He went inside, and the ancient clock mender looked up from his work, for he was always working. He rose wearily.

The gypsy smiled mysteriously and laid a hand on his heart.

"Who are you?" sharply demanded the clock mender.

"Who I am does not matter. I am he whom you seek."

"God in heaven!" The bony hands of the clock mender clutched the other's coat.

The gypsy released himself slowly. "But first show me your pretty crowns and the paper which will give me immunity from the police. Your crowns, as you offered, and immunity; then I speak."

"Man, I can give you the crowns, but God knows I have no longer the power to give you immunity."

The gypsy shouldered his bundle.

"For God's sake, wait!" begged the clock mender.

But the gypsy walked out, unheeding.

Two days later, in the afternoon.

"Grumbach," said Carmichael, "what were you looking at the other night with those opera glasses at the ball?"

"I was looking into the past."

"Oh, pshaw! You were following her highness with them. I want to know why."

"She is beautiful."

"You made a promise to me not long ago."

"I did?" noncommittally.

"Yes. Soon I shall be shaking the dust of Dreiberg, and I want to know beforehand what this Chinese puzzle is. What did you do that compelled your flight from Ehrenstein?"

Grumbach's pipe hung pendulent in his hand. He swung it to and fro absently.

MONTREAL ELECTIONS.

Ald. L. A. Lavallee Is Mayor by a Large Majority.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Ald. L. A. Lavallee, advocate, was yesterday elected mayor of Montreal by a large majority over Ald. George Marcil, real estate dealer.

The referendum vote on the abolition of the property qualification for mayor and aldermen showed a large majority of voters in favor of abolition. This vote, however, can have no effect until the Legislature at Quebec passes a bill in accordance with the wishes of the citizens.

In connection with the polling for aldermen chief interest centered around the wards, ten in number, in which candidates black listed by the citizen's association were running. The association had opposed ten candidates, either members of the famous "23" of the 1909 council, who are charged with voting to grant huge contracts to high tenderers for the benefit of middlemen, or men who, since their advent to the council, have been classed as reactionary.

Despite the opposition of the citizen's association, backed by the majority of the newspapers of the city, no less than five of the candidates opposed by them were returned, including ex-Ald. Giroux, whose defeat they secured in the 1910 elections; ex-Ald. Mederic Martin, whose name was prominent in the records of the royal commission, and who also failed to return to the council in 1910; ex-Ald. Seguin, ex-Ald. Lariviere and ex-Ald. Judge.

Ex-Ald Sauvegeau, Gallery, Marin, Lamoureux and Levesque were defeated.

A feature of the elections is the return of three more English aldermen to the council than in the last election, these being Stroud, Macdonald and Blumenthal.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

A St. Thomas man was struck and killed by a G.T.R. engine at Sarnia tunnel.

Two men were sentenced at Chatham to the Central Prison for stealing produce from farmers.

The temperance forces in Lake Megantic, Que., won out yesterday and secured the election of A. A. Gendreau as mayor by a majority of 12.

For seducing a young girl of fifteen years, Antoine Lasure of Peterboro, a young man, was sentenced yesterday to one year in the Central.

A young man named Blouse calmly pleaded guilty before the Hamilton magistrate to six burglaries in six months. He was remanded for sentence.

Mr. N. W. Rowell, in an address to the newly-organized Liberal Club at Orillia, took a strong stand for Ontario's rights in regard to boundary extension.

J. Pierpont Morgan has promised to give the last $50,000 necessary to complete the total of $500.000 which it was expected to collect during the twelve days' campaign for the Y.M.C.A. in London, Eng.

Waiting for a street car to take him to Trinity College, Toronto, where for eight years he had been professor of modern languages, J. W. G. Andras fell dead yesterday morning. Heart failure, brought on by ill health, was the cause.

Government assistance for a railroad across the northern portion of western Ontario from Kincardine to Orillia, a distance of 150 miles, was asked for by an influential deputation which waited on Hon. Frank Cochrane yesterday.

Robert McEwen, assistant stableman at the City Hotel, Stratford, was burned to death in a fire which broke out in the stables. The fire started while the young man's father was at dinner, and on his return he was met by the son, whose clothing was a mass of flames.

Pennsylvania Out of Debt.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—With funds on deposit at a Philadelphia bank to meet all claims the State of Pennsylvania was practically freed of all interest bearing debt yesterday when bonds aggregating $1,605,100 matured. The bonds maturing yesterday were authorized in 1881 and were issued to take up maturing loans at that time, some of which came down from Civil War times. Just 125 firms, persons or estates held the bonds that matured.

New Honor for Hearst.

Cobalt, Feb. 2.—Word is received here that the name of the Town of Grant, a divisional point on the Transcontinental Railway, 130 miles west of Cochrane, has been changed to Hearst by the Postoffice Department, in honor of Hon. W. H. Hearst, the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines in the Ontario Cabinet.

Hearst is in the centre of an agricultural section, and the terminal of the Algoma Central Railway.

Chinaman Has Smallpox.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The latest victim of smallpox in this city is a Chinaman, and as a result 100 of his mellow-countrymen are in quarantine at the C.P.R. immigration headquarters, while he has been removed to the civic hospital. A party of Chinamen arrived here a few days ago from the west and while awaiting examination one of them became ill. On investigation he was found to be suffering from smallpox.

Curfew Law for Husbands.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—A curfew law for husbands is advocated by Robert B. Glenn, formerly governor of North Carolina. "The man who stays away from his family at night is the most contemptible creature on earth," he said. "I wish we had a law that would make every husband stay at home from 8 o'clock in the evening until 6 o'clock the next morning."

Wabash Receivership Certificate.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—The bid of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, for the $10,000,000 receiver's certificates of the Wabash Railroad Co. probably will be approved by Federal Judge Adams. The bids were opened yesterday afternoon and the above firm bid par and 1-4 of 1 per cent. for the issue.

N. W. White For Senate.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—It is stated that N. W. White, ex-M.P., will be appointed to the Senate to succeed the late Hon. Thomas McKay. In 1896 Mr. White was among the nominations to the Senate made by the Tupper Government after its defeat, but which the Earl of Aberdeen refused to ratify.

Bullet Hit Aviator.

Tripoli, Feb. 2.—While throwing bombs from an aeroplane into an Arab encampment near Tobruk, in Cyrenetica, Capt. Monte, an Italian military airman, was severely wounded yesterday. A companion escaped. The aeroplane was struck four times by the Arab rifle fire and one bullet hit Monte.

So long as he is on the level, man isn't apt to run down hill.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

The more that the Opposition carp at the action of the Government in their decision to refer all the vexatious questions connected with the "Ne Temere" decree to the highest court in the Empire for decision, the more clearly does it become apparent that the proper course was taken.

During the debate on the subject in the House of Commons Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it will be remembered, urged delay until after decision had been given in the famous Hebert case, which is up for judgment in a court in the Province of Quebec, in order that a judicial pronouncement might be obtained as to whether the civil law or a regulation of the Roman Catholic Church was to govern the marriage relation in that province. And yet Sir Wilfrid and his followers, with shameless inconsistency, voted for immediate action in declaring the law of the State supreme, regardless of consequences, by passing Mr. Lancaster's bill.

It is not, of course, possible to forecast the judgment of Judge Charbonneau in the Hebert case; but a case which has a similar bearing was on Monday decided by Justice Bruneau, the net effect of which judgment was to give civil effect to a necclesiastical decree of the Roman Catholic church concerning the marriage relation. Should the decision in the Hebert case be contrary in character, nothing would be gained. There would still be a conflict of judicial opinion, and the only authority, competent to finally decide on such difference is the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council.

The Ottawa correspondent of The Globe, commenting on some outstanding features of the debate, remarks:—

"The announcement by The Mail "and Empire on Friday morning that "negotiations with the Vatican were "under way and progressing favorably "for the withdrawal of the ne temere "decree in Canada, thereby rendering "unnecessary any legislative action on "the lines of the Lancaster bill, no "matter what the decision of the Privy "Council might be on the question to "be submitted by the Borden Govern"ment, drew attention to the fact that "in the course of Monday's debate "Mr. W. B. Northrup, M.P. for Hast"ings, Ontario, had said, as reported "in Hansard:—

> "And when difficulties have arisen owing to that (the ne temere) decree, it seems to me that the Government might have supplemented what they have said in asking to have this bill stand over until the bill can be referred to the Privy Council. They might have said in the meantime. 'We will make such representations as can be made to endeavor to secure that the ne temere decree will be withdrawn from Canada, so that Canada may be made as free as Germany, for instance.' There can be no point of conscience on a Catholic, apart from the order of the Church, when one country is free from this decree and another is not. I submit that the Government of the day should endeavor to secure the freedom of Canada altogether from this decree, and, that done, a great deal of bad feeling, and possibly a great deal of future trouble, would be saved to this Dominion."

The correspondent also quotes Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, as having used the following expressions, as reported in Hansard:—

> "Now in this case I would like to refer to the decree which exempts Germany from the application of the ne temere decree, and I should hope myself that a similar decree would have exempted other countries from its operation. However, such a decree has not yet been promulgated. Now, the decree provida is as follows, and this exempts Germany from the operation of the ne temere decree:
>
> "'Nevertheless, as happens in all human affairs, it has occurred in places, especially in the German Empire, that certain grave and inconvenient results were connected with the aforesaid law, due to the lamentable and widespread division in religion and the daily increasing intercourse of Catholics with heretics. Namely, since it was the intention of the fathers of the Council that the decree tametsi would not have binding force until it had been officially promulgated in each parish; since concerning many places it is doubtful whether this promulgation has been made; since it is frequently uncertain the law of the Council is likewise obligatory upon non-Catholics dwelling in this or that place; as a result the greatest diversity and dissimilarity of law has arisen in many localities of the German Empire, wherefore very many and difficult questions have sprung up, which have frequently caused perplexity in the minds of Judges, a certain irreverence for law among the faithful, and perpetual quarrels and incriminations among non-Catholics.'
>
> "The decree dated in 1906 declares the validity of mixed marriages contracted without the tridentine form in Germany."

"Although Archbishop Bruchesi and Premier Borden have explicitly denied that any such negotiations as are alleged have been entered upon or are in contemplation ,and although the Government have announced that the reference to the Privy Council will be made as speedily as possible, the correspondent proceeds to make further comment as follows:

> While every one will admit the desirability of securing an amicable settlement of any and every question in doubt relating to the law of marriage in Canada, it must be admitted on all hands that such clandestine negotiations as are mentioned and approved by The Mail and Empire and The Montreal Star, undertaken with the approval if not at the instigation of the Borden Government, are very far from being such a declaration of supremacy of the State over the Church in matters of civil right in Canada as might reasonably have been expected from a Government which owes its accession to power to the poetic campaign refrain: "We will not bow to Rome."

The object of the correspondent is too transparent to deceive other than the most ignorant class of the population by an artful appeal to religious prejudice. The Government's position is, however, too strong and too sound to be shaken by such means, and their opponents will fail to create any impression upon the public mind other than one condemnatory of such discreditable tactics.

Men in the United States navy are learning to swim, and judging from some of the criticism we have seen of the American battleships fit is about the most necessaryy accomplishment they could acquire.—Mail and Empire.

Rising food prices are being discussed in Great Britain as in other countries and the Board of Trade Labor Gazette points out that last year saw the highest wholesale average for twenty-sveen years. Thus it will be seen that the increased cost of living is not confined to protectionist countries, nor is it exactly a new thing.—Montreal Gazette.

"A verdict for $10.00 isn't so bad," said the junior partner. "How much shall we allow our client?"

"Oh, give him $50," said the senior partner.

"But hold."

"Well?"

"Don't be too hasty. Promise to give him $50."

At New York, Friday, thirty-five thousand placards enjoining "No Smoking Under Penalty of Arrest," were ordered by Fire Commissioner Johnson to be posted in buildings where crowded working condition make the use of pipes, cigars or cigarettes a menace to life and property. The signs are in three languages, 5,000 in Italian, 10,000 in English and 20,000 in Hebrew.

The exchange of prisoners taken in the field is an old custom. Czar Nicholas and Emperor William now carry the idea a little farther; they are trading military spies caught and convicted in times of peace. Probably the business of spying foots up about as evenly, as this system suggests. If any power makes much at it, to the loss of its possible enemies, the fact is yet to be shown. But spying, watching against spies, and catching spies gives something for idle members of military establishments to do.

Canada has 10,000 Doukhobors, and last year this colony grew 3,000,000 bushels of oats, as well as considerable barley and wheat. There are some serious objections to the Doukhobors as citizens, but after all, they seem to stick to the soil, and busy themsleves in creating new wealth from that source of all wealth, the earth. Such tendency goes far towards winning forgiveness for their other eccentricities.—Ottawa Journal.

There is a proverb that any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to keep it. It might be similarly said that any nation can throw down an established despotism, but it takes a wise one to establish a constitutional government. Mexico is finding this. After forty years of the peaceful, progressive, if despotic, rule of Diaz, she seems to have reverted, under the well meaning Madero, to the old Spanish custom of daily insurrections. —Montreal Witness.

An English officer who has served with the Turks in Tripoli tells why Italy is finding its task such a difficult one. The Turks, he says, have as many men in the field as they want. They have ammunition for five years and all the food they want. The only thing of importance that the Italians have done in the war so far, he says, is to make use of the aeroplane. This machine, he admits has been of service to the Italians, and the Turkish guns seem wholly inadequate as a means of defence against it.

Controversy aside, one great fact remains. The population of the cities increases over that of the country throughout the world where the statician can gather convincing figures. Maybe it would be better for all of us to see William Morris' "News from Nowhere" realized in the flesh; but most of us seem to be settling the matter for ourselves after all and having as good a time living out that decision as our temperaments would permit anywhere on this good old earth.—New York Press.

The number of farms in the United States has increased but 10.5 per cent in the past ten years, while the whole population has increased 21 per cent. That furnishes in a nutshell one potent reason for the present high cost of living. President Taft's plea at an Hungarian banquet in Cleveland the other night for a reversal of this disastrous condition is urgently needed, not only in that country, but in Canada also. But with all the improvements and conveniences that now pertain to rural life, both physical and social, it seems a well-nigh hopeless task to wean mankind from its gregarious instincts. Comes a time, possibly, when state compulsion may be necessary after moral suasion fails.—Hamilton Spectator.

HOW A NURSE USED
OXO
IN CUBES

"OXO certainly saved the life of a little girl whom I nursed through TYPHOID. She was very self-willed, and detested milk and milk-foods. Consequently, we were greatly perplexed about proper feeding. How could we get the proper quantity of nourishment into that small child's body? The child solved the problem by demanding Oxo. "Made nice and strong, please." So Oxo it was. First in small quantities, gradually increasing with most satisfactory results, then later on I tried making it with milk, and, strange to say, the patient did not object. That was all the feeding she had, except for a little barley-water, through four weeks of a most trying and anxious illness. But at last Oxo triumphed—our "backbone," the Doctor called it.

Our little patient has returned to school now, very fat and bonny, still fond of Oxo "Made nice and strong."

OXO Cubes may be used in a dozen different ways to tempt the invalid's appetite.

For a hot, invigorating broth or a cold consomme, just drop an OXO Cube into a cup of water.

OXO Invalid's Jelly—easily made in a few minutes—has wonderful strength-building properties, besides being a delicacy of rare flavor.

Many sick people cannot take raw milk, and boiled milk is insipid. An OXO Cube, dissolved in a glass of hot milk, makes the milk readily digested and tempting to the appetite For the sickroom, OXO Cubes are invaluable. Their convenience, great handiness and adaptibility make them indispensable.

MURDER RECORDS IN TWO LARGEST CITIES OF WORLD

Only 13 Convictions out of 125 Murders in New York—11,370 Set Free After Conviction—City Shocked by Police Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Police Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo's annual report to Mayor Gaynor, made public yesterday at Police Headquarters, shows that while the police in the year that ended Dec. 31st last arrested 125 persons charged with murder, only thirteen of these persons have been convicted, and yet not one of them has been put to death. There were 148 murders committed in the city in the year, for which 125 persons were arrested, seven committed suicide prior to police action, and the remaining cases are still unsolved.

In the same period sentence has been suspended and convicted men freed by judges in 611 cases of felony, 11,370 cases of misdemeanor, 1,863 cases of juvenile delinquency, or a total of 13,844 suspended sentences, as is shown in the tables submitted to the Mayor by Commissioner Waldo.

"In one case," the Commissioner says in his report, " a young man was arrested three times in eight weeks in the act of burglarizing premises, in the first instance with a revolver in his possession. In the first two cases he was found guilty and paroled. In the third case he was sentenced to the House of Refuge.

"One man, convicted of a most revolting murder, after a lapse of twenty months, has not yet been executed.

"A man who forcibly entered the apartment occupied by an aged broker and murdered his victim was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment.

"A policeman arrested a man at night who was driving away with a horse and cab which did not belong to him. The policeman was obliged to fire several shots in the air before he could make the fugitive stop. He charged the man with grand larceny. The magistrate directed that the charge be changed to disorderly conduct and fined the man $5.

"In one instance a magistrate refused a warrant on the ground that the evidence had been obtained by a policeman who merely saw the act by looking through a window, but was not in the room.

"In almost all cases where roulette wheels and other gambling devices have been seized in raids court orders were obtained requiring the return of the property to the gamblers."

The tables giving the list of suspended sentences show that the judges of General Sessions in the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx, and Richmond suspended sentence in 450 cases, sentence being suspended in 125 cases by Judge Mulqueen, in 74 cases by Judge Craine, in 90 cases by Judge Swann, in 64 cases by Judge Rosalsky, in 48 cases by Judge O'Sullivan, in 39 cases by Judge Foster, and in only 4 cases by Judge Malone. Among these were 98 convictions for burglary, 1 of homicide, 202 of grand larceny, 13 of forgery and 13 of robbery.

The Justices of Special Sessions in Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond suspended sentence in 2,244 cases, of which 79 were for assault, 1,418 for juvenile delinquency; 6 for burglary; 322 for petit larceny, 48 for carrying concealed weapons, and the rest for forgery, gambling, blackmail, and various other offences.

In the same boroughs the magistrates suspended sentence in 1,047 cases, the great majority being for offences of intoxication, disorderly conduct and violation of city ordinances. The Justices of the Supreme Court in these boroughs suspended sentence in only 17 cases, the suspensions being 2 each for burglary, forgery, assault, and forfeiture of bail; 1 for robbery, 3 for carrying concealed weapons, and 5 for grand larceny.

In the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens the judges of the Kings County Court suspended sentence in 144 cases, of which 52 were convictions for burglary and 45 for grand larceny.

The Justices of Special Sessions in Brooklyn and Queens suspended sentence in a total of 691 cases, of which more than two-thirds were for juvenile delinquency. Of the remaining cases the suspension was in 17 cases of carrying concealed weapons; 112 cases for petit larceny; 32 for assault; 32 for burglary, and the rest for other and less serious offences.

The magistrate's courts of these two boroughs show suspensions in 9,301 cases, of which 5,000 were for intoxication; 1,531 for disorderly conduct; 85 for assault; 53 for abandonment; 1,549 for corporation ordinance and 156 for vagrancy. There were no suspended sentences in the Supreme Court of these boroughs.

There is also an interesting table which compares the homicide records of London and New York, which tells its own story. It is as follows:

LONDON.
Metropolitan Police District; population, 7,000,000.

	Murders	Convicted
1908	19	8
1909	19	12
1910	23	7

NEW YORK
Population 5,000,000.

	Murders	Convicted
1908	102	28
1909	102	19
1910	147	30
1911	148	13

Speaking generally, Commissioner Waldo points out that, while in 1911 the number of arrests for felonies increased, the number of arrests for minor offences decreased, and that persons against whom there is no possibility of proving any crime are no longer arrested as suspicious persons. In past years, he adds, the number of persons so arrested has totaled over 11,000 in one year.

The Corporation ordinances, the Commissioner says, are now being enforced with less friction, and there were 4,000 fewer arrests in 1911 than 1910. Political and other outside considerations, the tendencies of which are to disrupt discipline and demoralize the force, have been eliminated, and all promotions and appointments are now made in the numerical order certified to by the Municipal Service Commission. Unnecessary details to the number of 1,014 have been abolished, and this alone has saved to the city approximately $1,400,000 annually.

Brutality in making arrests, the report states, has ceased, and "the police have been taught to exercise the utmost care that the innocent may not be the victim of injustice."

"The practice of allowing detectives to persecute persons who have served a sentence, and are endeavoring to lead an honest life," the Commissioner says, "has been ended."

The much-discussed stationary post the Commissioner says, has proved to be the most efficient means of guarding the city at night, and that it is now easy to obtain police aid at night and the citizen knows where to turn for instant attention to his summons for assistance."

In other parts of his report Commissioner Waldo deals with the three-platoon system, the Detective Bureau, the Bureau of Criminal Identification, the School for Detectives, the Traffic Squad, and other branches of the police department.

Lawyer Removes "Evidence" From Complainant's Jaw With a Handkerchief.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 31.—A dark spot on Samuel Spivak's jaw, supposed as if by magic at Forschner's trial with John Forschners' fist, disappeared as if by magis at Forschner's trial on an assault charge to-day when Homer D. Carey, counsel for the defence, sauntered over toward the witness stand and made a quick move with his handkerchief. In an instant the "evidence" had been transferred to the piece of cloth, and the attorney waved it triumphantly before the jury.

"There you are, gentlemen of the jury," he shouted, "you're having a trick worked on you, and it isn't even a good one."

Judge Searle, who was presiding, smiled broadly, and Assistant District Attorney Frank Stocker and William Jennings, private attorney for the prosecution, were thrown into a state of confusion.

Business jealousy is said to have been behind the prosecution. The two are competing merchants in the Borough of Jermyn. The case went to the jury just before adjournment this afternoon, and the verdict will be returned to-morrow.

Attorney Jennings is Hughey Jennings' brother and law partner.

EXTEND PARCEL POST

Parliament Approves Resolution to Enlarge Its Field.

W. F. Maclean's Opinion That Government Should Fight Express Companies In Smaller Goods Receives Assent of Most of Members—Sample Market for Winnipeg Grain Men Discussed.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Parliament last evening adopted with hardly a dissentient voice, a resolution proposed by W. F. Maclean (S. York), declaring that "this House is of the opinion that the expansion and extension of the parcel post system would be in the public interest."

The adoption of such a system of an effective scale, said Mr. Maclean, would result in express rates being cut in two. Public competition was the newest and best way of bringing corporations to time. This had been strikingly exemplified in the success of the Ontario hydro-electric system.

The parcel post has been a success in Europe, Australia, and New Zealand, and both parties in the U. S. were committed to it.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux declared that the time had come for Canada to adopt a bold policy in the matter.

"The companies," he said; "have taken out of our hands the business we ought to be carrying on."

Hon. L. P. Pelletier declared himself in general accord with the motion, though he thought the system Canada should adopt could not be as extensive as that obtaining in England. No express companies should stop the Government if it decided to proceed with the reform.

J. F. Armstrong (E. Lambton), made a vigorous attempt to have the whole debate ruled out of order, but Speaker Sproule effectively squelched him with voluminous quotations from Bourinot.

Dr. Neeley (Humboldt) stated that for lack of a sample market in Winnipeg the farmers of the Northwest lost millions a year. The spread between grades was great, and a man whose grain was not good enough for grade 1, but very high grade 2, got no more for it than the man whose grade 2 was of low quality.

F. Z. Schaffner (Souris) remarked that the grain growers who were in Ottawa the other day were opposed to a sample market.

Hon. George E. Foster said that, whether there were a sample or a grade market no one would propose to take away from the farmer the right to sell his product in the way he pleased. Both the grain growers and millers were pressing for Government-owned and controlled terminal elevators as more urgent than a sample market. They were strongly opposed to mixing grain, and the sample market was no use unless mixing were allowed.

J. D. Staples (Macdonald) was in favor of the sample market. The identity of the grain should be preserved so long as there was no loss in dollars and cents. If the evil of mixing by manipulators could not be done away with the country should do it itself in a sample market.

J. G. Turriff (Assiniboia) thought the Department should remedy the evil of substitution of grain.

W. F. Maclean (S. York) declared that there was too much intimacy between the railway companies, the milling companies and the elevator companies, to the detriment of the farmer and their own special profit.

J. A. M. Aikens (Brandon) pointed out that the railways were bound to deliver the identical article consigned to them by the consignee and anyone who took away that grain might be reached under the criminal code.

Hon. Frank Oliver declared that a more important question than the private rights of the parties was the degradation of the standard of the country's grain.

Dr. Schaffner (Souris) was emphatic in declaring that the only remedy was government control of terminal elevators.

Before the orders of the day were called, W. E. Knowles (Moose Jaw) rose to a question of privilege. He objected to what he termed an anonymous dodger, which had been distributed to the members through the postoffice, charging him with falsehood in connection with his remarks on the alleged British Columbia lumber combine. The pamphlet was written by A. E. Watts of Wattsford, B.C., and he charged A. E. Goodeve (Kootenay) with the distribution.

Mr. Goodeve replied that he was well within his rights. The circular was not anonymous. It was forwarded to him for distribution by a prominent lumberman. The Speaker ruled that such distribution was the common custom and perfectly justifiable.

W. M. Martin (Regina) drew the attention of the Minister of Agriculture to the necessity for seed distribution in Saskatchewan.

The Speaker announced that after further consideration, he had come to the conclusion that his ruling out of order Wednesday of the resolution of Richard Blain (Peel) in favor of placing telephones in postoffices was not well founded, as it was merely an academic recommendation to the Government which might, at a future date, involve, if acted upon, the expenditure of public money.

In answer to a question by J. E. Armstrong (E. Lambton), Hon. L. P. Pelletier stated that the former Postmaster-General had stated in the House that clause 60 in the postal regulations, providing for the collection of one cent per four ounces in newspapers sent to new subscribers during the election contest, would be enforced. The Toronto postoffice had referred to the question of excess charges on The Toronto Globe, Toronto News, and other papers but no reply was sent, the rule being well known. The Globe had not, as it claimed, a binding agreement from the Postoffice Department to carry those papers at the regular rate of one-quarter cent a pound.

Great Revival Meetings.

New York, Feb. 2.—Announcement was made last night that the national men and women forward movement will hold its culminating congress in New York City, April 18-24. The delegates, all men, will be limited to 3,600, and will be apportioned among the cities where the movement has held campaigns during the winter.

It is said that the congress will be the most representative large gathering of Christian laymen ever held in North America.

Sessions will be held in Carnegie Hall, with auxiliary meetings in neighboring churches. The lay speakers already secured include President Taft, Ambassador Bryce, William Jennings Bryan, John Mitchell, Booker T. Washington and J. A. Macdonald of Toronto.

"Bob" Cook Gets Seven Years.

Brampton, Feb. 1—His Honor Judge McGibbon yesterday morning sentenced Bob Cook to seven years in the penitentiary. Cook, who is familiarly known as the "Orangeville outlaw," was convicted of sheep stealing some weeks ago, but was remanded for sentence.

After looking into his record, the court imposed the above sentence on the incorrigible Bob, who has been a notorious lawbreaker for some years past. He has several times escaped from jail, and bears an unsavory reputation, although a member of a very respectable family in the County of Dufferin.

Still Talking Iron Bounty.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Government supporters had another lengthy caucus yesterday, adjourned from Wednesday's sitting.

It is understood that the only matter of outstanding importance discussed had further reference to the bounty on pig iron. The situation is not changed from Wednesday, but the sentiment in the main appears to be favorable to the bounty being granted temporarily.

The final decision rests with the Government.

None are so blind as those who are visionary.

SUGAR PLANT BURNED

Million Dollars Is Loss in Big Fire at Halifax.

Great Woodside Plant of the Acadia Sugar Refining Co. Is a Total Ruin as a Result of a Spectacular Blaze—Workmen Narrowly Escape Death—Firemen Are Helpless to Fight the Flames.

Halifax, Feb. 2.—The Woodside plant of the Acadia Sugar Refining Co. located on the Dartmouth side of the harbor, was totally destroyed by fire last evening with a loss of considerably over a million dollars. The insurance will come measurably up to the million mark and there is not a company here but what is interested.

The fire began in a large wooden warehouse on the waterfront, where 10,000 barrels of sugar were stored. This was swept away and with amazing velocity the fire shot to the seven storey brick structure across the railway track, which is the refinery proper. This was soon enveloped by the fire and some of the workmen had difficulty in escaping with their lives. Many of them engaged in the hot rooms got out with practically no clothing, and one man, Hennebery, who is missing, is reported to have perished.

The steamer Aurora of the Pickford and Black line, had been at the wharf discharging raw sugar for three days. She was pulled out, but the sugar she had discharged was burned. Besides the refined sugar destroyed, more than 25,000 bags of raw sugar are gone. A number of loaded Intercolonial Railway cars were on the siding, but no engine could be secured quick enough to haul them out and they were burned.

At 10 o'clock everything was gone of the splendid plant, which is the largest of the two owned by the Acadia Sugar Refining Co., except the boiler house, and there was slight chance of saving that. The fire departments of Dartmouth and Halifax could do nothing to fight the fire, the plant being nearly three miles out of town and isolated. The company is one of the most prosperous in Canada. A considerable portion of the capital stock is held in Glasgow.

Taft Will Win, He Says.

Washington, Feb. 2.—In the first authorized statement he has issued in connection with the Taft campaign, Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the President, yesterday said:

"President Taft's nomination in June is as certain as anything can be. I am confident that there will be comparatively little opposition to him in the national convention, and when the nomination is made the Republicans of the country will rally to the party standard and win a great victory in November.

"I would not make this prediction did I not feel that my information from all parts of the country warrants me in doing so."

Motor and Trolley Clash.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 2.—W. P. Marseilles, president of the Electrode Company, one of the most prominent citizens here, was injured yesterday in a head-on collision between his motor car and a Buffalo-bound trolley on the American side, Alexander McLare, his chauffeur, was also seriously injured. Physicians last night said both will recover.

Because he became intoxicated over the river Wednesday night while celebrating his appointment as constable of Fonthill, Ont., Bert Carner was fined two dollars yesterday.

Release Twenty-Seven Turks.

Paris, Feb. 2.—The commission appointed to investigate the seizure by the Italian authorities of twenty-nine Turkish members of the Red Crescent Society, who were passengers on the French steamer Manouba, handed its report to Premier Poincare yesterday.

The commission finds in favor of twenty-seven of the Turks, who will be permitted to continue to Sfax, Tunis. Of the others, one is seriously ill and the papers of the second have not been found satisfactory. The latter will not be allowed to proceed.

London Phoned Rotterdam.

London, Feb. 2.—Telephone communication between England and the continent is developing rapidly. Conversations took place Wednesday night between London and Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

The Postmaster-General hopes to be in a position to open an Anglo-Swiss telephone service as soon as negotiations with the Swiss and French administrations have been completed.

No More Railway Passes?

Regina, Sask., Feb. 2.—Passes for members of the Saskatchewan Legislature have not arrived from the Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is understood that the railway will shut down on the free transportation. It is rumored that the action of the Grand Trunk Pacific foreshadows the enactment of a "no-pass" law for the Dominion such as exists in the United States.

After U. S. Express Companies.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Prosecution of express companies for overcharging shippers on the transportation of their goods was indicated by Commissioner Lane at the express rate hearing yesterday to be the intention of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

Working for Roosevelt.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—"We are going right ahead with our movement, and the people are with us," said Alexander Rowell, president of the Roosevelt national committee here yesterday, after a visit to Theodore Roosevelt in New York.

Got Rich Loot From Express Co.

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—George Powers confessed yesterday to robbing the Canadian Express Co., for whom he was a driver, on Jan. 11 last, of $2,330 in currency and $4,520 in securities, most of which have been recovered. He was remanded for sentence.

He said that he concocted the robbery with Charles Verral, a butcher of St. James', and that they divided the spoils in the latter's house.

Verral was committed for trial at the next assizes by Magistrate Macdonald.

Miguel and Manuel Make Up.

London, Feb. 2.—According to information from an authoritative source, at a meeting at Dover on Tuesday, as reported by the Paris newspaper Excelsior, between ex-King Manuel and the Portuguese pretender, Dom Miguel of Braganza, the latter voluntarily offered to help in every way in his power to restore Manuel to the Portuguese throne. The reconciliation between the two branches of the house of Braganza, it is added, is complete.

All's Quiet In Portugal.

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 2.—Apparently the Government is master of the situation in the Lisbon district, where, owing to the gravity of the general strike a day or two ago, martial law was declared.

It was officially announced last night that there is not a single strike in Portugal, but this simply means that the strikers and their adherents have been overawed by the military display.

LACK OF EXERCISE
Brings on Troubles which are Best Corrected by Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Sedentary Habits Develop Constipation

Man was intended to live an active, outdoor life, and his digestive system was modelled accordingly. Indoor work with hands or head, long hours sitting or standing still, especially in air that's none too good, slow down the healthy activities of stomach, liver, kidneys and the millions of tiny skin glands.

Constipation, headaches, indigestion, biliousness, rheumatism and similar troubles follow.

Then the worth of that good old reliable family medicine, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, is appreciated. Though it has been in use for over half a century, modern science has not been able to devise a safer or better cleanser for the whole system.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are largely vegetable in composition, free from any harmful drug, and mild yet most effective in their action. They are "Mother's standby" in hundreds of homes because they nip in the bud so many of the common ailments.

QUICK RELIEF FROM THAT PERSISTENT, HACKING COUGH

We mean the kind of cough it gives one a cold shiver just to hear—the dry, deep-seated hack—hack—hack—that seems as if it were tearing the very vitals. That's the kind of cough that means business.

Fortunately, though, that is also one of the kinds of cough for which Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne was first prescribed, and which it has been relieving with great promptness and regularity ever since.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne is absolutely free from harmful drugs of any kind, and is safe even for children. It is pleasant to take, and acts quickly, relieving the irritation, loosening the phlegm, promoting expectoration, and so stopping the cough. Thousands declare it to be the best cough syrup they have ever tried.

Your Druggist will gladly recommend it, and will supply you with either a 25c. or 50c. bottle. The National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited. 116

LIVE 150 YEARS

SCIENTISTS SAY IT CAN BE DONE.

"Old age is simply a disease," say some of the European scientists now. They hold that with proper attention to diet people should live 150 years.

We don't know how true that is, But we do know that great numbers of elderly and aged people feel and look younger than they are because they build up with Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil.

Mrs. Michael Bloom, of Lewistown, Pa., 83 years of age, had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair before she began taking Vinol, and after taking a few bottles was able to go out walking alone, and do most of her housework too. That shows how Vinol strengthens feeble people.

It sharpens the appetite, makes the blood rich and causes it to circulate better. You feel the good effects of Vinol very soon. We guarantee that Vinol will please you and pay back your money if it does not.—Red Cross Drug Store—J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

CANADIAN SEED GROWERS 8TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Programme for the Gathering—Many Eminent Speakers to Deliver Addresses.

The programme for the eighth annual convention of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association to be held in Ottawa on February 8th and 9th, has just been issued. The subject of how to improve the productive qualities of the forty million bushels of seed which are required in Canada each spring for seeding purposes is one which will occupy the serious attention of leaders from both Canada and the United States. This is a problem of great national importance, affecting, as it does, the very foundation of our prosperity as a nation. Among those who will address this convention are noticed the names of Rufus Stimson, special agent for Agricultural Education, Boston, Mass.; Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, Toronto; Prof. L. S. Klinck, Macdonald College, Que.; Mr. J. H. Grisdale, Director of Experimental Farms, Ottawa; Dr. C. E. Saunders, Cerealist, Experimental Farms, Ottawa, and Mr. G. H. Clark, Seed Commissioner, Ottawa. The day sessions will be held in room 7, dairy and cold storage branch, Canadian building, while the evening session of Feb. 8th will convene in the railway committee room of the House of Commons. All who are interested in the 'good seed' movement should do their best to be present at this convention.

You can't tell how poor a man is from the way he dresses, nor how rich he is from the way his wife dresses.

MISS SHEAHEN'S LECTURE ON VOCATIONS FOR WOMEN

Lack of space having prevented a satisfactory report being given in yesterday's issue of Miss Sheahen's lecture, the following further report is herewith presented:

Miss Agnes Sheahen, Toronto, representing the Canadian Business Women's Club, gave a very interesting talk in the Council Chamber, Wednesday under the auspices of the Women's Institute. The subject was, "Vocations for Women."

In opening the lecture Miss Sheahen said there had been considerable misunderstanding as to the nature of the talk and that some had thought it to be a suffragette movement. However, this idea was clearly explained away. As the evening progressed it was shown how interested many were by the questions asked by the ladies present.

The openings for women in art, domestic science, designing, specialties, in medicine, law, civil engineering and chemistry, all were dealt with, together with the work of the various women's clubs in other cities.

"Pure Food" was a very interesting subject, and many methods adopted in the larger cities were explained.

The subject of women as teachers was taken up to show that women were not receiving the same salary as men, who had held the same class the year previous, or in the case of a woman teacher being succeeded by a man, the latter had invariably received a marked increase in salary.

Health visitors, factory inspectors, supervisors of playgrounds, the duties and salaries, and how to qualify for such was made very interesting.

The programme closed with a reading by Mrs. Edwards, and the remaining time was spent socially.

It is the intention of the Women's Institute to have speakers from time to time to give lectures on different subjects.

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

BALD-HEADED PEOPLE MAY GET A NEW CHANCE IN LIFE.

In these days when youth is the moving factor in business, when a man makes his mark at thirty-five, and is ready to retire at forty-five, when business houses pension the man we call "middle-aged," rather than allow his lagging influence to intrude upon the commercial rush, a bald head is almost fatal to any man's hopes. The following must therefore prove interesting to people who are losing their hair, or who are bald.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Napthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and also creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. Yet, it is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives, mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects a most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Napthol, and Pilocarpin. It helps to make the scalp healthy, to nourish the hair, to stimulate the follicles. Where the head is already bare, it enters the follicles, revitalizes the roots, supplies nourishment, and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except, of course, where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember we are basing our statements on what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done to hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE STAMPEDE."

A play with an exceptionally interesting plot, strong climaxes, and gripping situations possesses the attributes that usually make success; couple this with scenery painted by a master hand, electrical and mechincal effects devised and executed by experts of stage machinism, and the play should be doubly successful, if all of these points are considered, and "The Stampede" has them all.

It was written by a genius in play building—DeMille—the author of as many successes of to-day as any other playwright.

"The Stampede" has met with public approval everywhere, and a doubly interesting event will be Lillian Buckingham's appearance as an Indian girl, one of the sort who fights the unscrupulous land grabbers for the sake of her people.

It will be seen at Griffin's Opera House next Thursday evening, Feb. 8th. Prices 25c. to $1.50.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A cable from Rome says: The Duca di Bronte has refused permission to the British Premier Asquith to enter the Ducal gardens of Castelle di Maniece, and Asquith's courier, who had been arranging a days' sight-seeing, found that the duke's gardeners had descriptions of Asquith's party and absolute orders not to permit them to enter.

Duca di Bronte is a treasurer of Queen Mary's household, and is a son of the late Viscount Bridport.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as corsets, over-taxed strength, bad air, poor or improper food, wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called has proven its value in thousands of cases, like the following:

MRS. MARTIN.

Mrs. Dona M. Martin, of Auburn, Nebr., Route 1, Box 34, says: "I thought I would write you in regard to what your medicines have done for me. I have used them for thirty years for female trouble and general weakness with the very best result, and they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I buy the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and take them together. I never was disappointed in your remedies and take pleasure in recommending them to any suffering lady. I am now almost fifty years old; at forty-five I took your medicines, both kinds, and I passed that period very easily and left me fat and healthy. I feel like a young girl.

"If any lady cares to write me, I will gladly tell her more about the good work of your medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—of 1008 pages, answers hosts of delicate questions which every women, single or married, ought to know. Sent free in cloth binding to any address on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only.

HOCKEY.

BANKERS DISCOUNTED BY O. B. C.

An exciting match was played between the O.B.C. and the Bankers at the rink last night, from 7 until 8 o'clock, the referee being Mr. Dawkins. The first half was played without a goal being scored for either side, although the play was around the Bankers' goal nearly all the time. Still, owing to the splendid play of their goal keeper they managed to keep the puck out of their net.

In the second half the College boys had it all their own way again, and scored six goals in quick succession before the call of time.

Special mention should be made of the brilliant play of Sheppard for the Bankers, who was a tower of strength to his side, but met his Mahomet in little Camirand of the O.B.C.

There were quite a few spectators, among whom were representatives of the O.B.C. staff, namely Messrs. Peterkin and Farrell, and a number of students.

The line-up:—

O.B.C.—		Bankers—
Reid	Goal	Rice
Wilmot	Point	Wilson
Epplet	Cover
Serre	Rover	Sheppard
Camirand	Centre	Caldwell
Frost	Right	Panther

A NATURAL RESULT.

The danger to hockey players which results from the dropping of head-gear, cigar stubs and other articles on the ice during the progress of a match, in reference to which The Intelligencer recently commented, is strikingly illustrated by the following from the Kingston Whig of yesterday: "The injury which Edwin Elliott received at the intermediate intercollegiate game last night when his collar bone was broken, will keep him out of athletics this winter. Last year he was champion heavyweight boxer of the Intercollegiate union. His fall resulted from skating on a swagger stick belonging to a cadet, which had fallen on the ice. He lost his footing and fell heavily on his shoulder. The fracture is quite a severe one and he was taken to the general hospital in a cab and his wounded shoulder dressed by Drs. Mundell and Williamson. As soon as his injuries were dressed, he went right back to the rink and watched the remainder of the junior game.

HOCKEY NOTES.

The character of the gang of Intermediates from Peterborough who played here can be judged from the following list of penalties which they incurred in their last game at Lindsay: Bearss, 4; Bond, 4; Giroux, 4; Park, 2; Kelly, Coughlin.—Total 16. If that sort of thing is to be allowed, the game will cease to attract decent people. "Simon-pure amateurs" must not be allowed to earn their "honorariums" in such a manner.

Trenton Juniors will play at Peterborough to-night in the first of the home-and-home series for the championship of Groups Nos. 1 and 2. Trentons will present their best seven, provided some of them do not leave their outfit behind, to forget a certificate, to be "not feeling well," or to be ill in bed from the effect of slashing boys of other teams.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION IS TO BE ASKED AGAINST FAKE OPTICIANS

(From our own correspondent.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—It has just been discovered by the law makers of the province of Quebec that any man who does as Joey Vance did, namely, hangs out a sign, may, quite free from the penalties of the Criminal Code, constitute himself an authority on the diseases of man's most tender and precious organ, the eye. Opticians, self-styled, have been bursting forth and getting rich all over the province, but it is only recently that some of their bungling work has appeared of such a flagrant character that qualified opticians have been able to lay a concrete case before the Government.

Mr. Godfroi Langlois, champion of education and member of the Legislative Assembly, has taken up the cudgels for the eye doctors, and has already drafted a bill which will be presented for consideration at the present session of the Legislature, defining just who and who may not dig into the optics of those of faulty sight. This legislation will be hastened as it has been found that the fake opticians' signs are being used for more than one shady purpose. Only a few days ago the Montreal police raided one of these houses over which a gaudily painted optical sign was hung and found it was nothing less than a distributing or wholesale house for the illicit cocaine and opium traffic. It was run by a Belgian whose photograph, the police say, adorns the rogues' galleries of half of the large cities of Europe and America. He is now being held on a provisional charge, pending word from the authorities of Buenos Ayres, who, it is believed want him to answer to a very serious charge.

In this Belgian's house the police came across another very old friend. He is Jimmy Woods, the literary burglar, well known all over Canada for his contributions to magazines on how he robbed the mayor of Montreal, how he dipped the Archbishop of the Diocese and other interesting and truthful tales of the underworld. Jimmy has just finished a stretch in St. Vincent de Paul, for blackmail. The police did not hold him as he said he is engaged in writing a history of his experiences in the pen which he expects to sell for a high price. He will not be lost sight of, however, for it was in the midst of his literary career that he had the lapse which landed him in the jug the last time.

LACK OF BOOTS THE REASON.

The month of January just over has been the hardest month the members of the Montreal fire brigade have had to contend with since the department has been in existence. Not that there have been any exceptionally large fires, but more alarms have been rung in than ever before, and fires in small dwellings have either gained large headway when discovered, or have occurred in places very difficult for the men to fight. Chief Tremblay says the month's fire losses are due mainly to carelessness on the part of citizens, but a member of the brigade gives another reason. He says it has often been the case during the month for the apparatus to have just returned to the station after putting out one fire when another alarm would sound. The wagons would then have to be manned again and the run made in wet boots, frozen mittens and stiff joints. The result is that the hose is not laid as quickly nor energetically as might be and the fire gets a good start. He says extra boots and mitts would have saved thousands of dollars. The Board of Control apparently concurs, for four hundred extra pairs of rubber boots have been requisitioned.

SUNDAY AMUSEMENTS.

Toronto, the good, has appealed to Montreal, the bad, on a question of morals. It appears that Toronto is turned inside out about the use of toboggan slides on Sunday, and Controller Hocken of that city has appealed to the Board of Control here for information as to how Montreal regulates her Sunday sports, and as to whether Montreal's toboggan slides are closed on Sundays. Controller Wanklyn suggests that the narrow-minded people of Toronto who don't believe in Sunday sliding spend a week-end in Montreal during the winter weather. The happy, healthy faces of the thousands who seek Mount Royal Park with their toboggans, snow-shoes and skis on a bright Sunday morning should be an argument for all time to come as to whether outdoor sports should be curtailed or not on the Sabbath.

THE GEORGIAN BAY CANAL.

The Ottawa and Georgian Bay Ship Canal Company, which was incorporated some years ago for the purpose of creating a navigable waterway from Montreal to the mouth of the French River on the waters of Lake Huron, is seeking another renewal of its charter. The work it assumed to do is a great one, so great, indeed, that doubts have been expressed if, unassisted it could carry it through to completion. It is complicated by the fact that a new, and in some places, perhaps, an exaggerated importance is attached to the value of the water powers which the canal works would create. The interest of the localities and of the country in these is a matter to be considered also in connection with a measure to authorize the construction of canals, dams and locks to be controlled by the canal corporation. One estimate submitted to the Ontario Government is said to put the possibilities in connection with a scheme equal to that of the Trent canal system at 200,000 net mechanical horse power, and while for a long time there might be in the region no market for any such quantity of electrical energy, it is not a matter to be disregarded.

SHOT HALF-BROTHER DEAD.

Eight-Year-Old Child Had Told Tales on Him, Murderer Says.

SALEM, N.J., Feb. 2.—Richard Simpson, the negro boy arrested on Sunday, charged with murdering Clarence Wright, a lad of 8 years, has made a full confession. He is held without bail.

When first arrested after the tragedy at Bushtown, a small negro settlement near Woodstown, Simpson declared that Wright accidentally shot himself, and later, when taken before the authorities at Salem, he said that he aimed the gun at the boy and pulled the trigger, not knowing that it was loaded. Finally he sent for Prosecutor Sinnickson, and said that all he had previously told was false.

Simpson now says that Clarence, who was his half-brother, had told his parents stories that caused him to get a severe whipping. He planned then to kill the lad, and the opportunity came on Sunday, when his parents went to visit a neighbor. He then picked up a gun, and held it so close to the child's face that the powder burned his face and hair and the shot passed directly through the right eye into the brain.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL AT THE INSTITUTE

How the Sewage is Treated—It is Absolutely Freed From Deleterious Matter—After Treatment the Water is Purer than that of the Bay—The Total Cost of Handling the Sewage is Less than $1.50 per Day

During the last two or three years many changes and improvements have been made in the sewage disposal plant at the Institution for the Deaf, chiefly by way of experiment in order to secure the best possible results. A septic tank was put in, the pits were enlarged and an electrically driven automatic pump was installed. Last summer the work was completed, and is now giving excellent satisfaction. The raw sewage passes first into a combined septic and sedimentation tank, here it remains for eight or ten hours, the flow being retarded by a system of bafflers, which allows ample time for bacterial action to take place, and for the precipitation of the solids. These solids are removed at intervals and used as a fertilizer on the farm. The effluent from the first tank flows by gravity into a well from which it is pumped into the filter beds, where bacterial action is continued and the remaining fine particles of solids removed, as well as a large propotrion of disease-bearing germs. This filtrate flows by gravity into the last tank, which is equipped with a system of bafflers similar to the first, which again retard the flow. Here it remains for four hours, during which time thorough chlorination takes place before it finally passes into the waters of the Bay.

In order to ascertain what the effect of this treatment is, a series of tests have been made, with surprising and gratifying results. Several samples of the sewage taken before and after chlorination were sent to Provincial Bacteriologists. Those taken before show the presence of colon bacilli, and of bacteria ranging from 1100 per cubic centimetre up. Every sample taken after chlorination shows a total absence of colon bacilli, while the bacteria count ranged from 8 to 30, except in the first sample sent, when the count was 300, on account of but a small amount of chloride being used. A sample of Belleville water, taken from the tap, showed 2,000 bacteria, but no colon bacilli. These figures need no comment, showing as they do, that the sewage as it flows into the Bay, is almost entirely free from all deleterious matter. It might be added that the total cost of handling the sewage is less than $1.50 per day, and the Institution has now one of the most efficient and economical sewage plants on the continent.

Great credit is due to the superintendant, Dr. Coughlin, for dealing so effectively with this very difficult problem and producing such excellent results that the water of the Bay is not contaminated to the slightest extent by the 35,000 or more gallons of sewage handled every day at the Institution.

MR. FLINT'S ADVICE

To my fellow citizens:

A prospectus for the formation of a manufactory of furniture for sale by wholesale has been issued.

I have taken stock myself, and in trust for others. I have examined the matter from every point of view presented to me. I am convinced this Company will be an excellent asset to Belleville, and a very lucrative, and profitable investment. I consider the prospect for the output as unlimited. There is abundance or room for existing industries and this new Company.

Yours,
JOHN J. B. FLINT.

TIGHT SHOE COST HER A LEG.

First Irritation, Then Ulceration, Ending in Amputation.

BALTIMORE Feb. 1—Miss Josephine Patton about a month ago bought a pair of shoes which she wore for several days. Tightness caused a slight irritation on the little toe of the right foot. Miss Patton thought it would wear off in a few days, but it developed in several days in an ulceration. Next the foot began to swell and then the leg.

Thoroughly alarmed Miss Patton applied for treatment at the Mercy Hospital, where the case was diagnosed as gangrenous affection. The foot was opened and the wound sterilized, but it became more virulent, and the physicians decided that immediate amuptation was imperative.

The leg was taken off just below the hip, care being taken to cut away all the infected parts to prevent the disease from spreading.

LECTURE ON WORDSWORTH, THE POET AND HIS WORKS

A delightful and most interesting lecture on "Wordsworth" was delivered in the hall of St Agnes' School last evening by the Vice-Provost of Trinity College, Dr. Llwyd. Starting with a vivid and fascinating word picture of the Lake District, the lecturer depicted a perfect setting wherein to limn the striking features and softer details of the evening's picture. Wordsworth as a thinker, as a poet, and as a man were the main divisions. Under the first heading Wordsworth was declared to be an interpreter rather than a creative genius. As an interpreter it was his mission to show the harmony between man and nature and to re-establish a sympathy long wanting in most English poetry, and to make of the lowliest of men and things subjects of profoundest thought. Everyday experiences under his interpretative genius became filled with purposeful interest and vital meaning.

Under the second division, as a poet, Wordsworth was not remarkable for the melody of his versification, as was Shelley or Keats, but his simple style bore the current of his ethical teaching into the hearts and understanding of the simplest, much of which he owed to Coleridge. As a man he was not essentially great, though his private life was above reproach, for he lacked that great essential of all great men, the quality of personal service to his fellowmen by direct contact with them.

A highly gratified and appreciative audience tendered Dr. Llwyd a heary vote of thanks at the conclusion of his lecture, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

LONE MAN HELD UP 30 PEOPLE.

Daring Work of Masked Bandit in Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 2.—The most spectacular and the boldest hold-up in the city's recent wave of crime occurred shortly after 9 o'clock last night when a lone bandit armed, but unmasked, entered McIntyre's cafe in Seymour street, one of the largest in the city, and flourished his revolver at the heads of thirty men and women seated at the tables. The bandit had apparently awaited his opportunity, which came when the cashier was called to the telephone. He dashed through the front door, made his haul in a few moments and disappeared.

MOOSE JAW MILL WILL BE REBUILT

Immense Plant to be Installed at Moose Jaw—Other Industries to be Established

(Intelligencer Special.)

MOOSE JAW, Sask. Feb. 2.—The Saskatchewan Flour Mills Co., Ltd. will immediately rebuild their Robin Hood Mills at Moose Jaw, with a capacity double that of the other plant. In adition to the flour and oatmeal mills the company will build a one half million bushel elevator. Owing to the very deep snow in British Columbia, it is impossible to get immediate shipment of a sufficient quantity of Canadian lumber and large consignments are being rushed from different American points. In addition to the flour mills, the City Council have within two weeks closed with five different reputable manufacturing concerns who will at the earliest possible date commence active building operations on their new plants.

ATTACKED BY FIGHTING DOGS.

Policemen Called in to Separate Them Had to Battle For Life.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Interfering in a dogfight proved a bad thing for Policeman John Paynter, of the Flatbush Station. A bulldog and a small fox terrier that had formerly been great friends had a quarrel yesterday afternoon, and Maurie O'Donnell, the owner of the terrier, called for police help to protect his dog. Paynter was sent down to 282 East 40th Street, where O'Donnell lived, and found the two dogs fighting in a barn behind the house.

The policeman decided not to venture in. He opened a window, and the bulldog sprang at him. Paynter dealt the dog a blow with his club, knocking it back into the barn apparently unconscious. He then went into the barn and the terrier jumped at him. When he was struggling with the terrier the bulldog recovered, and sprang at his throat. For half an hour the policeman fought the dogs with his club, unable to put his hand in his pocket for his gun. Finally he felled the bulldog again with his club and pulled his gun, with the fox terrier hanging to his coat. Then he promptly shot both the dogs to death.

In the struggle with the dogs Paynter was not once bitten, but his uniform was torn to shreds.

NO SETTLEMENT YET.

Hon. W. H. Hearst Denies That Agreement Is Reached In Manitoba Case.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—An emphatic denial was given to the story that the boundaries question was settled by Hon. W. H. Hearst, Minister of Mines and Forests in Ontario.

He was in Ottawa yesterday in conference with the Government. Lengthy sessions were held both morning and afternoon between Premier Borden and Mr. Hearst and Hon. Frank Cochrane representing Ontario, and Hon. Robert Rogers representing Manitoba. Mr. Hearst said last night that he would meet the Cabinet again to-day, and that so far nothing is settled.

The Ministers are indignant at the stories which have been sent out that a settlement has been made.

Mr. Hearst said nothing definite has been decided upon. He is anxious to get the matter settled so it can be presented to the Ontario Legislature for ratification.

There have been attempts, says a prominent Conservative, to stir up a school question but it is believed the old Laurier bill which was passed by the House and which was adopted by Manitoba will be used as the basis. This bill made no mention of schools, which would leave the matter up to Manitoba.

Mad Dog Bites Children.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Four school children, two boys and two girls, were badly bitten by a mad dog yesterday as they were on their way home from St. Ann's School. Attracted by their screams, a passer-by managed to strangle the dog sufficiently to force it to loosen its hold on one of the little girls whom he had on the ground worrying like a rat.

The wounds of the children, all of whom were badly bitten about the arms and legs, have been cauterized by Dr. Charles Viyond. The dog, the property of E. Gagnier, is a cross between a bulldog and a fox terrier. It is being kept under observation at the Young street police station. In the opinion of Dr. Vipond the animal exhibits the symptoms of rabies.

The children, Willie Guy, the 14-year-old son of Francis Guy; Francis Talmadge, Gertie Howard, 14 years of age, and Catharine Furlong, will all likely be inoculated against rabies.

SIMON ARMSTRONG.

One of the oldest residents of Rawdon passed away at Harold on Tuesday, Jan. 30th in the person of Mr. Simon Armstrong. "CROSSED" WIRELESS PHONE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A London cable says: The mystery of the banjo playing and human voices heard by isolated operators in the North Sea, which had caused them to christen the author of the weird sounds the "North Sea Ghost," is explained by the manager of the Marconi factory at Chelmsford. He declares that they were caused by experiments with wireless telephony being carried out there. In order to test the apparatus they had used a gramophone which played several banjo selections.

What is 'Good' Tea?

BEFORE Tea brands were widely known—before Red Rose Tea was sold throughout Canada—a woman asked her Grocer if he had any 'Good' Tea—and the Grocer replied,

"Red Rose Tea is Good Tea"

There you have the origin of our modest slogan—the reason for it. And surely no better source or reason could be given.

Consider the matter for a moment—

Suppose you were to forget the name "Red Rose," and ask the Grocer for a pound of 'Good' Tea—what would you mean by the term 'Good'?

You would simply mean Tea that was ALL Tea could be.

So—when we are able to say - - - - - -

"Red Rose Tea is Good Tea"

—we have said all that can be said.

RED ROSE is a blend of the best Indian and Ceylon Teas—

Because these are world's best Teas. Assam—in Northern India—is the original home of the Tea plant—the soil being specially adapted for growing rich, strong Teas—

Ceylon Teas are more delicately flavored. Therefore the Red Rose blend is generously rich in both, strength and flavor—

—Even if modestly and simply advertised as

"Red Rose Tea is Good Tea"

There are several grades selling at different prices, but, perhaps, the 40c. grade will please best. It is not only fine in quality but goes farther.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE Y.M.C.A. STAR COURSE.

The Estelle Franklin Gray Concert Company scored a decided success in the new Y.M.C.A. building last evening, the large gymnasium, with its seating capacity of over four hundred, being filled to its limit. It was truly an evening of refreshing entertainment to all who were present, and particularly so to lovers of vocal and instrumental music. While the programme was limited to ten or a dozen selections, the recalling of each performer two and three times gave the audience a variety of renditions that was most entertaining. As a violin soloist Miss Estelle Franklin Gray is one of the finest to appear in our city, her technique being faultless, and the spirit that enters into her selections rendering each performance most charming. An interesting incident in Miss Gray's appearance was the fact that yesterday was her birthday—the first spent upon Canadian soil—which, with the permission of her audience, she observed by playing "Yankee Doodle," with variations, and right royally did she do justice to the popular American song.

Miss Florence Crawford, the talented pianist, delighted all with several selections, her exquisite style and originality calling forth round after round of applause. A noticeable feature of Miss Crawford's playing was the rendering of a difficult selection with the left hand, manifesting an unusual degree of endurance.

As a reader Margaret Gray is certainly an artist, her pathetic, semi-comical and soul-touching selections commanding the closest attention. The "Soul of the Violin" with musical accompaniment was one of the evening's most entertaining features.

Miss Barbara Foster, the pleasing little Scotch contralto, carried the entire house with her in each appearance, the perfect execution of voice, the clear, full notes, and familiar Scotch airs, including "Annie Laurie" with violin and piano accompaniment, making her deservedly popular.

The members of the Estelle Franklin Gray Company, comely in appearance circumspect in demeanor, and thoroughly trained in their calling, won many friends last evening, and we feel sure that their second appearance this evening, with an entire change of programme, will tax the capacity of the spacious Y.M.C.A. auditorium.

THE STAMPEDE.

"The Stampede," which comes to Griffin's Opera House Thursday, Feb. 8th, is by Cecil B. DeMille, author of "Strongheart," who wrote the play in collaboration with Lillian Buckingham, who is essaying the stellar role. It is said to be the reverse of "Strongheart," in which the Indian hero sacrificed the white girl he loved for the sake of his people. In "The Stampede," Wanga, the half breed, is an Indian girl who is called upon to choose between happiness with her white lover and the interests of the tribe to which her mother belonged. She does her duty, and unlike "Strongheart," happiness comes to her in the end. It is staged elaborately with pretty lighting effects and Miss Buckingham is credited with being an actress of great personal magnetism and powerful dramatic expression. Prices 25c. to $1.50. Plan open at Doyle's Tuesday, Feb. 6th.

5 YEARS' THROAT TROUBLE AND INFLUENZA CURED

EMINENT DOCTORS FAILED TO CURE—HAD GIVEN UP HOPE

THIS CASE DOES PROVE THAT WHEN CATARRHOZONE IS BREATHED EVERY TRACE OF CATARRH DISAPPEARS.

Milford Haven, Da., Feb. 3.—Everyone in this neighborhood knows of the long suffering from influenza and catarrh endured by Mrs. D. Gurney. To-day she is well. Her recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. This is her own statement: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh in the head, throat and nose, and endured the manifold tortures of influenza for five years. My life was despaired of. Catarrh was undermining my strength very fast. I used treatments from eminent doctors, but all failed to cure me. I had given up hope of ever being well. Then I read of a wonderful cure made by Catarrhozone. Immediately I sent for Catarrhozone, and before I had used one bottle I was greatly relieved. To-day I am cured. We would not be without Catarrhozone in our home—it's so sure in colds, coughs, bronchial and throat trouble. I feel it my duty to publicly recommend Catarrhozone."

Get the large dollar size of Catarrhozone; it contains a beautiful hard rubber inhaler, and medicine that lasts two months. Smaller sizes, 25c. and 50c. each. Beware of imitations—accept only Catarrhozone, sold by all reliable dealers or by mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont., and Buffalo, N. Y.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE IS THE ONLY ORIGINAL REMEDY.

Just because you happen to see or hear the statement somewhere that another preparation will kill the dandruff germ, stop falling hair and is just as good as Herpicide, don't be fooled and allow yourself to be swindled out of your money.

You want Newbro's Herpicide, the remedy that has been tried, has stood the test of time and now has more satisfied users than all other similar preparations combined. An attempt to sell you something else is merely another effort to profit from the good name established by the only genuine dandruff germ destroyer.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

It may be claimed that other hair remedies will do the same things, but Herpicide really does them. It years of success prove this.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

All druggists sell Newbro's Herpicide. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. Doyle's drug store, is special agent for Belleville. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed.

Gomez Would Take Job.

San Antonio, Feb. 3.—Emilo Vasquez Gomez, candidate for vice-president and former confidential agent for Madero at Washington, is prepared to assume the presidency, if there is a successful revolution in Northern Mexico. Discussing the matter here yesterday, he said:

"I understand the revolutionists endorse the plan of Tacubaya, which declared for me as President of Mexico. I will not lead an armed force, for I am a man of ideals and not a man of arms," continued Gomez, "but I will accept the Presidency if it is offered to me."

Senor Gomez denied that he had incited any rebellion in Mexico or would participate in an uprising.

Grain Handled at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—The Canadian grain inspection department has issued figures of grain handled at this point for the first five months of the grain year, from Sept. 1 to Jan. 31, showing a big increase as compared with the same period a year previous.

Grain shipments for the five months just closed totalled 91,483 cars as against 59,177 cars the previous year, or an increase of 32,306 cars, or 54 per cent. Distribution of this increase is as follows: Canadian Pacific 50,777, against 36,514 cars; Canadian Northern 23,768, against 18,111 cars; Grand Trunk Pacific 8,776 against 4,099 cars; Great Northern 2,283, against 813 cars.

In Partnership With Railways.

Washington, Feb. 3.—What virtually amounts to a partnership between the railroads and the express companies was suggested yesterday by Commissioner Lane at the investigation by the interstate commerce commission into express rates and regulations. To develop this relationship would appear to be the crux of the present enquiry.

George C. Taylor, vice-president of the American Express Co., explained that the railroads were demanding continually a greater division of the express rate for their share.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I am waiting. Remember, you are an American citizen for all that you were born here. If anything should happen to you I must know the whole story in order to help you. You know that you may trust me."

"It isn't that, captain. I have grown to like you in these few days. Those opera glasses—it was an idea. Well, since you will know, I was a gardener's boy. I worked under my brother Hermann. I used to ask the nurse, who had charge of her serene highness, where she would go each day. Then I'd cut flowers and meet them on the road somewhere and give the bouquet to the child. There was never any escort—a footman and a driver. The little one was always greatly pleased, and she would call me Hans. I was in love those days." Grumbach laughed with bitterness. "Yes, even I. Her name was Tekla, and she was a jade. I wanted to run away, but I had no money. I had already secured a passport—no matter how. It was the first affair, and I was desperately hurt. One day a gypsy came to me. I shall always know him by the yellow spot in one of his black eyes. I was given a thousand crowns to tell him which road her highness was to be driven over the next day. As I said, I was mad with love. Why a gypsy should want to know where her highness was going to ride was of no consequence to me. I told him. I was to get the money the same night. It was thus that her highness was stolen. It was thus that I became accessory before the fact, as the lawyers say. Flight with a band of Magyar gypsies; weary days in the mountains, with detachments of troops scouring the whole duchy. Finally I escaped. A fortune was offered for the immediate return of the child. At the time I believed that it was an abduction for ransom. But no one ever came forward for the reward. There was a price on my head when it was known that I had fled."

"And no one ever came for the reward? That is strange. Was immunity promised?" Carmichael asked.

"WAS IMMUNITY PROMISED?"

"It was inferred, but not literally promised."

"Fear kept them away."

"Perhaps. And there is Arnsberg."

"Was he guilty?"

"I never saw his hand anywhere."

"So this is the story! Well, when a man's in love he is more or less in the clutch of temporary insanity. I've a wild streak in me also. But what I can't understand is why you return and put your head in the lion's mouth. The police will stumble on something. If you are arrested I could do little for you. The United States protects only harmless political outcasts. Yours is a crime such as nullifies your citizenship, and any government would be compelled to send you back here if the demand was made for your extradition."

"I know all that."

"I suppose that when conscience drives we must go on. But the princess has been found. The best thing you can do is to put your passports into immediate use and return to the States. You can do no good here."

"Maybe." Grumbach refilled his pipe, lighted it and without saying more went out and down into the street.

Carmichael watched him through the window.

"He's a queer codger, and it's a queer story. I don't believe I have heard it all either. What was he really hunting for with those glasses? I give it up."

He was not angry with Grumbach. Rather he seemed to be drawn to him more closely than ever. Mad with love—that was the phrase. He conned it over and over—mad with love. That excused many things.

Grumbach was indeed perturbed, and this sensation was the result of what he had not told his friend. Gott! And after a time he was in the Adlergasse. And of all that happy, noisy family only he and Hermann left! In one of the open doorways, for it was warm, a final caress of vanishing summer, he saw a fat, youngish woman knitting woolen hose. Two or three children sprawled about her knees. There was that petulance of lip and forehead which marked the dissatisfaction of the coquette married.

"Tekla!" Grumbach murmured.

He was not conscious that he had paused, but the woman was. She eyed him with the mild indifference of the bovine. Then she dropped her glance, and the shining needles clicked afresh. Grumbach forced his step onward. And for this! He laughed discordantly. The woman looked up again wonderingly. Now, why should this stranger laugh all by himself like that?

Hans saw the sign of the Black Eagle and directed his steps thitherward. He sat down and ordered a beer, but did not touch the glass. And what right, he pondered, had conscience to drag him back to Ehrenstein, where he had known the bitterest and happiest moments of his life? And yet, rail as he might at this invisible restraint called conscience, he saw God's direction in this return. Only he, Hans Grumbach, knew and one other. And that other, who?

Fat—Tekla was fat, and he had treasured the fair picture of her youth long years. Well, there was an end to that. Little fat Tekla, to have nearly overturned a duchy! And then Hans became aware of voices close at hand.

"Yes, frau, he is at work in the grand duke's vineyards. And think, the first day he picked nine baskets."

"That is good, but I know many a one who can pick their twelve. And you are to be married when the vintage is done? You will make a fine wife, Gretchen."

"And he a fine husband."

"And you will bring him a dowry too. But his own people—what does he say of them?"

"He has no parents, only an uncle, who doesn't count. We shall live with grandmother and pay her rent."

"And you are wearing a new dress," admiringly.

A Sensational Leap.

New York, Feb. 3.—A man slowly ascended the upraised arm of the giant Statue of Liberty out in the harbor yesterday afternoon, made tortuous way to the outside of the great hand, then sprang out into the air and shot toward earth. Pedestrians in Battery Park across the bay gazed at the whizzing figure spellbound, then gasped with relief when a parachute opened and the figure settled lightly on the ground at the statue's base.

The man was Frederick Law, a steeplejack. He had obtained a Government permit to make the leap.

Government Decision Is Said to Favor Renewal.

Substantial Bonsuses of $1 to $1.50 a Ton on Iron Will Be Granted by Borden Administration, According to Well-Founded Rumor In Capital —Tariff Protection For Steel May Come Later.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The Government has decided in favor of granting substantial bounties for the encouragement of iron making in Canada, is the statement which is current in Ottawa to-day on good authority. The great smelting industries at Sydney and the Soo were established largely by means of bonus aids. The last of these expired in June. These were the bounties on steel rods. There had previously been bounties on bullets and other forms of iron and steel, which had expired, and which Finance Minister Fielding did not renew.

The Government had decided that the state of the industries and the prosperity of the country warrant a restoration of the bounty aid. Therefore, it has been practically decided to give a bounty of a dollar a ton on pig produced from foreign ore, and a dollar and a half a ton on pig produced from domestic ore.

These bounties will likely run until the tariff commission is appointed and has looked into the question of aid for steel works. It is likely that then the bounties will be dropped and the steel industries aided by means of tariff protection for which they have always expressed a preference.

RIGHTS OF ONTARIO.

The attempts of the Grit party, soured by defeat, to stir up strife of any sort, whether racial, religious or sectional, have of late been many, but all have proved ineffective for the good reason that they were foundationless.

The latest of these abortive efforts have been made in connection with the Manitoba boundary question, the object being to embroil the Governments of the two provinces in a quarrel over the possession of a seaport on Hudson Bay, and incidentally to create friction over the establishment of Separate Schools in the territory to be annexed to Ontario. All, of course with the object of profiting politically the Grit party.

In furtherance of the unworthy project the Opposition have been working with a bee-like industry. Mr. N. W. Rowell, the Liberal leader in the Legislative, spoke at great length on the subject at Orillia on the 1st inst., and The Globe of the 2nd inst., gives special prominence to the following portion of Mr. Rowell's speech:

> "If under existing conditions our northern boundary cannot be extended up to the sixtieth parallel, the same as the boundaries of the other Provinces, it at least should be carried sufficiently far north to give us a good ocean-going port on the Hudson Bay. Upon this Ontario should insist, and I promise Sir James Whitney the hearty support of the Opposition in standing for the rights of Ontario in this respect. If Sir James Whitney will not press Ontario's claim for fear of embarrassing his political friends at Ottawa, the Opposition will stand and fight for a settlement of the boundary which will give Ontario the largest possible proportion of her own hinterland and a suitable port on Hudson Bay for ocean-going vessels."

In another column of the same issue of The Globe the subject is dealt with by the Ottawa correspondent of that journal, who, in an article of considerable length, gloats over what he conceives to be the embarrassment of the Government in that connection. He remarks:

> The most embarrassing aspect of the question, however, is with regard to whether or not the Government bill will grant to the Catholics the right of Separate Schools in the annexed territory. The laws of Manitoba now deny the right of Separate Schools within the Province, but the Federal law grants the right of Separate Schools in the Northwest Territories, including the district of Keewatin. There is an insistent demand from the Roman Catholic supporters of the Government, and especially from the French Nationalists and Conservatives, that it shall be made plain in the bill that there shall be no infringement of the present rights to Separate Schools in the territory to be annexed. They declare they will be satisfied with nothing else. This demand is resisted, especially by the Orange element in Mr. Borden's following, who do not want to have to stultify themselves in their action taken in 1906, when a similar question was raised. So far no agreement has been reached between these divergent factions, and the Government is in a quandary.
>
> Meanwhile the Roman Catholic hierarchy are getting vested interests, in so far as Separate Schools are concerned, in the Keewatin district. Monsignor Charlebois, Bishop of Keewatin, has already established several new Separate Schools in his diocese, notably one at Le Pas, where a Public School receiving support from the Dominion Government in connection with the grants for Indian schools is already established, and where the school population warrants but one school. It is understood that the per capita grant which enables the establishment of this Separate School was authorized by Hon. Robert Rogers, head of the Indian Department, a few weeks ago. The establishment of this school and of similar ones, of course, will strengthen the claim of the hierarchy that provision should be made for their continuance in the boundary extension bill.

A pleasing prospect truly, for an insensate partizan—one who, true to his party's motto, sets party before country. Happily, however, the hope which the correspondent entertains of a revival of the troubles of 1895, as the result of which his party succeeded in attaining power under false pretences, will not be realized. The riddle has been already read, as is evidenced by the following despatch from Ottawa, under date February 1st:—

> A definite announcement of the terms upon which the boundaries of Manitoba are to be extended may be expected within the next two or three days. In the meantime the conferences which have been taking place between representatives of the several Governments interested have been practically concluded, and an agreement reached satisfactory to everybody concerned. The obstacles which were great enough to prevent a settlement during years of negotiating between the Province of Manitoba and the Laurier Government have been removed in short order by the Borden Ministry, and Manitoba will soon cease to be, the "Postage Stamp Province." Wild guesses as to the terms upon which the provincial territory is to be enlarged have been plentiful within the last few days. One of the statements most persistently repeated has been that a difficulty has arisen in regard to Separate Schools in the territory to be annexed, and that upon this rock the negotiations bid fair to split. The Mail and Empire is able to say that there is no such difficulty, and that in the arrangement now being concluded there is no condition, good, bad or indifferent, in regard to Separate Schools. The question of Separate Schools will be left entirely to the Government and Province of Manitoba, with the probability that the people in the new territory will be placed in the same position in regard to their educational rights as are the people in the present Province of Manitoba.
> It is understood that the bill which will be brought down will show that the wishes of Ontario have been met. The details are, of course, necessarily confidential at this stage, but it can be stated that Ontario will be given access to Hudson Bay at Port Nelson. Ontario will thus be in a position to share in whatever benefits may be derived from the development of the Hudson Bay route.

Mr. Rowell and The Globe's Ottawa correspondent possess an infinite capacity for blundering. The wish being father to the thought with both of them, they seize upon every rumor as to events which would have the effect of being embarrassing to the Government and, assuming it to be true, launch out into tirades which have no foundation other than an imaginary one. In his novel, "Davenport Dunn," Lever depicts two such characters in these words: "One grew his facts like raw material, from which the other evolved the curious wares with which he amused his fancy." They had better try again.

CURRENT COMMENT.

February has one good point. If it is the coldest month, it is also the shortest.

"I have still a few kicks left," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the kicks aforesaid being part of the collection that Sir Wilfrid received on Sept. 21st.—Toronto Telegram.

"Uncle Gabriel, are you in favor of votes for women?"

"Does you-all mean, suh, dat me an' you could bofe vote?"

"Yes."

"Ah suah does favah it, den. Dat would be foah dollahs."

As the result of appeals to racial prejudices, five of the former aldermen of Montreal who were condemned as grafters two years ago by Judge Cannon, the Commissioner who conducted an investigation into the municipal government of that city, have been elected once more to the positions which they disgraced. Mighty is prejudice, at times.

Seven, the "perfect" number, plays an important part in the case of the notorious Bob Cook, the erstwhile "terror" of Orangeville. On Wednesday he was sentenced at Brampton to seven years in the penitentiary for stealing cattle, but now his counsel, a Toronto lawyer, asks for a stated case for argument in the court of appeal on the ground that his train was seven minutes behind time and that, consequently, as his client was sentenced seven minutes before his arrival, he was thereby debarred from being present when sentence was pronounced, which proceeding he claims was improper.

The annual report of the Ontario Labor Bureau, which has just been placed in the hands of the printers by Mr. Robert Edgar, chief of the Bureau, will show that the Province enjoyed a year of remarkable prosperity during 1911 in all departments of manufacturing and labor. In contrast to the unrest and unemployment existing to the south of the American border, the statistics for Ontario, gathered from all the trade unions and practially every manufacturer, indicate that unemployment has been very rare, and, as a rule, there have been positions for every applicant.

The Globe asserts that it had a valid and binding agreement with the Post Office Department, for the carriage through the mails of its short-term subscription issues during the election campaign of last year. Postmaster-General Pelletier in the House of Commons on Thursday, in reply to a question on that subject by a member, answered with an emphatic "No." As the agreement, if such had any other than an imaginary existence, might possibly have been made with Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who was the Postmaster General in the Laurier Administration, that gentleman "had better speak now."

The next Parliamentary election in Great Britain, whether it comes this year or next, will apparently have the question of Irish government as its chief issue. The Unionists have put tariff reform into the background for the time being at any rate, and in England as well as in Ulster are pushing forward home rule, and with a vigor if not recklessness that shows how much importance they attach to the concentration of public attention on the subject. The British system is adapting itself to the referendum idea. There was practically a referendum on the Lloyd George Finance Bill, as there was on the Parliament Bill, and there is now likely to be on the Ireland bill, when the House of Lords hangs it up.—Montreal Gazette

Hon. Frank Oliver has not yet preferred his request for an investigation into the charges made against him last session as to the source of a certain $60,000 item alleged to have been placed to his credit in the bank. During the campaign, Mr. Oliver loudly claimed on the platform that he wanted a complete and thorough investigation and would have it when the House was called. Parliament has been sitting now since November 15, and yet Mr. Oliver has not asked for any enquiry. The Government would prefer to have the request come from Mr. Oliver himself, but as he has shown no inclinaiton to ask for an enquiry it is very possible one will be instituted.—Guelph Herald.

Canada need not become a militant nation any more that Australia has become one, but the theory that she must depend on the mother country or on other friendly nations for her own self-protection is weak and cowardly. Let us give every Canadian boy such a training that, though he does not become a soldier embued with solely military ideals, he will become a man mentally and physically capable of bearing arms in his country's defence should the necessity arise. A nation of young men equipped with a semi-military training and ready to put this training into use if necessary, would be the greatest guarantee of peace in the western hemisphere. If Canada is to become a nation she must stand on her own ground in everything, and she must be prepared to shoulder her share of every problem that will confront the empire as a whole. She cannot do this by evading her responsibilities.—Toronto World.

THE UNION TRUST COMPANY.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the Annual Report of the Union Trust Company at the annual general meeting of the shareholders held at Toronto on the first instant. The report of the Directors shows that the Company is in a very flourishing condition, as in addition to paying a dividend of 10%, it added $100,000 to its Reserve last year, and carries forward a further sum of over $32,000. The profits amounted to $200,000, which is greater than that made in any previous year. The Company's Capital is $1,000,000, and the Reserve Fund now amounts to $750,000.

This Trust Company is now well-known throughout the whole of Canada, as in addition to its other business, it is one of the largest lending corporations of the Dominion. The report shows that they have assets amounting to over $13,000,000 in their hands.

The comments made by the General Manager, Mr. J. M. McWhinney give some indication of the care exercised by the Company in their business methods, which doubtless accounts largely for the success of the Company. The Company has an excellent Board of Directors, the number of whom was increased from twelve to fifteen at the Annual Meeting. The three new members of the Board are Mr. Henry F. Gooderham, of Toronto; the Right Honorable Lord Hindlip, a prominent financier of London, England; and C. W. Hoare, a well-known banker of London, England.

Corn Growers Resent The Toronto Globe's Exaggeration.

Tilbury, Feb. 2.—The Ontario Corn Growers' Association had a bumper attendance on this the third day of the big corn show. The exhibits are of such a superior quality that the staff of judges are having a difficult task to make the awards. They hope to complete their work this morning and the prize and trophy winners will be announced to-day.

Prof. Klinck yesterday gave another interesting talk and practical demonstration on the selection of seed corn.

Prof. Day of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, delivered an illustrated address on underdraining during the afternoon. He said that the producing value of land was increased at least twenty dollars an acre, and were the corn lands of Essex and Kent properly underdrained, the gain would be enormous for the corn growers in this section.

Indignation was expressed yesterday at the exaggerated reports attributed to President Williams of the Corn Growers' Association with reference to the absence of Hon. Mr. Duff. Jocular references were twisted in an apparent attempt to introduce politics in the association. It was well understood that Mr. Duff was quite unable to leave Toronto, and Dr. Creelman of the Ontario Agricultural College came to take his place.

ARMED WITH REVOLVERS.

Thirty Thousand Ulstermen Will Have Guns, Says Despatch.

London, Feb. 3—The Morning Post's Belfast correspondent is responsible for the statement that from 60,000 to 80,000 men will gather at Belfast next Thursday, the date of the proposed home rule meeting, animated by intense hatred over what they regard as the treachery of Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Lord Pirrie, in advocating home rule for Ireland. The correspondent says 30,000 men will be armed with revolvers, and a great majority of them also with clubs, which will be one foot longer than the police batons.

Continuing the correspondent says the objectors to the meeting have no quarrel with John Redmond or Joseph Devlin, who always have been Nationalists, but they consider Mr. Churchill and Lord Pirrie have been bought to pass and hasten the establishment of home rule. The Dublin Castle authorities, the correspondent concludes, are cognizant of the preparations, and are aware that 7,000 troops will be necessary to keep order, but so far they have done nothing.

Sir Edward Grey has received the following telegram from a Melbourne meeting: "Six thousand loyal citizens assure you of the moral and material support of a majority of the Australians in defence of religious and civil liberty. The United Empire of Australia is unchanged since 1906 when 100,000 electors addressed the crown against home rule. Hold the fort, brave Ulster. No surrender."

Would Mean Separation?

London, Feb. 3.—John Mackinnon Robertson, M.P., addressing an Irish meeting in London last night, added an interesting contribution to the anxiously debated question whether under home rule, Ireland would control the customs and excise. Mr. Robertson said that, to give Ireland complete and absolute fiscal autonomy, would be tantamount to separating her from the Empire. There was no hope, he declared, of carrying the home rule bill on such a footing as this, and he trusted that the home rulers would realize that fiscal autonomy was outside of practical politics.

The Times differs with The Daily Chronicle's forecast of the home rule bill published Friday morning, which said that the Irish Parliament would have full control of the customs and excises.

The Times declares the Imperial Government will retain control of the customs.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY

ORANGE LILY

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Disorders. Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc., etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an applied treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help have a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 50 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing, and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 25c box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price, $1 per box, which is sufficient for one months' treatment. Address, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT. 3

From Toronto Star, Jan. 23:

"Hon. Geo. E. Foster made the serious admission that some further outlet must be found for the wheat crop of the West, and went still deeper when he told the House that much of the wheat crop was being moved to the south, and in foreign cars. The Liberals greeted this with some laughter and cries of 'Shame! Disloyal!' etc.

Tried to Bribe Him.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—Mederic Martin, alderman-elect in Papineau ward, made an allegation yesterday that an attempt was made to bribe him. He says that he was offered $3,000 for his resignation as a candidate.

This bribe, he asserts, was offered to him by a certain individual against whom he has given notice of an action for a penalty of $400.

The charter of the city says it is an offence, punishable by a fine of $400, to ask a candidate to withdraw for money.

Action has been entered by Perron, Taschereau & Rinfret.

The new City Council will be inaugurated on Monday week, Feb. 12, following the swearing-in of Ald. Lavallee as mayor.

ONTARIO BEHIND.

Prof. Chamberlain Says Agriculture Is Needed In the Public Schools.

Tilbury, Feb. 3.—The fourth day of the corn show was attended by larger crowds than the three previous days, the exhibit room and the lecture halls being filled at every session.

Prof. Klinck of Macdonald College, gave a demonstration in corn selection and judging, and also conducted an open question drawer which aroused much interest. Another feature of great interest was the school competition in judging corn, in which ten teams of juveniles were entered. For this competition a shield was donated by A. B. McCoig, M.P. Eighty essays on how to grow corn were also entered for the former institute medal.

Prof. Chamberlain addressed an audience of one thousand pupils, parents and teachers, on agriculture in the public schools, and incidentally remarked that Ontario schools were behind those of the United States in imparting information useful to the ordinary pupil.

At the afternoon session Prof. McCready, director of elementary agricultural education for the Province of Ontario, spoke. He strongly repudiated the idea of Ontario being a back number, maintaining that the province was now nearer the solution of many problems that had been confronting educationists for years than any other state or province in America.

Fourteen Men Drowned.

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 3.—The British submarine "A3" sank yesterday morning after a collision with the British gunboat Hazard off the eastern end of the Isle of Wight.

The "A3" carried a crew of eleven men, whose fate is not yet definitely known. It is believed, however, that all are lost, and that the vessel is full of water.

Torpedo practice had been in progress for some time, and the submarine "A3" was partially submerged when she came into collision with the gunboat.

Besides the regular crew of ten and a lieutenant who were on board the submarine, the Admiralty states that three other lieutenants were on the vessel going through a course of instruction, and were drowned when the submarine sank, making a total of fourteen deaths.

DEAD MISER WAS GUARDED BY HIS INSANE DAUGHTER

Lived Apart from All the World for Thirty Years on the Park Slope—Rooms were Never Swept—The Daughter Appealed to Neighbors When Her Father Wouldn't Eat—Didn't Know He Was Dead

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—In a three-story brownstone house at 174 Garfield Place, on the Park Slope of Brooklyn, neighbors found the owner of the house dead yesterday on the floor of his bedroom, and his only daughter in an insane fit, while numerous cats were in occupation of the scantily furnished place. They found gold, bank books and deeds free of mortgages safely tucked away in filthy closets.

This house has stood in a row of brownstone houses for thirty-five or forty years. During all these years neighbors knew little about the house except that it was occupied by an old man and by an eccentric woman of middle age, believed to be his daughter. Yesterday for the first time the facts of the household became known to the neighborhood.

A woman, quaintly dressed in a light summer costume, consisting of a thin black skirt, a thin black waist, overworn, a red bandana handkerchief used for a girdle, was feeding cats in the backyard. She was Mary Benfield, 44 years old, and she was the strange woman that neighbors had seen peeping from the windows of the house. She was the daughter of the old man who lived there, Henry Benfield, 79 years old, a carpenter by trade.

This woman had never been known to talk to any of her neighbors. She had seldom, in fact, been seen to leave the house, receiving her groceries daily at the front door and slamming the door to all other visitors. No one had ever seen the inside of the house, not even the grocery boy, it was said in the neighborhood, at least since 1878, when the mother was buried.

Yesterday afternoon, however, this strange woman, of her own accord, began a conversation with Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold, who lives next door at 176 Garfield Place. She asked Mrs. Arnold to come into the house and see one of her sick cats. The strange woman spoke intelligently, but Mrs. Arnold feared to venture on a visit. Then Mary Benfield told Mrs. Arnold that her father had been sick for three days, that she had been trying to feed him but that he had refused to eat, or even speak to her. Then Mrs. Arnold got her brother-in-law, Henry Russell Arnold, to accompany her to the house, her sympathies being aroused. Mary Benfield led the way through the basement, through the scurrying cats up two flights of stairs, and into the rear room on the second floor.

There on the floor lay Henry Benfield, the owner of the house. It took only a glance to know that he was dead, and he had been dead for a long time. His mouth was literally stuffed with crackers and by his side stood a glass of milk, untouched. Mary Benfield talked to the old man in tender tones. Mr. Arnold and Mrs. Arnold did not hesitate a moment, but ran to the nearest telephone and called for the police.

Soon after Detectives MaCauley, O'Neal, and Markey arrived from the Bergen Street station. They say the strange woman made faces at them from an upstairs window and defied them to enter her house. They tried every door but found them all locked, and then broke in the cellar door and made their way upstairs to where the dead man lay.

They questioned the woman who screamed hysterically for a while, but finally got her story from her. Her father had been taken sick on Monday, she said, and she had been nursing him since then. But he had refused to eat or talk, she said, and she did not know what to think of it.

"I thought he might be dying," she told the detectives "and I was getting ready for his death. I was going to wash him and then put him in a trunk so that he could evaporate."

The old man's body was taken to the Brooklyn morgue and the daughter was removed to the Kings County hospital.

The detectives then busied themselves with an inspection of the house. The rear basement, they found had been used as a bedroom by Mary Benfield. In the room were a coal range, an old iron cot with a few bedclothes on it, a few wash tubs littered with rags, and on a table were some moldy cookies and a bottle and a half of milk. There was no paper on the walls and the floor had not been swept, the detectives estimated for twenty years.

The front room of the basement, which had served, obviously, as a dining room, held a wooden table without a cover, an ash can, the receptacle that Mary Benfield had pointed to when she said she intended to wash her father's body in case he should die. In another corner was the old trunk or chest in which she intended to place his body, as she declared. In a closet nearby there were about twenty empty milk bottles, scrupulously clean, and the only things, it seemed, that were clean there.

In the front room on the first floor were a worn carpet, a table, two chairs, and three oil paintings. One painting was the portrait of a woman. The others were landscapes. In the back room was an old square piano and an organ, both with covers down.

The room on the third floor where the old man had died looked even less like a place of habitation. An iron cot, a chair and a stove were in it. The room to the front, it seemed, had never been occupied, and, as well as the two other rooms on the third floor, contained no furniture. There was evidence on the third floor that this had been the rendezvous of the family of cats. The cats, in fact, followed the detectives from room to room.

The most surprising part of the investigation, however, was revealed in a closet in the basement, adjoining the room where Mary Benfield had her cot. The detectives had been attracted there because the woman had before leaving, taken her red handkerchief from her body and hidden it in a small satchel that was in the closet.

They found knotted in the handkerchief $277.78, nearly all in $5, $10 and $20 gold pieces. Furthermore, down in the satchel they found six bank-books. One on the Bowery Savings Bank showed deposits of $4,000. Another on the Brooklyn Savings Bank credited the depositor, Henry Benfield, with $900. One on the Seamen's Bank for Savings showed $1,051.66; a book of the South Brooklyn Savings Bank showed $824.78. In the Dime Savings bank there was $1,270.53, and in the Brooklyn Savings Bank they had some also, but the amount could not be determined.

All told, the sum of deposits, according to the detectives, was more than $8,000. But in addition there was a deed to the house itself, free of mortgage, and showed a valuation of $15,000; also a deed for a lot in Greenwood cemetery, where, as was indicated, the mother and a son had been buried. Besides this there was a fire insurance policy paid up to 1914.

The detectives learned that the old man had, until last Monday, been employed at the lumber concern of A. J. Newton & Co., Union Street and Third Avenue. He had taken sick there on Monday, and according to Dr. Henry Dusseldorf of 326 Union Street, who was called in by the Company, was immediately taken home. Dr. Dusseldorf said last night that the old man had been suffering from heart trouble. He said he had called at his home on Monday afternoon and again on Tuesday afternoon but was not allowed to enter.

It was said that Coroner Rooney would hold an autopsy at the Brooklyn morgue to ascertain the real cause of death.

Steel Corporation Enters Rejoinder to Charges.

Trenton, N.J., Feb. 1.—Absolute denial of alleged violations of the anti-trust law is made by the U. S. Steel Corporation, its subsidiaries and directors in their answers, which will be filed this morning in the U. S. District Court here, to the Government's dissolution suit. Five separate answers will be filed among 33 defendants.

The answers made public last night are those of Andrew Carnegie, J. D. Rockefeller, J. D. Rockefeller, jr., and Edmund C. Converse. The Rockefellers make a joint answer.

The Messrs. Rockefeller deny that they had an active part in the formation or management of the corporation, the elder Rockefeller declaring that he has had no immediate relation to the iron or steel business since 1901.

Mr. Carnegie says he had no part in the plans for organizing the corporation and no voice, direct or advisory, in its management. He admitted selling the Carnegie Steel Co. to the United States Steel Corporation, but denies that the acquisition by the Carnegie Co. of its subsidiaries was in restraint of trade.

The answer of Edmund C. Converse, a director of the U. St. Steel Corporation, is similar to the corporation's answer.

Each of the defendants prays that the suit be dismissed.

You will be proud of the bread you'll make with PURITY FLOUR

AFTER seeing a batch of big, golden-crusted, snowy-white loaves, that you have baked from PURITY FLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-ability—and proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour. You will admit, too, that we are justified in the pride we take in milling this superb flour.

PURITY FLOUR

"More bread and better bread"

PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Western hard wheat—the world's finest. More than that, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat. The low-grade portions are separated and excluded during the PURITY process of milling. Such high-class flour, of course, expands more in the baking. It makes "more bread and better bread."

It makes lighter, flakier pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURITY FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR and take pride in recommending it.

The Annual Report to the Shareholders was then read, as follows:—

Eleventh Annual Report of the Board of Directors

December 31st, 1911.

Your Directors have pleasure in submitting herewith the Eleventh Annual Report of the Company's business for the year ended December 31st, 1911.

The net profits for the year, after payment of Interest on Guaranteed Investments, cost of management, salaries, fees and expenses of every kind, amounted to $200,764.94. This sum, together with $31,776.56 brought forward from the preceding year, makes a total of $232,541.50, out of which there have been paid four quarterly dividends at the rate of ten per cent. per annum. The sum of $100,000 has been added to the Reserve Fund, which now amounts to $750,000, leaving a balance carried forward of $32,541.50.

A daily audit of the Company's Accounts has been maintained throughout the year, and a copy of the Auditors' Report is attached to the Statement. The Company's securities have also been inspected by the Inspection Committee appointed by the Shareholders.

Owing to the rapidly increasing business of the Company's Western Branch at Winnipeg, and the necessity for more suitable offices, a site for an office building has been purchased in the City of Winnipeg, and the erection of a modern office building has been commenced. The ground floor will be occupied by the Trust Company, and will include Safety Deposit Vaults of the most modern construction.

A By-law increasing the number of Directors of the Company from twelve to fifteen will be submitted for your approval.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. B. NILES
A. C. NEFF, F.C.A. } Auditors.

In moving the adoption of the report, the President, Mr. Charles Magee, said:—

I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report that has just been read, and which I have no doubt will be received with satisfaction by the Shareholders of the Company.

A comparison of the statement with that of preceding years shows that the profits for the past year amount to $200,764.94, being over 20 per cent. on the Paid-up Capital, and larger than any preceding year. After payment of a Dividend of 10 per cent., $100,000.00 has been added to Reserve Fund, which is now 75 per cent. of our Capital, and $32,541.50 has been carried forward to next year.

The profits of the Company show a steady increase, the figures for the past five years being as follows:—

1907	$111,154 21
1908	126,216 79
1909	167,044 04
1910	194,477 67
1911	200,764 94

This satisfactory result may in general terms be stated to be due to the increased volume of the Company's business in its various branches, brought about by successful and economical administration by the management and directorate, and I wish to bear testimony to the faithful co-operation of the different members of the staff in the performance of their various duties.

You will notice that the Capital Account shows an increase of $102,941.49 over last year, and the Guaranteed Funds an increase of $867,498.99—the total amount of our Assets, Trust Funds and Estates showing a small increase over last year. This would have been much larger but for the reason that some very large estates in the Company's hands arrived at the period of distribution during the year; while this materially reduced the amount in our hands on this account, nevertheless it is a fact that we received a large volume, both in numbers and value, of new estate business during the year, the general result, therefore, as to this branch of the business being very satisfactory.

In addition to the above, I might say that we have also acted as Trustee for the bondholders in a number of large bond issues, which are not included in the above figures.

As has been mentioned in the Report, the growing importance of our investments and trust business in the Western Provinces has forced upon the Board the necessity of procuring increased and more central office accommodation for the Winnipeg Branch, where our Western loaning business is largely directed from, and in June last we purchased a prominent site on the corner of Main and Lombard Streets, in the City of Winnipeg, and have commenced the erection of an office building of the highest type of fire-proof construction, the contract for which has been given to Fuller & Company, the well-known builders, and is expected to be completed in November next.

The General Manager, Mr. J. M. McWhinney, in referring to the progress made by the Company as shown by the figures presented, said:—

Outside of those who are intimately connected with Trust Companies, there are many people who have only a vague conception of the various duties which the Trust Company performs, and the many ways in which it can be of service in undertaking work for which only a few years ago no adequate agency was available.

By far the largest part of our business is, of course, the investing of our own funds and the funds of customers for whom we act. You will notice from the report that we have invested funds of our own to the amount of $1,827,707, and funds of customers specially deposited with us for investment to the amount of $6,509,496, in addition to which there are the investments belonging to or made by us for Estates of which we are Executor, or act in some other fiduciary capacity, and I would especially draw the attention of the Shareholders to the fact that of our Paid-up Capital of $1,000,000, over $920,000, or nearly 92 per cent., is invested in mortgages and other securities on real estate.

You will be glad to observe that the Company's business in this Department as the agent for the investment of money is rapidly increasing. The guarantee of the Company as to the investments made by us, the prompt payment of interest to the investor at stated periods, and the satisfactory rate of interest paid, together with the moderate fee charged for our services, is being recognized as being far more satisfactory than any result that can be obtained by other agencies having neither the experience nor facilities for securing investments of undoubted security at satisfactory rates of interest.

As an evidence of the care exercised by the Company in the selection of mortgages, I may say that out of applications for loans aggregating $2,536,687 received during the past year at Toronto and Winnipeg, loans amounting to $752,767 only were accepted, the others not coming up to the Company's standard, and in every case the property was inspected by the Company's own inspector before the funds were paid out.

I am glad also to be able to report that our Trust Department, having charge of Estates of which we act as Executor, Trustee, etc., shows marked gains during the year. This branch of the work receives the most experienced and careful attention, and we are constantly receiving advice that our Company has been appointed Executor, and in a large number of cases the wills are being sent to us for safe keeping.

A very interesting article recently appeared in the newspapers of the work performed by the Public Trustee in England. This article in particular referred to his being the "affectionate and personal guardian of the orphan as well as the director of his finances." But I doubt if even the Public Trustee in England has the opportunities for doing good or for performing the services that the Canadian Trust Company renders to those in its care. I am satisfied that the public has no realization of how often the Trust Company is called upon to exercise the human side in its dealings with infants and others whose estates are in its hands.

Our Trust Investment Accounts in particular show rapid growth during the year, especially during the last few months, since we have occupied the new quarters on the ground floor of the Temple Building. The number of accounts shows an increase of 57 per cent. over last year, and the amount of funds has increased by 16 per cent. —results at the Winnipeg Office are also as satisfactory. Our Safety Deposit Vaults show an increase of 22 per cent. in the number rented, and an increase of 15 per cent. in the gross rental.

Most satisfactory progress has also been made in the business of the Real Estate Department. The Company's profit, as you are aware, is derived from the amounts received on the sale or rental of real estate, and I have reason to believe that the efficient service rendered is appreciated by the Company's many customers.

The policy established by the Company some years ago of keeping its own funds and the funds of which it is Trustee entirely separate and distinct is strictly adhered to, and separate bank accounts are kept for each fund.

The Report was seconded by Hon. E. G. Stevenson and adopted.

Sir George W. Ross and Mr. W. H. Hunter were appointed members of the Inspection Committee, and Messrs. Charles B. Niles and A. C. Neff, F.C.A., were appointed Auditors of the Company.

The following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:—Messrs. Samuel Barker, M.P., H. H. Beck, T. Willes Chitty, E. E. A. DuVernet, K.C., Henry F. Gooderham, Right Hon. Lord Hindlip, Messrs. Charles H. Hoare, S. F. Lazier, K.C., Charles Magee, George S. May, Dr. J. H. McConnell, Messrs. J. M. McWhinney, H. S. Strathy, Hon. Elliott G. Stevenson, Sir George W. Ross.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. Charles Magee was elected President, the Hon. Elliott G. Stevenson and Mr. E. E. A. DuVernet, K.C., Vice-Presidents of the Company.

PROTESTANTS TO MEET

Gatherings Will Be Held to Protest Against Ne Temere.

Rev. E. D. Silcox, Secretary of the Evangelical Alliance Announces That Assemblies Will Be Held In Various Centres to Elect Delegates For a Convention In Toronto In March—Whitney to Be Approached.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—Meetings to protest against the ne temere decree are to be held by the Evangelical Alliane throughout the country and a mass meeting will be held in Massey Hall about the first of March, preceded by a conference in the afternoon of the same day, at which delegates from all parts of the country will be present and speak on the subject.

This campaign was decided upon at a special meeting of the alliance held yesterday afternoon to consider the matter from all sides.

A delegation will wait on Sir James Whitney within a few days to seek his advice in the matter and ask for his co-operation.

A letter from the secretary, Rev. E. D. Silcox, gives an outline of the campaign. He says, in part:

"The Evangelical Alliance, of which I have the honor of being secretary, has for some months been quoted (and sometimes misquoted) in regard to the ne temere decree. I, therefore, wish to make a few statements of general interest in order that our position may be clearly understood.

"Our alliance contends that there should be one uniform marriage law for the whole Dominion, and not as it appears to-day, one law for Quebec and another for Ontario. It matters not by whom a couple is married, whether a Roman Catholic priest or a Protestant minister, so long as these are the accredited men to perform such a ceremony. Neither does it matter, or ought not to matter, whether one or both of the contracting parties are Protestant or Catholic.

"The greatest possible interest is being taken throughout Canada in regard to this question. I am daily in receipt of correspondence which evinces this interest. Many of the writers express the strongest desire that something definite will be done which will settle once for all this vexed question.

"At our committee meeting, it was decided to arrange as far as possible for public meetings to be held in all the centres of population and that at these gatherings delegates be appointed to attend a conference to be held in Toronto about the first week in March.

"We cherish the hope that all those throughout the province having received blank petitions will get them signed and returned as soon as possible, and, if any pastor or congregation has not received these, will they write to me at once. I shall be only too glad to forward as many as may be required."

Kaid Belton Gets Job.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Kaid Belton, the famous young British soldier, who has had a career, packed full of stirring adventure, has been appointed by Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, to the Canadian force, and has been placed for the time being in charge of the cadet work in Western Ontario, with headquarters in London, Ont.

Although he has been through adventures enough to fill a dozen books, Kaid Belton is still under 29. He was only seventeen when the Boer war broke out, and immediately went to the front. He was a member of the Cumberland Yeomanry and distinguished himself by his dashing bravery. He fought under the Minister, and they became very warm friends.

Hurt In Elevator Accident.

While going up in the elevator, he put his head out over the gate, and on reaching the landing his head bumped against the floor with terrible force. He may die.

A COOL TEN MILLIONS

That Is What Canada Loses on G.T.P. "Joker."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Contract With the Transcontinental Magnates, by Which Bonds Were Guaranteed, Promises to Be Expensive—Naturalization In the Empire Is Again Brought Up For Discussion.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Hon. W. T. White yesterday afternoon gave Parliament a glimpse into the startling amount for which the "joker" inserted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier into the original contract with the Grand Trunk Pacific for the construction of the National Transcontinental, makes the Government responsible.

Hon. Mr. White moved the House into committee to consider a Government motion to authorize the payment out of the consolidated revenue fund of sums sufficient to discharge the obligation of the Government as determined by the judgment of the Privy Council on the appeal of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co.

In view of the large sum involved the Minister of Finance thought an explanation was due to the House.

In 1905, said Hon. Mr. White, the G.T.P. sold £3,200,000 of 3 per cent. bonds at 92 1-2, realizing $14,569,751. In 1909, £2,000,000 bought at 80, $7,773,495, and in 1910, a further issue of £2,000,000 at 80 brought $7,856,418. Taking the difference between the par value and the amounts realized, gave approximately $4,900,000 for which the Government was responsible, under the Privy Council judgment, and to provide for which he introduced a supply bill.

Further than this the company had £5,515,200 of 3 per cent. bonds, which they were still able to issue under their charter. Supposing these to be sold at the same rate as those already issued, they would leave a liability to be assumed by the Government of $5,183,617, or added to the liability already incurred, a total liability of approximately $10,080,000.

The House spent most of the afternoon in committee on the grain bill.

A special emergency bill to amend the grain act was put through its second reading. It provides that cars may be diverted to expedite the removal to terminal elevators of grain that is in danger of destruction by damp.

Hon. J. D. Hazen introduced a bill founded on a resolution passed through committee for a further loan of $6,000,000 to the harbor commissioners of Montreal in order to complete the scheme of improvements at that port begun under the late Government.

Mr. Hazen intimated that, as the plans for the harbor contemplated a total expenditure of $18,000,000, no doubt further loans would have to be asked for later on.

E. M. MacDonald (Pictou) reintroduced the question of imperial naturalization, on the motion to go into supply. Under the draft bill submitted by the last Imperial Conference, five years' residence would be required. He hoped the Government would deal with the matter without delay and make representations to the authorities in England, so that it could be dealt with during the present session of the Imperial Parliament.

Hon. George E. Foster declared that the Government was studying the question with a view that an answer should be given to the Imperial authorities at an early date. The matter was in a more forward state than ever before. There was a deeper sense of the necessity of doing something to add to the status of all members of the Empire.

Hon. F. D. Monk was of the opinion that Canada should urge upon the British Government the recognition of a shorter time of residence than five years.

Hon. Frank Oliver thought there would be a difficulty of putting into a form of words a proposal to grant Imperial citizenship to those who came to our shores, and at the same time preserve to us the right of our own citizenship within our own borders.

Another B. C. Hold-Up.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 3.—The most spectacular and the boldest hold-up in the city's recent wave of crime occurred shortly after nine o'clock Thursday night, when a lone bandit, armed, but unmasked, entered McIntyre's Cafe, in Seymour street, one of the biggest in the city, and flourished his revolver at the heads of thirty men and women seated at the tables. The bandit apparently awaited his opportunity, which came, when the cashier was called to the telephone. He dashed through the front door, made his haul in a few moments and disappeared.

NEW EARL OF FIFE A POLICEMAN

But All He Inherits is a Title, Which May Not Change His "Beat."

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A London cable says: The Duke of Fife's successor to the Earldom of Fife will be Jekyl Chalmers Duff, who has been for several years a policeman in Australia. Duff will inherit not only the title of Earl of Fife, but also the titles Viscount Macduff and Baron Bracon. No property goes with the title, and the peerage doesn't carry with it a right to a seat in the House of Lords, as it is in the Irish Peerage.

The Dukedom of Fife goes to the late Duke's daughter, Princess Alexandra, who becomes Duchess of Fife in her own name.

PRICES ON MARKET STILL GOING UP

Eggs and Butter, Pork and Chickens are Higher—Few Other Changes

The market to-day was fairly well attended by our country friends, owing to the fact that at present the sleighing is excellent. Prices as usual were high for all farm produce offered for sale, in fact, the price of some products are such that it is a hardship for some people to purchase them.

A rather scarce article is strictly fresh dairy butter. The average price paid to-day was 37c. and 40c. per lb. In a few cases basket lots were procured for 35c. per pound.

Another luxury is new laid eggs, which sold as high as 40c. per doz.

While a considerable quantity of dressed poultry was offered for sale good prices were realized. Chickens sold from $1.00 to $1.60 per pair; geese, $1.50 and $2 each, and a few turkeys at about 22c. per lb.

Potatoes are by no means plentiful and in consequence, sell readily at $1.75 per bag.

In the grain and hide markets there are no changes to note. During the week there has been a slight advance in the hog market. Live porkers sell at from $6.40 to $6.50 per cwt. Dressed pork sold at $9 to $9.15 per cwt.

THE DOG KNEW.

ANDERSON, N.J., Jan. 31.—William Mowder, of Mansfield Township, reports this fish story. Mowder is a former Freeholder and has a reputation for veracity.

Mowder was walking through the woods near Allamuchy Pond. Suddenly his Irish setter stopped, poised its right foot, and sniffed the air. Then it turned and dashed toward the lake. Close to the water's edge the dog stopped and pointed at a disturbance on the surface of the water. Mowder found a piece of wire, bent the end of it into a loop, and lassoed the disturber. It was a big pickerel.

Mowder started home with his prize but the dog was not contented. It strove continually to reach the fish, which made Mowder marvel, for his dog had never before displayed any interest whatsoever in fish. Mowder eventually cut the fish open, the dog standing impatiently by. As he did so, out flew a little woodpecker. The woodpecker was what attracted the dog. He had seen it in the woods and had watched the pickerel swallow it whole, so Mowder says.

EFFECTS WERE MARVELLOUS

When I Tried "Fruit-a-tives"

HARDWICKE, N.B., Jan. 17th. 1910.

"I feel it my duty to give you a statement in respect to the wonderful cure I received by taking 'Fruit-a-tives'. Chronic Constipation was the complaint I suffered from for years. My general health was miserable as a result of this disease, and I became depressed and alarmed. I was treated by physicians without the slightest permanent benefit. and I tried all kinds of pills and tablets.

"I saw the strong testimonial in favor of 'Fruit-a-tives' by New Brunswick's 'Grand Old Man' Senator Costigan, and I knew that anything he stated was honest and true and given only to help his fellow-men. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and the effects were most marvellous, and now I am entirely well from all my Chronic Constipation that I suffered with for years." A. G. WILLISTON.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

HOCKEY.

TRENTON WAS BEATEN.

The Trenton Juniors played the first game of their series for the championship of Groups 1 and 2 at Peterborough last night, and were beaten by 12 to 5. The score at half time was 5 to 2 in favor of Peterborough. This result seems to leave little hope for Trenton of winning the round, the concluding game of which will be played at Trenton next Tuesday night.

BEATEN IN THE DARK.

On Friday evening last Marmora hockey team went to Tweed to play a regular League game with the Tweed septette. The game resulted in a win for Tweed by a score of 8 to 4, after a hard rough game. The rink was so poorly lighted that it was impossible to seek the puck half the time, especially if it was lifted off the ice. The Tweed team, who apparently are accustomed to playing under these conditions, took advantage of this to score on long shots. The rink is so short that the point player could lift the puck from one end to the other and most of the goals were scored in this way, none of the Marmora players being able to see the rubber until it dropped into the goal.

Then the spectators interfered with the players. Once the game was delayed by them rushing on the ice, and they would hit the Marmora players over the head whenever they came near enough to the boards to reach them. The local players were also determined to win at any cost and indulged in tripping and slashing, with a little fighting thrown in for good measure.

This game has been protested for a number of reasons and the protest will be dealt with at a meeting of the executive to be held in Marmora on Tuesday afternoon next.—Marmora Herald.

JEWELERS WON.

From the hours of 7 to 8 o'clock last evening a hockey match was played at the Arena between teams representing the jewellers of the city and the Corbys of Corbyville. Although the latter played a spirited game, the jewellers kept a strict watch upon them and eventually beat out, the score being 4 to 3 in their favor. At times the game partook of the nature of the old-time shinny. In the first half the score was a tie, both teams having secured 2 goals. For the winners, A. Wannacott had 2 goals to his credit, C. Wannacott 1 and Soals 1. Mr. Dawkins was the referee and performed his duties satisfactorily. The line-up was as follows:

Jewellers—	Position.	Corbys.—
McBride	Goal	Palmer
Best	Point	Wilson
A. Wannacott	Cover point	Jose
Soales	Rover	Spear
Bell	Centre	Johns
Hamilton	Right wing	Hume
W. Wannacott	Left wing	Simpson

HOCKEY NOTES.

If Pat Jennings dictated the write-up of the Belleville-Trenton hockey match which appeared in the Trenton papers, he must have stood on his head while he did so. He says: "The lads put up a proposition that startled the Bellevillians, for play was far more in Belleville's end than in ours during the first half." The fact was exactly opposed to this statement. The Trentons had not more than six shots on Belleville's goal during the first half. The score against them was 3-0, and it would have been much larger but for the fine work of their goal man.

• • •

"The game at Belleville between our Juniors and them resulted in what appears a walk over, but it was far from it. Our boys, not our best team by any means, did well. Coach Whitehead thought it best to rest Hobe Armstrong, A. Lamore and Tripp, taking in their places Jim McGorman, E. Hoag and C. Orser." Such is the Trenton Courier's candid confession. It places the blame for the double-dealing as to last Tuesday's game where it belongs. It is up to "Coach" Whitehead to explain.

• • •

The crucial game for this district will be played in Stirling next Wednesday evening. If Marmora wins they should have little difficulty in winning the district, while a win for Stirling will probably mean the championship of the district for them.—Marmora Herald.

• • •

Canadiens are being offered a trip to Europe and various other bonuses should they land the championship of the National Hockey Association.

• • •

The Toronto papers all seem satisfied that the Frontenacs will be there—or thereabouts—when the final disposal of the silverware is made. With two weeks before the first of the finals Frontenacs will have to work hard to keep in condition and as the boys have a hunch that they may go through the entire season without a defeat, they will surely do their best to retain their present form.—Kingston Standard.

CURLING.

BELLEVILLE WON AND LOST.

At the new curling rink last night an Eastern Ontario curling match was played between two senior and two junior rinks from Napanee with similar rinks representing the local club. There are Groups Nos. 1 and 2 in the contest which is taking place. Group No. 1 comprises Belleville, Napanee and Kingston, and Group No. 2 comprises two rinks at Brockville and one at Prescott. In the match last night Napanee seniors defeated our curlers by 5 shots, but the junior rinks were 4 ahead. The contest throughout was keen, and the ice was all that could have been desired for a first-class match. Many spectators, including a number of ladies witnessed the game, and remained to the finish, notwithstanding the fact that the game was not concluded until after the midnight hour.

In the senior match the visitors at the commencement of the game took a decided lead. When four ends upon each rink had been played the score was 13 to 2 in favor of Napanee. The Belleville players, however, reduced this lead and at one time the score was a tie. The final result showed that the two rinks of Napanee had scored 34 points against Belleville's 29.

In the junior contest there was, however, another tale to tell, and this was due to Dr. M. J. Clarke's rink, which when the match was concluded, was 12 to the good. The other junior rink, skipped by Mr. H. C. Hampton, had a decidedly harder proposition, and the result was a majority for the Napanee players by 1 shots. The total score was 35 for Napanee and 31 for Belleville. The score of the senior and junior rinks are not added together, as both are competing for trophies. At the conclusion of the match refreshments were served to the visitors at the club room. The players and the score by rinks were as follows:

BASEBALL.

MARQUARD A HOLD-OUT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Richard de Marquis, descendant of kings, admirer of queens, motoring enthusiast and late vaudevillian, has retired from the stage and is now employed as gentleman-in-writing to John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants. Richard is waiting for McGraw to raise the ante and keep it uplifted for three years. McGraw is waiting to give Marquard a piece of his mind.

Bluntly speaking, Rube is a holdout. In the language of the profession he is after the dough. The footlights of the stage so affected his vision that he cannot see the figures written on the contract recently tendered by the New York club. So he has returned the same unsigned.

Marquard received a substantial salary boost from the club this spring, but he considers his services last season entitled him a still more robust stipend and a three-year contract. Hence the hitch.

JIMMY DOYLE DEAD.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 2.—Jimmy Doyle, last season the regular third baseman of the Chicago club of the National League, died here to-night at 9 o'clock, following an operation on Monday for appendicitis. He was on the reserve list of the Cubs for the following season and according to report was to be traded with McIntyre to Manager Kling of the Boston club for a player.

His death will come as a big blow to the baseball players throughout the country as he was well-liked among his fellow players and conceded to be one of the finest last season.

TRAP SHOOTING.

GOOD SCORES YESTERDAY.

A very successful shoot was yesterday afternoon indulged in by some members of the Belleville Gun Club at their range on Coleman Commons. In the shoot at 25 clay pigeons some good scores were made. The competitors and scores were as follows: H. Day, 20; M. Sprague, 18; J. Thompson, 18; G. Bennett, 18; W. J. Andrews, 18; W. Hart, 17; J. Miller, 16; J. Woodley, 15; R. Stafford, 12; H. Howie, 7.

Messrs. Thompson and Sprague, in a miss and out shoot, tied, and in the shoot off Mr. Sprague won.

MEMORIES ARE SHORT.

Mr. Borden Reminds Opposition of Former Shortcomings.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The Opposition yesterday afternoon made a determined attack on the Government in connection with the delay in the issue of the writ for the South Renfrew election.

A. H. Clarke (S. Essex) moved the adjournment of the House "in order to discuss a question of public urgency." Nearly two months, he said, had elapsed since the constituency of South Renfrew had been vacated by the resignation of Mr. Low on Dec. 7, but no writ had been issued. The constituency had been "bound and gagged."

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden referred to Mr. Clarke's argument as "excellent fooling." The hon. gentleman himself had sat in the house "dumb" while periods exceeding four times that which the South Renfrew seat had been vacant, has passed.

A number of cases in which the late Government had kept constituencies vacant for long periods were quoted by the Premier. They ranged from 11 to 239 days, including Beauce (1901) 111 days; St. James' Division of Montreal (1901), 111 days; Addington (1901), 111 days; L'Islet (1901), 11 days; Montmagny (1908), no writ before dissolution; Saskatchewan (1905), 118 days; West Assiniboia (1905), 131 days; Vancouver (1900), 21 days; North Grey (1902), 147 days; London (1901), 157 days; York, N.B., (1908), 167 days; N. Simcoe (1898), 162 days; Lisgar (1901), 173 days; W. Durham (1901), 181 days; Bagot (1898), 16 days; W. Huron (1898), 241 days; N. Hastings (1901), 260 days; Winnipeg (1899), 279 days; St. James Division of Montreal (1903), 229 days.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that the only defence the Government seemed capable of was the "tu quoque" argument. In none of the cases mentioned by the Premier, with the exception of one or two, he remembered a word of protest from the opposition.

He recalled that Mr. Borden, when in Opposition, had introduced a bill providing for automatic issue of the writ following the issue of the Speaker's warrant. What a charge now?

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden: "Did you support it?"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "The case of my Rt. Hon. friend is different. If I have sinned I have been chastised for it."

Guelph, Feb. 2.—The winter fair poultry building was a very busy place yesterday. There are on exhibition there over 600 beautiful pigeons of all classes in the International Pigeon Fanciers' Association. The official opening took place last night when the proceedings were enlivened by the presence of the Guelph Band.

Mayor Thorp delivered a short address and presented several of the beautiful silver cups to the owners of the winning birds. The judges were busily engaged yesterday in awarding the prizes, and they had no easy task, the entries in almost every class far exceeding those of any previous year. The energetic secretary of the association, Major Barker of Toronto, is a courteous and capable official and is leaving no stone unturned to make the show a success.

SHOT WIFE WITH INFANT IN ARMS SET CHILD IN SNOW TO FIGHT POLICE

John Kenefick Burst in Barricaded Door in Mother-in-Law's Home in Connecticut Town to Wreak Revenge on Young Wife—Sister Hid Child in Paper Box

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—After a brief but ardent courtship, Lillian Johnson, one of the most popular girls of Collinsville, Conn., was married about a year ago to John M. Kenefick, formerly of Hartford. For several months the couple were happy. Then the man deserted his bride. Heartbroken she went back to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, whose home is one of the finest in Collinsville.

Just before Christmas a boy was born to Mrs. Kenefick. It was thought this might bring Kenefick back to his wife, but apparently it only steeled him the more against her. The slight wounded the young mother more than anything the man had done.

Yesterday afternoon Kenefick went to the house, burst in a barricaded door, shot his wife twice, fired four bullets at his mother-in-law and one at his wife's sixteen year old sister. Then he seized his son, who had been hidden in a paper box, ran to the front yard, and there, with the infant lying in the snow almost between him and the police, engaged in a revolver battle that lasted fifteen minutes.

This graphic story was told by Chief of Police A. H. Bushing of Collinsville:

"When Kenefick neared the house the family, with the exception of Mrs. Kenefick, fled to a bedroom. They pleaded with her to follow, but she said she would meet her husband. With the baby in her arms she went silently to the sitting room, a door of which opened on the porch.

"Kenefick peered into the sitting room windows till he saw his wife. He beckoned for her to open the door. She paid no attention to him. He flung himself against the door, bursting it open. He was in a frenzy of rage as he confronted his wife. As he saw the child at her breast he halted and gasped. It was the first glimpse of his son.

"He shouted a curse, jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired a shot into the young woman's arm. She swung around and as she did so, he fired again. The bullet struck Mrs. Kenefick in the back of the neck, circled her throat and lodged just beneath her chin. She did not fall at the first fire, but when the second bullet struck her she toppled over, clasping the baby more firmly in her arms.

"Then Kenefick started toward the door, and as he had his hand on the knob, Mrs. Johnson, terror stricken, entered the room and ran toward her daughter. Kenefick called to her to stand back, but Mrs. Johnson didn't heed him. Drawing his revolver again, Kenefick fired four shots at his mother-in-law, but none of them hit her. Kenefick was edging toward the door when his wife's sixteen year old sister entered the room.

"Mrs. Johnson had lifted Mrs. Kenefick in her arms and carried her to a sofa, the baby rolling to the floor from his unconscious mother's arms. Miss Johnson bent down to take the baby. Kenefick told the girl not to dare touch his son and began to reload the revolver. Seeing his intention Miss Johnson shoved him aside, caught up the infant and darted from the room. As she went through the doorway Kenefick fired, the bullet imbedding itself in the wainscotting.

"Kenefick was furious at his failure and turned toward his wounded wife. Mrs. Johnson had fled from the room. Kenefick muttered something about going to shoot his wife again, not so that she would die quickly, but by degrees. While he glared at her he raised the revolver, but changed his mind and ran out of the room by the door through which Miss Johnson had fled.

"The girl had ran to the second floor and placed the baby in a cardboard box, leaving the cover open at one end so the child would not be smothered. Then she hid the infant in a closet and ran down the back stairs. Kenefick searched the whole house before he found the baby. With his son in his arms, still in the cardboard box, he ran downstairs to where Mrs. Johnson and her daughter were ministering to Mrs. Kenefick.

"Then going to the fireplace he took a burning brand and set fire to the house. At this time some of my officers and I were notified. We went to the house just as Kenefick came out.

"He opened fire on us. Then, putting the baby in the snow, he got behind a tree ten feet away from him. Then the battle began. About fifty shots were fired. As we closed in on him, he put his revolver to his head and pulled the trigger; but his last cartridge had been fired.

"We arrested him and locked him up here, but sent him to Hartford later, as we were afraid the villagers might attempt to take him away from us."

THE BEAR CHEWED BOY'S LEGS; SUIT FOR $500

Little John Bolton Stumbled Over a Tame Bear Under the Peterborough Grandstand.

PETERBOROUGH, Feb. 5.—The dancing, or boxing bears, that helped amuse the crowds at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition's annual fall fair, last September, are probably forgotten by this time, but one of them left the directors a remembrance in the form of a suit for damages amounting to $500 brought by John Bolton for injuries received by his little son, John jr., as the result of a bear badly mangling one of his legs.

The night's performance was given, the trained bear contributed its share of the grandstand performance, and, it seems, was tied to a post beneath the stand. Young Bolton had a position on one side of the stand, and, to secure a better place of vantage, chose the easier way under the stand instead of jostling his way through the crowd. In the dark the boy ran right into the bear's arms, as it were. At any rate, before the boy realized his position, the supposed tame bear bit one of his legs five or six times. He managed to get away from it and staggered into the crowd. He was taken to Dr. Greer's office and received first aid treatment, and he spent five or six weeks in the hospital before he had entirely recovered.

This is the basis for the action for $500 damages, brought against the Exhibition by Mr. Bolton. The directors are taking third party proceedings against the New York Amusement Company, the grand stand entertainers. The case is still pending.

EXAMINATION FEES HAVE BEEN INCREASED

Each Candidate Trying Entrance Examinations Must Pay One Dollar.

Higher education and higher education fees are apparently coming together. A circular from the Department of Education at Toronto announced a new schedule of examination fees. Most striking in these changes is the innovation of a one dollar fee for High School entrance.

Heretofore there has been no charge for the entrance examination, but commencing this year an assessment of one dollar will be levied on each pupil trying the examination.

The senior High School entrance, the examination for admittance to the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes, taken by pupils who have taken several years at a continuation school, will now be $5. The fees for all other examinations save that of entrance to Normal Schools, have also been boosted.

A comparative table of the old and new fixed fees for the examinations is:—

	New rate	Old rate
High School Entrance	$1.00	$
Junior Matriculation	8.00	5.00
Partial matriculation	3.00	2.00
Honors or scholarship matriculation	10.00	5.00
Ent. Normal School	5.00	5.00
Entrance to faculty of education	8.00	5.00

The increase in the fees is for the purpose of preventing candidates unprepared for the examinations trying them for the mere sake of trying.

PEACE PROBABLE AT BELFAST

Churchill's Meeting May be Attended by Anti-Home Rulers Only

(Intelligencer Special.)

BELFAST, Feb. 5.—In the hope of averting bloodshed, the Roman Catholic priests are advising their parishioners to remain away from the Churchill meeting on Thursday. Their people seem inclined to follow their advice, with the result that the meeting bids fair to be attended by anti-home rulers only.

A LOYAL GREETING

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Great throngs greeted the King and Queen on their arrival from Portsmouth this morning, the route from Victoria Station to the palace being lined with thousands who sang the national anthem and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." After his arrival the King appeared on the balcony, bowing to the crowd below.

WOMAN WORE A $600,000 DIAMOND

Mrs. Edward McLean Displayed a 44 1-2 Carat Stone at a $30,000 Dinner

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 3.—The $30,000 dinner and reception given to-night by Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLean in the old Thomas F. Walsh home on Massachusetts Avenue was one of the most elaborate social functions Washington has seen in many seasons. With the rooms of the house decorated with 4,000 lilies brought from England for the occasion at a cost of $8,000, with two stars from the Metropolitan opera company to furnish entertainment, and with Mrs. McLean wearing for the first time the famous $260,000 Hope diamond, the guests were astonished at the lavishness.

The diner and reception given by the McLeans to-night was in honor of George Bahkmetieff, the Russian ambassador and his wife, who is a sister of John R. McLean. Fifty guests from the diplomatic, army and navy and exclusive social set of Washington were invited to the dinner, and fifty other guests went to the musicale which followed.

The Hope diamond, which flashed from Mrs. McLean's hair weighs 44½ carats. While the guests were impressed alone with the costly appearance of the stone, it was its history which chiefly fascinated them. To the superstitious it has been known as the hoodoo stone, chiefly because of the hard luck that has befallen its owners.

SEPARATED FORTY YEARS.

Kendalville, Ind., Feb. 3.—After 40 years, during which time each thought the other had been killed in the Civil War, Louis Nidey, of this city, and Reason Nidey, of Antwerp, Ohio, brothers, were re-united here to-day. In the whole period of separation they lived within 50 miles of each other.

Mr. Richard Arnott has been appointed License Inspector for West Hastings, in succession to the late Mr. Hugh Walker. Mr. Arnott, who has had considerable experience in connection with the police force, will no doubt make an efficient Inspector.

A BIG GATHERING.

The tenth biennial convention of the Epworth Leagues of the Methodist Church within the bounds of the Bay of Quinte Conference will open in this city to-morrow and continue Wednesday and Thursday. Two sessions will be held to-morrow and three the following days. The convention will be held in Bridge Street Church and a number of prominent League workers will take part in the programme. Between two and three hundred delegates will be in attendance.

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Earl Sager took place on Saturday afternoon from her late residence, Albury. Services were held in Albury church by Rev. Sexsmith. Beautiful floral designs were placed upon the casket and interment was made in Albury cemetery. Many were in attendance. The bearers were, G. M. Weese, C. L. Babcock, C. Russell, S. Bent, G. McMurter, J. Brickman.

On Saturday afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. Harry Mossman were taken from the family residence, 2nd con., Thurlow. Service was held at the house, conducted by Rev. R. C. Blagrave, Rector of Christ Church. Many were in attendance. Interment was made in Belleville cemetery vault

ON RESERVE LIST.

The following appears in the militia general orders which were published in the Canada Gazette on Saturday: "Adverting to General Order 202 of 1911, Lieutenant-Colonel T. Stewart, on relinquishing the command of the 15th Regiment 'Argyll Light Infantry' is transferred to the Reserve of Officers, instead of as therein stated.

A MERCIFUL RESPITE.

On Saturday night, in answer to a call, the police arrested James Wright, on a charge of drunkenness. This morning the accused, before Magistrate Masson, pleaded guilty to the charge. His Worship suspended judgment for 30 days in order to see how Wright would conduct himself during that period.

MILL DAMAGED.

At 10.10 this morning the fire brigade was called to the Carlaw flour mill on Moira Street east, where a blaze had originated. By prompt action on the part of the firemen the mill was fortunately saved from destruction by the devouring element. The loss sustained was estimated at $400, which is covered by insurance. It is thought that friction by some of the machinery caused the fire.

ORGAN RECITAL

At Bridge Street Church on Saturday afternoon an organ recital was held which was fairly well attended. Prof. Ivor Thomas, organist of that church, and professor of instrumental music at Albert College, rendered a number of selections, which demonstrated his abilities as a musician. Mrs A. P. Allen was present and assisted in the programme by singing some solos in her usual accomplished manner. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the programme.

PUBLIC MEETING.

The public meeting called for on Saturday evening at the Council Chamber to discuss the proposition of the United Motor Car Company to establish their industry in this city, was not largely attended, owing to the severe cold weather and the fact that merchants and others are busy that evening. Those who attended heard the proposition discussed in an informal manner. Another public meeting will be held on Wednesday evening of this week.

In Mourning For Month.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The following official bulletin on the period of mourning on account of the death of the Duke of Fife, was issued at Government House at noon:

"Owing to the death of the Duke of Fife His Excellency the Governor-General and Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught will attend no public functions for one month. The engagement to visit Montreal is, therefore, cancelled."

Tomato Seed Oil.

Tomato seeds, once a waste product of the canneries of Italy, are now made to produce an oil, the rapid-drying quality of which is said to be excellent. The oil is used in the making of varnishes. Italy has many large tomato canneries, and in that country it is customary to carefully remove the seeds before canning the fruit. The canneries in the Province of Parma alone can 54,000 tons of tomatoes annually, and now have an output of 600 tons of the seed oil.

GET ALL THE MILK

One of the Surest Methods of Prolonging the Supply Is to Milk the Cow Dry Every Time.

Probably no single cause tends more to check milk secretion than the failure to remove all the milk at the time of milking. The presence of even a little milk in the ducts may act as a powerful check on the secretion of fresh milk. Hence the extreme importance of clean milking; that is, milking the cow dry, which will be found one of the surest and best methods of prolonging the milk supply. Generally twice a day is sufficient; and it is best to so arrange that the period mentioned is divided evenly into parts. There are certain animals which yield rather more by being milked oftener, such cases being indicated by an undue distention of the udder between milkings.

The most important part to impress is the extreme necessity of regularity in the time of milking, for it has been ascertained by careful experiments that the difference of an hour may, and often does make a difference of as much as 9 per cent. in the amount of milk yielded. Repeated irregularities of this kind soon tend to diminish the flow of milk permanently.

Weighing the milk is the best means of registering the capabilities of a cow.

You cannot be over careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea and distressing after-effects, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form, and in three sizes of packages: 12 tablets, 10c.; 36 tablets, 25c.; and 80 tablets, 50c. our store—The Rexall Store—J. S. McKeown, Belleville

SHANTYMAN ACCUSED

Wife Is Dead and Fred Yearly Faces Murder Charge.

As Result of Tragedy at Warren, Ont., Near North Bay, Lumberman Is Committed For Trial—Dying Wife Said He Beat Her on Head With Hammer, Poured Oil Over Her and Set Fire to the Bed.

North Bay, Feb. 5.—Fred. Yearly is under arrest at Warren, in connection with the death of his wife, which occurred at a Sudbury hospital yesterday morning, and he will be taken to Sudbury on Monday, if committed for trial at the preliminary hearing. Yearly has made no statement and will not admit that he knows anything of the circumstances which resulted in his wife's death.

Mrs. Yearly has been subjected to spells when her mind seemed to be unbalanced, and one of these occurred about a week ago. Her husband, who was working in the lumber shanties, was sent for and came home. Five children, ranging from two months to 10 years of age, were taken charge of by the neighbors, while the mother was ill. When the husband returned, she wanted the children at home, but he refused, and the couple had words over this.

On Saturday morning, observing the reflection of fire from the windows, neighbors entered the house and found Mrs. Yearly unconscious on a blazing bed. Upon being rescued and cared for, she recovered consciousness and said that her husband had beaten her on the head with a hammer, poured coal oil on her bed and set it on fire.

She repeated this story several times in her conscious periods. Her skull was fractured. Mrs. Yearly was about 35 years of age. The family have reside in and about Warren for the past ten years.

Gets Fatal Present.

New York, Feb. 5.—A package received by Grace Willis Walker, also known as Helen Taylor, in an uptown apartment house last night, exploded and caused her death almost instantly. The mystery with which the affair was clouded baffled police detectives. The woman, who was 32 years old, was called to the vestibule of the apartment early in the evening by a man who presented her with a package and then hurried away. The woman carried the package to her apartment, and as she prepared to open it, it exploded with a loud report. A physician, Dr. Charles E. Perkins, who was passing the house at the time, ran in and found Mr. Taylor lying in a pool of blood on the floor. She died a minute later.

The physician said that in his opinion the package was an infernal machine.

After several hours of secret work investigating the case, the detectives arrested Charles M. Dickinson, who said he was an employe of a motor company, and held him on the technical charge of homicide.

Edna Lamarre, a showgirl, 25 years old, who lived in the house, but was out at the time the fatality occurred, was held as a material witness. Dickinson was said to have been in the room when the Taylor woman met her death.

Tupper Is Recovering.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who reached here Saturday morning, says that while his father was very low when he reached England, he is now on the road to a sure recovery, while Lady Tupper is also well.

Sir Hibbert says that even when very low Sir Charles appeared to have the names of the new men in the House of Commons at his finger ends and even remembered the majorities in the different counties in Nova Scotia.

Sir Hibbert, who left Saturday evening for Vancouver, stated that he had never experienced so much unrest in Britain as at the present time. Capital in consequence is not only coming to Canada in large sums, but is also being invested in the Argentine Republic and other foreign countries. There is likewise a very general opinion, added Sir Hibbert, that war with Germany is bound to come and this alone depresses things generally.

How Doth the Busy Bee

In the light of comparatively recent discoveries of the existence of serious communicable diseases among bees, it is specially urged that only those who are prepared to give the apiary proper attention should undertake to keep bees even if only for pleasure.

The bee has an important work to do as a pollinizing agent, and in cross-pollinating the blossoms of many bush fruits. This is done by the bee in the daily routine of work in gathering nectar from the blossoms and converting it into luscious honey, pure and wholesome as food for the human being. They thus save to the profit of man a product that is lost, unless gathered by the honey bee. The amount gathered is surprisingly large and shows the profit and pleasure derived from this source.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET

Great Protestant Demonstration Held in Belfast.

Anti-Home Rule Agitators Pack Dozen Large Halls and Churches With Assemblies Against the Creation of an Irish Parliament — Will Never Obey a Dublin Government Nor Pay It Taxes, Says Sir W. Crawford Belfast, Feb. 2.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Special trains from all parts of Ireland brought thousands of Presbyterian demonstrators against home rule yesterday to Belfast. About a dozen large halls and churches were packed. There were scenes of wild enthusiasm and stern determination to resist any effort of the Government to bring in a measure of home rule.

Twenty-five thousand demonstrators voted resolutions declaring their undying determination not to obey the laws of any Irish Parliament whose demands for money in the shape of taxes would be thrown into the fire.

The resolutions declared that the religious and industrial interests of Ireland would be calamitously imperilled by home rule and appealed to both the British Government and to their co-religionists in Great Britain to save the Presbyterians from disaster.

The proceedings passed off without any disturbance.

Sir William Crawford said: "I have no doubt I shall have promises of freedom and toleration for all men from the Nationalist leaders when the provisions of the bill are revealed, but let none of these guarantees and promises deceive you. A Dublin Parliament we will not have; its laws we will not obey, its demands for money we will throw into the fire. Our Nationalist countrymen, may if they so desire, establish their claim to manage their own affairs, but they will not manage our affairs. Let an Irish Government be formed, let it send its officers here to take taxes by force. We shall not pay. Our decision is final and unchanging. We trust in God our Father, and our duty is clear."

George S. Clarke, the famous shipbuilder, said that knowing the demoralizing and blighting effect home rule had upon so many countries, was it any wonder Unionists of Ulster were prepared to take any steps which God-fearing men thought necessary to preserve and hand down those rights and liberties which they had inherited as their birthright?

Free Trade With England.

London, Feb. 2.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a forecast of the home rule bill. This provides that the Irish Parliament shall have full control of customs and excise, and provision will be made for the continuance of complete free trade between England and Ireland.

Ireland is to receive for fifteen years, an annual imperial subsidy of $10,000,000, after which she will make contributions to the imperial expenditure, based on a percentage of her revenues.

The Irish Parliament will consist of two Houses—a legislative council of about fifty members, and a legislative assembly of 163 members. The council will have a suspensory veto on legislation. In the event of a disagreement between the two Houses, after the second rejection of a bill by the council, it will be submitted to the Houses deliberating and voting together, and adopted or rejected according to the decision of the majority.

Ireland will continue to be represented in the Imperial Parliament, but in greatly diminished numbers. The Irish Parliament shall have no control with respect to the navy, army or militia, foreign policy, coinage, military camps or coast lighting, and will be forbidden to establish or endow any religion or deal with any religious matters.

A Fountain Pen for Draughtsmen

A detachable container for drawing ink which can be slipped into place on the handle of a draughtsman's pen has been devised by a Los Angeles inventor, and by its use the constant dipping into the ink bottle is obviated. The danger of dropping ink upon the paper is avoided likewise. Another advantage is that a number of these containers may be carried in a pocket case, each of them holding a different colored drawing ink, for use in draughting maps, etc. Thus it is possible to dispense with a tray of ink bottles on the table. For filling this device, an ordinary "dropper" is used. As the photograph shows, the ink flows from the reservoir through a narrow tube to the pen point, where it supplies an even flow.

Sufferer of Twenty Years States Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a Real Cure.

"I can't remember any time during the past 20 years when my head was not aching. If I bent over, dark specks would come before my eyes, and it seemed as if all the blood in my body wanted to rush to the head." Thus opens the letter of Mrs. Enoch S. Spry, of Putnam, P.O., and continuing her interesting statement she says: "Work or exertion made my heart beat terrible, and going up stairs caused such shortness of breath that it fairly frightened me. My doctor told me it that was the cause Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest blood renewer on earth. I tell you how I feel to-day and you can understand what a great cure Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made. Permits Northern Republic.

Nanking, Feb. 5.—The simultaneous announcement that Yuan Shi Kai has received permission from the throne to organize a republic in the north in conjunction with the southern government, the arrival at Nanking of Wu Ting Fang, the Republican Minister of Justice, and Tang Shao Yi, the representative of the Imperial Premier, and the extension of the armistice for one week, indicate the approaching end of the present stage of indecision and future amicable negotiations looking to organization acceptable to both sides.

Peking, Feb. 5.—The Empress-Dowager issued an edict last evening instructing Premier Yuan Shi Kai to establish a republic in co-operation with the southern Republicans. The edict has not yet been published and it is expected it will be kept more or less secret so far as the public is concerned until arrangements in the south have been completed.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Gretchen preened herself. Hans dropped the lid of his stein and pushed it away. His heart always warmed at the sight of this goose girl. He counted down the small change for the beer, slid back in his chair and sauntered to the bar.

"Good day to you, herr," was her greeting.

"When is the wedding? I should like to come to it."

"You will be welcome, herr."

"And may I bring along a little present?"

"If it so please you. I must be going," she added to Frau Bauer.

Grumbach walked with her to the Krumerweg, and he asked her many questions, and some of her answers surprised him.

"Never knew father or mother?"

"No, herr. I am only a foundling who fell into kind hands. This is where I live."

"And if I should ask to come in?"

"But I shall be too busy to talk. This is bread day," evasively.

"I promise to sit very quiet in a chair."

Her laughter rippled. She was always close to that expression. "You are a funny man. Come in, then; but, mind, you will be dusty with flour when you leave."

Into the kitchen she led him. She was moved with curiosity. Why should any man wish to see a woman knead bread?

"Sit there, herr." And she pointed to a stool at the left of the table.

Gretchen deliberately rolled up her sleeves and began work.

Upon Gretchen's left arm, otherwise perfection, there was a white scar, rough and uneven, more like an ancient burn than anything else. Grumbach's eyes rested upon the scar and became fixed.

"THE SCAR? I DO NOT REMEMBER."

"Where did you get that?" he asked. He spoke with a strange calm.

"The scar? I do not remember. Grandmother says that when I was little I must have been burned."

"Gott!"

"What did you say, herr?"

"Nothing. You can't remember? Think!" tensely now.

"What's all this nonsense about?" she cried, with a nervous laugh. "It's only a scar."

She patted the dough into four squares. These she placed on the oven stove.

"There! It's a fine mystery, isn't it?"

"Yes." But Grumbach was shaking as with ague.

"What is the matter, herr?" with concern.

"I grow dizzy like this sometimes. It doesn't amount to anything."

Gretchen turned down her sleeves. "You must go now, for I have other work."

"And so have I, Gretchen."

He gained the street, but how he never knew. A great calm suddenly winged down upon him, and the world became clear—clear as his purpose, his courage, his duty. They might shoot or hang him as they saw fit. This would not deter him.

The gypsy, standing in the center of the walk, did not see Grumbach, for he was looking toward the palaces. Grumbach, even more oblivious, crashed into him. Grumbach stammered an apology, and the other replied in his peculiar dialect. The jar, however, had roused Hans out of his tragic musings. There was a glint of yellow in the gypsy's eye, a flaw in the iris. Hans gave a cry.

"You? I find you at this moment of all others?"

The gypsy retreated. "I do not know you. It is a mistake."

"But I know you," whispered Hans. "And you will know me when I tell you that I am the gardener's boy you ruined some sixteen years ago."

CHAPTER XIV.

DISCLOSURES.

CARMICHAEL sat in the office of the consulate. His letter of resignation was on its way, but it would be in November before he heard definitely from the department. By that time the great snows would have blanketed the earth and the nadir of his discontent would be reached. But what to do till that time? He could ride for some weeks, but riding without companionship was rather a lonesome affair. His own defiance of the chancellor had erected a barrier between her highness and himself. They would watch him now, evade him, put small obstacles in his path, obstacles against which he could enter no reasonable complaint. A withered leaf, a glove and a fan—these represented the sum of his romance.

Two figures moved in the garden beneath. When the two heads came together swiftly and then separated, both smiling, he realized that he had witnessed a kiss. Ah, here was the opportunity, and, by the Lord Harry, he would not let it slip. If this fellow meant wrongly toward Gretchen—and how could he mean else?—he, Carmichael, would take the matter boldly into his hands to do some caning. He laughed. Here would be another souvenir, to have caned—

He jumped to his feet, dropped his pipe on the sill of the window and made for his hat and sword cane. The clerk went on with his writing.

To gain the garden Carmichael would have to pass through the tavern. The first person he encountered was Colonel von Wallenstein. Wallenstein spoke to Frau Bauer, who answered him with cold civility. Wallenstein twirled his mustache, laughed and went into the garden. Neither Gretchen nor the vintner saw Wallenstein. He watched them with an evil smile. After some deliberation he walked lightly toward the lovers.

"A pretty picture!" he said.

"Leave us, Gretchen," said the vintner, with a deceiving gentleness.

Gretchen started reluctantly down the path. As she stepped off the path to go round the colonel he grasped her rudely and kissed her on the cheek. She screamed, and this scream brought Carmichael upon the scene. He saw the vintner run forward and dash his fist into the soldier's face. Wallenstein fell back hurt and blinded. The vintner, active as a cat, saw Carmichael coming on a run. He darted toward him and before Carmichael could prevent him dragged the sword cane away. The blade, thin and pliant, flashed and none too soon. The colonel had already drawn his saber.

"Save him!" Gretchen wrung her hands.

Liquor the Basest Evil.

Kingston, Feb. 5.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Principal Hutton, Toronto University, were guests at third annual dinner of the Arts Society, Queen's University, Saturday night. A. D. Matheson, president of the Arts' Society, acted as toast master.

Touching on the liquor traffic, Hon. Mr. King said liquor was probably the basest evil of the day, and he hoped to see the day when it was wiped out. He did not feel that it was a party question, but thought university men should band themselves together and vow not to enter bar-rooms and use their influence to that end. It would be of more force than any legislation.

Principal Hutton responded to the toast "University Education," with Principal Gordon of Queen's, and both delivered appropriate addresses.

Daughter Swore Falsely.

North Bay, Feb. 5.—George Walton Berry, an old man who resides at Charlton, Ont., on the T. & N.O. Ry., has been released from the county jail at North Bay after two months' incarceration awaiting trial by a jury.

Berry was arrested on a serious charge preferred by his daughter, a girl of sixteen, given a preliminary trial at New Liskeard and committed to North Bay jail, electing to go before a juy. This was changed to a speedy trial on the arrival of his daughter, who said that her story at the first trial was untrue and inspired by the neighbors.

Berry was brought before Judge Leask and the charge dismissed after hearing the evidence of the daughter. Action will be taken against the parties accused by Berry's daughter of inducing her to swear falsely.

New York's Big Market.

New York, Feb. 5.—Plans for a great central market for New York, with its primary purpose the reducing of the cost of groceries, farm produce and living generally, are being prepared by a committee of citizens organized to investigate the cost of living problem. The new market will be established underneath the Manhattan approach of the Queensboro bridge.

The plan proposes the shipment of produce from the Long Island market gardens to this centre, where housekeepers may select at the farmer's own prices.

Only a married man can fully appreciate heaven if there are no washdays or house-cleaning seasons there.

ANOTHER RECIPROCITY ARGUMENT SMASHED.

During the reciprocity campaign, they were accustomed to tell our farmers that the United States had about reached the stage in its development when it would be compelled to import food. Before long, its broad acres would be utterly unable to feed their teeming population; and the Canadian farmer would get the job—if he only had the prevision to secure free access to the American food-market by adopting reciprocity. This was the loudly voiced assertion of a farmer who lives near Newburg, in his address in the City Hall here at a Grit meeting which was held a short time before election-day, and it was confirmed by a learned professor from Toronto, who was stumping at so much per diem.

Commenting on the foregoing assertion, the Montreal Star remarks that during the compaign it had no difficulty in showing both the fallacy of this argument, and the obvious truth that, when the Americans really needed our food-stuffs, they would admit them free of duty without asking anything in return. But it is of interest—now that the Reciprocity trap has snapped in vain—to find in an American publication "The World's Work," a thoughtful article which shows that the land of the United States is capable of feeding a population of one billion. That is, it can feed eleven times as many people as now live in the American Union.

This article is written by Mr. W. J. McGee, whose attention was directed to the subject by the fact that, under persent conditions, the United States is "reaching an economic balance between production and consumption"——the very fact on which our superficial prophets depended for their prediction—and he accordingly devoted his attention to the pressing question:—"Shall we (the Americans) be able to feed an increasing population?" He points out that the increase in the population of the United States in the last hundred and twenty years is without precedent in the history of the world; so that it is no wonder that consumption is beginning to tread on the heels of production. But that is no reason for imagining that production will not speed away in front of consumption again when it "gets its second wind."

The test of the power of a country to produce food, he says, is not the area of land at all but the quantity of available water. If we had all the water we wanted, it is estimated that twenty-five acre-feet of water, supplied to five acres of land, would sustain a family of five for a year. That would be one person to an acre, or two billions for the two billion acres in the United States. But the United States does not have all the water it wants. Is is thus limited to its rainfall; and its rainfall is 5,000,000,000 acre-feet, or enough to sustain one billion people. This is, in a word, the substance of Mr. McGee's argument. They have plenty of land in the Republic, and it is, therefore, only a question of rainfall; and the rainfall will feed a billion people.

In the face of such a calculation as this, our food-producers will perceive how nicely they would have been fooled if they had voted for reciprocity under the impression that it would open to them a market which would soon be unable to supply food enough for its own people. Until our neighbors pass the billion mark they will be quite able to grow their own food, and quite independent of the Canadian farm. As the billion mark implies a trifle over nine hundred millions more people than they have now at the close of this great century of unprecedented growth, they will probably be considerable time reaching it. In fact, the men who voted for reciprocity will be very dead, indeed—quite as dead as their policy—before it dawns upon the horizon.

CANADA AS A MODEL.

Canadians may well be proud of the fact that the older nations are taking this country as a model in some respects.

Only recently the question of remodelling the U.S. postal system on lines somewhat similar to that of this country was taken under consideration, one of the strongest points included in which is a duplication of the parcels post system now such a useful and largely patronized part of the Canadian system.

Only a little while back we had distinguished old country visitors here inspecting Ontario's methods in prison reform, and one and all expressed themselves delighted with what they saw and satisfied that England might copy the "farm" idea with advantage.

Several days ago strong representations were made before the U. S. House Committee of Foreign Affairs favoring the Ontario hydro-electric system of distributing power as a model for the United States to copy with material advantage to all concerned.

These are tributes surely, to Canada's progressiveness along material lines. It sounds good to have this young nation in the making supplying pointers in good government to the older nations. Even though we may have in our turn copied the ideas from elsewhere our methods of improvement appear to have added to the value of the measures, and made them more effective. It is good that it is so.

Possibly there will be something of a depression following the slowness that has marked some lines of trade of late. These things come with some regularity, but they also go. CANADA LIFE'S SPLENDID SUCCESS

Surplus Earned and New Policies Surpassed Previous Records.

In an address which was both analytical and illuminative, Mr. E. W. Cox, General Manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company, on Thursday last laid before the Annual Meeting the record and standing of that great company.

Dealing as it did with an institution that nearly everybody has a personal interest in, the facts, referred to in the address would in any event arouse a measure of general interest, but treated as they were with a clarity and grasp of the subject which made the most complicated figures seem plain, the address was listened to with the closest interest.

The speaker, introduced by Hon. George A. Cox, the President of the Canada Life, reefrred to the progress of the company in the past twelve years, the period in which the present management has been in charge, as follows:—

"At the end of 1899 our total Assets amounted to $21,364,062 and to-day they amount to $44,257,341—a growth of $22,893,279, in the twelve years. While our Assets have been thus increasing we have not been overlooking our policyholders, for in these twelve years we had paid in cash to them or their beneficiaries $27,084,645. Combining the two items, you will see that we have paid to policyholders or their representatives and placed to their credit during this period the sum of $50,000,000 in round figures, or, to be exact, $49,977,924."

The business of the Canada Life now totals $135,615,00, and the policies accepted and issued in 1911 were for $13,798,000. This formed a new high record, as did also the policies issued in Canada for over $9,000,000. It was announced that it is the policy of the company to extend the Canadian business.

The rate of interest earned of the Canada Life has been gradually rising since 1899, and this is an important factor in the earning of surplus, for it was pointed out that no less than $822,000 was added to the surplus account from this source. The surplus earned in the year was $1,294,000, the greatest in the company's history. Favorable mortality and a continued low expense ratio were other contributing elements.

The western mortgages of the company were touched upon and note made of the thorough and efficient organization of the loan department. The Canada Life mortgages now total $14,153,000, and no losses have ever been incurred in connection with them.

The Vice-President, Mr. J. H. Plummer, dealt with the investments of the company, and having recently personally inspected the securities, paid a high tribute to former members of the Investment Committee, who had been responsible for their selection. He pointed out the growing responsibility of the Directors owing to the rapidly increasing assets, and noted that the steadily rising interest rate indicates their success.

The Canada Life in its long and successful career has never published a more satisfactory statement of its affairs than the present one.

DOMINION BANK

Last Year Was the Most Prosperous in the History of the Institution.

With total assets of over $70,179,000, a paid up capital of $4,702,000, and a reserve fund of $5,702,000, the Dominion Bank must be regarded as one of our most progressive financial institutions. It has always been carefully and conservatively managed, but at the same time has been making a continually larger place for itself in the confidence of the public. The reports presented at the 41st annual meeting, held in Toronto on the 31st of January showed that this confidence of the public had not been misplaced.

The net profits for the year, which amounted to $704,000, were the largest in the history of the bank, while the increase in deposits, paid up capital, reserve fund and total assets furnished additional evidence of the banks' progress. With the net profits of $704,000, the premium received on new capital stock amounting to $702,000 and the balance of profit and loss brought forward from the previous year amounting to $305,000, the bank had $1,711,000 available for distribution. Dividends absorbed $508,000 and the reserve fund took $702,000, which left $500,000 to be carried forward to profit and loss account.

During the year several new branches were opened in Canada and one in London, Eng. The bank is thus in a position to take a fuller share in the increasing business carried on between Canada and the Motherland. The bank was further honored by the knighthood which was conferred upon its president, Sir Edmund B. Osler, M.P. Altogether the showing made by the bank during the year is one which entitles the Directors and the management to the warmest congratulations.

Why Dalton's French Drip Coffee is so Wholesome, Delicious and Economical

When you have once tasted Dalton's delicious French Drip Coffee, made in a Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pot, you will never be tempted to drink ordinary boiled Coffee again.

The Coffee berry, or bean, is protected by nature from the insect world by a tough outer shell or husk which contains tannin and other acid, bitter principles which are poisonous to insects and certainly not wholesome to the human system.

Other roasters of Coffee do not remove this bitter husk, and this is why many people find that ordinary Coffee does not agree with them. Not only that, but the usual way of roasting Coffee in cylinders over coke or gas fires, drives off the volatile essences, so essential to aroma and flavor.

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

The DALTON way is to throw the Coffee berries against an intensely hot flame. This roasts them in half the time and prevents the volatile essences being driven off. Then the Coffee is cooled by a special process, during which a strong suction air-blast blows off all foreign substances. Next comes the grinding, during which another powerful air-blast removes the poisonous, bitter outer shell. The Coffee contains absolutely no chicory and is packed in sealed tins, which preserve all the delightful flavor.

We make Dalton's French Drip Coffee in two strengths Mild Blend and Strong Blend. You cannot tell however which you will like the best until you try both and that is why we ask you to buy two tins in our special offer.

A FEW OUTSTANDING FACTS FROM THE SIXTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

CANADA LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY

A Splendid Year.	The business of the year 1911 was, in all its material factors, the most important in the Company's long history of sixty-five years.
Greatest Surplus Earnings.	THE SURPLUS EARNED by the Canada Life in 1911 was $1,293,597.00, the greatest on record. A new "high mark" for surplus earnings was reached four years ago, and in each year since then a new record has been established.
Interest Rate Increasing	THE INCOME, both from premiums and interest, $6,543,201.00, shows a substantial increase over previous years. The rate of interest earned each year by the Canada Life has steadily been growing since 1899, and a further increase is expected for 1912. This is an important factor in making surplus.
Assets Doubled in Twelve Years.	THE ASSETS were increased by $3,436,484.00, the largest growth in any year. The TOTAL ASSETS now stand at $44,257,341.00, having more than doubled in the past twelve years.
A New Record.	THE NEW PAID-FOR POLICIES amounted to $12,507,063.00, exceeding the best previous years. The TOTAL ASSURANCES now in force are over $135,615,253.00.
Large Benefits to Policyholders.	THE PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS in 1911 totalled $2,295,073.00. In the past twelve years the Canada Life has paid or credited to its Policyholders or their beneficiaries nearly $50,000,000.00.
Only High-class Investments.	THE INVESTMENTS of the Canada Life are carefully selected and distributed over a wide field of suitable securities, thus ensuring safety and good interest returns. In Western Canada the Company has invested $8,200,000.00 in mortgage loans, upon which no loss has ever yet occurred. The total mortgage investments of the Company are over $14,152,708.00.
Strength and Security.	THE CANADA LIFE now actually values over one-half of its business on a 3% interest basis, and the remainder at 3½%, which means that it holds Reserves much stronger than are required by any Government Insurance Department on the North American Continent.

A copy of the Financial Statement and Report of Directors, together with the proceedings at the Annual General Meeting held 1st February, 1912, at the Head Office, Toronto, will be mailed on request.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

BY C. FREDERICK HAMILTON

(Copyright by Publishers Press Limited, Montreal)

Since Canada is honoured in having a Prince of the blood Royal at the head of her constitution, and that the popular Duke who has already endeared himself to the democratic mind of this Dominion it is well that we should know something of the man who has by hard work and ability and a great deal of the tact that was pre-eminent in his brother the late King risen from rank to rank in his chosen profession until to day he holds the baton of a field marshall.

First, let us get an exact idea of the position in the Royal Family of the subject of this sketch. Prince Arthur William Patrick Albert, Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, is the uncle of King George V; the brother of King Edward VII; and a son of Queen Victoria. In the family of the Great Queen he ranks as the seventh child and third son. Alike in the choice of the third of his baptismal names and in the selection of his title there was shewn a desire to compliment Ireland. The story has it that on the occasion of Queen Victoria's visit to Ireland in 1849, a woman in the crowd called out "Name your next boy Patrick, Your Majesty, and all Ireland will die for you." The Duke is exactly 62 years of age, having been born on May 1st, 1850.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

The story of his life is that of a working soldier; his career has been spent, not at Court, but in the steady practice of his profession. As a junior officer he was given experience in the cavalry, artillery and engineers, but his principal service was in the Rifle Brigade — the "Sweeps" as they are nicknamed from their dark uniforms. He served with his batallion in Canada in the Fenian Raid of 1870. In 1880, after 12 years of regimental service he became a general officer. He commanded brigades for three years; in 1882 he led the Guards Brigade to Egypt; was present at the battles of Mahuta and Tel-el-Kebir; and was mentioned in despatches. Then for three years he commanded a division in India. From 1886 to 1901 he held a series of high commands:—Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Presidency, 1886 to 1890; Southern District, 1890 to 1893; Aldershot, 1893 to 1898; Ireland, 1900 to 1904. In 1904 he became Inspector General and President of the Board of Selection; he held this, the highest post now in the Army, till 1907 and then vacated it, being succeeded by Sir John French. The post of Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean was then created, and the Duke was appointed to it; he held it until some months ago and then resigned, on the ground that it did not give sufficient employment; in plain language, that he did not mean to enjoy a sinecure.

It will be noticed that the Duke's whole service has been, in military parlance, "with troops"; he has done his soldiering in actual touch with men, not at a desk. It also will be noticed that he spent seven years in India. He has been in the Far East; in 1905-6 he visited South Africa. He spent some time in Canada in 1871 and in 1890 he crossed the Dominion on his way home from India.

These are the bones of his career. What of the flesh and blood — the personality of the Royal Prince who has steadily worked at his profession for 42 years, has lived with his soldiers wherever his command has been, and has renounced the privilege, by no means inconsiderable, of being a German Reigning Prince to remain a Briton? For it will be remembered that in 1899 when he fell heir to the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, he preferred to remain an Englishman.

A quiet attention to duty is the principal note. He has, indeed, minded his own business so steadfastly that there is little gossip current about him. Some few facts emerge from the record of his service. For example, we may take his work during the most important period of his life, his tenure of the post of Inspector General. One of the most important duties which he had to perform in this connection was to preside over the Board which selected officers to the higher commands. It will be difficult to imagine a more delicate or difficult task; and it is known that in discharging it, the Duke displayed great impartiality and fairness. His presence on the Board in the opinion of the foremost English critic of military affairs, offered a security that the interests of all concerned would be fully considered even if they could not all be satisfied in the filling of the higher appointments.

Again there is the fact that the Duke and Duchess during their four years stay in Ireland won great popularity. Their work there embraced much of that multifarious and gracious activity which is expected of Royalty, and when he vacated his appointment in 1904 the expressions of regret and liking were altogether beyond the usual. To go back 40 years the memories of his stay in Canada as a young officer of the Rifles are entirely pleasant.

This then in brief is the summary [illegible] whom Canada [illegible] hard for and succeeded in securing as the personal representative of the King. What is there in the position of Canada that she should be thus favoured? for be it understood that in sparing his uncle to us the King was losing for a time his right hand in the onerous social duties of his great position, and what made it more than ever of a sacrifice was the necessity of his presence and that of the Queen at the Indian Durbar.

First, there is the large and simple fact that we are growing very big and are feeling our size. The day of digging our national cellars, of laying our national foundations, has gone, and the walls of our national edifice are beginning to rise. People elsewhere are beginning to see those rising walls of ours. He who presides over the affairs, who is a local Constitutional Head, of so big a country as Canada has already become, occupies a high and dignified position. Now, the placing of a Royal Prince in that position is an outward and visible sign that a long and steady course of development had come to its fruition. It is a great a striking acknowledgement in the face of the whole world of our place in the British Empire.

There is something more to be said about it. It is not only in the mere matter of size that we are prepared for the change. We are prepared politically. Old Canada, like all the other colonies, received from Great Britain governors of what may be described as the administering, managing kind. These governors came to us to carry out an old-country policy of some sort with regard to us. Between that sort of governor, and a Constitutional Head firmly established in our country, the centre of our country, and looking to our country instead of outwards, is a very deep and wide gulf.

ROBERT J. C. STEAD
Canadian Poet

To reverse the usual order of giving pen descriptions of Canadians who have made good, we have induced Robert Stead, who has done so much to bring the Prairies to the East in song and verse, to tell his own story, not that it was a easy task for Robert is modesty personified as the opening remark "My career has been quite commonplace" illustrates. But on pressure being brought to bear he opened out.

"Very well, then, but I will simply mention a few of the mile posts. I was born on my father's farm in Lanark county, Ont., Sept. 4, 1880. My parents were both Canadian born, my father of English, my mother of Scotch descent.

"In 1882, when I was but a year and a half 'young' the family moved to Manitoba, and my father homesteaded a few miles from where the town of Cartwright now stands.

"When he located there no sign of human habitation was visible in any direction, and the nearest railway connection was Emerson, 120 miles away. I was the youngest child and only son of the family, and during my early years was left pretty much to myself to find what association I would with the 'bald-headed prairie.'

"I received a country school education at Chesterville school house, which closed for four months in the winter, but when I was twelve the family moved into Cartwright and I had two years steady schooling.

"This was supplemented later by a business course in Winnipeg, but I have not had the advantage of a university education. My father died when I was seventeen and left me with other things to think about.

"In business my experiences have been somewhat varied, as I turned a hand to whatever was in sight. I have been moderately successful in a material way, and my experience have given me an insight into general western conditions which I think I can capitalize in literature.

"At 15 I was working on a farm for $15 a month; at 16, clerking in a general store and post office at $16 a month; at 17, managing a small retail lumber yard and in the winter 'engineer' in a grain elevator.

"At nineteen I established 'The Review' at Cartwright, which I published for eleven years. During that period I was publisher of the 'Crystal City Courier,' also, for about a year.

"I then deserted journalism and went into the automobile business at High River, Alta. about two years ago. I don't know what the next move will be, but it is pretty near due now.

"You will be interested to know that my first published poem appeared in the Weekly Tribune when I was thirteen years old, and a friendly letter from Mr. Richardson encouraged me to further efforts along that line."

By the time he was 21 Mr. Stead had a number of short stories accepted by different magazines. Three years ago he published "The Empire Builders," a volume of poems mostly of a patriotic nature.

This was well received and is now in its fourth edition. Among others who commended the work and did much to insure its success was the late governor-general, Earl Grey, who took quite an interest in it and wrote Mr Stead a number of very kind letters.

Last summer he published "Prairie Born," and lately, a little volume under the title, "Songs of the Prairie." It is in miniature form. It has been well received, in fact, some of the western cities report it as their biggest seller last month.

A well known Railroad president, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that han' car-r-r on the thrack?" he asked.

"We did, sor," one of the men answered respectfully.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off ag'in!"

The laborers did so with some difficulty.

"Now," said the foreman, "put in on ag'in!"

In presenting the Annual Statement of the affairs of the Bank covering the year just closed your Directors have to report that there has been continued improvement in every respect. The Institution has shared fully in the widespread prosperity of the country, with a satisfactory increase in the net profits earned.

The following Branches were established during the period under review: Welland, Ont.; Granville Street, Vancouver, B.C.; Hillhurst (Calgary), Alberta; Norwood (Edmonton), Alberta; St. John's (Winnipeg), Manitoba.

In view of the steadily increasing volume of business between Canada and Great Britain, and to generally further the Bank's interests, a Branch was opened in London, England, in July last—the results already shown justify this action.

The new buildings at Calgary, Alberta; Saskatoon, Sask.; Brandon, Man.; Dovercourt Road and Bloor Street, Toronto; Lee Avenue, Toronto, and St. Clair Avenue and Vaughan Road, Toronto, referred to in the last Annual Report, have been completed, with the result that commodious and handsome premises have been provided at these points, which we anticipate will meet our requirements for many years to come.

It is the intention during 1912 to erect buildings for the following Branches in Toronto: Dufferin Street and St. Clair Avenue, and Deer Park—corner Yonge Street and St. Clair Avenue.

Arrangements are under way to establish new Offices at several important and desirable Canadian points during the present year, which it is considered will eventually prove sources of profit to the Bank.

The Branches at Summerberry and Melville, Sask., were closed in 1911.

Owing to the general expansion of the Bank's business and to provide for increasing demands for Circulation, it was considered advisable to offer to the Shareholders in July, 1911, $1,000,000 of new Capital Stock at 200. Rights to subscribe for this issue expired on the 15th January, 1912, at which date $975,700 of the amount was subscribed, and $807,852.50 paid up. When full payment of the new issue has been made the Bank's paid-up Capital will be $5,000,000 and the Reserve Fund $6,000,000. The authorized Capital Stock is $10,000,000, and the unallotted balance, $5,000,000, will be issued from time to time as conditions warrant.

The Balance Sheet of the Bank, showing the various Assets and Liabilities at the close of business on the 30th December, 1911, has been verified by your Directors, who, in addition, have examined and found to be correct the Cash Assets and investments mentioned therein.

All Branches of the Bank have been inspected during the past twelve months.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Sir Edmund B. Osler, M.P., was elected President, and Mr. W. D. Matthews Vice-President for the ensuing term.

E. B. OSLER,

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * *." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

MRS. MURKIN.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes MRS. G. M. MURKIN, of Corona, Calif. "Had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. Whenever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

THREE LIVES ARE LOST

Niagara Ice Bridge Breaks and Plunges Down Gorge.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Stanton of Toronto and Burrell Hecock of Cleveland Fail to Get Ashore When Great Ice Cake Snaps Off and Are Carried to Their Death With Hundreds Powerless to Save Them.

Niagara Falls., Ont., Feb. 5.—Eldridge Stanton and wife, 19 Nanton avenue, Toronto, and Burrell Hecock, employed as clerk by a railroad office in Cleveland, lost their lives yesterday about noon, when the great ice bridge broke away without a moment's warning, carrying them to death in the whirlpool rapids. Four others who were on the bridge when it broke from shore escaped.

It was not definitely known until late last night that Mr. and Mrs. Stanton had perished, although little hope of their safety was entertained from the early afternoon. Descriptions of the appearance of the man, who died heroically in seeking to rescue a woman, the couple resigning themselves to their fate after failing to secure themselves to a rope thrown from the cantilever bridge, tallied with the appearance of Mr Stanton and his wife, and their non-appearance confirmed the worst fears. Late last night A. N. Allen, proprietor of the Allen House, American side, where they had registered on Saturday, told the press that Mr. Stanton's suitcase and Mrs. Stanton's satchels were unclaimed. He said they had been frequent guests at his hotel.

With a report like a cannonade the bridge broke loose just before noon. Hecock and his friend, Ignatius Roth, Cleveland, were the only ones of the score on the bridge that did not anticipate danger and rush towards the shore. They had never visited the falls before and thought the noise of the moving bridge was part of the scenery. The frantic yells of their companions in peril finally induced them to rush towards the Canadian shore.

There were only seven people in actual danger, the others being on the shore side of the crack that immediately formed. William Hill, who conducted the shack on the bridge, leaped from danger to shore. Before the bridge had moved a hundred feet, he leaped over ten feet of the water.

Michael Emendorfer, Lockport, N.Y., and Phillip Wending, Portland, Oregon, escaped by leaping ashore on the American side just below the upper bridge. Roth made a desperate leap for shore 700 feet below the upper bridge and escaped after being wet to the skin. He was taken to the Lafayette Hotel and sent home late last night.

Hecock lost his life through his efforts to aid in saving the woman. After Roth reached shore. Hecock and the man and woman became separated, Hecock being on one ice floe and the man and woman on another. They slowly floated down the stream while hundreds looked on helpless to save them. Before leaping, Wending hesitated a moment to take hold of a woman, but she fainted, her falling nearly precipitating the rest of the party into the river. Just as her rescuer had the woman firmly in his grip the ice gave way from under them and the two were separated. The woman fell backward but recovered somewhat and he made good his leap to safety. With a suddenness that was appalling the current swept the loosened floe on which the party of four remained hoping again hope for relief, into midstream where the sail to death was begun.

Directly behind the party was the shack that remained intact until the bend of the river was about to be rounded. Here the shack collapsed and the sight proved too much for the prisoners looking on. Down on their knees dropped the two unwilling passengers, each raising arms aloft, pleading for succor. Then there was a cry from another quarter when watchers on the Canadian shore shouted to the victims to take a chance by jumping across the short interval from the structure they stood upon to the apparently solid portion that clung to the bank.

A movement was made in that direction, but, as if to mock the attempt at escape, the ice began to disintegrate under their feet. Now all four were parted from one another. Each had a floating island.

All this time, Chief Utz of the city fire department had as many men as he could spare engaged in rescue work. The aerial truck was rushed to the upper bridge and from there was despatched to the old maid of the Mist landing with the view of heading off the unfortunates, but the ice floes played pranks that upset every plan formulated by the firemen for the relief of the marooned.

Tired of their movements, restricted a their territory became limited, the prisoners suffered from intense cold. Hecock stood still frozen to the cake on which he stood. His was the last figure seen erect from the upper bridge where hundreds watched, unable to give the slightest aid to the people below.

In both cases the men caught the ropes that were hung from the bridges under which they passed, but in both cases they failed to hang on. Hecock was high in the air before he let go.

Hecock reached his rope by running nearly to the edge of his icy haven, and grabbed the irons. When he tried to get his both feet up on to the irons the man slipped and nearly dropped into the water. But he stuck, and the men above pulled with all their might, and succeeded in getting the poor fellow probably sixty feet. Then he fell back, limp, exhausted, into the river. His head appeared for a brief second, and then he disappeared beneath the slushy ice that filled the mouth of the gorge. Being benumbed, his exertions in trying to climb caused him to let go his hold.

Just after Hecock was enveloped in the waters, the floe on which Mr. and Mrs. Stanton had taken refuge passed beneath the cantilever bridge.

The man made a desperate effort for the rope and succeeded in getting hold of it. The woman in desperation grasped him about the waist, and the additional weight resulted in disaster for both. The rope slipped from the man's numbed grasp and they passed on to their fate. Their going was pathetic in the extreme. The woman rose from her cramped position on the ice and stood by her companion's side. With hands clasped together, they entered the terrible rapids, bravely, unwaveringly.

Wireless Saves Steamer's Crew.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 5.—The British steamer Consols, cotton laden, from Galveston for Hamburg, flame-swept in a long, futile race for port, sank early yesterday forty miles south of Cape Henry. Her crew of 34 men, refugees on the British steamer Castle Eden, were landed to Newport News.

It was another triumph for intercommunication among ocean craft, for the Castle Eden, headed from Savannah for Danish ports, picked up the wireless call for help from the imperiled crew on the Consols and rushed to their assistance. The battleship New Jersey, on her way north from the Guantanamo drill grounds, also heard the call.

Churchill Expected to Deliver Notable Utterance at Belfast.

Thursday's Meeting of the Friends and Foes of Home Rule, In Ulster City, Says Sir W. Robertson Nichol, Represents a Turning Point In the Great Controversy—Accommodation For 5,000 Troops.

London, Feb. 5.—It would be impossible to over-estimate the importance to the Irish Home Rule cause of the "collision of incompatible ideals," as the Earl of Dunraven calls it, that is scheduled for Feb. 8 in Belfast.

Mr. Churchill's chivalrous determination to address the Nationalists in the Orange stronghold has brought the whole controversy, in the judgment of Sir W. Robertson Nicoll, a staunch friend of the Irish patriots, to a new turning point.

As the event will be big with influence upon his own future, it is thought probable that Mr. Churchill, who makes no secret of his willingness to go much further than a majority of the Ministers on behalf of Ireland, will take advanced ground.

By persons who are aware of the favor in which he stands with Mr. Asquith ad who know how much freedom his chief allows him, it is thought that the First Lord of the Admiralty will indicate the chief features of the home rule bill, until now a close secret.

There is little doubt that he will make a speech that will knock the famous Ulster deliverance of his father, Lord Randolph, into a cocked hat.

In the Unionist camp there is a noisy show of belief that home rule is dying fast; that "the bubble will be pricked at Belfast"; that the Radical coalition will have been smashed ere "Grouse Day," Aug. 12; that the next general election will leave the Liberals in a hopeless position in Parliament, and that Bonar Law, with a shibboleth of "new men, new policies," will clear away the "socialistic and Irish secessionist heresies" and begin a "genuinely prosperous era for the Kingdom."

John Redmond tersely answers: "I would like to know how the King feels about it, for the King is a fair man."

Troops For Feb. 8.

Belfast, Feb. 5.—The lord mayor of this city sent a requisition to the parks' committee to provide accommodation for 5,000 troops who are to concentrate here on Feb. 8, the day of the home-rule demonstration at which Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, are to speak.

At a meeting of the parks committee the lord mayor's request met with strong opposition, the committee adjourning without taking a decision until to-day.

Elaborate arrangements have been made by which on the day of the home rule meeting those parts of the city in which disturbances are likely to occur will be placed practically in the hands of the military, who will line the main thoroughfares leading to Celtic Park and guard the intersecting streets.

Bishop of Athabasca Dead.

London, Feb. 5.—The Right Rev. George Holmes, Lord Bishop of Athabasca, Canada, died Saturday from internal hemorrhage. He had been Bishop of Athabasca and acting Bishop of Mackenzie River since 1909. The remains will be buried in Highgate Cemetery on Thursday.

The late bishop was born in Westchester, England, in 1860, and educated at the Church Missionary College, London. For some time he did lay work under Prebendery Webb Peploe at St. Paul's, London.

On coming to Canada, he went to the diocese of Rupert's Land and labored there in 1885 and 1886. He was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Athabasca in 1887, and priest in 1888. He was afterwards made an archdeacon by the Bishop of Athabasca, and became Bishop of Moosonee in 1905. In 1909, he succeeded to the bishopric of Athabasca.

Good Roads Convention.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—The Good Roads' Association of Ontario will hold a convention at Ottawa next Thursday, Feb. 8. After deciding on their policy, the delegates will wait on the Government to discuss the form of proposed federal assistance to the highways of Ontario.

It is understood the delegates will particularly discuss the question of the class of roads to which grants should be made. Some want trunk roads only, while others urge that assistance be granted to all roads.

Royal Arcanum Gets $5,902,000.

Boston, Feb. 5.—The supreme council of the Royal Arcanum will have returned to it $5,902,000, the amount of a reserve fund on deposit with State Treasurer Stevens, by order of Supreme Court Judge Bailey, issued on Saturday. The provision of a law which required the deposit of the fund was removed by the last legislature. Legal steps necessary to bring about the restoration of the money to the fraternity prompted yesterday's court order.

Boundary Question Settled?

Ottawa, Feb. 5—Hon. W. H. Hearst, Minister of Mines and Forests in the Ontario Government, left for Toronto Saturday, having been in conference with the Cabinet most of the day on the boundaries question. It is understood that an amicable settlement of the differences between Ontario and Manitoba was made, and an announcement is expected very soon.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—Cables came strong again to-day on Manitoba spring wheat, and the prices bid showed a further advance of 3d to 4½d per quarter. The demand for oats was also good. The local market continues very strong and prices are 1c higher with sales of 5,000 and 10,000 bushel lots; extra No. 1 feed at 51½c. The export trade in spring wheat flour was quiet owing to the fact that the prices bid were out of line with millers' views by 3 pence per sack. A fair local trade continues to be done, the demand being especially good for winter wheat grades at firm prices. Demand for bran and shorts is heavy, of which supplies are small and millers in some cases are asking $27 for shorts.

The butter situation is very strong, and higher prices are anticipated, as stocks on spot are estimated to be only 23,000 packages, which is not one month's supply. New Zealand butter has been purchased, which is now on the way to this market.

Receipts for the week for 1171 packages, against 583 a year ago.

Cheese is quiet, but firm. Receipts for week 110 boxes, against 122 a year ago.

Supplies of eggs are now steadily coming forward from the States to fill the requirements of the local trade, as stocks of Canadian goods are about exhausted. Receipts for the week were 2731 cases, against 2226 a year ago.

HOPES FOR PEACE.

It Is the Foundation of Commerce, Says Lloyd-George.

London, Feb. 5.—David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, took the occasion while he was making a speech at the City of London Liberal Club Saturday afternoon to declare that the reports of a split in the British Cabinet were entirely unfounded.

He also assured his audience that the alleged feud between himself and Premier Asquith was a myth.

Mr. Lloyd-George also made his first incursion into international politics since the speech delivered by him last summer which so inflamed public opinion in Germany, when he said that all nations must realize fairly what conditions of peace must be.

Speaking on the subject of the reduction of armaments, the Chancellor of the Exchequer said he believed that the present was an advantageous moment to consider the question. It was in the interests of France, Germany, Russia and Great Britain that there should be a better understanding.

He continued: "I believe with candor, frankness and boldness, it is attainable. The world would be richer for it, taxes might be reduced and the money which would be saved that is now spent on armaments could be devoted to developing the resources of the country and improving the conditions of the people. The cornerstone of sound finance is peace on earth and good will among men."

MYSTERY WARSHIP.

Few Details Are Known Concerning Britain's New "Dreadnought."

London, Feb. 5.—The new battleship, the keel of which was recently laid at Portsmouth dockyard, the first of the five armored ships of the 1911-1912 program, will be known as the "Secret Ship." It is generally known that she is to be the largest battleship built for the British navy, that she is to have an anti-torpedo battery of six-inch instead of four-inch guns, as in older ships, and that there is to be a great improvement in the compartments to prevent sinking in case she is torpedoed. Beyond this, however, the Admiralty are introducing changes which are to remain a secret for the time being at least.

Usually the laying of the first keel plate is attended with some ceremony and naval attaches and others are invited. On this occasion, however, only the dockyard officials, Miss Evelyn Moore, daughter of Admiral Sir Arthur Moore, who performed the ceremony, and a few ladies were present. Newspaper men and photographers were rigorously excluded. This ship is to be completed in two years, but it is quite likely that she will be ready for service before that time. Immediately her first plate was laid, workmen commenced putting other plates in position, so that before the afternoon had passed the vessel commenced to take shape. In fact, a great deal of the material was ready before the actual work of construction commenced.

Paris, Feb. 5.—The French Government has entrusted an important mission to Morocco to a woman, Mme. Camille Dugas, who probably knows that country better than any woman. She will leave on Wednesday next for southern Morocco, which is its least explored part, to conduct researches into social and economic conditions.

BOY KILLS HIS CHUM THEN TRIES TO DIE

Accidentally Shooting His Comrade, 15-Year-Old Lad Puts Revolver to His Temple

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.--Fifteen year old Ralph Sauer found Mrs. Dorothy Taite, the washwoman, in charge of his parents' apartment at 911 Prospect Avenue, the Bronx, when he returned from school yesterday. His mother and his grandparents were out shopping or paying calls, and his father was at business. It was a fine chance to invite some of his friends in to play. Their noise could disturb nobody.

He hurried to the homes of Arthur Schaefer and Leo Guggenheimer, both 15 years old, at 920 Prospect Avenue, and presently the three returned to the Schaefer home. Mrs. Taite heard them come and go into the front room. They played for a time, until they wearied, and then Mrs. Taite heard them in an animated discussion of plans for a camping trip next summer.

"We'll need guns and revolvers," she heard Ralph explain, "and I'll get my grandfather's revolver for myself. You chaps will have to look out for your own weapons."

Satisfied that the youngsters were in no mischief, Mrs. Taite continued with her work, but presently she heard the report of a revolver shot, then an agonized scream from Ralph, and a frightened one from Leo. The latter sped down the hall and out the door. Mrs. Taite could hear him shouting to two small girls who were passing down from apartments above that Arthur had been shot.

The frightened woman ran into the front room and found Ralph kneeling beside his playmate. The lad was on the floor and blood was flowing from a wound in his chest. Ralph was weeping and begging Arthur to speak. The woman's frightened cry must have told the boy that Arthur was dead, for he sprang to his feet and ran to where his revolver lay a few feet away. He grabbed it up and had it to his temple before Mrs. Taite reached him. Before his finger pressed the trigger, however, the woman had jerked the weapon from his hand.

Leo, meantime, had sped to the home of Dr. A. Shermann, at 955 Prospect avenue, and now he returned with the physician. The latter found Mrs. Taite holding Ralph in her arms and trying to comfort him. Arthur's body had been carried to a bed. The physician needed only one glance to tell him that the boy was dead. He said the bullet had passed through his heart.

Dr. Shermann notified the police, who sent word to Coroner Schwanecke. Ralph was taken to the Coroner later and collapsed while explaining that the revolver had fallen from his lap and exploded, after he had fetched it from his grandfather's room to show it to his friends.

Ralph was prostrated by the accident and his father said when he reached home and learned of it, that he feared his son's mind might be affected. He said Ralph and Arthur had been chums all through their schooldays, and that they were very fond of each other.

Arthur E. Schaefer, the dead boy's father, learned of the accident when he alighted from the Subway nearby to go to his home after business last night. The friend who told him had to catch him to keep him from falling in the street, and he had to be assisted to his home.

TRENTON YOUNG MAN ARRESTED FOR THEFT

TRENTON MAN RANSACKED HOUSE DURING LANDLORD'S ABSENCE.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 4.—George Davis, aged 25, a bookkeeper, of Trenton, Ont., was arrested this afternoon on the holding charge of vagrancy, which will be changed to larceny to-morrow. The young man is accused of stealing $21 from the home of James Holmes, 78 Cypress Street, with whom he roomed. Holmes and his wife called on friends in Lake Avenue last night. When they returned at midnight they found that the interior of the house had been ransacked by someone. Dresser drawers had been pulled out and the contents thrown about on the floor. The money was the only property gone. Davis was found in bed.

Detectives took Davis to headquarters this afternoon. He declared he had no money. He was searched and a considerable sum was found. He had been drinking and he so muddled his stories that he finally admitted having rifled his landlord's dresser. Davis has been here but a few months.

COMPANY PAID DEATH CLAIM "THEN HIRED THE DECEASED"

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—After paying a salary for fourteen years to William P. Larkin, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has just made the interesting discovery that it paid a policy on his life and recorded him as dead in 1896.

During all these years he had been thought dead, Larkin was working under his own name in the printing department of the insurance company and living within a block of the company's offices. It never occurred to him, he says, that his life had been insured or that his wife had collected his policies on the supposition that he was dead.

Larkin went away from his home in Brooklyn in 1896 and his wife has not seen him since. In 1910 she applied for the payment of his insurance policies. After an investigation they were paid. A few weeks ago one of the company's investigators stumbled upon Larkin in a corridor and recognized him.

COSTLY SPITE

The most expensive act of damage ever committed by a railway worker was that of an Italian navvy employed in the construction of a tunnel through one of the mountains in the Black Forest. Having a grudge against his foreman, he succeeded one night in altering the position of the stakes which marked the course of the work. The excavators were working upon the tunnel in two sections, one from the north and one from the south. Owing to the shifting of the stakes the sections, instead of being directed to the same point, were found to be twenty-six feet apart when they reached the middle of the mountain. The northern half of the tunnel had, therefore, to be entirely reconstructed, at a cost of $875,000.

Fall Plowing Advocate.

It is almost always advisable to plow clay lands in the autumn. If clay land can be plowed shallow soon after the hay is removed in the case of sod, and after the crop is taken off in the case of stubble, it is so much better, as it not only ensures a good reservoir for holding moisture, but also stores up more available fertility than where the soil is plowed but once.

Destroying the Germ.

If the broad end of the egg is pricked with a fine needle, this will effectively prevent it from hatching. Dipping in boiling water slightly coagulates the white, and likewise renders the egg useless for incubation.

HORSE RUNAWAY.

A horse attached to a cutter ran away this afternoon on Victoria Avenue. Passing up Front Street, it took to the sidewalk and galloped to the upper bridge, where the cutter was smashed and the maddened animal continued northward.

TAKE TOO BIG CHANCES

Why is it that men and women will never learn that overwork and nervous strain will certainly ruin health. Red Cross Drug Store.—J. S. Mc- dreadful results of overtaxing one's strength, yet the others keep right on without profiting by the lesson.

Henry Jacobs, of Ninth avenue, N. Y., went through this experience and now writes in a letter: "I was in bad health for two years, very nervous and weak, no appetite, could not sleep well and had no ambition or energy. I was getting worse all the time.

"But since I began taking Vinol there is a wonderful difference. I have gained 14 pounds in less than two months, have a splendid appetite and can enjoy my meals. My nerves are strong and I sleep soundly. I simply feel fine, now, which shows what Vinol did for me."

Our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, will do as much for all other run-down, worn-out people, if they will only give it a chance. There is no risk, for we give back the money if Vinol fails to satisfy you.—

FARM AND FIELD

DANGERS OF RAPE PASTURE

Points to be Avoided in Turning Cattle and Pigs into the Rape Field.

Some caution is necessary in starting cattle or sheep to pasture down rape. There is some danger of digestive troubles when stock are turned on the rape before it is sufficiently matured, but the greatest danger is from bloat. The bloating is most likely to occur during the first few days of their feeding on it. It is never wise to turn stock on rape for the first time when they are hungry. Always allow the cattle or sheep, as the case may be, to have their appetites fairly well satisfied in pasture or other feed, and then turn them into the rape. They will not be over hungry and consequently are not so likely to gorge themselves. The risk of trouble from bloating can be almost entirely avoided by turning the stock on the rape when it is dry, after the dew is off, and leaving them on for a short time the first day, longer the second, and so on, until they become accustomed to it, when they can run on it at will with little danger. Do not forget that stock should never be pastured exclusively on rape. They should have free access to a grass field and the rape field at the same time. Pigs turned in wet rape sometimes suffer from skin trouble, brought on by the irritation caused.

Scallops.

How many people know anything about the toothsome scallop? The little round bits of white meat we see in the market are really the hearts of bivalves. In other words, the only edible part of a scallop is the muscular tissue that controls the opening and shutting of its shell. The name scallop is derived from the fluted shape of the creature's shell. These are very thin. In fact, the weight of the scallop is so near that of an equal volume of water that it floats by the very slight propulsive force given by the opening and closing of the shell; hence scallops have the reputation of a shellfish that swims. They are caught in scoop nets as they float along with the tide.—New York Tribune.

BASEBALL.

LONGBOAT'S WIN.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 3.—Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, to-day won a fifteen-mile race at the Powderhall Athletic Grounds, defeating Kolehmainen, the Finnish champion, who recently won the professional Marathon foot race, and Hans Holmer, the Canadian runner, by half a yard and 230 yards respectively.

Longboat jumped off at the start and at one mile led by 30 yards, but at three miles the Finn and Holmer closed in on him. Holmer then fell off and steadily lost ground. In the sixth mile Longboat shook off Kolehmainen and at half distance led him sixty yards. Kolehmainen made the pace in the twelfth and led for the thirteenth and fourteenth.

Then followed a great race, the finish being most exciting, Longboat winning by two feet. The winner's time was 1 hour, 20 mins., 45 2-5 secs. Holmer, who finished a lap behind the winner, gets seventy-five pounds and fifty per cent. of the drawings. He beat Homeland's professional record for the distance. The race was run in a snowstorm and on hard frozen ground.

HOCKEY.

THEY PLAYED LATE.

At the Arena on Saturday night, between the hours of 10.30 and 11.30 a hockey match took place between the Night Hawks and the Early Birds teams. There is a maxim that the early birth catches the worm, but in this case the Night Hawks beat them out, winning the game by a score of 2 to 0. Although the hour was late, many interested spectators witnessed the game, giving their approval of the many good plays made by members of both teams. Mr. V. Moynes was referee and Mr. D. McCargar judge of play. Both performed their duties well. The line-up was as follows:—

Night Hawks—	Position.	Early Birds—
Rice	Goal	Elliott
Stork	Point	Bird
Vermilyea	Cover point	Shepherd
Hudson	Rover	Cummings
Minorgan	Centre	Dawkins

Vol. 45 BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1912. No. 233

THE CITY COUNCIL HAD A FIELD NIGHT

The Stting Lasted Until Midnight and Much Business was Transacted—Three New Aldermen Took Their Seats—Proposition For a New Industry Favorably Received—Much Talk Over the Public Works Department—Accident Insurance Debated at Length—An Arrangement Made—City Treasurer Price Asks Increase of Salary—Ald Panter Proposes to Advertise all City Lots for Sale

At the Council meeting last night, which lasted until the midnight hour, considerable business was transacted. A lengthy discussion ensued in reference to city insurance against accident, and the principle was adopted. The Council will assist the United Motor Car Company, which appears to be a good proposition. City Treasurer Price asked for an increase in salary, which was referred to the Executive Committee. Ald. Robinson gave notice of a motion to declare the office of City Engineer vacant. At the meeting three of the four newly-elected Aldermen, namely, Dr. Marshall, Dr. Ackerill and Walter Alford took their seats.

The members present were: Mayor Vermilyea, Aldermen Panter, Woodley, Anderson, Chown, Parks, White, Marshall, McCurdy, Alford, Ackerill, Black, Canning, Lucas, Robinson, Clarke, Bogle, Wallace and Lott.

Ater the reading and confirming of the minutes of last meeting, the Council went into Committee of the Whole on reports, communications, petitions, etc., Ald. Parks in the chair.

The various reports were first taken up and disposed of. The accounts were passed without discussion.

The following recommendations from the committees were disposed of after some discussion.

The Executive Committee recommended that the temporary insurance against claims arising out damage to persons or property or employees of the city be continued at the rate of $1250 per year, for one year.

Ald. Clarke contended that the policy did not cover everything that it was intended to cover. He wanted the city protected in every way by the insurance policy. He was opposed to the contract as recommended by the Committee. He moved that the report be not adopted. He would like to know if agents who are handling casualty insurance had been asked to compete.

Mayor Vermilyea stated that other insurance agents had been spoken to in addition to the one selected. He considered it was a wise policy for the city to insure.

Ald. Panter said this was an important matter to the city. A policy containing all the clauses in the old policy would be issued to the city.

Mr. H. F. Ketcheson addressed the Council in regard to the matter. He said his offer of insuring the city had been read in open Council and afterwards it was intimated other agents were to be consulted. This he did not think was altogether fair. The contract will be made satisfactory to the City Solicitor. It was a hard and fast contract for one year.

At this stage of the proceedings a tender from Ketcheson & Tummon was read, offering insurance against liability to employees and others of the city for $1,035.

Mr. Fred Ketcheson stated that the company he represented would no doubt frame a policy that would be satisfactory to the city and the company.

Mayor Vermilyea said that what he wanted to get was an insurance for the city which would be satisfactory and at the same time as cheap as possible.

Ald. Chown moved that the policy offered by Mr. H F. Ketcheson be accepted when the policy is made satisfactory to the City Solicitor.

Ald. Clarke moved in amendment that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The following recommendations from the Executive Committee were unanimously adopted:

That 90 cents be returned to the agent of Mr. J. Paul re error on lot 20, Ketcheson Ward, in reference to school tax;

That the matter of appointing a deputation to Ottawa re making the Belleville and Prince Edward bridge free, be referred to the Mayor, with power to act;

That the request of the Belleville Bowling Club to have $25 of the amount paid for bowling license allowed on new license to be taken out on March 1st, 1912, on account of the fire in their premises on November 12th last, which deprived the club from a place of business, be allowed.

That the error in reference to the taxes of Rev. Canon Bogert be rectified by the Tax Collector.

The following recimmendations from the Public Works Committee were endorsed:

That a new broom and axle be procured for the street sweeper and to make other repairs to the sweeper if necessary;

That all repairs necessary be made to the crusher at once, so there will be no delay when the time arrives for the commencement of the operation of the crusher.

A communication from Smith, Kerry & Chase, of Toronto, in reference to supplying the city with iron poles, etc., for street lighting purposes, was, on motion referred back to the Light Committee.

It was recommended that the Mayor be sent to Guelph to extend an invitation to the Ontario Retail Hardware and Stove Dealers Association to hold their next convention in this city in 1913 and that we also recommend next year's Council to grant $200 to this Association;

This was adopted without discussion.

The following from the Industrial Committee was passed:

It was recommended that the chairman be instructed to procure an estimate of the cost of a map of the city, and the probable cost of a plate for advertising the city; this plate to be the property of the city;

That an appropriation of $200 be placed at the disposal of the Industrial Committee for advertising purposes.

Ald. Robinson asked what this appropriation was for. A report should be presented to the Council before an appropriation is made.

Ald. Bogle stated that last year there was no appropriation. There would not be a dollar wasted, but everything would be done to advance the city's interest. Some funds were necessary to do this.

The recommendation prevailed.

MOTOR CAR COMPANY

A recommendation was passed on to the Council that the city grant to the proposed motor car company to be established here, ten acres of land and make a fixed assessment of the buildings for a term of years, and that a by-law for same be prepared for submission to the electors for their approval.

Mr. Dickson was called upon and said the company was desirous of erecting and maintaining an automobile factory in this city. The company desired ten acres of land. It would require about $160,000 to instal this plant here. We are asking the citizens to subscribe $75,000 stock in

CANINE VOCALISM.

Last night the guests of Hotel Quinte and others who live in that vicinity were disturbed in their peaceful slumbers by the howling of a dog. The canine kept up a continuous howl for some time. The affairs was finally reported to the police.

HIS FIRST INSTALMENT.

Robert Logan, who was a few days ago sentenced to two months in jail and to receive 15 lashes in two instalments for indecently assaulting a little girl, yesterday received his first whipping, receiving six lashes, which were administered in the presence of the jail officials. On the 5th of March Logan will receive the remaining stripes.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

The McDowell Concert Company, composed of Miss Hallihan, soprano; Messrs. J D. Hayes, barritone, B. Nelson, tenor, and J. Bradil, accompanist and musical entertainer, gave an entertainment in the Griffin Opera House here last evening. There were a large number present and the various items upon the programme gave general satisfaction. Mr. John D. Hayes, a Belleville boy, son of Sergt Hayes, of the Armories, was a general favorite with the audience. He has a fine baritone voice, which was heard to advantage in the selections he gave. The other members are also artists in their profession. The concert was under the auspices of the Hospital Board and as a result a goodly sum was realized.

MARRIED AT TRENTON.

At Trenton at the home of the bride, Miss Rebecca Williams was married to Mr. James George Read of Alberta. Rev. W. P. Rogers conducted the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Read left for a trip to Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern points.

CLEM ELLIS SENTENCED.

Some time ago Clem Ellis was committed for trial on a charge of stealing a tie pin from Mr. E. Meehan. The accused elected to be tried by a jury at the High Court, but yesterday he changed his mind and came up for re-election before Judge Deroche. Through his counsel, Mr. Carnew, Ellis pleaded guilty to the charge of theft and was sentenced to two months in jail. Mr. Anderson, County Attorney, represented the Crown.

PROF. DENYS' COMPOSITION.

Le Passe-Temps, a Montreal musical journal, in its issue of February 3, contains a French song dedicated by Prof. Paul Denys, organist of St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, formerly teacher in the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, to his niece, Mlle. Flore Denys, Montreal, and which receives warm praise. The words are by Prof J. M. Lanos, of the Royal Military College, and the music by Prof. Denys, both of whose pictures appear on the front page of Le Passe-Temps The song is entitled "Mysters D'Aimer."

THOMAS MILLS DEAD.

Mr. Thomas Mills, a well-known citizen, who resided on Isabel Street, died this afternoon. An obituary notice will appear to-morrow.

THEY THANKED HIM.

Mr. Jack Roblin recently sent to the Belleville Club of Chicago a number of small booklets relating to Belleville and containing views of prominent places in the city. At a meeting of the Chicago Club, held on the 31st of January, a vote of thanks to Mr. Roblin for his pleasant remembrance was unanimously passed and forwarded to him, which he appreciates very highly.

A MONTH FOR SYMONS.

Edward Symons was this morning brought up before Judge Deroche for sentence on a charge of perjury, of which he had previously pleaded guilty. It appears that the accused procured a marriage license at Tweed, alleging that he was a widower, whereas he is a married man, his wife living in this county. Symons, however, did not use the license. This morning the wife and others gave testimony in favor of the accused, alleging that liquor was the cause of his committing the act. His Honor stated he could not allow the accused out on a suspended sentence, but would have to impose some sentence for the offence, which was of a serious nature. Symons was sentenced to jail for one month and ordered to pay a fine of $50. Mr. Anderson for the Crown and Mr. Carnew for the accused.

WEDDING BELLS.

BUSH—WHITE.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 30th, a very pretty home wedding was solemnized at Cloverdale Farm, being the marriage of Spray Mabel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. White, to Mr. Willie Allen Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush, of the 8th concession of Sidney. Promptly at eight o'clock, to the strains of the bridal chorus, played by Miss Edith Bush, sister of the groom, the bridal party entered the drawing room and took their places beneath a white floral bell and arch of evergreens. The bride was given away by her father, and looked very charming in a dress of white messaline silk, with fringe trimmings, while at the bodice she wore a beautiful satin rose; she also wore the usual veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Carrie White, sister of the bride, was dressed in pale pink silk mull with lace trimmings. The bride and bridesmaid carried large bouquets of white and pink carnations. The groom was ably supported by his brother, Alex. The Rev. C. C. Howard, of Bayside performed the ceremony. After the usual congratulations the guests, numbering about sixty, then repaired to the dining room, which was tastefully decorated in pink and white. The high esteem in which the bride was held was shown by the many beautiful and costly gifts she received. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl crescent, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, and to the groomsman gold cuff links. The happy couple left, amid showers of confetti, for Toronto and Oshawa. The bride's going away suit was blue serge, with blue satin hat and pink roses. On their return a reception was given them at the home of the groom's parents, the guests numbering about seventy-five, when a sumptuous repast was served, after which the evening was spent in games and music. The young couple will reside in Prince Edward County. We wish them every future happiness and prosperity on their voyage through life.

WHERE'S THE SANDMAN?

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Sir,—What some of us —over the footbridge people—would like to know is whether Ald. Robinson has to be requested to SAND the same every time it is required. For the last week or so it has been in a very dangerous condition. Two weeks ago, if I remember correctly, the Council asked this worthy Alderman to attend to it. He said he would do so, and did it—ONCE! How long do you suppose it lasted? Some of us who travel that way know. For safety it should have attention at least every two days.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

One of the most delightful of a number of excellent meetings of the Women's Institute was held in the High School on Monday. Miss Downey told how to make "Some Hot Supper Dishes," which interested all the members. These talks by our young domestic scientists are proving very popular. Miss Drummond's talk to mothers was given close attention and aroused a keen discussion, always a profitable part of the programme, afterwards. "Education," she said, "was a preparation for complete living, and its aim was character-building. The primary work was the most important. The teacher should be big enough to love each child individually, and be as near an ideal woman as possible. Three classes of children come to this school; those from very refined homes, those from homes moderately so, and those with low ideals. Parents must co-operate with teachers to help the higher lift the lower. Mothers should take time to tell good stories to children, to teach them to see the beautiful in life, to be pure in thought. Sow a thought and reap a habit; sow a habit and reap a character; sow character and reap destiny."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE STAMPEDE."

If you are an expert mathematician here is a problem which may test your ability. In "The Stampede" which comes to Griffin's Opera House, Thursday, Feb. 8th, the star, Lillian Buckingham, in the role of Wanga, the half-breed Indian girl, wears a beaded head dress encircling her forehead and fastened to her hair, (which, by the way, is her own), every bead attached to the webbing separately with mathematical precision. Try to estimate the number, and when you have definitely decided, ask Miss Buckingham if you are within one thousand of the sum total. She knows exactly because she spent many leisure moments making the bead dress and other beaded ornaments she wears.

Where Quality Counts

EXPENSIVE DIMPLES

She had a dimple in each cheek—a deep, dainty, loving, delicious, kissable dimple.

"Ah," exclaimed the young fool, "how I wish I had dimples like that!" And he reached out his hand and patted them softly.

The maiden smiled until the dimples were a hundred times lovelier than before, and the youth was completely captured. He took her for drives in the park. Then he took her to the Calldorf and treated her to a dinner such as visiting princes indulge in at the expense of the Government.

Next they went to the theatre and occupied a box, and after that they sought out a cosy café.

And since then he has had two dimples, two deep, cavernous, empty dimples, one in each side of his purse, and they wil lstay there until next pay day.

Men Like Stagnant Ponds.

The great ocean is in a constant state of evaporation. It gives back what it receives, and sends up its waters in mists to gather into clouds; and so there is rain on the field and storm on the mountains, and greenness and beauty everywhere. But there are many men who do not believe in evaporation. They get all they can and keep all they get, and so are not fertilisers, but only stagnant miasmatic ponds.

THE ALPHA CLUB BANQUET AT TABERNACLE CHURCH

One of the Most Enjoyable and Successful Events of the Season—Three Hundred Partake of Sumptuous Repast—The Programme

The long planned for banquet of the Alpha Club, connected with the Tabernacle Church, was held in the spacious vestry last evening and proved to be one of the most successful and enjoyable events in the history of this progressive society. Up to eight o'clock streams of club members and invited guests wended their way to the church until fully three hundred packed the large vestry, all in the best of cheer, and anticipant of the evening's entertainment.

The room was prettily decorated with bunting and cut flowers and plants were in profusion; long tables bles heavily laden with the best that willing hands could provide were ready for the visitors, and as one viewed the liberal array, but one conclusion could be arrived at—the Alpha Club never does things by halves.

Immediately prior to partaking of the feast, the pastor, Rev. W. G. Clarke, with his usual consideration, announced that the ladies would be allowed the privilege of leap year and choose their partners. Then began the selection—modestly at first—but as the enthusiasm increased, one would never think that the fair ones had had but one month to practice. It was all so unique and pleasing (to the male sex), this movement of the fair sex, that they could not but admire the handiness of their adaptation to the occasion. One modest young lady, after several vain attempts to secure her "heart's desire" gave up in despair, and was about to take her place at a table "alone and lonely," when she was informed that she must first find her partner before taking her seat. Then began a hunt, and soon she returned, fully qualified, to her alloted place.

Among those present who took part were the Rev. H. B. Kenny, late pastor of the church, and organizer of the Alpha Club; Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., Mr. J. Elliott, of the Standard Bank, and a number of other prominent local citizens. Mr. J. E. Walmsley, Superintendent of the Sunday School, acted as chairman, introducing the speakers, and was succeeded in the second part of the programme by Mr. C. A. Moore, vice-chairman. The remarks, necessarily brief, were all to the point, filled with good humor, the fellowship exhibited was of the deepest, and the welcome extended to all was of a nature that went to the heart. It was nearly midnight when the National Anthem was lustily sung, and as the participants separated it was with the best of wishes for those who had so freely given of their best efforts for the entertainment of the evening's guests.

GRAND TO LIVE.

AND THE LAST LAUGH IS ALWAYS THE BEST.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman, "now I laugh to know there is. (The effects of tea and coffee on the system are similar, because they both contain a drug—caffeine).

"Since childhood I drank coffee freely as did the other members of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl; and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter, at the age of 38, I seemed to be on the verge of consumption.

"My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged.

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly, it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change.

"I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled.

"The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong.

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marvelled at the change and when they enquire what brought it about I answer 'Postum, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.

HAVEN'T HAD ENOUGH.

Foolhardy Tourists Still Try to Go on Ice Bridge.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 6.—Even after Sunday's terrible calamity, the worst in the annals of Niagara, when three people were carried to death when the ice bridge disintegrated, it required the vigilance of several officers on both sides of the river yesterday to prevent venturesome spirits from attempting to cross the mass of slush ice that formed another bridge immediately the fatal structure floated away with its human victims. Authorities on both sides of the river will take immediate action as to closing ice bridges to tourists in future.

Although many river fatalities have disturbed the peace of mind of residents of the twin power cities, nothing has cast such a gloom over neighboring municipalities as Sunday's accident. In many humble homes prayers were offered up for the repose of the souls of the river victims. The accident was the only subject discussed yesterday. People spoke of it in hushed voices, tears springing into the eyes of strong men, accustomed to Niagara exacting her toll of human lives.

Oliver Stanton, brother of Eldridge Stanton, N. P. Butcher, father, and P. B. Butcher, brother of Mrs. Eldridge Stanton, arrived yesterday morning from Toronto.

Sir James Keeps Counsel.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—There is ground for belief that the Manitoba boundary question is settled. Nothing official in the way of an announcement may be expected till the Legislature opens, but the remarks of Sir James Whitney yesterday afternoon, would tend to the belief that something definite with regard to the boundary question is on the way from Ottawa, and may be officially received by the Premier of this province at any moment.

"I have heard and read rumors about the boundary question," said Sir James Whitney, "but I am not in a position to say anything that would be interesting as coming from me. Should I receive any information in the near future, I shall be glad to say something on the matter."

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

The two blades met spitefully. Half a dozen thrusts and parries convinced the colonel that the raging youth knew what he was doing. Down swooped the saber cuttingly. The blade of the sword cane snapped like a pipestem. The latter came on, and there was death's intent.

Meantime Carmichael had found a short hop pole. He hit the saber with good will. Back came the steel. The colonel did not care whom or what he struck at now. When Carmichael returned the compliment he swung his hop pole as the old crusaders did their broadswords. The saber dropped uninjured, but the colonel's arm dangled at his side. He was in agony. Carmichael's anger abated none.

"You're a fine example of a soldier! Are you mad to attack a man this way? They will break you for this, or my name's not Carmichael.

"I shall kill you for this!"

"Bah! I have fought more times than you have years to your counting," with good, Yankee spirit. "But if you think I'll waste my time in fighting a duel with you, you're up the wrong tree."

"Go to the devil!"

"Not just at present. There's too much for me to do."

Gretchen and the vintner had vanished. Carmachael agreed that it was the best thing for them to do. The vintner was no coward, but he was discreet. Somebody might ask questions. So Carmichael returned to the consulate, equally indifferent what the colonel did or where he went. Of the vintner he thought, "The hot headed young fool, to risk his life like that!" He would see later what he meant in regard to Gretchen. Poor little goose girl!

"Are you hurt, excellency?" asked the clerk solicitously.

"Hurt?"

"Yes. I heard a woman scream and ran to the window. It was a good fight. But that fellow—ach! To run away and leave you, an outsider, to fight his battle!"

"He would have been sliced in two if I hadn't come to the front. A hop pole isn't half bad. I'll bet that lady's man has a bad arm for some time to come. As for the vintner, he had good reasons for taking to his heels."

"Good reasons?" But there was a sly look in the clerk's eyes.

"No questions, if you please."

"Very well, excellency." And quietly the clerk returned to his table of figures. But later he intended to write a letter, unsigned, to his serene highness.

Carmichael, scowling, undertook to answer his mail, but not with any remarkable brilliancy or coherency.

And in this condition of mind Grumbach found him—Grumbach, accompanied by the old clock mender from across the way and a gypsy Carmichael had never seen before.

"Tell your clerk to leave us," said Grumbach.

"Something serious, eh?" Carmichael dismissed the clerk, telling him to return after the noon hour.

"I have already spoken to you about it," Grumbach returned. "But I am here to ask a favor, a great favor, one that will need all your diplomacy to gain for me."

"Ah!"

"For myself I ask nothing. A horrible blunder has been made. You will go to the grand duke and ask immunity for this gypsy and this clock mender as witnesses to the disclosure which I shall make to his highness. Without this immunity my lips will be sealed forever. As I said, I ask nothing for myself, nothing. There has been a great blunder and a great wrong, too, but God sent me here to right it. Will you do this?"

"SURELY YOUR MAJESTY WILL NOT SHOOT AN OLD FRIEND?"

"But why don't you want immunity for yourself?"

"There must be some one for the duke to punish," heroically; "otherwise he will refuse."

"Still, suppose I bargain for you too?"

"When you tell him my name is Breunner there will be no bargaining."

"What has this clock mender to do with the case?"

"He is Count von Arnsberg."

"By George! And this gypsy?"

"The man who bribed me. Arnsberg is an innocent man, but this has to be proved."

"I will do what I can, Hans, and I will let you know the result after dinner tonight."

"That will be enough. But unless he concedes do not tell him our names."

"You have me a bit dazed," Carmichael admitted. "I ought to know what this blunder is to have something to stand on."

Grumbach shook his head. "Later every question will be answered, and remember at this interview Herbeck must not be present."

"Very well. I promise to see his highness this afternoon."

The three of them solemnly trooped out, leaving Carmichael bewildered. And while he was racking his mind he heard steps on the stairs. The door above shut noisily.

"By George, I'll attend to that this minute. We'll see what stuff this yellow haired boy is made of."

He mounted the stairs without sound. He grasped the handle of the door, boldly pushed it open and entered, closing the door and placing his back against it.

The vintner snatched a pistol from the drawer in the table and leveled it at Carmichael.

"Surely your majesty will not shoot an old friend?" said the American.

CHAPTER XV.

THE KING.

THE vintner slowly lowered the pistol till it touched the table. Then he released it.

"That is better, your majesty."

"Why do you call me that?"

"Your face was familiar, but I failed at first to place it rightly. It was only after you had duped me into going after the veiled lady that I had any real suspicion. You are Frederick Leopold of Jugendheit."

"I shall not deny it further," proudly. "And take care how you speak to me, since I admit my identity."

"This is Ehrenstein. Here I shall talk to you as I please."

The king reddened, and his hand closed again over the pistol.

"I have saved your majesty twice from death. You force me to recall it to your mind."

The king had the grace to lower his eyes.

"The first time was at Bonn. Don't you recollect the day when an American took you out of the Rhine, an American who did not trouble himself to come around and ask for your thanks, who, in truth, did not learn till days after what an important person you were or were going to be?"

"For that moment, herr, I thank you."

"And for that in the garden below?"

"For that also. Now, why are you here?"

FARM AND FIELD

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Improved Business Methods Would Help Run the Household at a More Economical Speed.

A plausible reason for the present high cost of living is the system in practice of paying accounts by check, and buying on credit in the village store. Early in the season a farmer gets leave of the storekeeper to run an account. This ties him up to one store, and obliterates competition. He visits the store once a week and places his order for groceries. It is safe to say that the price is not as carefully enquired into, nor is the weight as closely noted, as though a five-dollar bill lay softly between the fingers. Instead of staying by his job of ordering his needs he is not unapt to hand over to the clerk a slip made out by his wife before he left home, and go out to have an hour's fun with the boys, while the team is getting its evening meal of bot-flies on the sunny side of the street. Under these circumstances, which unfortunately are neither fanciful nor libelous, but a plain statement of observed fact, it is expecting a good deal of the clerk to look for sixteen ounces to the pound, and a dollar's worth of goods for a dollar's worth of coupons. The credit system may facilitate business, but, adds "The Farmers Advocate", it also facilitates the absence of business methods on the part of the man availing himself of its advantages.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

FILLING THE PORK BARREL

A hog can be starved to eat almost anything, but seldom does well on spoiled food.

One way to improve land rapidly is to pasture hogs upon it.

Too many farmers have failed to appreciate the possibilities of rye as hog pasture.

No farmer can have complete success raising hogs unless he has a good grain pasture, and young hogs can be fattened more profitably than those that are older.

The three hundred pound pig at eight months is the master work of a feeder.

Where it is possible, it is best to defer selection of sow pigs for the breeding herd until they have made considerable growth.

Give the sow a movable house in the pasture just before farrowing time, as the youngsters will thrive on the grass. If she farrows in the fall the quiet of the pasture is just what she needs.

The pig can eat more than he can digest; and digest more than he can use. So it is not a fact that a pig can take care of all he can eat.

There is no feed better for young pigs and calves than sweet skim milk right from the separator.

Pigs, sows, and fattening hogs should be kept in separate inclosures. They will be healthier and derive more benefit from their feeds by such handling.

The most profitable pork is produced by using as largely as possible other feeds than corn.

"I know we build the best auto in the market," says the manufacturer, "but even at that I cannot understand how you can sell ten times as many machines as the very best men we have had prior to you. How do you do it?"

"Well, sir," explains the new salesman, the light of honest pride in his eyes, "I always ask the customer to take a ride in one of our machines as the first move toward getting acquainted with its riding qualities. Of course he accepts the invitation I then take him out on the boulevard and get arrested and fined for fast running. After that there is no argument."

Ten minutes later the new salesman leaves the private office with a block of preferred stock tucked away in his inside pocket.

Most men would rather give their wives credit for what they do than give them money.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

FOOLS THE CALENDAR.

Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is not always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.

A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."

Every one can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills this germ and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the destruction of the dandruff germ the hair no longer drops out. The itching of the scalp stops almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy for which there are many substitutes, preparations claimed to be "just as good." You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide.

For sale by all druggists. Applications obtained at good barber shops. One dollar size bottles are always guaranteed. Send 10c in postage to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for sample and book.—Doyle's Drug Store, special agents.

CULPABLE BLUNDERING.

$10,080,000 is the sum which the Dominion Government is penalized to pay to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company as the result of the Laurier Government's blundering legislation, or what may probably be termed culpable stupidity or design, on the part of those who framed the amendments to the original bill guaranteeing the bonds of the company issued and placed upon the market to raise money for the building of the road.

In brief, the original act respecting the company, provided a Government guarantee of $13,000 per mile in aid of the construction of the prairie section and three-quarters of the cost of the mountain section. In 1904 the company, finding it impossible to sell their bonds, even with the Government guarantee of 3 per cent. interest, in the English market at par, sought an amendment to the original charter, and secured it in such a way as to bind the country to guarantee and pay an amount equal to the full face value of the bonds, regardless of the price realized on the sale.

As the work proceeded the Grand Trunk Pacific people, finding their bonds were selling at a large discount, applied to the Government to make up the deficiency, and pay the difference between the face value of the bonds and the price received for them when placed upon the market. The Government of the day, finding itself in a serious financial position, repudiated the interpretation put upon the law by the Grand Trunk Pacific's legal advisers, and a suit followed, which resulted in favor of the interpretation put upon the law by the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, which involves the country in an extra expenditure of no less a sum than $10,080,000, as the result of stupid, or worse, legislation on the part of the Laurier Government, as such was never contemplated, though that such an interpretation of the law might be put upon it was pointed out by the then Opposition, but was ridiculed by the Laurier Government.

To meet this claim of $10,080,000 by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, the Finance Minister has introduced a bill in Parliament based upon the judgment of the Privy Council, an extract from which he quoted as follows:

> Held, that the liability of the Government under this agreement was not a secondary liability as guarantors only, the primary liability falling on the company, but that the Government were liable to make the bonds of the first issue up to their nominal value without resource or er against the company.

After reading which, he stated that

> At the time the agreement was entered into, the 3 per cent. stock of the Dominion of Canada stood at about par. Shortly afterwards there was a fall in that stock in common with other high class low interest-bearing securities, and as a result it was seen that the 3 per cent. Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's bonds guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada would not realize nearly par. In order to meet that situation a supplementary agreement was entered into in the following year. Among other things it removed the limit as to the $30,000 a mile upon the mountain section, but allowed the $13,000 per mile as a maximum of bonds to be issued by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company on the prairie section to stand.

The result of this amended legislation was given to the House of Commons by the Finance Minister as follows:

> Sales of Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company's three per cent.'s guaranteed by the Government which have already taken place:—
>
> In 1905 £3,200,000 were sold at 92½
> and produced $14,559,674 00
> In 1909 £2,000,000 were sold at 80
> and produced 7,773,495 10
> In 1910 £2,000,000 were sold at > about £80 3s. 9d. and produced 7,856,119 67
>
> The amounts here stated as being produced from the respective sales include interim interest accretions in London before the transfer of the funds to this country, and to that extent the net proceeds as above stated are too great.
>
> The sum to be paid the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company by the Government under the Privy Council judgment, in respect of these sales, will therefore be approximately $4,900,000.
>
> On the basis of the estimated cost of construction of the mountain section made by the Government chief engineer, there will yet have to be sold of these three per cent. bonds approximately £5,515,220.
>
> Assuming that when a sale of these bonds has to be made they bring the same price as the last lot sold, viz.: £80 13s. 9d. for each hundred pounds, there will be required to be paid in cash by the Government in respect of such sale, to make the proceeds of the sale equal to par, the sum of $5,183,617.40.
>
> On these estimates this will make a total cash contribution by the Government of approximately $10,080,000, in order to make the proceeds of the Government guaranteed bonds equal to par.

It is significant to note that, in reading the proceedings in the Commons, the resolution providing for the payment of this $10,080,000, we find that it passed without a word being uttered by Laurier or his grovelling followers. The dose was nauseous, but they swallowed it in grim silence, it being of their own muddling mixture.

It will be surprising if the subject does not receive a little ventilation at subsequent stages of the bill.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

The Toronto Globe had in Ottawa, during the reign of Sir John A. Macdonald, a correspondent who earned the sobriquet of being the Ottawa "Liar." Were it not that he has gone to his long home, the reading public might well come to the conclusion that he had been re-engaged, judging from the reports sent almost daily from the capital to that journal. A few days ago it announced, on the authority of its correspondent, that some twenty odd Conservative French members had revolted and left the city for their homes in high dudgeon, threatening never to return, because the Government refused to dismiss the Harbor Commissioners in Montreal. This, as might be expected, turned out to be a fake—a pure fabrication.

The other day it had a story to the effect that a number of the Government supporters had announced their intention of opposing the estimates of the Minister of Militia. In this case The Globe's man mentioned the names of two members in order to give an appearance of truth to the article. On the following day the members rose to a question of privilege and denounced the story as a pure fabrication.

Readers of The Globe's Ottawa despatches will do well to look upon them as fairy tales, though not half as interesting.

CURRENT COMMENT.

That it pays to advertise in newspapers and that the bigger the advertisement the better the result, are twin conclusions drawn by the Rev. George Macadam, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Joliet, Ill., after thus exploiting his services. The minister advertised his sermon for last Sunday in a local newspaper, taking space larger than the space taken by the theatre attractions on that day. His crowd was larger than those at the play. He will keep up the publication.

The North Renfrew, Ont., Agricultural Society has just elected a most remarkable man as its president. He is R. H. Scott, of Beachburg, who has been totally blind since childhood. Scott is a living example of the power of the human will and intelligence to conquer difficulties. He is a machinery agent and a horse trader, and travels the United States and Canada unassisted, buying horses, which he judges solely by the sense of touch. He is said to be an expert. Mr. Scott became blind through an accident in which a portion of a copper rivet was driven into one eye. Inflammation ensued and he lost the sight of both eyes.

The winter season, when western grain growers—they can hardly be classed as farmers in the full meaning of the word—are naturally idle, is a favorable time to air their real and alleged grievances. In this connection, therefore, there is a large measure of satisfaction in noting the vigorous protest of Winnipeg grain dealers against the statement that 10,000,000 bushels of grain will be rendered valueless through wet. They cut it down to 2,000,000. Even that amount is deplorably large, if true. But where the remedy? The railroads are doing all that is humanly possible to cope with the situation. The answer to the problem resolves itself into that of mixed farming, which may not be as short a cut to riches, but, intelligently pursued, will certainly be a safe and sure one.—Hamilton Spectator.

AYRSHIRE BREEDERS' ANNUAL CONVENTION

A Good Attendance and Much Business Transacted—Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—Will Meet Here Again Next Year

The annual meeting of the Menie District Ayrshire Breeders' Club was held in this city yesterday afternoon. Owing to a misunderstanding, the Council Chamber, where the meeting was to have been held, was not heated, and Mr. Kerr, the assessor, placed his room at the disposal of the club. There was a good attendance, and during the meeting many matters of importance to the club were brought up.

The objects of the club briefly, are: The promotion of good fellowship and the general interests of the Ayrshire breed of cattle, by the holding of public sales at auction; by encouraging the entry of cows and heifers in the Record of Performance Test, discussion of the best methods of breeding, rearing and exhibiting, and raising the standard of excellence of the breed; to bring before the public the good qualities and exceptional merits of the breed, and other ways to generally widen and extend the interests of this breed of cattle, and to act in unison upon all occasions which demand it.

Mr. Alex. Hume, of Menie, President, occupied the chair, and in his opening remarks explained that the meeting was called hurriedly in order that if possible the eastern breeders might get here. But word from them on Saturday night said they would have to leave on Saturday night for Toronto. The circular drew attention to some of the things to come before them, namely: Receive reports of last year's work, make plans for future, discuss the advisability of holding auction sale, etc. He urged entering cows and heifers in Record of Performance Test. He said, don't wait until you feel you are ready, but start now.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. W. E. Tummon, Secretary-Treasurer, presented the following report:

It is with pleasure that I have the honor to present to you the first report of the Menie District Ayrshire Breeders' Club. Kindly allow me to say that I appreciate the fact that I have been Secretary Treasurer of the first Ayrshire Breeders' Club of its kind in Canada, and in this respect, we have a right to congratulate ourselves, laying the foundations and being pioneers in a movement that will surely increase in the Ayrshire world.

During the year I received inquiries from three different localities, asking for information regarding the establishment of organizations similar to our own, one being from Mr. John McKee, President of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association. In each case I have replied, giving what information I could, and enclosing a copy of our articles.

I am pleased to report that our membership has gradually increased since our organization meeting in Campbellford on Feb. 7, 1911. The club on that day started with twelve members. This has increased during the year by seventeen, giving us 29 paid members at present. While I look upon this as very encouraging, yet it only represents a few of the many Ayrshire breeders in the counties covered by our organization. When we think that the number of pure-bred breeders of Ayrshire cattle in Hastings alone exceeds this number considerably, not to mention those of Durham and Northumberland, who have, I believe, a greater number than Hastings, together with Peterborough and Prince Edward, we must feel that as yet we have only commenced to organize. However, in looking over the membership of organizations similar to this, among the Gurnsey, Jersey, Durham and Holstein breeders in the U. S., I find their average memcership is about 40.

During the year I have forwarded to each breeder whose name and address I had, a copy of the articles of our club, also a circular letter in which the objects and aims of our organization were set forth. This letter also requested the breeders to send the number of pure bred animals owned by them to your Secretary. We hoped in this way to be able to compile a list of all animals in the district. I am sorry that but few answers were received and consequently I have been unable to get the number of pure bred animals in the Menie District, but from what information I have, I would say that at the very least there are between 700 and 1000 pure bred animals in the five counties.

It is a fact of interest to us, and one to feel proud of, that our breed of cattle holds the record for the highest average price of dairy cattle, any breed, sold by public auction in Canada.

During the year several of our members have entered their cows in the yearly Record of Performance Test. In almost every case those entered are doing well, and will give more than required amounts of milk and butter fat to qualify. The entering of these cows and heifers is, I believe, largely the fruits of our club.

The time has come, I think, when we can afford to invest a little in printers' ink. With the membership fees of 1912 coming in, and a balance from last year on hand, our finances will allow us to buy advertising space in one or more of the leading farm journals for the coming year. These advertisements might appear monthly, quarterly, or weekly, as the members thought best.

It might also be to our interest to issue quarterly or say twice a year, a list of all Ayrshires for sale by our members. This need not be an expensive affair, and would always be available to forward to prospective buyers and inquirers.

In our President, Mr. Hume, we have had an officer whose ambition and desire has been to advance the interests of the Menie District Ayrshire Bredeers' Club. He has rendered excellent service to our organization.

In conclusion let me say that the Ayrshire interests in our district need to be carefully guarded. Breeding for type, vigor of constitution, and production, which go to make the ideal Ayrshire, calls for and demands our best efforts. I once heard a prominent dairyman say, "The cow is usually better than the man behind her." There is more in that remark than appears on the surface The breeder can be judged by no more truer standard than the type of animal he breeds. In this age of specializing let us make a specialty and raise the standard of the Ayrshire breed in our district.

The report was received and adopted.

After some discussion in reference to advertising the Ayrshire breed in some leading farm journal, it was decided that the matter be left in the hands of the President, Mr. Hume, to attend to same.

Mr. J. Stewart, of Ottawa, spoke of the Ayrshire breed, which he believed were the best cattle. At Ottawa last year the Ayrshire cow held the record, but this year the Holstein cow won the public test. He wished this club every success

Mr. Hume stated that the Ayrshire breeders had no desire to quarrel with other breeders, but we considered we had the best breed of cows. Cull out your poor animals and sell them to the butchers. The top notchers are few and far between It sometimes takes years of careful breeding to get a top notcher. Breed the good ones and keep them if you can. When you supply a beginner with stock sell him good stock and the result will be satisfactory.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Wm. Stewart, sr.
President—Alex Hume.
Sec.-Treas.—W. E. Tummon.

Directors—Chas. Macoun, Barlow Cumberland, H. K. Denyes, Geo. Stokes, John Locke, W. Rannie, H. Curtis, J. O'Connor, W. H. Furbar, Geo. Ketcheson, David Wilson and Homer White.

Ald. Parks, as chairman of the Market and City Property Committee, said he regretted that the Council Chamber had not been heated, but it was no fault of his, but a misunderstanding between the janitor and other officials. He was pleased that the club was meeting here, although the Mayor-elect had turned them down when a request was made to him for the use of the city building.

A motion prevailed that the executive arrange a meeting for the Ayrshire breeders similar to that held at Mr. Stewart's last year, for the purpose of having the aims of the club set forth and the display of Ayrshire cattle.

Mr. Hume said the Government was willing to assist the club in every way it was possible to do so.

Mr. Tummon, in speaking of the annual meetings, suggested having a banquet in connection with the same, where the fine qualities of the Ayrshire cow can be spoken to by speakers well qualified to speak on the subject. This would have the tendency of putting more sociability in our meetings. To his mind it would make the club more successful. He suggested that a banquet be held next year and speakers provided.

Mr. H. K. Denyes said this was a matter well worth considering, and he was in accord with it. Have a banquet in the evening and procure some of the best speakers in Canada. This would prove both interesting and profitable. Have men of experience to speak who can enthuse us and we can go home and perhaps accomplish better results.

A motion that the matter of a banquet be left with the Executive was unanimously carried.

Mr. Denyes spoke of good results they had obtained by testing Ayrshire cows owned by them. It also had the effect of increasing interest in farm work.

After some discussion and upon a vote being taken, Belleville was selected for holding the annual meeting next year.

A motion prevailed, extending thanks to the chairman of the Market and City Property Committee, to Mr. Kerr for the use of his room, and to the press for reporting the meeting.

The meeting was then brought to a close.

"NA-DRU-CO DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Proved of Great Value to Me"

There is only one explanation for the numbers of enthusiastic letters that we receive praising Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and that is that these tablets certainly do cure any kind of stomach trouble.

Here is a typical letter from Miss Eliza Armsworthy, Canso, N.S.:

"It is with pleasure I write to inform you that your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great value to me. I tried remedy after remedy but without any lasting good. Having heard of your tablets curing such cases as mine I decided to give them a fair trial. They proved satisfactory in my case."

The remarkable success of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is such a success as can only come to an honest remedy, compounded according to an exceptionally good formula, from pure ingredients, by expert chemists. If you are troubled with your stomach just ask your Druggist about Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, compounded by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, and sold throughout the Dominion at 50c. a box. 142

We want every person who is suffering from any skin injury or disease to personally prove the merits of Zam-Buk.

It also cures piles. All druggists and stores for 50c, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

What Followed a Scratch.

Mrs. Brown 7 Calumet Ave., Montreal, says:—"While busy in the kitchen one day the oven door fell off, striking my right leg and inflicting a nasty scratch. While this was painful, I never thought it would become a serious wound, but to my surprise it became very much inflamed and very painful. I found that the dye from my stocking had got into it and poisoned it. The pain and inflammation got worse and the wound discharged freely. At this stage someone advised me to try Zam-Buk and I obtained a supply. This balm seemed to draw out the soreness at once, reduced the inflammation and soothed the wound. I naturally persevered with Zam-Buk and within a few weeks the wound was quite healed."

Eczema Banished.

To be covered with sores which sometimes itch and burn and then, when rubbed, cause acute agony—sores which look repulsive as well as cause pain—sores which have defied all remedies that have been applied to them—what could be worse? Yet this is the lot of scores of people to-day who suffer from that terrible disease, Eczema. To all such sufferers we will send trial box of Zam-Buk free! Write us, sending 1c stamp to pay return postage.

Mr. Wm. Dangerfield, 958 Lipton St., Winnipeg, says:—"Last winter I suffered from Eczema. After trying lotions, salves and powders given me by the doctor, which failed to do me any good, I tried Zam-Buk. This proved equal to my case and cured me."

Use as a Household Balm.

Mrs. W. Blair, 91 St. Catharine St., Hamilton, speaks of the value of Zam-Buk as a household balm. She says:—"I one day slipped and fell against a Morris rocker, knocking my knee very badly. The knee turned black and blue and was very painful. I rubbed Zam-Buk well into the injured member and it was indeed surprising how quickly I found relief. The swelling was soon reduced and pain and discoloration banished. By perseverance with Zam-Buk my injured knee was well again in a couple of days.

"I have since proved it to be the handiest and best balm for household purposes. A few applications of Zam-Buk gave me ease from rheumatism also!"

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

TRAVANCORE, India, Fb. 4.—The Foreign Missions Committee of the International Bible Students' Association has reached here. Pastor Russell, chairman of the committee, is widely known in this district. His coming has been a topic of interest for several weeks. Not only Christian natives are alert to meet him, but their heathen countrymen are also interested. Mohammedans have been enquiring: Has Pastor Russell any special message for us? The arrangements are that the Pastor will spend a full week in the district and be at Madras next Sunday. Of course he will be speaking each day, and although this will be done through an interpreter, the natives are keenly alert to hear what they call God's message. Addressing a large crowd under rather unfavorable circumstances, the pastor said:

I have chosen as my text on this occasion the message of the angels at the birth of our Redeemer—"Fear not! Behold, we bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people."—Luke ii-10. I feel that I am not entirely a stranger to many of you, nor you to me. For a considerable time I have seen regular reports sent in from this district to the International Bible Students' Association, of which I have the honor of being president. These reports informed us of your growing love for God and for the message of His grace sent before us in the Bible. Everything of interest that transpires amongst you here is promptly reported to us—the numbers who attend the meetings, the numbers of adults immersed and the number of children consecrated by their parents.

These reports in turn are published to the Bible students all over the world. We want you to know of the Christian love of these children of God of various nationalities who are represented by the committee now before you.

Two days ago, on the island of Ceylon, my attention was drawn to the tomb of the good Bishop Heber. Immediately to my mind came the words:

"Waft then the spicy breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylon's Isle,
And every prospect pleases,
And only man is vile!"

From childhood I had sung those words, and finally found myself on Ceylon's Isle. But I am not so sure but that the dear bishop exaggerated a little the vileness of the human types of this vicinity. Poverty, indeed, I see on every hand, and if vileness be measured by our great Creator or by lack of wealth, then certainly you are vile in comparison with some more wealthy. But can we really believe that this is the Divine standard? Shall we not rather believe the words of Jehovah, "Man looketh upon the outward apeparance, but God looketh upon the heart"—1 Sam. xvi:7. I am not here to flatter you—to say that poverty is a proof of purity of heart. On the contrary it is my duty as a minister of Christ to say that there is none righteous, no not one. But I may say to you that, admitting that all men have sinned—some in ways more peculiar to one nationality and some to another—it is ours to point out the need of an atonement for our sin and the fact that "the blood," the sacrifice, of "Jesus Christ our Lord, cleanseth us from all sin"—"Neither is there salvation in any other."

I believe, then, that I cannot do better than relate to you the "Old Story" of the love of God manifested in Christ, the Redeemer. My text tells that old story in precious words of life which had well nigh been lost during the darker ages and since, for many of you may be surprised to know that the vast majority of people in Christian lands have very slight conception of the love of God. Indeed, I am sorry that it is true, but the faith of many Christians as expressed in their creeds, is more terrible, more God-dishonoring than the beliefs of any heathen in the world, to the best of my knowledge. I am glad to tell you, however, that really few people in Christian lands now believe their own creeds.

Note its terms of a blessing intended of God for every creature. Two thousand years before the angels uttered those words God gave the same message of hope and joy to Father Abraham. Let those of this audience who are Mohammedans, as well as others, call to mind the promise to which I refer. It was the promise with an oath. God, foreknowing that the fulfilment of the promise would be long delayed, made oath to it, so that all who trust in Him might have have the consolation of that promise. And what is that promise? God said to Abraham, "In thee, and in thy seed, shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

The divine purpose looked down to Messiah and saw Him, the real seed of Abraham through whom eventually divine power will be exercised and divine grace be shed abroad amongst men. However, according to the Scriptures, the Messiah, the Deliverer, is composite—composed of numerous members. Each one of these members must be tested and proven in respect to his loyalty to God and to the principles of righteousness before he can attain to his glorious reward of the divine nature. God has foreordained how many shall constitute this Messiah company and what shall be their character qualifications.

They must be so loyal to God and to the principles of His righteousness that they will gladly sacrifice every earthly interest, yea, life itself, for this. It will be readily seen that there are not many of such devotion as this in the whole world.

But mark you well—the selection of this special class does not involve the "non-elect" in eternal torment. On the contrary the gathering of the "non-elect" should be regarded as an assurance of God's part of the fulfilment of His larger promise, that through these saintly ones, the Messianic body, great blessings are to be showered upon all families of the earth.

The blessing of the world will be restitution (Acts ii:19-21). If, as the evolutionists tell us, the Bible theory that man was created in God's image is wrong and he is really the offspring of an ape, then restitution would be the worst thing that could come to mankind.

IF I HAD ECZEMA

I'd simply wash it away with that soothing liquid, D.D.D. Prescription. The very first drops instantly stop that awful itch. We have sold many other remedies for skin trouble, but none that we could personally recommend as we do the D.D.D. Prescription.

Better try a bottle at once on our personal advice. J. S. McKeown, Druggist.

Scallops.

How many people know anything about the toothsome scallop? The little round bits of white meat we see in the market are really the hearts of bivalves. In other words, the only edible part of a scallop is the muscular tissue that controls the opening and shutting of its shell. The name scallop is derived from the fluted shape of the creature's shell. These are very thin. In fact, the weight of the scallop is so near that of an equal volume of water that it floats by the very slight propulsive force given by the opening and closing of the shell; hence scallops have the reputation of a shellfish that swims. They are caught in scoop nets as they float along with the tide.—New York Tribune.

They will be in perfect state until time gooseberries will come again — in other words will keep a year.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

TO PROTECT FISHERIES

Hon. J. D. Hazen Announces Purchase of Two Cruisers.

Most of the Day In Commons Is Spent In a Discussion of the Problems of the Pacific Coast—H. H. Stevens Says Japs Are Monopolizing the Industry — Canners Were Favored Too Much.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—All the Isaak Waltons in Parliament were on the job yesterday, the Conservative speakers throwing harpoons into the administration of the British Columbia fisheries by the late Government.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries announced that two swift protection cruisers would be built to replace the present vessels, which F. H. Sheppard (Nanaimo) declared to be the laughing stock of the Pacific coast.

The licenses, said Hon. J. D. Hazen, had been administered in the past for the benefit of the canners alone. He had repealed the regulation which prohibited fishermen from selling their catch elsewhere. He also announced that an arrangement was being sought with the United States for the mutual regulation of the whaling industry.

In reference to a request of J. H. Sinclair (Guysboro) for papers dealing with steam trawling outside of the three mile limit, Hon. J. D. Hazen stated that, as that system was firmly established in Great Britain, the U. S. and other countries, there would be great difficulty in getting it prohibited by international agreement.

H. S. Clements (Comox-Atlin) pleaded for an adequate protective service for the fisheries of the Pacific coast. Over 200 foreign vessels were fishing or poaching there at the present time, with an average catch of 65,000,000 pounds a year. The Jap fishermen were not in the best interests of the fisheries of the Dominion. They were depriving the whites of their rights.

G. H. Barnard (Victoria, B.C.) said that the present patrol vessels, the Quadra and the Kestrel, were the laughing stock of the Pacific coast. As for the Canadian navy, it was a joke.

H. H. Stevens (Vancouver) declared that 10,000 Japanese were engaged in fishing on the coast of British Columbia. The whole industry had passed into the hands of an alien race. This was a direct result of the immigration policy of the late Government.

The argument that the canneries could not afford to pay white fishermen, he declared "absolute twaddle." He called upon the Government to cancel the permit of the New England Fish Co., which shipped all the good fish to the American market, leaving British Columbia only the bruised and second-class article.

F. H. Shepherd (Nanaimo) claimed that hundreds of boats came into Canadian waters to poach.

Hon. J. D. Hazen did not think this statement at all exaggerated. The fisheries protection and patrol services had been hopelessly inadequate hitherto. In the estimates now before the House was a sum of $275,000 for the acquisition of two fast vessels for fisheries protection and another for patrolling the British Columbia coast and enforcing our laws within the three mile limit. These he hoped to be able to build in British Columbia. The Kestrel, he said, would be sold. While the new vessels were building two whaling steamers would be chartered to do patrol work.

As to the argument that this work should be transferred from the Naval to the Fisheries Department, he was not impressed by it. It was a question of administration, both being under the control of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. The fisheries protection fleet was in a sense a militant fleet, being largely engaged in keeping out poachers.

No licenses had been issued in British Columbia and none would be issued in future, except to bona fide fishermen. It was indefensible to issue a license for $25 to a person who would sell it in a short time for a considerable sum.

The administration of the British Columbia fisheries in the past, said Hon. Mr. Hazen, had been largely in the interests of the canners. So many licenses had been issued for each cannery, and these men could only sell their catch to the cannery. If the cannery said on a certain day that it would only take so many fish, the fishermen had to dump the rest into the sea. This regulation had been repealed last Saturday ,and the fishermen was at liberty now to sell his catch at other places than the canneries.

As to the whale fishery, that could only be dealt with by international arrangement, as it was carried on outside the three-mile limit. Capt. Bernier of the Arctic had reported that this industry was being destroyed.

Hon. Mr. Hazen announced that he had taken the preliminary steps towards an arrangement with the U. S. by which this industry should be preserved for the people of both countries.

Railway Magnate's Will Missing.

New York, Feb. 6.—Although it is understood that he left an estate valued at approximately $40,000,000, it became known yesterday that the will of the late Edwin Hawley cannot be found. His private papers have been partly searched, but the will has not yet been discovered. Until it is found the disposition of Mr. Hawley's vast estate, including his great railroad interests, will remain in doubt. He made the will in 1903, naming as executor, his partner, Frank H. Davis.

Mrs. Mary Leavitt Dead.

Boston, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Mary C. Leavitt, for forty years an honorary president of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and a traveler in many lands in behalf of temperance, died in this city yesterday. Mrs. Leavitt was born in Houkinton, N.H., in 1830, and married Thomas H. Leavitt at Thetford, Vt., in 1857. She traveled 200,000 miles, and with the aid of interpreters, spoke to people in 51 languages in behalf of temperance, morality and Christianity.

KING AND QUEEN HOME

Their Majesties Arrive in London After Three Months Away.

London Turns Out to Give a Hearty Welcome to King George and Queen Mary and Party—Premier Asquith and Cabinet Are First to Greet the Travelers — Thanksgiving Services Held Throughout the Country.

London, Feb. 6.—King George and Queen Mary returned to England yesterday from the most memorable journey ever undertaken together by a King and Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.

After an absence of three months, during which they have been crowned Emperor and Empress of India, and had received the homage of many of their princely vassals in the vast eastern empire, they were welcomed back to London in the most hearty manner.

Their present stay in the British Isles will be only a short one, as they are due to pay a round of state visits to European courts this spring and summer.

After breakfasting on board the Medina with Queen Mother Alexandra, the Prince of Wales and the other royal children, Their Majesties landed and were saluted by the guns of the forts around Portsmouth. On the quay were drawn up guards of honor of bluejackets and soldiers, who presented arms, while a military band struck up the National Anthem.

The King inspected the guard of honor and then boarded a special train in which he with the Queen and the royal children traveled to London, through a country covered thickly with snow. All the stations along the route were decked with flags.

A large assemblage of notables was waiting at Victoria Station when the train pulled in soon after midday. An archway bearing the words "Welcome Home," in gold lettering on a blue ground, was erected across the platform where Their Majesties alighted.

Premier Asquith with other members of the Cabinet were the first to greet the King and Queen. Then came a group of members of the diplomatic corps and prominent officers of the army and navy in brilliant uniforms. The lord mayor and the sheriffs of London, and the lord mayors of the principal cities of the British Isles, all wearing their regalia, were also present to welcome Their Majesties.

When the greetings were over a procession of five royal carriages was formed. The King and Queen, with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, occupied the first carriage, which was drawn by four horses. With its escort of Life Guards in their brilliant uniforms with shining breastplates and helmets and floating plumes, the procession proceeded to Buckingham Palace, passing through Victoria street to Parliament square, and then along Whitehall and the Mall through streets thronged with cheering enthusiasts.

Religious services of thanksgiving for the safe return of the King and Queen from the first visit ever paid by reigning sovereigns of Great Britain to their Indian possessions, will be held this afternoon in Westminster Abbey, and the churches throughout the British Isles.

Canada's Congratulations.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The safe return of His Majesty the King and the Queen was signalized by Canadians by the following cablegram, sent to Their Majesties by the Governor-General yesterday:

"The Government and people of Canada humbly desire to offer their heartfelt congratulations upon Your Majesties' home-coming, and they rejoice in believing that the series of stately and splendid pageants which have marked Your Majesties' progress through India, testify that the spirit of affectionate loyalty which animates the people of Canada is shared in equal measure by our fellow-subjects in those far-off lands, from which through the blessing of God, Your Majesties have safely returned.

(Signed) "Arthur."

Socialist-Liberal Coalition.

Munich, Feb. 6.—The Diet elections, which have attracted uncommon interest resulted yesterday in considerable losses to the Clericals and Conservatives, and gains to the Liberals and Socialists. A novelty of the campaign was the alliance of the Liberals and Socialists with two peasant organizations in an effort to overcome the huge Clerical majority. With the aid of a small Conservative and Agrarian party coalition they succeeded in reducing the Clerical strength by 11 and the Conservatives by 10. The Liberals had a net gain of 11, the Socialists 9, and the Peasants 1.

The new House is made up as follows: Clericals 87, Liberals 37, Socialists 30, Peasant League 4, Conservatives 7.

At Bamberg the Liberal candidate defeated Dr. Schaedler, the Clerical leader.

Western Rates Next Week.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Railway Commission is making preparations for the opening a week from to-day of the enquiry into the western freight rates. A great deal of preliminary information has already been secured. The opening session, however, will likely be merely formal, outlining the line of procedure, and no evidence will be taken until the commission goes west to hold its sessions. This will be very shortly.

Several other important cases will also be heard at the session meeting on Feb. 13, all bearing on the question of western rates.

The Vancouver Board of Trade has asked for an enquiry into the question of eastbound traffic rates which will be heard next week.

'Ware Churchill, Priests' Advice.

Belfast, Feb. 6.—At all Catholic churches in Belfast Sunday the priests made a special appeal to Catholics and to Nationalists to keep away from the Churchill meeting on Thursday, and to use every endeavor to preserve peace.

NEW GERMAN ENGINE

Experts Carefully Guard Secret of Latest Invention.

The British Admiralty Has Been Informed From a Reliable Source That German War Engineers Have Made a Successful Trial of a New Engine That Will Give Kaiser's Fleet an Immense Advantage.

London, Feb. 6.—The British Admiralty has received news from a reliable source that a type of internal combustion engine has been brought well toward completion by German engineer experts, which, if it fulfills the expectations of its designers, should give the German navy an immense advantage in its race for supremacy against the British and against all other navies of the world.

A prominent engineer, who has learned of the main details of this engine—which its designers have endeavored to keep secret—said yesterday: "I can conceive that a vessel may be designed, using these engines, which would make the latest Dreadnaught obsolete, and it would look as if the revolution was imminent. For such a vessel, the radius of steaming might be multiplied by three or four, or the thickness of armor it could carry greatly increased, or the vulnerability much diminished."

In one of the principal works in Germany a marine plant has been completed, after exhaustive studies and expensive experiments, by a most able and confidential staff, which can be destined only for the use of the navy. It is of 18,000 horsepower, consisting of three engines of 6,000 horsepower each, one to each propeller. Each engine has three cylinders, producing 2,000 horsepower each, the cylinders being double-action, the explosion occurring on both sides of the pistons.

The incorporation of such an installation in a war vessel means the abolition of boilers and smokestacks, also the saving of the space occupied by bunkers, as the engines would require less than one-half pound per horsepower hour, which would mean one hundred tons of oil per 24 hours for full power and full speed. Any kind of crude or refined oil may be used.

Business Block Burns.

Hamilton, Feb. 6.—One of the most serious fires which has visited Hamilton in years, and one which in its early stages threatened destruction to a block of business houses in the heart of the city, started in the book bindery of the Robert Duncan & Co., 19 North James street, about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and, although for the most part confined to that building, burned stubbornly all day, and was not finally extinguished until last night.

The loss caused by the fire will approximate $75,000. Two-thirds of this sum represents the damage to the Duncan plant, which is practically destroyed, and the remainder is divided among Cloke & Son, stationers, etc., 16 West King street, whose loss will be between $20,000 and $25,000; the Nordheimer Piano Agency, 18 West King street, whose premises were damaged to the extent of probably $2,000, and the Harris Bakery, which lost $500 worth of flour stock in a cellar close to the Duncan building.

Killed by Madman.

Moosejaw, Sask., Feb. 6.—An unknown man became suddenly insane on the eastbound express near Swift Current yesterday morning and terrified the passengers by firing repeatedly with a revolver, killing John G. Klundt of Garrison, N.D., a wealthy land speculator, who was returning home from Medicine Hat with his brother, Guslen A. Klundt. The maniac then suicided.

Both bodies were removed from the train at this point. The murderer, an old man, had a ticket for Campbelltown, N.B. Klundt was asleep at the time. He was shot through the back of the head by the first shot from the lunatic's revolver.

Klundt's brother said he did not know the murderer.

After firing wildly through the car, the man turned the pistol on himself and blew out his brains.

Bitter Over Sentence.

London, Feb. 6.—Indignation in this country is rapidly growing at the sentence imposed upon Bertram Stewart, a prominent London lawyer, who recently at Leipsic was found guilty of espionage and ordered confined in a fortress for three and a half years. Stewart's trial lasted five days and when the verdict was announced he declared vehemently that he was innocent and that he wanted everybody in England to know it.

It is suggested that a movement be organized for the boycott by British tourists of all German holiday resorts, as a protest against what is almost universally characterized by the newspapers as a "judicial scandal" and "a gross miscarriage of justice."

The feeling has become more embittered than ever.

Death of David Dowsley.

Brockville, Feb. 6.—The death is announced from Frankville of David Dowsley, a prominent figure in the Township of Kitley. For more than half a century he had the honor of occupying the post of president of the township agricultural society. Of the three sons surviving, two are doctors, G. C. Dowsley of Manitoulin Island, and D. H. Dowsley of Ottawa. He was in his 86th year.

Nationalists Will Stick.

Montreal, Feb. 6.—Le Devoir publishes a special from Quebec last evening, to the effect that Mr. Lesperance, M.P. for Montmagny, had stated that the pre-election promises of the Nationalists members would be fulfilled to the letter, and that a motion to repeal the naval bill would be introduced during the present session.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.

Wheat—Trade was fairly large all day. The market, after opening firm, in sympathy with the higher cables, later sold off on free realizing by local longs and the tone to the market during the balance of the day was heavy. The continued large receipts in the northwest, together with the absence of outside speculation, is the discouraging factor.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat, ⅝d to 1¼d higher than Saturday, and corn ⅛d to ¼d higher. Argentine wheat was ⅝c higher.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Feb. 5.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 63 carloads, consisting of 1000 cattle, 412 hogs, 100 sheep, 21 calves and 18 horses.

Exporters.

W. F. Howard bought for Swift & Co. 34 cattle for export to Liverpool—31 steers, 1176 lbs. each, at $6.65; 3 heifers, 1233 lbs., at $6.

Butchers.

The best picked lots of butchers' cattle sold at $6 to $6.50; loads of good, $5.75 to $6; medium, $5.40 to $5.65; common, $5 to $5.30; inferior, $4.50 to $5; cows, $2.50 to $5.25; bulls, $4 to $5.50.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers were quoted at $40 to $65 each, and one extra choice Holstein cow sold at $80.

Veal Calves.

Prices for veal calves were unchanged, at $4 to $8 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $4 to $4.75, with a few selected at $5 per cwt.; rams, $3.25 to $3.75; lambs, $6.50 to $6.75, and one or two selected lots sold at $7.

Hogs.

W. J. Johnston reported hog prices as follows: Selects, fed and watered at the market, $6.60, and $6.25 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. This means about $6.10 to the farmers.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 3 were 1900 cattle, 450 sheep and lambs, 2250 hogs and 400 calves. The supply on the market this morning for sale amounted to 1000 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 1375 hogs and 250 calves.

The trade in cattle opened slow this morning, owing to the fact that drovers were firm in their views and tried to maintain prices in spite of the weakness displayed in the Toronto market at the latter end of last week. Consequently buyers held off to some extent and especially the larger operators, which weakened holders later in the day and resulted in a more active trade being done.

The supply of cattle was not excessive, but it was ample to fill all requirements as the packing concerns were not in the market for as many as usual, as they had fair stocks of beef on hand. A few extra choice steers sold as high as $7, but the bulk of the trading in choice was done at $6.75 and full car-loads changed hands at $6.50 per cwt.

The trade in sheep, lambs and calves was quiet, owing to the limited supplies offered and prices showed no important change. In hogs the feeling was stronger and prices were a little higher in sympathy with an advance in the Toronto market of 10c per cwt., and sales of selected lots were made here at $7.15 per cwt, weighed off cars.

Export cattle, bulls, $6.50 to $6.75; butchers' cattle, choice, $4 to $6; do., medium, $3 to $3.50; do., common, $2.50 to $3; canners, $3 to $3.25; butchers' cattle, choice cows, $3 to $4.75; do., medium, $3.25 to $3.50; feeding steers, $3 to $5; stockers, light, $75 to $90; milkers, choice, each, $50 to $65; do., common and medium, each, $30 to $45; springers, $4.50 to $4.75.

Sheep, ewes, $3.75 to $4.25; bucks and culls, $6.50 to $7.

Hogs, fed and watered, $7.15; f.o.b., $3 to $12.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

Interest In Woman's Suffrage.

London, Feb. 6.—Stirring events in connection with the revolt of British women are scheduled for February. Three great meetings will be held in Albert Hall—two for and one against votes for women — and innumerable lesser meetings will take place in other halls. Meanwhile the intensity of the general feeling is shown by scores of letters and articles in the newspapers. The women have opened a recruiting office for men who are willing to fight for the cause of their wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts. The number of able-bodied men enlisted already is sufficient to cause anxiety to the police.

More Pay For Militia.

Ottawa, Feb. 6—The Canada Gazette announces a general change in the pay and allowances of officers and men in the permanent and non-permanent forces of the country. The pay of the men of the non-permanent forces has been increased from 50 cents a day to 75 cents a day. The schedule of efficiency pay has been done away with, and the schedule now is a flat rate of 75 cents a day and 85 cents a day for those serving two years in succession, with an efficiency allowance of 15 cents a day.

The pay of the men in the permanent forces has been improved and changed from a daily pay to an annual salary.

Garrison Rebels.

Mexico, Feb. 6.—A special to The Herald from Ciudad Camargo, 80 miles south of Chihuahua, says that a portion of the small garrison stationed there rebelled on Sunday. Con. Gonzales has gone there to confer with them.

Ald. Clarke said he was in favor of the G. T. R. keeping its dock, and the city pressing its claim for the $25,000.

The Committee rose and reported. The report was received and adopted.

ENQUIRIES.

Ald. Robinson asked several questions of the City Engineer in reference to sewer excavations, and the nature of the roadway where the same were constructed.

These were answered by Mr. Lindsay.

Ald. Parks asked why the Council Chamber was not heated that afternoon for the Ayrshire Breeders' meeting.

Several Aldermen—Why did you not look after it.

Ald. Marshall asked why the snow on certain vacant lots was not shovelled this winter.

Ald. Panter—This is a matter for the police to look after.

Ald. Clarke asked why icicles on certain buildings on Front Street were not removed as they were dangerous to pedestrians; also if it was a fact that city police were doing county work.

Mayor Vermilyea—In regard to the latter inquiry, the Police Commissioners have not met since he had been Mayor.

At this stage of the proceedings the time was extended two hours.

INTRODUCTION OF BY-LAW

Ald. Panter introduced a by-law for the construction of a sewer on Campbell Street.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on By-laws; Ald. Robinson in the chair.

The by-law was passed through its various stages and numbered 196.

MOTIONS.

Ald. Robinson moved, seconded by Ald. Lucas, that the positions of Assistant Engineer and Public Works Foreman be declared vacant, and that an advertisement be inserted in the newspapers inviting applications to fill the position of Street Surveyor.

A vote for the suspension of the rules to permit the motion was adopted.

Ald. Robinson said he understood Mr. Frost desired $2.50 per day if he was retained as a city employee. Ald Robinson's idea was to do away with the Assistant Engineer and Foreman of Public Works and employ a competent Street Surveyor.

Ald. Lott said there was only one to discharge, namely, Mr. Frost.

Mr. Lindsay stated that Mr. Hopkins, the Sewer Inspector, had not been in the employ of the city since last Wednesday.

Ald. Panter thought that the motion was not necessary, in view of the fact that Mr. Hopkins was not in the employ of the city, and in regard to Mr. Frost's services, they were under the control of the Public Works Committee.

Ald. Clarke said the motion was one that he could not vote for. It did not define what the position of Street Surveyor was to be.

Ald. Panter moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Woodley, that as Mr. Hopkins is not in the employ of the city, we concur in the motion to do away with the Sewer Inspector until the work on sewers is resumed, and the question of having a Street Surveyor be referred to the Public Works Committee.

Ald. Robinson withdrew his motion and Ald. Panter's amendment prevailed.

Mr. Lindsay said that Mr. Hopkins was a capable man and he (Mr. Lindsay) was paying him at present out of his own pocket for doing city work.

Ald. Woodley moved, seconded by Ald. Panter, that the Tax Collector at the next meeting of the Council present a report showing what taxes are due on the 1909 roll.—Carried.

Ald. Parks moved, seconded by Ald. Chown, that a by-law be prepared to appoint a member of the Council as permanent chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Ald. Parks spoke in support of the motion.

Aldermen Panter, McCurdy and Bogle thought the matter ought be left in the hands of the Mayor.

The motion was lost.

Ald. Panter's notice o motion given at the last meeting of the Council that all lands in the possession of the city be sold when a tax sale of land for taxes is held, was, ater some discussion, allowed to remain as a notice of motion.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Ald. Robinson gave notice that at the next meeting of the Council he would move that the office of City Engineer be abolished for the present, and until the Council considers it advisable to appoint another.

MATTER OF PRIVILEGE.

Ald. Clarke, as a matter of privilege said he had been misunderstood in reference to the proposed pavement of Front Street. He was opposed to the taxpayers of the city paying the whole cost. If the property owners on Front Street paid for it they should be reliveed of taxation for improvements upon other streets of the city.

Council adjourned.

BOY SCOUT LEADERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

Opportune Time for a Gathering of All Who Are Associated With the Movement.

Mr. H. G. Hammond, Provincial Secretary of the Boy Scout Movement writes from Toronto under date February 1st:

The Boy Scout Movement is again launched out upon another year's work, which promises to be most successful. The returns for 1911 show that our leading citizens are realizing that our movement is an ideal one for boys; helping to develop in them the true spirit of manliness that will be of benefit to them all through life. Boys are taking an interest in the welfare and future of this Canada of ours and are beginning to realise that if we are to become a nation, they must every one of them do their part towards this end, and not only themselves, but they are also helping the other fellow who may, through circumstances, be a little downhearted. 7,000 boys in the Province of Ontario alone are trying to live day by day that they may be of service to their fellow-man; 7,000 boys doing their good turn every day, 365 days of the year, 2,555,000 good turns done each year at the present strength, which will double during 1912. Yet in the face of this some will say that Boy Scouts are being trained for the purpose of going out to shoot the other fellow. What utter nosense! "There are none so blind as those that will not see." To those who are opposed to the movement I would say:—Secure the "Canadian Boy Scout" and read before making your final decision as to the value of the movement among boys. We have during the past few weeks been somewhat misunderstood in so far that the proposed Cadet Camps have been termed "Boy Scout Camps." The Boy Scout movement is a separate organization for working along its own lines under the principles as laid down in the "Canadian Boy Scout," that of making clean, healthy, all-round citizens of the lads throughout the Dominion. Boy Scout camps are held either by combined towns or districts, or in individual troops, and financed by the boys themselves or by friends of the respective troops or districts. During 1911 the majority of the troops held camps which were a success.

The time is now opportune for a gathering together of all those who are associated with the Boy Scout Movement. Realizing this, the Provincial Council for Ontario have called a conference at Toronto for Feb. 23rd and 24th, next. The conference will be held in the City Hall and a splendid programme is being arranged, which will be composed of talks by our leading Scout officers and others, and in which all phases of the Boy Scout life will be dealt with. The social end will be well taken care of and we hope to have a rousing convention with representatives from all parts of the Province. The railways are giving special rates. If you have not already been reached by the secretary of your district, write the Provincial Secretary Room 301, Lumsden Bldg., Toronto.

Provincial Secretary.

Cows and Their Food

During the recent drought in the southwest the buttermilk made directly from fresh sweet milk was discovered to cause diarrhoeas and other unpleasant symptoms, although it had for several months before been found entirely satisfactory. Investigation led to the conclusion that the change was due to the cows eating weeds and leaves of trees instead of grass. The feeding of cows from which infants' milk is obtained is especially important at all times of year, as well as their care otherwise. Milk produced in northern pastures and condensed or evaporated without the application of a temperature above 60 degrees F. may be superior to the local milk obtained fresh.

Is the Show Ring Useless?

One of the most prominent gentlemen connected with racing affairs in the country being toast-master at a recent social function, saw proper, in the course of a lengthy speech, to use this language: "The thoroughbred is the essential oil, so to speak, of horse flesh. The show ring is useless as a method of selection and will ultimately go far astray with its theoretical requirements as to a conformation based upon what is deemed best for something the horse used to do. With all honor and respect due the bench show, we all know what havoc it has played with breeds of sporting dogs which have ceased to be used for the original purpose for which they had been developed by the sportsmen."

How to Sleep.

Dr. Fischer, a physician practising in Paris, after a series of experiments has come to the conclusion that the orthodox way of sleeping is wrong and advocates a complete reversal of the existing order of things. You must have your head on a level with, or lower than, your feet. If pillows are to be used they must be under the feet instead of the head. The result he claims, will be amazing, being a sure cure for insomnia, as well as a preventive for the nightmare. To prevent any inconvenience by too sudden a change, it is suggested that the pillows should be gradually reduced and finally placed under the feet.

BRAINY WORKERS

Working Shoemakers, Chimney Sweepers, Tramcar Men, and Seamstresses Are Amongst the Most Learned.

Genius like murder, will out, and the history of modern literature provides us with some striking examples of men and women who, although humbly born and denied by circumstances any educational advantages, have given to the world some remarkable literary works. At the present time, for instance, the compilers of the great Oxford English Dictionary are deriving much help in their work from a Concordance of the words of Thomas Kyd, a learned literary man and dramatist of the sixteenth century, which has been compiled by Mr. Charles Crawford, a London railway clerk.

Mr. Crawford is a great authority on Elizabethan English and published his Concordance five years ago. His knowledge of words has been acquired through close study, and is certainly extraordinary; for often when experts have stated, without investigation, that such and such a word or phrase occurs only in certain writers, or does not appear in certain authors, Mr. Crawford has produced abundant evidence showing the statement to be incorrect.

The Shoemaker Historian

An even more remarkable work than Mr. Crawford's Concordance, however, was that compiled by John Mackintosh, LL.D., who died at Aberdeen four years ago. Although Mackintosh was a shoemaker by trade, he was one of the most notable personalities that the North Country has of recent times produced, and his 'History of Civilization in Scotland,' in four big volumes, has been described as one of the most complete histories of Scotland ever written.

Chimney Sweep and Author.

It is only a few weeks ago that the University Extension Board appointed Mr. Walter Hunt lecturer on sociology. Mr. Hunt has had an amazing career. He started life as a sailor, spent some time in the fire brigade, and then set up as a chimney sweep at Streatham. He then decided to attend the Robert Browning Settlement in Walworth, and in time was led to write a thoughtful little book wherein he discusses the question, "Are we a declining race?" which attracted much attention among critics. Mr. Hunt's successful writings on race deterioration, involving as they did an immense amount of research work, are the more remarkable when one considers that his calling took him out at four o'clock in the morning. Most of his study was done at night time, and he confided in an interview a little while ago that he found no time to read anything but works on science and history. "Life is too short to waste time in reading fiction," he said.

It might be mentioned that London also possesses a linguistic tramwayman in the person of Mr. Richard Hobdell, of London, who is employed by the London County Council as a pointsman on the car system. Mr Hobdell has a perfect knowledge of Arabic and Sanskrit, and has just finished translating a book from Sanskrit into English. Hobdell, who was with Lord Roberts on the famous march from Kabul to Kandahar, has devoted much of his leisure time since leaving the Army to the study of languages — a study of which he has always been very fond.

The literary sensation of last year was a book, "Marie Claire," written by a Parisian seamstress, Marguerite Audoux, who worked as a dressmaker in one small room on the sixth floor of a house in Paris. The story won a prize of $1000 and royalties — a prize given every year by what is know as the Goncourt Academy for the best novel of the year. It took the seamstress ten years to write her book. "I did not write it to be published," she said, during the course of an interview, as she sat in her little workroom; "it is just my life." And it is because Marguerite Audoux told the story of her life in plain, simple language that she scored such a literary success.

"We voted together for the first time and I guess we thought just alike all along," said Mrs. Gideon Frazer, who, with her husband, sat three days recently on the same jury and helped return a verdict today convicting Meyer Cohen of embezzlement from the Moose Lodge. It was the first time a husband and wife had served on the same jury in this state, possibly in the country, and the couple were the centre of attraction for many who visited the trial.

THE POST OFFICE AND THE GLOBE

(Toronto News)

Another stage in The Globe's controversy with the Post Office Department was reached the other day when Mr. Armstrong, the member for East Lambton, interpolated Mr. Pelletier, the new Postmaster-General, on the subject. In response to one question the Minister recalled a statement made in the House on July 27th, 1911, by his predecessor in office, Mr. Lemieux, speaking as Postmaster-General, declared that by strictly enforcing clause 60 of the Post Office regulations, he would collect a special postal charge of "one cent per four ounces to each separate address" on all newspapers sent to non-subscribers during the election campaign. It is to be borne in mind that the ordinary mailing rate charged by the Post Office on newspapers sent to regular subscribers was, and is, one-quarter of a cent per pound.

The special rate is more than sixteen times the regular rate—far more, because the special levy is made on the copies mailed to each individual address, while the ordinary postage is collected on the bulk weight of the daily circulation. It would thus be seen what an enormous advantage would accrue during the course of a campaign to a party newspaper that could get its copies carried at the smaller rate while the larger impost was exacted from its rivals on the other side of politics. The Postmaster-General of the day was under the temptation to utilize the machinery of his department to promote the circulation of Government newspapers and to curtail that of Opposition journals. In the late contest the Post Office was thus prostituted for the benefit of The Globe and the Liberal party and to the disadvantage of The News and the opponents of reciprocity.

The second question put to the Postmaster-General was one as to whether the Toronto post office during the late campaign referred the matter of excess postage charges against The Globe and The News to the Department at Ottawa, and as to what the Department's ruling was in each case. Mr. Pelletier replied that no such ruling was necessary as the regulations governing the point were perfectly clear. Mr. Lemieux's statement in the House on July 27th had put that issue beyond peradventure. Yet it is known that for weeks The Globe was permitted to send out tens of thousands of extra copies daily at the regular minimum rate of postage, while the campaign circulation of The News was blocked by the steady exaction of the excess postage levied by Mr. Lemieux. In this way the chief Liberal organ was assisted in getting its arguments (such as they were) before the electorate on on both sides of politics, while the special election circulation of The News was greatly curtailed. Mr. Pelletier's answer is incomplete in that he fails to explain that before the date of the general election was anounced a ruling was made by the Post Office Department prohibiting The News the postal rates enjoyed by The Globe all through the contest and that it was in consequence of that ruling that Mr. Armstrong asked his question last July and Mr. Lemieux declared that the privileged rate secured by The Globe during the election would be refused to any and every newspaper on either side of politics.

The next question asked of Mr. Pelletier by Mr. Armstrong was this: Is it true, as claimed by The Toronto Globe, in its issue of January 9th, 1912, that The Globe had a binding agreement on the part of the Post Office Department to carry these papers at the regular rate of postage, viz., one-quarter of a cent per pound? To this query the new Postmaster-General responded with an unqualified "No." The Department files contain no records as to the particular means by which The Globe was given its special privilege. Some one in authority must have sanctioned the injustice and told The Globe Printing Company to pay no heed to the demands of the Department officials. We know that The Globe was asked by the under officials to pay the excess postage and that it refused. It is also public property that in the past few weeks the Post Office has requested The Globe Printing Company to discharge its debt of $25,700 to the Department and to the country.

WHITE VERY BUSY.

Tariff Commission Bill Must Come Before Budget.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Contrary to the rumors that have been prevalent during the past few weeks, the budget will not be brought down to the House until the first week in March, or, at the very earliest, the latter part of the present month.

Hon. Mr. White is prevented from announcing his budget in a few days by the attention which he is bestowing upon the bill for the appointment of a tariff commission. Originally, it was thought that Hon. George E. Foster would be the parent of that scheme, but as it was found that all the work of the commission, its findings and its investigations, dealt directly with the tariff of the country, it was decided that Hon. Mr. White would take charge of the bill. Day and night he is devoting himself to it.

Granted that the budget is brought down in the beginning of March, the House cannot prorogue until Easter at the very earliest. It was anticipated that it would do so about the middle of March, but this is very improbable now.

In the Liberal camp all does not go well. Sir Wilfrid Laurier wished last September to go to California, but was prevented by the exigencies of his party, and submerged his personal interests for the good of the Opposition. He has now definitely decided to go to California for his health, and will do so at the earliest opportunity. That depends upon the return of Hon. George Graham to Parliament, and if that be accomplished, then Sir Wilfrid will depart at the end of the month. Whether or not the late Minister of Railways comes back to Parliament, Sir Wilfrid will go to California, and as there is no one of leader's calibre left to fill his place, a rather premature prorogation may be expected, and the debate on the budget may be after all a rather tame affair.

Memorial For 1812 Heroes.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Premier was waited upon yesterday afternoon by a large and representative deputation from the "memorial to the heroes of 1812-1814 Association," accompanied by a number of Conservative members of Parliament, who asked that the Federal Government should erect at the entrance to Queen's Park, Toronto, a fitting memorial in granite and bronze to the men who fell in those campaigns.

Major W. Hamilton Merritt introduced the deputation, which included Col. D. M. Robertson of the 48th Highlanders, and many stalwart imperialists of the stamp of Alexander McNeill, ex-M.P.

The Premier gave a reply which was regarded as favorable, but the delegation will have to wait for the supplementary estimates to see whether they were successful or not. He stated that the noble example of the United Loyalists had been always an inspiration to Canadians.

NEW BATHING SUITS

New York.—Skirts on bathing suits are only in the way thinks Miss Dorothy Taylor, the young New York society woman whose abbreviated costume on European bathing beaches last summer shocked many American visitors. Trousers or trunks are less clumsy. Only prudish, silly people, with naughty minds see the harm in a skirtless bathing suit," she says, "when I go swimming, I go into the water, and I wear silk trousers, or trunks and a long silk jersey, which reaches almost to my knees."

SIR CHAS. TUPPER ILL

London. — Sir William Barlow and the physicians in attendance upon Sir Charles Tupper, at Bexley Heath, this morning issued a bulletin stating that their distinguished patient is maintaining his condition.

Saved by His Wit.

One evening, when the city clerk's office was full of men seeking registration, an Irishman asked to be registered. He received the usual blank, with the request that he sign his name. This he succeeded in doing, after a painful effort.

Suspecting that this was the extent of his accomplishments, an onlooker called out to the clerk:

"Try him on another name! Let him write yours."

"'Deed, I'd never dare!" said the Irishman, quick as lightning. "Sure, 'twould be forgery!"

EPWORTH LEAGUES' TENTH CONVENTION

First Day's Proceedings were Highly Interesting—What was Said and What was Done—Mayor Vermilyea Presents an Address of Welcome—Rev. Mr. Kenny Replied for the Convention—Attendance in Excess of That of Last Year

The tenth Biennial Bay of Quinte Conference Epworth League Convention, which will be in session this week in Bridge Street Methodist Church was opened on Tuesday afternoon under most favorable auspices; the registration for the first day and attendance at the two sessions exceeding that of previous years.

The first session opened with devotional exercises conducted by the Conference Epworth League officers, followed by prayer by Rev. Dr. Lake of Port Hope. The President, Rev. L. S. Wight, B.A., B.D., of Stirling, occupied the chair.

In the absence of Mr. Wm. Ketchum, Brighton, Secretary of Conference, who was unable to be present, owing to the illness of his wife, Rev. Mr. Leigh was appointed to look after the railroad certificates, Rev. A. H. Foster, Colborne, as Secretary, pro tem, and Miss Florence Hall, Wicklow, as reporter.

Then followed two very practical and helpful addresses on Literary and Social work, to which department this session was devoted.

Mr. Ingall, B.A., Bancroft, discussed "Literary Work in the League," expressing himself as fortunate in being privileged to address the young people of the Conference. He referred to the unlimited possibilities of youth, realizing only as we grow older that youth comes to us only once, and only once are we privileged to take advantage of the opportunities. Conventions were at one time considered as "dry," but this was because of the attitude in which they were approached. We must draw near these gatherings to catch inspiration; must transmit it to others as we return to our homes. This is our responsibility. In the Epworth League there is nothing more important than literature. There are three reasons for this: (1) Literature is a storehouse for the best thoughts of all ages, of more importance than painting, sculpture, architecture or music, for each of these can represent only one thing at a time, while literature is able by covering all, to represent all. There are imitations of art, etc., but only by travelling long distances are we able to view the original, while literature comes to us in all its different forms. (2) Literature is a bank upon which all may draw. In it there is no combine, no contrast; indeed the poor are often the richest contributors. Have we presented a draft this year? Have we been seeking to enrich our minds? (3) Literature is a process of sifting; only the best comes through. A golden nugget the literature that ever existed were blotted out Christianity would become traditional. The church should be the brightest and most pleasant place outside of the home, but literature is neglected for the sake of sport. We should study our Bible because not only of the relation of God man, but because of its literary qualities. The following course of winter reading was outlined by Mr. Ingall, (one hour a week for three months): One book of Old Testament history, one book of Old Testament poetry and one of Old Testament prophecy; same of New Testament history, modern biography, such as Gladstone, translation of Homer, history, and Pilgrim's Progress; also the history of the good old hymns.

The subject, "Social Responsibility of the Church" was taken by Miss Loretta Winter, Wicklow, who gave a most helpful address. Responsibility presents to our minds duty. Christ commanded us to be His witnesses; it is our duty to obey. To help others we must know them, and this is one great opportunity which the social department affords—personal work. Our minds carry us to the future—tomorrow. Those who are now at the front, will soon be gone, and the younger ones will takes their places. Therefore it is the duty of the church to train those who will be the leaders of tomorrow. The world uses everything bright and attractive to win the young people, and the church must do likewise. It is easy to be good when we are happy, and to win others we must show them that the happiest people in all the world are Christians. We cannot all preach but we can sympathize. We must be 'social to save.' Christ came to do His Father's business and we must have the time to follow where He leads. Organizations and socials are splendid ways of winning others. They hear the gospel if the social is prayfully planned and prayerfully carried out and it will be productive of much good. What is more important or of more value to the church than young life. We must not only win, but develop our young people. Our motto should be "always for others."

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Cragg, Rev. L. S. Wight led the conference on work in this department, and the session was closed.

EVENING SESSION.

A song service opened the evening session, and in the absence of Rev. Dr. Bishop, Judge Deroche acted as chairman. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dr McTavish. The delegates, officers and speakers of the convention were officially welcomed by the Mayor of the city. Mr. Vermilyea referred to the worthy object of our Epworth League, and assured us that we would meet with a warm reception from the citizens of Belleville, and trusted that our stay might be productive of much good to the people of Belleville as well as to the representatives of various Leagues who are here, and that we might carry away pleasant memories of our stay in the city.

Rev. W. G. Clarke, President of the Conference, presented, in his usual happy manner, greetings from the church life of Belleville. Mr. Clarke spoke of the character of the Epworth League—loyalty to Christ and the church—and recognized the fact that such a gathering as this convention must stand for something. Mr. Clarke hoped that in our gathering here we would not only receive a bless-

Mrs. Fuller Clapp is slowing reing, but that we would be a blessing to those with whom we may come in contact.

Rev. H. B. Kenny, Bowmanville, former President of the Conference Epworth League, on behalf of the convention, thanked the Mayor, church people and citizens of Belleville who have given us such a cordial welcome to their city and homes. Mr. Kenny spoke of the great necessity of training the young life of the church—the future leaders. God can only do His work through human agency. Our boys and girls must be cultured and trained. Everything that has to do with physical development the church must take up. The great need of the young people is the finding of their true balance. Recreation is the salt of life when properly regulated. In a well balanced life we find the one developed and the other not forgotten. Play has its place and work its place. Mr. Kenny trusted our stay here would give us a broader conception of duty—a love for our fellows so that we may help them.

The Leaguers were privileged to listen to Rev. J. W. Graham, B.A., B.D., of Toronto, who gave a stirring address, taking for his topic "The Imminence of God from the Divine Side—Present Day Religion from the Human Side," and used as his text, "In My Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you that where I am, there ye may be also." There are varied views of the Father's house. God reveals Himself in nature. History is God revealing Himself to man. God is here now or nowhere. God is not far from us; He is here and now.

Music most appreciated and enjoyed was rendered by the choir, Albert College Male Quartette, Miss Riggs, Mr. Ridley.

Rev. F. C. Stephenson, M.D., and Rev. Mr. Bowles, West China, gave a moving picture missionary exhibition of scenes in China, which was much enjoyed and very instructive.

The President, Rev. L. S. Wight, drew attention to the fact that the splendid sessions of Tuesday were only samples of the sessions to follow.

WOULD PURCHASE TREASURES.

St. Petersburg, Feb 6.—A Franco-American syndicate has offered Chao-Ern-Haun, the viceroy of Manchuria, to purchase the sacred treasures in the palace at Mukden for $650,000, according to a telegram received here from that city this morning.

COURT AND JURY VISIT SCENE OF CRIME

Viterbo Court Transferred to the Scene of the Murders by the Camorrists.

TORRE DEL GRECO, Italy, Feb. 5.—This town, built on part of the lava stream which came from Mount Vesuvius in 1631, was the setting today for the trial of the members of the Camorra in prison at Viterbo awaiting the result of the long drawn out case. This place is on the east coast of the Bay of Naples, where the secret society once held complete sway.

It was on a certain part of the open land leading to the bay that Gennaro Cuoccolo, condemned as a traitor by the Camorrists was found dead with several stab wounds in his body. The wife of Cuoccolo was found slain in her home.

The judge from Viterbo, the lawyers and the jury, came here from the session of the trial at Bagnoli, where the banquetting room in a restaurant was examined, it being alleged that the Camorrists met there and condemned Cuoccolo and his wife to death.

The session to-day was held in the open air and lasted for four hours. Two hundred Carbineers were present to protect the judge and the others from any disturbance or violence, as sympathizers and friends of the alleged murderers journeyed here in large numbear to witness the proceedings. Those concerned in to-day's session marched through the crowded streets to the Cafe Palumbo, the reputed meeting place of the Camorrists. Then they proceeded to the seashore, where the body of Cuoccolo was found. They next went to the restaurant where the Camorrists held a banquet, and awaited the news of the execution on the night of the murders. Several witnesses who were examined described the incidents connected with the banquet and other details of the murders.

The lawyers for the accused men attempted to prove that Cuoccolo was not murdered in this town, but that his body was conveyed to the Bay of Naples in a boat and then thrown on the seashore.

It is the general impression that the evidence given to-day and the examination of the various scenes complicates the case and fails to simplify the coming summing up. It is also declared that the chances for acquittal are increased.

PUBLIC MEETING.

A public meeting will be held in the City Hall this evening for the purpose of conferring with citizens in regard to the establishment in this city of the United Motor Car industry.

AN EXPLANATION.

A few have the idea that the ladies of the Y.M.C.A. should not have undertaken to provide meals for the delegates at the Epworth League convention. It was on account of the central location and the accommodations at the new building that the Convention Committee appealed to the ladies to undertake it. It is a great convenience to the Convention.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Last evening, while some cars were being hauled on the Grand Junction Railway line on Pinnacle street, one of them jumped the track opposite Hotel Quinte. The car was laden with some 20 tons of manufactured material from the rolling mills. Some difficulty was experienced in getting the car back upon the track.

LADIES WERE PLEASED.

Leap Year night at the rink last night was greatly enjoyed by a big crowd of skaters and by the spectators as well. It was a decided novelty for the girls to invite their male friends to skate and return them safely to their chaperons, but the ladies were fully equal to the occasion and fulfilled their duties in a most gentlemanly manner. Not only that, but they hope that Manager Arnott will give them an early opportunity of repeating last night's pleasant experience.

LEAP YEAR ASSEMBLY

A leap year assembly took place at Symons' academy last night which proved to be a most enjoyable affair. The ladies were the promoters and managers of the event and they left nothing undone to make it a success. The hall was filled to its capacity, and dancing was indulged in until an early hour this morning. Lunch was served at midnight. Excellent music was furnished by Sprague's orchestra.

Ladies' Golf Attire.

A golf kit is an essential in the wardrobe of most of the society women who are now out on holiday. The Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia who have been seen doing a round on the links at Ballater in pouring rain, are two Royal ladies who play a good game, and Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein is another Royal enthusiast for golf. The Duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. Asquith and the Premier's daughters are some of the ladies known on the links of Gullane and North Berwick. A short skirt of Harris tweed or serge with tailor-made shirt of soft silk or a fine wool, low-heeled shoes, and a jacket of knitted wool, with either a cap to match or the smallest and simplest of turbans in suede — such is the outfit of the woman golfer who is in earnest. There is greater variety than ever this year in the matter of golf coats.

Dr. JAMES W. ROBERTSON

Ottawa.

Dr. James W. Robertson, Chairman of the Royal Commission on Technical Education, and General Consulting Counsel for All Canada on matters of organization and social progress.

That is his present phase: to those who know the man, the fact that he is busy with this subject now, in itself is sufficient evidence that he was not busy with it two years ago, and will not be busy with it two years hence. Not that he is volatile; not that he lacks perseverance; but this — that he is a man at once dowered with a singular gift for observation and organization, and possessed with a fierce restless energy. He is a beginner, not an administrator. Canada is strewed with prosperous institutions which he started, and which he left for others to carry on.

Consider his career for a moment; for part of the significance of what is to follow depends on that career. In the beginning this serious-faced young Scot, with a North British burr in his tongue and a gift of speech which could talk a bird off a bush, managed a cheese factory; two or three chese factories in fact, with a famous brand of his own. His family business had led him into that. His explosive energy and gift for expressing his ideas drew attention, and the early eighties saw him acquired by the Guelph Agricultural College as professor in dairying. Soon Guelph was too small to hold him, and in the early nineties, somewhile before the Conservative Administration went out of office, he was taken possession of by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

DENOUNCES PENSIONS.

Sir Richard Cartwright Says English System Is Harmful.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Sir Richard Cartwright, in a defence of the Government annuities system, in the Senate yesterday, said that there were nearly 3,000 annuities instead of 514, as the Minister of Trade and Commerce had mistakingly announced.

One reason the annuities plan did not receive even greater consideration from the working classes, for whose benefit it was more particularly intended, arose from ignorant and ill-judged conduct of mischievous demagogs, both in and out of Parliament, who did not scruple to assure the people intended to be benefited by the act, that if they would only wait long enough they would be perfectly certain to get what the act proposed to give them and for nothing at all.

Sir Richard denounced old age pension proposals as destruction of thrift. Sir Richard said the worst enemies of the working classes were those who seek to pauperize or degrade them into recipients of pensions they had not earned, and further, that Canada should not make preparations to relieve the submerged tenth, but to see that no submerged tenth exists in Canada.

Joseph's Workshop Unearthed?

New York, Feb. 7.—The New York American has the following cable despatch from London:

Despatches from Palestine announce that excavations at Nazareth has uncovered the site upon which it is declared by competent archaeologists stood the carpenter's shop of Joseph, husband of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Franciscan monks, on whose property the discovery was made, have bought up all the adjoining buildings, and intend erecting thereon a magnificent temple.

It is also believed that the site of Christ's transfiguration has been found. It is an imposing rough hewn rock, resembling an ancient altar.

Many wonderful Mosaics, coins of the early Roman period, exquisite objects of ornament and a number of jewels of the eleventh century were also found near Joseph's workshop.

Looking For the Bodies.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 7.—Although experienced rivermen declare their belief that the bodies of the three ice bridge victims will never be recovered, men in the employ of relatives of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Stanton, Toronto, who lost their lives Sunday, with Burrell Hecock of Cleveland, are patrolling the lower river day and night, in an effort to recover the remains. A close watch is being kept on the whirlpool and along the river in Queenston. Great fires are being kept burning on the lower river bank, but rivermen look upon the efforts to recover the bodies as absolutely futile.

Rumors were around yesterday of the recovery of the bodies, and hundreds of people went to the whirlpool to witness the rescue work.

Big Paper Mill for Thorold.

St. Catharines, Feb. 7.—A new $1,000,000 paper mill, to employ 300 hands, is to be established near Thorold. The township council Monday passed a bylaw on to the ratepayers for a vote on the 28th, to fix a nominal assessment for twenty-five acres of land near the smelter. James Beattie is named as the trustee. An unnamed Chicago firm supplies the capital.

Vegetables properly prepared and stored in a good cellar can be kept as good as new far into the following summer. Potatoes and all roots will keep better if covered with dry earth. Cabbage and lettuce should be trimmed of rough leaves and roots and packed head downwards. For celery, take all rough, worthless stalks and leaves off the roots, place close together on the cellar floor and fill in between the plants with fine sand to nicely cover the roots. If properly done the celery will keep until June. Onions, if well cured, can be kept in long boxes a foot deep, suspended two feet from the cellar ceiling. All stuff should be covered with cotton sheeting or old bags, to keep it from sudden changes of temperature by opening doors. The cellar should be kept at a forty to forty-five degrees temperature.

With just a little care and trouble fresh vegetables can be in use every day in the year.

Fighting the Hessian Fly

When fall wheat is attacked by the Hessian Fly sowing should be postponed as late as possible, that is to the end of September. CHANGED BUT SLIGHTLY IN 100,000 YEARS

Finding of a Skeleton Beneath Clay Gives a New View of Man's Evolution.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—English scientists are taking a vast amount of interest in the discovery of a skeleton beneath an undisturbed layer of boulders and clay in East Anglia. If the evidence is good, this skeleton must be that of a man who belonged to a race that lived in that district before the most severe of the various ice-movements of the glacial period.

A singular feature of the discovery is that in most respects the skeleton resembles that of the modern Englishman, and is not of the more Simian type to which the Neanderthal man, though a very much later phenomenon, belongs.

Prof. Keith, anthropologist at the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, says:

"There is every evidence that this man lived long before the glacial period. During this period England was covered with a great thickness of ice. Finally this melted and a layer of debris was deposited. It was underneath a deposit of this sort that the skeleton was found, hence he must have lived before the ice age and before the rivers formed.

"The finding of this skeleton strengthens the belief that the evolution of man was an infinitely longer process than we originally thought. At one time believers in the evolution theory thought that man's development to his present state might have taken something like 10,000 years. Later they put the period at something around 20,000 years. The difference, if any, between this man's bodily frame work and modern man's are so minute as to prove that the evolution must have taken hundreds of thousands of years.

"This discovery shows that England was inhabited as early, if not earlier, than any continental country."

FIGHTING OR BOXING?

An attempt has been made in certain quarters to define a prize fight, as distinguished from a boxing contest, by petty quibbling over the word "prize." For example, several courts have ruled that it's a "prize fight" if there is a division of the gate receipts or purse; or if there is any championship at stake, believing that such is the intended meaning of the "prize" part of the term.

Such distinctions are childish, says a sporting writer. There has not been a prize fight, in the original meaning of the term, since Sullivan fought Jake Kilrain. The laws on the statutes of most commonwealths were framed against the bare knuckle and skin-tight glove matches — battles fought under London prize ring rules.

For the good of the game, some generally accepted definition of what a boxing contest is today should be laid down. As boxing laws now operate, the community desiring to stage contests is absolutely at the mercy of such interpretation as the police authorities see fit to make.

LEARNING TO USE LIGHT

The color of the light plays an important part in tiring people out. Fatigue occurs far more quickly with orange and yellow rays at high intensities than from green and bluish green light like that from the mercury vapor lamp. Nothing equals the bluish white of diffused daylight. Shadows also have an important part to play. In fact, one of the principal aids in distinguishing objects is the difference in brightness. If there were no shadows but only a perfectly diffused illumination of high intensity it would be hard to see clearly. In order to have shadows there must be directed light from one or a number of sources and not merely diffused light coming from all directions. There must be enough directed light to mark edges of objects by shadows and also enough diffused light to enable one to see clearly in the shadows. To light the home with comfort and economy requires a combination of concentrated illumination of fairly high intensity at the dining or reading table with a general illumination of low intensity. The lighter the wall and ceiling are the more light they reflect to give the required diffused general illumination and so less direct light will be needed. As artificial light is deficient in blue and green rays, walls and ceilings of a bluish or greenish shade give them greater reflecting power for daylight than for artificial light, which is generally desirable.

Men Like Stagnant Ponds.

The great ocean is in a constant state of evaporation. It gives back what it receives, and sends up its waters in mists to gather into clouds; and so there is rain on the field and storm on the mountains, and greenness and beauty everywhere. But there are many men who do not believe in evaporation. They get all they can and keep all they get, and so are not fertilisers, but only stagnant miasmatic ponds.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Carmichael went over to the table. He bent over it and with his face close to that of the king. "I demand to know what your intentions are toward that friendless goose girl."

"And what is that to you?" said the king angrily.

"It is this much: If you have acted toward her otherwise than honorably, well"—

"Go on. You interest me."

"Well, I promise to break every bone in your kingly body. In this room it is man to man. I recognize no king, only the physical being."

The king pushed aside the table, furious.

"You shall die for this insult!" said the king as quietly as his hard breathing would allow.

"I have heard that before. But how?" banteringly.

"I will waive my crown—man to man!"

"Sword sticks, sabers or hop poles? Come," savagely, "what do you mean by the goose girl?"

So intent on the struggle were they that neither heard the door open and close.

"Yes, my dear nephew, what do you mean by Gretchen?"

Carmichael released the king and with feline quickness stooped and secured the pistol which had fallen to the floor. Not sure of the new arrival's purpose, he backed to the wall. He knew the voice, and he recognized its owner.

"Put it in your pocket, Mr. Carmichael, and let us finish this discussion in English since there are many ears about the place."

"His royal highness?" murmured the king.

"Yes, sire. True to life!"

"A fine comedy," cried Herr Ludwig jovially, folding his arms over his deep chest, "a rollicking adventure! Well, nephew, you have not as yet answered either Mr. Carmichael's question or my own. What do you mean by Gretchen?"

"I love her," nobly. "And well for you, my uncle, that you come as you do. I would have married her. Wrong her? What was a crown to me, who till now have never worn one save in speech? You have been the king."

"Bodies must have heads; kingdoms must have kings. I have made an experiment, and this is the result. I wanted you to grow up unfettered by power; I wanted you to mingle with peoples, here and there, so when you became their head physician you could ably minister to their political diseases. And all this fine ambition tumbles down before the wooden shoes of a pretty goose girl."

"Now, Mr. Carmichael, what is your interest in Gretchen?" asked the king tartly.

Carmichael trembled with joy. Here was an opening for a double shot. "My interest in her is better than yours, for I have not asked her to become a king's mistress."

His royal highness bit his lip.

"Uncle!" cried the king, horrified at this revelation.

"Mr. Carmichael evidently has applied his ear to some keyhole," Herr Ludwig replied, recollecting well the day when he suggested to the beautiful young girl how easily and quickly she could secure the riches, the pretty things and the advantages she desired. It occurred in the tap room of the tavern the day he had the mysterious interview with the aged clockmaker. Yes, well did Herr Ludwig remember how he had told Gretchen that she could win the gowns, the carriages and the jewels her girl's heart craved solely through her beauty, "by the supreme right of her beauty alone."

"No, no, not through the keyhole!" retorted Carmichael. "The window was open. My clerk heard you plainly."

"Uncle, is this damnable thing true?"

"Yes. What would you? You were determined to make a fool of yourself. But rest easy. She is ignorant where this offer came from, and, moreover, she spurned it, as Mr. Carmichael's clerk will affirm. Oh, Gretchen is a fine little woman, and I would to God she was of your station!" And the mask fell from the regent's face, leaving it bitter and careworn. "Our presence is known in Dreiberg; it has been known for three days at least. And in coming up here I had another errand. Oh, I haven't forgotten it. In the street there are at least ten soldiers under the subchief of the police. Rather a curious conjunction."

The king turned white.

Carmichael ran to the rear window. He shrugged. "There's half a dozen in the garden too."

"Is there any way to the roofs?"

"None that would serve you."

"Mr. Carmichael," said the king, offering his hand, his handsome face kindly and without rancor, "I should be an ungrateful wretch if I did not ask your full pardon. I am indebted to you twice for my life, little as it amounts to. And in my kingdom you will always be welcome. Will you accept my hand as one man to another?"

"With happiness, your majesty. And I ask that you pardon my own hasty words."

"Thank you."

"He is only young," sighed Ludwig.

The king emptied the drawer, put the contents in his pack, tied the strings and put it under his arm.

"What are you going to do?" asked the uncle, vaguely perturbed.

"I am going down to the soldiers. I am no longer a vintner; I am a king." And he said this in a manner truly royal.

"Gott [illegible] from the prince regent. "This boy has marrow in his bones after all. But the incarceration will not be long. There are 10,000 troops on the other side of the passes."

"Ten thousand? Well, they shall stay there," said the king determinedly. "I shall not begin my reign with war. I will tell the duke the truth. He will not dare go far."

"He will be a good politician, too," said Ludwig, with a smile of approval at Carmichael. "No, boy, there will be no war. And yet I was prepared for it, nor was I wrong in doing so. Already, but for Herbeck, there would be plenty of fighting in the passes. Ach! Could you but see the princess!"

"I have seen her," replied the king. "Heaven would have been kinder had I seen her months ago."

"Say to his serene highness, then, that you are willing to marry her."

"I'm afraid you do not understand, uncle," the king replied sadly. "I have the supreme happiness to love and to be loved. Of that nothing can rob me. And for some time to come, uncle mine, I shall treasure that happiness."

"And the little Gretchen?"

"Yes, yes! I have been a scoundrel." And the king's eyes grew moist. "You are happy, Mr. Carmichael. You have no crown to weigh against your love."

And from that moment Carmichael's heart warmed toward the young man, whose sorrow was greater than his own, for the king was giving up the woman who loved him, while Carmichael was only giving up the woman he loved, which is a distinction.

"Come, uncle," said the young king; "let us see what is going on downstairs."

Carmichael followed them down.

"There they are, men!" cried the subchief. "You are under arrest!"

"I am the king of Jugendheit," calmly announced Frederick Leopold. "Will you subject me to public arrest?"

"And I," said the uncle, "am Ludwig, prince regent."

The subchief laughed uproariously. The king of Jugendheit and the prince regent! This was a good joke indeed!

"Your majesty and your royal highness," said the subchief, his eyes twinkling, "will do me the honor of accompanying me to the Steinschloss. You are accused of being military spies from Jugendheit."

"May I retain this bundle?" inquired the king.

"Yes. I know what is in it. Forward, march!"

Carmichael made as though to protest, but Prince Ludwig signed for him to be silent.

An hour later Gretchen appeared before Frau Bauer. Gretchen had gone home immediately after the termination of the fight in the garden.

"He was not hurt, frau?" she asked timidly.

"Oh, no! The two of them gave themselves up readily. They are snug in the Steinschloss by this time."

"The Steinschloss!" Gretchen blanched. "Holy mother, what has happened?"

"Why, your vintner and Herr Ludwig were arrested an hour ago, accused of being spies from Jugendheit."

She groped blindly for the door.

"Where are you going, Gretchen?"

"To her highness! She will save him!"

Her highness was dreaming. She had fallen into this habit of late. A maid of honor announced that the young woman Gretchen sought her presence.

"Admit her. She will be a tonic," said Hildegarde.

Gretchen appeared, red eyed and disheveled. Instantly she flung herself at the feet of the princess.

"Why, Gretchen!"

"They will not let me see him, highness!" Gretchen choked.

"What has happened, child?"

"They have arrested him as a spy from Jugendheit, and he is innocent. Save him, highness!"

(To be continued.)

King's Message to Canada.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The Duke of Connaught yesterday received the following reply from the King to a cable sent Monday night, conveying the congratulations of the Canadian people on the safe return of the King and Queen from their Indian tour:

"Please assure your Government of my deep appreciation of the message which you have sent in their name and on behalf of the people of Canada, congratulating the Queen and myself on our homecoming.

"From the happy experiences of past visits to the Dominion, I am confident that my Canadian subjects are inspired by the same feelings of loyalty and affection as those which have been so strikingly evinced toward us by the people of India."

Youths Under Arrest.

Berlin, Feb. 7.—George Preuss and A. Cooper were arrested here last night charged with the shooting affray which took place here on the 29th, when Photographer Yost was shot through the breast when he attempted to hold at bay a would-be burglar. The young men are 16 and 17 years of age respectively and will have to face two charges when they appear in police court — that of burglarizing Wolf-Hards' hardware store on Jan. 14 and shooting Yost on the 29th.

Some of the stolen property has been recovered.

May Prohibit Aerial War.

Brussels, Feb. 7.—The interparliamentary peace council, summoned here on Feb. 10, will have an important program for consideration. This includes, among other questions, the proposal of Count Albert Apponyi, the former Hungarian Minister of Worship, relative to the ratification of The Hague conventions by the Parliaments, the Russian proposal relative to the organization of procedure for mediation, and reports on the limitation of expenditure for armaments and the prohibition of aerial warfare.

Big Churchmen From All Canada to Meet Mgr. Stagni.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—The Star says: "All the archbishops of Canada will meet in Montreal to-morrow to meet Mgr. Stagni, the papal delegate to the Dominion, who reached here yesterday, to keep his appointment with the hierarchy of the Catholic Church.

"Ottawa believes that the purpose of the gathering is to discuss the school question which arises out of the proposed extension of the boundary of Manitoba.

"The Manitoba school question was a difficulty which arose during the last days of the previous Conservative administration, and was afterwards treated by the Laurier Government.

"The decision reached has at no time been satisfactory to the Catholic authorities, who believe that they lost considerably under the provision of the act.

"What is desired by the Catholics is a separate school organization similar to that of the Province of Quebec.

"The gathering will be the largest and most important of its kind held since the council of Quebec, which took place in the latter city previous to the eucharistic congress.

"During his stay in Montreal Mgr. Stagni will be the guest of his grace Mgr. Bruchesi at the archbishop's palace, Lagauchetiere street west.

"The question of the decree ne temere will not be discussed at this gathering, as the hierarchy consider this is a matter concerning the members of the Catholic Church alone."

Arundel Moves to Toronto.

Winnipeg, Feb. 7.—The following official changes have been announced here: J. T. Arundel, who has been C.P.R. superintendent in Winnipeg, was yesterday officially transferred to Toronto to become general superintendent of the C.P.R. F. F. Busteed, formerly superintendent at Vancouver, will be general superintendent at Winnipeg when his health will permit. In the meantime D. C. Coleman, formerly superintendent at Nelson, now superintendent of car service, is appointed acting superintendent at Winnipeg, to discharge the duties Mr. Busteed will later take up.

Can't Overawe Employes.

Washington, Feb. 7.—A bill to make it illegal for employers of labor, during Presidential elections, to threaten employes with a shut down of factories or reduction of wages should certain candidates or parties be successful, was introduced yesterday by Representative Pepper, Democrat, of Iowa. A fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for not less than one year are provided as penalties in the bill.

"Remember my face—you'll see me again."

They're all asking for more.

Edwards' Soup is made in Ireland.

5c. per packet.

Edwards' Soup is made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from best beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

A USEFUL MINISTER.

It is well to have practical and industrious Ministers of State, not drones who look upon and consider their positions in the Cabinet as honorary sinecures. The Hon. Mr. Nantel, Minister of Inland Revenue, is proving himself to be one of the useful ones, having expressed his determination to see that the Pure Foods Act in Canada is enforced. He declares the Dominion is away behind other countries in the matter of pure food laws, not so much in the matter of legislation, because a fairly good Act is already on the statute books, but in respect to its enforcement. He therefore has given orders to strictly enforce the present Act and it is announced will make some some amendments to its provisions this session. Should these not prove satisfactory, an entirely new measure will be introduced at the next session of Parliament. The fact is the Act has proctically been a dead letter so far as the infliction of penalties for violations of its provisions were concerned. Let us have a reform in this particular.

GARDEN CLUBS.

Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Supt. of Agricultural Societies, of Toronto, recently visited the Convention of the American Civic Association at Washington. He was much impressed with the manner in which newspaper editors of many of the cities and towns of the United States had interested themselves personally in the work of civic improvement. He heard a most exhaustive and interesting address at this convention by an Ontario farmer boy from the County of Norfolk, who now occupies the position of city editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, one of the leading morning papers of the Western States.

This Ontario farmer boy said that the Garden Club of Minneapolis planted 325 vacant lots to vegetables and flowers in 1911. It distributed 2,000 packages of nasturtium seeds to children. It cleared 600 acres of rubbish. In all 1,900 acres were improved. The cost to the Garden Club was $3,584.43, while the value of the crop was $11,801.78.

What is the matter with our Ontario young men at home that we cannot carry out a similar work in our cities and towns to a very considerable extent?

Our brother farmer in Minneapolis warns us not to make these gardens a children's project. The place for children's gardens is in the schools. The civic gardens on vacant lots were run systematically, says our brother farmer. The work of ploughing, harrowing, seeding was done under proper supervision and instruction, and some valuable prizes were offered. He also tells us not to try to make our gardens self-supporting the first year, although they should be so. Ten feet of flowers along the front of every lot was required and ready sale was found for the same. For their 325 gardens they employed one superintendent and six assistants, paying the former $100 a month, and the latter $60 a month each, two being dropped the first of June, two more the first of July, and another the first of August, all beginning work about two months before planting time.

Local seed houses planted model vacant lot gardens as an advertisement. Newspapers drew everyone's attention to the work that was going on. All the objections (and many were raised) about dogs and vandals destroying the gardens, lack of water, etc., seemed to be overcome by the pressure of favorable public opinion. Dry farming methods overcame the difficulties of lack of water.

What an object lesson to the people of the city and what a convenience on fete days to be able to secure large quantities of fresh vegetables, sweet corn and all kinds of vegetables right on the ground, and what an inspiration such work must be to make our city brothers think of the beauties and comforts they would enjoy if they went back on the land, and what an inspiration it must be to all of the farmers through the surrounding country to see their city cousins being engaged in agriculture within the city limits.

Among the many results through the operation of these gardens the follow- are worthy of notice:—

The gardens developed a healthy tendency to early rising, and the sun rose daily on hundreds of people hoeing, weeding, killing cut worms or pruning tomoatoes, hands dirty and faces glowing. What health giving exercises!

Acre after acre of weeds and rubbish disappeared. What useful employment this was for the children who otherwise might never know what it was to grow a cabbage, or learn the life history of a potato bug. What an advertisement it is for progressiveness in any town or city.

The writer asks: "What can we do in the towns and cities of Hastings County?"

CURRENT COMMENT.

A telegram from Nazareth, Palestine, tells of a highly interesting discovery, namely, that of the site of the church of the first Crusaders. It seems to have been established in the same place where the carpenter shop of Joseph stood.

There is certainly a crying need for legislation of some sort to stay the ravages of fire in Canada, when the loss runs up to $3 per capita, as compared with 33 cents in Europe—a startling difference. That kind of 'slowness' pays.—Hamilton Spectator

Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the Liberal opposition in Ontario, says he will assist Premier Whitney in getting an ocean-going port on Hudson Bay. Why did not Mr. Rowell and his friends get one when they were in power and when Sir Wilfrid was in power at Ottawa?—Kingston Standard.

It was wash day. Pat and Mike were obliged to halt their heavily loaded cart to make way for a funeral. Gazing at the procession Pat suddenly remarked:

"Mike, I wish I knew where I was going to die. I'd give $1,000 to know the place where I'm going to die."

"Well, Pat, what good would it do if you knew?"

"Lots. Shure, I'd never go near that place."

Canada in 1911 had 41 mergers, according to the Monetary Times. The authorized capital involved in 39 of these amounts to $341,000,000. Such mergers are inevitable, are in line with modern progress and ought economically to save much waste and duplication. But under present practices they are generally hugely overcapitalized. Usually, also, a big merger implies a certain degree of trade monopoly, and so long as human nature is what it is, any kind of monopoly needs a certain amount of careful watching. Monopoly is to commerce what monarchy is to government; either may be just and amiable but the tendency is the other way.—Ottawa Journal.

A good young man who was brought into court in Chicago the other day charged with stealing from the mails, got cold comfort from Judge Landis, when his pastor testified in his behalf that he stood well in the church and did not use tobacco in any form. "Smoking or chewing tobacco, or both, is not to a person's discredit." unfeelingly observed the judge. "I have come to this conclusion long ago, and if a person refrains from using tobacco it does not redound to his credit, in my mind." That was merely an utterance of the judge's private opinion, and as such, entitled to no more or less weight than the opinion of any other sober-minded man. There cannot, however, be anything but agreement with Judge Landis' further remark: "Much better smoke than do what you have done."—Winnipeg Free Press.

Cleanse the System

The many advantages which Belleville possesses as a site for manufacturing industries are gradually being recognized by capitalists. Let our citizens welcome all who come to talk business along those lines and in, so far as is possible, extending a helping hand to every worthy project. The flood that leads on to fortune is flowing in this direction. Let us wisely make the most of it.

A fine young game rooster, champion of many contests, lost his life in a rather peculiar way in Washington a few days ago. The owner of the bird passed by, wearing a solitaire diamond ring. The rooster saw the ring, made a grab for it, got it, and swallowed it, before his purpose was detected. The rooster was valued at $200 and the ring at $300. To save $300 the man sacrificed $200. The bird was the sacrifice. The rooster was not murdered, but operated upon. The operation was successful, but the rooster never rallied.

The important changes made in the map of Africa by the treaty between France and Germany signed in November last are shown by charts in the Geographical Journal. In return for the recognition of a French protectorate over Morocco Germany receives a great slice of territory adjoining her colony of Kamerun to the south and east, and amounting (according to one estimate), to 107,270 square miles, that is, an area one half as large again as the present area of Manitoba. The black population incidentally handed over to Germany is estimated at from 1,000,000 to 1,200,000. On the other hand, relatively small tracts are ceded from Germany to France in the northern corner of Kamerun and on the frontier between Togo and Dahomey.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Politics has its resemblances to war. The despatches tell how Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers are wading through the slaughter of Tories to the throne of coming power. The Kouropatkins of the Ottawa Opposition fill the party organs with their "deeds of derring-do" even as the original Kouropatkin filled the Russian press with stories of his smartness in outwitting the Japs and how he was luring them on. Kouropatkin was at St. Petersburg and still running when he had finished "luring them on." The victories which the Kouropatkins of Ottawa are now achieving at the expense of the Tories are similar to those which the original Kouropatkin won over the Japs.—Toronto Telegram.

MEN WHO DON'T EXCERCISE

SUFFER FROM INDIGESTION, HEADACHES, POOR APPETITE, SLEEPLESNESS.

NOTHING SO SURE TO "SET UP" A MAN, MAKE HIM FEEL BRISK AND VIGOROUS AS DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, jr., one of the best known citizens in Woodstock. In his convincing letter Mr. Stephens says:—

"A year ago I returned home after a long trip completely worn out. I was so badly affected by chronic biliousness, so much overcome by constant headaches, dizziness, that I despaired of ever getting well. I was always tired and languid, had no energy and spirit, found it difficult to sleep for more than five hours. My appetite was so fickle that I ate next to nothing, and in consequence lost weight and strength. I was pale and had dark rings under my eyes that made me look like a shadow.

"It was a blessing that I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In one week I felt like a new man. The feeling of nausea in my stomach disappeared. My eyes looked brighter, color grew better, and, best of all, I began to enjoy my meals. The dizziness, languor and feeling of depression passed away, and I fast regained my old-time vigor and spirits. To-day I am well—thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

For health, strength, comfort and good spirits there is no medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Beware of substitutes, and don't let any dealer palm off some other pill on which he can make more money. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, by mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Electrified Pupils the Cutest

Electrified and ozonised houses are likely to be an improvement of the near future. On the recommendation of Prof. Svante Arrhenius, 25 children in a Stockholm school are placed in a class room that is kept charged with electricity, and 25 other children of the same health, height, weight, etc., are placed in another room of identical size and conditions. Although complete results have not yet been reached, it has been already affirmed that physical and mental development have been greater among the electrified pupils than among the others.

A Narcotic Cartridge

Karl Burgsmuller, of Kreiensen, Germany, has devised a means for temporarily narcotising animals, i.e., rendering them insensible. He fills a cartridge with a mixture composed of substances containing capsicine in an immediately gasifiable form, and of easily inflammable substances to accelerate the gasification. This is combined with a small quantity of an explosive agent between the mixture and an explosive cap with which the cartridge is provided. Possibly this is the explosive of the pistols sold for rendering burglars insensible.

MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO,

Forty-Second Annual Statement of a Highly Gratifying Nature.

The Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada had a very prosperous year in 1911. Its 42nd Annual Statement shows that the surplus earned during the year amounted to 731,064.83, which is a very gratifying result of the year's operations. The insurance in force is now upwards of $71,000,000, the assets over $18,000,000, the income, $3,329,541 so that this company has become one of the Dominion's big financial institutions. The combined effect of a good interest income and a favorable death rate seems to be indicated by the fact that the interest income would have been sufficient to pay the death claims more than twice over. The bulk of the Company's assets are invested in mortgages, debentures and bonds and loans on policies, all of which have proven themselves in the past to be safe and consistent with the investment requirements of an insurance company. The new assurances for 1911 were $10,027,374.

CIGARETTE PAPER.

So Light that 500 Sheets Go to Make an Ounce.

Of the great army of cigarette smokers there is probably not more than one in a hundred who knows that rice paper, in which the tobacco is wrapped, has nothing to do with rice, but is made from the membranes of the breadfruit tree or more commonly of fine new trimmings of flax and hemp.

So light is this paper that 500 of the tiny sheets go to make an ounce. They are perfectly combustible and give off the minimum of smoke. Before being rolled with tobacco they are analyzed to prove that they are free from all deleterious ingredients, and that they contain nothing but the purest paper fibre. Only new material—flax and hemp trimmings—is used, and these are thoroughly purified.

Chopped by machinery into minute particles, they are well mixed by a revolving fan and then reduced to a dust, which is placed in a solution of lime and soda. After remaining in solution for some time it undergoes a thorough washing process, the water being the purest kind.

Then the pulp is rolled out into paper. At first it is of a grayish tinge, the pure white of the finished product being obtained by an electric process.

The French manufacturers of cigarette paper practically supply the entire world, the output of Austria and Italy being insignificant.

One way to not please a woman is to let her do as she pleases.

H. Rider Haggard's New Book

146 MARIE

—The title of a book destined to be one of the best sellers for 1912.

The author's name—H. Rider Haggard—assures wide popularity for any story he may write, and competent critics believe "Marie" to be the notable writer's best production.

"Marie" is quaintly or diffidently sub-titled "An episode in the life of the late Allan Quatermain"—but that hardly does justice to the book.

H. RIDER HAGGARD 147

The story is practically a complete and wonderfully fascinating history of Allan Quatermain's early life—a story that also reveals many incidents in the strenuous life of South African settlers more than half a century ago.

The book shows Africa's big mystical philosopher at his best.

Operation for Piles Failed

ZAM-BUK WAS THEN TRIED AND WORKED A CURE

Writing fro Poplar, B.C., Mrs. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, says: "I suffered for years with bleeding piles. The pain was so bad at times that I could hardly walk, and ordinary remedies seemed utterly unable to give me any ease. Finally I decided to undergo an operation, and I went to the Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane. There they performed an operation and did all they could for me. For a time I was certainly better, but within 12 months the trouble started again and the piles became as painful as ever. I tried liniments, hot poultices, various 'pile cures,' and indeed everything I could think would be likely to do any good, but still I continued to suffer, and the shooting, burning, stinging pains, the dull, aching and wretched 'worn-out' feeling that the disease causes continued as bad as ever.

"One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured. That was three years ago, and from then to the present time there has been no return of the trouble."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for piles, eczema, ulcers, abscesses, cold sores, chapped hands, varicose sores, burns, scalds, bruises, inflamed patches and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

CANADIAN NORTHERN

PASSING OF THE CLOWN.

Perriots and the Huge Three-Ring Circus the Cause.

Mr. Alfred Miaco of the circus deplores the passing of the clown.

This is largely the observation of the European-bred artist. Strictly speaking, while we have developed many clowns, they have been clowns mostly in an invidious sense. Miaco, with the training to qualify him as a legitimate actor, in less distracted surroundings would give us finished pantomine in rare play with the eyes and hands.

Continental Europe has its perriots who are public idols. Plays are written for them and composers of standing write their incidental music.

Of men like these, England's Grimaldi was famous. George Caron, the last of a long line of clowns and the funniest of them all, died a few years ago at the height of his career.

While these instances are of the theatre rather than of the circus, the school which devloped Miaco did not take into calculations three rings and a jumble of changing sights. The clown held the centre and was the mainstay of the entertainment. For him to have to be dependent upon sudden collapse under the weight of a slap stick would have been the sign of the passing of art.

Gold That Is in the Sea.

Apart from the treasures which find their way to the bottom of the sea, and occasionally come to light again, there is more gold in the sea than has ever been coined into money. Such, at all events, is the opinion of Prof. Wilde, of Brussels University. All sea water contains a certain amount of gold, in the proportion of about one grain to each ton of water. Reckoning the total weight of all the oceans at the very moderate figure of 1,000,000,000 tons, Prof. Wilde estimates that they would yield gold to nearly a hundred thousand times as much as . .

Why, bless you! you can bathe in gold.

Method of Finding an Aeronaut's Position.

When terrestrial objects are invisible, an aeronaut is compelled to employ indirect methods of finding his position. Several such methods have been invented during recent years. Berlingmaier and Marcuse have employed magnetic measurements for this purpose and successful methods of informing an aeronaut of his position by means of wireless telegraphy have been devised. Finally, astronomical methods have been proposed, in which the tedious reduction of the observations is effected by means of special apparatus.

"TINFLUENZA"

Tin, Which is the Most Susceptible of Metals, Easily Catches Cold. —It Then Crumbles.

A curious illustration of the susceptibility of metal to heat and cold is provided by the effect which winter has upon tin. As a matter of fact, unless tin is kept above 18 deg. Centigrade it falls a victim to a strange illness which has been described as "tinfluenza." In other words, the metal catches a very severe cold, the symptoms of which are decay, loss of lustre, and crumbling of the surface to grey powder. The change is not a chemical one, for the grey powder is still tin, and the extraordinary fact is that it can be brought back by careful warming to its originally healthy condition.

The purer the tin the more susceptible it is to cold, and consequently decay, apparently; and, in fact, it may be made proof against the disease by alloying it with other metals. The disease is a cause of considerable annoyance and disappointment to the collectors of coins who possess valuable tin specimens in their cabinets.

Even tin buttons have been known to crumble in this way and organ-pipes made of tin have been found to decay after a severe winter.

The rot is even infectious, for decaying tin, in contact with healthy, lustrous tin, soon spoils it, and reduces it to its own unhealthy state.

MOTOR-CYCLISTS AMAZING FEAT.

A striking illustration of the capacity and durability of the motor-cycle is furnished by the record recently set up by Mr. Harry Long, the well-known Yorkshire cycling champion, who has just completed a journey of 40,000 miles on a motor-cycle in ten months. To accomplish his ride he went round the whole of the coastline of Great Britain, in addition to other mileage; and, carrying no headlight, he had necessarily to ride only between dawn and dusk.

What makes the trip all the more noteworthy is the fact that prior to setting out on his journey, which he anticipated would occupy twelve months, Mr. Long had only a week's tuition in looking after his mount. He had only ten punctures during his ride, but had the unpleasant experience of having to sleep twice in the open and to ride through a ten-days' downpour of rain while in Scotland.

Once, in the North of Scotland, Mr Long almost had his attempt brought to a sudden end. Riding along a road skirted by a declivity of several hundred feet, he experienced a dry skid, and was thrown right off the saddle. Fortunately he fell on a ledge and was enabled to scramble back, remount his machine, which had simply fallen on the road and was uninjured, and continue his journey.

PEDERSEN MATCHED

Arrangements Under Way to Get Dane to Meet Yussif Mahmout the Turk.

Jess Pedersen and his manager, John Moje, have been awakened. They got a jolt when they read a statement in a local paper credited to Frank Gotch, in which the champion said he would bet $20,000 that Yussiff Mahmout can beat Pedersen.

Mr. Moje was around town trying to get some reliable party to hold the sum of $20,000 that he wished to put up in acceptance of Gotch's offer. Mind you, he wants to post the entire sum right away, the affair to be decided as soon as an agreement can be reached.

The amount of the stake that Mr. Moje, who is an earnest man of undoubted sincerity, wished to put up was so appalling that he had great difficulty in getting even an audience. So it is likely he will cut the amount down some.

"Wrestle Mahmout? Why, haven't we been challenging him and all the rest of them: And did we ever get any reply until we saw this" were some of the questions that Mr. Moje slapped out in an excited manner. "It looks to me as if every one of the big fellows are afraid of Pedersen, and I say it in all sincerity because none of them is coming through with an acceptance of our propositions.

"Gotch has been hiding behind Mahmout. I knew that when I first read in the Chicago American some time ago that the Bulgarian has signed up with Gotch and that this would be the scheme. That's all right; we're not kicking about that at all. If by beating Mahmout, we can get a match later with Gotch, all well and good, I say. And that's just what Jess will do, too.

"Now, let Gotch appoint a meeting place here in Chicago, which is central for all of us, and if they are sincere we can reach an agreement in less than no time, so quick it will make their heads swim. Yes, we want the whole bet that Mr. Gotch offered to make Zbysco or anybody else. We'll take every penny of it, but the match must be to a finish. I don't care if it's in private, just so the better man can win."

Browned Crumbs.

Keep all scraps of crust until there is a good quantity; cut off any black bits, and put the rest on a baking-tin in the oven until they are a bright golden brown all over and quite crisp. Then pound them in a mortar, or, if there is not one available, put them between two pieces of paper and crush them with a rolling-pin. Next pass them through a sieve—this ensures them being all of one size. Put them in a tin with a tight-fitting lid.

These crumbs are useful for shaking over boiled ham or bacon, and can often be used for puddings instead of white crumbs, giving the mixture a richer appearance.

FARM AND FIELD

KEEP THE CALVES GROWING

Additional Care and Green Feed Is on Demand When Pastures Get Short and Dry.

The calves must be kept growing and thrifty. This is a critical time in their lives. The pastures are short and dry, and the flies are very troublesome. Where possible, keep the calves inside during the day, and at this season it is often just as well to keep them in comfortable, well-bedded box stalls all the time — that is, provided they are given plenty of green feed. Corn when grown is now ready to feed, and the calves should get a liberal ration of it, together with alfalfa, and a light grain ration. Few grains are relished by calves so much as oats. The skim-milk supply may be falling off now, and, as the milk ration grow less, other feeds must be increased. Under no circumstances can the owner afford to limit the calves' ration beyond that point at which they are making the best growth and development. With calves of the dairy breeds, too much fat is not believed to be in the best interest of the calf, if it is to be kept for milk production, but few skim-milk calves ever get over-fat. The opposite condition is more often found.

Rearing Bacon Pigs

Choose for breeding purpose amongst the young pigs the best-built and most powerful animals bred from strong and healthy parents and see that the sow pigs have at least twelve teats. Feed them well, but do not let them grow fat, as a fat sow makes a large and neglectful mother. If the young pigs have to be kept in enclosures make these as large as possible so as to give them the opportunity of plenty of exercise, but give them a well-sheltered and dry sleeping place.

While it is rearing the little ones the sow must be fed well; skim or butter-milk, grain, and, if possible, a little green fodder or potatoes. It must be remembered that a litter of ten pigs will consume, when they are a week old, nearly four gallons of milk daily, and unless properly fed with substantial and concentrated food the sow will not be able to yield a sufficient quantity of milk. It is important that the sow's food, during the first couple of weeks after farrowing, shall be fresh, as old and sour food will influence the milk for the little ones and give them diarrhoea. It often happens that the litter of young pigs is not "even", but that one or two are much smaller and weaker than the rest. Those should, on the first day after their birth, as often as possible be put to the sow's foremost teats, which give the most milk. They will then quickly be used to drink there it being a well-known fact that each little one chooses its own special teat, and in time reach the average size of the others. Let there be a flat trough in the sty from which the young pigs at an early age can get accustomed to eat and drink.

A TREASURE HUNT IN AUCKLAND

After Four Previous Attempts to Recover Lost Gold, a New Expedition Has Started Out On the Hunt.

Auckland, N. Z. — Captain N. C. Sorensen, formerly employed as diver by the Auckland Harbor Board, purposes, in conjunction with a partner in Dunedin, to fit out an expedition, to cost about $50,000, to proceed to the Auckland Islands to endeavor to recover the bullion believed to have been lost in the General Grant, wrecked there in 1866. Four previous attempts to recover this treasure were unsuccessful, Captain Sorensen believes that the failures were through attempting the work from the seaward side. His idea is to land an expedition on the landward side and cut a road across to the wreck, and operate by means of derricks erected on the cliffs.

The General Grant was a sailing ship of about 1,300 tons. She left Melbourne for London, laden with valuable products of the Ballarat goldfields, on May 3, 1866. Just ten days later she struck hiden rocks off the Auckland Islands, and the majority of those on board were lost. The survivors experienced hunger and cold before they were discovered in the month of March, two years later, by Captain Gilroy, of the brig Hempthus, who took them on to the Bluff.

This Coffee Pot FREE

Why Dalton's French Drip Coffee is so Wholesome, Delicious and Economical

When you have once tasted Dalton's delicious French Drip Coffee, made in a Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pot, you will never be tempted to drink ordinary boiled Coffee again.

The Coffee berry, or bean, is protected by nature from the insect world by a tough outer shell or husk which contains tannin and other acid, bitter principles which are poisonous to insects and certainly not wholesome to the human system.

Other roasters of Coffee do not remove this bitter husk, and this is why many people find that ordinary Coffee does not agree with them. Not only that, but the usual way of roasting Coffee in cylinders over coke or gas fires, drives off the volatile essences, so essential to aroma and flavor.

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

The DALTON way is to throw the Coffee berries against an intensely hot flame. This roasts them in half the time and prevents the volatile essences being driven off. Then the Coffee is cooled by a special process, during which a strong suction air-blast blows off all foreign substances. Next comes the grinding, during which another powerful air-blast removes the poisonous, bitter outer shell. The Coffee contains absolutely no chicory and is packed in sealed tins, which preserve all the delightful flavor.

We make Dalton's French Drip Coffee in two strengths Mild Blend and Strong Blend. You cannot tell however which you will like the best until you try both and that is why we ask you to buy two tins in our special offer.

Investigation led to the conclusion that the change was due to the cows eating weeds and leaves of trees instead of grass. Is the Show Ring Useless?

One of the most prominent gentlemen connected with racing affairs in the country being toast-master at a recent social function, saw proper, in the course of a lengthy speech, to use this language: "The thoroughbred is the essential oil, so to speak, of horse flesh. The show ring is useless as a method of selection and will ultimately go far astray with its theoretical requirements as to a conformation based upon what is deemed best for something the horse used to do. With all honor and respect due the bench show, we all know what havoc it has played with breeds of sporting dogs which have ceased to be used for the original purpose for which they had been developed by the sportsmen."

How Doth the Busy Bee

In the light of comparatively recent discoveries of the existence of serious communicable diseases among bees, it is specially urged that only those who are prepared to give the apiary proper attention, should undertake to keep bees even if only for pleasure.

The bee has an important work to do as a pollinizing agent, and in cross-pollinating the blossoms of many bush fruits. This is done by the bee in the daily routine of work in gathering nectar from the blossoms and converting it into luscious honey, pure and wholesome as food for the human being. They thus save to the profit of man a product that is lost, unless gathered by the honey bee. The amount gathered is surprisingly large and shows the profit and pleasure derived from this source.

PASSING GRAIN BILL

House Spends Entire Day in Committee on Measure.

In Answer to a Question, Hon. G. E. Foster Says That Oats and Wheat Are Carried to Duluth and Minneapolis at Same Rates as to Port Arthur—Delegation Protest Against Renewal of Georgian Bay Charter.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Parliament spent the entire day in committee on the grain bill, getting through all except schedules and a few clauses which were left over for further consideration.

Just before the House adjourned at 11.30 p.m., Hon. G. E. Foster announced, in response to a question by Dr. Schaffner (Souris), that wheat and oats for export was being and had been carried for some time to Minneapolis and Duluth at the same rates as to Fort William and Port Arthur. Application had been made for the cartage of grain to those points for consumption in the United States, but this had not been allowed by the United States commission to take place earlier than the thirty days required by the commission. This restriction, said Mr. Foster, had now been waved, and, speaking generally, barley, wheat, oats and flax for consumption in the United States was being carried to Duluth and Minneapolis for slightly higher rates than to Port Arthur and Fort William, and by the latter part of February they would be carried at the same rates.

Mr. Foster's emergency bill to amend the Manitoba Grain Act to facilitate the shipment to hospital elevators of damp grain was given its third reading and passed.

Vigorous protest was made by influential deputations before the railway committee yesterday to the renewal of the Ottawa-Montreal and Georgian Bay Canal charter.

Hon. Adam Beck and G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., represented the Ontario Government; J. P. Turcotte, ex-M.P., the Quebec Government; Mayor Hopewell and Controller Parent, the City of Ottawa, and Ald. Lapointe, M.P., the City of Montreal. The conservation commission wrote suggesting an amendment that no works shall be started by the company till authorized by the Government, and any rates charged for power shall be subject to the Railway Commission.

J. G. Turriff advocated the construction of the canal as a Government work.

J. A. Ritchie, K.C., claimed the company had expended half a million dollars on surveys alone. The company had not expropriation powers and it was absurd to think the company would expend a hundred million dollars merely to develop water powers.

Hon. Adam Beck frankly declared that the bill involved the confiscation of public lands. The Province of Ontario had a decided interest, as it owned the waters and land in the province. The drainage area was 50,000 square miles.

Furthermore, a stated case was before the Privy Council, and nothing should be done which might be prejudicial.

A million horse-power would be developed by the scheme. The Hydro-Electric Commission was supplying power at $25 per horse-power less than private companies. It would be apparent, therefore, what an immense value was attached to the company's charter.

"If the canal is built by the Government," said Hon. Mr. Beck, "we will develop the water powers."

Mr. Macdonald asked: "Is this great canal project to be stopped because the Hydro-Electric Commission object?" There should be a declaration of policy by the Government regarding the matter.

Hon. Frank Cochrane said: "We have had insufficient time to deal with the matter."

George Lynch-Staunton, K.C., said Ontario did not object to the canal, but to its rights to water powers being encroached upon. The Dominion had no right to authorize other people to take the property of the province. In doing so it would stultify itself and be guilty of dishonorable conduct and a breach of treaty. The Dominion, he admitted, could authorize the canal, but under the cloak of a canal scheme it could not give away provincial rights to powers. The provisions in the bill were as wide and ruinous as the powers in the Conmee bill last session. Under its powers they could go as far as Labrador or Niagara Falls. They could monopolize the waters on the Ottawa River.

Mr. Ritchie: Most unfair comment.

Mr. Staunton: As a private transaction not a man on the committee would pass the bill.

Messrs. German, Fripp and Hon. J. Haggart made comments favorable to the project.

"Build the canal as soon as you like, but maintain our powers," answered Mr. Staunton. "I have been coming here several years," he declared, "and have found the Government very liberal in giving away the rights of the people."

The bill will be taken up again next Tuesday.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—A comprehensive survey of provincial progress and expansion will be outlined in the speech from the throne at the opening this afternoon of the thirteenth Parliament of Ontario.

Reference will be made to important legislation that has been carried out during the past year.

Among other subjects mentioned will be the completion of the Hydro-Electric scheme, the progress made with the new Central Prison farm at Guelph, and the success of the board of parole. Progress in mining development and in agricultural instruction will be alluded to, as well as the Government's policy for the settlement of New Ontario.

The number of important bills emanating from the statute revision commission and the various Governmental Departments will be touched on.

Mention will also be made of the advantage that will come to Ontario through the co-operation of the Federal Department of Agriculture with the Provincial Government.

Bishop Farthing Thunders Against "Ne Temere."

Montreal, Feb. 7.—The charge delivered by Rev. Bishop Farthing at the opening session of the Montreal Diocesan Synod yesterday was mainly devoted to the marriage question, and the head of the diocese expressed the sentiments of the Protestant church in regard to the ne temere decree.

He pleaded first for the sanctity of the marital contract, then exposed the conflicting position brought about in two famous cases, and concluded by a denunciation of outsiders interfering in Canadian marriage laws demanding also a uniform marriage law recognized by the state.

"When there has been a marriage against which there has been no objection save that of religion," declared the bishop, "it seems to me a horrible degradation of human life for the church to separate the two persons and permit the contracting parties to marry again."

Referring to the Hebert case, judgment in which is expected at the end of the week, the speaker declared that the state had authorized Methodist ministers to solemnize marriages, and it was the duty of the state to see that its license was honored.

He also referred to the recent marriage annulment case, wherein civil effect was given to an ecclesiastical decree, declaring the marriage of two Roman Catholics, married eight years ago by a Roman priest, before the requisite number of witnesses and in a Roman Catholic Church void, on the ground that they were of the third or fourth degree of consanguinity and had not received special dispensation to marry from the church, as is necessary, according to ecclesiastical law, under such circumstances of relationship. This annulment, he said, was a horrible scandal, which should arouse the whole Dominion to action.

BOY FIREBUGS CONFESS.

Judge Takes Farnham School Case Under Advisement.

Sweetsburg, Que., Feb. 7.—Hearing in the charges against Eugene Bernard and William Hery, the two young American pupils accused of conspiring with young Marchand to burn down the Holy Cross College at Farnham, was held here yesterday before Judge Mulvena.

The boys, who are 14 and 13 respectively, broke down completely and told the whole story of the burning of their college.

Their evidence showed an apparent systematic conspiracy to destroy the college by fire, telling as it did of a number of previous attempts made by older boys, and the running away and expulsion of the culprits.

The brothers had learned of these attempts, but attempted to hush them up, withholding details of what they knew from the police and even receiving insurance money following an incendiary outbreak of fire which did slight damage last autumn.

Bernard told how he had showed Marchand where to start the fire, while Hery confessed to having supplied Marchand with matches.

Judge Mulvena reserved his decision until Monday next, taking the case en delibere.

Bomb Went Through Mails.

New York, Feb. 7.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Helen Taylor, killed by the explosion of a bomb in her apartments last Saturday night, grew deeper last night with the disclosure that the package containing the infernal machine was apparently sent by mail instead of having been delivered by messenger, as had been supposed.

The police and Coroner Fienberg, both admitted yesterday that their case against Charles M. Dickinson, who was with the woman when the explosion took place and who will be arranged by the coroner to-day on the charge of homicide, had many weak points, and unless more definite evidence comes to light meantime, it was intimated that Dickinson would be discharged.

Car Over Bank; Five Killed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 7.—While running at a high rate of speed yesterday morning an electric car on the Scott Haven division of the West Pennsylvania Railroad jumped the track near Coulterville, Pa., twenty miles from Pittsburg, and went over a two hundred foot embankment.

The dead are: Luke Donnelly, aged 20, miner, Greenock, Pa.; Chas. Smith, aged 25, miner, Greenock, Pa.; William McClan, aged 21, miner Greenock, Pa., and two unidentified men.

The car contained twenty persons, miners on their way to the mines near Scott Haven.

Warning to U. S. Steel.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Judge Gray, in the United States Court of the Third Circuit, has issued an injunction restraining the defendant's in the Government's anti-trust suit against the U. S. Steel Corporation, from destroying books and papers desired by the Government.

The injunction was issued on a petition of the Department of Justice, which alleges that several thousand papers and documents, which were used in the Government's criminal prosecution of the "wire pool" last fall, have been destroyed.

No Truth In It.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. Frank Cochrane, gave last night an emphatic denial to the story that there would be an item in the supplementary estimates for the beginning of the construction of the Welland Canal. In fact, the question, according to the Minister, has not even been discussed in council, and there is no likelihood that it will be considered at an early date.

King of Denmark Ill.

Copenhagen, Feb. 7.—While taking his customary walk yesterday, King Frederick was seized with a sudden illness. He returned to the palace and was ordered to bed. It is stated that the king suffered a chill. A bulletin issued last night says that his condition is considered satisfactory.

PREPARED TO MOBILIZE

U. S. Troops Ready to Rush to the Mexican Border.

Chihuahua Is Reported To Be In Revolt and May Attempt to Secede From the Rulership of Madero—Orozco Is Said to Have Been Offered the Governorship—Insurgent to Cross Border to Aid Gomez.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 7.—A few hours' developments in Mexico have placed the mobile forces of the U. S. army with marching orders and field equipment. It has been made plain, however, that the Government does not intend to send more troops to the border unless the situation absolutely demands it.

A Pensacola, Fla., despatch says that two companies of coast artillery at Fort Barrancas have been ordered to Texas.

With renewed disturbances across the border and the possibility that the State Department might call upon the War Department to protect lives and property along the line, the plans of the general staff, prepared for a minute's action in just such an event, were spread out at headquarters yesterday and renewed instructions to await marching orders were flashed to army commanders at points from which troops can be immediately mobilized.

Meanwhile several thousand soldiers rest on their arms.

De La Fuente Ready.

Mexico City, Feb. 7.—The Department of the Interior has received advices through secret agents that David De La Fuente, who was one of the signatories of the plan of Tacubaya and is a member of the revolutionary junta formed a week ago in El Paso, is preparing to cross the frontier to engage in an insurrection in favor of Emiliano Vasquez Gomez. He is said to be now at Brownsville, Texas.

David De La Fuente was formerly chief of police here, and later became a director of the so-called "Army of Liberation," which Gomez endeavored to organize. He fled to the United States to avoid arrest for insurrectionary agitation in Chihuahua.

It is confirmed here that Gen. Pascual Orozco has been offered the Governorship of Chihuahua.

Unable to Store Wheat.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 7.—The congestion of traffic on the Canadian railroads which resulted in sweeping reductions of freight rates to permit Canadian grain to come into the American head of the lakes for elevating and storage, is more serious than at any time since its inception, according to news from Port Arthur, Ont.

The advices tell of 3,500 cars already billed to Fort William over the Canadian Northern, which cannot be moved. There is no place to store grain when it arrives at Fort William. Thirty million bushels are frozen on the ground or in western elevators. In addition, there are 1,000 cars of grain that are on tracks between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, making 4,500 cars on the Canadian Northern alone.

A CRYING EVIL IN CANADA

Profanity and Bad Language Ought to be Repressed by the Authorities

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Sir,—With all that has been done through the press and other sources will have the desired effect if they language, we are continually seeing complaints appearing in the papers from citizens in towns and cities throughout the country, in the awy, in which it can still be heard around the streets and public places. This is not only from men, but oaths can be heard from children, which are enough to make your hair stand. I do not think there is any city in Canada where there has been as much space given by the press, to try and clean out profane and bad language as there has been in Halifax. And in defence of this we see a statement published in our papers from the Rev. Father John Foley, calling attention to the way blasphemous language can be heard around our streets. The reason for this can solely be placed to the laws which exist against it not being carried out by the police, and until they are given to understand that this is a part of their duty, I do not think that all the clean-mouth leagues such as have been started in Canada, the great parades of the Holy Name Society, which hsa become so prominent in the United States, or anything which can be done through the press iwll have the desired effect, if they are not backed up by the laws of the land which exist against it.

The proof of how neglectful the police are, as to such evils: Some years ago when profanity had become so rampant in Halifax, the matter was brought up before the Police Commission, and they gave instructions to all the force to arrest people who could be heard using profane and bad language around the streets and public places. For a time the orders were obeyed, and there were many arrests made and the offenders heavily fined, and while this continued profanity greatly decreased, but the instructions were not faithfully carried out by the police, as the arrests grew gradually less, and for the last year or two there was scarcely a charge before the police court for the offence And now, to show how neglectful the police are in not enforcing the laws against other evils, there have been many letters appearing in the press in Montreal and other cities from citizens calling attention to the lack of the enforcement of the laws against expectorating on the streete, the smoking of cigarettes by the youths also the stores being open on Sunday supplying them with cigarettes. All these laws are meeting with the same fate in the hands of the police as that regarding profanity. It is well known that the police have become party to many of these evils themselves, and as to profanity, it is also well known that they are, in many cases becoming the worst offenders themselves. Sometime ago I witnessed a case of this kind in a town where people had assembled to witness a hockey game, and in the lobby of the hotel a man was heard using the most profane and bad language, which attracted the attention of all the people, and on enquiry it was found that he was a constable from the neighboring town.

The good behavior of the people, and the enforcement of the laws are greatly in the hands of the police, therefore I think it is time for the people to wake up on this point, and see that the police are doing what they are paid for, otherwise, what is the use of paying for police and not getting service. If the laws were properly enforced by them, these evils that are complained of would not exist.

Yours truly,
G. W. WRIGHT.

THE CONNECTICUT BLUE LAWS

How, in a Correspondent's Opinion, it Is Being Sought to Apply Them

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Sir,—The sad Sunday Christians might like a copy of the above famous strenuous campaign in attempting to regulate how we should keep Sunday. With a few modern additions these laws might be made drastic enough to suit the minds of those who feel endowed with the Heaven-born right of not only trying to regulate their own, but more especially other people's affairs.

These laws enacted by the people of the Dominion of New Haven became known as the Blue Laws, because they weer printed on blue paper. They were as follows:

The governor and magistrates convened in general assembly are the supreme power, under God, of the independent dominion. From the determination of the assembly no appeal shall be made.

No man shall be a freeman or have a vote unless he is converted and a member of one of the churches allowed in the dominion.

Each freeman shall swear by the blessed God to bear true allegiance to the dominion and that Jesus is the only King.

No dissenter from the essential worship of the dominion shall be allowed to give a vote for electing of magistrates or any officer.

No food or lodging shall be offered to a heretic.

No one shall cross a river on the Sabbath but authorized clergymen.

No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep houses, cut hair or shave on the Sabbath day.

No one shall kiss his or her children on the Sabbath or feasting days.

The Sabbath day shall begin at sunset on Saturday.

Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold, silver or bone lace above one shilling per yard shall be presented by the grand jurors and the selectman shall tax the estate £300.

Whoever brings cards or dice into the dominion shall pay a fine of £5.

No one shall eat mince pies, dance, play cards, or play an instrument of music except the drum, trumpet or Jewsharp.

No gospel minister shall join people in marriage. The magistrate may join them, as he may do it with less scandal to Christ's church.

When parents refuse their children convenient marriages, the magistrate shall determine the point.

A man who strikes his wife shall be fined £10.

A woman who strikes her husband shall be punished as the law directs.

No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without obtaining the consent of her parents; £5 penalty for the first offence, £10 for the second, and for the third, imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

The addition of laws forbidding people doing anything on Sunday but going to and from church and Sunday school ought to make us a nation of sad-faced Christians who will dread the approach of Sunday.—J. W. F.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE STAMPEDE."

No author or dramatist of the present day has been so prolific or uniformly successful as Cecil B. DeMille, co-author with Lillian Buckingham in "The Stampede," which will be seen here at the Griffin Opera House with Miss Buckingham as the star, supported by her own company. "The Warrens of Virginia," "The Genius" and "The Royal Mounted," are products of his versatile and diligent pen, and now "The Stampede" is a fitting successor to his "Strongheart" aptly called the great American play. Miss Buckingham will be seen in the role of a half-breed Indian girl and the story is taken from the exposure of a vile conspiracy against the Witch Creek tribe of Indians, strongly suggesting the recent plot to deprive the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians out of valuable mineral concessions in Oklahoma. The production is complete in every essential, and a vein of wholesome comedy permeates the interesting story.

HAD AN ALL-NIGHT FIGHT WITH WOLVES

Harry Fennell, an Old Guelph Boy, Reported Dead, Will Recover.

GUELPH, Feb. 6.—Word has been received from Mrs Thomas Fennell, Denver, Colorado, that her son, Harry, who was supposed to be dead from exposure during his night's outing, fighting the wolves to allow his companions to escape, is still alive. He was only benumbed with the cold when they sent word to his father and mother, who sent their son, George, to bring his remains from Regina to Denver, but shortly after George left they received the glad news that Harry was still living

His friend, Morley Wilson, saw no signs of life in him, and got some friends to watch while he went to Regina to prepare for the burial. While he was gone the watchers heard a slight sound from Harry, and brought in an Indian doctor, who kept him alive until the mail stage came. Then they wrapped him in furs and brought him out where he could be properly nursed until he was better. His face, hands and feet were badly frozen, but he is getting along as nicely as can be expected.

Fenell is an old Guelph boy, and the adventure with the wolves took place near Hudson Bay.

For The Nervous Woman,

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glyceric extract of native medical plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years, some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, bearing-down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

"My disease was called retroversion," writes MRS. LYDIA MCDONALD, of Mecosta, Mich., Route 1. "I had nervous chills and numb spells and they would leave me very weak. Then I had inflammation and the doctor said I had a floating kidney. I doctored seven months with our family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines I have not had any nervous chills or weak spells. I am better than for years.

"My daughter is now taking the 'Prescription' and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, also the 'Pellets' for nervousness and weak, tired feeling. These remedies have helped her ever so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicines for female troubles."

MRS. MCDONALD.

MASTERING A LION

What trainers have to do to gain Control.

In illustration of the lengths to which owners of wild beasts will go in order to retain control of them, Frank C. Bostock, the famous animal trainer, tells the following story:

"Some years ago, when we were at the Hippodrome in Paris, I decided, as a special attraction, to go into the arena with Wallace, a huge African lion that all our trainers had despaired of. The house was crowded. We placed the lion in a cage sixteen feet square, and this was put inside a twenty-foot ring. Two assistants were stationed in the outer ring in case of accident. I had scarcely got inside when the beast leaped at me. It bit right through my left hand, and with one blow ripped the flesh off my back.

"'Clear out!' I shouted to the two men in the outer ring. 'I'm going to open the doors and let him into the big arena.'

"I was as furious as the lion. My pride as a trainer was wounded deeper than my back. I flung open the doors and the lion sprang out. The blood was pouring from my wounds, but in the excitement of the moment I felt no pain — only a mad desire to be master. I picked up a 'property' chair, and when the beast came again I struck it full across the muzzle; then, seizing my whip, I actually became the aggressor and drove him back to the cage.

"The audience was in something like a panic, and loud cries of 'Enough! Enough!' were raised. But I hadn't finished. In ten minutes I had subjugated Wallace to such an extent that he cowered like a dog. I got out of the cage and just fainted away. From that day to this no one has attempted to teach Wallace."

Saved by His Wit.

One evening, when the city clerk's office was full of men seeking registration, an Irishman asked to be registered. He received the usual blank, with the request that he sign his name. This he succeeded in doing, after a painful effort.

Suspecting that this was the extent of his accomplishments, an onlooker called out to the clerk:

"Try him on another name! Let him write yours."

"'Deed, I'd never dare!" said the Irishman, quick as lightning. "Sure, 'twould be forgery!"

BRAINY WORKERS

Working Shoemakers, Chimney Sweepers, Tramcar Men, and Seamstresses Are Amongst the Most Learned.

Genius like murder, will out, and the history of modern literature provides us with some striking examples of men and women who, although humbly born and denied by circumstances any educational advantages, have given to the world some remarkable literary works. At the present time, for instance, the compilers of the great Oxford English Dictionary are deriving much help in their work from a Concordance of the words of Thomas Kyd, a learned literary man and dramatist of the sixteenth century, which has been compiled by Mr. Charles Crawford, a London railway clerk.

Mr. Crawford is a great authority on Elizabethan English, and published his Concordance five years ago. His knowledge of words has been acquired through close study, and is certainly extraordinary; for often when experts have stated, without investigation, that such and such a word or phrase occurs only in certain writers, or does not appear in certain authors, Mr. Crawford has produced abundant evidence showing the statement to be incorrect.

The Shoemaker Historian

An even more remarkable work than Mr. Crawford's Concordance, however, was that compiled by John Mackintosh, LL.D., who died at Aberdeen four years ago. Although Mackintosh was a shoemaker by trade, he was one of the most notable personalities that the North Country has of recent times produced, and his "History of Civilization in Scotland," in four big volumes, has been described as one of the most complete histories of Scotland ever written.

Chimney Sweep and Author.

It is only a few weeks ago that the University Extension Board appointed Mr. Walter Hunt lecturer on sociology. Mr. Hunt has had an amazing career. He started life as a sailor, spent some time in the fire brigade, and then set up as a chimney sweep at Streatham. He then decided to attend the Robert Browning Settlement in Walworth, and in time was led to write a thoughtful little book wherein he discusses the question, "Are we a declining race?" which attracted much attention among critics. Mr. Hunt's successful writings on race deterioration, involving as they did an immense amount of research work, are the more remarkable when one considers that his calling took him out at four o'clock in the morning. Most of his study was done at night time, and he confided in an interview a little while ago that he found no time to read anything but works on science and history. "Life is too short to waste time in reading fiction," he said.

It might be mentioned that London also possesses a linguistic tramwayman in the person of Mr. Richard Hobdell, of London, who is employed by the London County Council as a pointsman on the car system. Mr Hobdell has a perfect knowledge of Arabic and Sanskrit, and has just finished translating a book from Sanskrit into English. Hobdell, who was with Lord Roberts on the famous march from Kabul to Kandahar, has devoted much of his leisure time since leaving the Army to the study of languages — a study of which he has always been very fond.

The literary sensation of last year was a book, "Marie Claire," written by a Parisian seamstress, Marguerite Audoux, who worked as a dressmaker in one small room on the sixth floor of a house in Paris. The story won a prize of $1000 and royalties — a prize given every year by what is know as the Goncourt Academy for the best novel of the year. It took the seamstress ten years to write her book. "I did not write it to be published," she said, during the course of an interview, as she sat in her little workroom; "it is just my life." And it is because Marguertie Audoux told the story of her life in plain, simple language that she scored such a literary success.

How to Sleep.

Dr. Fischer, a physician practising in Paris, after a series of experiments has come to the conclusion that the orthodox way of sleeping is wrong and advocates a complete reversal of the existing order of things. You must have your head on a level with, or lower than, your feet. If pillows are to be used they must be under the feet instead of the head. The result, he claims, will be amazing, being a sure cure for insomnia, as well as a preventive for the nightmare. To prevent any inconvenience by too sudden a change, it is suggested that the pillows should be gradually reduced and finally placed under the feet.

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoel Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! he rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

INDOOR BASEBALL.

IRON MEN BEAT LOCK WORKS.

At the Armories last night an indoor baseball match, the first for some time, took place between the Marsh & Henthorn and the Belleville Hardware & Lock Co. teams. The result was an easy win for the iron workers, who at the start of the game took a decided lead and maintained it to the close. A large number of spectators were present, and although the score was one-sided, they took considerable interest in the game. At times both teams played good ball. Mr. Howard Sharpe was umpire and Mr. Wm. Thomson umpire on bases. The result of the game was Marsh & Henthorn team won by a score of 34 to 13. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

M. & H.—	B.H. & L. CO.—
Smith, s.s.	McGuire, c.
Brown, lf.	Stewart, p.
Connell, p.	Stark, s.s.
Kelleher, 2b.	McKenna, 1b.
Connolly, c.	Westover, 3b.
Philp, 1b.	Clarke, lf.
Hogan, 3b.	Doran, s.s.
Draycott, s.s.	Symons, 2b.
French, rf.	Barton, rf.

The score by innings was as follows:—

M. & H.	1	2	5	6	4	2	5	7	2	—34
B. H. Co.	0	5	0	1	3	3	0	0	1	—13

BASEBALL.

GREAT GAME IS BASEBALL.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 6.—"These outlaw leagues are amusing," says Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Reds, and chairman of the National Commission. "Although they have not signed a single well-known ball player, they are talking fight. The baseball public demands first class playing talent and the big leagues have got all there is. Even minor leagues don't fear these outlaw movements because the players will not take chances with mythical propositions.

"Baseball war talk during the winter has become an annual fixture, and not until the promoters of the United States and Columbian leagues begin to show real money will there be any cause for apprehension."

The official attendance figures of the major leagues for 1911 are not yet in print, but the figures of 1910 will serve to show by comparison how rapidly attendances have increased in years. The total American League attendance in 1902 was 2,505,157, and in 1911 3,856,387.

In the National League in 1902 the attendance was 1,683,012 and in 1910 3,692,218. These figures mean an increase in the American League of 1,650,380 and in the National League of 2,009,248. Something like 2,000,000 increase in each league in eight years is striking evidence of the spread of popularity for the national game.

THE RING.

STORBECK KNOCKED OUT.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Owing to the unsatisfactory result of the boxing contest on Jan. 2 between Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, and Fred Storbeck, the ex-heavyweight champion of South Africa, a return match was fought at Blackfriars to-night.

In the previous fight Storbeck was disqualified in the seventh round for fouling. Moran proved the winner to-night in a hard-fought battle. Both received much punishment, and in the twelfth round the American floored Storbeck three times. Storbeck was unable to come up for the thirteenth.

ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Canadian Poet

To reverse the usual order of giving pen descriptions of Canadians who have made good, we have induced Robert Stead, who has done so much to bring the Prairies to the East in song and verse, to tell his own story, not that it was a easy task for Robert is modesty personified as the opening remark "My career has been quite commonplace" illustrates. But on pressure being brought to bear he opened out.

"Very well, then, but I will simul mention a few of the mile posts. I was born on my father's farm in Lanark county, Ont., Sept. 4, 1880. My parents were both Canadian born, my father of English, my mother of Scotch descent.

"In 1882, when I was but a year and a half 'young' the family moved to Manitoba, and my father homesteaded a few miles from where the town of Cartwright now stands.

"When he located there no sign of human habitation was visible in any direction, and the nearest railway connection was Emerson, 120 miles away. I was the youngest child and only son of the family, and during my early years was left pretty much to myself to find what association I would with the 'bald-headed prairie.'

"I received a country school education at Chesterville school house which closed for four months in the winter, but when I was twelve the family moved into Cartwright and I had two years steady schooling.

"This was supplemented later by a business course in Winnipeg, but I have not had the advantage of a university education. My father died when I was seventeen and left me with other things to think about.

"In business my experiences have been somewhat varied, as I turned a hand to whatever was in sight. I have been moderately successful in a material way, and my experience have given me an insight into general western conditions which I think I can capitalize in literature.

"At 15 I was working on a farm for $15 a month; at 16, clerking in a general store and post office at $16 a month; at 17, managing a small retail lumber yard and in the winter 'engineer' in a grain elevator.

"At nineteen I established 'The Review' at Cartwright, which I published for eleven years. During that period I was publisher of the 'Crystal City Courier,' also, for about a year.

"I then deserted journalism and went into the automobile business at High River, Alta. about two years ago. I don't know what the next move will be, but it is pretty near due now.

"You will be interested to know that my first published poem appeared in the Weekly Tribune when I was thirteen years old, and a friendly letter from Mr. Richardson encouraged me to further efforts along that line."

By the time he was 21 Mr. Stead had a number of short stories accepted by different magazines. Three years ago he published "The Empire Builders," a volume of poems mostly of a patriotic nature.

This was well received and is now in its fourth edition. Among others who commended the work and did much to insure its success was the late governor-general, Earl Grey, who took quite an interest in it and wrote Mr Stead a number of very kind letters.

Last summer he published "Prairie Born," and lately, a little volume under the title, "Songs of the Prairie." It is in miniature form. It has been well received, in fact, some of the western cities report it as their biggest seller last month.

It is doubtful if old Diogenes would make out any better with a modern searchlight than he did with his lantern.

Boosting

Things may be coming your way but be careful that they do not come with such force as to carry you away with them. There are tides and tides. Some are natural, some are supernatural and some are dangerous, because they move with a force which is too strong for our character and will. "Beware of uncontrolable circumstances". This was an expression which first fell from the lips of Wellington. The editor of a periodical remarks: —

'Old salts,' who are forever yarning about wrecks and their causes, have a theory that what is called a "boosting" sea accounts for more than one of the disasters that have occurred in the long history of shipping. A "boosting" sea is a sea that runs heavily after a steamer, and, if it does not actually "poop" the vessel, yet, by the roll of billow after billow accelerates its speed to a degree unguessed by the navigator, until finally the ship, having unconsciously overrun its course, brings up upon a rock or hidden reef, and is reported at Lloyds' as "lost."

Monuments in Queer Places.

There are Monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places, but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta River, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it. This monument, which is in memory of the world-famed rower, Searle, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning-post of the races for the world's championship and is still used as such for local events.

Fall Plowing Advocate.

It is almost always advisable to plow clay lands in the autumn. If hay land can be plowed shallow soon after the hay is removed in the case of sod, and after the crop is taken off in the case of stubble, it is so much better, as it not only ensures a good reservoir for holding moisture, but also stores up more available fertility than where the soil is plowed but once.

Destroying the Germ.

If the broad end of the egg is pricked with a fine needle, this will effectively prevent it from hatching. Dipping in boiling water slightly coagulates the white, and likewise renders the egg useless for incubation.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

NEW IMMIGRATION AGENT.

Mr. J. Lyle Anderson has been appointed Immigration Agent at Belleville in place of John Carr, dismissed.

CHARGE OF THEFT

Stephen Maville, aged 18 years, and Harold Muir, aged 14 years, were to-day placed under arrest by Sergt. Naphin on a charge of theft. It is alleged that the accused stole some fancy pigeons from Mr. Thomas Hyland, who resides on Coleman Street.

MADE GOOD IN WEST

Mr. Gerald Ponton, M.E., of Calgary, is home and intends to spend some time here. The firm of Harrison & Ponton, both of whom are Belleville boys, made a complete plan of the city of Calgary and had the same lithographed. The sale of this has been phenomenal, they having already disposed of 7,000 copies and have orders for more.

RAILWAY COMMISSION.

A meeting of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners was held at Toronto to-day when matters appertaining to the C.N.O.R. and C.P.R. crossing the Deaf and Dumb Institution premises were to be considered. In connection with the C.N.O.R. the matters of a subway, a flag station and rights to cross the sewage pipes were brought up. Col. Ponon, K.C., of this city, appeared before the Commission on behalf of the Ontario Government.

SMASHED BY SNOW.

A building situated on the east side of Coleman Street, just north of Bridge Street, and used by Mr. John Wiggins, liveryman, for the storing of vehicles, harness, etc., collapsed at an early hour this morning was to the weight of snow upon the roof. The whole building would have collapsed had it not been that the sides were held up by buildings which were in close proximity. Mr. Wiggins removed the cutters and sleighs, which were not damaged. Some wheeled vehicles are still in the building and are damaged to some extent. The building is a frame one and sheeted with iron, being the property of the McLaughlin Company. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars. Mr. Wiggins was in the building at the time of the accident and made a hasty exit.

THROWN FROM CUTTER.

Mr. L. E. Mills, merchant, of Shannonville, had the misfortune to be thrown out of his cutter when on his way to Big Island to visit his mother a few days ago. His shoulder is badly sprained and he is laid off for a few days, but we hope not for long.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

On the 21st, 22nd and 23rd inst., at Toronto, the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade will be held. Five delegates from the Belleville Board will attend, namely, Mr. W. B. Deacon, President; Col. Ponton, Secretary; Messrs. J. Elliott, C. M. Reid and H. Sneyd. At this gathering five resolutions dealing with important matters will be submitted by the local Board.

HEALTH EXHIBIT.

On Monday and Tuesday next the Health exhibit of the Provincial Government can be seen in this city at the City Hall. On Monday and Tuesday afternoons and evenings special sessions will be held and addresses given by speakers qualified to speak upon health matters. Charts and moving pictures will also be shown. The exhibit will not only be of an interesting nature, but will no doubt prove profitable.

SUCCESSFUL BELLEVILLE BOY.

Mr. R. B. McPherson, formerly with J. J. Haines, Belleville, now with C. E. McKean's shoe stores, Vancouver, B.C., obtained second prize for the most original and best dressed Christmas window, having entered the city class competition of 10,000 population and over. The judges were H. C. Macdonald and A. S. Hardy, window dressers of the Murray-Kay Co., Toronto, who had no light task to perform, as there were hundreds of photos sent in from the Pacific to the Atlantic to judge from.

AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY FAVORABLY CONSIDERED

Public Meeting Last Night Discussed the Project and Regarded It Favorably.

A meeting in the interests of the proposed establishment in this city of the United Motor Car works was held last evening in the city hall and was fairly well attended.

Mayor Vermilyea occupied the chair and in a few well chosen remarks referred to the object of the meeting, namely, to discuss the proposition of the establishment of the motor car industry here.

Mr. Dickson, who is here soliciting stock for the concern, spoke, his remarks being in line with those given at the Council meeting on Monday evening, namely, that for every dollar subscribed in Belleville, at least $6 would be added. He contended that the proposition was one that would prove of value to the city.

Col. Lazier spoke at some length, detailing the proposition, which he considered would be an excellent industry for the city if it could be secured.

The address of the evening was given by Mr. J. J. B. Flint, who, in the course of his remarks referred to the form of contract, and that the interests of all who took stock would be safely guarded. All payments of stock are to be made to Mayor Vermilyea, Col. Lazier and the speaker, as trustees for the subscribing stockholders at Belleville, to be deposited by them in the Standard Bank of Canada at Belleville, to the joint credit of the said trustees and the said company. No part of the said moneys are to be paid out until the company is prepared with sufficient capital to commence and complete the erection of a factory and plant at Belleville, to cost not less than $150,000, and no monies are to be paid out without the consent and concurrence of the said trustees. This subscription to the capital stock of the company is based upon the proviso that the factory and plant of the company is to be built at Belleville, and in case it is not, the monies paid on account of this subscription of stock are to be returned.

Ald. Woodley, in his remarks, spoke of his visit to a large automobile industry at Detroit, which was a paying concern, and if such an industry could be secured in Belleville it would be a great benefit

Col. Ponton, Messrs. Greenleaf, J. Elliott, H. Sneyd, T. Blackburn and Ald. Bogle were speakers, all of whom spoke in glowing terms of the necessity of doing all that was possible to secure for the city such an industry, as is proposed to be located here.

While nothing definite was done, and no resolutions adopted, the consensus of opinion is that every effort should be made to secure the industry if it is as represented.

ALLEGED RIFT IN BRITISH CABINET

Story of Movement to Oust Premier in Favor of Lloyd George

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The statements which were published at the end of last summer, regarding the developments preparing in the inner councils of the Liberal party in the direction of Mr. Lloyd George succeeding Mr. Asquith in the Premiership have since been frequently referred to in the English press with the characteristic reserve with which official matters of all kinds are discussed and today form the subject of a special article in the Daily Mail.

Under the headings "Intrigue in the Cabinet," "Premier to be Deposed," and "Lloyd George as Dictator." The Standard specially features an article by its Parliamentary correspondent, "who is in a position to get the most authoritative information on the political situation," and who, reciting the various causes of discontent regarding Asquith's leadership in the advanced wing of the Cabinet says: "Should this hostile movement to Asquith succeed it will of course secure the advancement of Mr. Lloyd George. Indeed it has been known for some time that the Chancellor of the Exchequer has been the dictator of the Cabinet and it is said he chafes at having to forego in public the undoubted authority he possesses in private. His friends, both in the Cabinet and party, are very active in his interests and an intrigue has been in full swing on his behalf ever since Ministers and their followers came back to town."

In all matters in which Liberals notoriously lost ground—the imbroglio over women's suffrage, and the tangle on home rule—Mr. Asquith has been openly blamed. The Cabinet itself, it is clear, and the regime of Mr. Asquith hangs by a thread. The deposition of Mr. Asquith, however, would not be secured without conditions. He would not go into the wilderness altogether, nor could he remain in the Cabinet and serve under a new Liberal Prime Minister save as Lord Chancellor. His pursuers know by his character he will not fight, but they also know it would be bad tactics to replace and disgrace him in the same operation. Accordingly much thought is being devoted to a face-saving policy.

MORMON WOMAN,

Aged Ninety-Seven, Leaves 534 Descendants.

SPRING VALLEY, Utah, Feb. 7.—Five hundred and thirty-four descendants, running to the fifth generation, survive Mrs. Sylvia A. Sandford, who died here to-day, aged ninety-seven years. Born in Vermont, Mrs. Sandford was one of the early converts to the Mormon faith and crossed the plains to Utah in 1848. She was the mother of eight children. Three great-great-great grandchildren recently came into her family.

THERE WAS NO RIOTING AT BELFAST HOME RULE MEETING

Churchill Had a Mixed Reception on His Arrival—Rain Fell But Streets were Thronged—Progress of Orator to Park was Interrupted, but Police Cleared the Way—Nature of Churchill's Remarks

(Intelligencer Special.)

BELFAST, Ireland, Feb. 8.—An enormous crowd, composed mostly of mill hands, greeted Winston Churchill and his wife at the station here today. A hooting and howling mob surrounded his auto, but no serious trouble resulted, Churchill remaining impassive.

A heavy rain fell throughout the day, turning the park where the meeting was to be held into a bog. The streets of the city were thronged with an immense crowd.

Churchill's progress to the park at the dinner hour was interrupted several times by workingmen, and the police had much difficulty in clearing a way for his auto.

Unionist sympathizers carried an effigy of Churchill through the streets on a pole, while the Nationalists hung effigies of Lord Londonerry and Sir Edward Carson on wires near the park.

In his speech Churchill declared Britain's present parliamentary methods were not sufficiently representative of the provincial life of the nation. Home Rule for Ireland he regarded as the first milestone along the road to eventual unity of the English-speaking races.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

LOSS OF APPETITE OR DISTRESS AFTER EATING A SYMPTOM THAT SHOULD NOT BE DISREGARDED.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Belleville who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus promote perfect nutrition, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c. box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases we have two larger sizes, which we sell for 50c. and $1.00 Remembre, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store.—J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

There's Always a Best in Everything

Not so much in the actual value of the goods as in the continued satisfaction attained. This is particularly so in the case of that popular, common-sense treatment for COLDS and GRIPPE.

WROTE AFTER A SILENCE OF SIXTY-FOUR YEARS.

Henry Maloney, Now at Victoria, B.C. Sent a Letter to Relatives in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—After a silence of sixty-five years, Henry Maloney, of Victoria, B.C., has written to his relatives here.

Owing to some objections raised by them in 1848 to his marrying the girl of his choice, as a young man of 20, he left his home in Gaspe, Que., and went to sea. He never returned to his old home and did not write, and as nothing was heard of him, after a few years he was given up as dead. Only three men in Gaspe recall Maloney, two of them being his brothers, who are over eighty years of age.

This will surprise you!

LESS than 25% of a bushel of oats as it comes into our mills, goes out as Tillson's Rolled Oats.

To produce the large, unbroken, Tillson's flakes which you admire in the Tillson's package, we need large, fat, perfect grains.

By the time we have cleaned, hulled and graded the oats, the selection we make for Tillson's is less than a quarter of the whole bushel.

Tillson's Oats are always sold in the Tillson's package—never in bulk and never under any other name.

Oatmeal Gruel

Mix two tablespoonfuls of Tillson's Rolled Oats with one saltspoonful of salt and a scant teaspoonful of sugar. Add one cupful of boiling water, place in the double boiler and cook without stirring for two hours. Strain through a fine strainer, return to the double boiler and add one cupful of milk. Serve hot.

Tillson's Oats

Your grocer has Tillson's. Two sizes—10c and 25c.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT; WORLD'S CONQUEROR

There is no father mentioned in history who ever had quite the confidence in his son that Philip of Macedon showed in Alexander, afterward called "the Great."

He told the youth Macedonia was too small a kingdom for him, as he wept with joy to see Alexander master the famous horse Bucephalus that had overthrown every rider at Pella. And when Philip went on a campaign to conquer Byzantium, he left Alexander as Regent in Macedonia, his age then being but 16 years.

Alexander's last two years of study were with Aristotle as his master. He found the boy absorbed with the idea of devoting his life to conquest. The art of war appealed to him above all else, and he gloried in the knowledge that through his mother's family he was descended from Achilles. From the time he was able to read, he had slept with a copy of Iliad and a sword his father gave him carefully placed beneath his pillow.

At the age of 20 Alexander became King of Macedonia through the death of his father. During the 12 years of his reign he left a record for military skill and brilliant exploits that has never been equalled in history.

That he was a believer in the theory that spoils belonged to the victor is also a matter of history. The stories of the amount of treasure he collected in his wars have seemed fabulous, but what can with safety be relied upon as fact has been studied, and the result shows that his plunder probably amounted to $2,750,000,000.

In Alexander's time it was the custom of kings to melt all the gold they got possession of, to pour it into earthen jars, and store these in the royal treasury. When kingdoms were conquered, the treasure captured often represented the accumulation of years. From Damascus Alexander took away $750,000,000 in gold and jewels; and from Susa he took gold and silver from the mint, where it was waiting to be coined, to the value of $50,000,000. Then came his conquest of Persia, and it took 20,000 mules and 3,000 camels to transport the loot, which was fully as much as that taken at Susa.

In the midst of his triumphant exploits of arms, and in the accumulation of such stores of added wealth, the noble generosity of Alexander toward his fallen foe, Darius the Persian, is an illustration of the grandeur of character that ought to mark a man of such genius.

When Darius escaped after the battle at Issus, his wife, his mother and his two daughters were among the captives taken by Alexander. Expecting to suffer insult and disgrace they found delicate consideration, kindness and courtesy. And later, when in hot pursuit of Darius, Alexander came upon him dying—lying in his last agony upon a chariot, murdered by a man who sought to be King of Persia—Alexander shed tears at this pathetic sight. And when his enemy was dead he had the body taken to Persepolis and buried among the royal tombs of the Persian kings.

Alexander's last durbar at Babylon was a splendid spectacle. His tent was upheld by pillars of solid gold, and its roof was covered with cloth of gold.

His officers of state stood near the throne, and behind them were a hundred couches adorned with solid gold. In a half circle 500 Macedonian guards formed an imposing line; and back of them 500 Persians stood guard, their costumes of rich purple silk and the lances they bore tipped with golden pomegranates.

Entirely around these groups 1000 archers formed a circle. Their costumes were in flame color and brilliant scarlet, with dashes of light blue. The royal tent was so enormous that all these persons were gathered within it.

Readers of Victor Hugo's "Toilers of the Sea," think they detect a note of exaggeration in the terrible fight of one of the characters of that book with an octopus. Recently an octopus caught a Japanese diver at work near Monterey, Cal., and squeezed him so violently that only his diving suit saved him from death. The monster held on so that it was an hour before the diver could be hauled up. The tentacles of the devil-fish, which weighed 275 pounds, had to be cut one by one.

Marooned Party Safe.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The 250 men, women and children marooned for several weeks on Holland Island, in ice-locked Chesapeake Bay, are not facing starvation and pestilence, as supposed, but are possessed of plenty, according to a wireless despatch yesterday from Captain Carmaine of the revenue cutter Apache, hurriedly despatched to the relief of this sandbar of the bay.

"Investigation proves conclusively," the message declared, "that no assistance is needed immediately; plenty of food; fuel enough to last one month, and sickness unimportant."

The Apache was compelled to cut its way through the heavy ice for eight hours to reach the island.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"How can I save him?"

"He is not a spy."

"That must be proved, Gretchen. I cannot go to the Steinschloss and order them to liberate him." She lifted Gretchen to her feet.

"I have been there, and they will not let me see him. I love him so!"

"I can arrange that for you. I will go with you myself to the prison."

"Thanks, highness, thanks!" Gretchen was hysterical.

The king and his uncle had been given adjoining cells on the ground floor. The princess and her protegee were admitted without objection. The sergeant in charge of that floor even permitted them to go into the corridor unattended.

Voices.

"Hush!" whispered her highness, pressing Gretchen's arm.

"Ach! Wall, dear nephew; beat your hands upon the bars, curse, waste your breath on stone. Did I not warn you against this very thing when you proposed this mad junket? A fine scandal!"

"Woe to the duke for this affront!"

Gretchen started to speak, but the princess quickly put her hand over the goose girl's mouth.

"Uncle, I will have revenge for this!"

"Good! Bang—bang! Slash and cut! War is a great invention—on paper. Come, my boy; you were sensible enough when they brought us here. Control yourself. Be a king in all the word implies. For my part, I begin to see."

"And what do you see?"

"I see that the duke knows who we are, even if his police do not. He will keep us here a day or two and then magnanimously liberate us with profuse apologies. We shall be escorted to the frontier with honors. His highness loves a jest too well to let this chance escape. Besides, I see in the glass the fine Italian hand of Herbeck."

"I AM THE KING OF JUGENDHEIT."

"Gretchen, Gretchen!" said the king.

Gretchen could stand it no longer. She wrenched herself free from the grasp of the princess, who, with pitying heart, understood all now. Poor, unhappy Gretchen!

"Here I am, Leopold," the goose girl cried, pressing her body against the bars and thrusting her hands through them.

"The devil!" murmured the man in the other cell.

"You here, Gretchen?" The king covered her hands with passionate kisses.

"Yes, yes! They have made a dreadful mistake. You are no spy from Jugendheit."

"No, Gretchen," said the voice from the next cell. "He is far worse than that. He is the king, Gretchen, the king."

"Uncle!" in anguish.

"Let us have it over with," replied Prince Ludwig sadly.

"The king!" Gretchen laughed shrilly. "What jest is this, Leopold?"

The king, still holding her hands, looked down.

"Leopold!" plaintively.

Still he did not speak, still he averted his head. But God knew that his heart was on the rack.

"Leo, look at me! You are laughing!" Gretchen cried. "Why, did we not work together in the vineyards, and did we not plan for the future? Ah, yes! You are a king only to me. I see. But it is a cruel jest, Leopold. Smile at me! Say something!"

"Gretchen, forgive me!" despairingly.

"He asks me to forgive him!" dully. "For what?"

"For being a villain! Yes," his voice keen with agony. "I am the king of Jugendheit. But am I less a man for that? Ah, God help me, I have a right to love like other men! Do not doubt me, Gretchen; do not think that I played with you. I love you better than my crown, better than my honor!"

(To be continued.)

A law has been introduced into the Quebec Legislature by Premier Gouin abolishing court costs on debts of $25 and under. This course could well be followed by the other provinces, as it often happens that a person is sued for $5 or $6, and the costs of the action are $15 or $20 in addition to the actual judgment.—Peterborough Review.

AN INTERESTING BULLETIN.

An interesting bulletin has just been issued by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It is by Mr Arkell, the Assistant Live Stock Commissioner, and is entitled, "Observations upon Government Assistance to Agriculture in Certain Countries in Europe." As usual, Denmark has a striking lesson to convey. For fifty years now Denmark has been in the lead in scientific agriculture, and has been reaping the benefit in agricultural wealth. This she has accomplished also in spite of inferior advantages of soil and climate. Mr. Arkell quotes the statement made at the Winnipeg meeting in 1909 of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, by the Danish Live Stock Commissioner. According to him the average yield of Danish cows in 1864 was eighty pounds of butter; in 1908 the average yield was two hundred and twenty pounds. The result had been attained through the formation of local breeders' associations, attention to breeding for results, the formation of control unions which engage men to make tests for the farmers in connection with the milk yield for their cows, the percentage of butter fat and the cost of feed.

He adds: "It is a recognized fact that compared with Canada, in the production of milk and bacon the Danes are at a disadvantage through rate of rent for land and through cost of feed. Denmark, too, is a very small country," (about as big, taking the peninsula with the Baltic islands, as New Brunswick), "and yet she has been able to obtain the best of the argument in competition for trade with Great Britain. The enterprise of the Government in co-operation wtih the farmers has made this possible and an income of millions of pounds annually has consequently resulted to the country." In the face of the beggarly shipments from Canada to Great Britain, compared with the fifty million dollars' worth of butter, the twenty-five million dollars' worth of bacon and the ten million dollars' worth of eggs which go from Denmark annually to Great Britain, we are obliged to recognize and acknowledge that agriculturally, in methods, organization, education, scientific knowledge and alertness, we are far behind the times. The spirit of responsiveness to forward movements it, perhaps, what chiefly is lacking with us.

Mr. Arkell's statements with regard to Ireland are very striking. The itinerant system of agricultural instruction has only been in force some ten years, but has produced substantial results. In the case of the improvement of live stock the attitude of the rural taxpayers was most progressive. The Agricultural Act empowered the county councils to impose a rate equal to one penny in the pound on the taxable value of rural districts comprised within the country, for the purpose of agriculture and such other rural industries upon which they were authorized to spend money. Every county in Ireland now voluntary assesses itself for this purpose. The tax is equal to about forty cents on the hundred dollars. This, as Mr. Arkell states, "is perhaps the best guarantee of the need and utility of the whole enterprise." That Ireland is progressing agriculturally is shown by her export of butter and eggs. The shipments of butter in 1904 were some nineteen million dollars' worth, and in 1907 over twenty million. The shipment of eggs rose from eleven million dollars' worth in 1904 to over fourteen million in 1907.

Mr. Arkell, after speaking of the past efforts of Canadian Governments, federal and provincial, says that "without the enthusiastic co-operation of the people themselves, it is impossible to get results commensurate with the money expended." He further urges that in view of his observations in Europe he is convinced that "government activity had to be carried directly to the country districts, and the wheels of its enterprise set in motion before it could expect to accomplish results."

WEALTH OF THE WORLD.

At the last meeting of the French Statistical Society, M. Alfred Neymarck presented a paper on the amount of the transferable securities of the world, the world's commerce, public debts, etc. He found the amount of the world's transferable securities at the end of 1910 to be 163,000 millions of dollars, 114,000 to 120,000 millions of dollars of which belonged to the subjects of the country in which they were issued.

In the computation, Great Britain holds a good lead. Taking the maximum amounts in each year the showing is:

	1908	1910
Great Britain	27,000	28,400
United States	24,000	26,400
France	17,000	22,000
Germany	17,000	19,009
Russia	5,400	6,200
Austria-Hungary	4,400	4,800
Italy	2,400	2,800
Japan	1,400	2,400
Other countries	7,600	8,000
Total	110,200	120,000

It will be noticed that Britain leads by 2,000 millions of dollars, while Germany is a poor fourth with 9,400 millions of dollars less. The cost of railways bulks large and in that America leads with 404,236 kilometres, Europe being second with 325,193 kilometres. International commerce is estimated at 23,000 or 28,000 millions. Europe public debts for peace or war amount to 30,000 millions of dollars, necessitating an annual interest payment of $12,000,000.

M. Neymarck summed up the situation by saying that in all the countries of the world:

1. Never was the total amount of international securities so high.
2. Never has the total amount of international securities been so great.
3. Never has so many kilometres of railways been constructed and worked.
4. Never has the commercial, financial and industrail relations of nations been so great and active.
5. Never have the public debts, the budgets, the charges for or in view of war, the fiscal charges and the taxes been so high.
6. Never has the taxpayer been so heavily affected by the taxes.

These large figures, he argues, could have been reached only by the maintenance of good international relations permitting the increase and development of business between nations.

Europe is now threatened with a simultaneous strike of coal miners in France, Germany and Great Britain. If this threat is carried out it will work tremendous harm to industry and bring much suffering to the countries concerned. Operators declare the present mine trouble will result in a great rise in the price of coal. This means that as usual the public will be a heavy, though innocent, sufferer.—Montreal Gazette.

A lynching mob which hunts its victims in automobiles can't be said to be composed of the lowly and ignorant of a city. Probably the Macon mob plumes itself on its superior humanity in waiting until the negro was dead before burning his body. Such cremations appear to be necessary nowadays to "impress the niggers." The Board of Health of New York city has prohibited the sale or use of wood alcohol either by ingestion or by "external application." Dr. Randolph Fairies, a text-writer on physical training, says that wood alcohol is as efficient and as harmless as grain alcohol for external use, and recommends it for the rubbing of athletes. But the health officials have interdicted its use by barbers because of its effects in cases of cuts or skin abrasions.

Thefts from poor boxes and even from the altars of London churches have become so frequent that clergymen are considering the advisability of keeping the church doors locked except during services. The pastor of the Roman Catholic church of St. Gregory has met the situation by posting this notice near the poor boxes: "For the convenience of burglars and others interested in the contents of these alms boxes, it may be well to state that as they are cleared every day, at most there is but a few pence in them, and it is really not worth while committing two sins, sacrilege and theft, for so little.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicines. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas.

After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women.—MRS. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman Cured

Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others.—MRS. F. E. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

Conservation of Seals.

Washington, Feb. 8.—An attempt to amend the international fur seal agreement so that it will prohibit all killing of seals by Americans on the Pribiloff Islands for a period of fifteen years, occupied the House yesterday and was pending when that body adjourned last night.

Chairman Sulzer and the majority of the House committee on foreign affairs are opposed to any change in the treaty, as agreed to by the diplomatic representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Russia and Japan. The bill to carry this agreement into effect was brought up for passage yesterday, but a strong movement to insert restrictions upon American seal killing at the Pribiloff Islands prevented its passage.

Thirteenth Legislature Opens With Pomp and Ceremony.

Speech From the Throne Has Many Announcements to Make Regarding the Work of the Past Year and the Plans For a Continuance of Activity — W. H. Hoyle Is Appointed Speaker—Members Sworn In.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—The legislative machinery of the province is once again in motion. Yesterday afternoon, with the customary formalities, the thirteenth Parliament of Ontario was opened by His Honor Sir John Morrison Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of the province. The wild blizzard which blew most of the day prevented a very large crowd of sightseers from congregating around the entrance, where a guard of honor from the 48th Highlanders were stationed to receive the gubernatorial party. In spite of the weather drawbacks, however, several hundred people had assembled, as the booming of cannon announced the arrival of the King's representative.

A few minutes before three o'clock the doors opened and Sir James Whitney entered with Lady Gibson. The Premier then left the legislative chamber and went down to the front entrance of the building, where he received the Lieutenant-Governor and escorted him up to the throne, Major Shanley and Major Fellowes acting as aides-de-camp to his honor.

The formal ceremony of appointing the Speaker was then proceeded with, the honor falling on W. H. Hoyle, the member for North Ontario.

The Lieutenant-Governor then read the speech from the throne. It was, in part, as follows:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It affords me pleasure to welcome you to the performance of your duties at this, the first session of the thirteenth Legislature of this province.

In November last the official career of Earl Grey as Governor-General of Canada came to a close, and he took with him on his departure the abiding respect, esteem and affection of the Canadian people.

For the first time in the history of Canada a prince of the blood royal, one of the illustrious family to whom we owe willing allegiance, becomes our Governor-General. The people of Canada appreciate highly the fact that he is the son of the ever-to-be-revered and august lady, Queen Victoria, and the brother of his late Majesty King Edward the Peacemaker, who held the confidence and affection of all his subjects and the respect and admiration of the civilized world.

Since the last meeting of the Legislature the coronation of Their Most Gracious Majesties King George V. and His Royal Consort Queen Mary has been celebrated in solemn and imposing ceremony.

Manifestations of the steadily increasing enterprise and desirable activities of our people are to be seen everywhere and are subjects of congratulation. By way of illustration—the net earnings of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway for the year ending Dec. 31, 1911, amounted to $593,000, as against $420,000 for the previous year. The branch of the railway to Porcupine has been completed, while another branch line is being located from the main line to Elk Lake.

An agreement has been entered into between the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway Commission and the Grand Trunk Company of Canada granting the latter running rights over the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, in consideration of which the company, in addition to assuming an equitable share of the cost of the general maintenance of the road, agrees to pay the sum of $300,000 per annum as rental for such running rights.

The erection of the new Central Prison building at Guelph has been commenced. A large part of the work is being done by the prisoners, and the result fully justifies the experiment of treating the prisoners as not unworthy of trust. The board of parole instituted by my Government has proved to be an unqualified success.

The great scheme for the utilization of Hydro-electric power in the public interest has, after many vicissitudes, been accomplished and is now in full and successful operation in the western part of the province, and steps are now being taken by my Government to extend the operations of the commission to central, northern and eastern Ontario.

The output of our silver mines has continued to increase during the past year, until now Ontario stands third in point of production among the silver-producing communities of the world.

The very important work of practical demonstrations carried out on live stock, dairying, fruit-growing and the growing of field crops, by the district representatives of the Department of Agriculture, has been continued and increased, and the demand for further extension of this work still continues.

The succession duties for the past year have amounted to over a million dollars.

During the year 1910 upwards of eight thousand immigrants were brought into the province by the Department of Colonization and located, and it is believed that the figures for the year 1911 will show a still larger number. Conferences have been held between the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa and the Minister of Agriculture of the province, with a view to co-operation with regard to this matter in the future, which it is believed will bring about desirable results.

The commissioner appointed to collect information regarding legislation affecting compensation for injuries to workmen has made good progress, and a report may be expected at an early day.

The question of the further development of new or Northern Ontario is obviously of great importance, and, with the financial aid expected from the Parliament of Canada, and the great extent of railway construction, my Ministers intend to take immediate steps towards a more rapidly progressive development.

The public accounts will be laid before you for your consideration at the earliest moment, and the supplementary estimates for the current year will also be submitted without delay.

I am convinced that the welfare and best interests of this great province will be well served by your deliberations.

Sir James moved the customary appointments of standing committees of the House, and the Legislature stood adjourned till 2.30 this afternoon.

The swearing in of the members before they can take their seats in the House continued all day.

CONDITIONS WORSE.

Lawlessness In Manchuria Is Spreading, Say Russians.

Pekin, Feb. 8.—Diplomatic difficulties, as well as occasional military incidents between the Russians and the Chinese, continue and are being watched closely by the foreign representatives here.

The Imperial Foreign Board recently sent a note to the Russian legation in which the Russian troops were charged with aiding the Mongolians in their attack on the Chinese garrison at the railroad station of the city of Manchuria. The Foreign Board requested the Russian legation to see that the Russian troops observed neutrality.

The Russian legation in its reply says that the Mongols after their attack on the Chinese garrison, retreated into the railway zone where the Russian troops arrested them. The troops of the Chinese garrison followed into the railway zone and attacked both the Mongols and the Russians, in the course of the fight, killing a Russian officer and a Russian soldier, as well as a number of Mongolians.

The conditions in Manchuria are evidently becoming worse. Reports from Russian sources say that the Mongols have carried the warfare to the Amur River, while brigand bands numbering hundreds have gone so far as to attack and capture several towns.

The authority in the Kutuktu, the head of the Mongolian Lama sect, who is now the Mongolian grand khan, has secured recognition from Khailar in the north of Mongolia down to the Turkestan border.

In Turkestan itself a three-cornered conflict is in progress between the Imperialist garrisons, the Republican rebels who have taken the present opportunity to revolt. A number of Russian subjects have lost their lives in the fighting that has occurred between the three rival parties.

The Imperial Foreign Board has not made any reply to the recent proposal to mediate with the Mongolians, and in diplomatic circles no surprise would be felt if a Russian intervention in Manchuria occurred sooner or later.

Rain Ruined Fairs.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—With about 500 delegates in attendance, the twelfth annual convention of the Ontario association of fairs and exhibitions, opened in No. 1 court room at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. In point of attendance and amount of work planned the convention is the largest ever held in the history of the association.

The report of the superintendent, J. Lockie Wilson, Toronto, indicated that 1911 was the worst year in a century for fully one-third of the societies, many of whom suffered an entire loss of gate receipts because of rain.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, speaking at the meeting at night, referred to the earnestness of the work accomplished by the present Government in Ontario, and also to the splendid work accomplished by the different fair associations.

"I think the fair associations are getting away from the educational ideas and catering to the spectacular end of the business," said Mr. Burrell, "but I have no doubt this will be eliminated in time. I am also glad to see by the annual report that the association has decided to get none other than experts as judges."

Can Quell Any Disorder.

Belfast, Feb. 8.—How many soldiers are stationed in Belfast in anticipation of possible trouble at the great home rule meeting to-day, nobody knows, but the authorities assert that they are sufficient to quell any serious disorder. Last night everything is quiet, and preparations have been completed for the gathering in Celtic Park, where Winston Churchill and John Redmond are to deliver their addresses.

John Redmond, William Redmond, Joseph Devlin and the other Nationalists arrived here yesterday afternoon, and were greeted warmly by a large body of their adherents. The Marquis of Londonderry, Sir Edward Carson, and other prominent Unionists are also coming in order to influence their followers to keep the peace. Ulster Hall ,is now guarded by the police.

A heavy cold rain prevailed all night and the streets were deserted. The football field, hired for the Churchill meeting, is a quagmire.

Youths Admit Burglary.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Alfred Cooper and George Preuss, who were arrested on Tuesday night on the serious charge of burglary, were arraigned before Police Magistrate Weir yesterday morning and pleaded guilty, Cooper on three separate charges of burglarizing Wolfhard's hardware store on Jan. 11, breaking into the C.P.R. tool house on Jan. 29 and unlawfully wounding Sylvester Yost on the same date. Preuss pleaded guilty to the first two charges. They gave their ages as 16 years.

Cooper has a police record, being at present a ward of the Children's Aid Society. They were remanded until Saturday for sentence.

German Attache Robbed.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 8.—An attache of the German embassy at Rome has been robbed of a despatch box containing important documents. At the time of the robbery the attache was traveling on the Rome-Berlin express, which had stopped at Goeschenen, Switzerland. All the passengers were closely questioned and their baggage was searched, but without result.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Altho sympathy with foreign markets carried wheat upward for a time to-day, prices later sagged in a decided manner owing to absence of both export and domestic demand for the cash grain. The Liverpool market to-day closed on wheat ⅝d to 1d higher than yesterday, and corn ⅝d to 1½d higher. Berlin wheat closed ¼c higher, and Buda Pest ⅛c higher and Paris ⅜c to 1½c higher. Argentine wheat was 1¼c higher.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—Cables on Manitoba spring wheat continue to come strong and prices bid were 1½d to 2d higher. The demand was good for both nearby and May-June shipment, and considerable business was done. There was also a good demand for oats from the continent, but owing to the scarcity of ocean freight room to these ports for May-June shipment exporters could not accept the orders.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 3 were 1150 cattle, 275 sheep and lambs, 1250 hogs and 250 calves, while the offerings this morning amounted to 450 cattle, 160 sheep and lambs, 1100 hogs and 250 calves.

Altho the supply of cattle was very small a weaker feeling developed in the market and prices ruled about 25c per cwt. lower than on Monday. The demand was limited, owing to the fact that buyers generally were well supplied with the class of beef offered and were not disposed to load up with any more for the time being, consequently the trade was slow throut the day and the feeling nominal. The trade in small meats was also quiet on account of the limited supplies coming forward and prices showed no important change.

The tone of the market for hogs was stronger under an increased demand and smaller supplies and prices advanced 10c to 20c per cwt., with sales of selected lots at $7.25 to $7.35 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.25 to $6.50; medium, $4.75 to $6; common, $3 to $4; canners, $2.50 to $3; choice cows, $4.75 to $5; medium, $3.25 to $4.25; bulls, $3 to $5; milkers, choice, each, $75 to $80; common and medium, each, $50 to $60; springers, $30 to $45.

Arrests Soon.

Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—Instructions were sent to Government agents in at least twenty cities yesterday to keep watch over the men who have been charged in thirty-two indictments with complicity with the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal in the dynamite conspiracy.

The men indicted, who are said to number between thirty and forty, are now scattered in cities as far distant as Boston, New York, New Orleans, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Seattle, and it is the plan of the Government to cause their arrest on one day. It is understood telegrams from the federal authorities here have informed the officials in the districts where the men reside that capiases have been issued, and these with copies of the indictments are to be sent as soon as possible.

Must Save Forests.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—Delegates to the Canadian Forestry Association convention, which opened here yesterday were greeted warmly by both Premier Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

At the afternoon session the association devoted its energies chiefly to the question of protection from fire, and in this connection a lengthy discussion took place. At the end of the report of a special committee charged with the work of looking into fire, was adopted.

A thorough organization, backed by public opinion, is requisite, and persons who cause fires must be punished. Railways should improve equipment and patrol the right of way. Settlers should be educated, and Quebec was congratulated in that the clergy read letters of caution from the pulpit.

Swine Breeders Meet.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, George Douglas, Mitchell; vice-president, S. Dolson, Norval Station; secretary-treasurer, A. P. Westervelt, Toronto.

EPWORTH LEAGUES' TENTH CONVENTION

Three Sessions Held on Second Day—Belleville Lady Gives an Address on Work of Junior Leagues—Increase in All Lines During the Past Year was Reported—Able Addresses on Missionary Operations—Specially Interesting Report from China—Greetings from Manitoba—Report from the Eastern Provinces

Wednesday morning's session was devoted to the work of the Junior League Department. Session opened with song service, the President, Rev. L. S. Wight, B.A., B.D., in the chair.

Miss Sadie Whitworth, Belleville, led in conference on the work of the Junior League and gave a most instructive and inspiring address. Miss Whitworth said that no church is properly equipped until a Junior League is organized. It is not a rival of the Sunday School. In the Sunday School the Word of God should be taught and the boys and girls led to accept Christ as their Saviour, then passed into the Junior League to be trained for active service. The Sunday School is the nursery of the church; the Junior League is the class room of the church. Many practical and helpful suggestions regarding the carrying on of the Junior League were given. A number of boys and girls of the Bridge Street Junior League gave a pretty exercise illustrating the work of seven departments of the Junior League.

In the absence of the Secretary, Mr. Wm. Ketchum, the report of the Conference Epworth League, which was prepared by Rev. H. W. Foley, Centreton, was read by Rev. A. H. Foster, Colborne. The report shows an increase of Epworth League membership and Junior Leagues, as well as an increase in the givings to the Forward Movement in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Afternoon Session.

At the conclusion of the praise service which opened the Wednesday afternoon session, Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D., Greenwood, 2nd Vice-President of the Conference Epworth League and President of the Bay of Quinte Conference Summer School, took charge of the session, which was devoted to the work of the Missionary Department.

A strong address on the "Relation of Missions to the Spiritual Life," was given by Rev. W. H. Higgs, Tyrone Mr. Higgs said that missionary education promotes spirituality. We must have the conviction, and must know what we are to express to others Study of missions leads to a knowledge of the world's needs. Study of missions develops the prayerful life The more we realize the need, the more we feel our weakness. Christ was the first great missionary and if we are to be missionaries we must follow His command; "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel ot every creature." If we cannot go we must send. Our life eternal is to know God—the missionary Christ, and as we come to know Him, if we live in sympathy, we will develop the missionary spirit.

This stirring address was followed by a conference conducted by Rev. S. T. Tucker, a conference in which our greatest missionary problems were discussed by those who are giving their best in missionary work at home and abroad. The home is the fundamental place. Too often we feel satisfied when we have studied about the work and given our money, and neglect to take advantage of the great opportunities which come to us in our home and church life. We are facing the great problem of winning Canada for Christ. Canada is the seed ground, and if we fail in our task of soul winning here, we must fail in the soul winning in foreign fields.

One of the most inspiring addresses of the convention was given by Rev Newton E. Bowles of West China, who said that the work in Canada and China should not be contrasted—it was all one problem. Mr. Bowles referred to the great transformation which was taking place in China. The great eastern world is turning from the old religion to the new. Greatest of all these countries is China, the baby republic. There are industrial changes and social changes. Footbinding is being abolished, also the opium curse. The great longing for modern education has given to the mission school a wonderful opportunity. The Chinese are losing faith in their idols and it is for us to say what they will have for their future new religion. Now is the time to do something. Mr. Bowles made a strong plea for prayer. Money is needed, but prayer is the great essential.

Rev. S. T. Bartlett, General Secretary for Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools, was present and gave one of his excellent addresses, referring to the first biennial convention of the Bay of Quinte Conference which was held in Belleville sixteen years ago. We have been given a priceless heritage by the workers then at the front and we must endeavor to give this heritage to others. All we have we owe to the missionaries who preceded us. The Junior League is essential. To-day is the day of most glorious opportunities God calls every one to be a missionary. Mr. Bartlett gave the Leaguers assembled some excellent suggestions for the carrying on of the work and made a strong appeal for more prayerful efforts in our League work.

Greetings were received from the Manitoba Conference Epworth League which is assembled in convention in Brandon, and of which Rev. J. Doyle is President It was moved by Rev. S. T. Tucker, seconded by Rev. A. H. Foster, that a suitable reply be prepared, which was sent.

Evening Session

The evening session was opened by a song service, followed by devotional exercises, conducted by Rev T. H. Anderson, Hastings. Rev. A. R. Sanderson occupied the chair.

Rev. T. C. Buchanan, Alberta Conference, who is in Ontario looking for young men who will volunteer for work in the west, gave an address on the great need and opportunities of the west. In order to carry on this work there are three great essentials—money, men and spiritual power, and now is the time. Mr. Doyle then proceeded to outline the work in Alberta, telling us a little of the great work being accomplished by our missionaries, and closed his address with an earnest appeal to the young men of our Conference: "What would you have me to do?"

We were privileged in having with us Rev. J. K. Curtis, B.A., Sackville, N.B., Field Secretary of the eastern provinces, who gave an address which will long be remembered by our Leaguers. After speaking of his pleasure in being privileged to speak to the young people of our Leagues, Mr. Curtis referred to the great and encouraging work being done by our organized classes—Epworth Leagues, etc. The duty of the hour is to respond to the appeal. The hands of the heathen and the hands of our missionaries are stretched out in appeal, and greater still, Christ is appealing to the young life. God forbid that the Epworth League should exist for anything nobler than soul winning. Mr. Curtis concluded by requesting that special stress be placed on secret prayer. More things are wrought by prayer than the world dreams of.

The session was closed with prayer.

LITERARY NOTES.

FEBRUARY CANADA MONTHLY.

With the Dickens Centenary at hand, CANADA MONTHLY for February is a "Dickens' Number," containing an article by H. G. Wade, on a comparatively unknown visit of "Boz" to Canada, and his impressions of what was then generally supposed by England to be "a wilderness." That Dickens found it a flourishing and prosperous region, and the Canadian an infinite relief from the "Brother Jonathan" of the United States, as he saw him, "Boz" set down most emphatically and picturesquely. His visit to Montreal, where he and Mrs. Dickens played at the Queen's theatre in a performance given by the Coldstream Guards, and his experiences in Kingston and Toronto are interesting indeed.

Madge Macbeth goes into "Some Ottawa Homes," and brings back various amusing details concerning several prominent society leaders, among them being Mrs. Borden and Mrs. Sifton, Lady Davies and Mrs. Fielding. The photographs, taken by the author, show the Ottawa women in their own homes, busy with their favorite avocations.

Ambitious Men who realize their latent ability and seek succees in life, are invited to a careful consideration of the famous food,

Grape=Nuts

Brain Nourishment is essential to Brain Activity.

A sluggish brain is a handicap—a hindrance in the path of promotion.

Grape-Nuts food, made of whole wheat and barley, contains the tissue-building "albumins" and the energy-making starches (changed into dextrin and grape sugar in making Grape-Nuts.) It also contains the phosphate of potash (grown in the grains)—the cell-forming, mineral element Nature uses in building brain and nerve cells.

Grape-Nuts, regularly for breakfast, will help anyone.

"There's a Reason"

NO TROUBLE.

PROMOTIONS ARE EASY WHEN YOUR BRAIN WORKS.

A young man who earned a fine position tells how food helped him:

"I was engaged as a bookkeeper for a large publishing house in New York city where the work was trying and hours so long I gradually broke down under the strain.

"My brain seemed thick and I lost the good health that I once claimed. I was compelled to resign my position feeling that a good rest was needed.

"After three weeks' recreation I accepted a position as assistant cashier with one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the United States, feeling that the work would not be so hard mentally, and that the change would be for the best.

"It took just two days to convince me I had undertaken a task beyond the power of my overworked and underfed brain, and I decided to again resign, disgusted with myself and the world in general. That day I met a friend whose counsel I asked before taking the step. After I had related my troubles to him he said 'Eat Grape-Nuts, my boy.'

"I looked on his remark as a joke at the time, but by the time I had reached home I had thought it over and determined to give Grape-Nuts food a trial, and the next day it was on my table. The food seemed to give me new life from the start and gradually a great power for good became evident. It increased from day to day, my brain became active and my capacity for mental work unlimited. My duties at the office, that at first seemed beyond my capability, are now accomplished with precision, accuracy and pleasure.

"Last month I was promoted to the position of cashier amid the congratulations of my friends. I attribute my success to those wonderful little grains of food—Grape-Nuts, and to all I repeat a motto that is worthy of thought, 'Eat Grape-Nuts, my boy.'" FIVE DOCTORS GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Said she Would Die of Kidney Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HER

MOUNTAIN, ONT., Dec. 14th, 1910.

"For six years, I suffered from dreadful Kidney Disease. My legs and lower part of my body were fearfully swollen, and the pain was awful. My people thought sometimes I was dead, as I would faint from the agony. Five different doctors attended me, and all said it was kidney trouble and gave me no hope of getting well. A kind neighbor told me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and mentioned the case of Mrs. Fenwick, who was cured by them.

I took "Fruit-a-tives"—and in a short time, I began to feel better, the swelling went down, the pain was easier, and then "Fruit-a-tives" entirely cured me. All my friends look upon my recovery as a miracle, and I am unable to praise "Fruit-a-tives" enough."

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoel Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! he rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

ON VERGE OF A STRIKE

Britain Faced by National Tie-Up of Coal Mines.

Deadlock Exists Between Owners and Men and the Prospect of Complete Dislocation of the Industry Is Becoming Alarming—Operators Want Proportionate Pay System, While Miners Want a Minimum Wage.

London, Feb. 8.—The probability of a national coal strike and complete dislocation of the industry has been greatly increased by the failure of the national conference of the coal owners and miners to effect a settlement. During the early part of January a ballot of the miners' federation was taken on the question of declaring a general strike on March 1. The ballot indicated that 445,801 men were for a strike and 115,291 were against the strike.

The conference of the coal owners and miners was preceded by meetings of the representatives of the coal miners in Great Britain, extending over many days, at which a minimum wage scale for all underground workers was formulated according to the varying conditions of the districts, but providing that nowhere should the wage be less than five shillings ($1.25) a day. These demands were discussed at a prolonged session yesterday, with the result that the coal owners adopted a resolution declaring that payment in proportion to the work done was the only system they could accept.

The resolution concluded with a reservation of the right to continue the negotiations.

The miners replied, expressing regret at the refusal of the coal owners to accept this principle of a minimum wage and adding: "We know there can be no settlement of the present dispute unless this principle is agreed to."

In conclusion the miners announced their desire to avert a serious rupture in the coal trade and their willingness, for this reason, "to meet the coal owners at any time to discuss the matter further, if the coal owners express any desire to do so."

The owners promised to give this subject further consideration, and in this attitude lies the hope that the coal strike may be averted.

Prior to the adoption of the resolution by the coal owners, the representatives of the South Wales owners withdrew from the conference, on the ground that the agreement with their workmen still had three years to run, and a threat to strike unless a minimum wage is conceded was tantamount to notification that the agreement would be broken.

Haldane Off for Berlin.

London, Feb. 8.—Lord Haldane, Minister of War, left London suddenly for Berlin late yesterday after having had an audience with the King and Sir Edward Grey.

Although no official announcement was made as to the cause of his hastily arranged journey, it is believed to have a direct bearing on the strained relations which everyone recognizes is being brought about by the rising tide of indignation in England over the conviction and sentence of Bertrand Stewart for espionage.

On the train with Lord Haldane was Sir Ernest Cassel, the banker and representative of the great financial interests which are exerting every effort to avoid war with Germany.

It is considered significant that before Lord Haldane's departure the King saw both Sir Edward Grey and Lord Lansdowne, who was Grey's predecessor as Minister for Foreign Affairs.

"Our Personal Advice to all Skin Sufferers"

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up a trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the effective eczema remedy, you can depend upon it that we give our advice, not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D.D.D. Prescription.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash, applied to the skin, takes away the itch instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D.D.D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Toronto is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you apply this D.D.D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now.

HOCKEY.

YOUNG CANADIANS WON.

At the Arena last night a city league hockey match was played between the Young Canadians and Marsh & Henthorn teams. The Young Canucks won by the score of 9 to 1. Mr. Dawkins was the referee and gave general satisfaction.

The game scheduled to take place last evening between the Shoe Blacks and the Diamond Bugs did not materialize, as the former team for some reason did not put in an appearance.

STERLING 6, MARMORA 2.

STIRLING, Feb. 7.—In a Trent Valley League hockey game played here to-night between Stirling and Marmora, the home team won by a score of 6 to 2. The game was fast and closely contested.

Cobourg could acquire a lead of only two goals at home with Peterborough.

The Oshawa Juniors beat T.A.A.C. by 17 to 8, and put the Toronto team down and opt.

Chaucer Elliott's Seaforth Juniors were put out at Berlin in a 7 to 3 game, after bringing a lead of one goal from home.

Ottawa beat Canadiens 4 to 2.

Argonauts of Toronto lost a second round intermediate game at Mount Forest by 12 to 5.

THE RING.

CLOSED PACKEY'S EYE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Although he was outpointed in a fast ten-round bout at the Fairmount A. C. to-night, Kid Burns, the local boxer, was proud of the fact that he closed Packy McFarland's left eye so tight that vision was obscured. Burns landed a heavy blow in the ninth round on the Chicago wizard's optic, and it swelled so rapidly that the ringside spectators were astonished. McFarland had not received a black eye in many months so that Burns' achievement was remarkable. But in other respects Burns was outclassed. McFarland tried hard to put him out on several occasions, but the West-sider was too strong and managed to keep his feet, though under a terrific fire. Nearly 3,000 fans saw the battle, and many more were turned away.

Canadians at St. Paul's.

London, Feb. 7.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The following Canadians attended the thanksgiving services at St. Paul's yesterday: Lord Strathcona, Hon. W. S. Fielding, W. L. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nanton, F. W. Herbach, Winnipeg; D. W. Campbell, Montreal; H. Brown, D. Knight, St. John; C. N. Allen, Vancouver; J. Thompson, Dalhousie.

FIGHTING OR BOXING?

An attempt has been made in certain quarters to define a prize fight as distinguished from a boxing contest, by petty quibbling over the word "prize." For example, several courts have ruled that it's a "prize fight" if there is a division of the gate receipts or purse; or if there is any championship at stake, believing that such is the intended meaning of the "prize" part of the term.

Such distinctions are childish, says a sporting writer. There has not been a prize fight, in the original meaning of the term, since Sullivan fought Jake Kilrain. The laws on the statutes of most commonwealths were framed against the bare knuckle and skin-tight glove matches — battles fought under London prize ring rules.

For the good of the game, some generally accepted definition of what a boxing contest is today should be laid down. As boxing laws now operate, the community desiring to stage contests is absolutely at the mercy of such interpretation as the police authorities see fit to make.

EPWORTH LEAGUES' TENTH CONVENTION

Thursday's Sessions were Highly Interesting—Several Excellent Addresses Given and Discussed—Mutes Gave Picturesque Exhibition of Sign Language—Final Session in the Evening was Highly Enjoyable—Consecration Service at the Close

The Thursday morning's session opened with a prayer and praise service led by Rev. W. T. Wickett, Shannonville. An excellent address on "Summer Schools" was given by Rev. R. A. Whattam, Orono, ex-President of the Bay of Quinte Summer Schools. Mr. Whattam expressed himself as grateful for the opportunity afforded of speaking of the work of the Summer Schools, which are of such importance in our training of the young life of our church. The Summer School is not a mere holiday provision of the church for the members thereof. Many are the pleasures which may enter in, but the object of the school is to endeavor to bring the Leaguers so near to God that they will catch a vision of Him, and this object is constantly kept before the members of the school. There are three requisites: (1) suitable location; (2) suitable and efficient staff of teachers and leaders; (3) suitable representation of Leaguers. Wellington, the present home of the school, is an ideal location. No one could be disappointed if they attended a session at Wellington. During the history of the school we have had most efficient teachers, leaders and speakers—men and women whom it is a privilege to meet, who sacrifice their time to come to us. Mr. Whattam outlined one day at the school at Wellington. At seven in the morning we met in groups with leaders for the Quiet Hour. After breakfast the regular session opened with song service, followed by Bible study, conducted by one of our most esteemed leaders, Prof. McLaughlin. An address was given by a missionary, one by our Field Secretary, or a conference on League or Sunday School work; then the school separated into groups for study of the different missionary text books with the best teachers available. The afternoon was given to rest, recreation, conversation classes, etc., and in the evening strong addresses were delivered by able speakers.

The young people of to-day will be the leaders of tomorrow and cannot be too well equipped. Trained leadership is the great need of the church. Many are waiting for the Christian touch and it will pay us to make necessary sacrifice to prepare for this trained leadership There is no place where this is more effectully accomplished than at the summer school.

The remainder of the session was devoted to the discussion of the work of the Christian Endeavor Department, Mr. A. W. Terrill, Fenelon Falls, 1st Vice President of Conference Epworth League, acting as chairman.

The subject, "The Help of the Holy Spirit in Our Work," was discussed in an inspiring paper by Rev. W. W. Jones, Janetville The attitude of the Leaguers is expressed in the first clause of the active member's pledge: "Trusting in the help of the Holy Spirit, etc." We recognize in God, the Father, the Redeemer, the Holy Spirit. He is the life of the church. He bears with our ignorance, waits to correct our faults. Some of our Leaguers have not had the Pentecost, yet the results will follow. Let us yield ourselves to His great will. The help of the Holy Spirit means: (1) adequate equipment; (2) Divine guidance; (3) Results—not so much to stand in the world, but to stand in Christ and give Him to the world. Why do without the Spirit's help? Have we paid the price? It means self surrender; sometimes striving, at last comes the vctory. When we learn to pray as Christ prayed, then problems of men and money will be solved.

The second subject was: "Difficulty, a chance for Victory," and was ably discussed by Mr. A. W. Terrill. Difficulties make men Great power is only achieved under years of training. To have success we must have ambition. Difficulties of life will be overcome if we pray: "Oh, Lord, strengthen our hands." Some people are appalled at difficulties; others see, like Paul, that the difficulties are necessary, and take up the fight. The man who has the most difficulties has the greatest victories. God fits men for His service by rigid discipline. Such me nas Moses, Daniel and Jacob were illustrations of this. We must watch and pray. Jesus Christ, tempted in all things as we are, yet without sin, conquered by being filled with the Holy Spirit. With the help of the Holy Spirit we may overcome and difficulties become blessings.

Rev. Mr. Howard, Cambray, was the efficient leader in the discussion which followed. Mr. Howard said we all have difficulties. Many of them would be overcome if we were satisfied to follo the lead of our Master and trust Him for the present and future. Do not worry, but feed on the Word. Many excellent thoughts were expressed by the League workers.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The report of the Nominating Committee was brought in and the officers for the ensuing year were electde by ballot and introduced in the afternoon. They were as follows:

President — Mr. Wm. Ketchum, Brighton.

1st Vice President—Miss Florence Hall, Wicklow.

2nd Vice President—Rev. A. H. Foster, Colborne.

3rd Vice President—Miss Ideil Rogers, Cobourg.

4th Vice President—Rev. Wm. Higgs, Tyrone.

5th Vice President—Miss Sadie Whitworth, Belleville

Secretary——Rev. S. T. Tucker, Greenwood.

Treasurer—Miss Gertrude Young, Bowmanville.

In the absence of the President-elect, it was moved by Rev. W. G. Clarke, seconded by Rev. Wm. Higgs, that the ex-President Rev. L. S. Wight act as chairman. Mr. Wight, in accepting the motion, expressed his appreciation of the sympathy and co-operation which he had received during his term of office. Mr. Wight referred to the present gathering. Bay of Quinte Conference has not had a mare iargely attended convention or one in which more interest was manifested. If we have had our hearts open to receive the blessing our convention will not have been in vain. We have had the needs and possibilities of the west, east and central provinces presented to us What are we going to do? Let us fit ourselves for it. Great responsibilities are resting upon us. May God give us wisdom and understanding.

The session was then devoted to the Citizenship Department, Mr. Geo. Stewart, 4th Vice President of the Conference League in the chair. Mr. Stewart introduced a number of the students of the Provincial Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, who gave a demonstration of the sign language, much to the enjoyment of the delegates who were amazed at the great results accomplished in this work. Rev. L. S. Wight expressed on behalf of the convention our appreciation and pleasure and the students were greeted with Chatauqua Salute.

Mr. Stewart, in introducing the citizenship work, said he had been impressed while at the convention with the unity which prevaded the departments as discussed. This is essential. We cannot do a good work unless we know history. All should be working for the building of the very best character.

Rev. T. H. P. Anderson, Hastings, gave a well applied address on the "Purpose and Possibilities of the 4th Department." Citizenship—physical, intellectual and spiritual are all necessary to make the well rounded life. The schools do not teach the principle of good citizenship and much less the Bible study, so the demand is on the church. Patriotism is the deep, strong passion for higher, larger, moral interests of the people. The church must go ahead of the state. Let us lift up the high ideals. It is in your hands and my hands to-day.

A conference on the department, taking the form of an exprcience meeting, was led by Mr. Stewart. Several excellent plans of work in this department were outlined by Leaguers who had used them.

One of the best addresses of the convention was given by Miss Emily J. Guest, of Belleville. on the subject of Christian Citizenship. which is the highest. Miss Guest referred to our splendid heritage, our wonderful position, the fact that in Belleville we are on historic ground. Every young Canadian should know his country. Ontario is a great province, and we must kepe it loyal. We must fulfil our duties of citizenship. What kind of citizens are we going to make of those who come to us? Are we going to give them a Christian square deal? We must study Christ as a citizen—the social and missionary sides of His nature, as a doctor and a teacher. Suffering must come—that is the way we grow human. Miss Guest said she would give us something on our right hand to remember for each finger, as follows: Thumb—choice of work; greatest gift; learn to do it well, and do it. First finger—church, future League work. Second finger—education; do we realize what is being done, and what is yet to be done? Third finger—Franchise; the women have a reason for wanting the franchise. It is to save the boys and girls. Little finger—Cultivating public opinion. Man's reach should extend his grasp, or what is Heaven?

The following resolution was moved by Rev. Mr. Curtis, Field Secretary for eastern provinces, and seconded by Rev. S. T. Tucker; Resolved that the Bay of Quinte Conference Epworth League, now in session convened, do express our appreciation of the appointment of the Department of Citizenship in connection with the Epworth League of our church, recognizing its possibilities as proved already when put in operation, do heartily recommend that every minister and League officer on his return home take steps to make known the advantages of the Department to the Leagues, churches, and community, and thus seek to avail themselves of the exceptional blessings the Departments affords for good citizenship to develop."

Rev. C. T. Scott of Brantford, delivered an address—inspiring and

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

DAMAGE WAS SLIGHT

Shortly after noon to-day the fire brigade was called to Mr. J. C. Moyne's residence, corner of Catherine and Everett Streets. Fortunately the blaze, which originated in an upstairs room, was extinguished before much damage was done.

PROTECTION FOR MUTES.

At Toronto yesterday Col. W. N. Ponton, K.C., appeared before the Dominion Railway Commission for the Ontario Government in connection with protection of a C.N.O.R. subway near the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in the Township of Sidney. Owing to the natural afflictions of the children in the Institute, it was pointed out, it was incumbent on the railway to take extreme care in the matter of protection. The Board evidently agreed with this view, for they ordered the C.N.O.R. to maintain the subway already erected at the place in question; also to make it a flag station and bear all expenses in connection therewith.

HOT WATER TANK BURST

An explosion occurred this morning at the residence of Mrs. Henthorn on Hillside Street, which did considerable damage to a room, but fortunately no person was injured. A hot water tank attached to a stove exploded with a loud report and fragments of it were blown through a window, demolishing the same. Had any one been in the room at the time they would no doubt have been injured.

THREE ENGINES STALLED.

An idea of how hard the weather is on the railways can be gathered from an occurrence on the Pinnacle Street line last evening. The yard engine went up the heavy grade with five or six cars, but the rails were so slippery that she stalled at Victoria Avenue. A second yard engine was sent down, but proved unequal to the task, after much puffing and slipping of the driving wheels. Finally one of the biggest moguls was brought into requisition, and she too failed for a time to do the necessary, her wheels spinning with such speed as to cause sparks to fly from the rails in profusion. At last she succeeded in pushing the cutfit down the grade, and the upward trip was then made successfully.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

The two young men who were apprehended yesterday on a charge of stealing four pigeons from Mr. Thos. Hyland were allowed go with a suspended sentence by the Magistrate. The birds were recovered and returned to their owner.

QUICK WORK

Sometimes it pays to advertise, and sometimes it pays to telegraph. A lady coming from Toronto with a child and nurse, left a sterling silver christening cup in the parlor car and were feeling very badly over their loss. Upon the discovery of their loss they asked Mr. H. C. Thompson to telegraph the train, which he did, and to-day the cup is at the station awaiting the owners.

SMITH WENT

James Smith, a young man, appeared before the Magistrate this morning charged with having on January 26th broken into the cigar store of Laekas Bros.', Bridge Street, and stolen a quantity of cigars, cigarettes, etc. Through his counsel, Mr. Carnew, the accused pleaded not guilty, and elected to be tried by His Worship. Mr. Anderson, Crown Attorney stated that the Crown was prepared to allow, for the present at least, the accused to go without having the case definitely disposed of. There might in future be more developments in the case. Smith was allowed to go.

Where Quality Counts

The exchange of prisoners taken in the field is an old custom. Czar Nicholas and Emperor William now carry the idea a little farther; they are trading military spies caught and convicted in times of peace. Probably the business of spying foots up about as evenly, as this system suggests. If any power makes much at it, to the loss of its possible enemies, the fact is yet to be shown. But spying, watching against spies, and catching spies gives something for idle members of military establishments to do.

Growth of Wealth in Prussia.

Some interesting statistics have just been published showing the increase of wealth in Prussia. In 1903 there were only 80,000 people in Prussia with incomes of over $7,000; while in 1910 there were 104,000. In 1908 1,500,000 people owned property worth $225,000,000. There are 8,300 millionaires in Prussia, and their wealth has increased from $2,500,000,000 to $3,500,000,000 within the last fourteen years. Of course it must be remembered that a German "millionaire" is only worth $250,000 — a million marks.

Growth of Population in Sweden.

The increase of population in Sweden during the year 1910 was greater than during any of the last ten years, amounting to 61,887, or 9.65 per thousand. As usual the increase has been greater in the large cities than in the provinces. But the growth of population in the smaller industrial centres was not so great as formerly, on account of the crisis of 1907-09 which greatly handicapped both manufacturing and commercial interests.

Thuh Americans Dont Care for Pantomine.

A story from the Folies Bergere has to do with Sig. Curti, the imported ballet master, who spent half an hour trying to drill into the walnut head of a chorus man a bit of pantomine. At last the chorus man said: "Aw, what's the odds? Thuh Americans don't care for Pantomine, anyhow." "It makes me think," said Curti, "of the old tenor. Broke, down and out, he had been sleeping in the livery stable for three months, when he suddenly got a chance to sing the role in which he had once been famous. La Scala at Milan was packed that night. He sang — most painfully — before that vast audience. At the end the audience hissed with drilled unanimity. 'Ahh!' said the old tenor, in the wings. 'Ees eet not painful? Zee Italian people, zey no longer care for Verdi.'"

Something from his Pen.

A new editor on a country newspaper called on a successful farmer in his vicinity, and assured the latter that the paper would gladly pay for something from his pen. The farmer promised to see what he could do, and the following week an expressman called at the publication office with a young pig. "C.O.D., $10."

THE COLOR OF ANIMALS

The Influence of Surroundings on the Coloring of Animals and Birds.

That colour may be influenced in some cases by the taking of special kinds of food is well known, but little is understood as yet of the extent to which pigmentary colour in animals is related to the particular kind of food they eat. Writing upon the subject of this question in his work upon "The Colour-Sense," Mr. Grant Allen draws attention to the fact, as of probable significance, that the two most beautiful classes of animals in the world, as far as colour is concerned — butterflies and humming-birds — are, perhaps, the most exclusively flower-haunting of all invertebrate or vertebrate creatures respectively, and the parrots and their allies, which possess equally beautiful colouring, are fruit-eaters. Indeed, a correspondence with, if not a direct relationship to, the colour and nature of food, as well as of habitual surroundings, may be traced, with few contradictions, and many of these but seeming; and the general rule emerges that animals that possess conspicuous colouring themselves are those, also, which live upon the essence of flowers, or fruits, and are guided, in the search for food, by their "eye for colour." The inverse of this rule is found equally to correspond, on the whole, with facts, for the raptorial birds, which live mostly in the air, and whose senses are more attuned to discriminate sound and movement, are generally, themselves wanting in bright colours. The whiter-plumaged birds in a flock of pigeons, for instance, are nearly always the first to be destroyed by hawks on land, and on the coast where there are sea-eagles, black pigeons are at an equal disadvantage.

ELECTRICITY AND PLANT-LIFE

An Electrician Has Built a Machine by Which Two Crops Can Be Secured.

The study of economic biology is gaining a good deal of attention at the present time, and those engaged in research work have been able to secure results which suggest that there are enormous possibilities in the application of electricity to agriculture and horticulture. The investigators claim that the growth of almost all cereals, fruit, and vegetables can be increased and stimulated by the application of electricity, and, what is equally important, that the products can be gathered earlier. Their statistics go to show that the increase in quantity in certain cases is very high — strawberries 36 per cent., tomatoes 20 per cent., beets 30 per cent., cucumbers 17 per cent., wheat 29 per cent., and barley 9 per cent. more grain and 12 per cent. more straw. In the case of barley, the germinating process which is used by brewers occupies about 27 days; but this period is reduced to 13 days with the assistance of electricity, while it is also claimed that the percentage of germination is greater. These results have been obtained as the result of most carefully conducted experiments, and the question naturally arises as to the possibility of a general cooperation between science and agriculture on these lines. In other words, is it possible to secure apparatus in such a simple form, and at such a reasonable figure, that ordinary nurserymen and farmers will feel tempted to call the great power to their aid? That is a question to which a Bristol electrician, Mr. Thomas Clark, claims to have an affirmative answer. He has built and patented, a machine which is really an influence machine, and by the application of high-tension electricity a continuous current from insulated overhead wires can be discharged. The machine which Mr. Clark has just built, is shortly to be put to a practical test in one of the largest nurseries in the South. The purchasers have evidently realised that there is a chance of obtaining early crops, and in order to secure the best results they have erected a greenhouse on the lines desired by the patentee.

Method of Finding an Aeronaut's Position.

When terrestrial objects are invisible, an aeronaut is compelled to employ indirect methods of finding his position. Several such methods have been invented during recent years. Berlingmaier and Marcuse have employed magnetic measurements for this purpose and successful methods of informing an aeronaut of his position by means of wireless telegraphy have been devised. Finally, astronomical methods have been proposed, in which the tedious reduction of the observations is effected by means of special apparatus.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

TYRONE POWER IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

"There is no other dramatist on the horizon of the American theatre," says Charles W. Collins, dramatic critic for the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "whose future work is a matter of more vital interest than that of Charles Rann Kennedy. There is none of whom greater things may be expected. One needs only to consider "The Servant in the House" to be convinced on that point. The man's genius is the most brilliant that has swung into the ken of American audiences during these lonesome latter years, and his artistic stature, measured as yet by a single play, dwarfs that of other writers whose names figure in the daily chronicling of theatrical affairs. His orbit is outside the nebulus swarms of professional playwrights, who, with the possible exception of Augustus Thomas, may be counted upon to do the expected thing. Only one other dramatist of his type may be found among contemporaneous contributors to the American stage, and he is rather an elusive quality—William Vaughn Moody, author of "The Great Divide."

Mr. Kennedy is a scholar of manifold endowments; he revels in Greek, reads old Norse and does many other things that are supposed to be the specialties of Caustral, academic souls. Yet the austere bondage of so-called high-browism holds him not—he is altogether too human. He writes for the mass, and not for the asthtic fw, and his definition of the essential qualities required of an ideal theatrical audience expresses his point of view beautifully.

"All that we can ask for an audience," he says, "is simply clean heart and general human qualities, but Mr. Kenedy's work is helping to create them."

Mr. Power and his company will be seen at Griffin's Opera House, Thurs., Feb. 15th, under the direction of Jos M. Gates

THE BRAVE AT HOME.

The maid who binds her warrior's sash
With smile that well her pain dissembles,
The while beneath her drooping lash
One starry tear-drop hangs and trembles,
Though heaven alone records the tear,
And fame shall never know her story,
Her heart has shed a drop as dear
As e'er bedewed the field of glory!

The wife who girds her husband's sword,
Mid little ones who weep and wonder,
And bravely speaks the cheering word
What though her heart be rent asunder,
Doomed nightly in her dreams to hear
The bolts of death about him rattle,
Hath shed as sacred blood as e'er
Was poured upon the field of battle!

The mother who conceals her grief
While to her breast her son she presses,
Then breathes a few brave words and brief
Kissing the patriot brow she blesses,
With no one but her secret God
To know the pain that weighs upon her,
Sheds holy blood as e'er the sod
Received on Freedom's field of honor.

Cut Out the Cut-Worm

Cultural methods are the only means of combating the cut-worm pest in large fields. These consist of late deep fall plowing to turn the young larvae out and expose them to the weather, destruction of brush or rubbish and keeping the edges of a field clean and free from refuse, in order that the moths may not be afforded a suitable place to lay their eggs. For garden plots a mixture of poisoned bran is used. This is made by mixing one pound of Paris green into fifty pounds of bran. Moisten it to a nice paste and sweeten by adding about a quart of molasses. This mixture is sprinkled between the rows of vegetables where the larvae are working. This should be done in the evening, and of course all stock or poultry kept away, as it is deadly poison if eaten by any animal or bird. It is well also not to place the poison close to the crop.

HAIR POWDER

The first English ladies who had the courage to wear powdered hair were as much pointed at for their singularity as the wearer of a crinoline would be to-day. It was in the beginning of the reign of George the First that the pioneers ventured to make themselves so conspicuous, and at the time when the next King was crowned there were only two hairdressers in London; but in the year 1795 it was calculated that there were in Great Britain no less than fifty thousand hair-dressers! A writer with a turn for statistics reckoned up the probable amount of flour these fifty thousand would use in a year, and arrived at the conclusion that it was equal to what would make 5,314,280 quartern loaves.

Apart from the question whether the flour might not have been better employed, it must be owned that there was more excuse for the artificial production of grey hair than there is for the dyeing of the hair when nature decides that it is time for it to be grey.

Browned Crumbs.

Keep all scraps of crust until there is a good quantity; cut off any black bits, and put the rest on a baking-tin in the oven until they are a bright golden brown all over and quite crisp. Then pound them in a mortar, or, if there is not one available, put them between two pieces of paper and crush them with a rolling-pin. Next pass them through a sieve—this ensures them being all of one size. Put them in a tin with a tight-fitting lid.

These crumbs are useful for shaking over boiled ham or bacon, and can often be used for puddings instead of white crumbs, giving the mixture a richer appearance.

Handy Horse-Hints

Did you ever try feeding the colts raw sliced potatoes now and then? They like them wonderfully well. Good for them, too; but don't have them try to eat round potatoes.

When your horse scrambles up into the stall at the sound of your voice, you may be sure that your voice does not sound good to him.

Pure feed, plenty of air and regular exercise are best for the mother horse. But don't overdo the work.

Don't shut up a little colt in a dingy place by himself.

Give him companionship. A calf will do if there are no other colts on the farm.

Even if we can not get fancy prices for our horses, there are good profits in growing colts.

If a colt is worth raising at all he is worth raising well.

Do not overwork the mare. If you do you will injure the colt.

Don't attempt to raise a colt from a poor old nondescript mare.

Conservation of Seals.

Washington, Feb. 8.—An attempt to amend the international fur seal agreement so that it will prohibit all killing of seals by Americans on the Pribiloff Islands for a period of fifteen years, occupied the House yesterday and was pending when that body adjourned last night.

Chairman Sulzer and the majority of the House committee on foreign affairs are opposed to any change in the treaty, as agreed to by the diplomatic representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Russia and Japan. The bill to carry this agreement into effect was brought up for passage yesterday, but a strong movement to insert restrictions upon American seal killing at the Pribiloff Islands prevented its passage.

Some people love to tell the truth when they think it will hurt.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

PROPOSED BY CONGRESSMAN.

To give every man and woman over 60 years old a pension from the United States treasury, is the surprising proposal of a congressman.

What most old people need is help in keeping up strength and vigor.

Thousands of them know that the greatest help they can get is our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, called Vinol.

Mrs. Mary Ivey of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol has done. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

Vinol renews the energy and strength of old people because it enriches their thinned blood and improves their appetite and digestion, and is also so pleasant to take that they like to use it. We guarantee Vinol to give perfect satisfaction and pay back your money if it does not. —Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

TO GET FEDERAL AID.

Good Roads Advocates Have Interview With Premier.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—A deputation that waited on the Government yesterday to urge co-operation in the development of good roads, was cordially received and departed well satisfied.

Premier Borden said that the establishment of good roads was primarily a matter of provincial jurisdiction. Therefore, it was obvious that the Government had a genuine interest in the subject in proposing, as it did to make grants for the purpose. The condition of roads in Canada was not what should be expected. The civilization of a people was often indicated in its highways.

The supplementary estimates would provide grants to the various provinces for the purpose, but he intimated plainly that the money would be for construction, and not for maintenance. In doing the former, the Government would exceed the B.N.A. Act, but doing nothing more than its duty.

Details of method of outlay had not yet been determined, but it would be by co-operation with the provinces.

There were some 300 delegates and they represented various organizations in Ontario and Quebec interested in the improvement of Canadian highways.

Among the organizations represented were the Ontario Good Roads Association, the Quebec and Miami Highways Association, the International Highways Association, Toronto, Ottawa and other Boards of Trade. Main Johnson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, presented the views of that organization

"This is no time," he said for half way measures of paltry appropriations. A great change is coming in the whole system of transportation. The importance of roads compared with railways will increase as the automobile continues on its rapid development. Canada has been lamentably backward in her ordinary highways."

Dizzy Headaches

"I had terrible pains in my head. My appetite faded away and when I did eat anything it disagreed and made me very sick for hours after each meal. The active pains in my stomach and the dizzy headaches I had to endure almost set one wild. Sometimes attacks came on so severely that I had to go to bed. I would feel so worn, depressed and utterly miserable that for hours I wouldn't speak to my family. My system was poisoned with wastes and nothing helped me till I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Without this grand system-cleaning remedy I would be sick, but each day brought me better health and spirits. CHAPTER XVI.

TWIN LOCKETS.

CARMICHAEL tramped about his room restless, uneasy, starting at sounds. He was waiting for Grumbach and his confreres. Anything but this suspense. A full day! And deeper, firmer, became his belief and conviction that Grumbach's affair vitally concerned her highness. He welcomed the knock on his door. Grumbach came in carrying under his arm a small bundle.

"Where are your companions?"

"They are waiting outside."

"The duke agrees," went on Carmichael. "He will give us an audience at 8:30."

"Did you mention my name?"

"No. I went roundabout. I also obtained his promise to say nothing to Herbeck till the interview was over."

Grumbach spread out on the bed the contents of the bundle.

"Look at these and tell me what you see, captain."

Carmichael inspected the little yellow shoes. He turned them over and over in his hand. He shook out the fold of the little cloak and the locket fell on the bed.

"When did you get this?" he cried excitedly. "It is her highness'!"

"So it is, captain, but I have carried it about me all these years."

"What?"

"Yes, captain. Count von Herbeck is a great statesman, but he made a terrible mistake this time. Listen. As sure as we are in this room together I believe that she whom we call the princess is not the daughter of the grand duke."

Carmichael sat down on the edge of the bed numb and without any clear idea where he was. Free! If she was not a princess she was free, free!

• • • • • • • •

The duke allowed the quartet to remain standing for some time. He strode up and down before them, his eyes straining at the floor, his hands behind his back.

"I do not recognize any of these persons," he said to Carmichael.

"Your highness does not recognize me, then?" asked the clock mender.

"Come closer," commanded the duke. The clock mender obeyed. "Take off those spectacles." The duke scanned the features, and over his own came the dawn of recollection. "Your eyes, your nose— Arnsberg, here and alive? Oh, this is too good to be true!" The duke feached out toward the bell, but Carmichael interposed.

"Your highness will remember," he warned.

"Ha! So you have trapped me blindly? I begin to understand. Who is this fellow Grumbach? Did I offer immunity to him?"

"I am Hans Breunner, highness, and I ask for nothing."

"Breunner! Breunner! Hans Breunner, brother of Hermann! And you put yourself into my hands?" The tone developed into a suppressed roar. The duke took hold of Hans by the shoulders and drew him close. "You dog! So you ask for nothing? It shall be given to you. Tomorrow morning I shall have you shot! Hans Breunner! God is good to me this night! Thanks, Herr Carmichael, a thousand thanks! And I need not ask who that damnable scoundrel is who has the black face and heart of a gypsy."

"Your highness," said Von Arnsberg quietly, "all I have left in the world are these two withered hands, and may God cut them off if they ever wronged you in any act. I am innocent. Those letters purported to have been written by me were forgeries. Tonight I shall leave this palace a free man, and you shall ask pardon for the wrong you have done me."

There was no fear in the voice. The duke glared at the speaker somberly, recalling what Herbeck had often said.

"What you say still remains to be proved. Now, what is at the bottom of all this?" was the demand.

Hans crossed the room to the duke's desk and spread out his treasures under the flickering candlelight. The duke, with a cry of terror, sprang toward the secret drawer. His first thought was that the shoes and cloak, upon which only his eyes ever rested now, had been stolen. Nothing was missing. He was overwhelmed, but he steadied himself. He came back to the desk and fingered the locket. The duke opened the locket, looked long and steadfastly at the portrait and shut it. Then he went to the drawer again and returned with the counterparts. He laid them side by side. The likeness was perfect in all details.

"Carmichael," he said, "will you please help me? Do I see these things or do I not? And if I do which is mine, and what does this signify?"

Grumbach answered: "This, highness. I took these from the little princess with my own hands. They have never been out of my keeping. Those you have I know nothing about."

The duke rubbed his eyes. "My daughter?"

"The Princess Hildegarde is not your daughter, highness," said Hans.

"Gott!" The duke smote the desk in despair. "Herbeck! I must send for Herbeck!"

"Not yet, highness; later."

"But if not Hildegarde— I believe I must be growing mad!"

"Patience, your highness," said Carmichael.

"Patience!" wearily. "You say patience when my heart is dying inside my breast! Patience! Who, then, is this woman I have called my child?"

"God knows, highness!" Hans stood bowed before this parental agony.

"But what proof have you that she is not? What proof, I say?"

"Would there be two lockets, highness?"

"More proof than this will be needed. Produce it."

"Speak," said Hans to the gypsy.

"Highness," said the gypsy, bowing, "he speaks truly. He came with us. For fear that the little highness might be recognized as we traveled, we changed her clothes. He took them, together with the locket. One day the soldiers appeared in the distance. We all fled. We lost the little highness, and none of us ever knew what became of her. She wore the costume of my own children."

"We shall produce that in time," said Von Arnsberg.

"Damnable wretch!" said the duke, addressing the gypsy.

The other shrugged. He had been promised immunity. That was all he cared about unless it was the bag of silver and gold this old clock mender had given him a few hours gone.

"I am summoning her highness," said the duke as he struck the bell.

"And, highness," added Grumbach, "dispatch some one for Gretchen, who lives at 40 the Krumerweg."

"The goose girl? What does she know? Ah, I remember. She is even now with her highness. I shall send for them both."

Gretchen? Carmichael's bewilderment increased. What place had the goose girl in this tragedy?

"Now, while we are waiting," resumed the duke, his agitation somewhat under control, "the proof, the definite proof!"

"Her highness stumbled one night," said Hans, "and fell upon the fire. I snatched her back, but not before her left arm was badly burned."

The gypsy nodded. "I saw it, highness."

And that was why Grumbach went to the military ball with opera glasses! Carmichael was round eyed. But Gretchen?

"The Princess Hildegarde has no scar upon either arm," continued Grumbach. "I have seen them. They are without a single flaw."

"More than that," reiterated the duke. "That is not enough."

FIGHTING STRAW MEN

Opposition at Ottawa See Evils in Tariff Board.

Western Members Make Gala Event Out of Debate on Appointment of Commission of Enquiry and Liberals See Untold Dangers In Finding Out the Truth About Tariff Needs —C. M. A. Cry Again.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—The man of straw which the Opposition set up Wednesday in regard to the appointment of a tariff commission, only to demolish it with sledge hammer blows, was again made to do service yesterday, but the blows were the blows of tack-hammers. Even Hon. Frank Oliver, who is usually worth hearing, stooped to a mere tirade of insinuations about the commissioners laying wires for the Government to "deliver the goods" to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for their support in the election.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 104 to 52.

W. S. Middlebro (North Grey), who renewed the debate, assailed the arguments of Mr. Guthrie (South Wellington). The latter had refuted the objections of the Opposition to the proposed tariff board in his own speech. For some years back Mr. Guthrie had declared he had felt the lack of accurate statistical information. The Opposition talked of taking the tariff out of politics, but the way Mr. Guthrie proposed to do this was by taking officials out of the Department, men who were directly under the eye of the Minister, to make these investigations.

In the late reciprocity negotiations, the Canadians had no satisfactory information, while every move of the Americans was based on official definite information.

Hon. Frank Oliver charged that the object of the Government in the appointment of a tariff commission, was to find positions at fat salaries for their friends. The business of the commission was to find excuses for increases in the tariff. The public was being humbugged into the belief that information was being gathered in the public interest, whereas it was really being gathered in special interests at the public expense.

The commission, he said, would lay the wires through which the power would be turned on a little later to "deliver the goods" to the "interests to which the Government owed its existence."

If the Government had a mandate from the people to change the tariff, let them change it, seeking their information as best they could, but not by means of "miscalled commissions to enable them to shirk the responsibility of their policy and its results."

Arthur Meighen (Portage la Prairie) branded Mr. Oliver's effort as a series of "carefully prepared sophisms." He was pretty hard put to for an argument, and this was all he could find.

The Opposition claimed that there was no mandate for the bill, but they had nowhere assumed that no purpose was to be served by it and that that purpose was not a good one.

There was no difference in principle, though there was in the facility with which the work could be done, between gathering information by a commission divorced to a certain extent from the influence of the Minister and gathering it by Departmental officials directly under the eye of the Minister.

A. S. Goodeve (Kootenay) declared that the Opposition paid a high compliment to the Minister of Finance in that they had found no fault with his bill itself, but only founded their opposition on "certain sinister motives which they seemed to have feared would in some occult way be driven into this bill and the reports of its commissioners."

F. B. Carvell (Carleton, N.B.) described the manufacturers' association as "the originators of the scheme," the dictators of the scope and method of investigation of the tariff commission. The president of the C. M. A. had said that that association "could view with equanimity the appointment of a tariff commission."

J. A. M. Aikens (Brandon) compared the Opposition to Don Quixote, who "mount upon their disiccated steeds, and brandishing their paper shields," rush upon the phantom windmills of their imagination.

In refutation of Mr. Carvell, he declared that the capitalization of a company will be considered a factor in determining the cost of production. If combines had arisen it was because there had not been a scientific adjustment of the tariff.

W. M. Martin (Regina), Alfred Thompson (Yukon), and Thomas MacNutt (Saltcoats) also spoke.

May Block Queen's Bill.

Kingston, Feb. 9.—According to a report, when the Queen's University bill comes before the private bills committee at Ottawa it is likely to be laid aside. The claim is made that the Dominion Government has no right to deal with educational matters and that the bill will have to go before the Ontario Legislature, it being held that provinces alone can deal with education.

Lighthouse Men Want More Pay.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine, and Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, were yesterday waited upon by a delegation representing the lighthouse keepers of the Dominion. They asked for an increase of 33 per cent. in the salaries paid, and a restoration of the pension system, which was abolished some years ago. The Ministers promised serious consideration.

Crew of Twenty-Four Lost.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 9.—News was brought by the steamer Marama yesterday of the foundering of the trading steamer Tathra with the loss of 24 lives, including seven white men, off Ambryn Island, in the New Hebrides group, during a heavy gale, on Jan. 4.

Money Trust To Be Probed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—An investigation of the "money trust" was ordered by the Democrats of the House in caucus Wednesday night after a plan for a special committee had been defeated, 115 to 66. The caucus then instructed the standing committee of the House on banking and currency, judiciary, interstate commerce and elections, to proceed with the enquiry.

Sharp criticism of William J. Bryan for his imputations that the banking and currency committee of the House leaned toward the financial interests culminated in a resolution expressing confidence in the committee.

Giroux Holds Seat.

Montreal, Feb. 9.—The Citizens' Reform Association met with another disappointment yesterday, a judicial recount of the ballots cast in the recent municipal contest in St. James' ward giving ex-Ald. Nap Giroux, against all their efforts had been directed, yet another vote. His majority over Ald. Brodeur, the Reform candidate, is now ten.

PRESENTIMENT OF DEATH.

Burrell Hecock's Mother Had Vision of Disaster.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 8.—Fred. Preston, who has recovered more bodies from the whirlpool than any other man now living, is in charge of the corps of men patrolling the river in the hope of reclaiming the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Stanton, Toronto, and Burrell Hecock, Cleveland, who lost their lives in Sunday's ice bridge catastrophe.

The provincial police, under Inspector Mains, are supervising the search for the bodies.

A story was current here yesterday that a man who accompanied Hecock's father here on Monday had told several people that the unfortunate lad's mother had a presentiment of her son's death while dining with a party of friends at her home at the same hour when the boy was battling for his life on his icy prison.

According to the story, she seized a glass of water on the table and with an agonized look on her face and gave a startled cry.

"See," she exclaimed, looking with straining eyes in the glass, "There's ice floating there. People are running. I see my boy. He is in danger." The startling suddenness of this strange manifestation and the immediate collapse of Mrs. Hecock, followed by a burst of hysteria, threw the company into a state of excitement.

It was some time before Mrs. Hecock regained anything like composure, but even then there was settled gloom on the household that remained for hours, only to resolve itself into the reality that the awful tragedy [illegible] taken place, when the message came that Burrell Hecock's life had passed out at that identical moment.

This story, sad in its details and as a psychic phenomenon, strange almost beyond belief, is vouched for by those who heard its recital from the man who accompanied Mr. Hecock while in this city Monday.

The Board of Trade on the American side yesterday sent a request to Congress to have a life-saving station established at the falls to prevent the recurrence of Sunday's fatality.

Make Outside Pupils Pay.

Brantford, Feb. 9.—The Collegiate Institute Board will memoralize the Ontario Government to increase the percentage of the cost of tuition from 80 to 100 per cent., which must be paid by the county and outside pupils attending the institute, on the ground that rural municipalities do not contribute to the cost of building or equipment.

THE N. P. DID IT.

It took Toronto fifty years from its incorporation as a city in 1834 to attract a hundred thousand inhabitants. In the quarter century since 1884 the population has grown from 105,211 to 425,407.—Toronto Globe.

And what caused the growth of Toronto? The adoption of the National Policy by the Conservative party, which caused the investment of millions of dollars in that city, in industries of all kinds, thus finding employment for thousands of artisans, laborers, etc., who, had these industries not been established, would have had to seek homes in foreign countries; In addition to this, the aid given to railways which caused their construction, making Toronto their great centre. Of all of which the Toronto Globe was a violent and virulent opponent.

THE TELEGRAPHS.

The movement headed by Mr. Jos. Armstrong, of East Lambton, the purpose of which is to nationalize the telegraph lines of this country is one that will be generally regarded from a non-partizan standpoint. Though the ex-Premier bitterly opposed the wrenching of this utility from the hands of private individuals, his followers in the House and in the country are anything but hostile to the proposition. Sir Wilfrid's corporation views are anything but popular within his ranks and when he passes out of public life the Liberal party will probably swing into line as an advocate of the public ownership movement. As a Liberal party it cannot stand still or long continue to approve, secretly or otherwise, the stand Sir Wilfrid has taken with reference to the nationalization of the telegraph and telephone lines.

In an editorial on "Public Telegraphs," the New York Herald says:

> Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, our worthy Postmaster-General, could justifiably complain that some of his critics condemn his ideas not for what they are, but for what they might lead to.
>
> "A Democrat," for example, opposes Government ownership of the country's telegraph lines because it "would simply pave the way for a proposal to have the Government take over the railways," but such criticism is nonsense.
>
> That there is much to be said in favor of Government ownership and operation of telegraph lines is proved by Mr. John Wanamaker's advocacy of it.
>
> Mr. Wanamaker speaks not only as a man of business, but with all the authority of a former Postmaster-General. For close upon a quarter of a century he has been a partisan of the idea which is embodied in Mr. Hitchcock's recommendation.
>
> "Telegraph lines" says Mr. Wanamaker, "should form the most vital branch of the postal service. There is no reason why this country should not enjoy the same advantages that England and France have. A man must be wilfully blind who does not see the rising tide of public sentiment against monopoly."
>
> Whatever opinion one may hold as to the advisability or desirability of the measure proposed by Mr. Hitchcock, the carefully matured views of a practical, hard-headed business man like Mr. Wanamaker command attention and deserve serious consideration.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

The British Government is going to make a determined effort to wipe out the white plague. One of the provisions of the Lloyd-George insurance bill providesfor the establishment of sanitoria for the treatment of tuberculosis and while some features of the insurance bill have met with criticism, this one has met with general approval. The local government board is to have charge of the crusade, and will have five million dollars a year to sepnd to begin with. But the Government has also agreed to pay one-half of the cost of treating those covered by the bill and their families, provided that the local authorities or private institutions giving such treatment will pay the other half. An order has also been issued by John Burns, as president of the local government board, making tuberculosis a compulsory notifiable disease.

A writer in the Contemporary Review says: "Without exaggerating the value of this great change, it is not too much to say that in a few decades, if the opinion of medical experts is worth anything, consumption will be almost stamped out of the United Kingdom."

And why not? It should be possible with the proper expenditure and the system put to the best advantage, to drive out the white plague, just as other plagues have been conquered. Much of the tuberculosis of to day is caused by filthy air, filthy habits, and filthy houses and streets. Pure air and cleanly buildings to live and work in are the grettest foes of the white plague. People do not pay half enough attention to the sanitary condition of buildings, etc.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Why are you so vexed, Irma?

I am so exasperated. I attended the meeting of the Social Equality League and my parlor maid presided, and she had the audacity to call me to order three times.

Arrests of English army officers in Germany for spying did not arouse popular protests in Great Britain. With them it was part of the game. But the arrest of a civilian of prominence who is said to have been an innocent tourist, is a different matter. It looks as if the campaign against spies had been overdone.—Buffalo Express.

Old Jones—Can you give my daughter the luxuries to which she has been accustomed?

Cholly (engaged)—Not much longer. That's why I want to get married.

Although the month of February is hardly likely, in view of the fact that January was the coldest January on record, to be this year, as it usually is, the worst frigid month of winter, still it is not falling much behind its record. It may interest the readers of The Intelligencer to note that, since the 28th of December, the temperature in Belleville has risen but once above freezing, namely on the 18th of January. Forty-one out of forty-two days of freezing weather ought to constitute a record. And the end is not yet.

The Winnipeg Telegram makes this estimate of the number of men who will be needed for railway construction in Canada as soon as the spring opens:

C. N. R.	15,000
G. T. P.	15,000
C. P. R.	20,000
Hudson Bay Line	10,000
Total	60,000

The Telegram says that the three companies named will expend $50,000,000 in construction and improvements this year, and that at present the requisite number of men do not appear to be available.

The Greek consul at, and a physician of Venice have fought a duel over the merits of Mascagni's new opera. Such a thing could happen only in Italy or France. Imagine a Canadian, an American, or an Englishman taking an artistic production so seriously! Both critics fired and missed twice. Then the seconds declared that honor had been satisfied. (Presumably judgment on the opera must be suspended until a more decisive encounter.) As the curtain went down the duellists were facing each other and bowing, but would not shake hands. It must have been an unusually venomous affair, or the reconciled heroes would have been represented as embracing and kissing.

One Toronto Liberal paper claims that the blame for the bargain under which the Government of Canada has to pay the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway some ten millions of dollars does not rest upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues of the late Cabinet, but upon the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England, which interpreted the agreement as the Government did not understand it. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council interpreted the agreement as the Grand Trunk Pacific lawyers understood it, and as they meant to have it understood. The excuse sought to be offered for the late ministers only makes it plain that they did not understand their business and were not able to protect the country's interests. It was time they were thrown out.—Montreal Gazette.

The growth of moving picture show houses continues unabated in England. There are now over 4,000 of such places of entertainment in Great Britain and Ireland. Fully $5,000,000 is said to be invested in the provision and working of halls alone, and over 32,000 persons are employed. This leaves out of account the people employed and the large sums invested in the development of auxiliary branches of the industry. A total of 2,000,000 persons represents approximately the daily audience at these picture shows. The moving picture show has come to stay.—Brockville Times.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN

SHORN OF HER CROWN OF BEAUTY, LOSES IN LOVE AND MARRIAGE.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet, right here in Belleville, there are thousands of women who are neglecting their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy, that it will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads; unless all the life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets the name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so. You had better think this over and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—J. S McKeown, Belleville.

COSTLY SPITE

The most expensive act of damage ever committed by a railway worker was that of an Italian navvy employed in the construction of a tunnel through one of the mountains in the Black Forest. Having a grudge against his foreman, he succeeded one night in altering the position of the stakes which marked the course of the work. The excavators were working upon the tunnel in two sections, one from the north and one from the south. Owing to the shifting of the stakes the sections, instead of being directed to the same point, were found to be twenty-six feet apart when they reached the middle of the mountain. The northern half of the tunnel had, therefore, to be entirely reconstructed, at a cost of $875,000.

MISS ANNIE PECK RETURNS FROM HER ANDEAN CLIMB

She Planted a Suffrage Flag on Coropuna Peak, 21,000 Feet Above Sea—Indian Guides were Afraid

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Miss Annie Peck, who claims that she has climbed higher on the continents of North and South America than any other man or woman, returned yesterday on the Lamport & Holt liner Vasari from her expedition into the heart of the Andes She was met at the pier by President Nellie B. Van Slingerland of the Joan of Arc Suffrage League and a number of its members, carrying the yellow and black flags of the society.

The welcome was accorded by the Joan of Arc Suffrage League because Miss Peck had taken one of the flags with "Joan of Arc," and "Votes for Women," inscribed upon it and planted it upon one of the loftey snow-clad peaks of Mount Coropuna, Peru, at an elevation of 21,000 feet.

In an interview with the reporters on the Vasari, Miss Peck, who appeared reticent about talking of her notable exploits, said that she left New York on June 3 for Peru, via the Isthmus of Panama, with the intention of ascending the highest mountain in the Andes, and selected Coropuna because she had been told that it was higher than any other mountain in South America.

"When I reached the summit I discovered that it was not more than 21,000 feet, which was considerably lower than Aconcagua, 22,5000 feet, and Huascaran, 21,812 feet, I had climbed before, ascending the latter twice.

"On this trip I took with me a hypsometre for taking observations at the summit for measuring the exact height from the base. I found that I could not get the height of Coropuna exactly, because no one knew the altitude of the village of Viraco, at its base. I was accompanied in the climb by a German guide, named Carl Volkman, who has returned to his home, a Peruvian scientist, and four half-breed Indian guides.

"Coropuna has five summits all on the same level, and I ascended two of them in a week. We started on a Monday morning and arrived at the summit on Sunday without any serious falls, as the ascent was not as bad as that of Huascaran, and my former experience had made me more sure footed. The snow was a hundred feet deep on the summit, frozen hard, and we reached the snow line two days after leaving the village. This time I discarded my woollen mask, and wore a piece of silk over my face to keep off the intense cold on the mountains and the burning heat on the plains of my trip.

"The guides did not work except when we were climbing, and went to sleep directly that we camped for the night, while I had to do the cooking and prepare the meals I wish I had taken a man with me to take the observations, as it is too much for one lone woman to do it all."

"Did you feel the cold much?" she was asked.

"Yes; sometimes I could not sleep for the cold, and the fumes of sulphur near the summit were trying to the lungs, and gave me the impression that there was a volcano near. I spent two nights at an altitude of 20,000 feet on this trip, and two at 19,800 feet when I ascended Huascaran in 1908."

The only trials she had were with the superstitious half-breeds, who wanted to go back when they reached a certain altitude, because they were afraid they would be turned into pillars of snow by the terrible genii of the mountains, and that if they escaped him at that point the monster would destroy them when they reached the summit.

"I knew by former experiences that the only way to get the Indians to go on was by flattery, and I asked them if the traditions of their brave ancestors showed that four big men had deserted a woman in the snow on the mountains to face the perils of the trip alone. Then I told them that I intended to go on whether they left me or not. I argued that if I was not afraid they should not be, and also pointed out that they could pose as heroes among their own people for the remainder of their days, and thus I persuaded them to keep on until the summit was reached."

Miss Peck said the entire expense of the trip was $3,000 She gave lectures in Spanish in La Paz, Bolivia, and Buenos Ayres on the relations between the United States and South America, which were attended by the Presidents of both republics. She is now going to devote her time to writing a book on her trip, and may explore the sources of the river Amazon when she is free again.

EARLY SAMPLES OF FOOTWEAR

Moses Wisely Wore Shoes at the Burning Bush but in the Further Back Feet Were Covered for Other Reasons.

It cannot be stated with certainty how, when or where, the wearing of shoes began. It can only be surmised that some contemporary of the stone age, finding his way beset with stones or strewn with thorns, thought to fasten about his feet the raw hide of the animal he had slain, and that then was born the germ of utility that through the centuries has evolved into the modern shoe.

The earliest shoes worn in the northern part of Europe were undoubtedly shaped like the moccasin of the American Indian, and were made of raw hide with the hair outside. They covered the whole foot and partly enclosed the ankle, about which they were fastened with thongs that laced through slits in the hide Such were the shoes worn by the ancient Germans and the Celts of Brittany.

In summer regions the first foot apparel was probably a sandal of straw, palm, wood or hide fastened to the foot by a thong passing between the big and the next toes and laced about the ankle. Sandals of this kind are not unlike those of the old Hebrews, the ancient Egyptians, and the Assyrians and Persians.

The earliest mention of shoes in the Scriptures is in the 14th Chapter of Genesis, (about 1913 B. C.), where Abram tells the King of Sodom he "will not take from a thread even to a shoe latchet," lest the King claim he made Abram rich. Again (about 1491 B. C.), where Moses is commanded to remove his shoes before the burning bush, for the ground upon which he stood was holy. The shoes that the traveler sees at the doors of Mosques and Eastern temples point back to this act of early reverence, as well as does the custom of removing the shoes in the presence of Eastern potentates.

THE FAIR SMUGGLER.

A Romance of a Peculiar Fascination

Although the world never moved faster than it does at the present time, life to some is still lacking in excitement and variety. To a certain Mdlle. Marthe Reye, who was young, beautiful and rich, the quietness of her home life at Driye, a small frontier village of Switzerland, had become unbearable. The mountain scenery bored her; and even the exhilaration of dashing along dangerous highways in her 40 h. p. motor-car at break-neck speed had begun to pall. Something must be done. Mdlle. Reye decided to add excitement to her life. Then a thrilling plan arose in her mind. Tobacco, saccharin, and snuff were cheap enough to buy in Geneva. Away across the frontier in Haute Savoie such luxuries were dear. Visions, no doubt, of tales of smuggling arose in her thoughts and added picturesqueness to the idea. At any rate, within a few days of the first conception of the plan Mdlle. Reye had equipped herself for the enterprise. Snugly stored in her powerful car she had placed many pounds of tobacco, whilst boxes of snuff and saccharin completed the cargo.

The right and wrong of the exploit had not escaped madamoiselle's mind. If successful, she realized her profits would be great; so she satisfied her conscience by determining that all her profits should be given to the poor.

One dark night, driven by her elderly and experienced chauffeur, Mlle. Reye set out on her first journey across the frontier. The coldness of the night thrilled her; and the excitement grew intense as, letting the car go, the chauffeur dashed by the French Excise outpost, and a little later drew up in Haute Savoie.

For some time madamoiselle made her smuggling expeditions across the frontier with impunity. Only once, so far, had the excitement grown a little more intense than she had desired. Then it was that the Excise authorities, their alertness heightened by being repeatedly baulked by the car, had managed to get in close pursuit. Madamoiselle had heard the crack of their rifles, but the old chauffeur had managed to reach the shelter of Haute Savoie safely.

But misfortune was in store for the pretty smuggler. Her chauffeur fell ill, and perforce she was compelled to engage another, less experienced and resourceful. So it happened that on the second trip with the new driver, the Customs officers captured the car. Mlle. Reye, attired in the latest Paris costume, beamed on them unperturbed. It was all a joke, she explained laughingly, as the Customs officials overhauled the car, and fast dispossessed it of the contraband burden. Even when a heavy fine was demanded the pretty young smuggler only smiled, tossed over a bundle of notes, and gaily rode off.

To recite the further smuggling adventures of Mlle. Reye would require many pages. Let it suffice to say that far from putting an end to her wild rides across the frontier, capture by the authorities only added to her zest for the sport. A few weeks later she was again captured red-handed; again laughed and joked, and again nonchalantly paid the now doubly increased fine. But this time she was warned that if caught again her car would be confiscated.

MAN AND THE SOIL.

Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, author of the Common Sense Medical Adviser, says "why does not the farmer treat his own body as he treats the land he cultivates. He puts back in phosphate what he takes out in crops, or the land would grow poor. The farmer should put back into his body the vital elements exhausted by labor, or by ill-health induced by some chronic disease." Further, he says, "the great value of my Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in its vitalizing power. It gives strength to the stomach and purity to the blood. It is like the phosphates which supply nature with the substances that build up the crops. The far-reaching action of is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach. A bilious spell is simply the result of an effort made by the liver to catch up when over-worked and exhausted. I have found the 'Discovery' to be unsurpassed as a liver regulator and rich blood-maker."

Miss LOTTIE KNISELY of Perth, Kansas, says: "I will here add my testimony of the effectiveness of your remedy upon myself. I was troubled with indigestion for two years or more. Doctored with three different doctors besides taking numerous kinds of so-called 'stomach cures' but received no permanent relief. I was run down, could not sleep at night with the pain in my chest, caused by gas on the stomach. Was weak, could eat scarcely anything although I was hungry nearly all the time. About one year and a half ago I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after having taken several bottles am nearly cured of stomach trouble. Can now eat without distress and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I thank you for your remedy and wish you all success in your good work."

HOUSE KEEPS CONTROL

Commission Will Not Do More Than Study Tariff.

Hon. W. T. White In Moving Second Reading of Bill For the Appointment of a Board Denies That the Government Will Give Up Right to Make the Tariff—Guthrie Says C. M. A. Has Engineered Scheme.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—"The creating of a tariff commission does not in the slightest degree minimize Ministerial responsibility in regard to the tariff," declared Hon. W. T. White yesterday afternoon in moving the second reading of the bill to create such a commission, and the Premier expressed the same idea in different words later in the debate when he declared, "This tariff commission will bring in no tariff. The Government of this country will bring in the tariff."

"The tariff," said Mr. White, "cannot be taken out of politics. It is and probably always will be the chief topic of political discussion."

The tariff, he further declared, was not a stereotyped thing, but should change with changing conditions, but all changes should be based on accurate information and this was the duty of the board to gather. Canada could not get too much information, too much data.

The Opposition, led by Hugh Guthrie, devoted their energies largely to demolishing a man of straw, the member for South Wellington declaring that the proposed commission raised a barrier between the Government and the people who sent them into power.

He further declared that there had been no public demand for it. It had not been discussed before the people. He saw in it the "quid pro quo" to the C. M. A. for "their generous and lavish support in the election of September 21. Its real object was to fasten a higher protective system than ever on the country," he said.

To these charges, Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden gave a direct and unqualified denial. He himself had spoken in favor of the creation of a tariff board on at least forty or fifty platforms east and west and the people were fully prepared to support such a policy. The Government had made no promises to the C. M. A. and had been asked for none.

"It is not the intention of the Government," said Hon. W. T. White, in moving the second reading of the bill, "to delegate its function of making tariff-rates to any outside party."

The suggestion had been made that the tariff could be taken out of politics by the creation of a commission akin to the Railway Commission. This, the Minister of Finance thought, utopian and impracticable. There was no question in the realm of political science about which men differed more earnestly or widely than that of the tariff.

The tariff, he declared, was not a stereotyped thing. It should change with changed conditions, but such change should only come on the basis of accurate information. This would be gathered by the commission from the reports and statistical information of other countries, by investigations and by hearing those who desire to be heard.

Confidential information gathered from business men would not be disclosed, as credits might by injured.

Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) thought the obtaining of information and facts was all right, but disagreed with the proposed method of seeking it. The form of the bill, he declared, was objectionable, and, if persisted in, would be disastrous to the great body of the citizens of Canada. It was a strange thing, he argued, that the first act of consequence of magnitude of the Minister of Finance had been to introduce a bill for the establishment of a permanent tariff commission—a bill both in form and substance borrowed from the highest protectionist country in the world, the United States.

"The real object and purport of this measure," declared Mr. Guthrie, "is to perpetuate and sustain, not the present system of protection, but to fasten a higher protection on this country."

The functions of this board, he insinuated, were much wider than appeared on the surface. It was "nothing more or less than a cheap Yankee device of the Finance Minister" for a high protective tariff brought in by an irresponsible commission.

In conclusion, he moved the six months hoist, seconded by F. F. Pardee (W. Lambton).

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden began by reproaching Mr. Guthrie for the gloomy tone of his speech, and recalled the fact that he had voted time after time to force reciprocity through without an appeal to the people, though that was not a measure for merely gathering information, but was calculated to affect for all time the destiny, not only of this country, but of the whole Empire.

"The purport of the present bill," declared the Premier, "was that information should not be gathered, as in the past, in a desultory, but in a scientific and systematic manner."

"As to Mr. Guthrie's insinuations about the C.M.A., he should not take too much for granted. No man connected with the Manufacturers' Association had spoken to him about the board, except one, and he was opposed to it."

A. K. MacLean of Halifax, in opposing the bill, argued that, in a country such as Canada, where politics obtained, such a thing as scientific tariff-making was an impossibility, inasmuch as the Government of the day were bound to be influenced by precedent and local considerations.

H. B. Ames (Montreal) supported the bill. G. W. Kyte (Richmond) opposed it, and Mr. Middlebro moved the adournment at 10.45 p.m.

There is a proverb that any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to keep it. It might be similarly said that any nation can throw down an established despotism, but it takes a wise one to establish a constitutional government. Mexico is finding this. After forty years of the peaceful, progressive, if despotic, rule of Diaz, she seems to have reverted, under the well meaning Madero, to the old Spanish custom of daily insurrections.—Montreal Witness.

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE OF A TORONTO LADY

I have seen OXO Cubes advertised a great deal and thought I would try them, so I bought a 25c. tin and found them so satisfactory that I am going to tell the women of this city how I used them.

MONDAY night, we were going to the theatre, so I filled my brass kettle and alcohol lamp and left them in the den with the box of OXO Cubes. We were tired and cold when we returned from the play. But in a moment, the water was boiling, the OXO Cubes were dissolved, and we were sipping the most delicious "beef tea" I ever tasted. And how we did sleep that night!

TUESDAY morning, my small daughter would not take her milk. I was at my wit's end when I thought of the OXO Cubes. I brought out the box, let her open one of the cartons, and showed her how to stir in the OXO with the milk. She said it was "goody" and every morning now she wants her "brown milk."

WEDNESDAY There is a dear old lady next door who has been ill for a long time. I wanted to make something to tempt her appetite. So I dissolved an ounce of Gelatine and three OXO Cubes in a pint of boiling water—then added a wineglassful of sherry and poured into a mold, allowed it to cool and sent it to my poor friend. When I ran in to see her next morning, she actually cried as she tried to tell me how good it was.

THURSDAY Two of the children do not come from school at lunchtime. I do not care to give them meat sandwiches—yet want them to have something more sustaining than bread and sweets. OXO Cubes solved the problem. I now spread OXO Cubes on bread and know that the children have a nourishing and appetizing luncheon.

FRIDAY Just as we had finished dinner, who should walk in but my brother and his new wife! While I was warming the rest of the dinner, I had the kettle boiling, dropped in a few OXO Cubes and brought in two big plates of steaming OXO soup in a jiffy. After dinner, my new sister asked "how did you make that delicious soup?" When I told her it was OXO Cubes, she was so pleased to know that she could have soup like mine.

SATURDAY I came in from doing my Sunday shopping all fagged out—and I could feel myself coming down with a dreadful cold. I made a cup of OXO and felt so rested that I added two OXO Cubes to another cup of boiling water and drank that. When I awoke Sunday morning, I had not a sign of a cold. I am finding new uses for OXO Cubes every day.

SUNDAY We were tired of the everlasting eggs or chops for breakfast so I tried to see what I could do with OXO Cubes. I fried a small onion cut in slices, with a little apple, in butter until brown—then poured in a teacupful of stock made with two OXO Cubes and boiling water—and added a tablespoonful of curry powder, a little chutney and finally minced cold beef. I stirred it for fifteen minutes over the fire and served in a hot dish, garnished with boiled rice. Everybody was delighted with my OXO creation.

OXO Cubes are the greatest advance in food invention since men began to eat and women learnt to cook.

Mechanical Equivalent of Heat.

The mechanical theory of heat regards heat as a mode of motion, and investigation has shown that there exists a definite relation between those two forms of energy, which is known as the mechanical equivalent of heat, or Joule's equivalent. That is, if, as in the experiments of Joule a certain known amount of mechanical energy be expended, as, for instance, by the falling of a weight to operate paddles in a vessel of water the increase in temperature of the water, due to agitation by the paddles will always be found proportional to the work done. This relation or proportion is expressed by the amount of work necessary to raise the temperature of one pound of water at 62 degrees Fahrenheit through one degree at atmospheric pressure, or in other words, impart one British Thermal Unit to the water. The heat necessary to raise the temperature of one pound of water from 62 degrees to 63 degrees temperature was found by Joule to be able to perform work equal to the raising of 772 pounds one foot in height. The latest experimental determination of Rowland shows that the exact value is somewhat higher than 772, and 778 is the value now usually accepted as the correct mechanical equivalent.

Some things seem more important before we have accomplished them—marriage, for example.

THIRTY-THREE INDICTMENTS FOUND AGAINST ALLEGED DYNAMITERS

Many Labor Officials Found Involved in Dynamite Conspiracy—Arrests Are to be Made—Ghastly Record of Havoc Wrought by Dynamiting Crew Unfolded by Grand Jury's Investigations

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 8.—Thirty-three indictments, most of them said to be against labor union officials, were returned by the federal grand jury this afternoon as a result of the Government's investigation of the dynamite conspiracy.

The number and the names of the defendants were ordered to be held secret pending arrests. It is understood warrants are to be issued immediately.

Not only members of McNamara's "dynamiting crew" but also men who are said to have had knowledge of what McNamara did with the money at his disposal are believed to be indicted.

District Attorney Miller announced later that only thirty-two of the indictments pertained to the dynamiting conspiracy, one true bill being in another case not made known.

The indictments were returned at 2.10 o'clock this afternoon, ten minutes after the jury had met.

Former associates of J. J. McNamara in the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Workers, received the news of the indictments without surprise. Both Frank M. Ryan, the president, and Herbert S. Hockin, the secretary, said they knew the direction of the investigation, because the association's records were evidence before the grand jury.

"But we have maintained, right along," said Hockin, "that nobody in this office was concerned with McNamara in his dynamiting."

Part of the indictments are known to be against men who met Ortie McManigal in Detroit in June, 1907, and induced him, because of his familiarity with explosives, gained while working in a stone quarry, to become a regular member of McNamara's "dynamiting crew."

Other indictments are believed to be against men who met McManigal in Boston and showed him where to put the explosives which blew up part of an opera house there on March 27, 1908, and who afterwards went with him to Springfield, Mass., and showed him where to blow up part of a municipal building, and also against men who escorted him from New York to Hoboken, N.J., and to Jersey City, where he did 'jobs' in 1909 and 1910; men who met him in Cleveland in July, 1910, and arranged for an explosion at Akron, Ohio, and men who took charge of him when he arrived at Peoria, Ill., to blow up places there.

Another indictment is said to deal with a Chicago man, who, after the McManigal party wrecked by dynamiting an iron works plant in South Chicago in February, 1911, handed him an envelope containing $165, with the remark, "There's money in that."

Men who were traced as having helped in causing explosions at Omaha, Neb.; Erie, Pa.; Davenport, Ia.; Perthamboy, N.J.; Pelham, N.Y., and many points in Ohio, where twenty explosions occurred, are said to be involved.

The charge of concealment of knowledge of the guilt of others is said to have been brought to bear in connection with the $1,000 allowed monthly to J. J. McNamara as secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, for which he was required to give no accounting.

A GHASTLY RECORD.

Fully one hundred explosions of dynamite, at points scattered over 17 states, and covering a period from the summer of 1905 to October 16, 1911, when dynamite was found beneath a bridge near Santa Barbara, Cal., just before President Taft's special train passed over it, were inquired into by the federal grand jury which has investigated what the Government has regarded as a nation-wide dynamite conspiracy.

It has been the theory of the Government that all of these explosions were intended to intimidate employers and non-union workmen with the general intent to abolish the so-called "open shop," and compel submission to the demands of certain labor organizations, more particularly to the International Union of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

The states in which explosions occurred were Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Connecticut, Michigan, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Utah California and Washington. Ohio, with twenty explosions, had more than any one state. Indiana, Illinois, and New York follow in order, in respect to the number of explosions.

There were two explosions in 1905, nine in 1906, six in 1907, twenty-five in 1908, twenty in 1909, twenty-five in 1910, and thirteen in 1911. These figures are exclusive of the explosion which wrecked the Los Angeles Times plant, and resulted in the confessions and imprisonment of the brothers John J. and James B. McNamara. John J. McNamara was secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

The preliminary exhibit of facts and allegations about the explosions and their supposed origin was gathered and presented to the federal authorities by the National Erectors' Association, an organization of iron and steel manufacturers and contractors who had declared for the open shop. After the explosions in 1905 the Erectors' Association was formed, and in May, 1906, after declaring as an organization for the open shop, engaged detectives to seek out the identity of those responsible for the explosions.

One of the first instances of the finding of hidden explosives occurred before the erectors organized, and followed an attempt to blow up a building in East Twenty-third Street, New York City. Two men were convicted. One of them confessed to having received $150 on one occasion for a "job," and $100 for cutting a cable. He told of the location of one hundred one-pound sticks of dynamite, which subsequently were found in the Jersey Meadows and in the sands at the foot of Twenty-fourth Street.

The erectors continued their investigations until the spring of 1911, but while the detectives were working in one place the explosions occurred with more frequency in others. More than a dozen viaducts, bridges, buildings, and other construction work, all being erected by firms employing non-union labor, had been blown up before Ortie E. McManigal appeared on the scene, and began to work with John J. and James B. McNamara as a professional dynamiter.

Water the Hogs.

Keep plenty of water before your hogs at all times; this applies to breeding and growing stock as well as to fattening stock. Water, of course, has no food value, and, therefore, will not produce fat or bone or muscle, but more nutrients will be extracted from a given amount of feed by a hog that is supplied with an abundance of water than by one that is not getting all the water it needs.

What Followed a Cut

A MAGISTRATE'S WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE WITH ZAM-BUK

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Rl., has had a wonderful proof of the healing power of Zam-Buk. He says:

"Four years ago, I had an accident I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so, it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop my work and lay up.

"After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did.

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it."

Such is the nature of the great cures which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in its composition this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon re-

A FEW OUTSTANDING FACTS FROM THE SIXTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
CANADA LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY

A Splendid Year.	The business of the year 1911 was, in all its material factors, the most important in the Company's long history of sixty-five years.
Greatest Surplus Earnings.	THE SURPLUS EARNED by the Canada Life in 1911 was $1,293,597.00, the greatest on record. A new "high mark" for surplus earnings was reached four years ago, and in each year since then a new record has been established.
Interest Rate Increasing	THE INCOME, both from premiums and interest, $6,543,201.00, shows a substantial increase over previous years. The rate of interest earned each year by the Canada Life has steadily been growing since 1899, and a further increase is expected for 1912. This is an important factor in making surplus.
Assets Doubled in Twelve Years.	THE ASSETS were increased by $3,436,484.00, the largest growth in any year. The TOTAL ASSETS now stand at $44,257,341.00, having more than doubled in the past twelve years.
A New Record.	THE NEW PAID-FOR POLICIES amounted to $12,507,063.00, exceeding the best previous years. The TOTAL ASSURANCES now in force are over $135,615,253.00.
Large Benefits to Policyholders.	THE PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS in 1911 totalled $2,295,073.00. In the past twelve years the Canada Life has paid or credited to its Policyholders or their beneficiaries nearly $50,000,000.00.
Only High-class Investments.	THE INVESTMENTS of the Canada Life are carefully selected and distributed over a wide field of suitable securities, thus ensuring safety and good interest returns. In Western Canada the Company has invested $8,200,000.00 in mortgage loans, upon which no loss has ever yet occurred. The total mortgage investments of the Company are over $14,152,708.00.
Strength and Security.	THE CANADA LIFE now actually values over one-half of its business on a 3% interest basis, and the remainder at 3½%, which means that it holds Reserves much stronger than are required by any Government Insurance Department on the North American Continent.

ULSTERMEN PEACEFUL

Churchill's Visit to Belfast Ends Without a Blow.

Not Even a Broken Head Marks Long-Heralded Speech—First Lord of the Admiralty Outlines the Home Rule Bill—It Will Permit Ireland to Fix Taxes, But British Parliament Will Have Power of Veto.

Belfast, Feb. 9.—Winston Churchill's incursion into Ulster, which threatened at one time to cause sanguinary rioting and serious loss of life, has ended without even a broken head. The First Lord of the Admiralty and John S. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, spoke from the same platform on the home rule bill. Mr. Churchill outlined the intentions of the Government with respect to self-government for Ireland, and declared that no greater boon could come to the Empire than the settlement of the long and bitter quarrel between the British Government and the Irish people.

Mr. Redmond appealed to Ulster "in the name of Ireland and the British Empire, justice and good-will," to lend its aid in settling the Irish question wisely, well and forever.

The presence in Belfast of the largest military force ever gathered to preserve the peace among Irish factions, combined with a drenching rain to check the bellicose ardor of the anti-home rulers, whose hostility was mainly vented by booing and hooting. But what ugly temper was aroused and the civic authorities were alarmed by possible consequences is shown by the fact that on their advice Mr. Churchill left the city by a special train two hours before the announced time of his departure, thus disappointing a huge crowd which assembled later to give him a mixed send-off.

Mr. Churchill's speech was delivered before an audience from which every effort had been made to bar all hostile elements. It aroused tremendous enthusiasm, but at one point a group of suffragettes attempted to create a disturbance and several of them were ejected.

The essential features of the Liberal Government's home rule bill to be introduced into the British Parliament were set forth for the first time yesterday in the course of Mr. Churchill's speech.

The bill is to contain provisions for a fair representation in the two Houses of the Irish Parliament of all classes of the Irish people, and restrictions will be placed on the passing of laws or the imposition of taxes which might be unjust to any party, while religious freedom is to be secured. The armed forces in Ireland are to be controlled by the Imperial Government, but Ireland is to control its own finances, while the Imperial Government will continue its land purchase and pension schemes.

The young Cabinet Minister was greeted with a rousing reception from the 6,000 people gathered within the tent, whose enthusiasm not even the depressing surroundings were able entirely to quench. A steady shower bath poured through the canvas roof making the floor an incipient marsh.

"A band played popular airs intermingled with the Irish melodies "The Wearing of the Green" and "The Boys of Wexford."

Mr. Churchill immediately got on good terms with his audience, promising them that the Government intended to pass a home rule bill which would be harmonious with Imperial interests, smooth the path of the British Empire, liberate new forces for its service and forever do away with the accursed machinery by which hatred had been manufactured in the past.

The Government's home rule bill, continued Mr. Churchill, would fit into a general scheme of Parliamentary devolution leading ultimately to the federation of the Empire. That was the only way to free the House of Commons from its present congestion.

"Look at our great rivals the United States of America and Germany. Both of those powers conduct their business through separate Parliaments."

On arriving in the morning with his wife at the Central Station, Mr. Churchill was given a mixed reception.

A number of Orangemen greeted him with groans and boos, but these were drowned in the hearty cheers of the large crowd of Liberals and Nationalists. There was no disturbance.

There was no marked excitement among the workers of the city yesterday. The tens of thousands of men and women engaged in the shipyards and the linen factories proceeded to work as though the question of home rule had not been mooted.

Matters looked ugly for a moment when Mr. and Mrs. Churchill started for the place where the meeting was to be held. A great crowd which had gathered outside the hotel, appeared inclined to rush the First Lord's motor car and tried to block its passage, but a flotilla of escorting motor cars packed with detectives succeeded in worming a way through the groaning throng, and got the First Lord safely away.

Mr. Churchill and Mr. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, reached the marquee safely. Their journey through the streets was marked by nothing more serious than outbursts of groans and hisses.

The football ground was surrounded from an early hour by troops so as to guard against an invasion by the Unionists. Only ticket holders were admitted.

The surroundings of the football grounds, which is known locally as "Paradise," were appalling desolate. The deluge of rain was incessant and the approaches to the marquee were a sea of black ooze. The supports and ropes holding up the marquee were strained with the weight of the sodden canvas, through which the water dripped like a shower bath.

Effigies bearing the labels "Carson and Londonderry. Turncoats and Traitors," swayed from poles inside the marquee, looking all the world like corpses hanging from the gallows.

Bodies of infantry and dragoons were stationed a short distance from the marquee in readiness for emergencies.

Baby Shows Needed.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The efficiency of baby shows at fall fairs as an antidote to race suicide will be thoroughly tested throughout Ontario next September if the directors of the local fair societies accept the suggestion of Louis Smith of Cornwall at yesterday's session of the twelfth annual convention of the Provincial Association of Fairs and Exhibitions.

"Population failed to increase in Cornwall," said Mr. Smith, "and last fall the census report occasioned so much worriment that when the directors of our fair association got together they decided that a baby show in conjunction with the fair would arouse interest among the people along this neglected line. Some forty mothers entered with their offspring and the rivalry for the prizes was keen. It also boomed the attendance at the fair, for where you have the babies there also will be the women, and where there are women you will always find men."

Mr. Smith's suggestion was hailed with enthusiasm by the delegates, who will carry the idea to every town and hamlet in the province where next fall it will be put into practical operation.

Bargain Bad For France.

Paris, Feb. 9.—M. Pichon, ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs, during the course of a discussion of the Franco-German agreement in the Senate yesterday, delivered a trenchant criticism of the treaty, the ratification of which he declared he would not vote for. He described it as a bad bargain for France, which, in exchange for the gravest sacrifices, had got Morocco, but so heavily mortgaged as to be of little use. He took the gloomiest view of the future, and feared that the protectorate in Morocco would prove much more costly in men and money than calculated upon at present.

SIR JAMES IS SHARP

Handles Mr. Rowell's Maiden Criticisms Without Gloves.

New Leader of the Ontario Opposition Finds Fault With the Speech From the Throne Because It Did Not Say Enough, But Premier Proves With Some Heat That It Said All That Required Saying.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—Never perhaps was the handicap of inexperience in a political debate better exemplified than yesterday afternoon in the local Legislature when N. W. Rowell, K.C., the new leader of the Liberal Opposition, encountered Sir James Whitney in the debate on the speech from the throne.

Carefully worded and in true legal style Mr. Rowell depicted the sins and shortcomings of the present Government. From the standpoint of an idealist with good principles in view, but totally indifferent to the burdens and responsibilities of office, Mr. Rowell made an excellent address.

Mr. Rowell got a good reception on rising. "However much we may differ in policy," said he, "we all agree that Canada must work out her destiny as an inseparable part of the British Empire. The ties that bind Canada to the Motherland are growing stronger every year."

Mr. Rowell directed his sharpest criticism of the Government on the proposal to switch the Hydro-electric out of the control of the commission and give it over to the charge of a Cabinet Minister.

Mr. Rowell maintained that this proposed Hydro-electric policy of Sir James Whitney's had been a gigantic blunder.

"It has been a characteristic," said he, "of the present Government, under the present leader, when they do jump, to jump too far for the public interest."

Mr. Rowell then turned to the bilingual school question, and after remarking that Sir James Whitney had said in his campaign speeches that there were no bilingual schools, quoted from a newspaper report which he held in his hand, a statement on bilingualism attributed to the Attorney-General.

"Perhaps never in the history of the Government has there been such an instance of division of the Cabinet as this," he continued, "with three members of the Government expressing different views on an important matter."

"This speech from the throne is remarkable for what it did not say. Isn't it strange that no mention was made of tax reform? Many of the Conservative members are in favor of it, and even a number of the Conservative newspapers advocate it. Why isn't this reform granted? Because Sir James Whitney has made up his mind that he doesn't want it."

Mr. Rowell then criticized the immigration policy of the Government, and intimated that Sir James Whitney regarded settlers to new Ontario as liabilities to the province, while he (Mr. Rowell) and the Liberal party looked on the settlers as provincial assets.

Woman suffrage, social and moral reform, and the liquor traffic, were also commented on as being important matters neglected by the present Government.

Sir James Whitney was received with tumultuous applause on rising to reply to Mr. Rowell. After paying his respects to the new leader and the ex-leader, Hon. A. G. MacKay, Sir James jumped right into the discussion.

"My hon. friend opposite," said Sir James, "has been talking during the past five minutes on the liquor question and yet he has declared that he cannot find a remedy for all the ills of the liquor traffic, for four years anyway."

"The hon. gentleman also talks about bilingual schools, and how I tried to evade this question during my campaign.

"In five minutes, said Sir James, "I have made more definite statements about bilingual schools than the hon. gentleman opposite has done in his whole life.

"In all his political campaign he kept repeating that English should be the state language, but that the French pupils should not forget their mother tongue.

"That's as far as he dared to go," declared Sir James, "and I challenge him to say otherwise."

"Get up! Get up!" shouted a member to Mr. Rowell, but the Liberal leader kept his seat.

"Dr. Merchant is investigating to determine whether any discrepancies have crept into the teaching system of the province.

"If he reports that such have occurred, they will be dealt with.

"Tax reform! Why should anything be mentioned about that matter if it wasn't a part of our platform?"

But Sir James assured the House that assessment reform would be adequately dealt with.

With regard to the future course of the Hydro-electric, Sir James said the Cabinet was not a unit on the question of giving it over to a Department of the Government or retaining the commission in its present state, but the present policy would be continued till completion.

Dr. Jamieson moved the adoption of the speech from the throne and Chas. McCrea of Sudbury seconded it.

No Hope For "Flying Post."

Woodstock, Feb. 9.—Secretary H. Sykes of the Woodstock Board of Trade has received a letter from Hon. L. P. Pelletier, the Postmaster-General, in which he says that the Government's decision to discontinue the flying post train from Toronto to London is final and irrevocable. Its continuance would mean a disturbance of the economy of the Postoffice Department.

The Government, he says, cannot continue special privileges to one section of the community without extending them to all. It would be disastrous to the Department.

Hope Powers Will Concur.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—It is hoped and confidently believed here that the German-American notes setting forth the views of the two Governments regarding conditions in China will lead to formal declarations by all the interested powers on the same lines.

Germany from the beginning of the disorders in China has taken the same stand as the United States and has expressed her accord with the suggestion for a common policy in China which Secretary of State Knox has submitted several times to the powers. The latest steps were taken on German initiative, but the credit belongs equally to the Washington State Department. Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, acted in full accord with Secretary of State Knox in submitting the original German note which elicited the American reply.

The newspapers here made a feature of the notes yesterday. The Kreuz Zeitung sees in them a warning that certain powers which are seeking special advantages in China must count on joint German-American opposition to their plans.

Senator Proposes Cure.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The ratification of the pending arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France, though "lame and important as an obligation to peacefully settle disputes," was urged before the Senate yesterday by Senator Works of California. He declared that if the representatives of the three great powers had intended to exclude from the terms of the agreement very dispute that a nation was likely to go to war about, it could not have done it more effectively.

Senator Works advocated an alliance between the great powers to ostracize commercially and otherwise any nation that went to war and to bind themselves not to increase their armaments.

Port Maitland as Canal Entrance.

Dunnville, Feb. 9.—The Dunnville Board of Trade has appointed a committee to prepare sketches, plans and estimates for the purpose of urging on the Government the advisability of selecting Port Maitland as the entrance for an enlarged Welland Canal. When the data has been secured it is the intention to lay it before Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, and urge that a survey be made to corroborate the view so strongly held here, that the Port Maitland entrance should be selected as the best and cheapest, and one that will involve not only least cost for maintenance during the entire life of the canal.

PREMIER'S BORDEN'S WIFE AT HOME

She is Brilliant and Clever and is Mr. Borden's "Right Hand Man"

"A clever and brilliant woman is Mrs. Robert Laird Borden," says Madge Macbeth, writing in February Canada Monthly. "She is clever without seeming too dazzling, capable and yet sympathetic, a worker to the last ounce of herself, but never too busy to be gracious. She is so versatile, so broad-minded, so adaptable and sympathetic, that a dozen persons speaking with her in a day, would come away from her home with a dozen different impressions. She is not apt to talk about herself—but about everything else.

"Mrs. Borden was Miss Laura Bond, of Halifax. The youngest of ten children, she was strictly reared; punctuality which was a virtue in the days of her childhood, has become a fixed habit. She went to a convent where 'deportment' was as much a part of the day's study as was history; by her own confession she is old-fashioned. If that means high-principled, cultured and energetic, let it pass. She has always been interested in everything pertaining to the success and advancement of women, for many years being President of the Halifax Council of Women, President of the Aberdeen Association, Vice-President of the Woman's Work and Exchange, and Corresponding Secretary of the Associated Charities of the United States. There probably have been others which claimed a share of her time.

"She has been of much assistance to her husband in his political life, accompanying him upon electioneering tours and winning every one by her charm and interest in the issues of the time. Having no children, she has dedicated her splendid energies to various kinds of useful work, so she is busier with a woman with a large house and family to look after, More like the wives of British statesmen, Mrs. Borden works in keen sympathy with her husband, allowing no personal dislikes or prejudices to influence her to the detriment of his career. In speaking of Mrs. Borden to another member of the high political faction some one lately said:

"'But I should think you would be interested, Lady So-and-so; it means so much to your husband.'

"Meeting with no response to her plea, the speaker went on:

"'Take Mrs. Borden, for example, she is ready for any kind of work so long as it benefits the Right Honorable Mr. Borden.'

"'But, my dear,' said the disinterested lady, plaintively, 'you can't expect me to be as energetic as Mrs. Borden—why, she is Mr. Borden's right hand man.'"

WHEN DICKENS MADE A HIT AT MONTREAL

"When Dickens came to Canada in 1842," says H. G. Wade in an article on the great novelist in February Canada Monthly, "he found the country much more to his liking than the United States cities of those days, and his experiences in Ontario and Quebec he found most interesting. It was during his stay at Peasco's Hotel in Montreal that he made his first hit. Not every one knows that he won his first greatest laurels as an actor at the Queen's Theatre, on May 25th, in a performance arranged by the officers of the Coldstream Guards, who were at that time stationed there The plays presented were: 'A Roland for an Oliver,' 'Past Two O'clock in the Morning,' and a farce entitled 'Deaf as a Post.' Sir Charles Bagot and Sir Richard Jackson and their staffs were present, and the military portion of the audience were all in full uniform. The theatre was lighted with gas, and the scenery was excellent. . . . . . 'I really do believe I was very funny,' he wrote, 'at least I know that I laughed heartily at myself. It went with a roar all through; but only think of Kate playing, and playing devilish well. I assure you, all the ladies were capital.'

During his stay in the Eastern Province, Dickens made a short trip to the City of Quebec, and was charmed by its interest and beauty. He wrote: 'The impression made upon the visitor by this Gibraltar of America, its giddy heights, its citadel suspended as it were in the air, its picturesque steep streets and its splendid views which burst upon the eye at every turn, is at once unique and lasting. The dangerous precipice, along whose rocky front Wolfe and his companions climbed to glory; the Plains of Abraham, where Wolfe received his mortal wound, are the least among the associations clustering about it which would make a desert rich in interest.

EPWORTH LEAGUES' TENTH CONVENTION

helpful—during the period of the "Students' Half Hour," when a large representation of the Business and Albert Colleges, and High Schools was present. Dr. Scott chose as his subject, "The Conservation of Citizenship."

CLOSING SESSION.

Dr. Scott was the speaker of the evening session, of which Rev. W. G. Clarke, President of the Conference, was chairman. Opening exercises were conducted by Rev. E. B. Cook, Sidney, followed by prayer by Rev. W. P. Rogers. Mr. Clarke, in his introductory remarks, said the church must enter into the world and preserve it for the church. The Epworth League recognizes this fact in the department of Citizenship.

Dr. Scott presented a strong appeal that the young people would realize the opportunities of the age, and said he wished to lay on us the great responsibilities. Wisdom is not always reached by years. Some may be given talents and called early. Some of the greatest productions have come from the early experiences of life. We must leave all and follow God. Dr. Scott referred to the enthusiasm of youth. Youth is the optimistic age. Destiny lies in the hands of the optimists and because of that quality in youth the world's destiny lies in our hands. Dr. Scott outlined a few of the great problems of our country and concluded with the appeal that the young people of the church face these problems and help to organize the city.

Music was rendered by Miss Terwilligar, Messrs. Dyer and Wrightmyer, and Mr. Dingman.

This last session was closed with a consecration service led by Rev. W. G. Clarke; a service in which each Leaguer consecrated his life to Christ and the church.

A resolution of thanks to the following persons was moved by Rev. L. S. Wight, seconded by Rev. S. T. Tucker, and unanimously carried: To the Trustee Board of the Church; our hosts and hostesses, who have opened to us their homes where we have been made so comfortable during our stay here; to those who have rendered music much enjoyed by all; to the local committee, Mr. Ketcheson and Mr. Scantlebury, who made it possible for the young men to devote their time to the success of the convention; to the speakers, who have rendered such efficient service; the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. who were so kind and considerate; to the editors of The Intelligencer and The Ontario, who have devoted so much of their space to the work of our convention.

We would not forget that a very large part of the success of our convention was due to the efforts of our esteemed ex-President, Rev. L. S. Wight, who labored long and faithfully in arranging for the excellent convention just closed.

ENGINEERS HAD SOME HAPPY HOURS

Their Banquet Last Night was Well Attended and Greatly Enjoyed

The members of Belleville Lodge No. 34, Stationary Engineers, last evening had a banquet which proved to be a most enjoyable affair. It was held in the hall over Thompson Bros.' store and was fittingly decorated for the occasion. Thompson Bros. were caterers, and they certainly are capable of attending to the wants of the inner man. The table was laden with delicacies and the service was all that could have been desired. In addition to the members a few invited guests were present, including Mr. McGhie, of Toronto, who is chairman of the Provincial Board of Examiners for engineers. Ex-Mayor Marsh was chairman and filled that position most acceptably. While supper was being partaken of the Oddfellows' Orchestra furnished appropriate music. The toast list of the evening was as follows:

The King—The National Anthem, by the entire company.

The City Council—Responded to by Ald. Chown in the absence of Mayor Vermilyea. The speaker referred to the industries of Belleville, which, he was proud to say, were chiefly run by local capital. He hoped the city would prosper and grow in the near future to be the largest and finest city in eastern Ontario.

Song—"Ding Dong," by Mr. F. G. Burke.

The Engineers' Board—Responded to by Mr. McGhie, of Toronto, who recited briefly his duties. The Board since its inception had had difficult problems to solve in reference to engineering work. The Board had been given power to enforce the Act. Before the Act was in force there were explosions with loss of life, but in the past two years there had been no serious accident. In speaking of Ontario the speaker grew eloquent in describing its wealth. The organization of Stationary Engineers is purely educative in its character. In the near future the Provincial Convention of Stationary Engineers would be held in this city, and he would do all in his power to make it a success. In closing Mr. McGhie returned his thanks for the kind invitation extended to him to be present on this occasion and hoped to be able to be present in this city at future gatherings, especially when the convention was held here.

Mr. MacLachlan recited in an admirable manner a selection entitled "Little Batiste."

The Manufacturers and the Steel Company of Canada—In proposing this toast the chairman referred to the engineers as a most important body of men, especially to the manufacturers.

Mr. Higgs, who is connected with the Steel Company of Canada here, replied to this toast, stating that the mills here were increasing in their output and the future was bright. Men coming to the city as strangers are great admirers of this city, and he hoped the city would prosper in every respect.

The Press—Responded to by the representatives present.

Song—"Off to Philadelphia in the Morning," by Mr. J. N. Doyle.

The Ladies—Messrs. Chesher, Bert McCoy and Stott did Justice to this toast.

The "Anvil Song" was most appropriately sung by Mr. Burke.

The Convention—Messrs. C. J. Peppin and R. McCrudden. The former said that the Stationary Engineers' convention would be held here in July of this year. There would be about 300 delegates present. It would cost about $800 or $900 to entertain the delegates. Belleville will be greatly advertised by the convention being held here. This is the first time that the convention has taken place anywhere east of Toronto. The hearty support of the citizens was necessary to make this convention a success. He hoped the manufacturers and others in the city would respond to a request to assist in this convention.

The "Stein Song" was sung by Mr. Sandford Burrows in his usual able manner.

Belleville Lodge No. 34, Stationary Engineers—Mr. Cook responded to this toast. The local lodge had been organized about four years and it had succeeded in landing the annual convention here this year. The lodge was doing a good work and an educative work.

Song—"If I had a Thousand Lives to Live," was rendered by Mr. J. V. Doyle in a pleasing manner.

Our Host—Responded to by Mr. E. T. Thompson.

Mr. A. Wheeler sang "I Laughed, I Laughed," which brought down the house.

Mr. Chesher moved, seconded by Mr. C. J. Peppin, a vote of thanks to those who had taken part in the evening's entertainment, which was fittingly acknowledged.

Messrs. J. N. and J. V. Doyle and S. R. Burrows sang the "Good Night" song from "The Golden Age."

The singing of the National Anthem brought the evening to a close.

Some men try to avoid paying as they go because they don't expect to come back.

ATHLETICS.

WORLD'S CHAMPION SPRINTER THINKS OF QUITTING THE GAME.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 7.—Nathan J. Cartmell, the Louisville sprinter, who is the world's champion of the professionals at 220 yards, and is now coaching the University of North Carolina track team at Chapel Hill, N.C., writes to a friend in this city that he is considering retiring from the running game.

Cartmell gives as his reason the fact that he cannot get a series of matches for the professional all-round sprinting championship at from 130 to 440 yards. He says the offers he has had from Australia are not attractive in that he would be compelled to run over grass and under climatic conditions not to his liking.

If he can secure a match with Postle for distances from 130 yards up to 440, run on a cinder path, he says he will gladly consent to begin training again; otherwise, he is likely to remain out of the game in future.

RATS DESTROY CORN.

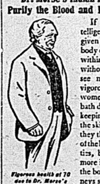
Rodents Attack Growing Grain in the Milk Stage and Combined Death Campaign Is on Demand.

The corn crop suffers greater injury from rats than any other crop grown in the middle West. Besides depredations on newly sown seed the animals attack the growing corn when in the milk stage. They climb the upright stalks and often strip the corn clean of grain.

A farmer living near Grand River, Iowa, relates the following experience:—

"We had about two thousand bushels of corn in three cribs to which rats ran and they ate and destroyed one-fourth of it. Much of it was too unwholesome to put through the grinder until it had been cleaned an ear at a time. All the time we were poisoning and trapping them. We killed as high as 300 rats in two days and could hardly miss them. They destroyed more than enough corn to pay taxes on 400 acres of land."

One man reports an instance in which rats destroyed three-fourths of the crop on thirteen acres. A large portion of the crop grown on the Potomac Flats near Washington was destroyed by rats.



Vigorous health at 70 due to Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Clean Within!

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Purify the Blood and Prolong Life

If as much intelligent care were given to keeping the body clean and pure within as well as without we would see more healthy, vigorous old men and women. The daily bath does its part by keeping the pores of the skin open so that they throw off much of the body's impurities, but it is even more important that the bowels and kidneys should be kept regular and active.

If the bowels fail, as they often do late in life, to move regularly at least once a day, the waste matter from the food accumulates, decays, poisons the system and upsets the stomach.

If the kidneys are sluggish the impurities which they should filter from the blood remain and cause rheumatism.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills regulate the bowels, stimulate the kidneys and open up the pores of the skin. The result is a body clean within—pure, red blood—good digestion—and a hale and hearty old age.

Three generations have proved the value of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, and their sale is steadily increasing all over the world.

IF IT WERE YESTERDAY

Would Connie Mack's Boys Have Beaten Oldtime Champions?—Answer Seems Yes!

"How would Connie Mack's world's champions have fared against the Pittsburg Pirates of 1903 or the Chicago Cubs when Chance's great fighting machine was in its prime? This is a question that has been going the rounds of the winter league, says Shortstop in the New York Press. If batting strength counted, the Athletics of 1911 could hold their own with any team ever organized.

In tables published by The Press are given the .300 hitters on all the championship teams in the two major leagues since the American League invaded the East in 1901. The club batting average of .297 made by the Athletics last year was the highest ever recorded by a team in modern baseball. Mack had five .300 regulars last season, a .300 catcher and a .300 pitcher, while Rube Oldring slumped enough in his batting in the last week of the season to drop out of the .300 circle by four points after being one of the select for the entire season. As Oldring batted .308 in 1910 and .296 last season, it may be said that, when Coombs and Lapp are in the points for the Athletics, Connie Mack has eight .300 hitters in the field, which is going some.

Perhaps the team that could have given the Athletics the hardest fight was the Pittsburg Pirates of 1902, who boasted of four regulars in the .300 class—Beaumont, Wagner, Clarke and Bransfield. The Cubs, great team that they were, never were really formidable with the bludgeon. In their three years of greatest glory—1906, 1907 and 1908—they had only four .300 men. Steinfeldt, Chance and Kling were among the select in 1905; in 1907 the Cubs did not have a batsman in the .300 class, while in 1908 Johnny Evers barely slipped through the gate to the charmed circle, his average being .300. The club batting averages of the Cubs were .262 in 1906, .2 0 in 1907, and .249 in 1908. In 1910, when the Cubs were trimmed decisively by the Athletics, in the world's series, they hit harder than when in their prime, their batting average having been .265. Hofman and Schulte were .300 men in 1910.

It is interesting to note that the Giants hit harder in 1911 than any other team in the National League in the last eight years. It may surprise some fans to know that the Giants of 1911 were a harder hitting aggregation than the world's champions of 1905. In 1904 the champion Giants hit .262, in 1905 they hit .273 and last season McGraw's men hit .279. In 1904 Donlin and Dunn represented the Giants in the .300 circle, though Dunn participated in only 55 games. Donlin and Bresnahan were McGraw's .300 batters the following year, while Myers, Fletcher, Doyle and Wilson were the Giants' stalwarts last season.

Perhaps the most freakish condition as revealed in the tables is that the Chicago White Sox of 1906, winners of the world's championship, hit only .228 as a club. The Sox were weaker at bat in that year than any other team in the American League and failed to produce a .300 hitter.

Three champion teams in the eleven years had no .300 men, namely, the Athletics of 1905, the White Sox of 1906, and the Cubs of 1907. The Boston Red Sox of 1904 had a narrow escape from the same fate, as Chick Stahl, their lone representative in the charmed circle, hit only .300. Hans Wagner was the only .300 man on the Pittsburg's world's champions of 1909.

The three Detroit pennant winners of 1907, 1908 and 1909 showed remarkable consistency in batting. In the three years only three points separated their team batting averages. In 1907 the Tigers hit .266, the following year they hit .264, and in 1909 they hit .267. In the three years Cobb and Crawford were Detroit's only .300 batsmen, though Pitcher Killian had a .300 rating in 1907.

OTTAWA CLUB TO INCORPORATE.

Canadian Ball League Magnates Applying For a Charter.

OTTAWA, Feb. 7.—Manager F. Shaughnessy, of the Ottawa Baseball Club, announced last night that steps would be taken at once towards incorporation. Mr E. P. Gleason is handling the affairs of the Ottawas and application for a charter will be made at once. The slate of officers, who will guide the destinies of the Ottawa Club in the Canadian League will be selected and announced in a few days.

"Everything is getting along in grand style," said Shaughnessy last night in discussing the outlook. "I think Ottawa will prove one of the greatest baseball towns on the continent. The people are already talking ball and I have been overwhelmed for information in connection with the affairs of the club. I have six or eight players signed already and expect to go South and complete my roster in a few days. The Western end of the circuit looks particularly strong, but with a winning team Ottawa will be the big noise in each of the eight towns."

Some of the best known citizens of the Capital will be connected with the Ottawa club. Manager Shaughnessy will wait upon the Board of Control to-morrow to repeat his request for the use of Lansdowne Park and a conference will be arranged with the directors of the Central Canada Exhibition Association as soon as possible. The Ottawas will get the south side field all right and it is expected that the publicity bureau will extend a grant to that which promises to be one of the greatest advertising mediums that Ottawa has ever had. Shaughnessy has been keeping the identity of his players in the dark, but will be prepared in a very short time to let the public know the names of the speed boys who will wear the red, white and black in the Canadian League. Shaughnessy is now negotiating for his own release from the Fort Wayne club of the Central League.

ABOLITION OF SLAVERY ON THE DIAMOND IS PROCLAIMED.

READING, Pa., Feb. 7.—Abolition of slavery on the diamond is proclaimed in the first official bulletin issued by William Abbott Whitman, president of the new United States League of Baseball Clubs, to-night.

Incidentally, Mr. Whitman also makes a declaration of principles that will allay the fears of those who expected the countenancing of the violation of contracts and quiets the alarm of those who looked for a war that would jeopardize the national game. He clearly sets forth the determination to protect all the players who become identified with the new organization, and at the same time assures them that they have all the rights and privileges of free Americans; that there will be no buying and selling of human beings and that, without a reserve clause in their contracts, they will be at liberty to make their own agreements.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Jimmy Doyle was one of the most popular of Syracuse boys who graduated into the big league ranks. On the school nine he played with such phenomenal success that he was given a try with the Seneca Falls team of the Empire State League. After a year he went to Niagara University, playing second base on the college team. Charles Dolley, then manager of the Utica State League team, recognized Doyle's ability and the Syracuse boy joined the Utica nine, playing first base for two seasons. From Utica Doyle went to Cincinnati, then to Louisville, Ky., where he remained one season. His work in the American association in 1910 attracted the notice of Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago Cubs, who last year installed him in the regular position at third base.

* * *

Jack Sheridan, the veteran American League umpire, has a record of not only putting one player out of the game, but also out of the major league. Tip O'Neil, former outfielder of the Minneapolis club, was the victim. In 1906 O'Neil was playing in the outfield for the White Sox and doing good work. Fielder Jones, who was then managing the Chicago club, had just purchased Pat Dougherty as a utility gardener, and the latter joined the team in Boston.

During one of the games with the Red Sox, O'Neil attempted to steal second, but after the dust cleared away Sheridan waved him out.

"He never touched me at all," protested O'Neil.

"Yes he did," snapped Sheridan.

"You had better have your eyes examined," retorted O'Neil. "You're going blind."

"That may be," returned the umpire, "but you're through for this afternoon and can go to the clubhouse now."

Dougherty took O'Neil's place in right field and won the game for the White Sox with a timely bingle. O'Neil was notified the next morning that he had been suspended three days. Dougherty pulled off so much sensational stuff while O'Neil was serving out his suspension that Fielder Jones never took him out of the game again, and that fall the White Sox sold O'Neil to the Minneapolis club.

WOULD PAY $20,000 FOR KONETCHY.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 7.—Frank Chance, of the Chicago Cubs, says he stands ready to pay $20,000 to the Saint Louis Cardinals for the release of first baseman Konetchy. Roger Bresnahan, when asked if he would consider the offer, replied: "Chance could not buy Koney for twice that sum. Why, if we sold the big fellow we'd have to shut up shop. Saint Louis fans wouldn't stand for such a deal and we'd soon be playing to empty stands. It would be just as fair to ask Chance to sell us either Schulte or Joe Tinker."

GIANTS BUY PITCHER PIERCE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The New York National League Club to-day purchased Pitcher George T. Pierce from the Mobile club of the Southern Association. Pierce is a giant left hander, and was once with the Boston Red Sox. Manager McGraw also announced he had signed third baseman Frank P. Nohowel, a former star of Columbia University. He was a team mate of Eddie Collins at Columbia in 1905-6-7.

CLEVELAND'S TRAINING PLANS.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7.—Manager Harry Davis of the Cleveland Americans, has completed his plans for the spring training trip. With eleven pitchers and six catchers, Davis will start for Mobile, Ala on February 29th. The other twenty odd members of the Naps will leave here on March 7th for Mobile.

RUBE WADDELL IN LINE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 7.—Two veteran pitchers to-day joined the Minneapolis (American Association) team, signed contracts being received from Rube Waddell and Roy Patterson.

BILLIARDS.

WILLIE HOPPE WON.

Sutton, the Veteran, Cannot Defeat the Billiard Phenom.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Willie Hoppe, for the second time in a few months, successfully defended his world's 18.2 balk-line billiard championship against George Sutton, of Chicago, as challenger, here tonight. The final score was 500 points to 280, and the champion's average was 29 7-17, with high runs of 96, 88 and 73. Sutton never threatened to annex the title and his own work was disappointing.

Sutton's average was 16 8-17, and his best run 67. Hoppe closed his string with an impressive run of 73. The summary:

Hoppe (spot ball)—12, 57, 26, 25, 3, 0, 33, 1, 4, 0, 9, 14, 88, 2, 46, 5, 78; total, 500 points.

Sutton (white ball)—1, 16, 47, 0, 67, 0, 0, 21, 1, 0, 12, 36, 5, 0, 3, 50, 21; total, 280 points.

THE RING.

WOLGAST WORKS.

Lightweight Champion Boxes For First Time Since Operation.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 7.—Ad Wolgast peeled for practice play at Jack Doyle's Vernon camp last Sunday afternoon, when the world's lightweight champion for the first time since he was stricken with appendicitis last Thanksgiving day pranced about in his ring togs.

Wolgast weighed exactly 134 pounds when he started work, and at the finish of his shadow boxing, handball playing and light bag-punching the title-holder had taken off two pounds.

"I felt no inconvenience whatever," asserted Ad, "and am positive now that I will get back into the game just as strong and just as good as I ever was."

Wolgast will go up the coast to Lompoc station on Thursday morning for another fishing and hunting trip, not returning to Los Angeles for a week or ten days.

"I'm just hanging around here to see the Attell-Kilbane fight on February 22nd," explained the champion. "After that I'll skip East and take on several bouts during April and May. There's a chap in Pittsburg named Harry Moore, who used to be good to me when friends were few. I'm going to give him the chance to stage my first 1912 fight. If I pass through my trial bouts all right, I'll be back here ready for a twenty-round event on July 4th."

Johnny Coulon departed this afternoon for New Orleans, where he is scheduled to meet Frankie Burns in a twenty round bout for the bantamweight crown on Feb. 18th.

MIKE GIBBONS WON HANDILY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—That Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phenom, is without a peer as a boxer and hitter in the welterweight division, is the opinion to-day of sporting writers who saw him put out Mike ("Young") Cashman in the fourth round of their scheduled ten round fight at the Empire A. C. The fight was never in any doubt. Gibbons mauled the East Side champion from start to finish. During the entire battle Cashman failed to land a dozen clean blows, and most of them did little damage. Gibbons did not show a mark of the battle to-day, while Cashman was badly beaten up. A left and right to the point of the jaw, which Cashman was helpless to block, did the business.

JACK JOHNSON WILL SIGN UP.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight, said he would leave for New York to-day for the purpose of signing articles for a ten-round fight before Billy Gibson's Fairmount Arthletic Club.

Johnson said he had been offered $30,000 as his end of the show, and he immediately wired his acceptance. Who is to be his opponent was not stated.

Asked about the order of the New York Boxing Commission, Johnson said some assurance must have been given or the club would not have gone ahead with the match.

THE RUNNING TRACK.

SHRUBB LED QUEAL UNTIL LAST TWO LAPS.

Alf. Shrubb in a letter from Watertown says that he led Queal in their race there until the last two laps, when Queal shot by and won by half a lap. The little Englishman's feet blistered up badly at seven miles. The ten miles was run in 54.09 2-5, and the twelve in 1.06.17.

"The distance was correct this time," writes Shrubb. "This boy Queal is a good runner right now, and by the time he is 25 years of age he will be a wonder if he is properly handled."

Shrubb is going to run him 8 miles in Auburn, N.Y., on February 17, and wants to run him a twelve-mile match race here, but the local promoters refuse to have anything to do with the race unless it is made a three-cornered affair, with Ted Wood, the English crack, for the third contestant. Shrubb and Queal, too, want a straight division of the gate receipts, irrespective of the outcome of the race, but the local men insist on the runners splitting their percentage of the gate receipts into a winner and loser's end, with the last man of the trio home getting "nothing but abuse."

ATHLETICS.

CHAMPION SKATER HAS BAD FALL.

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y., Feb. 6.—Edmund Lamy, who won the professional skating championship last week from Morris Wood, had a nasty fall on the ice here to-day and as a result will be unable to skate for several weeks and probably the rest of the season.

Lamy was practicing short turns in a hockey pen, when he was accidentally tripped by another skater and fell into the net, wrenching his ankle and bruising his thigh. He was carried to the office of a physician, who ordered the champion to take absolute rest for several weeks. Lamy has canceled all dates.

THE BOUNDRAY THAT WHITNEY WANTS

Sir James Told How Ontario Suggested Province Should be Extended

In the course of his fatherly remarks to Newton Wesley Rowell, the new Opposition leader, on Thursday afternoon, Sir James Whitney took occasion to state the new boundary between Manitoba and Ontario, which the Government suggested to the Federal authorities. When negotiations began during the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir James suggested the new boundary be a line produced north from the eastern boundary line of Manitoba to the Churchill River and down the middle of that river to Hudson Bay. That proposal of Ontario was not accepted at Ottawa. Hon. George P. Graham, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. William Paterson and Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King were the Cabinet representatives of Ontario, who stood in the way of this Province in its efforts to secure its hinterland.

Under the new Government the matter had again been taken up. The Manitoba Government were recently in communication with the Federal Government and Sir James expected that an announcement would be made in "three or four days" as to what boundary line had been decided upon.

This reference by the Prime Minister to the proposed boundary was made in reply to Mr. Rowell's criticism of the Government for failing to make some announcement in the speech from the throne concerning the matter.

With a map in his hand he disposed of Mr. Rowell's contention that Ontario's boundary should extend north of the sixtieth parallel.

"Such a proposal as that," said Sir James of the Rowell proposal, "would shut out Manitoba from even sight of Hudson Bay; a manifest and savage injustice to a province, and to which I could never be a party."

CHURCHILL ASSAULTED BY A SUFFRAGETTE

Belfast Meeting May Lead to Change of Front Among Unionists

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Hisses were the worst Mr. Churchill experienced in Belfast to-day, but when he left the soil of Ulster and landed in Scotland he received a blow. This was from a suffragette, who struck him in the face with a green flag bearing the words: "No referendum for suffragettes!"

She exclaimed as she hit Mr. Churchill: "Take that, you cur!" She was rather roughly hustled by the crowd, but Mr. Churchill said, "Don't hurt her," and the incident ended.

With an inglorious ending of the Belfast comedy, it is conceded by Unionists even of the rabid type in opposition to home rule represented by Sir Edward Carson, that it can no longer be regarded seriously as a factor. A very significant straw, and showing the way the wind is blowing, is the likelihood that one leading London newspaper, which hitherto has fought against home rule tooth and nail, is now veering round, if not to approval of Irish autonomy, at least to the acceptance of it under the conditions outlined by Mr. Churchill and agreed to by Mr. Redmond.

FIND A VENUS AT TRIPOLI.

Italian Soldiers Digging Trenches Uncover a Beauty of Classic Age.

TRIPOLI, Feb. 7.—A body of Italian troops digging trenches near the Oasis of Sciara, on the spot formerly occupied by Roman Imperial Gardens have unearthed an ancient Greek Venus of remarkable beauty. The head and arms are missing, but the torso is in an excellent state of preservation, and reminds one of the famous Capitolene Venue. The statue has been sent to Rome, where it will be placed in the National Museum. In nearly every spot where soldiers have tapped the ground to throw up defensive works they have uncovered traces of the ancient Roman occupation of Tripoli, including tombs, Mosaics and ruins of splendid villas.

A GRIT OFFICIAL IS ALLEGED TO HAVE TRICKED VOTERS

It Is Said to Have Happened in Tyendinaga—Mr. W. B, Northrup, M. P., Tells of Alleged Sharp Practice on the Part of an Indian Agent

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Connected with the presence in Ottawa to-day of a Hasting County deputation, according to W. B. Northrup, M.P. for East Hastings, are allegations of electoral trickery preceding the late Dominion election.

On the Tyendinaga reserve in Hastings there are 1,200 Indians. A large part of their land has been rented to white tenants, the township and county assessing this land for road-building, administration of justice, etc.

Mr. Northrup affirms that, prior to the general election, the Indian agent, a Government employee, claiming that Indan lands were exempt from taxation, refused to give up the lists or allow the assesors on the reserve, with the result that the names of all occupants of land on the reservation were struck off the voters' list. Mr. Northrup claims that the occupants of the reserve almost to a man were Conservatives.

The municipality has since refused to maintain the roads or make other improvements, as it could collect no taxes. The deputation is seeing the Minister of the Interior.

The Intelligencer was to-day called upon in reference to the above subject by Mr. Dennis Hanley, Warden of the County, and Mr. Charles Ketcheson, Reeve of Sidney. These gentlemen, who formed part of the deputation referred to, stated that their sole business at Ottawa was to make representations to the Government with regard to roads and the administration of justice. As to the question of voters on the Indian Reserve they had nothing to do and did not concern themselves with it.

THE WEST DOES MOVE.

With reference to our recent paragraph regarding the sale of the map of Calgary prepared by our former young townsmen, Harrison & Ponton, the Board of Trade of Calgary last week gave them an order for no less than 20,000 copies. PASSENGER LOSES SUIT.

Mr. William Crosby, a wholesale commission merchant of New York City, who brought an action in the Jury Assize Court against the Central Ontario Railway to recover $10,000 damages, lost his case, the suit being dismissed with costs Tuesday by Mr. Justice Teetzel at Toronto. Mr. Crosby claimed that while travelling on a parlor car of one of the company's trains between Picton and Wellington, Ont., on Oct. 24th, 1909, a transom fell on his head, seriously injuring him. Following his physician's instructions, he journeyed completely around the world in search of health, but this, he alleged, had not benefited him.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Fun? Yes, lots of it, last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mowry, corner of Victoria Avenue and John Street, when about forty of the young people of the Victoria Avenue Baptist Church assembled to give a surprise birthday party to Mrs. (Rev.) C. G. Smith. Shortly after assembling, Mrs. Smith was made the recipient of a beautiful Limoges china tea set of dainty pink rose pattern, the gift of her Baptist friends. Although completely, yet pleasantly, surprised, Mrs. Smith recovered sufficiently to briefly express her sincere thanks to the assemblage. A short musical programme was given, consisting of selections by the Symphony Orchestra, violin solos by Mr. Dingman, a trombone solo by Jack Cookson, and vocal solos by Mrs. P. C. McLaufin, who sang in splendid voice. Mr. Don G. Bleecker also sang that touching ballad—"There's a hole in the bottom of the sea," and was heartily applauded for his efforts. Games and contests were indulged in by all up to a very late hour. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, which was much enjoyed by those present. The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought a very pleasant evening to a close. Mr. and Mrs. Mowry were voted by all to be ideal entertainers.

DENIED THAT SHE WAS DEAD

Shock of Hearing Mistaken Words Results Happily to a Brooklyn Woman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—"She's dead," cried some one as Mrs. Anna Churchill, 57 years old, totally blind and partially paralyzed for two years, was about to be taken from a waggon where she lay prone, into the family's new home in Brooklyn.

The shock the words gave her roused the woman to a protesting effort, and in a twinkling she had regained her sight.

"Jim, Jim," she cried to her husband. "I can see."

Her loss of vision had been caused by paralysis.

SIGHT GIVEN TO DYING MAN.

Malden, Mass., Feb. 9.—With tears of joy streaming from his eyes to which sight had been restored after eight years of blindness, Mortimer Harrington, seventy-five years old, died here last night. For weeks during his last illness Harrington prayed that he might see the members of his family once more before he died. A few hours before his death he suddenly sat up in bed and cried: "I see! I see!"

The family gathered around, and one by one the dying man recognized his loved ones. The respite from his blindness was brief, but Harrington died with a smile on his face.

Where Quality Counts

WHEN NEUTRALS MUST STAND OFF

Following an Outbreak of War There Are Various Important Rules to be Observed by Nations that Desire to Stand Out.

When war is declared, every neutral power must observe a strict neutrality and impartiality in its attitude towards both belligerents. It may allow their war vessels to enter its ports, but must limit the duration of their stay, and must regulate the nature and amount of the supplies taken on board. The usual rule is a visit of 24 hours, but if a vessel of the other belligerent is in port, then one of them must not leave the port until the other has had a start of 24 hours ahead, though it would seem that there is nothing to prevent the vessel that leaves the harbor first to await 24 hours outside the three-mile limit and attack the other ship after she puts out to sea. The supplies that such vessel takes on board must not be more than enough to take the vessel to the nearest home port, and supplies must not be again furnished within three months. As an example of the enforcement of the foregoing rules, the procedure when the Spanish-American war broke out in 1898 may be mentioned. The ultimatum of April 20, signed by President McKinley, demanding the withdrawal of Spain from Cuba, was taken by Spain as a declaration of war, and the Spanish government on the following day sent the American minister his passports without waiting for him to present the ultimatum. On the 22nd the American ships at Key West started south to blockade Cuba. On the 23rd the President called out 125,000 volunteers for two years' service, and on the 25th sent a message to Congress declaring that a state of war existed between Spain and the United States since April 21. All neutral powers took notice of this including Great Britain, which knew that Commodore Dewey, in command of the American squadron in the Pacific, had been for some weeks in the British harbor of Hong Kong, where he was permitted to remain pending a formal declaration of war. On the same day (April 26) the Governor of Hong Kong notified Dewey to leave the harbor, and he proceeded to Manilla Bay, where he destroyed the Spanish sips on May 1.

Once Too Often

There are many stories about the late Sir William Gilbert of Pinafore fame that flatter him. Here, however, is one that exhibits the petulant and witty writer in a different light.

Sir William, at the Sandown races, once stood in the paddock watching the horses as they were led around. Near him was a well-dressed stranger. Suddenly a horse lashed out with its hind legs and the stranger leaped back, knocking against Sir William violently. The stranger apologized and the knight accepted his apology with a witty and slightly sneering remark about nerves. But two or three minutes later the same thing happened again. Sir William was this time almost upset by the terrified backward leap of the stranger.

"Well," you're a fine specimen of British manhood," he said.

And the stranger, evidently ashamed of his lack of self-control, flushed and hurried away.

"A fine specimen of Brit—," Sir William repeated, and then, with a start, he noted the absence of his watch and chain. His pearl scarf pin, too, had vanished — so, also, had his pocket book — all had vanished with the nervous stranger.

"Faked" Blood Oranges

A recent accident revealed a method of faking ordinary oranges to look like blood oranges when the latter are considerably dearer than the former. Some time ago a woman bought from a fruit dealer a dozen "blood" oranges. She gave one to her daughter, who had scarcely put the first piece into her mouth when she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her throat, and began to spit blood. A physician found that the pain and bleeding were brought on by a fragment of a needle that was sticking in the mucous membrane of the throat. This fragment, on extraction, proved to be the point of a hypodermic syringe, in which were found traces of aniline colour. The orange merchant was interrogated on the matter, and admitted that he had faked the oranges by injecting a solution of aniline red and saccharine into the pulp through the skin by means of a hypodermic syringe.

If it is true that every man has his price, it is equally true that few of them are worth it.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

SOLVES THE PROBLEM OF GOOD HAIR.

After Prof. Sabouraud confirmed the germ origin of dandruff, science was confronted by a new problem which was not solved until the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide being the first successful preparation compounded in harmony with this new theory, becomes the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ.

Since then, numerous preparations said to be "just as good" as Herpicide have been thrown upon the market; others have adopted Herpicide claims, and without making any change in their remedies, but none have ever reached the same degree of popularity. Everywhere this remedy is recognized as the one genuine dandruff germ destroyer. As a result Herpicide has more satisfied users than all other hair preparations combined.

Being the original remedy, users expect more astonishing results from Herpicide than they would look for from any other preparation and they usually get them. So wonderful has been the success of this germicide that it is now recognized as the standard hair remedy of the world.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, checks the falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

For sale at drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications obtainable at the good barber shops. Insist on having real Herpicide. Send 10c. in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co. Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.—Doyle's Drug Store, special agency.

THE WEANING OF THE FOAL

Some Useful Advice on the Time and Method of Estranging Mares and Their Offspring.

Most of the brood mares in the country are required for the rush of fall work, and it is not fair to them to be expected to feed the foal while they are thus expending most of their energy tilling the soil. Both the mare and the colt will do better if the youngster is weaned, provided he is liberally fed and has been taught to eat previous to the time his dam is removed. Weaning does not offer any special difficulties, if the preliminaries of care and feeding have been properly attended to.

Two methods are practiced by horsemen, either of which will give fair results. By one method the colt is taken suddenly away from the dam, and is never again allowed to suck, while with the other the colt is allowed to suck at intervals, which are made more infrequent from day to day until the mare is nearly dry. There is very little to be gained by prolonging the separation, as is done in this latter method, and it has little to recommend it ,save that it lessens the danger of trouble with the mare's udder from the milk not having been drawn, but this can be averted by drawing a little of the milk by hand. At this time of year, when the grass is dry ,the mare, unless she be an exceptionally good milker, does not produce a very heavy flow, and the better plan is to take the colt away abruptly and not allow him to see or hear his mother until he has forgotten her. It is very important that the colt and the dam be kept seperated far enough so as not to be able to see or hear each other, because it will take much longer for them to forget if they are not kept well removed. The mare should be placed on dry feed, which should only constitute a limited supply of hay. No grain should be fed, and if kept at work no trouble will result from the flow of milk, which will gradually diminish and soon cease. As soon as it has ceased the mare can and should be fed liberally.

THE CHINAMAN

What a Late Chaplain to the Forces at Hong-Kong Thinks of the Chinese.

Napoleon said that when China was moved the face of Europe would be changed. Yet, as the Chinese are naturally peaceful, we think that the Yellow Peril is a commercial one. The peril is that China will manufacture things cheaper than Europeans can and dismiss us from the trade of the Far East. How can we, with our high standard of comfort, strikes, and unrest generally, compete with the Chinese, combining, as they do, the active industry of the most civilized people with the passive patience of the North American Indian? Far more than we do the Chinese believe in the power of character and intellect. With this, rather than with armies and navies, they will conquer.

A Chinese is nearly always a person of resource. A young man was accused of knocking out his father's teeth, and was in danger of being put to death. A friend visited him and whispered in his ear, "It's a bad case."

Suddenly seizing the ear between his teeth, he gave it a severe bite.

"What do you mean?" asked the young man, raising his fist.

"I mean," was the answer, "that you are saved; you have only to show the marks of my teeth and say that they were made by your father, whose teeth, being shaky, dropped out."

Business Before Sentiment.

Two small things impress foreigners with the skill of the Chinese. One is the way they carve ivory balls, one within the other, to the number of seven or eight; and the other the inscription of minute characters inside agate or crysta snuff-bottles.

A Chinaman always appears to be looking round the corners of his eyes at you, and to have a meaning that you cannot get at. He gives you the impression that somebody, when he was born, sat on his nose, and that he has been lamenting the calamity ever since. And yet, though he never lays aside this expression of resigned wretchedness, the average Chinese is not at all more miserable than the average Britisher.

Speaking of Britishers, we may say that they and Chinamen have much in common. Both have a great capacity for making and enjoying money. Both have business aptitude and integrity, do their work well, and appreciate a good dinner. Equally with Englishmen, Celestials have common sense and respect for law, and do not allow sentiment to interfere with business. The Chinese are the British of the Far East, and the Japanese are the French.

Fond of Sport.

The Chinese are not less conservative than the English. They dread any change that may cause trouble or disorder, and this is why they have put up so long with their wretched government. "Better be a dog in peace," they say, "than a man in anarchy." The "dog in peace" has now risen to war; let us hope that the splendid empire of China will not remain in anarchy.

Like the British, also, the Chinese are fond of sport, though their idea of sport is peculiar. They train quails, thrushes, and even fish to fight, and they bet on these, and on almost every other event.

The Chinese contrivances for the management and capture of beast, bird, and fish are as ingenious as

CONNAUGHT WILL CONTINUE

One of the first public men to associate themselves with the Co-partnership in Housing Movement was Earl Grey, and it was at his request that Mr. Henry Vivian came to Canada last year to inaugurate a similar movement here. It is, therefore, appropriate that now he is returning to England the first public welcome should be that of the Co-partnership tenants. The returning Governor-General of Canada has promised to attend a dinner they are arranging in his honour at the Holborn Restaurant, London, early in November. The Duke of Connaught will continue his work for co-partnership in the Dominion. Viscount Howick, the son of Earl Grey, is also an enthusiast on housing reform.

MEANS TROUBLE FOR THE BEAR

The Oddest Animal of Nature is the Porcupine and His Darts are the Most Deadly Fighting Weapons on Record.

Although the notion that the porcupine defends itself by shooting its quills to a distance — like arrows — was long ago exploded, few persons know how really dangerous and even fatal quite commonly are these same curious weapons with which one of the oldest of all the mammals is provided by Nature.

Anybody who takes the trouble to examine a dead porcupine will be surprised to find how slight is the attachment of the quills to the skin on the creature's back. They come away readily in the hand when a little pull is given; and this, indeed, as will presently be seen, is a very important feature of this peculiar defensive equipment namely the looseness and ready detachability thereof.

Though the porcupine is not able to throw its quills, it can inflict most deadly damage upon an adversary by the merest contact. It is a creature native to mountainous parts of the United States in northern latitudes and the foes it has to fear are chiefly bears, big cats and other such formidable carnivora.

Each individual quill borne by the porcupine — naturalists say that they are modified hairs — is not only as sharp as a needle at the point but formidably barbed. On this account, if one of them is stuck by chance into the flesh of a human being it cannot be withdrawn, but must be cut out — the only alternative being to push the quill clear through and pull it out on the other side if the wounded part be an arm or a leg.

Unfortunately a bear or a lynx has no surgical resort in an event of the kind; and consequently, if it carries off half a dozen quills in its hide as a memorial of an encounter with a porcupine, trouble soon follows.

With every movement of the animal the quills make their way into the flesh more deeply. If one of them happens in its progress to strike a bone it will turn up along the latter and pursue its course remorselessly. Eventually the quills may work their way out, but the chances are greater that they will reach a vital part and, after inflicting prolonged suffering, cause the death of the victim.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Notre Dame des Neiges College at Montreal has been ordered quarantined by the health authorities of the city. The cause is the outbreak of scarlet fever in the place.

Earl Spencer yesterday resigned his office as Lord Chamberlain. His action is attributable to the widespread criticism recently of his conduct of the office of censor of plays.

Italian losses in Tripoli during the latter half of January far exceeded Turkish casualties, according to a statement issued by the Imperial Ottoman Embassy at Washington.

John M. O'Brien, formerly widely known in newspaper life in Canada, died at St. John, N.B., yesterday. He was once editor of The Vancouver World, and was a brilliant writer.

William Glynne Charles Gladstone, M.P., grandson of the famous Prime Minister, has been selected to second the reply to the address from the throne in the British House of Commons.

German Spy Sentenced.

Manchester, Eng., Feb. 10.—Heinrich Grosse, the German merchant marine captain who was arrested at Portsmouth several days ago on the charge of spying on the British shipbuilding yards, was sentenced yesterday to three years' penal servitude.

The trial was attended by a large crowd of people and excited much attention because it presented a striking contrast to German methods in espionage cases, especially in the trial of Bernard Stewart, the English lawyer who was recently sentenced by the Leipsic Imperial Court to three years' imprisonment.

Grosse was tried in open court by a jury. He pleaded not guilty. He testified that he was the son of a German judge and came to England in order to do business in German coal in the event of a national strike in England.

It was shown that Crosse tried to get information as to the armament of submarine vessels, as to the preparations for arming merchant ships in the event of war, as to the extent of the naval coal reserves and as to other matters valuable to an enemy.

A Model Village Near Niagara.

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

They became silent. Now and then one or the other stirred. The duke never took his eyes off the door through which her highness would enter.

Hildegarde came in presently, tender with mercy, an arm supporting Gretchen, who was red eyed and white.

"You sent for us, father?"

How the word pierced the duke's heart! "Yes, my child," he answered, for, it mattered not who she was, he had grown to love her.

"I am sorry you sent for Gretchen," said Hildegarde. "She is ill."

Gretchen sighed. To her the faces of the men were indistinct, and, besides, she was without interest, listless, drooped.

"My child, will you roll up your left sleeve?" said the duke.

"My sleeve!" Hildegarde thoughtfully looked around.

"I cannot roll up this sleeve, father," blushing and a trifle angry at so strange a request.

Hans opened his knife and laid bare her left arm. She tried to cover the arm.

"Let me look at it, Hildegarde," requested the duke. To him she presented her arm. But there was neither mole nor scar upon the round and lovely arm.

"Why do you do this, father?"

No one answered. Hans unceremoniously ripped open Gretchen's left sleeve. The ragged scar was visible to them all. And while they grouped around the astonished goose girl they heard her highness cry out with surprise.

"What is this?" she said, pointing to the two pairs of shoes and the two cloaks. She held up the locket, the twin of which hung around her neck. "Where did these come from?"

"My child," the duke answered, unashamed of his tears, "only God knows as yet what it means. But the outward sign testifies to a strange and horrible blunder. The locket you hold in your hand was taken from you when you were an infant. The one you wear around your neck is, according to the statement of one of these men, not genuine."

"And the significance?" She grew tall, and the torn sleeve fell away from her arm.

"I know you to be brave. Strengthen your heart then. These men say that you are not my daughter."

"And that Gretchen is!" spoke Hans.

"I?" Gretchen drew closer to Hildegarde.

The duke studied the portrait of the mother and then the faces of these two girls. Both possessed a resemblance, only it seemed now that Gretchen was nearest to the portrait and Hildegarde nearest to the doubt.

"You say she wore the costume of a gypsy child when you lost her?" said the duke.

"Yes." Von Arnsberg took from under his coat a small bundle, which he opened with shaking fingers. He had been in the Krumerweg that afternoon.

"Why, those are mine!" exclaimed Gretchen excitedly.

"You see?" said Von Arnsberg. "Would you not like to be a princess, Gretchen?"

A princess! Gretchen's heart fluttered. A princess! She laid her head on Hildegarde's shoulder. She was weak, and this was some dream.

"But who, then, am I?" asked Hildegarde.

"Tell what you know," said Hans to the gypsy. "Highness, he alone knows the man who brought about all this."

"The archplotter of this damnable conspiracy?" The duke's eyes became alive, his face, his whole body. Every beat of his heart cried out for vengeance. "Who is he? Tell me! Give him to me, man, and all of you shall go free. Give him into these hands. His name!" The duke's hands worked convulsively as if they were already round the throat of this unseen, implacable enemy. He was terrible in this moment.

The gypsy produced a letter. It had to be held carefully, as it was old and tattered. The duke read it. Beyond that it made the original offer it was worthless. The handwriting was palpably disguised. The duke flung the missive to the floor.

"Fool! Is that all you have? Tell me what you know, man, or I shall have you shot in the morning, immunity or no immunity! Quick!"

"Highness," said the gypsy, thoroughly alarmed, "this is how it happened. My band was staying at the time in Dreiberg. We told fortunes and exhibited an Italian puppet show. The letter came first. I was poor and sometimes desperate. I was to take her away and leave her with strange people."

"Ah!" interrupted the duke, with a despairing gesture toward Grumbach. "Why did you not leave us all in peace?"

"Highness, a great wrong has been done, and God brought me here to right it."

"You are a brave man," darkly.

"I am in your hands, highness," sturdily. "In a mad moment I committed a crime. I would not accept till I had talked personally with him. He came at last. His face was hidden and his voice muffled. But this I saw—when he gave me the first half of the money I was certain I should know him again."

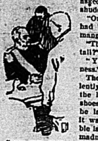
"How?"

"By his little finger, highness."

"His little finger?" Von Arnsberg repeated.

The two women, large eyed and bewildered, clung to each other's hand tensely. These were heartbreaking times. Gretchen's mind, however, absorbed nothing, neither the words nor the picture. Her thoughts revolved around one thing—if she were a princess she could be happy. But the other, from under whose feet all tangible substances seemed to be giving way, she was possessed by two thoughts which surged in her brain like combatants. If not a princess, what was she? If not a princess, she was free. She stole a swift glance at Carmichael, who seemed far removed from the heart of this black business, and had he been looking at her he would have seen the gates opening into Eden.

"What was this little finger like?" asked the duke, shuddering.



"THE MAN WAS TALL?"

"One time it had been cut or mangled."

"The man was tall?"

"Yes, highness."

The duke silently toyed with the little yellow shoes. Suddenly he laughed, but it was the terrible laughter of a madman.

"Come, all—you, Gretchen, and you, Hildegarde; come. Carmichael, and you, Arnsberg, all of you: Let us go and pay a visit to our good friend Herbeck."

(To be continued.)

National Religion For Japan.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 10.—The Japanese Home Minister has called a conference of the representatives of Christian, Buddhist, and Shinto religions to discuss a national religion for Japan, according to advices brought by the steamer Canada Maru. Official recognition is now given to Shintoism, a cult for the worship of ancestors. Mr. Tokonami, vice-Miniser, said the primary aim of the conference was to bring the religions into closer relationship with the state, and to raise a God-fearing sentiment and a cult of national morality among the people.

Can't Extradite Mexican Refugees.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Refugee officials of the Diaz regime in Mexico cannot be extradited from the United States for executions or other acts which they may have ordered while holding positions of authority. This was the virtual meaning of the State Department's position made known yesterday in the case of Andreas Garza Galan and Nicador Valdez, who were ordered extradited recently by a U. S. commissioner at San Antonio.

Many Hurt in Trolley Crush.

Newark, Feb. 10.—Eight persons were hurt, one mortally, yesterday in a collision between a Springfield avenue and a Bergen street trolley car on Springfield avenue. The Bergen street car was overturned and the passengers pinned beneath the debris, which immediately caught fire. Failure of the brakes to work properly is believed to have caused the crash. Henry Cordes, an aged resident of this city, will probably die.

And many a man would rather be called a game sport than a good citizen.

"Remember my face — you'll see me again."

Now for a bowl of soup.

This cold weather a plate of steaming hot soup is a warmer, to the finger-tips, a rouser of digestions, a finder of appetites and—a bother to make.

But now Edwards' desiccated Soup is here, even the bother of making is a thing of the past. Edwards' Soup comes to you all ready for the saucepan. It's a soup that you'll prefer to your own, just as you prefer your own to the ones you taste in a restaurant.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUP

Edwards' desiccated Soup is made in Ireland from specially selected beef and from the finest vegetables that Irish soil can produce.

5c. per packet.

Edwards' desiccated Soup is made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from best beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Another Cure

Harvey Bank, N. B.—I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me.—Mrs. DEVERE BARBOUR.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

GRAIN BILL REIGNS.

Commons Is Hard at Work Getting It Fixed Up.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Profoundly uninteresting to the average citizen of Eastern Canada was yesterday's session of Parliament. The House passed almost the entire afternoon immersed in the technicalities of the grain bill, which now seems nearing the end of its long journey through committee. Only a few clauses remain for consideration.

The evening session was devoted to supply. Some discussion took place between various Opposition members and the Minister of Public Works, the former endeavoring to get reasons for the omission from the estimates of a number of votes included in the program of the late Government.

All the satisfaction that they got from Hon. F. D. Monk was the statement that, where works had been begun and where there was an obligation on the Government to complete them, this had been provided for, or would be in the supplementary estimates where this was not the case, he did not see that he was called upon to make any explanation. The voting of money was a new operation every year and the contents of last year's budget could not be gone into again at this stage. He was there to explain his own estimates, not those of his predecessor.

On the orders of the day being called, E. Proulx (Prescott) drew the attention of the Minister of Railways to freight congestion in the east as set forth in the article in The Ottawa Citizen, and asked him to call the attention of the Railway Commission to it. This Hon. Frank Cochrane said he would be very glad to do.

Hon. R. Lemieux called the attention of the Premier to an article in The Montreal Witness about moving the boundary between Canada and the United States two miles south and changing some towns in British Columbia. Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden replied that he had not heard of it, but would call it to the attention of the proper officials.

P. Michaud (Victoria, N.B.), asked if any steps had been taken to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by the death of Senator Comeau. There were, he said, 165,000 French-Canadians in the Maritime Provinces, but they had only one Senator, although they were entitled to three or four. The Premier said that the matter was under consideration.

Sheep Breeders Meet.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—At the annual meeting of the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association, held in the Temple Building, yesterday, President Lieut.-Col. D. McCrae, of Guelph, quoted the number of registrations for the year at 2,300, Ontario having about 400 more than Quebec. The demand from the United States was falling off; the reason being the liquidation of flocks there and breaking up of ranches.

He complained that a duty of 3c. per pound on wool brought into Canada was not being collected.

The following officers were elected: President, Lt.-Col. D. McCrae, Guelph, Ont.; vice-president, J. E. Cousins, Harriston, Ont.; directors, John Rawlings, Forest, Ont.; James Snell, Clinton, Ont.; L. Parkinson, Eramosa, Ont.; J. A. Cerswell, Bond Head, Ont.; R. H. Harding, Thorndale, Ont.; John Kelly, Shakespeare, Ont.; Prof. G. E. Day, Guelph, Ont.; John Campbell, Woodville, Ont.; Andrew Whitelaw, Guelph, Ont.; Mr. Gibson, Delaware, Ont.; auditor, Mr. Reeks. Membership, 1911, 315.

Roblin to Tackle Schools.

Montreal, Feb. 10.—The Manitoba school question has been shelved for a year at least, and the object of the episcopal gathering has transpired. It appears that following a great deal of importuning on the part of the Roman Catholic authorities in Quebec for federal intervention, Premier Roblin has thrown himself into the breach with a very important proposition.

The Prime Minister of Manitoba promises, so rumor has it, to finally settle the pending difficulties in that province to the satisfaction of Archbishop Langevin, and he will go to that country on the question, stand or fall.

Now Mr. Roblin says that if he goes down, he will alone suffer, thus sacrificing the party in Manitoba alone rather than have Premier Borden take action, and suffer perhaps the consequences at the hands of the electorate.

The minority will have to wait a year or more, but his grace of St. Boniface says he will trust Roblin and take him at his word.

Old Man Murdered.

St. Scholastique, Feb. 10.—With head almost severed from body, Alfred Duford, a stonecutter, living about three miles from this village, was found in a shack yesterday. Near him lay an axe, covered with blood, while about ten feet away was found a shot gun. Everything within the cabin pointed to a terrible struggle. Its rough furnishings were smashed or overturned, while the floor was spattered with blood. There were no bullet marks on the body, and the gun, as far as could be ascertained, had not been discharged. Duford had been dead about ten days.

The man who shared the shack with the murdered man is not to be found. The bed shows that he left but a couple of days ago.

Fled From Burning House.

Lucan, Ont., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Johnston Aikens, who is critically ill at her home, five miles north of here, and her three little children barely escaped with their lives in a fire which destroyed the house early yesterday.

A nurse in attendance had started a fire in the kitchen stove, but how the house ignited is not known.

ECONOMIC THOUGHT.

With the verdict of the people of Canada which was pronounced on September 21st last still ringing in thunder tones over the land in denunciation of a lop-sided tariff bargain between Canada and the United States, miscalled "reciprocity," which the Laurier Government had asked the electors of the Dominion to endorse, the free-traders of the Grit party are daily declaring that reciprocity is not dead and that Canada would prosper to a much greater degree than it is now doing were free trade "as they have it in England" substituted for our present moderately protective tariff.

The doctrinaires in question, who arrogate to themselves a monopoly of capacity for what they term "economic-thought," assert that no one who is capable of thinking sanely on economic questions can deny that Free Trade would have the effect of reducing the cost of livings, and that, therefore, Free Trade would be the best policy for Canada.

A little further "economic thought" makes it conclusively apparent that their thesis is a mere theory which will not stand the test of experience. It is conditions, not theories, which have to be dealt with in this connection, and the people of the Dominion have decided that moderate protection for home industries is the best policy for Canada.

HOW, IT MAY WELL BE ASKED, WILL IT PROFIT THE WORKINGMAN IF YOU GIVE HIM CHEAP FOOD AND CLOTHING WITH ONE HAND AND DEPRIVE HIM OF WORK WITH THE OTHER, BY THE CLOSING OF INDUSTRIES THROUGH FOREIGN COMPETITION?

HOW WILL IT PROFIT THE TILLER OF THE SOIL IF YOU GIVE THE CONSUMER OF HIS PRODUCTS FOREIGN GOODS OF THE SAME CLASS AT PRICES BELOW THOSE AT WHICH HE CAN PROFITABLY PRODUCE THEM?

How will it benefit the man of small means, who buys the products of home manufactures, on which he pays no tax to the Government, if he is taxed directly, as is inevitable under Free Trade, in the same ratio as his rich neighbor, who is now obliged to pay duty on the expensive articles of foreign manufacture which he consumes, but from which contribution to the revenue he would be releived by Free Trade?

DIRECT TAXATION IS A DIRECT INCENTIVE TO PERJURY. The rich man can "swear off" a lot of his taxable income, and the poor man is thereby unfairly burdened. Let any intelligent person attend a Court of Revision in his municipality, and see for himself if such be not the case.

Such, stated briefly, are the considerations which were chiefly instrumental in influencing the people of this country to decide in favor of the National Policy which was enacted by the Conservative party in 1879, and which the electors have endorsed at the polls in every election which has since been held.

Under that policy Canada has enjoyed an era of extraordinary prosperity without a single set-back of any consequence, although other countries have, during those thirty-three years, had periods of severe depression. And now our rulers are wisely preparing to secure the best possible results from that policy by appointing a permanent Tariff Commission composed of experts, to report to the Government from time to time the condition of trade throughout the world, in order that such changes in the tariff as are disirable may be made; for there can be no such thing as a tariff which is unchangeable in all its details.

The Grits did not dare, when in office, to alter the basic principles of the National Policy, but now that they are out of power they are once more prating about Free Trade and doing their utmost to prevent the perfection of our present trade policy. That their efforts will be vain is evidenced by the fact that the majority in favor of the appointment of a tariff commission was 52. However, their continuance in their blundering course can have one effect only, and that will be to give a long lease of power to the party who enacted the National Policy.

WHAT DID IT

The Whitney Government has just been retained by the most remarkable re-endorsation ever given any administration in Canada—an endorsation earned solely and wholly by reason of clean methods and merits—and yet the Toronto Globe gravely asserts:

> "The opening of the Legislature and the ceremonial of its programme has emphasized the truth that the Ministry has been running along on the momentum inherited from the Liberal regime, and that this momentum is almost spent."

What momentum? asks the Brantford Courier.

The momentum of spoiled ballots?

The momentum of the Minnie M. trip?

The momentum of attempting to buy a member of the House?

The momentum of a school book ring?

The momentum of a disfranchised constituency?

The momentum of the hangers on and rake off artists whom The Globe itself described as "barnacles" to be removed with an iron hand.

The momentum of catering to trusts and interests rather than to the plain people?

It is up to the leading Liberal organ to explain whether it has in view either one, or all of these things.

An Ottawa despatch of the 9th inst. states that the Conservatives are very much elated over the previous night's vote in the House, when the Government rolled up a majority of 52. It is claimed that it should have been 54, as two Liberals voted after being paired. At all events, the majority is one of the largest in years, and the fact that 38 per cent. of the Liberals did not vote is taken as indicating a serious division in the ranks on the fiscal policy involved.

"Could you devise a better one?"

"Yes. I'd like to know what Washington would have done if he had stood at the door of a restaurant on a stormy night and the waiter had hurried up to him with a fine new silk umbrella with an ivory handle, and no name on it, and said, 'Isn't this yours, sir?'"

CITY POLICE FORCE TO WEIGH A TON LESS NEXT SUMMER

Not a Course of Training but One to Lighter Clothes—Highest Tender Jockeying Recommences at the City Hall—Renewed Bounty Talk Becomes an Absorbing Topic—Vaccination of Boy Costs City $6,000

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—Montreal's police force next summer will weigh nearly a ton less than heretofore. This, however, does not mean that there will be a reduction either in its numbers or the size of the individual members, but simply that after many years during which time the guardians of the peace have in summer months suffered from the excessive warmth of their uniforms, plans have at last been accepted which providing for lighter weight uniforms will work for their relief. The seventeen hundred and fifty pounds which the force will lose in weight will consist entirely in clothing, as the next summer's garb will be two pounds and eight ounces lighter than the present hot weather uniform. Multiplying this two pounds by the seven hundred pavement pounders on the force, there will be made available for the protection of the public a considerable horse power hitherto wasted in carrying about the streets something less than a ton of exxcess clothing.

The cry for lighter clothing came from the policemen themselves, and a special board was appointed to look into the question. The new uniform will consist of a light serge of the same color and cut as the present flannel garments. It will have a military collar so that the men will not be obliged to dear stiff white collars. Also, instead of the heavy white helmet, a light-weight cap will be worn during the summer months. During night hours the men will be allowed to wear their present uniforms until they are worn out, so they will not be put to any needless expense by the change.

TAMMANY GANG ACTIVE AGAIN.

With the return of five aldermen in the recent civic election who are openly opposed to reform and good government, and the resignation of F. L. Wanklyn, acknowledged as the strongest member of the Board of Control, the good old days of graft and pillage in the city's administration are commencing again. The corridors of the city hall are overflowing each morning with contractors and ward heelers who have been banished for the last two years, and a determined effort is being made to get the machine working again. The machine, needless to say, grinds the money out of the civic treasury and rolls it into the pockets of the middlemen and highest tenderers. There are hopes, however, of still saving the situation as the Board of Control, although technically weakened, is still supreme, and there are several loyal and true men in the city council. The election returns were a sad blow to the Citizens' Association and the course of good government, but they are merely another proof that the memory of the public is short, and that the powers of evil are ever active. Predictions are being freely made that Montreal's prosperity of the last two years will receive a severe check just as soon as the new council gets its hands on the plough.

THOSE STEEL BOUNTIES.

The absorbing topic in Montreal financial circles during the past week has been the bounty question. Announcements concerning this matter have been frequent for several days past. That the bounty was to be renewed on pig iron was at first a rumor. Now it has assumed something of the nature of a definite statement if not altogether an announcement. Added thereto is the statement that not only will the bounties in pig iron be renewed but those on wire rods. At first the sum of 90c. per ton was stated as the extent of the bounty. Now it is stated to be 90c. per ton on pig iron made from foreign ore and $1.50 on domestic ore. In view of the general interest, the following table, showing the estimated approximate output of pig iron by the different companies in the Dominion during the coming year will be timely:

	tons
Dom. Steel Corporation	360,000
Nova Scotia Steel & Coal	90,000
Steel Co. of Canada	191,000
Algoma Steel	345,000
Canada Iron Corporation	91,000
Deseronto Co.	20,000
Atikokan Iron Co.	29,000
Total	1,126,000

The amount which would be drawn by the different companies will depend entirely upon the rate per ton of the bounty and the proportion of domestic and foreign ore used in the processes. In case the bounty on wire rods is renewed, it may be of value for purposes of comparison to state that in the last year for which the records are available, namely, that ending March 31, 1910, the rate of bounty being then $6 per ton, the amount drawn by the Dominion Iron and Steel was in the vicinity of $528,000. The rod output has since increased.

EXPENSIVE VACCINATION

Finding that infected vaccine administered by one of the civic vaccinators was responsible for a condition of inertia produced in the arm of a vaccinated child, causing a permanent lack of power, a jury condemned the city to pay a total sum of $6,000 damages—$2,000 to the child's mother to cover medical expenses, treatment, etc., and $4,000 to the child as indemnity for injury and disability.

The case was that of Dame Poirier vs. the City of Montreal, the plaintiff seeking $10,000 damages on account of injuries sustained by her minor son, a boy of seven years, as a result, she alleged, of having been improperly vaccinated by one of the school inspectors employed by the city.

A short time subsequent to the vaccination, it was alleged, the youngster's arm became inert, and the claim was advanced that this condition was brought about by the fact that the vaccine used for the operation was infected, with the result that the arm became diseased, the final effect being that the nerves were attacked.

ROOFS SPREAD FIRES.

Recent articles in McClure's Magazine's deal with the tremendous and needless fire-losses suffered by rural communities because of inflammable roofs. Most fires that spread in such sections attack adjoining buildings by flying brands and wind-borne embers, that alight on wooden or other flimsy roofs. Yet those building could be made fire-safe at their weakest point by the simple and economical method of roofing them with Preston Safe Lock Shingles, made of galvanized metal and thus fire-proof as well as wet and weather-proof, yet costing no more than wood shingles in the first place. Data about their value and low cost can be had by asking the makers—The Metal Shingle & Siding Company, of Preston, Ontario.

Mechanical Equivalent of Heat.

The mechanical theory of heat regards heat as a mode of motion, and investigation has shown that there exists a definite relation between those two forms of energy, which is known as the mechanical equivalent of heat, or Joule's equivalent. That is, if, as in the experiments of Joule, a certain known amount of mechanical energy be expended, as, for instance, by the falling of a weight to operate paddles in a vessel of water, the increase in temperature of the water, due to agitation by the paddles will always be found proportional to the work done. This relation or proportion is expressed by the amount of work necessary to raise the temperature of one pound of water at 62 degrees Fahrenheit through one degree at atmospheric pressure, or, in other words, impart one British Thermal Unit to the water. The heat necessary to raise the temperature of one pound of water from 62 degrees to 63 degrees temperature was found by Joule to be able to perform work equal to the raising of 772 pounds one foot in height. The latest experimental determination of Rowland shows that the exact value is somewhat higher than 772, and 778 is the value now usually accepted as the correct mechanical equivalent.

He is a wise man who can keep his face closed at the right time.

Woman's World

RAG RUG MAKING

With the growing appreciation of the beauty of natural woods and the convenience of floor coverings that can be easily removed and cleaned, polished floors and rugs have supplanted the large carpet, and all these combined have brought about a revival of rug-making at home which promises to enrich us with beautiful handicraft of women.

The Colonial rug is woven of strips of fabrics sewn together. Rags of nearly all kinds are available for making it. They are washed and sometimes dyed, torn into strips an inch or less in width and the ends sewed firmly together. Many color schemes and color combinations are possible. Colonial rugs in a Roman striped pattern are brilliant and handsome, giving effective touches of color if sparingly used. Portieres in Roman stripe or 'hit and miss' design with solid-color borders are often made of silk args saved for this purpose.

The Colonial rug possesses one great advantage over the majority of others—it is washable. The rags, having been washed before the rug is made up, withstand repeated washings. They are more beautiful by far than the cheap factory made rugs and a growing appreciation is making a growing demand for them. The homemaker may take pride in them.

There is another kind of rug made of rags. This made on a burlap foundation by drawing short bits of fabric with a needle or hook, tying the ends with a knot and finally clipping them off short. A pattern, in a set design, is drawn on the burlap or one may buy the foundation ready stamped. The rags are washed (dyed if necessary), cut into strips an inch or less wide and the colors rolled into separate balls for use. Short lengths, (about four inches) are cut off the colors used—or one may thread the rag on a bodkin-like instrument and cut after each tying. After the pattern has been worked out and straggling ends trimmed away, the rug is rich and handsome, providing the colors have been used in the right way.

Wool rags are the best for these rugs as they keep their colors better than cotton. The colors which work up most effectively are dark reds, strong blues, grey, tan, rose, white and black. Touches of green and bright yellow are good if carefully used. After this kind of a rug has been used for a while the surface becomes flattened and looks like a regulation woven rug, while the appearance is good, although different from that of the unwoven rug. They are very durable.

PROTECTION FROM COLD WIND

One of the effects of a cold wind is to harden the skin and dry it. A harsh, dry, arid atmosphere will quickly rob the face of its bloom if it does not receive proper care. The skin must be prepared for the siege by a liberal use of good cold cream. The face should be washed with water and soap only once a day, at night, before retiring. Tepid soft water is always safe, with a pure soap, but there are some skins that seem to be improved by the use of hot water. Rinsing all the soap off is important. The cream that has been found to agree with the skin should be sparsely applied, massaged in with firm but gentle finger tips. When the cream seems nearly all absorbed, any surplus should be wiped off with a fine soft towel. In the morning a light sponging with warm water without soap is sufficient, as the skin has been thoroughly cleansed the night before. Dry carefully and thoroughly with a soft towel. If one is going to spend the mornig in the house, it will not be necessary to use any more cream unless the skin is naturally too dry. But before one goes out of doors for business, sport, or pleasure, these days of cold, drying winds, one should protect their face by rubbing in cold cream and dusting over with rice powder or talcum. The pores must be cleansed from cream, powder and any accumulated dust before going to bed. After coming in from the open air the face should not be washed with water. If the face is smeared with a thin cold cream, and this left on for a few minutes, dust and grime will come away with it when it is wiped off. The face can then be rubbed gently with a soft towel until there is no trace of the cream left, and a light application of powder put on to take off the shine. Both for looks and comfort it is worth while taking care of the skin from the beginning of cold windy weather.

THE POINTED HAT.

The pointed, or almost pointed, crown hat which has been a summer fad abroad, is one of the most popular autumn shapes in velvet, soft, smooth felt, beaver, or what you will. It is usually combined with a narrow brim sharply rolling and either of regular or irregular width and roll, and it is very often in two materials, the crown being of velvet and the brim felt or beaver, or vice versa, or perhaps the brim is merely faced with contrasting material. The material of the crown is in many cases of no particular importance since it is quite hidden by the trimming. Not in many years has ribbon had so important a role in a season's millinery as it has this autumn; and the milliners are revelling in the opportunity of showing their skill in that most difficult of trimming arts, the making and posing of bows.

The exquisite doubled faced satin ribbons are especially popular for hat trimming. An entire crown may be swathed in such ribbon with a bow carrying the upward lines. Such a hat in black velvet with ribbon of black, faced with rich purple, was remarkably good looking. This idea is repeated with variations in many models and threatens to be quickly commonized. The purples too seem likely to share the same fate.

There are plenty of feather trimmings to cater to the fad for height where ribbon is not wanted. Innumerable fancy soaring plumes are offered, and there are all kinds of made ornaments, cockades, quills, etc., which are in line with the liking for height.

Proving by Actual Experiment

This experiment will always interest the children, and will provoke a good deal of thinking. The explanation, of course, is, that the lighted piece of paper which is inserted into the inverted glass drives out most of the air, so that when the mouth of the glass is quickly put down into the water there is very little air, and, consequently, very little pressure above the water within the glass. Hence, the weight or pressure of the air on the water outside the glass drives the water up into the glass to occupy the space from whence the air was driven by the burning paper.

A practical demonstration of this kind is always more convincing than any mere statement. This is particularly true of medical remedies.

The effect of the anti-toxin treatment for diphtheria is noticeable within a few hours, so that everyone must believe in its virtue. In a similar way, the treatment known as ORANGE LILY gives a practical proof of the progress it is making in curing women's disorders, and that, too, within a few days after commencing its use.

All authorities agree that in every case of women's disorders there exists a congested condition of the womanly organs. The circulation in these parts is sluggish or stagnant, and the result is that the broken-down tissue or waste matter which should be carried off if the blood was circulating freely, remains in these parts, causing inflammation, irritation, oppression of the nerves, etc. ORANGE LILY is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering organs. It is absorbed into the circulation, and its antiseptic properties at once act on the waste matter referred to above. The consequence is that this waste matter, which is causing the inflammation, ulcers, nervous troubles, etc., begins to be discharged, and it continues to be discharged until all the foreign matter is removed from the circulation. At the same time the blood vessels and nerves are toned and strengthened, the nervous trouble disappears, the circulation is restored and good health follows.

Toronto, Ont., June 2, 1909.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—I wish to tell you that Orange Lily is doing me a great deal of good. Those ulcers come away one or two every week, and I have less pain and fewer headaches. I feel sure I will be perfectly cured in a little longer time.

MRS. D. S. T.

The explanation of the wonderful cures performed by ORANGE LILY is very simple. It is a scientific remedy, based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. The conditions existing in all female troubles are alike in character, differing in degree and development only, so that a positive remedy, as ORANGE LILY is, acts with all the certainty of a chemical experiment. In order to convince every suffering woman that ORANGE LILY will cure her, I make the following

Free Trial Offer

I will send to every reader of this notice who suffers in any way from any of the troubles peculiar to women, if she will send me her address, enough of the ORANGE LILY treatment to last her 10 days. In many cases this trial treatment is all that is necessary to effect a complete cure, and in every instance it will give very noticeable relief. If you are a sufferer you owe it to yourself, to your family, and to your friends to take advantage of this offer, and get cured in the privacy of your home, without doctor's bills or expense of any kind.

A VERY STRANGE MIGRATION OF BIRDS

Flight of Prairie Chickens From Illinois and Turkeys From Michigan.

Birds sometimes make extensive migrations, even if they are of a species not commonly migratory. Prairie chickens once flew northward from Illinois prairies and passed over the city of Detroit, Mich, in great flocks, thousands of them lighting in the city limits before crossing the river to Canada.

Proceeding in this strange flight, thousands of them were drowned in Lake Superior, but so many of them sustained the long flight that they stocked districts north of the lake and made a prairie chicken hunting ground where there never had been such game before.

No satisfactory explanation of that migration, unprecedented, so far as known, was ever made, but the general opinion among sportsmen acquainted with the conditions there is that it was forced by the persistent excessive and indiscriminate raids of the market hunters on these birds.

An equally strange migration of wild turkeys once occurred in Michigan. Those big game birds were plentiful in the Michigan woods and were being hunted mercilessly by organized parties in the employe of dealers in Chicago and other cities. They disappeared from their haunts as suddenly and completely as if they had never been there. But they could not hide their exodus, their numbers were so great. It is chronicled that the migrating host was a quarter of a mile wide and was several hours passing. They journeyed westward, and in the course of time wild turkeys were reported as more plentiful in the districts of west Michigan, where they had been rarely seen before.

The mysterious disappearance of the passenger pigeon, of which there were millions in this country one day and not one to be seen anywhere the next, had not so fortunate a sequel as that of the Michigan wild turkeys, for no word has ever been heard as to where the wild pigeons went.

An unaccountable disappearance of birds in large numbers and of a kind not common to the region was that of the myriads of owls that suddenly came down on the game covers in the Saanach district of British Columbia in 1897 and played havoc with the pheasants, grouse and quail, as well as domestic poultry.

Where they came from was a mystery. They were chiefly the species known as the bubo owl, well known in Maryland and Virginia, where it seems to partial to crows as prey. Of these raiding owls in that Northwestern area 500 were killed on Vancouver Island, 200 in the city of Victoria, by sportsmen who rose in arms against them. More than 1,500 owls were killed in a few weeks where perhaps not fifty of any kind had ever been seen before. It was supposed that the intense cold weather had driven the destructive birds from their homes further north.

Handy Horse-Hints

Did you ever try feeding the colts raw sliced potatoes now and then? They like them wonderfully well. Good for them, too; but don't have them try to eat round potatoes.

When your horse scrambles up into the stall at the sound of your voice, you may be sure that your voice does not sound good to him.

Pure feed, plenty of air and regular exercise are best for the mother horse. But don't overdo the work.

Don't shut up a little colt in a dingy place by himself.

Give him companionship. A calf will do if there are no other colts on the farm.

Even if we can not get fancy prices for our horses, there are good profits in growing colts.

If a colt is worth raising at all he is worth raising well.

Do not overwork the mare. If you do you will injure the colt.

Don't attempt to raise a colt from a poor old nondescript mare.

Method of Finding an Aeronaut's Position.

When terrestrial objects are invisible, an aeronaut is compelled to employ indirect methods of finding his position. Several such methods have been invented during recent years. Berlingmaier and Marcuse have employed magnetic measurements for this purpose and successful methods of informing an aeronaut of his position by means of wireless telegraphy have been devised. Finally, astronomical methods have been proposed, in which the tedious reduction of the observations is effected by means of special apparatus.

DEFINES BOUNDARIES

Mr. Rowell Gives His Opinion of Manitoba Question.

The Crowds Who Assembled to Hear the Debate on the Speech From the Throne Continued Were Disappointed—Will Be Resumed Tuesday—Opposition Leader Will Move Resolution on Boundaries.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—Anticipating the continuance of the debate on the speech from the throne by Sir James Whitney, large crowds filled the galleries of the Legislature yesterday, but they were disappointed, as the debate did not continue, and probably will not until Tuesday. The session was taken up with the introduction of several Government bills which have been dealt with by the Statute Revision Commission. Hon. J. J. Foy introduced two bills, one to prevent minors from frequenting billiard halls, and one to prevent excessive and deceitful gaming. These bills have been before the House before, but are being revised in order to make the wording more clear.

J. C. Elliott gave notice that he will ask the House if one Brownley, or Bromley, a license inspector for North Renfrew, and Harry Moss of the same riding had taken an active part in the provincial election campaign there, and if so, will the Government instruct these men to refrain from all further participation? He also wants to know if the Government will remove the men from office if it is proved that they have taken an active part in the campaign. Hon. Mr. Hanna promised that the matter would be investigated.

Mr. Rowell gave notice that he will move, seconded by A. G. MacKay, "that in the judgment of this House the Province of Ontario is entitled to its own hinterland, and to have its westerly boundary extended north to the 60th parallel, so that its northerly boundary shall be the same as that of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but in order that the Province of Manitoba may have access to an ocean-going port on Hudson Bay through its own territory, this House is prepared to approve a settlement whereby the westerly boundary of Ontario shall be extended north to the Churchill River and shall then follow the middle thread of the river northeasterly to deep water on Hudson Bay. That this House respectfully protests against any settlement of the boundary which shall deprive Ontario of any portion of her hinterland south of the Churchill River, and which does not secure for Ontario a good port on Hudson Bay for ocean-going vessels."

Mr. Rowell also gave notice of a motion asking for all correspondence between the Dominion and Provincial Governments in connection with the boundary question. He also wants all papers and correspondence which has passed between the Governments of Manitoba and Ontario.

Mr. Rowell will shortly introduce a bill to amend the Assessment Act, and it is altogether likely that Mr. Rowell will also incorporate the plank in his campaign platform to give municipalities the right to tax land rather than improvements.

Mr. Rowell also intends to introduce a bill to amend the Judicature Act by repealing the section of 1910 providing for the appointment of additional high court judges.

Hon. J. S. Hendrie will introduce a bill respecting telephones, telegraphs, electric light, heat and power companies.

To Relieve Tension.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The German Emperor and Empress yesterday gave a luncheon at the Imperial Palace in honor of Viscount Haldane, the British Secretary of State for War. Among those invited to meet Viscount Haldane were Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor; Admiral Alfred Von Tirpitz, the Minister of Marine, and Gen. Josias Heeringen, Minister for War.

It is now generally admitted that one of the aims of Viscount Haldane's visit to Germany is to relieve the tension which has affected Anglo-German relations for some time past. Nothing definite as to the nature of the discussions between the British statesman and his German colleagues has become known.

Sink 'Em First, Says Kaiser.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The Kaiser, when told of the prediction that the North German Lloyd Steamship Co. would yet be absorbed by an English company, said:

"Before I would allow a German steamship company to be bought by an English or foreign concern I would order the German navy to sink every ship the company owned."

NAVY IN GOOD REPAIR

Churchill Denies Stories of Naval Inefficiency.

In Speech at Glasgow, First Lord of the Admiralty Says Britain's Sea Force Is Superior to That of Any Other Power — Government Determined to Maintain Supremacy of the Seas—No Need For a Panic.

Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 10.—(Reuter's Agency.)—The speech delivered here yesterday by Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, at the luncheon of the Clyde Navigation Trust, was received with much enthusiasm.

After referring to the naval resources of the Clyde, Mr. Churchill said he was able to give a very good account of the navy. Ship for ship, it was superior to that of any other power. The latest 13.5 guns were some of the finest weapons which Great Britain possessed. He believed that the navy was in a high state of preparedness for a sudden call. The rumors of unpreparedness last year were absolutely baseless and he hoped that the creation of the war staff, which was already working, would render such rumors impossible. Moreover, a class of officers was being consistently trained to deal with the higher problems of strategy and organization.

Continuing, Mr. Churchill affirmed that Great Britain never had any thought of aggression, nor attributed such thoughts to other great powers. There was, however, this difference between British naval power and that of the great friendly empire, which he trusted would long remain great and friendly—the Empire of Germany—that the British navy was necessary while from some points of view the German navy was in the nature of a luxury. What was existence to us was expansion to them.

We could not, if we wished, menace the peace of a single continental hamlet; but, on the other hand, the whole fortunes of our race and empire, the whole treasure accumulated by centuries of sacrifice and achievement, would perish, would be utterly swept away, if our naval supremacy were in danger. It was the British navy which made Britain a great power. Germany was a great power, respected and honored all over the world before she had a single ship.

These facts ought to be clearly stated, because the suggestion that the naval risks of Great Britain and Germany were on an equality was utterly untrue. The Government had resolved to maintain the naval supremacy which the country enjoyed. They, none of them, would tolerate his presence on the Admiralty for a single hour unless satisfied that all steps were being taken to secure the safety of the country.

The newspapers now said that there were prospects of further naval increases among the continental powers. That was a very serious matter, because not only were navies increasing in size, but everything connected with navies was increasing in cost.

There was no doubt whatever that the nations of Europe were pressing forward and pressing each other forward, into an avenue of almost indefinite expansion and expense. We had a right to our own opinion as to how far future generations would compliment the present age upon the Christianity and wisdom of the civilization which made this dreary, dangerous and sterile competition so much a feature of our lives.

But there it was, we had to meet it, and he was glad to be able to tell them that there was no need for alarm. There was no need of raising an excited panic or disparaging the resources of the country. They might face the situation with great composure. At every point, in every detail, they had it well in hand.

First of all, our resources was money. From the organs of both great political parties one might gather that Great Britain was financially in a very tottering and weak condition. He hoped that Britain's foreign friends would realize that this was only talk. The resources which the British Chancellor of the Exchequer could command were amply equal to all the state's requirements.

He believed that a considerable body of public opinion favored the flotation of a great naval loan. This could be presently floated with perfect ease and on the best of terms, but what use would it be to the navy? Great Britain had built enough ships to secure effective command of the sea, and it was sheer waste to build more than were necessary for that purpose, in any one year. What was wanted was steady building on a regular plan; no sensational or violent departure from existing methods was required. Navies could not be created or disbanded in a year; their regular development could best be secured by large annual supplies of money, not by excited and capricious windfalls by means of great loans.

All a Subtle Plan.

London, Feb. 10.—The morning papers connect Winston Spencer Churchill's speech at Glasgow with the mission of Viscount Haldane to Germany, and consider the address of the First Lord of the Admiralty and the visit of the War Minister to Berlin as not a mere coincidence. The Conservative papers are pleased with Mr. Churchill's patriotic tone, while the Radical organs think it was ill-advised at such a critical moment to flourish Great Britain's naval supremacy.

The Times, in an editorial, thinks the speech of Mr. Churchill and the visit of Viscount Haldane are part of an arranged plan, and says that a careful study of the speech of Mr. Churchill will curb the imaginative flights of those journalists at home and abroad who connect Viscount Haldane's mission with impracticable pacific proposals.

THIRTEEN ARE KILLED

Foreign Workmen on C. N. R. Slain in Explosion.

Premature Discharge of Dynamite Blast at the Construction Camp of Johnson & Casey at Rainy Lake Results in a Terrific Upheaval—Sixty-Four Charges Went Off—Several Men Are Missing.

Fort Frances, Ont., Feb. 10.—A terrific explosion took place shortly before 12 o'clock yesterday at the construction works of Johnson & Carey's camp, contractors on the C.N.R. line, on an island on Rainy Lake, some eight miles east of here, when twelve men were killed outright and six badly injured. One of the injured has since died, making the number of dead thirteen. There are still some of the men unaccounted for, so that the list may be still further augmented before the search now being prosecuted is finished.

The cause of the explosion was the premature discharge of one of the holes charged with dynamite. The gang of men under Foreman Thomas Casey, an American, had sunk 64 holes at a uniform depth of 22 feet and, as near as can be learned, one of the charges in the holes was not properly prepared and it was while the charge was being taken out that it was set off, the concussion immediately causing the other 63 charges to explode.

The men were hurled into the air along with tons of rock and debris.

So great was the explosion that large pieces of rock half the size of a small house were upheaved, while the foreman, who was standing over one of the holes, was blown into the air for 150 feet, the body landing near the Canadian Northern Railway tracks, with both legs blown off and terribly disfigured. The other men were badly bruised and in some cases almost every bone was broken in their bodies.

A gang of shovel men who were working in a lower level taking out the loose rock, and loading it in the dump cars were not fifty feet distant when the explosion occurred and were not injured in the least.

One of the men said that, as soon as they heard the blast go off, they made at once for cover. "As for me," the informant said, "I at once took to my heels and ran to Fort William.

"The sight was terrible. We saw Casey hurled over our heads and with the tremendous thunder of the explosion, the crash of falling rocks, and the screams of those who were not killed outright, I will never forget."

It is said that the amount of dynamite in the explosion was over 200 bolts or about five tons.

The company, as soon as the accident occurred, telephone to this place and International Falls for all the doctors available, and three responded.

Dr. Johnston of Fort Francis was first on the ground, and with the assistance of Dr. Huxstable, the company's physician, soon alleviated the sufferings of the injured.

The men, with the exception of Thomas Casey, were all foreigners and their names are not yet known.

Last night Dr. Moore, the coroner, opened an inquest at the company's works.

Start to Protect Canal.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Work on the great fortress on Flamenco Island, which will guard the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, is to begin at once, under orders issued by the War Department yesterday. This island lies directly in front of the canal entrance, and as the nearest lock, the injury or destruction of which would prevent the operation of the canal, lies eight miles inland, the Flamenco Island defences will insure safety for the great waterway on that side as no hostile ship could get within striking distance of the lock without fatal exposure to the guns of the fort. The defences will be of the most modern type comprising fourteen inch guns and the heaviest type of sea-coast mortars in pits.

Within a short time the engineers will be ready to begin the work of constructing similar defences on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus. Owing to the low and marshy character of the ground, however, the difficulties will be much greater than on the Pacific side.

China Draws Up Magna Charta.

Shanghai, China, Feb. 10.—The draft of the proposed magna charta of the new Chinese republic has been completed by Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the Minister of Justice in the Republican Cabinet, and now awaits the approval of the Senate at Nanking.

The document provides for a Presidential term of five years, but the Senate will probably make the first term only one year.

It is thought that a compromise may be reached on the question of the future capital of China. President Sun Yat Sen, however, asserts positively that Nanking will be selected, although he admits at the same time that an agreement may be made to keep Pekin provisionally as the nominal capital.

New York, Feb. 10.—Released yesterday from the workhouse, where she had been sent a month ago on a charge of disorderly conduct, Mrs. Adeline Crandell, wife of Frederick H. Crandell, cast-off nephew of the late Edwin Hawley, had been unable last night to find her husband, who comes into a $2,000,000 share of the estate through the failure of his uncle to make a will.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Arrangements are being made for several big mass meetings in South Renfrew next week. The Conservatives will hold mass meetings at Renfrew, Arnprior and Eganville. It is possible Hon. W. T. White will address the Renfrew gathering. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will address mass meetings at Eganville and Arnprior on Feb. 19.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—For a while today the wheat market showed decided strength on account of reports that, despite official announcement to the contrary, the Argentine strike had not been settled. To Aid Director.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Hon. Martin Burrell stated last night that he was considering an important reorganization of the work of the experimental farms of Canada. There will be a director of experimental farms, as at present, with Dr. Grisdale in charge, and under him will be a superintendent of field husbandry, and a superintendent of animal husbandry.

The work of the farms has been so rapidly developing that Mr. Burrell feels that it is in the interests of agricultural progress that these two superintendents should be appointed. It is possible also, a third may be added, to have charge of the forage and seed grain work.

Fire at Sanitarium.

Hamilton, Feb. 10.—Fire at the Mountain Sanitarium for Consumptives, about two miles west of the city, yesterday afternoon destroyed a large barn, the laundry and some smaller outbuildings. The loss will be $5,000 or more.

The fire started in the barn and spread to the other buildings, but fortunately was kept away from the patients' shacks and the main buildings by the wind. The city fire department made an effort to get to the fire with the auto truck, but the machine became lodged in a snowbank, and was abandoned by Chief Ten Eyck and the firemen, who proceeded on foot to the fire, where they worked like trojans. The truck was subsequently taken from the snowdrift and brought back to the city.

Colonies Favor Home Rule.

London, Feb. 10.—(C.A.P. Cable.—The Daily News, a consistent Ministerial supporter, says, "We cannot have more compact Imperial fellowship until Ireland enters as an equal, which is the opinion of the dominions who all are overwhelmingly in favor of home rule. British and foreign policy should endeavor to bring this country and the English-speaking republic across the Atlantic into the most intimate friendship, which can't be as long as the Irish suffer under a sense of bitter grievance."

The Morning Post says everything is to be sacrificed in the hope of placating Patrick Ford and other Fenians who have long been the violent enemies of the British Empire.

Hawkes Trounced Imposter.

Liverpool, Feb. 10.—(C.A.P. Cable.).—Just before sailing yesterday Immigration Commissioner Arthur Hawkes caught a small western city's employment agent requiring applicants to purchase the hundred-dollar town lots two miles from the city's centre. Mr. Hawkes trounced the culprit. He also repudiated newspapers mixing immigration with real estate propositions.

Cubans Get Away With $30,000.

The entire sum was recovered by the local police and proceedings for the extradition of the Cubans to Santiago will be commenced immediately.

Masquerade Ball at Johnstone's Academy Last Night—A Large Gathering and a Picturesque Scene—Many Beautiful and Some Comical Costumes were Seen—Full List of the Masqueraders

One of the most successful and pleasing events of the season was the masquerade ball held last night at Johnstone's academy, Alberta Block. Although the weather was far from favorable, the cold being intense, the affair was a pronounced success in every respect.

There were a large number present in costume and not a few spectators. The costumes were simply fine, many of them showing considerable artistic ability in their construction. When the masqueraders were on the floor the hall presented an animated and dazzling appearance. Prof. Johnstone and his amiable partner in life left nothing undone to enhance the pleasure of all present. Music of an excellent character was furnished by the Belleville orchestral society, and the floor was ideal. At midnight a lunch was provided, after which dancing was indulged in for some time.

AID ASKED FOR CHINESE SUFFERERS

The Need is Great and a Widespread Appeal is Being Made

The following letter has been received by Col. Ponton, Secretary of the local Board of Trade

The Secretary of the Board of Trade,
Belleville, Ont.

Dear Sir,—We are asking three hundred cities in Canada and the United States to take part in a great demonstration of good will to the New China.

China is facing a tremendous calamity. Two and a half millions of her people are in dire need of help, most of them in the same district where the famine raged last year. The Chinese are in the midst of a struggle for freedom and unable to do much for their own people; indeed one great reason for the resolution is the recurrence of famine conditions. Throughout a large portion of two populous provinces schools are closed, business is at a standstill, the weak are becoming beggars, families are being broken up by the sale of wives and daughters, often into lives of vice, and the people are lapsing into apathy.

In previous famines people all over Canada and the United States have given as individuals, but it is now proposed that throughout these two countries each city acts as a unit, cable at once its willingness to help, raise a fund to be sent on as fast as it comes in, and on May 10th cable a statement of the total sent to date, with a message of good will in the name of the city. We shall transmit these messages to the Chinese press and publish them in a booklet to be presented to officials and members of the National and Provincial Assemblies, and thus not only help to avert a great calamity but make the alleviation of suffering the opportunity of strengthening the friendship between China and the rest of the world.

The time is opportune. China is turning her face toward the future as never before. The consideration and protection which foreigners have received during the present revolution are an indication of the extent of the influence of the West. A demonstration of friendliness on a national scale, will in this hour of need arouse great enthusiasm among the men of the New China, and the effect on trade and political relations, and on the progress of civilization and Christianity, will be incalculable.

The funds raised will be used to avert starvation and at the same time start China upon a policy of conservation. It is not enough to-day to pour rice into the rathole of famine. It is planned to give relief only in return for labor on canals and dykes except in the case of those unable to work. Competent foreign engineers and Chinese will co-operate in making all such work of permanent value in preventing future floods. The Famine Committee believes that the new Government will adopt a programme of conservation, and until this can be carried to completion shoulder the responsibility of relieving famine conditions, thus making this Committee which is presenting this appeal the last of its kind in China. The New China is awake to the situation and many influential men are already pledged to such a policy.

The famine will be at its worst in February and March and will continue until harvest in the middle of May. It is imperative that money begin to come in before the end of February if great loss of life would be avoided. We confidently hope that you will take prompt measures to bring this before the citizens of Belleville and secure a large fund. We beg to suggest that a publicity campaign be carried on and contributions received by a committee of the Board of Trade, or that the Board of Trade appoint a committee of citizens for this purpose, or authorize the press to take it up in the name of the city. It will help to save life.—Yours very truly,

E. C. LOBINSTINE,
Hon. Secretary.

DOCTORS GAVE ME UP

But "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Me.

MOORFIELD, ONT., March 25th, 1910.

"I suffered from severe indigestion and dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress.

I could not do any work and became so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors and they both pronounced my case incurable, that they could do nothing more for me as they thought my disease was HEART FAILURE AND INCURABLE. The doctors gave me up and I looked forward for death in a short time.

At this time my son asked me to try 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better, and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight."

HENRY SPEERS, J.P.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. box—6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c.—or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

THOMAS GRIGG
Qu'Appelle

For nineteen years Thomas Grigg has farmed near Qu'Appelle, meeting set-backs, but prospering. Although a Canadian, he and his wife came to the Springbrook district from South Dakota. Generally speaking, wheat-growing has been the mainstay. Horse-raising, also, has received attention to an extent sufficient to lead Mr. Grigg to pass opinion that a man can make as much money on a half section of rough land raising colts as he can on a real good quarter at wheat-growing. Pigs, also, are kept, and on different occasions have helped him "out of a tight place." He finds that, as a rule, there is enough feed around to fatten a bunch. The farm comprises 640 acres of which about one-quarter is summerfallowed annually. Wheat is grown for two years, and then oats or barley. Recently, Mr. Grigg has rented his farm for a year in order that he and his good wife may spend the winter in California and take a well-earned rest.

HON. HUGH J. MACDONALD
Police Magistrate
Winnipeg

Mr. Hugh Macdonald who was lately appointed Police magistrate of the Gateway city was formerly premier of Manitoba. Probably the importance of his magistracy lies principally in the fact that the man he succeeded was the famous late T. Mayne Daly, and though Mr. Macdonald is not in his famous father's rank he is big hearted enough to make the attempt to fill a big man's shoes. Nothing attempted, nothing done is certainly not in his make up.

Squire Macdonald is a son of the late John A. Macdonald, and might have been premier of Canada today, if he had remained in Dominion politics, and followed closely in the footsteps of his dad. But he chose the nearer honors offered by a provincial premiership and got out of the running for the post of prime minister of Canada.

DR. A. BEVERLEY WELFORD
Woodstock.

It is well for this country that the doctors take such a large and disinterested part in its public life. True they cannot take an active interest in the larger problems because it would mean their giving up their professional duties, but in every community you will find at least one medical man taking an active interest in teh local affairs.

Dr. A. B. WELFORD
President of Canadian Club,
Woodstock.

Such a one is Dr. A. Beverley Welford of Woodstock Ont. who is one of the pioneers of the Canadian Club movement in his district, though the doctor's energies are not confined to this laudable work. He is practically connected with every movement that has for its object—the raising of the standard of life.

NELLIE L. McCLUNG
Canadian writer

Mrs. McClung has lived in Manitoba for the last thirty years, having come from Owen Sound with her parents in the very early days of this province. However, she is always very careful to explain that she was only a "mere child" at that time, and yet her stories of some of the happenings of the long journey by ox-train from Winnipeg to the point on the Souris river where her parents located, are so vividly told that we are forced to believe that she must have been a very bright child for her years.

Mrs. McClung, who before her marriage was Nellie L. Mooney, received her education at a country school and afterwards at the Central Collegiate in Winnipeg. She taught school for five years and then married Mr. R. W. McClung, who was engaged in the drug business in Manitoba, Man. They lived in Manitou until last summer when they removed to Winnipeg, and have taken up their residence on Chestnut street. Mrs. McClung was elected president of the local branch of the Canadian Woman's Press club for this year.

Mrs. McClung has written two books, "Sowing Seeds in Danny," and "The Second Chance;" also many short stories. Last year she gave a series of recitals, from her own books, in Manitoba, and also in Ontario.

At the present time she is engaged in writing another book.

Mrs. McClung chooses for her characters the plain people of every day life, when we all know. The keen fidelity of her writing makes a strong appeal to the discriminating reader.

HOCKEY.

COLLEGIANS WON.

At the Arena last night between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock a hockey match took place between Lewis Company's Gurney-Oxford team and Albert College. It was a well contested game, the score being 3 to 7 in favor of the College boys. Smith, one of the wing players on the range team, played a star game, making some fine rushes. Mr. Dawkins fulfilled the duties of referee in a satisfactory manner. We were unable to ascertain the line-up of the College team, but the Gurney-Oxford team was as follows:

Howe, goal; McKenna, point; Gunter, cover point; Duff, centre; Camirand, rover; Smith and Alexander, wings.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock on Thursday night a very fast game of hockey took place at the Arena between the Belleville Hardware Lock Co. and the Corbyville aggregation. The former won by a score of 16 to 0. After the game started the puck travelled from one end of the rink to the other, until at last the B. H. Co. managed to get three goals past Palmer. This finished the first half by a score of 3 to 0 in favor of the Hardware players. When the second half started the Corbyville team showed slight signs of weakness in playing their positions, although they played a good game all through the second half. The Hardware players then took advantage of the opposing team's weakness and netted 13 goals. Mr. Ted Whalen made an impartial referee. The timekeepers were Messrs. Andrew Knott and Herbert Holland. The line-up was as follows:—

Corbyville—		B. H. Co.—
Palmer	Goal	Flagler
Orr	Point	McKenna
H. Wilson	Cover point	McGuire
Spears	Rover	Barrett
Johns	Centre	Symons
Wessels	Right wing	Goyer
Home	Left wing	Hogan

Mr. J. Murphy, manager of the B. H. Co., would like to challenge a game with the Springer Lock Co. in the near future.

Last night's games results as follows:—

Intermediates—Paris 5, St. Mary's 1, at ...borough winning the round by 13; Preston ...borough winning the round by 13; Preston 15, St. Catharines 2, at Welland; Mount Forest 8, Argonauts 3, at Toronto.

Junior—Woodstock 9, Berlin 5; Toronto Canoe Club 11, Oshawa 0, at Oshawa; Orillia 9, Varsity 4, at Orillia.

TRAP SHOOTING.

VERY COLD, BUT FAIR SCORES.

Despite the excessive cold yesterday afternoon, fifteen members of the Belleville Gun Club participated in a shoot, being one of a series that is taking place for trophies. Twenty-five clay pigeons were shot at and some good scores were made considering weather conditions. Those competing and the scores made were as follows: J. Thompson, 20; G. Bennett, 17; M. Sprague, 17; H. Day, 16; W. Andrews, 15; W. Harte, 15; J. Woodley, 14; J. Howie, 14; R. Stafford, 12; R. Day, 12; J. Turley, 11; E. B. Harris, 11; J. Miller, 9; P. Sprague, 7; Boulter, 6.

Messrs. G. Bennett and M. Sprague, after the club match, shot off their tie, both shooting at 10 birds. The former broke 8 and the latter 4.

"TINFLUENZA"

Tin, Which Is the Most Susceptible of Metals, Easily Catches Cold. It Then Crumbles.

A curious illustration of the susceptibility of metal to heat and cold is provided by the effect which winter has upon tin. As a matter of fact, unless tin is kept above 18 deg. Centigrade it falls a victim to a strange illness which has been described as "tinfluenza." In other words, the metal catches a very severe cold, the symptoms of which are decay, loss of lustre, and crumbling of the surface to grey powder. The change is not a chemical one, for the grey powder is still tin, and the extraordinary fact is that it can be brought back by careful warming to its originally healthy condition.

The purer the tin the more susceptible it is to cold, and consequently decay, apparently; and, in fact, it may be made proof against the disease by alloying it with other metals. The disease is a cause of considerable annoyance and disappointment to the collectors of coins who possess valuable tin specimens in their cabinets.

Even tin buttons have been known to crumble in this way and organ-pipes made of tin have been found to decay after a severe winter.

The rot is even infectious, for decaying tin, in contact with healthy, lustrous tin, soon spoils it, and reduces it to its own unhealthy state.

MOTOR-CYCLISTS AMAZING FEAT.

A striking illustration of the capacity and durability of the motor-cycle is furnished by the record recently set up by Mr. Harry Long, the well-known Yorkshire cycling champion, who has just completed a journey of 40,000 miles on a motor-cycle in ten months. To accomplish his ride he went round the whole of the coast-line of Great Britain, in addition to other mileage; and, carrying no head-light, he had necessarily to ride only between dawn and dusk.

What makes the trip all the more noteworthy is the fact that prior to setting out on his journey, which he anticipated would occupy twelve months, Mr. Long had only a week's tuition in looking after his mount. He had only ten punctures during his ride, but had the unpleasant experience of having to sleep twice in the open and to ride through a ten-days' downpour of rain while in Scotland.

Once, in the North of Scotland, Mr Long almost had his attempt brought to a sudden end. Riding along a road skirted by a declivity of several hundred feet, he experienced a dry skid, and was thrown right off the saddle. Fortunately he fell on a ledge and was enabled to scramble back, remount his machine, which had simply fallen on the road and was uninjured, and continue his journey.

Professor: "Young man, I am seventy-nine years old, and I never smoked a shred of tobacco in my life."

Student (puffing cigar): "Well, sir, you're not too old to learn, I assure you. Cato learnt Greek at the age of eighty, you know!"

CURLING.

GAMES AT KINGSTON.

At Kingston last night an eastern Ontario League curling match took place between two senior and junior rinks of this city and the Limestone City. The result was a win for our junior curlers by a majority of 17 shots, but our seniors lost by 18 shots. The local players are loud in their praise for the hospitality extended to them, everything being done for their comfort and entertainment. The Belleville rinks were as follows:—

Seniors.
A. McGie,	H. Fish,
J. H. Vermilyea,	W. Belair,
S. Robertson,	E. F. Ketcheson,
S. Iler, skip.	S. W. Vermilyea, skip

THE RING.

WIN FOR K. O.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—"Knock Out" Brown outfought and outboxed Frankie Madden, the East Side lightweight, in every round but the first of their ten round bout at the American Boxing Club in Brooklyn last night.

In the opening session Madden tore into Brown and landed a couple of hard punches to the jaw and stomach. For a moment things looked dubious for "Knock Out," but from the first round on Brown had the better of every exchange. In the final round Madden struck Brown in the back of the neck with a wild swing, and this, coupled with a shove, caused Brown to fall on his hands, but he was up in a moment and was severely punishing Madden at the bell.

JOHNSON—FLYNN.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Feb. 9.—Jack Curley, manager of Jim Flynn, and promoter of the Johnson-Flynn fight, conferred with local business men relative to staging the contest in New Mexico, but no decision was reached. Curley will now go to Las Vegas to meet persons who have offered $100,000 for the fight. He said he believed the opposition of Governor McDonald would not be sufficient to prevent staging the fight in New Mexico.

TOMMY BURNS POPS UP.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9.—Tommy Burns, the heavyweight pugilist, returned from Australia yesterday, and announced he was anxious to fight Jack Johnson. Burns said he was in good condition, weighed 190 pounds, and could enter the ring at 180.

"Promoter McIntosh promised me that I could have a match with either Johnson or McVey. "I am after that heavyweight title again."

MASTERING A LION

What trainers have to do to gain Control.

In illustration of the lengths to which owners of wild beasts will go in order to retain control of them, Frank C. Bostock, the famous animal trainer, tells the following story:

"Some years ago, when we were at the Hippodrome in Paris, I decided, as a special attraction, to go into the arena with Wallace, a huge African lion that all our trainers had despaired of. The house was crowded. We placed the lion in a cage sixteen feet square, and this was put inside a twenty-foot ring. Two assistants were stationed in the outer ring in case of accident. I had scarcely got inside when the beast leaped at me. It bit right through my left hand, and with one blow ripped the flesh off my back.

"'Clear out!' I shouted to the two men in the outer ring. 'I'm going to open the doors and let him into the big arena.'

"I was as furious as the lion. My pride as a trainer was wounded deeper than my back. I flung open the doors and the lion sprang out. The blood was pouring from my wounds, but in the excitement of the moment I felt no pain — only a mad desire to be master. I picked up a 'property' chair, and when the beast came again I struck it full across the muzzle; then, seizing my whip, I actually became the aggressor and drove him back to the cage.

"The audience was in something like a panic, and loud cries of 'Enough! Enough!' were raised. But I hadn't finished. In ten minutes I had subjugated Wallace to such an extent that he cowered like a dog. I got out of the cage and just fainted away. From that day to this no one has attempted to teach Wallace."

Browned Crumbs.

Keep all scraps of crust until there is a good quantity; cut off any black bits, and put the rest on a baking-tin in the oven until they are a bright golden brown all over and quite crisp. Then pound them in a mortar, or, if there is not one available, put them between two pieces of paper and crush them with a rolling-pin. Next pass them through a sieve—this ensures them being all of one size. Put them in a tin with a tight-fitting lid. These crumbs are useful for shaking over boiled ham or bacon, and can often be used for puddings instead of white crumbs, giving the mixture a richer appearance.

FRENCH WARSHIP WAS FIRED ON

Steamed Through Zone from Which Italy Bars Foreign Vessels

ROME, Feb. 11.—It was learned yesterday that the French torpedo-boat destroyer, Lansquet, got into trouble recently by steaming between Corsica and Sardinia, from parts of which Italy bars foreign vessels. It seems that a rough sea induced the commander of the French warship to proceed at full speed through the zone of the Magdallena Estuary, on which are located the central fortifications which command the Strait of Bonafacio. The semaphores on the land repeatedly signaled the French vessel to stop, but she paid no attention to these orders and speeded right along. Pretty soon she came within range of the Nido D'Anquila battery, whose commander ordered the gunners to fire blanks at the flying Frenchman. These had no effect, and then a half-loaded shell was discharged at the destroyer. The shot was well aimed, and exploded about 20 feet in front of the bow of the Lansquet. The French vessel kept on her course in spite of this evidence of the intentions of the Italian gunners, and after rounding Spardig Island disappeared.

This incident, coming at the present juncture, has delayed a settlement of the questions arising out of the action of Italian warships in stopping the French steamships Carthage and Manouba and seizing an aeroplane of the Turkish Red Crescent Society. It is said that France may be called upon to explain the action of the Lansquet before The Hague Tribunal. Meanwhile the incident has added to the present strain between France and Italy, for there is still some feeling here over the somewhat premptory demands of France for explanations of the Carthage and Manouba seizures. As an evidence of this it may be stated that the Navy League has started a propaganda for a renewal of the Triple Alliance, and the insertion of a clause whereby Austria and Italy will increase their navies unitedly to exceed the twelve battleships and fourteen cruisers which France keeps in the Mediterranean.

NEW SCHEDULE OF MILITIA PAY

Pay Higher, but Efficiency Pay Cut Down—Must Shoot Better

Rank	wage per day
Privates	$ .75
Privates (after 2 years' service)	.85
Corporals	.85
Sergeants	1.00
Color-Sergeants and Squadron Sergeant-Majors	1.25
Regimental Sergeant-Majors	1.75
Efficiency pay, all ranks (extra)	.15

The above is the new schedule of pay for non-commissioned officers and men of the active militia of Canada, which will apply to the training of 1912. It will be seen that the regular pay of the private has been reaised from fifty cents to seventy-five cents a day, and that of the non-commissioned officers accordingly.

The old system of efficiency pay which has caused much discontent has been modified, so that instead of being graded according to the score made at the rifle ranges, there is one rate and that only 15 cents. To earn this, men must in addition to proving themselves reasonably efficient in general work, make a score of not less than forty-two out of a possible seventy-five at two ranges, namely 100 and 200 yards. Formerly a score of only twenty-eight was necessary to qualify for the lowest rate of efficiency pay, which was twenty cents, while a score of fifty-six entitled a man to the highest rate of fifty cents per day.

The rate of pay for officers is practically unchanged.

The dates for the annual camps at Niagara have not yet been definitely fixed, but it is probable that they will be held at the regular time, beginning about the second week in June. The rural corps will, as last year, be divided into two camps, one immediately following the other.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE ON THE MIDLAND

Madoc Train Which Left Here Friday Noon Stalled in a Snow Drift Near West Huntingdon—Was Struck for 36 Hours—Passengers Lived on Soda Biscuits—Provisions Finally Obtained at a Farm House—A Sick Baby Saved by Doctor Harper, who was on the Train

Thrilling experiences of persons, and even trains being caught in blizzards in the west have from time to time appeared in the public press, but when such experiences come home, the interest is more realistic. Passengers on the Madoc train which left here on Friday last passed through an ordeal which they have no desire to have repeated, and while hardships were endured, all fortunately survived.

At 12.55 p. m. on Friday last the train in question left Belleville station for the village of Madoc, some 26 miles distant. The train was made up of an engine, baggage car, mail car and a passenger coach. At the time the weather was anything but inviting, the temperature being but a few degrees above zero, and a strong north-west wind prevailed, piling the snow up in an indiscriminate manner. After much difficulty the train reached a point three miles west of West Huntingdon station, where it was forced to come to a standstill and all efforts to move it proved futile.

STALLED IN A DRIFT.

It was firmly stalled in a drift of snow, and remained in that condition for 36 hours before relief was obtained. On board the train were five women, three babies, one of the latter being ill, Dr. Harper, of Madoc, F. Curry, traveller, Mr. Tummon, insurance agent of this city and a few others. It was ascertained that all there was aboard the train to eat were some soda biscuits, of which the first meal was made. It was fortunate that a physician was on board to attend to the little one who was sick, and by the aid of some stimulants the child survived the ordeal. As the coach was none too warm and fuel was fast becoming scarce, the mail car was virtually converted into a nursery. Saturday afternoon Mr. Charles Moore and other male passengesr started out to obtain something to eat. From where the train was stalled to the nearest farm house across the fields was about a mile, but it was found impossible to reach the place without the aid of snowshoes, which, of course, were unavailable. The party then walked down the track for 3 miles and, after much difficulty and enduring severe cold, reached a farm house. Here they related their experiences and were provided with a meal, the first in several hours, and also given refreshments in abundance for those who were upon the train. The track was in such a condition that the party were gone some hours. It is needless to state their arrival back to the train was hailed with delight by the belated passengers, who were almost famished. During all these hours all that could be obtained to drink was melted snow.

An effort had been made to reach the train by two engines and a snow plow which were sent out from Belleville. This outfit also became stalled, and when the belated train was reached it could not be moved until a number of men with shovels cleared the track for some distance. It was a relief when the train moved, but it was at a very slow pace, namely one mile per hour. It was 13 miles to Madoc from where the train was stalled and it required that many hours to reach Madoc station. At 5.10 on Sunday morning the train finally reached its destination.

All through this terrible ordeal the train hands did all in their power for the comfort of the passengers.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

LITTLE VISITOR DEAD.

Norma Denning, aged 1 year and 8 months, died yesterday at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Cronk, who resides at Corbyville. Mrs. Denning, whose home is at Streetsville, was with her young daughter visiting here. The little one was ill but a few days.

PLAINTIFF RECOVERED.

Before Judge Deroche last week a case from Trenton was disposed of. Ann Jane Cross claimed damages from Wm. McWaters and Frank Ellis for damages for unlawful seizure and sale of goods owned by the plaintiff. Verdict for plaintiff for $100. Mr. O'Rourke for plaintiff, and Mr. Abbott for defendant.

A DOUBLE AFFLICTION.

On Saturday Mrs. George Edwards, who resides on South John Street, received the sad intelligence that her brother, Mr. George Newman, had dropped dead at his home at Lincoln, England. The affliction in the family was double, as at the time Mrs. Newman was attending the funeral of a son-in-law. Mr. Newman was 67 years of age, and is survived by a widow and a family of nine children, nearly all of whom are married. Heart disease was the cause of death.

BOX PACKING SCHOOL.

Under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture a local box packing school was held in Stirling Town Hall on Feb. 5th, 6th and 7th. Messrs. W. F. Kydd, of Simcoe, and Leslie Smith, of Wellington, Prince Edward County, were in charge and both were delighted with the large attendance and great interest taken. As many as fifty packers were busy at one time, comprising both young men and men of mature years. The special features of the course were the excellent work of many of the amateurs in the plain packing and the more difficult work of wrapping and judging of packages. For excellence of their pack the following students secured the ribbons: W. Scott, first; F. Hubble, second; George Heisman, third. Most of the box packers were students in the agricultural short course.

HE WENT HOME.

On Saturday afternoon a man named James Galey, whose home is at Gilmour, was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. This morning he was allowed his liberty and returned home.

INTERESTING SERMON.

The Rev. E. W. Halpenny, B. D., General Secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association of Ontario, preached a very interesting sermon in the Tabernacle church yesterday morning on the subject of visions. Mr. F. E. O'Flynn spoke to a large congregation in the evening on missions, giving many interesting illustrations and a comprehensive detail of present day conditions.

A CANINE NUISANCE

In this city there is a Dog By-Law, one clause of which reads: "That no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the said city without the collar or fastening a metallic medal thereon, designating its number, and any dog running at large contrary to this provision of the By-Law may be forthwith destroyed by the police. Is this section of the By-Law being enforced by the police? Of late there have been many complaints about dogs disturbing peaceful slumbers and otherwise creating annoyance. This morning it was an actual fact that the teachers and pupils of Octavia Street School were disturbed by a number of canines which gathered about the school premises and kept up a continual din. If a few of these vagrant curs were destroyed it might not prove a serious loss to the city.

Swindler's Gets Three Years.

Quebec, Feb. 12.—A slick flim-flam artist, Hector Beaudet by name, was rounded up Saturday morning by the police here. Beaudet at different times has fraudulently collected gas, telephone and telegraph bills, and all together he is said to have got away with several hundred dollars. Saturday morning he tried to collect a gas bill that was paid Friday, and the woman at the house at which he called telephoned for the police. Beaudot was arraigned before the magistrate in the afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

BOY'S QUICK EYE CAUGHT THE THIEF

Clever Recovery at Union Station of Bridegroom's Tickets and Gloves.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Quick work marked the capture of a thief at the Union Station a few days ago. A bridal couple enroute from Nova Scotia to the west stayed over for a short visit with friends in Toronto. While at the Union Station the young man wished to look in his suit case and laid down beside it his gloves—a $5 pair—and his card case containing his car tickets, worth $100. When he turned to take them up again they were gone. He looked around, but saw no one who looked suspicious, so he went at once to the policeman on duty, who found a boy who said he saw a woman putting a pair of gloves in her bag.

The boy said he would recognize her, so the young husband, the policeman and the boy hurried down to the train shed, where three trains were about to start. They went through one, but the boy said he did not see the woman; then through another with the same result. The third train was just moving off, but they got the conductor to hold it a minute, and as they passed through t the boy suddenly said: "There she is!"

The policeman said: "You put a pair of gloves and a card case into your bag just now. You had better produce them." She did so and the policeman said: "If you had been a man you would not have escaped the cells, but as you are a woman, I'll let you go." And it was all done in ten minutes. The young man gave the boy $5 for his help in recovering the stolen articles.

DEATH ROLL.

JAMES TUGNETT.

As the result of a paralytic stroke which he sustained a few days ago, Mr. James Tugnett passed away at 11.30 on Sunday night at his residence on Coleman Street. Deceased was one of Belleville's well known and respected citizens. In the year 1835 Mr. Tugnett was born at Gearing, England, he being thus 77 years of age. At the early age of 13 years the deceased entered the British navy and during the long period connected with the service saw many countries. He was for some time on Lord Nelson's celebrated battleship, Victory, a vessel which was revered as a national memorial of Britain's naval supremacy and England's ideal naval hero and tactician. Thirty-nine years ago the deceased came to this city, where he had since made his home. For many years he was engaged in the dyeing business. He was one of the oldest pensioners in the city. In politics Mr. Tugnett was a Conservative, ever faithful to the party of his choice. Deceased was a member of St. John's Anglican church. The only society with which he was identified was Oxford Lodge, Sons of England. Mrs. Tugnett passed away some years ago. Surviving are a family of two sons and six daughters. The sons are William, of this city, and James of Trenton. The daughters are Mrs. A. F. Lazier, of this city; Mrs. Burnham and Mrs. Covert, of Toronto; Mrs. Arnold, of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Connelly, of Edmonton, and Mrs. B. Hall, of Montreal.

A WELL-KNOWN MANAGER DEAD

Ted Marks, a Familar Figure on Broadway, has Passed Away

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Theodore David Marks, better known for thirty years as Ted, died yesterday morning at the Hotel Metropole. As an international impresario of vaudeville artists he was known to all theatrical people in America and England.

For more than thirty years he was a familiar figure along the streets. Always immaculately dressed in frock coat and top hat, with an inevitable white carnation in his buttonhole, he was conspicuous on the "Rialto," from the time that that imaginary public place was located near Fourteenth Street until it was moved up to Times Square.

He was born in Louisiana, near New Orleans, on Nov. 14, 1853. His mother was a daughter of Isador Newman, the founder of a family of wealthy New Orleans bankers and merchants. At 18 he began his career as a cigar salesman, and was, in turn, a window draper, and a jewelry drummer in San Francisco. Thirty-three years ago Shook C. Palmer gave him a position in the box office of the Union Square Theatre, and thus began his theatrical career.

Later he became an advance agent for Daniel Frohman, and then, when Oscar Hammerstein opened the Olympia, now the New York Theatre, he was made house manager. Previous to that time he managed the Imperial Music Hall, at Twenty-Ninth Street and Broadway; later the Weber-Fields Music Hall. His last engagement as a house manager was at the Plaza Music Hall, when it opened two seasons ago.

But it was as an agent for vaudeville artists that he was best known. He brought here from England and the Continent many noted stars and he had crossed the Atlantic more times than any one else in the theatrical business.

In New York he inaugurated the idea of Sunday concerts at the American Theatre, and made it possible for "sacred" concerts to be given without police interference and with paying patronage.

Mr. Marks was a member of the Masons, the Elks, and the Friars. The funeral services will be held at the Merritt undertaking rooms to-morrow, with Masonic services, and the body will be taken to New Orleans for burial.

A benefit planned for him at Cohan's Theatre on Feb. 15 will be held notwithstanding his death, and the proceeds will be used toward a monument to be erected to his memory.

BRITISH AND GERMAN NAVAL STRENGTH

Britain Feels the Strain of Competition, but will not Call a Halt

A comparison of British and German naval expenditure and naval strength shows why Britain feels the strain of competition, but is determined to increase her expenditure on her warships, unless Germany agrees to a reduction of armaments. In 1904 Germany spent twenty-one million dollars on new naval construction, and England fifty-five millions. Last year Germany spent fifty-five millions and England sixty-five. Two years ago Germany actually spent two million dollars more than did England.

The naval strength of the two nations last year was as follows:

	Brit.	Ger.
Battleships—
First-class Dreadnoughts	22	16
Second-class	10	0
Third-class	30	20
Fourth-class (obsolete	0	2
Armored Cruisers—
Invincibles	8	5
Other types	34	9
Cruisers (modern), speed 23 knots and over	34	23
Destroyers (ten years old or less)	126	96
Torpedo boats (modern)	47	6
Submarines	68	24
Cost (million dollars)	221	110
Men (thousands)—
Peace strength	134	64
Reserve	58	60

It should be remembered that Britain's naval strength is scattered round the world, while Germany's is concentrated.

Is there one or are there many causes for longevity? Here is Dr. A. Fisher, father of the Hon. Sydney Fisher, hale, hearty and active at the age of ninety-six. His explanation is —"I'm an optimist. I ought to be what the goody-goody people call very thankful; but the secret of life is to live simply and plainly—plain living and high thinking; to attach yourself to good causes; do good; benefit your fellows in so far as possble." That, however, does not answer the question, for many people live simply and plainly and "think high," without reaching old age. What makes the difference?—Kingston Standard.

CHAPTER XVII.

A LITTLE FINGER.

THE king of Jugendheit, Prince Ludwig and the chancellor sat in the form of a triangle. Herbeck was making a pyramid of his finger tips, sometimes touching his chin with his thumbs. His face was cheerful.

His royal highness, still in the guise of a mountaineer, sat stiffly in his chair, the expression on his face hardly translatable; that on the king's not at all. He was dressed in the brilliant uniform of a colonel in the Prussian uhlans, an honor conferred upon him recently by King William. Prior to his advent into the grand duchy of Ehrenstein he had been to Berlin. A whim for which he was now grateful had cozened him into carrying this uniform along with him on his adventures. It was only after he met Gretchen that there came moments when he forgot he was a king. He was pale. From hour to hour his heart seemed to grow colder and smaller and harder, till it now rested in his breast with the heaviness of a stone, out of which life and the care of living had been squeezed. He rarely spoke, leaving the burden of the conversation to rest upon his uncle's tongue.

"So your royal highness will understand," said Herbeck, "that it was the simplest move I could make and the safest. Were it known or had it been known this morning that the king of Jugendheit and the prince regent had entered Dreiberg in disguise and had been lodged in the Steinschloss there would have been a serious riot in the city. So I had you arrested as spies. Presently a closed carriage will convey you to the frontier and the unfortunate incident will be ended. And when you cross the frontier it would be wise to disperse the troops waiting there for you."

Prince Ludwig smiled. "It was only an army of defense. The duke had nearly 20,000 men at the maneuvers. I have no desire for war; but, on the other hand, I am always ready for it."

"There will never be any war between us," prophetically. "The duke grows impatient at times, but I can always rouse his sense of justice. You will, of course, pardon the move I made. There will be no publicity. There will be no newspaper notoriety, for the journalists will know nothing of what has really happened."

"For that consideration your excellency has my deepest thanks," replied Prince Ludwig.

"I thought it best to let you go without seeing the duke. The meeting between you two might be painful."

"That also is thoughtful of your excellency," said the king. "I have no desire to see or speak to his highness."

"There is, however, one favor I should like to ask," said the prince.

"Can I grant it?"

"Easily. I wish to leave a sum of money in trust to be paid to one Gretchen Schwarz, who lives in the Krumerweg. She is ambitious to become a singer. Let nothing stand between her and her desires."

"Granted."

The heart of the king at the sound of that dear name suddenly expanded and stifled him. The stiffness went out of his shoulders.

"Ah, this little world of ours! The mistakes and futile schemes we make upon it!" The chancellor dallied with his quill pen. "It was a cynical move of fate that your majesty should see the goose girl first."

"Enough!" cried the king vehemently. "Let us have no more retrospection, if you please. Moreover, I shall be obliged to you if you will summon at once the carriage which is to take us to the frontier. The situation has been amicably and satisfactorily explained. I see no reason why we should be detained any longer."

"Nor I," added Prince Ludwig. "I am rather weary of these tatters. I should even like a bath."

The three of them were immediately attracted by a singular noise in the corridor. The door swung in violently, crashing against the wall and shivering into atoms the Venetian mirror. The king, the prince and the chancellor were instantly upon their feet. The king clutched the back of his chair with a grip of iron. Gretchen? Her highness? What was Gretchen doing here? Ah, could be have flown!

The duke came in first, and he waited till the others were inside. Then he shut the door with lesser violence and rushed over to the chancellor.

"Herbeck, you villain!"

The chancellor stared at the gypsy, at Von Arnsberg, at Grumbach.

"Herbeck, you black scoundrel!" cried the duke. "Can you realize how difficult it is not to take you by the throat and strangle you here and now?"

"He is mad!" said Herbeck, bracing himself against the desk.

"Yes. I am mad, but it is the sane madness of a terribly wronged man. Come here, you gypsy!" The duke seized Herbeck's hand and pressed it down fiercely on the desk. "Look at that and tell me if it is not the hand of a Judas!"

SCHOOL SAVINGS.

Great bodies move slowly. Several years ago The Intelligencer repeatedly urged the Board of Education to examine into and if practicable, put in operation in the schools of this city the penny savings system which had been introduced in certain schools in Ontario, after having been worked successfully in the United States and in some parts of the Maritime Provinces. The project found no favor with the Board at that time, nor did it in later years, although it was advocated by some of the members. Last year, however, it met with favor to the extent that two of the Head Masters of the Public Schools were deputed to visit Toronto and examine into the operation of the system in that place. Those gentlemen recently reported on the subject in a favorable sense, and as the matter will no doubt be brought up for discussion at an early meeting of the local Board, the following report, which was presented at a banquet which was tendered to 140 friends of the movement, and which was held at Toronto on Friday night last, may assist the Board in arriving at a conclusion on the subject.

Since the Penny Bank of Toronto was founded in 1905 there have been 1,974,973 transactions by youthful patrons, or nearly as many transactions as there are people in Ontario, and on February 8 of the present year the sum of $193,715.59 lay in the Postoffice Savings Bank at Ottawa as deposited by the school children of Ontario and Quebec. This deposit shows an increase of $24,000 in a year.

In Toronto to-day there are seventy-five branches of the institution at the corner of York and Richmond streets in the Toronto schools. There are eighty-five branches outside of Toronto in Ontario and Montreal. In the latter there are four.

To celebrate the growth of the Penny Bank during 1911 the President, Mr. Hamilton Cassels, K.C., and the directors tendered a banquet to 140 friends of the movement last night. Mr. Cassels was the toastmaster and a number of brief addresses were made testifying to the benefits of the movement accruing to the school children of the Province.

Mr. H. D. Lockhart Gordon, manager of the bank, read letters from his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mr. Aemilius Jarvis regretting their inability to attend. He then presented a statement summarizing the work and growth of the institution during the past year. The sum of $81,000 was deposited in the Toronto banks during the year.

"The main idea of the movement," said Mr. Gordon, "is to train the children to become depositors in chartered banks. Much success has been attained in this aim, and in the fifteen months ending December 31, 1911, a total of 443 accounts were transferred from the Penny Bank to various chartered banks, representing in money $9,648. The number of accounts opened since the Penny Bank started on April 1, 1905, is 78,523; the number of accounts closed 34,541; number of accounts at the close of 1911, 43,982; total number of deposits 1,874,094; withdrawals, 100,879; total number of transactions, 1,974,973."

In Toronto the schools with the largest amount on deposit are: Ogden, $5,011.62; Dewson, $4,029.06; Dufferin, $3,589.87. There are eight schools, including the above, with over $3,000 on deposit, and fourteen other schools with over $2,000. Ogden School leads the list with the largest number of accounts, having 2,125.

Mr. R. S. Gourlay, ex-President of the Toronto Board of Trade, and the next speaker, expressed pleasure at the present magnitude of the movement. "This movement," he said, "has an educative feature. It teaches the children the value of regular and consistent saving for the future. It teaches the children that in these times of general prosperity we are too apt to forget prudence. It is true business to save."

Principal R. Gillies of the Public Schools of Port Hope, said that since the Penny Bank was established in that town about four years ago the largest individual deposit was $175, that of the daughter of a laborer.

FIELDS AND FORESTS.

How can the existence of forests at the sources of a stream affect the crops in the district watered by the district watered by the stream?

The question is not hard to answer. The chief need for the growth of all plants is water. One of the best known authorities estimates that field crops use 200 to 500 tons of water for every ton of dry material produced. This uses up the water in from 2 1-2 to 5 inches deep of the soil.

Naturally, the nearer the water is to the roots of the plants, the easier it is for the plants to take up the water and the better the crop will grow. Water, whether running free in the stream or lying in the soil, will seek the lowest level. If the level of the water in the stream falls, then the water in the soil (first, from the near neighborhood of the stream, and then from farther away) will find its way to the stream, and the level of the water in the soil will fall, and so the plants will find it harder to get water.

In order to keep up the level of the streams in the summer, there must be a constant flow of water from the head-waters. It is well-known that, when the forests are cut away, the water from the melting of the snow in spring and the rains of other seasons flows away rapidly, often causing damage by floods. The dry seasons of summer find the streams almost dry. The soil in the forest, however, is of a spongy nature and soaks up the water falling on it, afterwards giving it out gradually and so furnishing an even supply to the streams and enabling them to keep up their levels. The higher the level of the stream is maintained, the higher will be the level of the water in the soil, and the easier the plants will find it to grow. It is for reasons above outlined that it is so important for the farmers of the West that the Dominion forest reserves should be maintained. The Rocky Mountain forest reserve thus serves the farmers of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the Riding of Duck Mountain reserves the farms of northwestern and northern Manitoba and the Turtle Mountain reserve a considerable portion of southwestern Manitoba.

CURRENT COMMENT.

This is the aniversary of the birth of Lincoln, the Martyr President of the United States.

"Do you believe the millenium will ever come?"

"I don't know. What I'm wondering is, will this winter ever go."

On Monday, the 5th inst., the Penny Bank system was opened in the Smith's Falls Public Schools, and judging from the large number of depositors and the large amount deposited to the credit of the children, it is sure to prove a success. A good example for Belleville to follow.

A literary discussion in England is in progress on the amount of real poetry that a writer can turn out in a year. The Khan, a Canadian versifier, turned out something like a column a day of verse for months at a time. But such output was probably the result of rushing the Khan.—Ottawa Journal.

February has vindicated its reputation for giving us the coldest weather of the winter somewhere between the 10th and the 15th of the month. On Saturday it was 22 degrees below zero, yesterday it was 18 below and this morning 15 below. "Time for a change," as the opposition to the powers that be always say on the eve of a general election.

The Kingston Whig rejoices in the fact that the majority in favor of the Borden Government in the House of Commons on the resolution proposing the appointment of a Tariff Commission was "but 52." Considering that the majority was greater than the Conservative majority in the Lower House, our contemporary seems to have got on the wrong side of the fence for once.

It has been said that Mr. Churchill's meeting at Belfast was arranged by the Liberals and not by the Nationalists. But surely no one doubts that the Asquith Government follows, and since the last election has always followed the course dictated by the Nationalists. The present British Ministry has no majority of its own either inside or outside the House of Commons. It does as it is told by the group of extremists to whom it owes its precarious existence.—Montreal Gazette.

The leader and the ex-leader of the Ontario Opposition are now very stout in their demand that the western boundary of the Province be extended to the Churchill River. But where were they when the Laurier Government was fixing that line, and Sir James Whitney was trying to get the boundary so extended? Assuredly they were not back of Ontario's champion. They were giving the Laurier Government their hearty support. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier had chosen to give the whole of Keewatin to Ontario's neighbor there would have been no protest from Mr. Rowell or Mr. MacKay.—Mail and Empire.

Europe seems to be infected with an epidemic of espionage. Spies have been captured both in England and Germany on several occasions in the last year or so, and the sentencing of Mr. Bertrand Stewart, a London lawyer, for an alleged offence at Leipsic, has aroused anger in Great Britain and hostility to the Fatherland. Each nation walks about, as it were, with a chip on its shoulder daring the other to knock it off. The much vaunted arbitration movement so far has had about as much effect as the Lemieux Act in preventing trouble when the parties are out for a fight. What ails the nations, anyway?—Montreal Gazette.

THE BEEHIVE CHARLES N. SULMAN

Montreal Against Union.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—The voting on church union here has not gone far yet in either the Presbyterian or Methodist churches, and results to date show divided opinion. St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, showed a vote of 243 to 53 in favor of the proposed basis, while Calvin Church voted against it in proportion of three to one. The Sherbrooke Street Methodist voted ten to five against, while Montreal South Methodist were unanimously against the basis.

The St. James' Methodist Church did not render a decision, but instead appointed a committee to go into the matter thoroughly. The results at other churches are not known as yet.

Aid to Farmers.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—The bill making provision for assistance to agriculture, which was foreshadowed in the speech from the throne, will be introduced by Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture. The Government is fully alive to the importance of agriculture as the staple industry of Canada, and it is intended to give most substantial encouragement to it in the form of provincial subsidies.

The bill will be framed on similar lines to the good roads bill and will be explained in a short speech by the Minister in charge.

Peach Crop Ruined?

Fear Niagara Ice Jam.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 12.—Fears that an ice jam similar to that of three years ago, will form in the lower river, are expressed by river men. The thermometer hovering below zero increases the danger, as reports from down the river points last night say the ice is moving slowly and the river is almost choked at the mouth. It was 16 below zero at midnight Saturday.

WANT BILL REPEALED

French M.P.'s Express Themselves in Interviews.

Henri Bourassa's Paper, Le Nationalist, Publishes a Series of Opinions In Which Several Quebec Members Declare For a Repeal of the Laurier Government's Naval Bill—The Measure Is Useless, They Say.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—Mr. Henri Bourassa and his friends appear to be determined upon the repeal of the naval bill. Le Nationalist yesterday contained a number of interviews on the subject. Sir Rodolphe Forget, M.P., says: "In reply to your telegram, I may say that I am in favor of the repeal of the naval law."

Mr. Honore Achim, M.P. for Labelle: "I said during my campaign that the measure was a bad one and I have not changed my opinion. I say that the law should be repealed."

Mr. J. O. Lavallie, M.P. for Bellechasse; "My opinion as to the repeal of the law has never changed, and I will be in favor of any measure to this sense, provided it may be presented in a proper way and not in the hurried manner as proposed in certain quarters. The shelving of the Laurier project and the attitude of the Government on the question is satisfactory to me."

Mr. Paul Emile Lamarche, M.P. for Nicolet: "Logic and sincerity are still the best policies to act upon. The consequence of the 21st of September have not caused me to change my opinion so often expressed. The law should be repealed and I hope the executive itself which will respond to the voice of the people."

Mr. Albert Sevigny, M.P. for Dorchester: "The naval law will be repealed."

Mr. J. P. O. Guilbault, M.P. for Joliette, said: "I am as I have always been, against the naval bill of the Laurier Government."

Mr. Joseph Rainville, M.P. for Chambly Vercheres: "I am with all my heart in favor of the repeal of the naval bill. As a matter of fact, what serious argument can be brought forward favoring its continuance, for both Imperialists and autonomists condemn it? In fact, the Imperial authorities ask for nothing else than that preached by the Nationalists during the last campaign and the attitude of the Laurier Government is all the more strange, as they had read the report of the Imperial authorities."

Mr. J. M. Tellier, M.P.P. for Joliette, and leader of the Opposition in Quebec: "I fought the naval bill and I have not changed my opinion since."

Mr. Jos. Sylvester, M.P. for Montcalm: "I will be happy to see the law repealed because we promised the people that nothing would be done without consulting them and for the reason that the measure is absolutely useless."

Extradition Mix-Up.

London, Feb. 12.—An interesting legal point has arisen in connection with the case of "Monte Carlo Wells," who was arrested in England recently on behalf of the French embassy. One of the conditions of the recent extradition treaty is that a handed-over prisoner "must be accompanied with all his goods and chattels" and financial effects recovered under proceedings following the arrest.

The result of this procedure has been that money, securities and other effects which Wells had in England have all been secured by the prosecution on behalf of the French embassy, and it seems possible that the French depositors in Wells bank, who, it is alleged, were defrauded of $200,000 might get back most of their lost savings.

But a development has occurred. Wells became bankrupt many years ago—about the time he was sentenced at the Old Bailey in March, 1893, in connection with the patent frauds, when the chief victim was a sister of Mr. Justice Phillimore. From that bankruptcy there has never been any discharge, and now the official receiver has garnisheed all discovered property of Wells, amounting, it is believed, to $150,000, in the interests of the bankruptcy creditors.

SEVEN CHINESE PERISH

Dam Bursts at Union Bay, B.C., Devastating the Valley.

Replica on Small Scale of the Austin, Pa., Catastrophe Occurs In West Coast Town When Power Dam Collapses—Chinatown Is Wiped Out—White Residents Narrowly Escape—Tragedy on Seas?

Vancouver, Feb. 12.—The bursting of a dam at a small lake near Union Bay Saturday afternoon let loose an immense flood of water, which coursed down the valley, destroying forty-five dwellings with a property loss variously estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000. Seven persons, all of whom are believed to be Chinese, are missing.

The accident occurred about 5.30 p.m., when, through the heavy rains, the dam used by the Canadian Collieries and owned by Mackenzie & Mann, in generating power for their plant at Union Bay, collapsed. The residents of the district, known as Chinatown, had but five minutes warning before the huge body of water swept down the valley. Many fled to the surrounding highlands, while others sought refuge on the tops of their houses. When the flood reached the settlements its depth was estimated at fifteen feet.

The dwellings, which were mostly of the shack variety, were broken up like matchwood and carried along on the crest of the wave, being hurled aside as the valley broadened, and the tide of water emptied itself in the sea. The Chinese and Japanese sections in the districts are reported entirely destroyed.

Other buildings which shared in the ruin were the Co-operative store, the main business house of the district, and the Government telegraph station.

A large number of the residents had narrow escapes from drowning. Those who took refuge on tops of shacks were carried along by the swirling current, many of them only escaping when the broadening expanse of water hurled their shacks to dry land on either side of the road as it made its way to Union Bay.

Seven More Victims?

Prince Rupert, B.C., Feb. 12.—Word was received here that indicates that seven men may have been lost on the west coast of Graham Island, which is one of the Queen Charlotte group. The tragedy follows the oil rush in the neighborhood of Otard Bay, about eight or ten days ago.

John Slater, an oil expert representing the British Columbia oil fields of Vancouver, with Messrs. McLaren and Stark, left Musset with supplies for a drilling outfit near Otard Bay. The supplies were put on a schooner and in tow of a gasoline launch owned by Henry Edershaw, an Indian storekeeper of Musset and three other Indians. The seven men started for Otard Bay.

The vessels report having seen them in passing Tahara Point, eight days under a high wind, the schooner sailing under its own sails. Nothing has been seen of the party since.

Worse Than Italy, He Says.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—Addressing his congregation of French-Canadians last night at the Oratory on Mance street, Rev. Dr. Thierrien, president of the Baptist Association, said that Canada was worse off than Italy in the clash between civil and religious authority. For in Italy, he said, the home of the Roman Catholic, neither the Pope nor any of his cardinals dared to declare a marriage illegal which had been celebrated before the civil authorities.

It was high time, he declared, that such a scandalous condition in the marriage laws of Canada was remedied, and it should be impossible for any one church to call in question the validity of a marriage performed by another church under authorization and with the consent of the Governor-General.

Montreal's Butter Famine.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—Montreal faces a butter famine. At present there is only about 672,000 pounds in the warehouses, and the consumption is 392,000 pounds a week.

Only about 35,000 pounds is in sight, and this is coming from New Zealand. The contribution from the surrounding country is only about 1,500 pounds a day, on account of the cold weather.

The price is now 40 cents a pound, the highest in the history of Montreal.

FIRE IMPERILS LIVES

New York Has a Blaze That Menaces Thousands.

Although Conflagration Near the Bowery Threw a Multitude of Tenement Dwellers, Hotel Guests, Theatre-Goers and Others Into a Panic Not a Single Casualty Occurs — Total Damage Is $300,000.

New York, Feb. 12.—A fire so serious that all of the fire-fighting apparatus in the city was summoned to combat it broke out late Saturday night in one of the most congested sections of New York, near the Bowery, throwing thousands of tenants, hotel guests, theatre-goers and others in a panic. In place of the great casualty list which the police feared, the reports from the scene were startling from the fact that not a single serious injury was reported. The wonder of it was great when the police figured out that nearly 5,000 persons were driven from crowded buildings at a late night hour, some in panic, in the streets, where they shivered in cold near zero. The total damage was about $300,000.

The rout which the fire caused was summed up as follows:

Three hundred tenants of the tenement building near the corner of Christopher and Stanton streets, where the fire started.

A thousand young women and men who were dancing on the upper floors of a seven-storey building adjoining the tenement, which took fire and burned rapidly.

Four hundred women in the Salvation Army Hotel for Women, at 245 Bowery, which was seriously threatened when the dance hall behind it burned down.

Four hundred men in Luhr's Hotel, near the Salvation Army place.

A thousand spectators of a play in the Lipzin Theatre, where the third act of "Love and Riches" was being played in Yiddish.

Fifteen hundred tenants of buildings in the vicinity which were not seriously threatened, but whose occupants were mainly foreigners, and they became so frightened that they fled from their homes.

Fierce Fire at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Feb. 12.—One life is believed to have been lost, a fireman was probably fatally hurt, and $150,000 damage was done in a fire that destroyed the plant of the Bingham Trunk Co. on the Lower Terrace early yesterday. Albert Jones, watchmon of the building, has not been seen since the fire and probably was burned to death.

While fighting the flames on the fourth floor, six firemen were cut off from the stairway. They climbed out on the window ledges. All were badly burned, and one of them fell to the street. His legs were broken.

LEVEL CROSSING TRAGEDY.

Hamilton Man Is Killed While Driving a Grocery Wagon.

Hamilton, Feb. 12—Morris Studnetz, a Russian Jew, 30 years old, living at 377 Sherman avenue north, was almost instantly killed at the Sherman avenue crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway, when an eastbound passenger train about nine o'clock Saturday morning crashed into the grocery wagon which Studnetz was driving across the railway tracks.

The body of the victim and the top of the wagon were carried several blocks by the train before it could be stopped. The gates at the crossing, which are ordinarily used for the protection of the public, were out of order when the accident occurred, and the railway company's watchman was also absent at the time, owing, it is said, to his being sick. The body of Studnetz was removed to the city morgue, where Coroner Hopkins opened an inquest at noon Saturday. The enquiry into the circumstances of the man's death will be continued at the central police station on Thursday night of this week.

Oppose Steam Trawling.

Halifax, Feb. 12.—The fishermen of Lunenburg have started an agitation against steam trawling. A meeting was held Saturday night at which one of the chief speakers was Captain F. G. Robinson, of Boston, and at which Captain Heckman, of Gloucester, was also present. Captain Robinson said the fishing interests of Gloucester would raise $100,000 and perhaps $1,000,000 to put the steam trawlers out of business. He argued that steam trawling reduced the size and number of fish caught.

A resolution was passed, asking the Federal Government to prohibit the landing in Canada of fish caught by steam trawlers, and that steam trawlers be refused coal and supplies at Canadian ports. It was resolved to send a delegation to Ottawa, and a committee was appointed to carry on an aggressive agitation.

Train Runs Off Track.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—The Grand Trunk train which left Toronto at 9 a.m. Saturday for Montreal, left the track near Lancaster, Ont. The engineer remained at his post and applied the emergency brakes. There was no injury either to passengers or to rolling stock. The cause of the accident is supposed to have been contraction of the rails, due to the unusually cold weather. The passengers were taken on to Montreal by a special train after twelve hours' delay, the track being blocked for some time.

W.C.T.U. at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—The securing of legislation against the cigarette will be the object next Thursday of a large and representative deputation, from the Dominion W.C.T.U., which will see Premier Borden. Among other members of the deputation will be Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Dominion W.C.T.U.; Mrs. Whitman of Canso, N.S.; Mrs. Walters of Muskoka; Mrs. S. E. G. McKee of Barrie, and others.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Heavy receipts at primary terminals had a bearish effect to-day on wheat. Largely as a result, closing figures were 1-4 to 5-8 cents under last night. In corn, the outcome was unchanged to a shade up; oats finished at 1-8 cent advance, and hog products less expensive by a shade to 7 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ⅜d lower, and on corn ½d higher. Antwerp wheat closed unchanged, Berlin ¼c lower, Budapest unchanged.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—There was no improvement in the demand for Manitoba spring wheat, and cables were weaker, with prices 3d to 4½d per quarter lower, but there continues to be a good enquiry for oats, and, as bids are in line, a steady business is being done for May-June shipment to some ports. The local market is strong for oats under a good demand from all sources for car lots. American corn is strong at an advance of ½c per bushel. A fair volume of business was done in spring wheat flour for export account, an advance of 3d per sack. The local market is firm under a good demand. Bran is scarce and firm, and sales of shorts were made at another advance of $1 per ton, and as high as $29 is being realized for some grades of middlings. The market for rolled oats is strong, and prices are 20c per barrel higher. Butter fairly active and firm. Receipts for week were 482, against 753 a year ago. There have been purchases made of 5000 packages of New Zealand butter, of which some is now on the way here. Demand for eggs fair. Receipts for week, 625 cases, against 3400 a year ago. All grades of refined sugar were advanced 10c per 100 pounds.

Want Civic Grant.

Kingston, Feb. 12.—A deputation of General Hospital governors waited on the civic finance committee and asked for a grant of $5,000 towards the new wing, to cost $30,000. There is a proposition on foot to create a reserve fund of about $1,000 by the alma mater society of Queen's. The society handles about $10,000 a year.

William McCammon, market clerk, seized a quantity of butter on the market yesterday for being under-weight, in some cases it was a pound and a half short. Farmers have been notified that they must weigh butter, and if the scales are to blame, to secure new ones. Butter sold at 40 cents.

Kingston experienced the coldest weather in years, Saturday, the thermometer registering 26 below zero. Ice-cutting on the harbor had to be stopped as the men could not stand the weather. The plumbers were the busiest people in town.

Third Run to Fire.

Hamilton, Feb. 12.—Saturday afternoon smouldering embers in the ruins of Robt. Duncan & Co.'s bookbindery, which was destroyed by fire last Monday, burst into flames, and the fire department for the second time since the fire was supposed to be put out was called.

The difficulty in completely extinguishing the fire is attributed to the extreme cold weather which prevailed at the time of the conflagration, and which has continued since, causing the water thrown on the fire to freeze before having time to saturate the paper and other inflammable material in the debris.

Found Body In Mill Race.

St. Catharines, Feb. 12.—The body of John Dick, who had been missing from Merriton for the past week, was found yesterday morning in a raceway under Riordan's paper mill, the water having been drawn off for that purpose.

Dick was a Scotchman, 32 years of age, having been in this country about three years. For some time he had been employed at Riordan's and, being intoxicated, strolled back there a week ago Saturday night, and evidently fell into the water.

Coroner Jory, after a conference with Crown Attorney Brennan, decided an inquest was unnecessary.

THESE ARE PLAIN FACTS

Now, when nearly everybody is coughing, it is well to know the plain truth about coughs and colds.

Since coughs are caused by irritation of the sensitive lining of the bronchial tubes, the only way to cure a cough is to stop that inflammation.

The only way to do that is through the blood, by making it richer so that it will nourish and soothe the inflamed, tender tissues.

Instead of cough syrups we always recommend that sterling blood and strength renewer, Vinol. It is a delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil and actually cures coughs, colds and bronchitis by building up the whole system.

Mrs. Bessie Mathes, Lynchburg, S. C., says, "I want you to know what Vinol has done for me. I have had chronic bronchitis for the past year, coughing, and losing sleep a great deal. Two bottles of Vinol fixed me up all right, my cough is gone and I am better in every way."

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim.—Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

ELOQUENT LECTURE ON FATHER MATTHEW

Mr. McNiel Graphically Describes Work of Great Temperance Apostle in Ireland

Last evening St. Michael's Total Abstinence Society gave their friends a rare treat in the form of a lecture on the life and works of Father Matthew, the celebrated founder of Catholic total abstinence in Ireland. The lecture was delivered by Mr. McNeil, B.A., a young man who is going through for the priesthood in a Montreal seminary. No small credit is due Mr McNeil for the able manner in which he handled his subject and entertained the large audience present for nearly two hours. He gave a graphic description of conditions in Ireland which had to be combatted by Father Matthew, and the manner in which, by word and example, he conducted the work in hand. Great emphasis was laid on the method of conducting a total abstinence society by example. The man who does not drink, or who does not make a practice of getting drunk, can do more for the cause of total abstinence by joining the society than all the talking they can do for themselves.

An insight into the amount of work done by Father Matthew and the results obtained by him, can be had from the following figures:

In the first three months of the movement 25,000 persons in the city of Cork alone had taken the pledge; in five months he had gained 130,000 more souls, and in nine months 156,000. In the city of Limerick, in four days 150,000 joined his standard. In Maynooth 80,000, and in Dublin 70,000. In Glasgow, Scotland, he enrolled 12,000 in one day. He then went to England and in a short time 600,000 people had taken the pledge. The good work continued until, in a few short years, he had got 5,000,000 people to take the pledge. This resulted in a marked decrease of crime and a large falling off of police court cases, and with all this a reduction of $500,000 in the revenue of the country, received from the liquor traffic. In 1847 he was named as Bishop of Cork, but was rejected by Rome as it would interfere with the work he was doing in the interests of total abstinence. He was recognized by the late Queen Victoria and granted a pension of $1,500 a year. He visited America in 1849 and converted over half a million people to his cause. He returned to Ireland and died at Queenstown on December 8th, 1856, his only regret being that he had not begun his work sooner.

At the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was moved by Mr. C. C. St Charles and seconded by Mr. P. J. Wims. In replying to the vote of thanks Mr. Mcneil expressed his surprise and gratitude, and claimed as his only reward for his services an additional twenty-five members at the next meeting of St. Michael's Total Abstinence Society. Twenty-four would not do, and he urged the members to get busy and secure the required twenty-five.

Those who assisted in the programme were: Mrs. Jas. Grant, Misses K. Bawden, B. Dolan, A. St. Charles, Messrs. Jas. Lee, C. J. Peppin and J. Fahey.

The evening closed with the singing of God Save the King and everyone departed, convinced that the lecture had been of great assistance to the society in their cause of temperance.

LITERARY NOTES.

Sir Henry Norman, M.P., writing of an automobile journey in Africa in Scribner's Magazine for March says that "the comparatively small part of the Garden of Allah which exists outside of Mr. Hichen's luxuriant imagination" is within half an hour of the hotel. It was originally an old garden of the Biskra oasis and was walled around and elaborated at great cost by its eccentric owner, Count Landon.

Nansen, the Arctic explorer, has written for the March Scribner a paper in which he gives a most encouraging account of the chances of Scott and Amundsen to reach the South Pole now; in fact, the announcement of it is due in the very early spring. He describes the excellent equipment of each of them.

NEW ROLLING STOCK FOR GRAND TRUNK.

To augment present equipment the Grand Trunk System have recently placed orders for over four thousand cars of various kinds. These include 44 passenger coaches, 23 baggage cars, 300 box cars, and 1,000 coal cars. In addition to the above 918 cars of all kinds have been received from the manufacturers and put into service during the past three months.

BELLEVILLE SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

Fine Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday—Able Speeches by Rev, W. G. Clarke and General Secretary Halpenny—Sittings to be Continued this Afternoon and Evening

Even before the hour of meeting yesterday afternoon many friends and workers of our Sunday Schools were gathered together in the new Y. M. C. A. building, and while others were coming in a song service was held under the direction of Mr. Hess.

After the opening prayer by Mr. D V. Sinclair, Reb. E. W. Halpenny, B D., General Secretary of the Ontario S. S. Association, expressed regret that Mr. Fleming was not able to preside at the session, and called Rev. W. G. Clarke, B.A., to speak on the power and purpose of the A. B. C.

Mr. Clarke said that one hundred years ago the Sunday School had rediscovered the child. To-day the A. B. C. or Adult Bible Class, had rediscovered the man. Because so many men are outside of the church, the A. B. C. has a large field to operate in. In Toronto there is provision made in the churches for only one man out of every three. Knowledge is power. The Christian would, in studying, ask how these appalling conditions can be improved.

The kingdom of Jesus Christ is to encompass the lives of every man, woman and child. Therefore, the purpose of the A. B. C. is to do what it can to bring this about. Purpose is power.

After the ages of fourteen, fifteen and sixteen boys drift from Sunday School. If these boys see young men and men of mature years in school they are apt to stay there also. This the A. B. C. helps to do.

The A. B. C. have a room to themselves and for organization officers and committees, etc. These appeal to men.

The purpose of the A. B. C. is to bring men into the Sunday School, to get them to study the Bible, to lead them to decide for Jesus Christ, and to prove to them that Christianity is practicable in daily life.

Rev. E. W. Halpenny then spoke on the A. B. C. standards. He said he would continue where Mr. Clarke left off. He had said where there is knowledge there is power, and he would add where there is power there is danger. Therefore, some have been afraid of the organized class. There are three dangers:

(1) Disgusting inactivity, and this means death.

(2) Selfishness; a class of one hundred members disbanded because they could not have things their own way. An organized class must be a part of the Sunday School.

(3) Headstrong activity; that is a class which strikes off on some line and not well balanced.

After referring to the standards of existence which really means the birth of a class, Mr. Halpenny proceeded to speak of the standards of service which stand for growth:

1.—An increased membership of 50 per cent. getting other people in. Look at the statistics and see how many people are outside our Belleville Sunday Schools.

Are there not many of them who could be brought in? Folks do things when they make up their minds. Must this thing be done? The trouble is each has his own work. This fellow has his own folk. That fellow has his. But the biggest bunch in Ontario is the bunch that nobody has.

2.—The use of the Bible in the class. The Bible is not used in our homes as we would wish. Can we develop a taste for the Bible?

3.—A direct effort to try and give others the spirit of missions. All offerings should go through the proper church channels.

4.—Definite work in the community: (1) Get folks to go to church; (2) build up the prayer meeting, one class got every member to attend; (3) support all church enterprises; (4) find employment for unemployed; (5) systematic visiting of sick; (6) help the needy; (7) help in the Sunday School.

5.—To have one or more persons in each class taking the teacher-training course. The time will come in Ontario when only trained teachers will be in our Sunday Schools.

6.—Do not fear loss of spirituality. Have you grace? Have grit.

7.—To have teachers ready to go out to teach. An A. B. C. can tell off half a dozen ready for each Sunday.

Personal work. Social work—not giving suppers, but the "gladshand."

The devotional committee should be a little group banded together for prayer for individuals. The aim of every A. B. C. should be every man in a man's class, every woman in a woman's class and everyone who has not had a definite personal experience of salvation through Christ should be prayed for.

The offering was then taken.

After this the following nominating committee was appointed:

Mr. John Cook—John St. Presbyterian church.

Mr. Wm. McIntosh—St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

Mr. P. C. McLaurin—Victoria Avenue Baptist church.

Mr. Spicer—Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal church.

Mr. Reid—Christ Church.

Mr. F. Deacon—Bridge Street church.

Mr. A. E. Bailey—Holloway St. Methodist church.

Mr. M. Mott—Tabernacle Methodist

Mr. Chas. Elvins—Centre Street Methodist church.

Miss Maud Reeves—City Mission.

Mr. McBride—Bethel Hall.

Mr. Chute—University Methodist.

At six o'clock tea was served to a number of superintendents and pupils. Mr. Halpenny then spoke on the vital force of the Superintendent.

The institute will meet this afternoon at four and at six-fifteen all the pastors, officers and teachers are invited to tea and at eight o'clock the evening session will begin.

TWENTY YEARS.
Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength.—This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nervine and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists for woman's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The one remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:

"In the winter of 1908, I became greatly run down and irregular," writes Mrs. Henry Scott, of Swan Creek, Mich., Route 1, Box 43. "I slowly but surely grew worse, and, at last, resolved to apply to the doctors for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and laceration. I was in bed eleven weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take this remedy I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken three bottles I could feel myself gaining, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead—I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

Mrs. Scott.

Couldn't Get Strong
SEEMED TO HAVE LOST ALL AMBITION; WAS PALE AND ANAEMIC.
MADE WONDERFUL RECOVERY WHEN DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS WERE USED.

Mrs. La Pierre, wife of a well-known resident of Labeniene, "yet I never could get strong like other women. I ate well enough, but somehow blood rich and red I could never make. When I married I took great pride in my housekeeping, but it kept me tired all the time. Mrs. Lechance, my neighbor, looked well—she told me her health had been made by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I only thought of pills as a physic, but now I know that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more, for they quickened my stomach, liver and bowels—made me stouter and stronger, gave me such color in my cheeks as I never had before. They do good to parts in ways I need not mention in this letter, but I sincerely believe Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used at regular intervals by every woman —that's why I write this letter."

No medicine invigorates a woman like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. a box at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

HANS STECKMAN POPPED BY PROXY

Too Bashful to Do It Himself—She Was Thus Saved From Deportation

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Erminie Meyer, 20 years old, an attractive brunette from Bremen, arrived yesterday in the second cabin of the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm to visit an uncle and aunt who live in Baltimore. When the liner was made fast to her pier in Hoboken a well-dressed young man boarded her and told the immigration inspector that he come from Erminie's relatives to escort her to Baltimore.

"Why can't the uncle come for her?" queried the stern official.

"Because he is very ill, and her aunt can't come because she has to nurse him," was the reply.

The young man told the Inspector that he was Hans Steckman, that he was 24 years old, and that he was doing well in Baltimore as a decorator.

The inspector said he would have to send the girl to Ell's Island to wait the arrival of her uncle or aunt, and that failing she would have to be deported.

This caused Hans Stackman to shed tears and seek advice from a fellow-countryman, August Schlossing, the liner's baggage master. To him he explained that he had lover Erminie for more than two years and had not had the courage to ask her to be his wife. He had hoped that in Baltimore the aunt might have proposed for him. But now all was lost.

"Do you want to marry the girl right now?" August asked.

"Yes, I do," the lovelorn German replied.

Then the baggage master explained the situation to the inspector, who at once had the couple brought before him. Turning to the man he said:

"Are you willing to marry Erminie?"

Hans looked at her, blushed a fiery red, and replied, "Yes."

Then to the girl the inspector said "Erminie, are you willing to marry Hans?"

It was her turn to blush, but she answered "Yes" quite distinctly. Then the good offices of Pastor Richter of the German Lutheran Church were sought. Hans and Erminie were united and last night, still blushing

CATS CAUSE A DIVORCE.

Voss Says They Slept in His Bed and Occupied His Chair.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—Frederick Voss, a foreman in charge of one of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway shops, obtained a divorce in Common Pleas Court to-day because his wife was cruel, and insisted upon keeping nine cats in the house.

Voss said that on Christmas a year ago he was attacked by his wife and her mother with an axe.

"I didn't mind that so much," said Voss, "but I couldn't stand those nine cats in the house. They slept in my bed and occupied my favorite chair all the time."

"My wife is a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," said Voss, "and I was afraid she would have me arrested."

Mrs. Voss did not contest the suit

PEACE PROPOSALS MADE BY RUSSIA

Asks Other Powers to Join in Ending Trsco-Italian War

ROME, Feb. 11.—Details of the proposals made by Russia for peace between Italy and Turkey are not known, but it has been disclosed that they are based on the necessity of stopping the war and averting the danger of complications in the Balkans. The situation in the Balkans is regarded by Russia as most serious, and she has therefore assumed the initiative in an attempt to bring hostilities to a close. The proposal has been communicated to Germany, Austria, France and England, with a suggestion of joint action by all these powers. It is understood that it was not suggested that there be an armistice during the negotiations for peace.

Russia's motives for opening the negotiations are based on Italy's decision not to extend the sphere of hostilities to the Lower Mediterranean, and not to take decisive action to hasten the ending of the war. She therefore suggests a concerted movement to the powers to stop a conflict which Italy is bound to continue at any cost under the present programme, even if complications in the Balkans follow.

It is not believed that the Russian proposal will be successful, particularly in view of the response of Prime Minister Asquith to the British Peace Society last week, in which he said that while it was the earnest desire of the Government that the war should come to an early termination, it could not consider the matter of urging arbitration in order to entertain that end, and although the powers were always willing if invited, to assist the belligerents in coming to a friendly settlement, no opportunity for doing so had arisen.

Reports of assassinations and robberies by many bands in the Balkans indicate that practical anarchy reigns in certain sections of the country.

SMALL LOBSTERS BALKED A SHIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—When the New York and South America Steamship Company's steamship Characas arrived at Tompkinsville yesterday from Coronel, with a cargo of iron ore and nitrate of silver, Chief Officer Whian and Chief Engineer Wilson had a wondrous yarn to spin of how the ship was held up at intervals for three days by myriads of tiny lobsters of the west coast of Patagonia.

According to the Chief Officer, the Characas left Coronel on Dec. 13, and on the 23rd, nearing the Straits of Magellan, she ran into what appeared to be a floating island of tiny lobsters. They were so thick that the Characas had to force her way through them for three days and three nights, making a grating noise which disturbed the engineers in their slumber.

Four hours after the steamship struck the lobster shoal, the chief engineer discovered that the condenser pump would not work, so he had the pipe unshipped to see what the trouble was. The pipe was clogged up with small lobsters. He cleared it and then the pump worked for another five hours, and had to be cleaned out again. This continued at intervals for the entire time the Characas was among the shoal.

Chief Officer Whitan said yesterday that he did not have any specimens of the small lobsters to show, but he pointed out places along the sides of the steamship where the lilliputian crustaceans had eaten the paint off in their anger at being pushed out of the way.

SIGNS IN THE EAST HERALD A RISE IN THE PRICE OF TEA.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—It does not take a prophet nor the son of a prophet to foretell a rise in the price of tea. Apart from the signs playing across the commercial horizon, the world is full of omens (that's the right word in the right place), which make the higher cost of tea as sure and certain as the continued existence of the tea trade. Cheerfully and gaily we have sipped our favorite blend of Indian and Ceylon teas and perhaps wondered how the blender had managed to give us all the generous strength of the former with the fine flavor of the latter. But—a few cents more per pound for our favorite blend! that never crossed our mind! Yet the signs in the East say we must pay more for tea, and it is best to be philosophical, for they cannot be gainsaid.

There are more than a few reasons why tea should go up in price, even suppose we take no cognizance of the universal conditions which are raising the cost of living. The world's tea market is widening rapidly. During the last decade the people of Russia have become a nation of tea drinkers, and the people of Germany and France are begining to realize that the juice of the tea plant makes a soothing and an invigorating beverage. But while the market is widening rapidly the world's tea area is decreasing perceptibly—for this reason: Tea lands are especially adaptable for the growing of rubber, and hubber planters are finding it hard to meet the ever-growing demand for the raw product. The result is obvious. Tea plantations are being converted into rubber plantations, with the consequence that a rise in the price of tea is inevitable.

Other cogent reasons might be recorded, but the above contains enough to make us meet the expected rise in the cost of tea at least complacently.

5 Years' Rheumatism Really Cured!
YOUR CASE ISN'T LIKELY TO BE WORSE, AND CAN BE CURED QUICKLY BY NERVILINE.
HERE IS PROOF.

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of the powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my 'Life Guard,' and urge all to try its merit."

WIFE SHIVERS ON STREET, HUSBAND DIES IN HOUSE

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—After turning his aged wife out of a house on Munro street last night James Prescott, 65 years old, locked the front door, went to his room, where he was found dead a couple of hours afterward by Policeman Harper. It appears that the dead man had been brooding over some financial deal and drinking heavily for the past two weeks. Last night he came home and ordered his wife to go to a neighbor's house.

While passing the house a few minutes later the constable noticed the woman conversing with two children. She was shivering and when the policeman asked her why she was standing there she replied. "My husband has been drinking and he thought my presence in the house annoyed him, so he ordered me out." She assured the constable, however, that she would seek shelter in a neighbor's house.

Subsequently the constable on making his rounds noticed that she was still in the same place. This time she explained that she did not care to annoy her neighbors, whereupon the officer forced the door and found the lifeless form of her husband, partly dressed, stretched across the bed. Dr. Fish, who was summoned, announced that death was due to heart failure and alcoholism. No inquest will be held.

The old couple, who have been living a secluded life together, came out from England about seven years ago. They purchased three houses on Munro street and lived on the revenue in rents therefrom.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

OPEN DOORS.

In their rounds last night the police found no less than three doors of business places on Front Street insecure. In one instance the key was found in the door.

ZERO'S WORK.

Owing to the continued severe cold weather, the water works department is kept busy thawing out services. A number of services on Front Street were frozen up between Saturday evening and yesterday morning.

WANTS TO KNOW.

Mrs. W. H. Morgan, who resides on Teraulay Street, Toronto, has written the Chief of Police here asking the police to ascertain if her son is in the city, and, if found, to send him home. The lad in question, whose name is Alexander, was found here by Officer Thompson. He is a colored lad and has been about the city for some time. He will return to his home in the Queen City.

STILL SURVEYING.

Recently surveyors connected with the C.P.R. have been in the city surveying both north and south of the C.N.O.R. line. Various surveys through the city have been made in connection with this contemplated line but up to the present no definite route has been selected. That one will be made in the near future there is no doubt, as the season is fast approaching when it will be necessary to commence construction work. The general impression prevails that the line will run through the southern portion of the city.

PASSENGER COACHES BURNED

Fire destroyed one passenger coach and badly damaged another belonging to the Bay of Quinte at Tweed early yesterday morning.

URGENTLY NEEDED NOW.

Warm overcoats and underclothing for the boys at the Children's Shelter are urgently needed now. Will parents who are in sympathy with this work kindly 'phone 193 or 301. Mr. Stapley will call for parcels.

ITS FIFTH DAY.

This is the fifth day of the cold snap. It started on Friday last with 15 below zero, and following came Saturday with 22, Sunday with 18, Monday with 15, and this morning with 8, all below. This constitutes a record, and so did the temperature of January, which averaged 8 3-31 for the whole month.

ROBE STOLEN.

Last evening two young men drove into the city and placed their horse and cutter under a shed on Front St. In order to protect the animal from the cold a robe was thrown over it. The parties were surprised upon returning for the outfit to find the robe, which was new, had been stolen. The affair was reported to the police, who are endeavoring to recover the same.

WAS IT REACTION?

A neighborhood pump in the yard of Mr. John Taylor, of John Street, that has freely furnished all comers during the recent cold weather, positively refused this noon to further give up without a draught of warm waetr. Early in the morning Mr. Taylor found it entirely free from ice, but when he sought to draw from it at noon the pump was frozen stiff. Some one has said it was "reaction." Will some one else please rise and explain?

HOME GROWN LEMONS.

Mr. John Hick, of Moira Street west handed to The Intelligencer yesterday not one, but two, lemons. These fruit aer remarkable in two ways, namely that they are gigantic in size, and that they were grown by Mr. Hick in his own house on a small lemon tree which he procured from the United States some five years ago. The largest of these mammoth lemons is 14 in. by 15 1-2 in. and weighs 1 lb. 8 1-2 oz and it may be added they are of fine flavor. The smaller one weighs 8 oz They can be seen in the window of Lattimer's drug store.

SOCIETY FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Mr. James Tugnett took place this afternoon from his late residence, Coleman Street. It was under the auspices of Oxford Lodge, Sons of England, of which deceased was a member. Many members were in attendance, in addition to many friends. Services at the house were conducted by Rev. R. C. Blagrave, Rector of Christ Church who also officiated at the cemetery. Upon the casket were placed some beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were members of the lodge, namely, Bros. G. Moxam, R. G. H. Barlow, Walter Corham, Geo. E. Frost, W. J. Bradley and T. Weymark.

DOPED, BUT COST $5.

Thomas Kelley, who resides in Thurlow, was arrested last evening for being intoxicated. This morning when brought before the Magistrate he claimed that morphine tablets which he was taking were responsible for his arrest. The Magistrate advised Thomas to desist from their use. As he was up on a similar charge about a month ago, a fine of $5 and $2.50 costs was imposed and he was given 10 days to pay same, or in default, 15 days in jail.

OUT IN THE COLD.

A number of ladies and gentlemen from the city last evening, despite the chilling atmosphere, enjoyed a sleigh ride to Thrasher's Corners. They visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Thrasher, where they were made welcome, and everything was done for their comfort. While supper was being partaken of an orchestra provided music. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed and the party were not stinted in the praise of the hospitality extended to them by the host and hostess.

CLOSING SESSIONS OF S. S. INSTITUTE

Large Gathering in the Y. M. C. A.—Creature Comforts as Well as Spiritual Refreshment were Enjoyed—An Efficent Staff of Officers Elected—All Concerned Loud in Praise of the Ladies and the Building

The sessions of the institute were continued yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

In the absence of Mr. Wm. Johnson, through indisposition, Rev. A. M. Hubly occupied the chair. Miss Vera Riggs presided at the organ.

An address was given by the Rev. Spirit in Sunday School Work. 'Spiirt in Sunday School Work.

Rev. E. W. Halpenny, B.D., gave a talk on graded lessons, their meaning and value, and conducted a conference on problems in school work.

At 6 o'clock a bountiful supper was served by the ladies and their accommodation and provisions were taxed to the limit by a hundred good looking but hungry diners.

After supper Rev. Mr. Halpenny gave an address on the nurture element, urging care in the choice of hymns, and pointing out the value of prayer which should be definite and be lieving. He argued the need of sympathy, education regarding the collection and where it goes to.

Mrs. P. C. McLaurin gave a solo entitled "Will There be any Stars in my Crown?" in pleasing voice.

At 8 o'clock Mayor Vermilyea began the closing session with appropriaee words of welcome.

Rev. Mr. Halpenny gave his address entitled, The Sunken Road, based on the idea of sacrifice cheerfully made for the benefit of the children. The boy goes to Sunday School because he ought to; likes the teacher; it is customary; can't help but go; and because of the group idea. These are his reasons. After he arrives it is the business of the Sunday School to banish these false notions and strengthen the true ones. The teacher must keep in touch with the child both before and after the school sessions if the school is to be of real benefit and permanent good. This can be done in various ways, such as home socials in small groups, personal talks, visits and team athletics. The child craves for fellowship, sympathy and guidance, and these needs must be met intelligently and efficiently.

This adress by Mr. Halpenny was a fitting climax to a successful conference, and proved him to be an adept in child psychology and the art of Sunday School work.

The following officers were elected for the Belleville Branch of the Ontario S. S. Association for the current year:

President—Chas. Clapp.
Vice-Pres.—Wm. McIntosh.
Rec.-Sec.—Fred Millard
Cor.-Sec.—Miss Alice Hitchon.
Supt. Elementary Grade—Miss Mary Yeomans.
Supt. Adult Bible Class—Mr. J. E. Walmsley.
Supt. Home Dept.—Rev. R. N. Adams.
Supt. Teacher Training Dept.—Mr. Mott.
Supt. Missions—George Woodley.
Supt. Temperance Dept.—Rev. A. M. Hubly.

It is confidently expected that under these efficient officers the Sunday School movement will receive a new and much needed impetus in this city.

Appreciative comments were heard of the splendid appointments in the new Y.M.C.A. building, which is admirably planned to accommodate all such services and conferences. The ladies, too, came in for generous and well deserved praise for their splendid arrangements for the comforts of their guests, as also did the courteous, active and redoubtable Mr. Hess.

Growth of Wealth in Prussia.

Some interesting statistics have just been published showing the increase of wealth in Prussia. In 1903 there were only 80,000 people in Prussia with incomes of over $7,000; while in 1910 there were 104,000. In 1908 1,500,000 people owned property worth $225,000,000. There are 8,300 millionaires in Prussia, and their wealth has increased from $2,500,000,000 to $3,500,000,000 within the last fourteen years. Of course it must be remembered that a German "millionaire" is only worth $250,000 — a million marks.

Growth of Population in Sweden.

The increase of population in Sweden during the year 1910 was greater than during any of the last ten years, amounting to 51,887, or 9.65 per thousand. As usual the increase has been greater in the large cities than in the provinces. But the growth of population in the smaller industrial centres was not so great as formerly, on account of the crisis of 1907-09 which greatly handicapped both manufacturing and commercial interests.

Thuh Americans Dont Care for Pantomine.

A story from the Folies Bergere has to do with Sig. Curti, the imported ballet master, who spent half an hour trying to drill into the walnut head of a chorus man a bit of pantomine. At last the chorus man said: "Aw, what's the odds? Thuh Americans don't care for Pantomine anyhow." "It makes me think," said Curti, "of the old tenor. Broke, down and out, he had been sleeping in the livery stable for three months, when he suddenly got a chance to sing the role in which he had once been famous. La Scala at Milan was packed that night. He sang — most painfully — before that vast audience. At the end the audience hissed with drilled unanimity. 'Ahh!' said the old tenor, in the wings. 'Ees eet not painful? Zee Italian people, zey no longer care for Verdi.'"

Something from his Pen.

A new editor on a country newspaper called on a successful farmer in his vicinity, and assured the latter that the paper would gladly pay for something from his pen. The farmer promised to see what he could do, and the following week an expressman called at the publication office with a young pig. "C.O.D., $10."

Offhand Definitions.

A limony.—The price of peace.

Laughing stock.—An amateur actor making an attempt at high tragedy.

Political rainbows—The kind usually seen just before the November deluge.

Human nature—Something to blame your excentricities on if you are not like other people.

Becoming pride—Setting a proper valuation on your own abilities and accomplishments — and never cutting prices.

When a man goes out to buy a collar he comes back with a collar, and perhaps a necktie or two. When a woman starts out to buy a collar she returns exhausted with a new silk blouse, a pair of gloves, some skirt bindindg, a cake of soap, a paper of pins, some window curtains, a sewing machine, and a mangle.

ROSS RIFLE NOT BARRED.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—At the National Rifle Association meeting to-day Lord Cheylesmore read the correspondence between the association and Captain Birdwhistle. Lord Cheylesmore declared the allegation of the prohibition of the Ross rifle was without the slightest foundation. The Council was giving the Dominion authorities the opportunity of altering the Sutherland sight, and had, accordingly, extended the time of submitting sights till the end of April.

There was no comment from the meeting regarding this matter, although one member remarked that rifle shooting was dying out here, while in the Dominions it was being promoted in every possible way. Several members urged that the Bisley ranges be opened Sundays for practice only.

OBITUARY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Schryver, of the third concession of Thurlow was saddened by the news of the serious illness, and later by the death of their youngest child and daughter, Mrs. John Reid of Metasque, B.C. On the first intimation of her indisposition, her sister, Miss Adora, of Toronto, hastened to her assistance, but arrived too late to see her alive.

Almost a year ago the deceased, whose maiden name was Lucy, was married to Mr. Reid, formerly of Melrose, Ont., and afterwards a prosperous farmer of the place above mentioned. The newly wedded couple then left for their Western home, which they happily enjoyed until visited by sickness, and until, in spite of every available preventative means, death claimed for its own, on the 29th, ult., the young wife and mother of the home. The funeral services were conducted in the neighboring Presbyterian church and the remains interred, as requested by the deceased, in a beautifully located cemetery in the western foothills of the Rockies.

The deceased was an exceptionally bright and cheerful young lady, whose amiable disposition won for her many friends. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Besides the grief-stricken husband she leaves an infant child, Edna Beatrice. The many home friends extend to all the bereaved their dutiful and heartfelt sympathy.

WEDS GIRL WHO PROPOSED.

Everything Free to Pair Married on Leap Year Lines.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 10.—Miss Morra Potter, a Baptist church singer and Sunday school teacher who "popped the question" to Robert Francis Reece and was accepted, led him to the Rev. Henry C. Leach in the Morningside parsonage, and they were married. One of the gifts received by the bride from Pittsfield merchants for being the first girl in Berkshire to propose and be accepted this year was Miss Potter's green silk bridal gown and a white hat adorned with ostrich plumes. She carried American Beauty roses.

The minister refused to accept a fee; the Berkshire Glee Club sang without pay; the couple rode to the parsonage in an automobile free of charge; the proprietor of the American House gave them the use of the bridal suite, and they are going to New York on tickets that cost them nothing.

TREATY IS RATIFIED.

Franco-German Pact Gets Terrible Roasting.

Paris, Feb. 12.—The Senate Saturday afternoon voted for the ratification of the Franco-German treaty in regard to Morocco. The vote was 222 to 48, which showed that about thirty members abstained from voting.

The ratification of the accord, with the concurrence of the Chamber of Deputies, was signalized by a dramatic speech by ex-Premier Clemenceau, in which he characterized the treaty as a "diplomatic monster." He attacked the concessions made to Germany, saying that the negotiations should not have been taken up under the threat of the Panther's guns. He doubted if the accord would be an instrument of peace, as he saw no indications of good will and moderation on the part of Germany, which five times since 1870 had menaced France with war without provocation.

Mr. Clemenceau closed the debate with a characteristic criticism of the treaty, which he declared could not possibly be defended. France had her finger on the trigger and should have said "No" to the negotiations conducted "under the guns of Agadir." The attitude of the nation in the recent crisis, however, was an excellent omen for the future and he added: "All peoples have a right to their share of life and that is what Germany has denied France since 1870." He repudiated any idea of rapprochement with Germany and said that the defeat of 1870 ought not to involve a state of vassalism.

Premier Poincare said that while the treaty was not perfect, it was necessary to ratify it as a matter of policy and in the interest of the triple entente.

PUBLICANS TO PROTEST.

Toronto Hotelmen Will Ask Removal of Five Per Cent. Tax.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—The Toronto Hotelkeepers' Association are on the warpath. Before the present session of the Legislature is at an end the executive of the association will make a suggestion to Provincial Secretary Hanna, asking for the removal of the five per cent. tax on bar receipts over $60. As an alternative, the Toronto hotelkeepers suggest the establishment of a general flat rate on gross receipts for the whole province. The abnormally high taxes that the Toronto hotelkeepers have to pay coupled with the fact that their annual license amounts to $1,600, appears to be a big enough handicap without the five per cent. tax, they say.

The license for hotels outside the city limits, say at the Humber, is not much more than $120 per annum, and yet it is alleged that these hotelkeepers often take in as much as some of the Toronto bars with heavy expenses to meet. By the proposed new arrangement the Toronto men would not be compelled to bear the burden of contributing nearly all the tax on bar receipts for the province.

For nearly a year the local hotelkeepers have been furnishing the Government with a sworn statement of their recipts, so, they declare, that it would be quite easy for the provincial license department, with all the data they have at hand, to strike a graded flat rate for the entire province.

MASTERING A LION

What trainers have to do to gain Control.

In illustration of the lengths to which owners of wild beasts will go in order to retain control of them, Frank C. Bostock, the famous animal trainer, tells the following story:

"Some years ago, when we were at the Hippodrome in Paris, I decided, as a special attraction, to go into the arena with Wallace, a huge African lion that all our trainers had despaired of. The house was crowded. We placed the lion in a cage sixteen feet square, and this was put inside a twenty-foot ring. Two assistants were stationed in the outer ring in case of accident. I had scarcely got inside when the beast leaped at me. It bit right through my left hand, and with one blow ripped the flesh off my back.

"'Clear out!' I shouted to the two men in the outer ring. 'I'm going to open the doors and let him into the big arena.'

"I was as furious as the lion. My pride as a trainer was wounded deeper than my back. I flung open the doors and the lion sprang out. The blood was pouring from my wounds, but in the excitement of the moment I felt no pain — only a mad desire to be master. I picked up a 'property' chair, and when the beast came again I struck it full across the muzzle; then, seizing my whip, I actually became the aggressor and drove him back to the cage.

"The audience was in something like a panic, and loud cries of 'Enough! Enough!' were raised. But I hadn't finished. In ten minutes I had subjugated Wallace to such an extent that he cowered like a dog. I got out of the cage and just fainted away. From that day to this no one has attempted to teach Wallace."

Dogs.

Dogs were formerly indigenous to the indigent, but, since the advent of dog licenses, whereby a dog, without a maid or a valet, is presumed to be guilty until it is proved innocent or abot, they have been grafted on family trees, with their own separate heraldry, as substitutes for children, thereby furnishing considerable consolation for race suicide.

Dogs are divided into two great classes — pedigreed and verdigreed. Verdigreed are of two kinds — mad dogs and dogs. Pedigreed are of several kinds, chief among which are watch dogs and sheep-dogs. Watchdogs are so called because they are small enough, and usually cranky enough, to be carried around in the place of watches by people who have plenty of time. Sheep-dogs are so called because they are led around by sheepish-looking people.

Those dogs are considered the handsomest by connoisseurs which look the ugliest to other people.

Swindlers Gets Three Years.

Quebec, Feb. 12.—A slick flim-flam artist, Hector Beaudet by name, was rounded up Saturday morning by the police here. Beaudet at different times has fraudulently collected gas, telephone and telegraph bills, and all together he is said to have got away with several hundred dollars. Saturday morning he tried to collect a gas bill that was paid Friday, and the woman at the house at which he called telephoned for the police. Beaudot was arraigned before the magistrate in the afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

WILL ADMINISTER ACT

C. C. Tames Leaves Ontario to Work For Dominion.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Has Been Chosen, Says Hon. Martin Burrell to Take Charge of the Movement For the Encouragement of Farming—Opposition Pounds Away Drearily at Tariff Board.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—Hon. Martin Burrell yesterday introduced his bill for the aid and encouragement of agriculture.

The Government, he announced, had been fortunate in securing the services of C. C. James, for many years Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, as a special commissioner to administer the act. While he did not want to commit the Government to the principle of cash contributions as a permanent policy, the bill provided for the present for direct grants of money to the provinces in proportion to their population. There was no desire to favor this, that or the other province.

When the House went into committee on the tariff commission, Sir Wilfrid Laurier reviewed the attack on the principle of the bill. The commissioners, he said, were being appointed to prepare a brief and secure information for the Minister of Finance in accordance with his own policy. It was a partisan commission, whereas they should be absolutely free from party bias if justice were to be done the whole people.

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden thought the leader of the Opposition was unduly alarmed in the matter. During the fifteen years the latter had held office he had appointed many commissions and not a single appointee had been a Conservative. He pointed out that men who had occupied prominent positions in political life had been appointed judges, and none of them had ever given any trace of their political affiliation after their appointment to the bench.

G. W. Kyle (Richmond, N.S.) wanted an assurance that all interests would be represented on the commission, the same as they were on the technical education commission. Any men or number of men representing any particular views should have the right to go before the commission and state their views.

David Henderson (Halton) reproached the late Government with their ignorance, posing as the low-tariff party, whereas they had increased duty after duty on articles of every day consumption. The intention of the Minister of Finance was not to raise the tariff, but to get information.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson declared there would not be the alarm that was felt throughout Canada with regard to this bill if the people could be assured that the interests of the consumers would be represented on the board.

When there was such a demand in this country for this board, said Richard Blain (Peel), when there was such a variety of opinion as to whether the tariff was too high or too low he was ready to join with the Finance Minister in getting such information as would lead to necessary changes in the tariff.

Dr. Neely (Humboldt) could not see that there was a demand for a tariff board from any section of the community except the C. M. A. If there were divergencies of opinion in the Opposition on fiscal policy, what about the Government ranks?

"The members of this side of the House," said Hon. T. W. Crothers "preach protection and practice protection, while the members on the other side of the House preach free trade and practice protection."

Incited Men to Murder.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 13.—"Sleep in the daytime and at night prowl around like wild animals and look for blood. At night you can knock in the heads of the scabs. In a few days we will be able to count the broken heads and they won't be on our side."

These and other similar statements were ascribed to Arturo Giovannitti by Charles Bencardo, an Italian detective, who was a witness at the continued trial yesterday of Giovannitti and Strike Leader Joseph F. Ettor, who are charged with being accessories to the murder of the Lopossi women, killed during a riot in the textile strike here.

Giovannitti, according to the witness, was addressing a crowd of strikers who had gathered on the common following a parade and demonstration on the morning of Jan. 9. He spoke in Italian and witness was required to give his testimony both in English and Italian, that he might satisfy the court that he understood the foreign language.

The Goose Girl

"That is the hand, highness," said the gypsy without hesitation.

The duke flung the hand aside. As he did so something snapped in Herbeck's brain, though at that instant he was not conscious of it.

"It was you—you! It was your hand that wrecked my life—yours! Ah, is there such villainy? Are such men born and do they live? My wife dead, my own heart broken, Arnsberg ruined and disgraced! And these two children, which is mine? Villain, what have you to say? What was your purpose?"

How many years, thought Herbeck, had he been preparing for this moment? How long had he been steeling his heart against this very scene? Futile dream! He drew himself together with a supreme effort. He would face this hour as he had always planned to face it. Found out! He looked at his finger, touched it with an impersonal curiosity. He had forgotten all about such a possibility. A little finger to have stopped the wheel of so great a scheme! Irony!

"Your highness," he said, his voice soft and strangely clear. "I have been waiting for this hour. So I am found out! How little we know what God intends!"

"You speak of God? You blaspheme!"

"Bear with me for a space. I shall not hold you long."

"But why? What have I done to you that you should wreck all I hold dear?"

Herbeck fumbled with his collar. "I have practically governed this country for sixteen years. In that time I have made it prosperous and happy. I have given you a substantial treasury. I have made you an army. I have brought peace where you would have brought war. To my people God will witness that I have done my duty as I saw it. One day I fell the victim of a mad dream. And to think that I almost won!"

"And I?" said Hildegarde, her hands clinched and pressed against her bosom. "What have you done to me, who am innocent of any wrong? What have you done to me?"

"You, my child? I have wronged you greatest of all. The wrong I have done to you is irreparable. Ah, have not my arms hungered for the touch of you, my heart ached for the longing of you? To see you day after day, always humble before you, always glad to kiss the back of your hand! Have I not lived in hell, your highness?" turning to the duke.

"What am I, and who am I?" whispered Hildegarde, her heart almost ceasing to beat.

"I am your father!"

The Grand Duke of Ehrenstein beheld the chancellor with that phase of astonishment which leaves the mind unclouded. What a project! What a mind to conceive it, to perfect it down to so small a detail as a jeweler's mark in the gold of the locket! And a little finger to betray it. In a flash he saw vividly all this man had undergone day by day, unfaltering, unhesitant, forgetting nothing, remembering everything but the one insignificant item which was to overthrow him.

Prince Ludwig took off his hat. "Herbeck, you are a great politician."

"No, prince," replied Herbeck with ineffable sadness. "Had I been a great politician I should have succeeded. Ah, give this to my merit; self never entered into this dream. It was all done for my child."

Hildegarde did not move, nor had she moved since the revelation.

"Hildegarde," said the duke, "you shall become my daughter, and you shall dwell here till the end of your days. I will try to right the wrong that has been done to you."

"No, your highness," she replied. "There is but one place for me, and that is at my father's side." And resolutely she walked to the chancellor's left, and her hand stole down and met his firmly. "My father, I forgive you," she said, with quiet dignity.

"You forgive me?" The chancellor could not believe his ears.

"Yes, father."

Then, recalling all the child hunger in his arms and heart, he swept her to his breast convulsively, and the unloosed tears dropped upon her bright head.

"And who am I?" said Gretchen.

"Breunner, you say this little goose girl is my daughter?"

"I solemnly swear it, highness. Look into her face again carefully."

The duke did so, a hand on either cheek. He scrutinized every contour, the color of the eyes, the low, broad brow, the curve of the chin. Out of the past he conjured up the mother's face. Yes, beyond any doubt there was a haunting likeness, and he had never noted it before.

"But who will prove it to the world?" he cried hopelessly, still holding Gretchen's wondering face between his hands.

"I shall prove it," said the king.

"You? And how?"

"I shall marry Gretchen. I shall make her a queen. That will be proof enough."

"A fine stroke, nephew; a bold stroke!" Prince Ludwig laid his hand upon the king's shoulder with rare affection.

"If you accept her without further proof I, her father, can do no less." And the duke led her over to the king, gravely joining their hands.

"Gretchen!" murmured the king.

"I do not know how to act like a princess."

"I shall teach you."

Gretchen laid her head on his breast. She was very tired and much bewildered.

The duke paced the length of the cabinet several times. No one interrupted his meditation. Back and forth, one hand hanging to the opposite shoulder, the other folding over his chin. Then he paused with abruptness.

"Your majesty," said the grand duke, "I regret that your father is not alive to accept my apologies for so basely misjudging him. Arnsberg, nothing that I can do will restore these wasted years. But I offer you the portfolio."

"I am only a broken man, your highness—too old."

"It is my will."

"As for you," said the duke to the gypsy, "go, and if you ever step this side of the frontier again you will be shot out of hand." He stopped again in front of Grumbach. "I promised to have you shot in the morning. That promise holds. But a train leaves for Paris a little after midnight. My advice is for you not to miss it."

"And my father, your highness?" said Hildegarde bravely.

"Herbeck, your estates are confiscated; your name is struck from the civic and military lists. Have you any ready funds?"

"A little, your highness."

"Enough to take you forever out of this part of the world?"

"Yes, your highness."

"You do not ask to be forgiven, and I like that. You have, perhaps, three hours to get your things in order. Tomorrow you will be judged and condemned. But you, Hildegarde"—

"GRETCHEN!" MURMURED THE KING.

"No, your highness; we shall both take the train for Paris. Gretchen, you will be happy."

Gretchen ran and flung herself into Hildegarde's arms, and the two of them wept. Hildegarde pushed Gretchen away gently.

"Come, father; we have so little time."

And this was the sum of the duke's revenge.

It never took Carmichael long to make up his mind definitely. He found his old friend the cabman in the Platz, and they drove like mad to the consulate. An hour here sufficed to close his diplomatic career and seal it hermetically. The clerk, however, would go on like Tennyson's brook, forever and forever. Next he went to the residence of his banker in the Konigstrasse and got together all his available funds.

Eleven o'clock found Carmichael in his rooms at the Grand hotel, feverishly packing his trunk and bag. Paris! He would go also even if they passed on to the remote ends of the world.

The train stood waiting in the gloomy Bahnhof. The guards patrolled the platform. Presently three men came out of the station door. Two were officers. The third, Colonel von Wallenstein, was in civilian dress. He was sullen and depressed.

Said one of the officers: "And it is the express command of General Ducwitz that you will return here under the pain of death. Is that explicit?"

"It is." The colonel got into his compartment and slammed the door viciously.

In the next compartment sat Grumbach. He was smoking his faithful pipe. He was withal content. This was far more satisfactory than standing up before the firing line, and, besides, he had made history in Ehrenstein that night. They would not forget the name of Breunner right away. To America with a clean slate and a reposeful conscience—it was more than he had any reasonable right to expect. Tekla! He laughed sardonically. She was no doubt sound asleep by this time, and the end of the chapter would never be written for her. What fools these young men a-courting were! War and famine and pestilence—did these not always follow at the heels of women?

Baron Lister Dead.

London, Feb. 12.—Joseph Lister, first Baron Lister, who was made famous by his discovery of an antiseptic system of treatment in surgery, died yesterday. He was born in 1827, and had served as professor of surgery in Glasgow and Edinburgh Universities and in King's College, London.

Joseph Lister was born at Upton, Essex. He was educated at London University, from which he graduated in medicine in 1852. From the outset he showed great promise in the surgical field. After serving with distinction in Glasgow and Edinburgh Universities, he was made professor of clinical surgery at King's College, London, holding the office from 1877 to 1893.

In 1878 he was honored by being appointed surgeon extraordinary to the late Queen Victoria. He held the office later of surgeon-in-ordinary to the late King Edward.

He was created a baronet in 1883 in recognition of his services in discovering the anti-septic system of treatment in surgery.

He was a widower and leaves no family.

Fire Hose Froze Up.

St. Catharines, Feb. 11.—The firemen had a most disagreeable run to a fire Saturday morning with the temperature about 15 degrees below zero and the wind blowing about 30 miles an hour.

An alarm was sent in about two o'clock by James Balsam, who found his fruit-store in flames, which originated from an overheated stove. They had made considerable headway before being discovered, but the brigade lost no time in getting to work, though the water froze as soon as it struck the building, a frame structure, owned by Richard McNamara.

As a result of the difficulties which confronted the men it was necessary to work for an hour and a half before the last spark was extinguished. The hydrants were found to be in perfect working order, but as soon as the water was shut off the hose froze stiff and could not be thrown back into the wagon and had to be dragged back to the hall through the streets.

No Arrests Yet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 13.—"Waiting for the signal" was the way Government officials yesterday described the situation in regard to the prospective arrests of the 40 or more men indicted in the dynamite conspiracy cases.

District Attorney Miller refused to say whether the arrests would be ordered within 48 hours, but it was reported all the men who can be reached by that time will be taken in custody.

Blame Disease on Motor Cars.

London, Feb. 13.—There was a remarkable increase of infantile paralysis in Devon and Cornwall last year. Dr. Reeve, reporting to the Local Government Board, suggests the prevalence of the disease in late years may be associated with the dust raised by motor cars.

NATURAL CURE FOR CATARRH OBVIATES TAKING DRUGS

IT HAS SUPERSEDED THE OLD-FASHIONED STOMACH-DOSING REMEDIES, AND INVARIABLY CURES QUICKLY.

It was their inability to reach the real source of catarrh and bronchitis that caused the medical profession to drop liquid cough medicines and adopt "Catarrhozone" instead. Catarrhozone provides a method of breathing right into the lungs certain rare medicinal vapors which are so healing and comforting as to entirely banish coughs, catarrh and throat trouble in a very short time.

The most wonderful thing about Catarrhozone is, that no matter where the germs of bronchitis or catarrh are hidden, Catarrhozone will reach and destroy them.

"About five years ago I took a cold in the head and Catarrh set in. It kept increasing by leaps and bounds. I kept putting off getting anything until at last I found I would have to. After trying several things I heard of your remedy, Catarrhozone, and procured a bottle and began using it. I was not long in finding out I had struck the right thing. I am recommending Catarrhozone to all who have catarrh, etc.

"(Signed) Everton L. Wassan,
"Blair P.O., Queen's Co., N.B."

Catarrhozone has made an astonishing record of cures. Its method is right; no drugs; just healing balsamic vapors, that bring instant relief to Catarrh and all throat, bronchial and chest colds. This distinction is limited to members of royal families and a few of the highest among the nobility. The novel undertaking was under the auspices of the Men and Religion Forward Movement and among those engaged were professional, business and factory men, who received specific instructions as to the time of prayer and were exhorted not to allow the link to be broken.

Hebert Judgment To-morrow.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—The long expected judgment in the famous Hebert case — the marriage annulment suit which has started Protestant clergymen and laymen in all parts of Canada on a bitter warfare against the ne temere decree of the Roman Catholic Church, will be delivered by Judge Charbonneau on Wednesday next.

"MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach", she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

CANADIAN GOODS FOR CANADIANS.

The new tariff commission which has been appointed by the Dominion Government is intended, it appears, to act generally in the collection of statistics bearing on trade and tariff matters, to acquaint itself with industrial questions generally, and, when needed, from time to time make such recommendations as it may deem advisable to the Cabinet making for the betterment of trade and commerce of the country. It will ascertain and report upon the cost of raw materials, and the cost of transport thereof from the place where it is grown to the place of manufacture; the cost of manufacture in Canada and elsewhere; and the cost of transportation to the consumer. In short, it will act as an expert to the Government in making such tariff changes as this country may from time to time necessitate.

Much valuable information will, no doubt, be the result of the commission's information when made public, and there is every reason to believe that as a result many of the injustices and abuses which have crept into the tariff will in time be remedied.

For one thing, it is well remarked by the Guelph Herald, many will sincerely hope that the result of the commission's work will be towards the destruction of those trusts whose sole aim is towards the maintenance of high prices, as well as create a feeling in Canada in favor of cultivating home industry. There is no question but that far too large a proportion of goods in common use to-day are imported into this country from abroad, a majority from these coming from Germany. These might and assuredly should be manufactured in this country, and thereby add additional employment to Canadian artisans, and create a greater demand for Canadian raw products.

In this respect the new tariff commission may be able to supply some suggestions. But the use of home made goods does not rest on tariffs alone. Public opinion can go a long way in creating a demand for any line of goods, and if Canadians will only insist upon being supplied with goods that have been made in this country the demand will not be long in being met.

In this respect Canadians might well act upon the example set by the nation whose cheap goods are now in use so extensively. Germany inculcates the love of the fatherland in a new table of ten commandments, which is being widely circulated at the present time. Canadians should read them, and then substitute the word "Canada" instead of "Germany" wherever it occurs, acting upon the advice thus given. "Canada for the Canadians" should be supplemented by Canadian goods for Canadians. Here is the way Germany looks at it:

1. Never lose sight of the interests of your compatriots or of the fatherland.

2. Do not forget that when you buy a foreign product, no matter if it is only a cent's worth, you diminish the fatherland's wealth by just so much.

3. Your money should profit only German merchants and workmen.

4. Do not profane German soil, a German house or a German workshop, by using foreign machines, and tools.

5. Never allow to be served at your table foreign fruits and meat, thus wronging German growers, and, moreover, compromising your health, because foreign meats are not inspected by German sanitary police.

6. Write on German paper with a German pen and dry the ink with German blotters.

7. You should be clothed only with German goods and should wear only German hats.

8. German flour, German fruits and German beer alone make German strength.

If you do not like the German

9. If you do not like the German German colonies. If you prefer chocolate or cocoa for the children, have a care that the chocolate and cocoa are of exclusively German production.

10. Do not let foreign boasters divert you from these sage precepts Be convinced, whatever you may hear, that the best products, which are alone worthy of a German citizen, are German products.

CURRENT COMMENT.

St. Valentine's day tomorrow.

It is felt of late that the north pole has discovered this part of Ontario.

The temperature is moderating—decidedly. Only 8 below zero this morning.

It looks as if the vexed question of the C.P.R. route through Belleville will soon be decided.

Mr. Graham's prospects of election in the strongly Grit constituency of South Renfrew are so dim that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to address two meetings on his behalf.

Just why there should be more fighting in China after terms had been reached with which both sides professed to be satisfied may be known to the Chinese, but that is doubtful.

Mr. Churchill's epigram to the effect that the sea power is a necessity for Great Britain, but a luxury for Germany, seems to state the case fairly, although it might be difficult to convince German patriotism and suspicion of this fact.—Ottawa Journal.

A colored man recently announced a change in his business as follows: Notice—De co-partnership heretofore resisting between me and Mose Skinner is hereby resolved. Dem what owe de firm will settle wid me, and dem what the firm ows will settle wid Mose.

Another production of the lively imaginations of the Grit correspondents at Ottawa has been shown to be false. Mr. Henri Bourassa, who has been in Quebec at the Legislature, comes out with a denial that he is to act as intermediary between the Catholic hierarchy and the Government. What next?

The Grits have had much to say in denunciation of the alleged alliance between the Conservatives and the Nationalists. Now that Lavergne, Bourassa's lieutenant, is going to Renfrew to speak on behalf of Graham, they are as dumb as oysters on the subject, further than to say that Lavergne's support of the Grit candidate is a "notice to Borden." This statement is sufficient to emphasize the falsehood of the Grit assertion that Mr. Borden and his Government are ruled by the Nationalists.

Says the Vancouver World (Grit): "If the Borden Government really does take the civil service out of party politics by bringing it under the Civil Service Act it will do at least one thing which will meet with approval everywhere except among the ranks of the professional politicians. Nevertheless it will be disappointing to true Liberals that it should be left to a Conservative administration to effect this reform." Why did not the World and other Grits express that "disappointment" when their friends were in office with power to effect the reform in question, but failed to do so?

In South Renfrew Dr. Roche, the Secretary of State, gave several examples of the manner in which Mr. Graham and his colleagues in the late Government lived up to their election pledges. "They had promised free agricultural implements, and lifted the duty from wooden legs because they were stumping machines. They had promised to make lumber as free as air, and placed sawdust on the free list. They had assured the people free coal, and given them free ice." Though fifteen years in office the Laurier Government implemented scarcely any of its pre-election undertakings. Yet to-day we have the spectacle of Mr. Graham and his newspaper backers criticizing the Borden Ministry for failing to revolutionize the whole complexion of public affairs during the brief four months since it was returned to power.—Toronto News.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

MADRAS, India, Feb. 11.—The "Foreign Missions Investigation Committee" is here. Our finest auditorium, the Victoria Hall, was crowded to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke twice to-day. We report one of his discourses from the text: "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich; and He addeth no sorrow therewith."—Proverbs x:22. He said:

The thing which strikes me specially as I visit your great city for the first time is the marked contrast between the palaces of your superior quarter and the hovels of Blacktown—the contrast between great riches and great poverty. But think not that I have come into your midst to speak words which would engender strife or even discontent. Rather my message is one of peace. I bear you the message of the Kingdom of God's dear Son—the kingdom for which we have so long prayed, "Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." While the attainment of a share in that kingdom will mean the acquirement of the "Pearl of Great Price," which is promised only to the saintly followers of Jesus, nevertheless, the kingdom itself will bring blessings through Abraham's seed, to every nation.

The inequalities, mental and physical, which prevail amongst us as members of a fallen race, produce naturally our inequalities as respects wealth and social conditions; it is well, therefore, that we should not accept the rabid views entertained by many, but we should think soberly, dispassionately. We should remember that God Himself is very rich. All the gold and silver are His and the cattle upon the thousand hills, with Infinite power, beyond human comprehension.

We should remember that it is written that "Abraham was very rich," and that his riches did not interfere with the fact that he "was the friend of God," and that to him God gave that great promise secured by the divine oath, which is the basis for all hope for the blessing of the world.: "In thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Other noble characters on the pages of history are noted as having possessed great wealth.

We should therefore view the matter of poverty and riches philosophically. Both poor and rich should be encouraged to use faithfully the opportunities which they possess and to wait patiently for the Lord's time and way for the introduction of the new order of things which He has promised, assured that it is not in our power to hasten or delay the divine programme.

The apostle says, "Charge those amongst you who are rich that they trust not in uncertain riches." The history of centuries corroborates the apostle's words. The rich and prominent of one day become the poor and forgotten of another. "Riches take wings" in a manner that poverty rarely imitates. The talents and opportunities which have brought great wealth to some of our prominent Americans have brought wealth and prosperity in smaller measure to those associated with them in their enterprises. Indeed, in some respects the entire world, and particularly America, owes them a debt of gratitude for their energies and perseverance in the exercise of their talents and opportunities along such broad lines.

My mind took this course of reasoning as I looked at the handsome edifice occupied by the Y.M.C.A. of this city, and I was informed that it was the gift of one of our American merchant princes, Mr. John Wanamaker of New York and Philadelphia. I said to myself, Behold an instance in which riches have been generously expended, even in a far-off land, for the benefit of the masses and with a desire to promote clean and noble manhood along Christian lines.

Our text is an epitomized statement of the gospel of Christ. All God's blessings for our race will come through the seed of Abraham—the Christ. The giving of His Son to be man's Redeemer and Deliverer from sin and death was God's blessing to man—making man rich. Messiah, having died for the redemption of the world, is about to bestow upon men the divine blessing promised to Abraham—"In thee, and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

That blessing to the non-elect world will be a glorious opportunity for rising up out of sin and death conditions to full human perfection in the image and likeness of God—as Adam possessed before his fall. It will mean the bringing of the earth to the conditions pictured in Eden. The earth, God declares, He formed not in vain, but to be inhabited. At present man is in a condition of enmity and separation from his Creator and his earthly home is disordered. God's footstool for six thousand years has been the scene of a terrible reign of sin and death.

The only hope is in Messiah's kingdom, which God has promised shall be established for the overthrow of Satan the abolishing of superstition and ignorance, the enlightenment of mankind and the uplift of all the willing and obedient and for the destruction of the wilfully wicked in the second death.

But before the kingdom could be established a redemptive work was necessary for the satisfaction of justice on behalf of Adam the sinner, and his race involved with him. By the grace of God Jesus has appeared and, as a corresponding price, has died the just for the unjust, that He might bring us back into harmony with God and bring in the glorious and long promised thousand years of restitution.—Acts iii:19-21.

But why so long a delay from the time He appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself and the time when He shall appear in His glory to establish the reign of righteousness and lift up the world of mankind for whom he died? The Bible alone answers this question. It tells us that in the interim between the death of our Saviour and the inauguration of His kingdom a special and great work is to be accomplished according to the divine arrangement—the calling and the choosing of a faithful few from amongst the redeemed race to constitute a royal priesthood to serve and reign in association with the Saviour.

TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS COR. IN A NEW BUILDING

Five of the Original Directors Present at the Annual Meeting.

The shareholders of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation had a glimpse of the magnificence of the almost completed commercial palace at Bay and Melinda streets, which will be the future home of the company when they attended the annual meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 7th. Although it is 30 years ago that the Toronto General Trusts Corporation was organized, five of the original nineteen directors were present at the meeting. They were: Hon. J. J. Foy, K.C., Sir Aemelius Irving, K.C., Hon. Robert Jaffray, J. W. Langmuir and J. G. Scott, K.C.

The managing director, Mr. J. W. Langmuir, presented the annual report, this being his duty each year since the company began business. He showed that the volume of business in the hands of the corporation had reached a sum in excess of $45,000,000 and that as a purely lending company it was second to only one other corporation in Canada. The increase in the volume of assets in the hands of the corporation for the year represented approximately 50 per cent. of the entire amount of new business taken over during the year, indicating a high degree of permanency in the work assumed by the corporation. As will be seen elsewhere, the net profits of the corporation, amounting to $198,000 were well in excess of the previous year, but Mr. Langmuir was careful to point out the exceedingly small percentage which the net profits bear to the volume of business. A consideration of the company's very large and complex business, which necessitated the employment of a skilled staff, Mr. Langmuir thought, would dispel the idea that the profits made by trust companies through the administration of estates were more or less excessive. Mr. Langmuir dealt impressively with the dangers of real estate speculation and referred particularly to the exorbitant prices being paid for land in the vicinity of Toronto. A complete report of his remarks and of the financial statement will be found in another column.

INJURED FOOT CURED.

"I speak for Zam-Buk because it cured me of a terribly bad foot," says Mrs. Alice Berryman of 190 John St. North, Hamilton. She adds: "The injury was caused by a wagon wheel, and the sore was on my right foot. It became very inflamed and swollen and so painful that I fainted away. In spite of treatment, the wound got no better and the foot became more and more swollen until it was several times its usual size. The flesh was terribly bruised and blackened and it was quite impossible for me to walk. My husband's mother at last brought me a box of Zam-Buk. This was applied to the foot and it was surprising how soon I found relief from the severe pain. A further supply of Zam-Buk was obtained and I persevered in using this balm alone. In a couple of days the swelling had gone down considerably, the discoloration was less distinct and the pain was banished. In four days I could go about as usual: the bruised and injured foot had been thoroughly cured by the timely use of Zam-Buk."

Did you ever ask yourself: "How is it that Zam-Buk is so popular?" It is because it is superior and different to other salves. Contrast them! Most salves are nine-tenths animal oil or fat. Zam-Buk hasn't a trace of animal fat in it. Most salves contain mineral coloring matter. Zam-Buk is absolutely without! Many salves contain poisonous astringents. Zam-Buk doesn't.

Zam-Buk is actually more powerfully antiseptic than crude carbolic acid. Yet it stops instead of causing pain and smarting when put on a wound.

It heals more quickly than any known substance, abscesses, ulcers, eczema, blood-poisoning, cuts, scalp sores, chaps and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c stamp for trial box.

POISONED FINGER HEALED.

Mrs. Frank St. Denis of 305 Thompson St., Winnipeg, speaks for Zam-Buk because it cured her of a poisoned finger, which had caused her days of agony. Hear her experience. She says:

"One morning, while washing, I felt a slight pain in the end of my finger. This gradually got more acute until by the evening of the next day the end of the finger had become swollen and hard and so blue I became alarmed.

"The pain from it was almost too much to bear. It made me turn quite sick! Poultices of first one kind and then another were applied, but seemed to give me no relief. My daughter-in-law, who had had some previous experience with Zam-Buk obtained a box for me. I anointed the sore place liberally with this balm, and in a few hours, the throbbing aching pains were subdued."

Further applications of Zam-Buk gave me more ease, so that I could get a little sleep. In a few days the nail came off, but after that Zam-Buk seemed to reduce the inflammation quickly. I continued its use until in the end it had brought about a complete cure.

THE REAL WOMAN.

A Story of a Bridge Party

There was nearly a score of women in Mrs. Empet's parlors that afternoon. The tables were up and everybody was anxious to begin the game. But there was needed just one more guest to make the requisite number and she was late. She had never been late before and Mrs. Empet was quite put out about it.

The women were all as gorgeous as could be. All the time they were talking their eyes wandered over each other's toilettes or to the prizes, which rested in plain sight upon a table in the next room.

Several women wanted the claret set, and were resolved to use all means, fair or foul, to get it. It was no sin to cheat; everybody did it, and it lent zest to the game, as long as one wasn't found out. Between the prizes and the refreshments one was sure to be interested if not actually diverted. It was to be hoped Mrs. Empet would have something new to eat. Everybody was tired of ices and cakes.

At that moment the door bell rang and there was a general start. Conversations were cut ruthlessly in two. Then Laura St. John said: Mrs. Files—at last!

Whereupon everybody sat up and looked animated, for they had exhausted all available sources of entertainment, and the newcomer was sure to create a diversion. She entered immediately — a large, smiling woman in a catawba satin gown, with an enormous diamond sunburst glowing like an electric light bulb right on the front of it. They were so intent in looking at her that for a moment they did not notice that another woman was coming in behind her and half obscured by her — a little, slight woman in a perfectly plain cloth gown with an edge of white at the throat and no jewellery showing save a thread of wedding ring on her left hand. She had nice gray hair, smoothy parted and coiled; her complexion was her own and her gentle gray eyes gazed with frank friendliness at the astonished company. She was no older than several of those who were trying so hard to keep young, and somehow she did not look any older. She only made them look tawdry and cheap and unnatural.

Mrs. Empet, although she had not expected her, made the best of her coming. She took her round and introduced her. None of them had ever seen her before; she was a cousin of Augusta Files and she lived in the country and did not get into town very often. She had come just as Mrs. Files was ready to start for her bridge party and she either had to stay at home herself or bring her. Her name was Mrs. Thayer and it was easy to see that she was unused to fashionable gatherings. A spot of delicate red came out on either cheek and she fluttered a little shyly, holding out her hand to each lady as she met her.

"I don't play bridge,' 'she exclaimed, "or any card game bigger than cassion, and I always get beaten at that. Cards weren't played so much in my young day. Now, you mustn't let me put you out. I'll just sit and look on and do a bit of tatting. I shall enjoy myself splendid. It will all be new to me, you see."

So that was the way they arranged it. They took their place at the tables and Mrs. Empet drew a big chair to the top of the room for Mrs. Thayer, where she could see all the company and all the company could see her. It had to be half filled with cushions to accommodate her small figure. She sat upright, smiling pleasantly about her as her hands plied the tatting shuttle — a remarkable contrast to the overdressed, made-up women at the card tables. And somehow not she but they became conscious of this contrast. There was a subtle influence in her genuine simplicity. They felt guiltily the weight of their false hair; their faces flushed under their rouge, and they tried furtively to dab it away with their handkerchiefs. Above the edges of their cards they looked at each other with curiously cleared vision and then away at the one real woman of them all who sat there doing tatting. And slowly it was revealed to them that bridge was but a poor substitute for the things that should have engaged their attention. They saw themselves [illegible] roses they were, while she was the real rose ripening to a graceful fall. It was as if Mrs. Thayer had roused them to better aims and longings.

Nobody cheated at cards that afternoon. It seemed immaterial how the prizes went. There was a tie between Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Sherrod when it came to the claret set, and with one accord these ladies voted to give it to Mrs. Thayer. Everybody clapped their hands at that. So Mrs. Stout made a little presentation speech and the set went to Mrs. Thayer, who got up holding tight to her tatting shuttle and tried with all her might to say something more than just thank you.

Then the maid brought in the refreshments which consisted merely of cake and sherbet, but somehow nobody was disappointed.

They had all gathered about Mrs. Thayer, and she was telling them about her grandchildren and how she was ina hurry to get this tatting done for little Jennie's petticoat. And so they were led to talk about their own grandchildren and children. From that the talk drifted to their young days and how they had worn hoopskirts and white stockings — things they had never before admitted even to themselves.

The clock was striking 6 before they ever thought of going home, and even then they were loath to leave Mrs. Thayer. They all kissed her good by, and said they were glad they had met her and it was the pleasantest bridge party they had ever had just on account of her being there.

And she refuses, don't you know,
Then do not go — into despair,

LORD ROSEBERRY'S BET.

How the Great English Politician Gave a Good Tip.

On one occasion Lord Roseberry was in a railway carriage on his way to a race meeting at Ayr. Opposite him sat a commercial traveller, who was rather inclined to be talkative.

Seeing his lordship (whom, of course, he did not know) reading the 'Racing Calendar, he remarked:

"Suppose you are going to the Ayr meeting?"

"I am going as far as Ayr," replied his lordship.

"Pity young swells get fleeced by blacklegs. Some noblemen, I hear, drop fortunes on the Turf."

"Indeed!"

"Do a bit myself sometimes — about a tenner or a pony is my cut. Know anything good for to-day worth my while touching?"

"I am not a tipster."

"Beg pardon. Saw you reading the 'Racing Calendar,' so thought you might know."

"Well," replied his lordship, "if I give you the straight tip will it be of service to you?"

"Depends if I fancy it."

"Put your tenner or pony on Lord Roseberry's Chevronel for the Welter Cup."

"Not for Joseph! I never back Lord Roseberry's horses. They say he's a regular chumpkin."

"Indeed! Perhaps they're right. However, you asked me. I can only add that I heard Lord Roseberry himself tell what you term a chumpkin to back his horse."

"Depend upon it, if it was all right, he would not let you overhear his conversation. Mum would then be his game. Why, there's a lot in that race! I'll bet you a pony Lord Roseberry don't win it."

"Really! I am not accustomed to bet in railway carriages with strangers."

"There's my card. Fact is, you ain't game to bet."

"I think you'll lose your money, but as you challenge me let it be a bet. You'll see me in the stewards' enclosure at the course. I have no cards with me."

"Agreed! It's a bet. I bet you an even pony against Chevronel for the Welter Cup. But what's your name, young fellow?"

"Primrose. Sometimes I'm otherwise addressed."

"All right, young Primrose; pay and receive after the race."

The companions separated at the station. Chevronel won in a canter, and the commercial received the following morning a short note by a messenger from the stewards' stand: "Mr. Primrose (Lord Roseberry) would feel obliged by Mr.—— handing to his servent £25, which his lordship will have much pleasure in forwarding as a donation to the Commercial Travellers' Orphan Asylum."

The "bagman" paid his money, looking very crestfallen, and was heard to ejaculate, "Done! Who on earth would have dreamt that the good-looking, affable young fellow, whom I imagined was a chumpkin, was in fact none other than the Earl of Roseberry, giving me a good honest tip about his own horse, by which I was fool enough to lose £25? Anyway, he's a regular trump, and he's right — I'm the chumpkin after all!"

It is a wise woman who refrains from inducing her husband to bring the atmosphere of his club home with him.

"From the vulgarity of notoriety good Lord deliver us," should be your morning and evening prayer.

Nothing is more garrulous than an old woman, except a Company Prometer's wife after her first drawing-room.

The report to the Shareholders was then read, as follows:—

THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION, BEING FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st DECEMBER, 1911.

To the Shareholders:

Your Board of Directors have pleasure in submitting the Thirtieth Annual Report of the Corporation, together with the statement of Assets and Liabilities, the Profit and Loss Account and other statements showing the operations of the Corporation for the year 1911.

The net profits, after payment of the entire cost of management at the Head Office and its Branches, and after making ample provision for losses, amounts to $193,392.42. This amount, together with the balance at credit of Profit and Loss at the end of the preceding year, namely, $52,844.95, enabled your Directors to bring down for distribution the sum of $251,237.37. Out of this amount four quarterly dividends at the rate of eight per cent. per annum were paid, amounting to $80,000; $100,000 was carried to Reserve (thus increasing that amount to $700,000), and $71,237.37 was brought forward to the credit of Profit and Loss.

The Corporation's new building is very nearly completed, and all the space beyond what is required for the Corporation's own use (with the exception of two small areas) has been rented in advance of completion. It is expected that the building will be entirely occupied by 1st April.

All which is respectfully submitted.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We, the undersigned, beg to report that we have made a full examination of the books, accounts and vouchers of The Toronto General Trusts Corporation to the 31st December, 1911, and find same to be correct and properly set forth in the above statements of Profit and Loss and Assets and Liabilities. We have examined, and find in order, all the mortgages, debentures, bonds and scrip of the Corporation, as well as those negotiated for the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario, and Trusts, Estates and Agencies in the Corporation's hands, and we have checked same with the mortgage and debenture ledgers and registers. The bankers' balances, after deducting outstanding cheques, agree with the books of the Corporation.

We have also examined the reports of the auditors of the Winnipeg and Ottawa Branches, and find that they agree with the head office books.

R. F. SPENCE, F.C.A., "Can.,"
GEO. MACBETH,
Auditors.

Toronto, January 29th, 1912.

In moving the adoption of the Report, the President, the Hon. Mr. Featherston Osler, K.C., said in part:—

I shall not comment at any length on the report, but shall ask the Managing Director, Mr. J. W. Langmuir, whose remarks are looked forward to from year to year with much interest by the Shareholders, to address you. There are, however, two matters to which I might refer very briefly. In the first place, I am convinced that this Corporation is capable of rendering a larger service to the farming community throughout the Province, who have during the last few years acquired considerable wealth, but owing to the lack of proper facilities for investment have large sums of money earning not more than two and a half to three per cent., which if invested through the Corporation's Guarantee Investment System would produce a guaranteed net return of four and a half per cent. per annum.

The other matter to which I wish to refer is the work of the Inspection Committee, the report of which will be read by the Hon. Mr. J. J. Foy, K.C., Chairman of the Committee. This report should be of interest to everybody concerned, showing as it does how full and complete is the work done by the Committee in the examination of the loans negotiated or new business assumed by the Corporation, and in ascertaining that the authority of the Board has been received in every instance for the acceptance of such new loans and work, etc. In closing, I need only add that I am quite sure that the financial results of the operations of the Corporation for the year will be alike satisfactory to both shareholders and clients of the Corporation. I have much pleasure in calling on the Managing Director to address you.

The Managing Director, Mr. J. W. Langmuir, said:—

Thirty years ago this week the Toronto General Trusts Corporation was organized, when, at a meeting of the Shareholders, nineteen Directors were appointed. Of these nineteen gentlemen ten are dead, four have resigned, and five only of the charter Directors remain and are with us to-day—namely, the Attorney-General, Hon. J. J. Foy, K.C.; Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C.; Senator Robert Jaffray, J. W. Langmuir and J. G. Scott, K.C.

We commenced operations in a small office on Wellington Street, with a staff comprised of the Manager and one clerk, who performed the duties of stenographer as well as bookkeeper. To-day our staff at the Head Office and its three Branches numbers seventy-two.

The gradual growth of the Corporation necessitated the purchase and removal to our quarters on the corner of Yonge and Colborne streets (formerly occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce), where we have been for twenty-one years, and to-day we meet for the first time—although the building is not quite finished—in our splendid new quarters. I say "splendid," for I think when the building is completed it will be acknowledged to be one of the handsomest structures in Toronto, both in respect to exterior and interior construction. So much for our past history.

Coming now to the operations of the year just closed, I am sure that the Shareholders and clients of the Corporation will find satisfaction in the Thirtieth Annual Report presented to you to-day. The volume of business, as shown by the statement of Assets and Liabilities, in the hands of the Corporation, has reached the sum of $45,086,659.99. This is an increase over the residuum in the hands of the Corporation as at the 31st of December, 1910, of no less a sum than $3,485,362.36. The Corporation during the year assumed new business to the extent of $7,095,478.65, as shown by the Directors' Report, so that the increase in the volume of assets in the hands of the Corporation over the amount under its control as at the 31st December, 1910, represents approximately 50 per cent. of the entire amount of new business taken over during the year. This is a feature of our business which I think is a matter for congratulation, indicating as it does an increasing degree of permanency in connection with the work assumed by the Corporation; in other words, it makes apparent the growing disposition on the part of individuals to provide, either by Will or by Trust Deed, that the Corporation shall invest the proceeds of their Estates and pay the revenue to wife or children, rather than distribute forthwith among the beneficiaries the corpus of such Estates.

The net profits for the year, as shown by the Profit and Loss Statement, are $198,392.42, or an increase over last year of $20,318.41, which, together with the balance brought forward from 1910, makes a total balance for disposition of $251,237.34. Out of this amount your Directors have paid the four quarterly dividends of two per cent., or eight per cent. for the year, amounting to $80,000; transferred to Reserve $100,000, and carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss account the sum of $71,237.37.

The Corporation's Reserve has therefore reached the sum of $700,000, which, with the balance brought forward to the credit of Profit and Loss, gives us a total Capital and Surplus of $1,771,237.37.

One of the outstanding features of the Profit and Loss Statement is the small percentage the net profits bear to the volume of business controlled by the Corporation. And I may say that the result cannot be attributed to excessive cost of management, as in this respect, notwithstanding the complex character of a very large percentage of the assets and work of the Corporation, necessitating the employment of a skilled staff, the ratio of expenses to the volume of business in hand for the last year will very favorably compare with the returns of any other financial institution. These deductions should, I think, dispel from the minds of certain persons—and I understand there are some—the idea that the profits made by Trust Companies through the administration of Estates, are more or less excessive; at the same time these figures should be instructive to persons who contemplate the appointment of the Corporation as their Executor or Trustee, or in other fiduciary capacities.

Notwithstanding the comparatively small profits derived from such a great volume of business, the result will, I think, be entirely satisfactory to the Shareholders, especially when it is remembered that during the entire year, and, indeed, for the past two yars, a considerable amount of our Capital has been locked up in the construction of our new Head Office building, thus withdrawing for the time being a considerable sum from the field of productive investment.

Referring to the Assets and Liabilities Statement, I should like to point out the large increase in mortgage investments—namely, $2,029,703.30—made by the Corporation for its Trust and Guarantee Accounts during the year. In order that the beneficiaries of estates may obtain the best possible revenue return consistent with security, the Corporation exercises due diligence in procuring first mortgages on improved real estate, as on such investments we can obtain better returns than from any other class of securities in which Trustees are authorized to invest. In this connection I may say that the Corporation in its mortgage investments confines itself strictly to mortgages that come within the terms of the Trustee Investment Act, which does not admit of advancing more than 50 per cent. of the value of the security offered and loaning only on first mortgages on improved real estate.

Although the demand for loans on farm properties in the Province of Ontario has greatly fallen off during the past five years, it is satisfactory to note that choice city loans on centrally located properties have largely increased. At the close of the year we have of ous own negotiation (excluding unrealized mortgages taken over with estates) mortgags to the extent of $12,882,614.83 in Ontario; in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta $4,759,546.81, or a total of $17,642,161.64.

The investments in Government and Municipal securities amount at the close of the year to $4,079,087.55, bearing an average rate of 4.42 per cent.

The class of the Ontario city and farm mortgages will be best realized when I state that 97 per cent. of the interest which matured on or before the close of the year has been paid. Owing, however, to the disappointing harvest results extending over a considerable area of western Canada, the interest payments have not been quite so satisfactory, although over 75 per cent. of the interest that had matured on or before the 31st December, 1911, in respect of loans in the Northwest Provinces has been paid.

Speaking of mortgages on real estate leads me to refer to a matter that is at present attracting much thought and attention—namely, speculation in unproductive real estate. A number of Presidents and General Managers of Banks have recently sounded abroad notes of warning, which I am convinced are most opportune. This form of speculation has, with the general expansion of the country, assumed serious proportions, particularly in connection with some of the western cities and towns, and especially the new town sites along the great railway systems through the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. In many of these towns property is being subdivided and sold as building lots that will certainly not, if indeed ever, come into the market for building purposes for a great many years. While this is true of the West, it is also true of the city of Toronto suburban property. Farms from one to five miles from the city limits that were under cultivation a few years ago, having a value of not more than $300 per acre, have been recently sold at fabulous prices, and are now offered to the public in building lots on a foot frontage basis. It is quite true that Toronto is increasing its population in the neighborhood of thirty thousand per annum, making it necessary to provide several thousand homes every year; at the same time it must be remembered that between these outlying subdivisions and the city there is still an enormous amount of vacant land to be built upon. While it is important that Banks should give warning against this form of speculation, it is perhaps even more incumbent upon Trust Companies to endeavor as far as possible to maintain true land values, since so large a percentage of their investments are confined to mortgages on real estate.

The desire to "get rich quick" is finding expression also in stock flotations in respect of a number of industrial and other companies that are greatly over-capitalized, a very large percentage of the stock being water, as the actual assets or earning power of some of these companies would not at all warrant any such stock issues as are offered to the public. The fact that such companies as I speak of can be floated at all is one of the results of the phenomenal developments in Canada during the last dozen years or more, and while it may be difficult for the Governments to altogether control such flotations in order that the public may be protected, yet no doubt something more could be done by a more careful investigation into the facts before charters are issued.

On the other hand, there has existed, and will continue to exist, in this country for many years to come, a great field for properly organized and well-managed companies in the several departments of industrial and financial enterprise, as the future of Canada is undoubtedly assured. This very fact places, if possible, a greater responsibility upon the Banks and Trust and Loan Companies, who control so largely the financial affairs of the country, to as far as possible see that the foundations of our new industrial enterprises are well laid, to the end that our Canadian business affairs shall be of a stable and permanent character.

Some time ago I held the view very strongly that the Trustee Investment Act, confined as it was to investments in first mortgages on real estate, Government and Municipal Debentures, and high class securities of this character, was not sufficiently broad, and that it might very well be extended to other investments on a well-defined basis. I must say that, with the conditions now existing in Canada, I think it wise—for the present, at any rate—to confine the investments of Trust Funds to their present limitations.

It is a matter of regret, both to the Board of Directors and the Officials of the Corporation, that we were not comfortably settled in our new quarters on the 1st October last, as promised, instead of having a mere temporary occupation to-day. The vexatious delays which seem to attach to all large building contracts in Toronto has caused not only discomfort, but considerable loss of rents to the Corporation. The Shareholders, however, will be able to see for themselves that the building is now almost completed. Practically the whole of the building has been rented in advance of completion, and not a few tenants are already in possession.

With respect to the Safe Deposit and Storage Vaults of the Corporation in connection with its new Head Office Building, to which brief reference is made in the Report, I have to say that these vaults have been practically completed, and will be ready for occupation in a few weeks. I can assure the clients of our Safe Deposit Department in our old building, as well as prospective renters, that in the construction of our new vaults the greatest possible care and skill has been exercised, with a view to providing absolute security from fire, burglary, water or even the collapse of the building, if such a contingency were possible. We are advised by authorities competent to give an opinion in such matters that we have in this respect, not only the finest equipment in Canada, but up to the highest standard in the United States. The wisdom of persons or companies in placing records and valuable papers, as well as securities, in a properly constructed vault has been clearly demonstrated in connection with the recent total destruction by fire of the Equitable Life building in New York, when securities and papers representing many millions of dollars were saved through being stored in the safe deposit vaults in the building. We are looking for a large increase in connection with our Safe Deposit and Storage business during the next few years. Literature giving details and particulars with regard to our building and vault construction will be forwarded to you about the time the Corporation takes possession of these premises.

I have much pleasure in recording my high appreciation of the services rendered by the Advisory Boards at Ottawa and Winnipeg, and also by the staff of the Corporation both at the Head Office and its Branches.

UNCLE TOBY'S RUSE

"Twenty-six! You surprise me. Yes, sir, you should be married. No young man should pass that age and remain single."

"You did, Uncle Toby," grinned Gerald McIntyre. Tobias Brenton was a confirmed bachelor of many years' standing.

"That's all right, boy," returned his uncle. "I'm the exception. But you should be married. Tell you what—Jerry—"

"What, uncle?"

"The day you get married I'll give you a thousand dollars for a wedding present."

"You will?"

"I will—with one proviso. If you marry anybody but Patience Allene Truesdale."

"Who?"

"Patience Allene Truesdale."

"Who's Patience Allene Truesdale? And why couldn't I marry her? And where does she live?"

"I didn't say you couldn't marry her," replied Tobias Brenton. "I haven't anything to say concerning her. I believe she is now at Collegeville. What I did say was that if you married anyone but her I would give you a thousand dollars."

"But, Uncle, I don't know this Truesdale, and there's no possibility of my marrying her, or anybody else."

"It's nearly train time," observed Uncle Toby, rising. "I realize you don't know Miss Truesdale, and so what I said may seem foolish. But you can't say I haven't put the proposition up to you. Think over this getting married, Jerry. A thousand dollars is a thousand dollars, these days. Let me hear from you."

The rest of the day Jerry gave his muscle to the hardware store where he was employed, but not his mind for that was elsewhere.

"Who was Patience Allene — Patience Allene; it was a quaint, sweet name — against whom his uncle seemed so prejudiced.

After supper he changed his clothes, tried on four neckties, and went to Collegeville.

There was chattering and laughter and an undercurrent of paintive tinkling in the College building, for three of the party in the center had stringed instruments. From out of the pleasant babel, as Gerald passed the gate a voice said:

"Lead 'My Sweetheart Was a Rover,' Patience Allene."

He met Patience Allene Truesdale presently; the girl of the soprano voice was really she. It took five trips to Collegeville, and three ice cream socials before he accomplished an introduction.

Then he made up for lost time. He called on Patience Allene as often as Normal convention and the girl herself would permit patronized soda fountains and confectionary stores, as well as two moving picture theatres, liberally, and otherwise followed the path which his uncle's words should have barred. He fell heels over head in love with Patience Allene.

He puzzled still over the mystery of his uncle's dislike for her. She came from his uncle's home town, Long Rapids, and when he had craftily introduced his name into the conversation one night, she had spoken glowingly of Mr. Brenton, who was her father's best friend, she said. It was Mr. Brenton who had advised her to attend the Normal, so she could be a high school teacher.

"There's something troubling you, Jerry," she said, so unexpectedly, that he was taken completely off guard. "Tell me what it is."

Jerry, blundering, attempted to finesse it delayed things a little longer, but at last he had to tell.

"Your uncle needn't have worries," she said coolly, when he had finished. "I haven't any designs on you or your [illegible]. You are wasting time with me; better begin trying to earn that thousand dollars. No, I'm not angry; good night!

Jerry, raging, went home to find Uncle Toby, having dropped into town unexpectedly, the centre of his own merry family circle.

In five minutes Uncle Toby, the wealthy, the courted and the masterful was on his way to Collegeville, virtually a prisoner in the custody of this grim and silent young stranger.

"Now, sir," grated Jerry, "I brought you here to say that your prejudice against Miss Truesdale doesn't make any difference. We're going to be married; and we don't need that thousand dollars."

"Is this true, Patience Allene?" asked Uncle Toby.

Patience Allene did not seem to mind the queerness of Jerry's proposal. "Yes," she said, simply; "but, Mr. Brenton, what did you say to Jerry?"

"What did I say, Jerry?"

"You said you'd give me a thousand dollars if I married anybody but Patience Allene."

"Correct. Anything else ;any reflection on her?"

"No-o."

He took a hand of each. "My dear young people," he said, "your uncle has 'put one over,' as the boys say. If you dreamed I wanted you to marry, you'd have flown apart. There, now, never mind thanking me. I must be getting back. I suppose the last car goes pretty soon. I'll let you walk that three miles alone. And — the thousand dollars shall be five thousand."

And Uncle Toby smiled whimsically as he went away, yet sighed a little, too; for he knew he was already forgotten.

His Idea of Importance.

'In one benighted region of a certain state in the southwest,' says a Chicago lawyer, 'they cherish some peculiar notions touching the duties of a juror.'

'One day a case was being tried, when suddenly the justice exclaimed:

'"How is this? There are only eleven jurymen in the box. Where is the twelfth?"'

The foreman arose and addressed the court respectfully, as follows:

"May it please your honor, the twelfth juror had to go away on important business, but he has left his verdict with me."

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that everyone who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and backache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice.—MISS TILLIE PLENZIG, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

OUT GO THE MANCHUS

Curtain Is Rung Down on Present Chinese Dynasty.

After Three Centuries of Power the Invaders Have Signed Their Own Edict of Abdication and Have Left the Country Free to Become a Republic—Actual Departure Will Not Occur For Some Time Yet.

Pekin, Feb. 3.—The abdication of the throne of China by the Manchu dynasty, after nearly 300 years of power, was proclaimed in an Imperial edict at noon yesterday.

Another edict declared that the throne accepted the republic, while a third approved all the conditions agreed upon by Premier Yuan Shi Kai and the Republicans.

The provisions and stipulations of the edict are said to be almost identical with those previously reported.

The Mongolian princes, who have been leaders in the anti-abdication agitation at the court, have cabled to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, insisting that unless Yuan Shi Kai gets the Presidency they will consider themselves entitled to take further measures against the establishment of the republic.

The momentous step by which the Manchu dynasty yields up its power and agrees to change from an absolute monarchy to a representative Government, was notified in three simultaneous proclamations.

Although the final act of abdication had been awaited for some time, the posting of the edict with the declaration that it was an accomplished fact caused profound excitement.

The second edict approving of all the conditions agreed upon between Yuan Shi Kai and the republican representatives, created even more astonishment. It had been expected that the Manchus would demand conditions which would safeguard many of their privileges, but according to the proclamation, their surrender is unconditional.

The third edict informed the viceroys and provincial governors of the retirement of the throne from political power, and instructed them to continue doing their duty and to preserve order throughout the land. It declared that the step taken by the throne was in order to meet the wishes of the people.

Yesterdays abdication of the Chinese throne by Pu Yi, the child Emperor, brings to an end the powerful Manchu dynasty, which has reigned in China, since 1644. The boy ruler has been on the throne since Nov. 14, 1908, when the Emperor Kwangshu, his uncle, died. His father, Prince Chun, was appointed regent and was the chief figure in China for three years.

Surrounded by a large number of princes of the Imperial clan and Manchu officials with reactionary ideas, the regent was brought face to face with a revolutionary movement in favor of modern reforms. He endeavored to placate both parties, but ended by causing general dissatisfaction, which led to his resignation on Dec. 6, 1911.

After Patent Medicines.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—Important amendments to the Pure Food Act will probably be introduced this session by the Minister of Inland Revenue, Hon. W. B. Nantel.

They will concern particularly the sale of patent medicines. At present the Canadian law is much less stringent than that of the United States and it is claimed that as a result many preparations debarred in the U. S. are being advertised and sold in this country.

The registry of preparations also will be more strictly enforced.

$5,000,000 FOR NORTH

Sir James Whitney Makes Important Announcement.

Premier Says That Sum Will Be Expended In the Work of Colonizing and Developing the Entire Northland—Questions Will Be Answered In Due Time—New Bills Were Introduced Yesterday.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Five million dollars as an appropriation for the colonization and development of the whole northern part of the province known as New Ontario, was an announcement made by Sir James Whitney in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

"The Government intends," he said "to ask the House during the present session for authority to borrow a sum of money, not exceeding five million dollars, for the purpose of colonization and development in New, or rather Northern, Ontario, including not only the Temiskaming country, but the country in the vicinity of Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur and Fort William, the Rainy River district and other localities in the northern portion of the province."

N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition, rose to his feet. "I must compliment my hon. friend, Sir James Whitney, on this announcement," said he. "The question is, Is this amount enough? I see that our campaign for the development of New Ontario is beginning to take effect."

Sir James rose from his seat again with a smile on his face. "My hon. friend opposite is peculiar," he said. Luckily anyone who is able to read even the newspapers saw what I had announced in my campaign addresses regarding the Government's determination to assist in the development of New Ontario in every way possible. If my hon. friend can give credit for this to any person, thing or organization, I have nothing more to say."

Up bobbed Allan Studholme. "This little stove mounter has been urging this very thing since 1907," he said, "and all the Boards of Trade of the province have been urging it, too. I am glad to hear this announcement from Sir James Whitney, and if he wants to take all the credit for it, he is welcome to it."

This was at the end of the afternoon session, and a minute later the House was adjourned. Scores of Conservative members flocked around the Prime Minister to congratulate him and numbers of them hastened out of the chamber to telegraph the important news to their constituencies.

Sir James during the afternoon session of the Legislature, commented on the questions that had been put to the Government about certain matters of legislation. Particular reference was made by the Premier to Mr. Rowell's queries. The rules of the House, said Sir James, did not permit of the information being given at this time. With regard to the enquiry about the Manitoba boundary question, this was not allowed, as a general discusson the matter would shortly come up on the floor of the House. "I can assure my hon. friend," said Sir James, "that whatever his anxiety is regarding this boundary question, ours is just as great, in order to get the facts before the public. Several of the other questions asked for information about persons in the employ of the Government taking part in the elections. Under the Garrow resolution no person depending on salary he received from the Government was permitted to take part in either provincial or Dominion elections."

The question regarding the Hydro-Electric Commission's transference to a Department of the Government might better be left until Hon. Adam Beck was in the House, when he could answer it. To this Mr. Rowell agreed.

Several of the questions were enquiries as to what the Government intended to do in certain matters pending legislation. Sir James said that the information could be given as information to private members, but not for general information, nor was it in order to ask if statements made in newspapers were true.

Hon. Mr. Hanna introduced a bill to amend the Vaccination and Inoculation Act. A clause is added providing penalty for refusing to order vaccination, refusing to issue proclamation and disobeying the order. These sub-section were necessary, the former act making no provision for contravention of the act on the part of doctors. The section providing that it is lawful for school trustees to enforce the production of a certificate of vaccination before allowing children to attend school is omitted entirely. A new provision follows to the effect that where it is deemed necessary by the medical health officer, owing to the presence, or threatened presence of smallpox, he may require a certificate of successful vaccination from pupils attending high schools, colleges and universities.

Mr. Hanna also introduced a bill to amend the Maternity Boarding House Act.

Under the new arrangement the duty is to cast upon the person registering the duty of seeing that every birth is properly attended to and registered under the Vital Statistics Act. The present act merely required that every birth that took place in the house should be attended by a regularly qualified medical practitioner, and cast the duty on no one person.

Another amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act was introduced by Mr. Hanna, which will prohibit motor vehicles from passing a stationary street car, whereas the old act permitted them to pass at the rate of four miles an hour. A special penalty has been attached for neglect to carry a license number; for persons racing on highways, or failure to stop in case of accident occasioned to other persons on the highway, or neglect to carry lights at night. For the first offence the penalty will be $50 or one week's imprisonment. Proposed amendments to the Highway Travel Act will be inclusion of all motor vehicles, instead of those drawn by horses or a traction engine, and the devil-strip right of way has been made to apply generally, instead of as in larger localities. This means that vehicles going south and east have the right of way.

LADS GO FREE.

Farnham Incendiaries Released Under Bond.

Sweetsburg, Que., Feb. 13.—The three boys, Jean Paul Marchand, Eugene Bernard and William Hery, who were charged with having set on fire the Holy Cross College at Farnham, thereby causing its destruction, were set free in the custody of their parents by Judge Mulvena here yesterday. In each case a bond of $1,000 as surety for good behavior was exacted from the parents by the court.

The case had been postponed since Monday, when the judge asked counsel for the defence of Marchand, Mr. Papineau Mathieu of Montreal, to be prepared with a defence showing why the boy Marchand should not be convicted, he being 11 years of age.

Mr. Mathieu insisted yesterday that the confessions in regard to setting fire to the college ought not to form part of the records of the case, as he said they were made inducements and threats by the college authorities and High Constable Boisvert.

Judge Mulvena ruled that the evidence of High Constable Boisvert, which included alleged confessions, was legally inadmissible. He commended the high constable's zeal and declared that but for him the facts of the case would not have been ascertained. He didn't consider that the boys were sufficiently depraved to be sent to a reformatory. He then delivered decision as cited above.

Kennough Arrested Again.

Hamilton, Feb. 13.—George H. Kennough, former night clerk in the Hamilton office of the Canadian Express Co. was, yesterday morning, arrested for the second time in connection with the $8,500 robbery of the company here last September. The charge against Kennough this time is conspiracy.

His former arrest was on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery. He was never charged, however, but was sent to jail for two months last fall for stealing $15 from the express company. Kennough was arrested yesterday while at his work at the plant of the Bertram Manufacturing Co. in Dundas, where he has been employed since his release from jail. Detectives Cameron and Sayer of the Hamilton police force, and Constable Pearie of Dundas took Kennough into custody. The accused man made no trouble for the officers, and accepted his arrest philosophically and almost cheerfully, even.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Monday Evening, Feb. 12.

Winnipeg was the only grain exchange open on this continent to-day, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis and New York markets observing the holiday (Lincoln's Birthday). The tone of the Winnipeg market was decidedly apathetic, the removal of the influence of the exchanges across the line putting a decided curb on speculative trading. At the close prices were lower than on Saturday, with wheat off ⅝c to ⅞c, and oats ⅛c to ⅛c lower. The Liverpool market closed at a decline from last week, and it was this fact which led to the easier tone in the Western Canadian exchange.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Feb. 12.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 92 carloads, comprising 1703 cattle, 531 hogs, 447 sheep and 19 calves.

Exporters.

W. F. Howard, buyer for Swift & Co., bought 5 car loads of export cattle as follows: Ninety-one steers, 1190 lbs. each, at $6.50; 4 heifers, 1150 lbs. each, at $6.50.

Alex. McIntosh bought 1 load of export steers, 1250 lbs., at $6.50.

Butchers.

One choice load of cattle, export weights, 18 steers, 1228 lbs. each, was bought by the Swift Canadian Co. for local killing, at $6.90, and another load by H. P. Kennedy at $6.80 for Montreal. Prime butchers, $6.25 to $6.40; loads of good, $6 to $6.25; medium, $5.50 to $5.75; common to medium, $5 to $5.40; inferior, $4.50 to $5; cows, $3 to $5.25; bulls, $4.50 to $5.50; canners, $2.25 to $3.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers were quoted at $45 to $65 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices for veal calves were reported steady at $4 to $8, and one or two extra quality brought $9.

Sheep and Lambs.

The average price of Canadian lambs was $7.25 per cwt., or a range of $6 to $7.50 per cwt.; sheep, ewes, $4.00, average price, or a range of $4 to $5 per cwt.; rams, $3 to $3.50.

There was a car load of American lambs that sold at $7.40 to $7.65, and one selected lot went to Hamilton at $7.75 per cwt.

Hogs.

W. J. Johnston reported selects, fed and watered, at $6.75, and $6.40 to drovers for hogs, f.o.b., cars, at country points. Mr. Johnston bought 2 car lots at $7 off cars.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Feb. 10 were 1700 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 2275 hogs and 250 calves, while the offerings on the market this morning for sale amounted to 950 cattle, 225 sheep and lambs, 1575 hogs and 225 calves.

A feature of the trade to-day was the stronger feeling in the market for cattle, and prices since this day week show an advance of 25c per 100 pounds, which is attributed to the smaller offerings, the improved quality of the stock coming forward, and the increased demand from both local and out-of-town butchers for the better grades. The gathering of buyers was larger than usual, and, as they were all well cleaned out of good beef, the demand was stronger, and a fairly active trade was done at satisfactory prices to both buyers and sellers.

A feature of the trade was the demand for bulls for shipment to Quebec, and, as there were quite a number on the market of the right quality, sales were made freely of choice stock weighing from 1500 to 2000 pounds at $5.50 to $6 per 100 pounds. Full loads of choice brought $6.75, and in a jobbing way as high as $7 was realized, and in some instances drovers asked the latter price for full loads.

The tone of the market for sheep and lambs was very firm on account of limited supplies available and the good demand for the same. Calves are becoming more plentiful, but the quality of the stock is only medium, and a good many of them are far too young to be fit for killing.

There was no change in the condition of the market for hogs, prices being firm under a good demand and smaller supplies, and sales of selected lots were made at $7.25 to $7.35 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.75 to $7; do., medium, $4.25 to $6; do., common, $3.25 to $4; do., choice cows, $5.25 to $5.50; do., medium, $3.50 to $5; do., bulls, $4 to $6; milkers, choice, $75 to $80; do., common and medium, each, $50 to $65; springers, $30 to $45.

Sheep, ewes, $4.50 to $4.75; bucks and culls, $3.75 to $4.25; lambs, $6.50 to $7.

Hogs, f.o.b., $7.25 to $7.35.

Calves, $3 to $12.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 12.—Cattle—Receipts, 250 head; market active and steady; prime steers, $7.50 to $8; butcher grades, $5.50 to $6.50; cows, $3.50 to $5.

Calves—Receipts, 700 head; market active, 50c higher; cull to choice, $6 to $10.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 18,000; market active, 25c higher; choice lambs, $7 to $7.15; cull to fair, $5 to $6.75; yearlings, $5.25 to $5.75; sheep, $2 to $4.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,200; market fairly active, 10c to 15c lower; yorkers, $6.40 to $6.60; pigs, $6 to $6.25; mixed, $6.50 to $6.60; heavy, $6.55 to $6.60; roughs, $5.50 to $5.85; stags, $4.25 to $5.50.

HALDANE PLEASED.

Says He Received a Fine Welcome From Kaiser.

London, Feb. 13.—Viscount Haldane, Minister of War, returned from Germany yesterday, enthusiastic over the reception that he had been given by the Kaiser and other officials of the fatherland. He declared that the friendliness manifested toward him eclipsed all expectations. Although he did not issue any official statement upon his arrival, he indicated by his manner that he believed the trip would pave the way to a lessening of the tension between the two countries.

Berlin Is Gloomy.

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Reports that the mission to Germany of Viscount Haldane, British Secretary for War, had been a failure, circulated on the Bourse yesterday and contributed to the prevailing weakness and pessimism. The rumors, however, were not justified, as the situation will be cleared up only after Viscount Haldane has conferred with his colleagues of the British Ministry, with whom rests the decision as to whether definite negotiations with Germany are to be begun.

The German Foreign Office yesterday was apparently well satisfied concerning the prospects of the situation.

Viscount Haldane returned to London in possession of an outline of the new German naval and military proposals, notwithstanding the fact that these have not yet been communicated to the German Federal Council.

TO DISCUSS SCHOOLS.

Roblin Goes to Le Pas on Invitation—Free Press' Views.

Winnipeg, Feb. 13.—The Free Press (Liberal) says yesterday: "The story from Montreal in The Toronto World about the Manitoba school question may be true in spots, but it is certainly wrong in attributing to Mr. Roblin an intention of appealing to the people on the question of restoring separate schools to this province.

"If Mr. Roblin has agreed to modify the school law now in force, he will give the job to the present Legislature, which is much more obedient to him than any future Legislature would be.

"In the present Legislature the Roblin Government has a large and well-trained majority. If told to pass legislation destroying the national system of education the Conservative members would do it. It is doubtful if a single man would bolt.

"But a general election upon this issue would be an entirely different proposition."

Premier Roblin has been invited to go to Le Pas, in Keewatin, Friday night, where a public meeting will be held to discuss the school question.

So far there is no separate school at La Pas, the one organized by Bishop Charlebois being a private sectarian school. No reply has been received to an application of Commissioner White of the Northwest Territories, asking for legislation to organize a separate school on statutory lines.

To Make Radial Sit Up.

"I have much pleasure in stating that I have used your Anti-Skid tires since April last, and am still driving the same set, which have gone over five thousand miles. They have caused no trouble whatever, and look as if they were good for another 2,500 miles, at least. I also find that they grip the pavements in greasy weather much better than most of the alleged Anti-Skid tires at present on the market; as a matter of fact, I have never had any chains on since I started using them."

STEEL PASSENGER CARS ARE BETTER THAN WOODEN ONES

Accident on New Jersey Railroad Splendid Test for Steel Construction—Not a Person was Injured—Experts Assert That With Wooden Cars Many Would Have Been Killed

A railroad wreck in Indiana a few months ago, proved to the satisfaction of the Hardwood Record that wooden cars are safer than steel ones. Now a wreck in New Jersey, on another division of the same road, is seized upon by the daily press as proving just the opposite. On November 17, a fast train from Philadelphia for New York took a cross over near Monmouth Junction, N.J., at a speed of fifty miles an hour, with the natural result that it left the rails and tore up the track for a long distance until the locomotive rolled over into the ditch. The coaches were of steel, and, as one report has it, "not a window pane in the passenger cars was broken, and not a passenger sustained any injury." The New York Times says:

"Wooden cars would have been telescoped and smashed, and many of their occupants would inevitably have been killed or severely injured. A stronger argument in favor of the desirability of replacing all the old-time wooden cars with improved steel cars of the most modern type has not presented itself."

The New York Press is convinced of the same truth by this accident, and would have the Government compel the roads to retire the wooden cars and run only steel ones; and the Tribune says similarly:

"Thousands of lives have been sacrificed to the long-standing habit of transporting passengers in wooden cars, which in case of a collision would telescope, split up and quickly take fire. Inertia and false ideas of economy still keep wooden cars in use on many roads, in spite of the fact that the practicability of using only metal cars, uncollapsible and unburnabile, has been fully demonstrated. But the annual roll of avoidable killings, and maimings is getting shorter; for there is no longer a good excuse for a railroad's taking chances with the old-style construction when the immense superiority of the new is established to the satisfaction of the travelling public.

"Steel cars cost more than wooden ones, but when the great crisis in railroading comes they will repay the extra cost. It is better economy to have all-steel equipment than to pay out hundreds of thousands of dollars in damages for loss of life and injuries to travellers. Safety is the highest ideal in railroad transportation. It is also the most profitable policy. The railroad which can show a train derailment like that at Monmouth Junction without the slightest injury to a passenger needs no other advertisement to win the patronage of a discriminating public."

In the Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore, Mr. A. W. Eckberg replies at considerable length to the Hardwood Record's claim for wooden cars, and after arguing that the fine showing of the wooden coach in the Indiana wreck was due more to luck than merit, he goes on to say of the two types:

"In almost all wrecks of wooden cars a great many of the people injured or killed are struck or pierced by splinters from the wood, which are evidently flying in all directions. This would not happen with steel cars because the steel would not split up and cause injuries.

"It is fully as important to have the cars fire proof nowadays in spite of the electric light and steam heat, as it ever has been. A case illustrating this point was the wreck on the Lehigh Valley Railroad some months ago, when an excursion train was derailed and come in contact with some oil-tanks standing along the track, flooding the wreck with oil which caught fire and burned fiercely, the wooden cars, of course, adding fuel to the flame and causing the death of eight persons out of eleven killed.

"As to steel cars being noisier than the wooden cars, the writer knows from personal experience that such is not the case. How many travellers in a Pullman car have not been kept awake practically all night on account of the creaking of the old wooden sleeping car, which all the joints in the wood, from the constant moving of the train, keep up.

This danger is not so apparent, if not wholly obliterated in the car of steel construction. If this question was put to a vote no doubt the majority of experienced travellers would give a statement in favor of the steel cars as against the wooden cars."

Anyone familiar with steel-car construction, Mr. Eckberg goes on to say knows that insulation against heat or cold is well provided for, both by the hollow-wall construction and by a special insulating felt. Comparison between a hot tin roof and a modern steel car he believes to be absurd, as the tin roof is stationary, while a steel car at a speed of from thirty to fifty miles an hour is cooled by the draft. He goes on.

"It is also a fact that the all-steel passenger cars were not ordered and put in service until exhaustive tests had been made in which they were found satisfactory, and superior to the wooden cars. The very fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad has put in service more than 2,000 cars speaks well for it, and other large railroad systems are following suit."

RARE OPERATION IN TORONTO HOSPITAL

Transfusion of Blood of Father to Daughter in Hospital for Sick Children

TORONTO, Feb. 12—Some months ago a little girl, aged eight years, was brought to the Hospital for Sick Children suffering from osteomyelitis, or bone decay in the leg. The patient had been losing strength gradually and the surgeons determined to give her more blood so as to improve her general condition. Accordingly the father was notified of the suggestion and he promptly offered to give about eight ounces of blood to his little daughter.

The surgeon opened the radial artery at the wrist and connected it with one of the veins of an arm of his daughter, allowing his blood to flow into her veins. This continued about fifteen minutes. By this time the daughter's vessels had become filled with blood, about eight ounces having been transfused from the father. The child is a much better color, and has certainly improved, but it will be some days before the results are apparent. The operation was performed under a local anaesthetic, with practically no pain to either father or daughter, and with no apparent ill-effects to either. The father, after the operation, walked out of the operating room and went to his work as if nothing unusual had happened.

KILLING BLACK BEARS BEFORE LAURIER'S VISIT

One Weighing 750 Pounds Shot After Exciting Hunt Near Dr. Maloney's Home.

EGANVILLE, Feb. 10.—A monster black bear has been captured by George Lamarche on his farm near here. For several days Lamarche's dog kept howling almost continually, making efforts to direct attention to some close underbrush in the bush. Lamarche investigated and with considerable difficulty broke through the brush after the dog. The dog drew back, and Lamarche received a shock when he faced a big bear.

He made a hasty departure and secured the assistance of a couple of chums. They organized a bear hunt and eventually got bruin dead enough with five shots to go near him. Mr. John George offered him $35 for the skin but Lamarche values it at $75 The bear weighed 750 pounds. The carcass will be sent to the butchers to be disposed of.

Eganville is the home of Dr. Maloney, the South Renfrew Conservative candidate. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak there in behalf of Hon. G. P. Graham on the 19th inst. Hunting parties are out looking for any of the bear's friends in order to have them out of the way when Sir Wilfrid comes.

THE CARELESS GROCER.

BLUNDERED AND GREAT GOOD CAME OF IT

A careless grocer left the wrong package at a Michigan home one day and thereby brought a great blessing to the household.

"Two years ago I was a sufferer from stomach trouble, so acute that the effort to digest ordinary food gave me great pain, and brought on a condition of such extreme nervousness that I could not be left alone. I thought I should certainly become insane. I was so reduced in flesh that I was little better than a living skeleton. The doctors failed to give me relief and I despaired of recovery.

"One day our groceryman left a package of Grape-Nuts food by mistake, so I tried some for dinner. I was surprised to find that it satisfied my appetite and gave me no distress whatever. The next meal I ate of it again, and to be brief, I have lived for the past year almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. It has proved to be a most healthful and appetizing food, perfectly adapted to the requirements of my system.

"Grape-Nuts is not only easily digested and assimilated, but I find that since I have been using it I am able to eat anything else which my appetite fancies, without trouble from indigestion. The stomach trouble and nervousness have left me, and I have regained my plumpness and my views of life are no longer despondent and gloomy.

"Other members of my family, especially my husband, (whose old enemy, the 'heart-burn,' has been vanquished) have also derived great benefit from the use of Grape-Nuts food and we think no morning meal complete without it." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

IRELAND AND THE IRISH PEOPLE

Where to See the Newest and the Oldest Thing on the Island Side by Side—A Marconi Mast and a Peasant's Hut—The Calf One of the Family Group

Any visitor to the western peaks of Connemara may see the newest and the oldest thing in Ireland almost side by side. The Marconi station, which is the only un-Irish thing the people have heard of, looks and is brand-new. It expresses the greatest miracle of modern science, which has captured a secret from the intangible ether itself, and, one might fancy, stands there as if on purpose to abstract from sea and wind the mysticism which still lies deep in the Irish peasant, and to serve as a flagstaff for a new and materially prosperous age, which is visibly advancing, even to the confines of Clifden. Close beside this Marconi station is to be found a cabin, or hut, or hovel, which might stand for a model or perhaps a caricature of the old Ireland that is rapidly disappearing. The cabin has one room, with the usual small and deep windows, which are better adapted for anything than admitting light or air. One end of the cabin is roughly, very roughly, divided off by some hangings, and there two cows are stalled.

On the near side live the men, women and children with what I can only call their pets. On the occasion of a recent visit, the family had just finished tea, and they presented a picture of Irish life that a stage manager would envy. Those who had finished tea pressed round the turf fire, which, as in all Irish houses, old and new, is burnt directly on the floor. The company included a calf, which was thrusting its nose for warmth close to the smouldering turfs, that threw a strange light on the great mild eyes. The calf was just one of the family group. On one side a little girl leaned her right elbow on its shoulders, and on the other side another child had thrown her arm across the back. The calf was a companionable prop. In the scattered ashes of the hearth a small porker was lying, and another was on the tea-table, being fed with fragments left over from the tea. In this room all the family slept, though the beds were scarcely distinguishable among the furniture.

This interior is, of course, in no way peculiar, but found just at that spot it told, as similar scenes did not. Even the inspector who came upon it from a very full experience of Irish life, could not forget the picture. Walking along coast roads from the north of Sligo to Donegal, I have seen many worse cabins. Again and again I could not tell till I reached the doorway whether the building was a house or a hovel, that is, a place for men and stock or for stock only. Even at the post office of a considerable village I had difficulty in entering for the press of hens, and when I opened the door they and a terrier entered with me. As I wrote a telegram the hens pecked at my boots by way of recalling that contrast between old and new which the Marconi station first suggested. Vast numbers of Irish peasants, as everyone knows, live in similar hovels; and when once consumption gets a lodging the whole population fall. "There is consumption in every house," a doctor told me of one isolated village I passed through.

But this old Ireland is passing away at a pace that only those who have seen the transition can realize. I may anticipate so far as to say that the strongest impression left with me is the buoyant prosperity of Ireland. It is a rich country. There is a great deal of money in the very poorest places.—W. Beach Thomas in the London Daily Mail.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

TYRONE POWER IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

Tyrone Power, who created the famous Drain-Man role in "The Servant in the House," was the first actor selected for this now famous characterization. His was the first and only name suggesting itself for the role upon which the fate of the play practically hung—for the best comedy, tenderest pathos and most impressive declamation in "The Servant in the House" are to be found in lines that fall to "the man who looks after the drains."

Power has created some of the most impressive roles that have been seen upon the American stage during the past ten or fifteen years.

The man who heads the company that has made "The Servant in the House" famous, has supported both Sir Henry Irving and Beerbohm Tree in London, and has starred in numerous important productions in Australia. He was starred in America a few years ago as Ulysses in Stephen Phillips' poetic drama of that name, but no role brought him so much fame as his memory-haunting portrayal of the uncouth, bitter, but lovable workingman in Charles Rann Kennedy's now famous play. "The Servant in the House" will be the attraction at the Griffin Opera House Thursday, Feb. 15th.

A man may go through the world on credit, but it isn't always to his credit.

LITERARY NOTES.

A SPLENDID BUILDING NUMBER

This month, you certainly must not overlook the Canadian Home Journal. It has been fine to see the continual improvement in this home magazine. At first glance in the news dealers' windows its appearance assures one that it will be good—with its cover showing a charming girl in a snow storm. I am afraid we have begun to associate such attractiveness only with foreign magazines. Still finer covers are promised, some by Norman Price, whom many will have heard of, for since leaving Canada he has won much fame in England and United States for his illustrations and magazine covers.

February is Home Building Number, but beside building, it deals largely with decorating, and if you want to have your eyes opened at the attractive results to be obtained by a person with taste, a little knowledge and a little paint, you couldn't spend ten cents in a wiser way than for a copy.

The Toronto City Council, impelled by the demands of the Lord's Day Alliance, took steps to pass a by-law prohibiting the use on Sundays of the safe slides erected by the city in the parks. In operation this would compel the people to do their tobogganing and bobsleighing on the natural hillsides and endanger their own and others' limbs. The newspapers of the city are protesting against the council's regulation and it is calculated that seventy-five per cent. of the citizens are opposed to it. Legislators, before they are driven to action by what sounds like a loud noise, should think of the fate of the man and the ass in Aesop's fable.—Montreal Gazette.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

HOCKEY.

The Senior City League hockey match scheduled to take place last evening between the Y.M.C.A. and Marsh & Henthorn teams did not materialize owing to the latter team not putting in an appearance.

ORILLIA PUT 'VARSITY OUT.

The University of Toronto juniors took off their hats to Orillia last night at Excelsior Rink in Toronto in a game which ended 5 to 4. The winners beat 'Varsity at home by 9 to 4 and thus have a handsome margin on the round. The better team won last night in spite of the closeness of the score.

BERLIN PUT WOODSTOCK OUT.

BERLIN, Ont., Feb. 12.—Berlin O. H. A. juniors, hitherto sidetracked as possible contenders for the championship, forged their way into the semi-finals by defeating Woodstock by an overwhelming score of 10 to 2 to-night. The latter team came to this city with a four-goal lead after having defeated Berlin at home by 9 to 5. At half time Berlin led 2 to 1, and it appeared then as though the local youngsters would have to shelve their sticks for another season. The game was witnessed by over 2,500 fans, smashing all recorded attendances for amateur performances since the memorable game when Berlin captured the senior O. H. A. championship in 1906.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES ARRANGED.

Last night Secretary Hewitt arranged the finals in the senior series of the O. H. A. and the semi-finals in the intermediate and junior. Indications are that the championships will be decided by March 1. The dates arranged are as follows:—

Senior Finals.

Saturday, Feb. 17—Eatonias of Toronto v Frontenacs of Kingston, at Excelsior Rink, Toronto.

Friday, Feb. 23.—Frontenacs of Kingston v Eatonias of Toronto at Kingston.

Intermediate Semi-Finals.

Wednesday, Feb. 14—Paris at Preston.

Friday, Feb. 16—Preston at Paris.

Friday, Feb. 23—The winners of Peterborough-Midland play Mount Forest a sudden death game at the Excelsior rink at Toronto.

Junior Semi-Finals.

Thursday, Feb. 15—Berlin v. Toronto Canoe Club, at Ravina Rink, Toronto.

Monday, Feb. 19—Toronto Canoe Club at Berlin.

Friday, Feb. 16.—Orillia at Peterborough.

Tuesday, Feb. 20.—Peterborough at Orillia.

The finals in the intermediate and junior series will be hurried on as soon as the finalists are determined.

HOCKEY IS SPREADING.

Hockey is a new game in central New York, and it is fast coming into favor. Syracuse and Rochester Universities have both formed teams this season and there are many good amateur sevens, playing. The Arena Hockey Club of the former city has developed a team that will compare favorably with any of the intercollegiate sevens and the support is increasing with every game.

The Syracuse Arena, erected this winter, is a thoroughly modern artificial ice rink, and the skating surface of 17,000 square feet makes it excellent for hockey. The length is 200 feet and the width 85 feet.

Rochester and Buffalo will erect rinks next fall, in which case Syracuse would prefer to arrange for an amateur league with teams in Syracuse, Buffalo, Rochester, Toronto, Hamilton and another western Ontario city.

The Syracuse Arena represents an outlay of approximately $120,000 and the Boston Arena about $160,000. Twelve miles of piping were required for the freezing apparatus at the Syracuse rink. The galleries are all heated so that spectators can watch the skating or hockey contests in comfort.

This spreading of hockey over the northern part of the continent foreshadows the time when the same will become an honest sport. In the early days of baseball the game was played by men who professed to be amateurs, but were in reality professionals but, in view of the great hold which it took upon the public, it had of necessity to be professionalized in order to secure its proper government, and the result is that baseball in the professional leagues is to-day a thoroughly honest sport. So will it be with hockey. The thin veneer of amateurism with which the O.H.A. have attempted to cover the professionalism of the clubs which it controls will be swept away and Canada's national winter sport will be properly organized and conducted without false pretences.

CURLING.

Four members of the local Curling Club, namely, Dr. Day, Dr. Clarke, Mr. H. Hampton and Mr. C. J. Symons, went to Cobourg to-day to take part in a curling bonspiel which commenced in that town this afternoon.

GREAT GAME AT WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 12.—The biggest sensation of the bonspiel was pulled off in Terminals Rink Saturday, when Arthur Dalton's Toronto Granite rink defeated Frank Cassidy in the Dingwall Competition. The crowd of five hundred enthusiasts who watched the game until Cassidy had delivered the last rock refusing to believe that the Winnipeg champion was going down to defeat before a comparatively unknown eastern rink. Saturday night and Sunday the only topic of conversation in all the hotels of the city, where a thousand odd curlers from all over the world are quartered, was Dalton's notable victory. It was Cassidy's first defeat of the bonspiel. Dalton is one of the few who can say they ever beat Cassidy since he became famous three years ago, when he cleaned up the Winnipeg bonspiel, capturing three of four big open events, and winning second in the fourth. That year he played 52 games and won 51.

Dalton's victory was achieved under most unfavorable conditions. Of all the tricky sheets of ice in Winnipeg, the one on which this game was played is possibly the worst. A crowd of some fifteen hundred people, mostly local "fans," who follow Cassidy around from rink to rink to watch him play, just as baseball rooters would run after "Ty" Cobb or Hans Wagner, witnessed the contest and cheered almost as heartily when one of Dalton's rink missed a shot as they did when Cassidy made one of his fancy in-twisters, at which he excels.

But the crowd failed to shake the nerve of the Toronto quartette. They played as though they were unconscious of the fact that there was anybody in the rink except themselves, their competitors and the caretaker. Cassidy's rink made the fatal mistake of under-estimating their opponents. Dalton scored two on the first end. Cassidy smiled indulgently and the rink cracked a few jokes. Dalton scored two on the second end. Cassidy was still smiling and McKittrick nonchalantly lit a fresh cigarette.

Cassidy scored a point on the third end, and the rooters smiled and applauded. In the fourth end Dalton gathered in a cluster of three, making the score: Dalton 7, Cassidy 1. The confident smiles on the faces of Cassidy's rink had now disappeared, and McKittrick forgot about his cigarettes. There was no more posing and playing to the gallery. They began to realize that the game was not the joke they anticipated. On the fifth end Dalton got one more. On the sixth, when Cassidy went down to play his last rock, Dalton was lying four shots, perfectly guarded. He made a beautiful touch off a side stone and went straight to the tee, scoring shot. It was brilliant play, the sort for which he is famous, and created a burst of cheers from the spectators. On the seventh end Cassidy got three, making the score 8 to 5. The champion was now within striking distance, and had five ends in which to build up a comfortable margin. The over-enthusiastic rooters could not restrain themselves, and, not contented with cheering Cassidy's fine play, they guyed and jollied Dalton's boys. The next end looked bad for the easterners. Cassidy had changed his tactics, and instead of trying to pass his opponents' stones through, he was urging his players to get their stones on the ice. They succeeded in placing five shots, three of them counters.

When Suckling went down to play Dalton decided it was time to do some housecleaning. If he could hit the front stone just right he could do great execution. He did. He cleaned out Cassidy's entire five shots, and laid three. This was too much for any crowd in which there were curlers. A round of applause greeted the play. Cassidy picked off a couple of shots but Dalton scored the end. This and the tenth were the decisive ends. On the tenth Dalton got the applause by a superb draw past a perfect guard through a difficult port, with his last stone scoring the shot, and cutting Cassidy out of three. On the eleventh and twelfth ends Cassidy scored one, Dalton playing to allow him one, carefully guarding up his own second, and making a big end impossible.

70 YEARS OLD AND GETTING WELL

Thanks to Gin Pills

61 MADISON AVE., TORONTO,
APRIL 7TH, 1911.

During the past two years, I have been suffering with Kidney Trouble—severe pains in my back at times, and with feet, ankles and legs so very swollen that I found great difficulty in moving around the house even in slippers. MARQUARD SIGNS CONTRACT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—After three days of deliberation, Rube Marquard, the tall left-handed pitcher for the Giants, who surprised the baseball world by leading the National League pitchers last season, yesterday signed a three years' contract with the New York Club. Marquard has had several conferences during the last week with Manager McGraw and Secretary O'Brien, and a satisfactory arrangement was arrived at yesterday. Marquard it is understood received an increase in salary for his good work last season. He was dissatisfied with the one-year contract which was first offered him, so Manager McGraw drew up a new contract covering three seasons. This was satisfactory to Rube, so he lost no time in falling into line.

Marquard made a big splash in the baseball world in 1907, when President John T. Brush bought him from Indianapolis for $11,000, which at the time was the highest price ever paid for a ball player. Marquard didn't make good at the start. He had plenty of speed, wonderful curves, and a puzzling change of pace, but he lacked control. McGraw worked with Marquard for three seasons and changed his style of delivery. Two seasons ago the big southpaw pitched only a few games, and baseball fans had decided to call him a failure.

Last season McGraw sprang a big surprise when he trotted Rube out early in the season and showed the baseball public that, after three seasons, Marquard had at last "arrived." Rube won twenty-four games last season and lost seven, leading the league with an average of .774. He struck out 237 batsmen, gave 106 bases on balls, and 68 runs were scored by his opponents.

In signing for three years Marquard followed the example of Christy Mathewson, who last season signed a three years' contract.

Marquard leaped into fame quickly after he pitched such fine ball last season. The only disappointing feature of his successful season was his failure in the world series, when much was expected of him. His feat in leading the National League won for him a chance to become a vaudeville actor and the owner of a yellow automobile. Marquard has several years of usefulness ahead of him, as he is now only 23 years old.

BILLIARDS.

HAS AMATEUR BILLIARD HONOR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Morris D. Brown, of Brooklyn, won the National Amateur Class A 18.2 balk-line billiard championship, a week's play for which ended in Brooklyn Saturday night. Brown lost but one game in the series. He played with Joseph Mayer, the Philadelphia champion and, playing in the same form he has shown throughout the tournament, won by a score of 400 points to 381. Brown also captured the high run prize of the tournament, scoring 88 at a run in one of the previous games.

The tournament ends with J. Ferdinand Poggenburg, of New York, and Perry Collins, the young Chicago player, tied for second place, each with four victories and two defeats. The tie will be played off this afternoon. Collins won the single high average prize of the tournament with 13 23-29.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

The indoor baseball game at the Armories which was scheduled for this evening is postponed indefinitely.

ALLEGED DYNAMITERS ROUNDED UP

Upwards of Thirty Arrests of Prominent Labor Leaders Made

(Intelligencer Special.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 14.—The Government's round-up of labor leaders alleged to be participants in a wholesale dynamite conspiracy, took place to-day. The most important arrests were those of Frank M. Ryan, International President of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; John M. Butler, First Vice President of that organization, and Herbert S. Hockin, who succeeded J. J. McNamara as Treasurer. Upwards of 30 arrests were made in various cities throughout the country.

IRISH HOME RULE

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Feb. 14—"A measure for the better Government of Ireland will be submitted to you." This was the only reference in the King's speech to the proposed Home Rule bill at the opening of Parliament, and the colorless wording caused surprise and disappointment.

A LARGE ORDER

(Intelligencer Special.)

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—A temperance delegation asked the Government this morning to abolish the bar, the treating system and drinking in clubs. Hon. Mr. Hanna remarked that the proposition was entirely new, as it asked a political party to make abolition part of its platform, and he contended that the present license system had greatly reduced drinking. The Premier made no reply.

MAYOR DEAD

(Intelligencer Special.)

WINDSOR, Feb. 14.—J. W. Hanna Mayor of Windsor, died this morning. He had been ill since the municipal election campaign.

TWELVE YEARS OLD, TURN HIGHWAYMEN

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—A shocking instance of juvenile crime occurred at the corner of Spadina Avenue and St. Patirck Street, when two twelve-year old boys held up a lad much younger than themselves and robbed him of $10.

The victim had been given the money by his mother with instructions to buy some articles at the store. This was evidently witnessed by the elder boys, who followed the lad. When he was passing a lane they pounced upon him, and, while one of them held his hands, the other picked the money from his pocket.

While running away, the culprits were seen by a citizen, who chased them into the arms of a policeman. The boys had, however, thrown the money away, and though the woman who owned it searched a long time for it, she failed to find it. Both boys were remanded yesterday for a week, during which time they will be in the Children's Shelter.

LUXURY FOR $25,000 COW.

NORTH EASTON, Feb. 12.—With a college student to care for her, warm baths daily, her hoofs and horns "manicured," and her glossy hide polished till it shines, Dolly Dimples, a $25,000 cow, is experiencing the last word in bovine luxury.

Dolly Dimpies likes her attendant, who is Alonzo Hathaway, from Ames Agricultural College, in Iowa. Dolly also likes her warm baths, and the grooming and rubbing she gets every day. But greater than all these luxuries to her is her $6,000 offspring, a sturdy bull calf, yet to be named and ultimately to be shipped to W. H. Tichenor, of Wisconsin.

Dolly Dimples is the pride of Langwater Farms, owned by F. Lothrop Ames, the millionaire of Boston, Newport and this town. Mr. Ames sought a skilled man to care for her, and Mr Hathaway obtained a year's leave of absence from college to do so.

"It's an education to watch Dolly Dimples and the other cows," said Mr. Hathaway. "I have learned a lot by coming here."

RAILWAY MAN WAS FATALLY SCALDED

J. J. Spencley, Brakeman, was the Victim--He was Scalded to Death as the Result of a Collision in the Midland Division Yard—How the Melancholy Occurence Happened—The Body of the Deceased Sent to His Home—An Inquest to be Held

As the result of a collision which occurred on the line of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway system, just north of the city yards, at an early hour this morning, a man's life was sacrificed.

It appears that a double-header freight train, consisting of about fifty cars, came down the Midland Division from Lindsay, via Peterborough, and arrived at about 4.30 a.m. at what is known as the "Y," northwest of the new round house. When the train reached a certain point J. J. Spencely, a brakeman, who accompanied the train, jumped off to open a switch. It was supposed that, by opening this switch, the train would go upon a lead line which leads into tracks of the main yard. The train had not proceeded far when there was a collision with a number of freight cars which were standing on the line upon which the train had been switched. Spencely, after opening the switch, jumped upon the first engine, and was upon the iron horse when the crash came. In some manner he was thrown beneath the tender, and the escaping steam literally scalded him to death. The engineers and firemen on the two engines miraculously escaped without serious injuries. The concussion was of such force as to drive the second engine up over the tender of the first engine.

As soon as possible after the accident occurred the wrecking crew from the station was upon the scene and after some difficulty the body of Spencely was recovered from the wreck. The track was then cleared as speedily as possible in order that the Peterborough and other trains going north might proceed. While some cars were damaged, the loss to rolling stock outside of the two engines, which were considerably damaged, was not great.

Inquest to Be Held.

Dr. Farley, coroner, was notified of the occurrence and visited the scene of the wreck. By his orders the body of the unfortunate brakeman was removed to an office in the round house, and subsequently taken to Tickell & Sons' undertaking establishment. The Coroner decided that an inquest was necessary in the matter and a jury was during the day empanelled to meet later in the afternoon.

An examination of the body of Spencely revealed plainly the cause of death, which must have been a painful one. The upper portion of his body presented a terrible appearance where it had come in contact with the escaping steam.

After the jury had viewed the body, it was prepared for burial, and will be shipped to Lindsay, where, we are informed, the parents of the victim reside.

Cause to Be Probed.

As to the exact cause of the accident there is no variance of opinion, but only the testimony of those connected with the yard and employed in that vicinity can explain why the opening of a certain switch should have taken the train on to where the empty cars were standing and not upon the main line leading into the yard. It has been intimated that the switch Spencely opened was closed again before the ill-fated train passed over it. The train, we are informed, was some distance away from the switch when the vicim of the accident opened same.

Spencely was an unmarried man and had resided all his life in Lindsay. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Spencely, are residents of the town. The deceased is spoken of as an exemplary young man and a general favorite with those who knew him. His untimely death is sincerely mourned in Lindsay.

This is the first time an event of this nature has taken place in Belleville, and a most interesting exemplification is anticipated by the Fratres of King Baldwin Preceptory. Eminent Preceptor W. P. Pyrie, of Toronto, will be among the guests.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

There was a large attendance at the skating rink last night, the attraction being the second of the leap year evenings. As practice makes perfect, most of the girls evidenced no hesitation in seeking partners, instead of, as has been usual, being sought. The few of those who balked at the reversal of etiquette of former years were left "blooming alone," while the more lively members of the gentle sex had an evening of thorough enjoyment. One of the young men said this morning that he never had a better time, having been asked out for every band. Others might not have been so fortunate, but all the boys and nearly all the girls will be glad to have another evening of like kind.

CHASE FOR A MAN'S SLAYER

Detectives Capture a Man Wanted for Murder of Woman's Escort

NEW YORK, Feb 13.—A young man, who described himself as Owen Madden, a driver, of 435 West Thirty-eighth Street, was arrested last night by Detectives Shibels, Moriarity and Mondo of the West Thrty-seventh Street Station after a long chase, and was locked up a charge of homicide in connection with the murder of William Henshaw of 435 West Thirty-fifth Street at Ninth Avenue and Sixteenth Street, on the night of Feb. 3. According to Patrolman McAvoy of the West Forty-seventh St. Station, who was with him just before he died, Henshaw declared that he had been shot by Madden. Henshaw was boarding a surface car at Ninth Avenue and Sixteenth Street with a young woman when he was attacked.

The three detectives of the West Thirty-seventh Street station had been seeking Madden since the night of the shooting. Late yesterday afternoon they heard that Madden was on the roof of a West Thirty-first Street apartment house flying pigeons They hurried up, but found no one. They then entered a store across the street from the house and waited half an hour. Later a young man emerged from the front door. He ran west in Thirty-first Street, they following. He entered the shanty of a watchman at Thirtieth Street and Tenth Avenue and attempted to barricade himself. The sleuths surrounded the shanty, and after a struggle Madden was placed under arrest.

"You have got the wrong man," he declared.

The police, however, say that Madden is the man whom Henshaw said thrust the revolver through the bars of the surface car gate and fired at him. The shooting of Henshaw, the detectives say, was prompted by jealousy.

STABS WARDEN AT PRAYER.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 13.—Just after the convicts of the Nebraska State Prison had finished singing a hymn, and while they were receiving the benediction before the dismissal of chapel exercises, Albert Prince, a negro prisoner, stole upon Deputy Warden E. D. Davis as the latter stood at the door with his head bowed in prayer, and stabbed the officer six times, inflicting fatal wounds.

A dozen convicts threw themselves upon the murderer and disarmed him, later turning him over to the guards.

Prince acknowledged that he had no grudge against Davis, but wanted to "get even" with some one for curtailing his liberty.

He stole the knife from the broom factory yesterday with the intention of killing the first official he could reach.

Prince was sent from Omaha for shooting a detective. His term is 12 years. He is also wanted at Kansas City on a charge of highway robbery.

MANANA TOMORROW

Thats When Mexico Pays Her Debts to a Man Who Risked His All to Help in the Cause.

The heart of Mexico was torn with strife in 1865. Mountains and arid plains hid thousands of patriots, Maximilian and his ambitious consort, Empress Charlotte, ruled over an unwilling people, by the grace of Louis Napoleon's troops.

At the head of the patriots was Gen. Juarez, now the idolized hero of Mexico; as aids in his great struggle for Mexican liberty he had Diaz, Carjaval, and others. Their supplies ran low, supplies failed; death by starvation faced them.

Juarez dispatched Gen. Carvajal to Washington with a two-fold mission — to get the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine and cause the expulsion of French troops from North America and to get financial assistance to carry on the war of independence.

In Washington, Gen. Carvajal met Gen. Lew Wallace. "Who will help us" begged Carvajal. "I know the man you need, he lives in Indianapolis, Herman Sturm, a veteran and a fighter of the first class," answered Wallace.

General Sturm was sent for and made the secret agent of the Mexican revolutionary party. He sent thousands of soldiers across the Rio Grande; $2,500,000 worth of ammunition, sorely needed by Juarez followed; a man-of-war steamed into the gulf flying the Mexican patriots' banner. All that Sturm did for Mexican independence.

The rout of French soldiers followed speedily enough. Juarez became president of the republic; other revolutionary leaders were honored and enriched. Only Herman Sturm was forgotten. The soldier of fortune that he was, he ventured his last cent on the success of the patriots down there; at the close of the war, his books showed $3,462,000 expended in [illegible] liberty in Mexico.

Sturm waited a while for the newly established republic to settle its account with him. Then he sent in a bill, and waited. For nearly a half century he kept sending in bills — and waited. In 1889 President Diaz, himself wealthy beyond computation, admitted that the account had run about long enough and that it ought to be paid. A bill in congress to pay the amount with interest was passed, but still no money came.

Herman Sturm had moved to Denver, and had turned his attention to mining. There was a better chance to collect in that business. Several years again passed by. Sturm died in 1906 a broken-hearted soldier of fortune, poor, aged, and unthanked for his Mexican venture. His 'estate' consisted of the claim against Mexico. The administrator valued that at $100.

But it seems that there is a national conscience in Mexico, although it be somewhat stagnant. The heirs, Henry H. Sturm, son; Mrs. Clara M. Heath, daughter; and two grandchildren, have been informed that Mexico is about to pay its debt of the sixties. With interest it amounts to about $7,000,000, but while the Madero government is willing to pay the principal it balks at the interest. Mexico thinks that $3,462,000 is quite a lot of money to pay when no one can force the payment, anyhow it's a long time since Sturm dug down in his jeans and bought guns and ammunition for the patriots.

"Yes, she has refused me."

The moody man shrugged his shoulders.

"She has spurned my suit. She is per-roud, per-roud. Also haughty. But I tell you I have seen that per-roud, haughty girl on her knees. Aye, grovelling. When? When somebody dropped a quarter on the floor of the tramcar. She was one of the fifteen women who sprang for it!"

His Order

An Irish tailor who went to Glasgow in search of work had not been long there when he attended a meeting where a good, but shabbily-dressed, speaker present himself. Now and again through the speech the tailor would cry "Order!" All around were puzzled to know the reason, and at last the speaker spoke out and said: "What kind of order do you want?" "An order for a decent suit of clothes," was the tailor's reply.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

TYRONE POWER IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

To be able to entertain the public with ideas is in the nature of a triumph. "The Servant in the House," a drama by Chas. Rann Kennedy, has had its effect upon New York. Happening upon Broadway in a doubtful time, it took a first step upon the stage and was a play, found foothold, took another step, and was a book; and at the present moment stands quietly on the pedestal of New York success, a living thing, elegant, sunny and mysterious, having something to say to the man on the street. Of a sudden "The Servant in the House" has become the thing to see and read. This "sunny mysterious" play of to-day, with its fascinating suggestions of Oriental occultism, will be seen here at Griffin's Opera House Thursday, Feb. 15th, presented by Mr. Power and his capable company of players under the direction of Jos. N. Gaites.

WOMAN SLAIN BY INSANE HUSBAND

Albany Man Calmly Informs Relatives that He Has Killed His Wife

ALBANY, Feb. 12.—Anton Mathes, a laborer employed in the Street Department, went to the home of his brother-in-law, Joseph Mulligan in Clinton Avenue early this morning, and told the family that he had killed his wife, Mary. He then returned to his home in Elk Street.

When the police reached the house they found Mathes caressing and kissing the body of his wife, who apparently had been dead for several hours. The woman had been strangled to death, and her face and body hacked with a sharp instrument.

Mathes fell some time ago and injured his head, and recently had been confined in the insane ward of the Albany Hospital. When questioned by District Attorney Sandford after the crime Mathes continually repeated: "I ain't crazy, am I?"

PICTON COUPLE WERE SENTENCED FOR BIGAMY

PICTON, Feb. 13.—Daniel Mack, aged sixty-three, and Mrs. Lizzie Crippen, were sentenced for bigamy in the Police Court to-day. Magistrate Williams sent the man to Kingston for two years and six months, and the woman to the Mercer Reformatory for one year and six months.

Wm. Thomas Crippen, who is husband No. 1, in the affair, some five years ago, lived in Napanee. He was convicted of a criminal charge against his daughter. He was then sent to the penitentiary for five years. The wife, as abettor in the crime, went to the reformatory for one year. She served the full time and returned to Picton, her old home. On June 25, 1910, she married Daniel Mack, whose wife had died but a few weeks previously. Two weeks ago Crippen was paroled, having served four years and nine months. He hunted up his wife, and learned of husband number two. He set about to have her punished when she refused to again live with him.

DEATH ROLL.

MISS MOORMAN.

Miss Stella Grace Moorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morice Moorman residing in the 2nd concession of Thurlow, just north of the G.T.R. station, died yesterday afternoon. Although the deceased had been in failing health for many months, her demise was by no means expected. She passed away a few minutes after partaking of a delicacy prepared for the noon meal. Miss Moorman was 28 years of age and by her genial disposition had made many friends who regret her demise. She was a member of the Methodist Church. In addition to the parents, one brother, Bertram, survives.

SAMUEL J. NOXON.

Picton, Feb. 13.—Mr. Samuel Noxon, who died suddenly on Sunday, following a stroke, was buried here to-day. The late Mr. Noxon was of the original firm of Noxon Bros., manufacturers of farm implements, of Ingersoll. He was aged 77.

NETTIE TURNEY.

Nettie W., 10 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Turney, residing on Ann Street, died this afternoon. The little one had been ill for three weeks from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. W. J. Bratney, whose death we noticed a day or two ago, had been a sufferer for many years, having visited different parts in search of health. She resided in Calgary for some years before her death. Deceased was a daughter of Mrs. W. J. Baker, of Cannifton Road, and leaves beside her husband to mourn, her mother, her two children, Fred, about 13, and May, about 10, also four sisters, Mrs. E. Keeler, Mrs. C. J. Fisher, Mrs. A. T. Linton, Mrs. T. B. O'Dell, and two brothers, Fred, of Prince Albert and George of Calgary. The burial took place in Calgary.

DIED OF FEAR, NOT RABIES

Girl Bitten by a Dog Said to Have Only Simulated Hydrophobia

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 12.—Dying in agony with many symptoms that resembled rabies, Annie Deris, 16 years old, was pronounced a victim of her own fear. The girl died in the Charity Hospital this morning. An examination which was begun before her death, and was conducted by doctors from the Pasteur Institute and other physicians, showed that the girl had not a trace of hydrophobia.

Miss Deris made her home with an aunt. Last September she was bitten by her aunt's pet dog. The animal was killed and the head sent to the Pasteur Institute. An examination showed it to be unaffected, but her relatives insisted and the girl received the Pasteur treatment.

At the time she showed no alarming symptoms, but stories of other persons dying of hydrophobia seem to have worked upon her nerves. Recently she has been a victim of hysteria, and several days ago became so ill that she was taken to the hospital. In her delirium she constantly exhibited symptoms similar to those of persons with rabies, as described in articles she had read.

The doctors to-night said the girl simply was scared to death.

Mr. Geo. Brewster, of Banff, a member of the firm of Brewster & Moore, in speaking of Jasper Park, that is being opened up by the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific through the Canadian Rockies, stated that it will excel any of the Canadian parks as a pleasure ground.

Mr. Brewster has been through the district, and says it is exceptionally well stocked with wild game of all kinds; also that it is a splendid country for mountain sheep, as well as moose, deer, bear and mountain goat. The mountains in Jasper Park are higher than in any other Canadian territory, and as soon as the Grand Trunk erect the hotels that they propose, and the Government get proper trails throughout the territory it will become more popular than any of the mountain resorts on the Continent.

STORY OF A CLOCK

By H. Thomas

It often falls to the lot of those "who go down to the sea in ships" to pick up some curiosity with an interesting, and sometimes tragic history surrounding it. To Captain James Norris (now deceased) there befell an adventure in which he became the possessor of a very quaint rosewood case clock, and the incidents attaching to its seizure, and its ultimate possession by Captain Norris, form an interesting retrospect of the Indian Mutiny. In the year 1857 Capt. Norris was in command of the China trading ship Waterville, at which time our Indian Empire was in the throes of mutiny. The British Government, anxious to render assistance with all possible haste, hurriedly commissioned Capt. Norris and others to convey British troops who were stationed at China to the seat of war, Delhi. Great excitement prevailed amongst the troops, and the British population in China, when the mutiny became known. Capt. Norris had sole control and power given to him by the owner of the Waterwitch, and the very words, as expressed to him in his introductions, were, "Go where you like and do what you like, so long as you make the job pay." Success attended his commission, as a result of which the clock mentioned came into his possession.

His account of the looting of the Palace of Nana Sahib at Delhi is a vivid impression of the state of affairs existing at that time. The flight of Nana Sahib was signalized by an exciting raid on his palace, which was known to contain rare and priceless treasures. One can conceive of the avaricious desire on the part of the looters and the avidity and determination displayed to seize anything of value. They set to work in a wild fury, trampling over one another in their efforts to seize the many treasures which met the eyes at every point. Gold and silver ornaments were heaped together in a promiscuous mass; gems of all kinds and sizes were littered about; chests containing treasures representative of the lavish wealth of the East were recklessly smashed.

A Decided Novelty

The problem of pass-out checks was successfully solved, at practically no expense to themselves, by some ingenious entertainers when they decided to mark with a rubber stamp the hands of those of their patrons who wished to leave the show during the intervals. The idea possesses many advantages, including the impossibility of transference.

A theatre manager at Temesvar, Hungary, has inaugurated the curious plan of selling tickets according to the stature of the purchasers. By this plan short and medium-sized persons are all seated in front of the taller members of the audience.

A Novel Means of preventing drunkenness has been devised by the Copenhagen police, who convey any person found intoxicated in the street to his home in a cab, the fare being charged to the establishment where the liquor was served.

A man isn't necessarily strong because he raises objections.

Rossini's Reception of Wagner.

Wagner and some companions called upon Rossini. Hearing them on the stairs, Rossini hastily placed the score of "Lohengrin" on the piano, and when the German composer entered he said, pointing to it, "You see, illustrious maestro, I am studying your work."

"But the score is upside down!" exclaimed the other, seeing how the book was placed.

"Yes," returned Rossini calmly; "the fact is I have had it the right way up for some time, but could make nothing of it," and then all present began to laugh, including Wagner himself.

Saved by His Wit.

One evening, when the city clerk's office was full of men seeking registration, an Irishman asked to be registered. He received the usual blank, with the request that he sign his name. This he succeeded in doing, after a painful effort.

Suspecting that this was the extent of his accomplishments, an onlooker called out to the clerk:

"Try him on another name! Let him write yours."

"'Deed, I'd never dare!" said the Irishman, quick as lightning. "Sure, 'twould be forgery!"

"What kind of an eating house do you call this?" asked the man from Alberta, as he entered a queer-looking establishment in Paris.

"Horse in any style, eh? Well, suppose you have mine curried."

No Mystery.

"Son, why don't you marry Emily? You have been attentive enough to her."

"Father, I will never marry Emily. There is an insuperable bar to our union."

"What mystery is this?"

"No mystery. Only I asked Emily and she won't have me."

Evidence for the Defence.

"Now, then," said the magistrate, in a loud voice, "Mr. Baumgartner, you were present at this fray. Did Murphy, the plaintiff, seem carried away with excitement?"

"Nein; he vos carried avay on two piece poardts mit his head cut."

"That will do. You may stand down."

Gold That Is in the Sea.

Apart from the treasures which find their way to the bottom of the sea, and occasionally come to light again, there is more gold in the sea than has ever been coined into money. Such, at all events, is the opinion of Prof. Wilde, of Brussels University. All sea water contains a certain amount of gold, in the proportion of about one grain to each ton of water. Reckoning the total weight of all the oceans at the very moderate figure of 1,000,000,000 tons, Prof. Wilde estimates that they would yield gold to nearly a hundred thousand times as much as . .

Why, bless you! you can bathe in gold.

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoel Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! he rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

A sculptor recently produced the likeness of a celebrated personage in whose biography it was mentioned that he regarded architecture as a very secondary art. The son of this personage visited the artist's studio for the purpose of examining the bust, when, after considering it with the air of a connoisseur, he inquired. "Could you not express more clearly his contempt for architecture?"

The Goose Girl

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

(Continued).

As the station master's bell rang the door opened and a man jumped in. He tossed his bag into the corner and plumped down in the seat.

"Captain!"

"You, Hans?"

"Yes. Where are you going?"

"I am weary of Dreiberg, so I am taking a little vacation."

"For how long?" suspiciously.

"Oh, for ever so long!" evasively.

Hans said nothing more. He was full of wisdom. He had an idea. The fleeing chancellor and his daughter were on the train, and he was certain that his friend Carmichael knew it.

By the aid of certain small briberies on the train and in Paris Carmichael gathered bit by bit that the destination of the woman he loved was America. But never once did he set eyes upon her till she and her father mounted the gangplank to the vessel which was to carry them across the wide Atlantic. The change in Herbeck was pitiable. His face had aged twenty years in these sixty odd hours. His clothes, the same he had worn that ever memorable night, hung loosely about his gaunt frame, and there was a vacancy in his eyes which was eloquent of mental collapse. Carmichael abided his time.

A French newspaper contained a full account of Herbeck's coup and his subsequent flight. It also recounted the excitement of the following day, the appearance of Gretchen on the steps of the palace and the great shouting of the people as they acclaimed her the queen of Jugendheit.

The second day out Carmichael's first opportunity came. He discovered Herbeck and his daughter leaning against the rail. He watched them uneasily, wondering how he might approach without startling her. At last he keyed up his courage.

"Good morning, your highness," he stammered, and inwardly cursed his stupidity.

At the sound of his voice she turned, and there was no mistaking the gladness in her eyes.

"Mr. Carmichael!"

"Yes. I was surprised to learn that you were taking the same boat as myself."

How clumsy he was, she thought. For she had known his every move since the train drew out of Dreiberg.

"Father, here is our friend, Herr Carmichael."

"Carmichael?" said Herbeck slowly. "Ah, yes. Good morning."

And Carmichael instantly comprehended that his name recalled nothing to the other man's remembrance.

"You are returning to America?" she asked.

"For good, perhaps. To tell the truth, I ran away, deserted my post, though technically I have already resigned. But America has been calling me for some days. You have never been to sea before?"

"No; it is all marvelous and strange to me."

"Let us walk, my child," said Herbeck.

"You will excuse me, Mr. Carmichael?" she said. Never more the rides in the fair mornings; never more the beautiful gardens, the music, the galloping of soldiers who drew their sabers whenever they passed her. Never more any of these things.

"Can I be of any assistance?" he said in an undertone.

"No," sadly.

The days, more or less monotonous, went past. Sometimes he saw her alone on deck, but only for a little while. Her father was slowly improving, but with this improvement came the natural desire for seclusion. So he came on deck only at night.

The night on which the vessel bore into the moist, warm air of the gulf stream was full of moonshine, of smooth, phosphorescent billows. Herbeck had gone below. The girl leaned over the rail, alone and lonely. And Carmichael, seeing her, could no longer still the desire in his heart. He came up to her.

"See!" she exclaimed, pointing to the little eddies of foam speeding along the hull. "Do you know what they remind me of? Mermaids' fingers grasping and clutching at the boat as if to drag it down below."

How beautiful she was with the frost of moonlight on her hair!

"You must not talk like that," he admonished.

"I am very unhappy."

"And when you say that you make me so too."

"Why?" She had spoken the word at last.

"Do you remember the night you dropped your fan?" leaning so closely toward her that his arm pressed against hers.

"I remember."

"You put that word then. In honor I dared not answer. You were a princess! I was only a soldier of fortune. But now that you are in trouble, now that you have need of me, I may answer. I may tell you now why, why I have thrown ambition and future to the winds, why I am here at your side tonight. Need I tell you? Do you not know, and have you not known? Am I cruel to speak of love in the moment of your great affliction? Well, I must be cruel. I love you faithfully and loyally, now and hereafter, through this sad day into happier ones. I ask nothing for this love I offer. I ask only that I may use it in your service, in good times or bad."

"ASK WHAT YOU WILL."

"Ask what you will," she whispered. "I am happy now!"

THE END.

TEMPERANCE PARTY.

One Is Promised Unless Leaders Accede to Demands.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—The Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance has determined to form a third party in Ontario if neither of the leaders in the Legislature will support their demands.

Following is the resolution, composed of three clauses, brought in by the business committee yesterday afternoon, and which, after much heated talk, was adopted, clause by clause:

"That the Dominion Alliance reaffirm its policy of abolition of the barroom and drinking in clubs and the treating system, and the imposition of such further restrictions upon the liquor traffic as will most effectively curtail its operations and remedy its evils.

"That a deputation be appointed to go before the leader of the Government and the leader of the Opposition in the Legislature to speak for this convention for the introduction embodying the policy of the Alliance.

"That seven men be appointed by this committee to comprise that deputation to wait upon the leaders of the Government and the Opposition to-morrow at noon."

Meredith Appointed.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—An order-in-council was passed yesterday morning appointing Chief Justice Sir William Meredith special commissioner to investigate the affairs of the Farmers' Bank. The scope of the enquiry is to be very broad, as is shown by the order-in-council. He is directed to report into the incorporation by act of Parliament of the Farmers' Bank of Canada and the organization thereof.

The application for and the giving by the Treasury Board of the certificate permitting the bank to issue and commence the business of banking.

The conduct and operation of the business of the bank, the amount of capital subscribed and paid up, the causes of the suspension and failure, the extent of the liabilities and the value of the assets thereof.

Just Spite, Says Shuster.

Southampton, Feb. 14.—W. Morgan Shuster, who was shown the despatch from St. Petersburg about the detention of his associates in Persia while he was waiting here for the North German Lloyd steamer George Washington, on board of which he is proceeding to New York, said: "I know nothing of this matter, but presume that it is a continuation of the campaign of the Belgian officials to foster M. Mornard's candidacy for the treasurer-generalship of Persia by currying favor with the British Government and by attacking the Americans. My accounts were balanced to a cent with the Imperial Bank of Persia when I left on Jan. 11. I regard the charges as absurd on their face and purely political."

Crossing Lake Superior on Motor.

Duluth, Feb. 13.—D. Bourea, who accompanied by a newspaper correspondent, was reported last Saturday to have left Port Arthur, Ont., in an endeavor to cross Lake Superior in an automobile on the ice, 196 miles had not arrived here late yesterday. Enquiries from up the lake failed to locate the automobile. Much snow and many airholes must be crossed if the trip were made, and it is believed here that the trip would be considered too risky.

New Play Censor.

London, Feb. 13.—Ernest Alfred Bendall has been appointed joint examiner of plays with Chas. Brookfield.

Mr. Bendall's qualifications are that he has been a dramatic critic for the last thifty years, recently on The Daily Mail, and has never written nor adapted a play. The appointment gives general satisfaction in theatrical circles, and his literary qualifications are indisputable.

Lavergne to Help Graham.

Quebec, Feb. 13.—Armand Lavergne, the Nationalist lieutenant, has gone to South Renfrew, where he will speak in favor of the Hon. G. P. Graham.

He declares that the latter should be elected in order to make the Ottawa Opposition stronger, but above all because Mr. Graham is one of the best men of the Liberal party.

Kaiser's Son to Visit America.

Berlin, Feb. 13.—The month of June has been selected for the visit of the German squadron in American waters, and it is now certain that Prince Adelbert, the Emperor's third son, will accompany the squadron.

Not Gratifying.

Some one sent the manuscript of a story to a literary friend, with the request that he would criticise it. The friend returned it, with the following note:

"My dear Blank: Your book contains much that is both new and good; but what is new is not good, and what is good is not new."

It is wicked for us to go about with faces which indicate that life has been a disappointment to us instead of a glorious joy. It shows that we have missed the real object of living, that we have never caught a glimpse of the realities of life, but that we are living in the shadows, in the gloom instead of the sunshine of reality, of truth, of beauty. It indicates that we have not even caught a glimpse of the real glory of life.

ON A GRAIN OF WHEAT.

A Prayer Containing 388 Letters Inscribed and Four Figures.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many very small objects, but only one person ever has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore, the great Jewish financier of England, received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written, "A prayer for Moses Montefiore, by Bauch Mordecai, son of Zebi Hirsch Scheinemann, of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which was inscribed, in characters so small that they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope, the 388 Hebrew letters of the prayer, and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5635. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his desk until he died, and it is now preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

HITTING THEMSELVES.

It is still hard for the Liberals to realize that they are out of power. A large number of them seem to think that it is still their duty to dictate as to how this country should be run, and as to what men should be employed to assist the Government in carrying out the management of the business affairs of the Dominion.

Just because certain men held office under the late Government, it is said by the Opposition that they should be retained in the service indefinitely. A man who is considered competent by one Government may be considered wholly unfit for office by the Government that succeeds it. The Right Hon. R. L. Borden is of the opinion that since the people placed him at the head of the Government, it is his duty to give what he considers to be the best administration of which he is capable, and the Government that are responsible for the actions of officials are the best judges of the efficiency of those officials, and should be the ones to say whether or not public servants should be retained in office.

Just because a few officials who have been considered incompetent have been dismissed by the Borden Government, the Liberals are yelling "spoils," and accusing Mr. Borden of abusing patronage.

It is a peculiar thing that the people do not join in the cry. The whole agitation seems to be confined to the ranks of the Liberal members of the House of Commons, who no doubt realize that it is their only chance to criticize, and they have to make the most of it.

It is really funny to hear these charges coming from men with a record like that of the Liberal party. Were it not for their own recent fifteen years of power, people might be deluded with the belief that they are in earnest. But there is no chance of misconstruing their present chatter. They are doing it purely for political purposes, but they are hitting wide of the mark. The ominous history of the past looms up like a hideous nightmare and lays bare the utter hypocrisy of the Liberal attitude.

In the House a few days ago a Liberal mentioned something about the ill-timed charge of "introducing the spoils system." It was really a shame to do what Mr. Lennox did to him in his reply, but he brought it on himself. He was sorry he spoke, but a man with a past record should always be a little more careful than any other man, in what he says, and what charges he makes.

"They accuse this Government of introducing the spoils system," commented Mr. Lennox.

"I see on the order paper," continued Mr. Lennox, "that my honorable friend from West Middlesex has a question asking for the number of civil servants who have been dismissed since the advent of the present Government. I cannot give him the figures, but I can tell him how many were dismissed by the Laurier Government. Within two years after its return to power the Laurier Government dismissed 521 postmasters, 840 men who carried the public mails, 154 veterinary inspectors, 550 others engaged in the different departments, 70 employees of the Government working at Ottawa, 80 at Sorel, 200 employees of the Government railway system, three deputy ministers and two members of the commission to revise the Dominion statutes. This is the record of the Laurier administration in two years after the time it came into power."

It is not recorded in the newspapers what form the reply took. In fact, Hansard doesn't even show that there was a reply. Moreover, after a second glance at Mr. Lennox's remarks, it is pretty hard to figure out just what kind of a reply from the Liberals would be possible.

The deaths caused by snakes and wild animals in the Province of Burma in 1910 amounted to 1,273 and 80, respectively. The number of cattle killed in India amounted to 63,074 by wild animals and 10,900 by snakes. Of the deaths of cattle in Burma 7,851 were caused by wild animals and 6,588 by snakes. Tigers and leopards were the most destructive animals; elephants, bears, wolves, hyenas, etc., being also responsible for fatalities. Rewards amounting to $47,725 were paid by the government for the destruction in all India of 91,104 snakes and 10,282 wild animals.

There appears to be an apprehension in some quarters that the new Tariff Commission will be employed to look up facts and figures to serve as ammunition for high Protectionist talkers and writers. This theory is in striking variance with the older and commoner complaint of "free traders" that the manufacturers seeking protection had their facts and figures all ready and at hand, while the opponents of protection had no organization to collect the "abundant" facts and figures on their side. This latter theory gave one the impression that the protectionists had so great an advantage under the old system that they could not be better; and it would seem as if any Tariff Commission would be compelled to sterilize its influence entirely by openly working for the manufacturers and against the consumers, to avoid putting the latter in a much better position for ammunition than they are to-day.—Montreal Star.

TWO HOLD-UP MEN KILL A FORMER U. S. MARSHAL

Lined up With Bartender in His Saloon, Patrick Burns Died Fighting—The Shots were Heard by His Wife—Robbers Escaped with Little Plunder, After Felling Burns' Helper—Clue in a Cap

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Two hold-up men shot to death Patrick N. Burns, a former Chief of Police of Findlay, Ohio, and once United States Marshal of Alaska, in his saloon at 163rd Street and Forest Avenue, the Bronx, early yesterday morning. They are believed by the police to have robbed and terrorized other saloon keepers in the city. The thieves, after robbing the saloon and beating up Frank Neuberger, Burn's bartender, who lived with him, made their escape.

A gang of men have for some time been holding up and robbing saloon keepers at an early hour in the morning. Such cases, the police declare, are rarely reported to them by the proprietors of the saloons, unless a customer is robbed or injured by the hold-up men. The saloon-keepers of these places thus robbed after closing hours, realize that if such cases are reported to the police, they are pretty certain to get into serious trouble with the excise law. The hold-up men understand the position in which a saloon-keeper places himself when he violates the excise law, and have been quick to take advantage of it.

A private automobile garage in Bathgate Avenue may furnish the police with a clue which will lead to the identity and arrest of the two men. George Fitzgibbon, a clerk of 368 East 145th Street and a friend, Robert Hebling, left the saloon a short time before Burns was robbed and killed. They observed two other men, one of them a tall, slim fellow, and the other a short, stocky man, at another table. The two men were discussing automobiles. The tall man complained that he had been robbed of an overcoat and a pair of gloves. As Hebling and Fitzgibbon were leaving the saloon the latter remarked to the short man, "Do you run an automobile?" The man replied that he ran a machine for a man who had a private garage in Bathgate Avenue. The police will try to find out if the men are licensed chauffeurs.

When Hebling and Fitzgibbon left the saloon about 2.00 a. m., the two men were still located at the table. Burns and his bartender had in turn served them drinks.

The bartender, Neuberger, told the police that when Burns entered the back room to serve them, the men sprang suddenly to their feet, at the same time covering them with revolvers. The men backed Burns and Neuberger against the rear wall, and told them not to move. The short man then walked into the barroom and opened the drawer of the cash register. It was empty as Burns had already withdrawn the day's receipts. In his trousers' pocket Burns had $90.71. The short man finding the drawer empty, returned to the back room and took Burns' key from his pocket.

"I guess I'll find the money in the drawer," he remarked as he re-entered the barroom. Neuberger told the police he saw the man empty the change from a cigar box, and place it in his pocket. The money was from telephone receipts.

As the man re-entered the barroom Neuberger said, Burns sprang after him. The bartender heard a crashing of glass behind the bar as Burns grappled with the robber.

Neuberger started to go to the assistance of Burns when the tall man who had been guarding him, dealt him two terrific blows on the head with the butt of a revolver. Neuberger heard two shots in rapid succession, and then the short man came from behind the bar and with his companion fled from the room into the street.

Stunned and bleeding from the blows inflicted upon his head, Neuberger staggered into the street, shouting for help. He saw the thieves running in the direction of Clinton Avenue. On returning to the saloon he found Burns dead behind the bar.

When Coroner Schwannecke arrived at the house he ordered Neuberger arrested and held as a material witness, as the bartender appeared confused at the questions put to him.

Coroner Schwannecke yesterday held a hearing in the case at the Coroner's office. At the hearing Coroner's Physician Riegleman, after examining the wounds on Neuberger's head, said that the bartender was in a serious condition and threatened with erysipelas. Coroner Schwannecke promptly had Neuberger taken to Fordham Hospital. The Coroner then decided not to hold Neuberger as a material witness, and paroled him in the custody of Jacob Schoffet of 1,218 Brook Avenue, an acquaintance.

Mrs. Annie Gregg Burns, widow of the saloonkeeper, said she was married to him six years ago in Lancaster, Penn. She said she had known Burns for twenty years. He had been a friend of her first husband, Henry Gregg, deceased, and her second husband had employed him as bartender for more than a year.

She testified that she had retired before 8 o'clock Saturday night. She was awakened shortly before three o'clock the following morning by a shot, and called to her two sons, Henry and Nicholas. As she came down the stairs she saw a tall man and a short man run out the door into the street. She did not see their faces. She found Neuberger staggering about the room. He was bleeding from a wound on the head. She was too upset at finding her husband dead to remember what happened next.

The police were unable to ascertain how much the two hold-up men got from the saloon. In the pockets of Burns the police found $90 the men had overlooked. On Burns' body they found a gold ring, a diamond stud, checks aggregating $30, and membership cards of the orders of the Elks and the Eagles.

The police have a good description of the thieves. One of the men in making his escape left behind a grey cap lined with fur and having ear muffs. It was a cheap cap with the mark, "American Make," stamped upon its band.

DUMAS' MELONS

Entered Into a Contract With a Community to Supply Him With Melons in Exchange for His Best Books.

Here is a true story of the great Dumas and his liking for melons.

Alexandre Dumas, père, was extremely fond of melons, and an autograph letter of his has just come into the possession of the library of the town of Carpentras by legacy which proves the fact. It is perhaps one of the strangest contracts ever made by a man of letters. The letter is addressed to M. Seguin, the deputy maire of Cavaillon in the Vaucluse, in August, 1864, by the author of "Les Trois Mousquetaires," who was then living at St. Gratien, near Enghien.

He says: "On receipt of your letter, I have immediately arranged with my publisher, M. Michaud Levy, for him to send you the two or three hundred volumes which have already appeared of my works, and that in the future as they appear he will send you the others, and I am very pleased to be able to reply to the great honor which you do me. But please have the goodness to tell your honorable maire, M. Tourel, that I impose one condition. If the town and the authorities of Cavaillon like my books, I like their melons, and I desire that in exchange of my three or four hundred volumes there shall be constituted for them, by 'municipal decree,' a yearly income of twelve melons per year. The cost of carriage will naturally be at my expense."

Need one add that the contract was faithfully kept on both sides?

A young New Haven man, returning home from a health trip to Colorado, told his father about buying a silver mine for $3,000. "I knew they'd rope you in!" exclaimed the old man. "So you were ass enough to buy a humbug mine." "Yes, but I didn't lose anything. I formed a company, and sold half the stock to a Connecticut man for $7,000." "Y-you did," gasped the old man as he turned white. "I'll bet I'm the one who bought it." "I know you are," coolly observed the young man as he crossed his legs and tried to appear very much at home.

A clergyman in Keokuk, Iowa, while waiting for a train at a railway station, was accosted by a couple who requested him to marry them. He saw his train approaching, and he married the couple in the following brief manner: "Do you want one another?" Both replied "Yes." "Well, then, have one another."

Valuable Horse Saved By "Nerviline"

WAS TOO SORE AND LAME TO WORK. QUICKLY CURED BY NERVILINE.

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains sprains and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. J. E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P.O. "I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right foreleg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline and it worked like a charm; in fact that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline."

Five thousand letters recommend Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. Try it yourself.

THE SKIN ARTIST

Wonderful Designs Pricked on the Human Figure by Japanese Needle Artists. King George's Tattoo Marks.

A tattooed British bluejacket, having fallen on evil times, is now in a provincial workhouse. While in the East he submitted to the entreaties of a Japanese tattoo artist, who, during two years, was constantly at work on his skin. The tattooed patterns include a design of St. George and the Dragon, an arrangement of shields depicting the Union Jack and a full-rigged ship, and a picture representing the Rock of Ages with the figure of a woman surrounded by angels. Other designs are snakes and fishes, a porpoise-headed dragon, and a crescent.

Across the back of the man is a drawing of an angel, and below is portrayed a fight between an eagle and a snake. There are pictures of roses, trees, birds'-nests, birds and elephants. On the right arm is shown a British soldier standing over a fallen comrade. There are also drawings of Jack and Jill and a Scottish fisher las. On the sailor's legs there are numerous sketches of fighting-cocks, Indian chiefs, flowers, a giraffe, Scottish chieftains, mermaids, angels, and a stag's head.

Much has been heard of late of Leonardo da Vinci in connection with the stolen masterpiece from the Louvre at Paris, but it may not be generally known that his greatest painting, his famous fresco of the "Last Supper," is actually tattooed on the back of a lady. As is well known, the picture contains thirteen figures, and these, as well as the upper room and the long table, occupy the greater part of the space and are very faithfully depicted. Over the picture this motto is inscribed: "Do unto others as ye would they should do unto you," and on the table-cloth, which occupies the lower part of the picture, appears the text: "Love one another."

A lady who died recently actually had her will tattooed on her back. It was drawn up by a solicitor and witnessed in the usual way, and contained no fewer than 500 words. It is not generally known that King George, as befits a naval man, bears several tattoo marks. The fact is that when he was in Yokohama many years ago he submitted himself to a famous Japanese needle-artist, who did his work so well that the King will carry the impression he made upon him to his grave.

A well-known and popular Bishop, who shall be nameless, could also be identified, if it were necessary, by the marks of the tattooer's art upon his upper arm. The figure represents the Sum of Righteousness, surmounted by the Cross, crushing the head of a hideous dragon. Needless to say, religious subjects are popular with clergymen who submit themselves to the tattooer. Another well-known clergyman bears upon his skin the picture of a skull with a serpent thrusting its head out of one of the eye-sockets, and a radiant butterfly flitting away. This picture is doubtless symbolical of death and the survival of the spirit.

There is a missionary, too, in Central Africa who bears an indelible mark upon his back. It is a copy of the famous "Ecce Homo," which can be seen in the National Gallery in Trafalgar Square — the head of Christ, crowned with thorns.

SOLDIER AND BISHOP

An interesting incident connected with the birth of the late Archbishop of York, Dr. Maclagan, who, before entering the Church, served in the Army, is thus related in the biography of him that has been recently published. The birth took place on a Sunday, the eleventh anniversary of the Battle of Waterloo:—

"From her bedroom Mrs. Maclagan overheard loud talking, almost like quarrelling, in the lower part of the house, and sent her nurse to see what was the matter. The nurse soon returned, and said:—

"'It's just Peter and Nellie, and theyr'e fightin' ower the bit bairnie.'

"'Quarrelling about my baby? What do you mean?' asked the mother.

"It then transpired that Peter, who was the father's old soldier servant and had followed his master through the Peninsular War, was greatly delighted at the auspicious event, and exclaimed:—

"'Here's another bonny boy, born the day of the great victory! This one must be a soldier.'

"'No, indeed,' retorted Nellie, the old Presbyterian nurse, 'this boy is born on the Sabbath, and he must be a meenister!'"

It is not a little remarkable that the two old servants should both have been unconsciously true prophets.

Good Advice to Men.

Father Bernard Vaughan gave some advice to young men in a humorous address on the Minnetonka.

"Popularity among the ladies, is a great help to any young man," said Father Vaughan, "and there is nothing like generosity to make a young man popular."

"I heard a lady praising a young man the other evening.

"'He is so generous,' she said. 'He takes mother and I out to dinner nearly every week. We dote on him.'

"Then she smiled and added:—

"'In fact, we table d'hôte on him.'"

Howell and the Novelist

Just before the recent departure of William Dean Howells for Spain a popular novelist called. He told about his phenomenal sales. Then — fishing for compliments — he sighed and said: "I grow richer and richer, but, all the same, I think my work is falling off. My new work is not so good as my old." "Oh, nonsense," said Mr. Howells. "You write just as well as you ever did, my boy. Your taste is improving, that is all."

Porter: "Miss, your train is——"

Precise Passenger: "My man, why do you say 'your train' when you know it belongs to the railway company?"

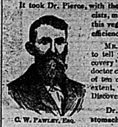
Porter: "Dunno, miss. Why do you say 'my man' when you know I belong to my old woman?"

NATURE'S LAWS.

Nature's laws are perfect if only we obey them, but disease follows disobedience. Go straight to Nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries there, some of which we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the Wild-cherry tree, with mandrake root, Oregon grape root, stone root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal root, make a scientific, glyceric extract of them, with just the right proportions, and you have

DOCTOR PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists and pharmacists, many months of hard work experimenting to perfect this vegetable alterative and tonic extract of the greatest efficiency.



C. W. PAWLEY, Esq.

MR. C. W. PAWLEY, of Millville, Calif., writes: "I wish to tell you that I have used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' in my family for twenty years. We have had a doctor called in but once during that time. I have a family of ten children, all well and hearty, for which, to a great extent, we owe thanks to you and your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' which we use when sick."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships.

Bolivar was endeavouring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some eight Spanish gunboats, which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

Paez decided that he would have those ships or die, and he accordingly told his regiment of cowboys to follow him. Paez himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Orinoco, and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 3,000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unique assault upon the gunboats. It being night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unawares. The cowboys wriggled from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, letting their mounts swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

THE EDIBLE CRAB

Something of the Curious Life of This Half Fish Half Animal.

The edible crab is obliged to moult or cast off its shell many times during its life. This moulting appears to be an unpleasant ordeal to pass, for the crabs often die during the act. When we see that they are not only obliged to escape from the carapox or shell, but also from the hard covering of their legs, delicate mouth-parts, and even gullet — turning themselves inside out, as it were — it is not surprising that they perish during the ordeal. The crab crawls up into some secluded nook or cove in shallow water to moult, out of the way of its hard-shelled relatives, for the helpless, newly-moulted, or soft-shell crab, if found, is devoured by them, as well as by several species of fishes. Fortunately for the crab, the soft covering hardens rapidly, and in a few hours it has a new and strong armour, and it then goes fearlessly out into deep water.

Boosting.

Things may be coming your way but be careful that they do not come with such force as to carry you away with them. There are tides and tides. Some are natural, some are supernatural and some are dangerous, because they move with a force which is too strong for our character and will. "Beware of uncontrolable circumstances". This was an expression which first fell from the lips of Wellington. The editor of a periodical remarks: —

"Old salts, who are forever yarning about wrecks and their causes, have a theory that what is called a "boosting" sea accounts for more than one of the disasters that have occurred in the long history of shipping. A "boosting" sea is a sea that runs heavily after a steamer, and, if it does not actually "poop" the vessel, yet, by the roll of billow after billow, accelerates its speed to a degree unguessed by the navigator, until finally the ship, having unconsciously overrun its course, brings up upon a rock or hidden reef, and is reported at Lloyds' as "lost."

Monuments in Queer Places.

There are Monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places, but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta River, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it. This monument, which is in memory of the world-famed rower, Searle, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning-post of the races for the world's championship, and is still used as such for local events.

BOX-OFFICE BORES

The Box-Office Clerk's Power of Imagination and Description Severely Taxed by the Many Cranks Who Buy Tickets.

A theatre box-office clerk has a great deal to do besides issuing tickets, observed a member of the fraternity to the present scribe. He has to answer many absurd questions, and frequently act as guide, philosopher, and friend to potential patrons. For instance, it is no uncommon thing for some old lady or gentleman to refuse to book seats until I have furnished a brief plot of the play. If the plot contains anything morbid or sad, it is ten to one that no seats are sold, and I therefore have to employ considerable tact in my task.

Ladies very frequently inquire whether the play has a "happy ending," and here I have to be very careful, for it is impossible to tell whether the questioner is one of those optimistic persons who insist on cheerful finales or whether she is an "Ibsenite," who prefers realism to sentiment. Once I made an unfortunate mistake. My questioner happened to be a dear old lady with rosy cheeks and a charmingly bright appearance. In reply to her query I answered (quite truthfully) that the ending was a most happy one, whereupon she frowned irritably, declared that she was "sick of happy endings," and marched out of the vestibule. One cannot always be guided by rubicund cheeks and optimistic eyes.

Many people have a morbid horror of draughts, and actually insist on inspecting the seats I propose selling them before completing the purchase. Others make anxious inquiries about the distance from the stage of the seats offered, seeming terribly afraid that they will be too close to the "make-ups."

I am also expected to know everything about the private lives of the ladies and gentleman in the company. Is Miss —— married or engaged? Does Mr. —— look as young off the stage as he looks on it? Does Miss —— really use the dentifrice associated with her name? And so on, and so on. To all these questions I am supposed to return intelligent and satisfactory answers, and it is a good thing, perhaps, that I possess a lively imagination.

When I was in a provincial box-office some years ago, and we had a melodrama visiting the theatre, ladies would frequently inquire whether there was "any shooting in the piece," declaring that their nerves would not stand such shocks. On the other hand, a rough collier once inquired of me how many "murders" were committed in a certain drama which was visiting the theatre that week, and on my informing him that I believed there was only one, he mumbled something about the previous piece having contained more, and quitted the box-office without buying a ticket. Evidently he wanted a lot for his money.

A Decided Novelty

The problem of pass-out checks was successfully solved, at practically no expense to themselves, by some ingenious entertainers when they decided to mark with a rubber stamp the hands of those of their patrons who wished to leave the show during the interval. The idea possesses many advantages, including the impossibility of transference.

Wisdom's Whispers

Woman's views on woman's worth take on varied and far-reaching turns.

Most men have a sense of satisfaction in being able to attract the notice of big persons.

Women generally regard their women associates with a feeling akin to suspicion.

Canada's Post Office.

A Devonshire lady once sent to her son a pair of trousers by book post, which is, of course, cheaper than parcel post.

The postal officials wrote to her: "Clothes cannot be sent by book post. If you look in the Post Office Guide, you will see under what conditions articles may be sent by book post."

After a few days the lady replied: "I have looked in the 'Post Office Guide' and find that articles which are open at both ends may be sent by book post. And if trousers are not open at both ends I should like to know what is."

SHACKLETON'S EMPHATIC STYLE

The great explorer not always choice in his Words.

When Sir Ernest Shackleton was in the depths of the Antarctic regions, on his trip toward the South Pole, he kept a diary describing the adventures he had every day, the kind of country he traversed, the weather, and all the details of the journey. He wrote his notes in a free and emphatic style, using the adjectives and phrases which seemed best suited to impress his meaning on those who might read the volume at a later time.

After he had just missed reaching the pole and had returned to civilization as the man who had gone "farthest south," he was asked to print a book about his experiences. He hurriedly edited his diary and turned it over to the publishers. A few days after the book appeared in the shops he began to get letters from religious folks, upbraiding him for a sentence he had used in describing a certain stretch of country over which he had traveled.

Shackleton looked it up and found he had not edited out all the emphatic language he had used in the original. The sentence, to which objection had been made, read as follows: "The surfece of this section plays hell with the feet."

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probaly come out to Canada with his father, or "young Arthur," as he is usually known about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball.

Consequently he turned up in a suit of ordinary dress-clothes. One of the ladies — she is fairly well known in society — was departing, when she saw what she took to be one of the Court footmen, and ordered him, in none too polite terms, to find her carriage for her.

His Royal Highness fell into the spirit of the joke, and promptly did as he was told. The lady's carriage was summond, when, to his utter astonishment, she pressed half a sovereign into his palm, remarking, "I know I am quite wrong in doing that, but don't say a word about it; I hope you will shortly improve your position!"

THE RAILWAYS OF CANADA

Facts and Figures of Great Public Interest—Canada Has Nearly 25,000 Miles of Railway—Increase Last Year was 669 Miles—Ontario Leads all the Provinces—Vast Importance of the Steel Highway to the Country

There is much of national as well as of commercial interest in the volume of railway statistics of Canada lately issued by the Department of Railwys aand Canals. The year covered, following the custom of railways in America, ends with June 30. On that date last year there were in operation 25,400 miles of road, the increase in the twelve months having been 669 miles. These figures understate the facts, as they do not include 1,577 miles of track actually built and some of it being operated, but which was not formerly in service. As evidence of the progress of this branch of the transportation industry, it may be said that the length of road operated has doubled since 1889, and quadrupled since 1878. The length of road credited to the various provinces is as follows:

Ontario	8,321
Quebec	3,881
Manitoba	3,446
Saskatchewan	3,120
Alberta	1,494
British Columbia	1,841
Yukon	101

The province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, with 8,000 miles, it will be noted, have nearly one-third of the total length of track in the country. In them also there was built in the year, 440 of the total of 669 miles of new track recorded. All this is without taking regard of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which crosse the three provinces. When the rest of the land, the railway managers, and the governments are being condemned for not doing enough for the West, these facts are worth remembering. In no part of the country is the proportion of railway mileage to population gerater; in no part of Canada is so much arilway being built; in no part of Canada is so much outside money being invested in providing transportation facilities for a business much of which is yet to be developed.

While 183 companies are interested as owners of railways there are less than 90 operating corporations, and some of these are nominally rather than really independent. The larger roads are generally a combination of a number of lines built separately and amalgamated; and for branch lines they prefer to finance and hold the securities of smaller companies. This condition is noted also in the United States, where there is a continuous absorption of smaller by larger roads, associated with the development of facilities or the improvement of cheapness of service. mileage credited to the leading systems in Canada on June 30 last was as follows, the Grand Trunk Pacific not being completed, being excluded:

Canadian Pacific	10,201
Canadian Northern	4,147
Grand Trunk	3,529
Government of Canada	1,844

These four system, therefore, include nearly four-fifths of the whole railways of the country and are likely to increase the proportion from year to year, as they have been doing from year to year in the past.

The investment represented in the railway property of the country is naturally a heavy one. There is, however, no accurate way of measuring it. There is practically only one company which is in a position to get a hundred cents on the dollar for the obligations it issues, and it only reached this position after years of successful operation. The others, as was the case with it at first, have or have had to coax the market with issues made at a discount, which means that the obligations in their total may be more than the amount of money put into track, equipment and buildings. Then there are companies which use the new financial methods and for the common stock issued, which carries control of the properties, get little or no cash. As the figures are given the railways carry the following capital obligations:

Stocks	$749,207,687
Funded Debt	779,481,514
	$1,528,689,201

To this large sum is to be added the sum of $202,179,000, representing subsidies, bonuses, stock subscriptions and loans, by the governments of Canada and the provinces and by the municipalities; and there is also the value of 55,256,000 acres of land granted by the Dominion or by the provinces in aid of various enterprises. The public or its representatives in Parliament and the legislatures may not well be accused of niggardliness in the encouragement of this feature of land transportation. Their help, given when it was most needed, has evidently gone far towards accomplishing its purpose. In 1907 the net earnings were equal to 7.30 per cent. of the share capital and the dividends paid to 2.17 per cent. In 1911 the net earnings were equal to 7.70 per cent. of the share capital and the dividends paid to 4.08 per cent. The need of public aid is passing away.

In the operation of the roads there were employed 4,216 locomotives, 4,513 cars for passenger service, 127,158 cars in freight service, and 9,578 cars in the service of the lines themselves. The increases over the previous year included 140 locomoives and 7,445 freight cars. This only represents a part of the addition to the carrying capacity of the equipment. The majority of the cars a few years ago were built to carry from 20 to 25 tons. Now the majority are built to carry 30 tons, and for the coal and ore trade cars of from 40 to 50 tons are in common use. To this increase in capacity of the cars, accompanying an improvement in the standard of the roadbeds, and in terminal and other facilities, is due in main part to the fact that almost alone among commercial necessities the cost of railway transportation does not keep step with the much discussed high cost of living. The average earning per mile per ton of feright carried, which was 2.129 cents in 1875, and 1.067 cents in 1883, was 1.560 cents in 1910, and 1.561 cents in 1911. It has been lower. In 1901 it was 1.261 cents. The increase of 3-10 cent per ton may be due in part to peculiarities of traffic as much to efforts to raise rates. The number of tons of freight carried was 79,884,400, the revenue received therefor being $121,733,000. The number of passengers transported was 37,097,000, their contribution to the revenue at the average rate of 1.944 cents per mile being $50,566,000. The inartistic grey box is the greatest earner of all the cars. Finally, the total earnings of the roads were $188,733,000, and the operating expenses $131,034,000. The former represent an increase over the previous year of $14,777,000, equal to 8.7 per cent. The latter show an increase of $10,628,000, equal to 8.8 per cent. This is better than some years have shown, as the tendency of late has been for the growth in operating expenses to notably exceed that in earnings. In this matter Canadian roads are more fortunate, possibly, than those in the United States. In many parts of the country their services weer entended faster than the traffic fairly justified, and as population and business increased, their income grew faster than their expenses.

Woman's Ailments Caused by Neglect

ARE QUICKLY CURED AND ROBUST SOUND HEALTH RESTORED BY DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

Women are on the whole more sickly than men. One reason is that their system is more complicated; another and more important reason is they put off measures of relief too long. At the beginning, constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of women's ailments. The blood becomes weakened and polluted—the nerves suffer and a run-down condition takes root.

Because of their mildness of action as a system regulator, because of their undoubted power to remove constipation, irregularities, no medicine for women can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The kidneys quickly respond to the remedial action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and the result is as you would expect,—pain in the back and side, shortness of breath, and bad color disappear—the functions of the body then operate naturally, congestion and pain are prevented and perfect health returns.

Thousands of happy women say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest and best blood purifier, the finest complexion renewer, the most certain regulating medicine known. All dealers, in 25c. boxes, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

CIGARETTE PAPER.

So Light that 500 Sheets Go to Make an Ounce.

Of the great army of cigarette smokers there is probably not more then one in a hundred who knows that rice paper, in which the tobacco is wrapped, has nothing to do with rice, but is made from the membranes of the breadfruit tree or more commonly of fine new trimmings of flax and hemp.

So light is this paper that 500 of the tiny sheets go to make an ounce. They are perfectly combustible and give off the minimum of smoke. Before being rolled with tobacco they are analyzed to prove that they are free from all deleterious ingredients and that they contain nothing but the purest paper fibre. Only new material—flax and hemp trimmings—is used, and these are thoroughly purified.

Chopped by machinery into minute particles, they are well mixed by a revolving fan and then reduced to a dust, which is placed in a solution of lime and soda. After remaining in solution for some time it undergoes a thorough washing process, the water being the purest kind.

Then the pulp is rolled out into peper. At first it is of a grayish tinge, the pure white of the finished product being obtained by an electric process.

The French manufacturers of cigarette paper practically supply the entire world, the output of Austria and Italy being insignificant.

PASSING OF THE CLOWN.

Perriots and the Huge Three-Ring Circus the Cause.

Mr. Alfred Miaco of the circus deplores the passing of the clown.

This is largely the observation of the European-bred artist. Strictly speaking, while we have developed many clowns, they have been clowns mostly in an invidious sense. Miaco, with the training to qualify him as a legitimate actor, in less distracted surroundings would give us finished pantomine in rare play with the eyes and hands.

Continental Europe has its perriots who are public idols. Plays are written for them and composers of standing write their incidental music.

Of men like these, England's Grimaldi was famous. George Caron, the last of a long line of clowns and the funniest of them all, died a few years ago at the height of his career.

While these instances are of the theatre rather than of the circus, the school which devloped Miaco did not take into calculations three rings and a jumble of changing sights. The clown held the centre and was the mainstay of the entertainment. For him to have to be dependent upon sudden collapse under the weight of a slap stick would have been the sign of the passing of art.

A MILLION FOR ROADS

Ontario Government Again Goes Down Into Pocket.

Highways Throughout the Province Are Provided For By an Amendment to the Improvement Act by Which County Clerks Will Report and Work Will Be Centralized—Debate on Speech Resumed.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—Another million dollars has been set aside by the Provincial Government out of the consolidated revenue of the province in aid of the improvement of public highways. The same amount, which was set aside some time ago, having become exhausted, provision is being made by the Government to continue its policy of defraying one-third of the cost of building good roads throughout the province.

Announcement to this effect was made in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, when he introduced a bill to amend the act to aid in the improvement of public highways.

The existing act is to be amended by providing that the management of all road improvement under the Highway Improvement Act is to be centralized in a capable county road superintendent or engineer, appointed by and acted under the direction of the county council. A foreman or inspector is to be placed by the road superintendent or engineer in charge of any works which he personally can't oversee, but a member of the county council shall not be so employed.

In future the clerk of every county, before the first of every February, shall publish a detailed statement of all expenditure on or in connection with county roads or bridges for the preceding year. At least 100 copies of the statement shall be printed, and any elector in the county who applies shall be supplied with one. To the Lieutenant-Governor in council is given power to strike from the approved plan of the county roads system any roads which the Minister of Public Works finds has ceased to be used or for any other reason is not of sufficient importance to be constructed and maintained as a county road.

In resuming his remarks on the debate on the speech from the throne, Sir James Whitney declared that he had little more to say. "There is one matter, however," said the Premier, "that I must refer to. Observations have been made—playfully, I suppose—that the Government had abandoned a policy, about something or other. I presume it is the transfer of the Hydro-Electric Commission to a Department of the Government that is referred to. I want to say that no proposed policy of this kind has been abandoned."

Sir James then set forth the facts connected with the "determined and bitter opposition" of the Laurier Government, their helping of private companies to get and retain control of the waterfalls in Eastern Ontario, also the failure of the Hydro-electric to make progress against such a determined opposition. The idea then arose of transferring the Hydro-electric to a Department of the Government.

"But there was a Dominion election on Sept. 21," said Sir James. "The blight was removed." (Applause.) "The darkest hour is just before the dawn. The work of combatting the Hydro-electric has been removed. The people of Canada have endorsed the Hydro-electric policy. We will, for the present, defer the transfer of the Hydro-electric, but when the proper time comes, the transfer will be made to a Department of the Government."

J. C. Elliott, West Middlesex, said the Government was still wandering in the wilderness. Every year the speech from the throne was containing references to less and less progressive legislation. The Government was going back instead of forward.

Mr. Elliott said that 1909 was the last year in which the revenue of the province has been sufficient to meet the estimates.

"The Provincial Treasurer points with pride to the succession duties, yet he sent up a wail about the succession dues when the Ross Government was in power that you'd have thought he would never soil his hands with anything like succession dues."

Echoes of the reciprocity campaign resounded through the legislative chamber when Mr. Elliott referred to the neglect of the Government in investigating the combines in existence, that increased the cost of living.

Mr. Elliott also referred to the action of the Government in "fighting tooth and nail to defeat Allan Studholme, the only representative of the labor interests in the Legislature.

"But I see Mr. Studholme is still here," remarked Mr. Elliott.

Hon. I. B. Lucas reviewed the policy of the Government, and what he described as the lack of policy and indefiniteness on questions of public policy that characterized the attitude of the leader and all the members of the Opposition.

On bilingual schools, he said, neither Mr. Rowell nor his adherents had any policy.

"They find amusement in the differences of opinion said to have been expressed on this subject by the Attorney-General and the Minister of Public Works."

On the temperance question, Mr. Lucas charged the Opposition leader with being equally indefinite.

"In his speeches," he said, "he expresses no new ideas, no point on which anyone could form an opinion, no distinctive policy around which public opinion could be marshalled. The Opposition's charges against the expenditure of the Government were general, but he declared that not one item of the Government's expenditure could be challenged."

Mr. Lucas further referred to the Hydro-electric policy, and asked what stand the Liberals took on that? Hon. A. G. MacKay had been advocating a flat rate for Hydro-electric power for Owen Sound. Does that not look like sectional appeal? What do my honorable friends on the opposite side of the House think of that?

J. T. Hart (East Simcoe) referred particularly to the bilingual school question, and said there was not a man in the House who would object to the French language being used as a medium to teach English in the schools.

W. McDonald (Centre Bruce) protested particularly against the educational policy of the Government and the abolition of certain model schools.

A. H. Musgrove (North Huron) said the model school question was not a contest between parties, but between the candidates. When model schools were first established, there was as much oratory as there is now. Teachers, he said, preferred normal to model schools.

Mr. McCormick (E. Lambton) moved the adjournment of the debate.

Roadhouse Gets Job.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—W. Bert Roadhouse, who has been for the past three years secretary to the Minister and to the Department, has been appointed Deputy Minister of Agriculture, in succession to C. C. James. Mr. Roadhouse has been relieved of what may be described as the "outside" work by the appointment of C. F. Bailey, B.S.A., live stock specialist attached to the institutes branch, as assistant deputy minister. The Deputy Minister will, as before, have supervision of the executive work of administration, which has grown so enormously that it will occupy the entire time of one man.

The assistant deputy minister will have supervision of the outside work of the Department, which is growing in importance. This includes the work of the district representatives. The system of district representatives has grown very rapidly in the past few years. It has been under the direction of the Deputy Minister, but has rapidly assumed too large an importance to be handled in that way. It will, therefore, be placed in charge of the assistant deputy minister, who will have an opportunity of giving personal attention and personal oversight, which will result in increasing its efficiency and popularity.

The resignation of Mr. James as Deputy Minister takes effect on Feb. 29.

One Dead In Fire.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—A fire and an explosion wiped out the life of one man and injured four other persons yesterday afternoon.

Major John Rogers, manager of the Canadian Abbey's Effervescent Salt Co., for the past eight years, was so badly burned that his body was unrecognizable.

George Woodburn, employed by the J. W. Hughes Co., was caught on the second flat and was terribly burned. His recovery is doubtful.

The damage will not exceed $20,000, about equally divided between the two firms of J. W. Hughes and Abbey's Effervescent Salts Co. The losses are covered by insurance.

Guelph, Feb. 13.—Fire was discovered in the third floor of the Biological Building at the Ontario Agricultural College at noon yesterday.

Two alarms were turned in and both college and the city fire departments responded. Considerable damage was done, as there were valuable specimens in the building.

The cause of the fire is thought to have been short-circuiting of wires.

Fireman Lannan fell and fractured his skull.

STILL BLOCKING BILL

Opposition Uses Up Another Day in the Commons.

Hugh Guthrie Brings In Several Amendments to the Tariff Bill, But All Are Voted Down by the Government — Generalities Would Disappear, Says Foster—The Senate Is Unruly.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Another whole day spent in committee on a single clause of the tariff commission bill.

Hon. G. E. Foster pointed out that with the information gathered by the commission before Parliament and the people of Canada, no Minister would ever be able to shield himself behind generalities in framing his tariff. There was neither Toryism nor Gritism in absolute facts, and this commission was told to get absolute facts.

Hon. W. T. White replied to the leader of the Opposition by reading from a speech of Sir Wilfrid, in which he declared himself in favor of a tariff commission such as they have in the United States. The Premier pointed out that Ministerial control of the commission was necessary in pointing out the superior urgency of certain lines of enquiry.

W. F. Maclean (S. York) thought too much definition or limitation would prevent the desirable flexibility of the commission. It should be given a free hand, but be under the direction of a responsible Minister.

Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) moved several amendments to remove the commission from the direction of the Minister, to substitute a report to Parliament for a report to the Minister and to strike out the sub-section providing for investigating trusts, mergers and combines by the commission. All were lost, the first on a vote of 40 to 76.

The last amendment provoked quite a vigorous debate. F. B. Carvell (Carleton, N.B.) claimed that the Government were taking away from the judges of the land, not the power, but the fact of investigating trusts, mergers and combines.

Hon. F. W. White declared it was surprising that all the trusts, mergers and combines had sprung up since Sept. 21. He indignantly denied that he was connected with any trust, merger and combine, and told Hon. Frank Oliver that if he kept himself as free from sinister influence he would do well.

Dr. Clarke (Red Deer) thought the inalienable prerogative of Parliament to preserve, which Britain had cut off a king's head and curbed the power of the House of Lords, was jeopardized by the further tyranny of the trusts.

W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford) declared that there was more chance for protection being introduced into England than free trade into Canada. Of course, there would be no place for a free trader on the commission. Would the Minister of Militia, if he wanted a rifle to arm the militia, leave it to Andrew Carnegie and Rev. J. A. Macdonald? They would choose a gun that would not go off. So would the member for Red Deer with the tariff.

Mr. Cockshutt thought the 500,000 workers employed by the manufacturers were worthy of consideration. They were struggling just as hard as the farmer.

The Government yesterday declined to accept the amendment of the Senate to the enquiries bill. Hon. Mr. Lougheed, for the Government, declared that the proposal by Senator Kerr that persons employed to make enquiries should be for five years debarred from holding public office, was a design to wreck the bill. The proposal stands at the deadlock stage, and will come up again on Thursday.

Senator Kerr said that, while the Government might not know it, a person appointed as investigating commissioner or an expert, who had the same power, might have the idea of becoming an applicant for a Government place. It would be a monstrous thing to have a man investigated by a person who could condemn him for the purpose of obtaining his place.

Mr. Lougheed said that under no circumstances could the Government accept the amendment proposed. It was no doubt in the power of the Senate to pass the amendment and destroy the bill if they saw fit, by passing the amendment. Senator Kerr had dwelt upon the desirability of insuring impartiality on the part of the commissioners. He would point out that the Government had to take full responsibility for the character and work of the commissioners they named to carry on investigations.

Urges Debate on Navy.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Mr. Paule Emile Lamarche, member for Nicolet County, has given notice of a question to ask the Government if it is their intention to set aside a date for the discussion of the resolution of Mr. Albert Sevigny, member for Dorchester, concerning the repeal of the navy bill of the Laurier Government.

Mr. Lamarche explains that the object of his question is to reply to the taunts of the Liberal press, who maintain that the French-Conservative members were not sincere in their election promises to ask for the repeal of the navy bill. As the Sevigny resolution now stands on the order paper, it seems almost impossible that it can be discussed in Parliament owing to the amount of more pressing business.

Turks Were Beaten Off.

Derna, Tripoli, Feb. 12.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Turks in force made two determined attempts to rush the Italian lines last night, but were beaten off after desperate hand-to-hand fighting. The Turks used hand grenades, but these had little effect.

Th Italians were greatly aided by dogs, which gave warning of the approach of the Turks. They also threw their searchlights on the advancing forces. The Turks lost sixty killed, while the Italians lost three killed and 22 wounded.

NEEDS MORE SHIPS.

French Deputies Decide to Spend Money on Defence.

Paris, Feb. 14.—The future activity of France on the land and the sea and in the air was indicated in the discussions yesterday in the two Houses of Parliament, of the army and navy budgets.

The trend of the discussion was that France must strongly develop all her lines of defence and offence so as to hold her rank among the great powers and maintain her alliances, and thus exercise an influence in the world for peace.

During the discussions of the naval budget in the Chamber of Deputies, Gaston Thomson, former Minister of Marine, chairman of the naval committee, declared that it was an irreducible minimum. France was ready to practice a pacific policy which involved the limitation of armaments, but the policy of peace meant that she must be solidly armed. "America couples her proposal for an international arbitration with activity in naval construction. England never built so many battleships as now. Germany, Austria and Italy are all developing their navies," he said.

Senator Alexandre Millerand, speaking in the Senate, outlined the aviation program of the Government, for which from $4,500,000 to $5,000,000 yearly is asked. Fifteen dirigibles, he said, would be constructed, but the special arm of France was the aeroplane. This year the army could mobilize 334 aeroplanes, divided into 27 squadrons, and manned by 344 officer pilots, and 344 observers. An aeronautic regiment was also to be constituted.

In the Chamber of Deputies, Mr. Delcasse, Minister of Marine, answering the critics, said that it was not in the interests of France to increase automatically the number of ships built in a ratio with those built by other powers. It sufficed for France to have forces enough to ensure security in the Mediterranean, and he insisted that that was amply assured by the program.

The Chamber of Deputies last night adopted the naval program by a vote of 452 to 73. M. Delcasse, Minister of Marine, in submitting the proposals, said that France must have enough warships to ensure security in the Mediterranean, but that it was not necessary to keep pace with the construction activities of other nations. An additional article was adopted prohibiting the giving of Government contracts to firms which have, or have had within a year, members of the Senate or Chambers on their directorate or as legal counsel.

The Senate adopted the aviation program, for which approximately $5,000,000 yearly is asked.

Burned Her Child.

Halifax, Feb. 14.—"I put the baby in the stove and burned it. I'm sorry now, but I did it when the feeling came over me."

These were the words of Ada McCarron, the wife of James McCarron of this city, in confessing to the police yesterday afternoon that she put her five weeks' old child in the hot blast stove in her house and burned it alive. She said she did this nine days ago and then spread the story that the child had been kidnapped from the cradle. Mrs. McCarron is locked up on a charge of murder.

When the police visited the woman's house in the north end the day the child disappeared, they examined the hot blast stove from which the ashes had been removed. It was then cold, but that was four hours afterwards. The ash barrel was searched and but little bones were found there, whether human or not remains to be proved.

It is believed that the woman is mentally unbalanced.

Irishmen Disappointed.

London, Feb. 14.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The home rule bill, as announced by Winston Churchill, is being discussed all over Ireland and general disappointment is expressed over the financial proposals. Various public bodies suggest that if Ireland is not given full control of all taxes levied in the country a national convention should reject the proposal.

Patrick White, M.P., last night said that unless under home rule the Irish Parliament had full and free legislative authority the bill would be useless.

At a meeting of the executive of the United Irish League, held at Drogheda, N. T. Murphy said that the only measure of self-government acceptable would be one that would give Irishmen full power to deal with everything concerning Ireland and full control of every tax.

Forty-Six Drown.

Nagasaki, Japan, Feb. 14.—The Japanese steamers Ryoha Maru and Mori Maru were in collision off this port yesterday, and were so badly damaged that both sank almost immediately. Thirty-two of the former's crew and fourteen of the latter's were caught between decks and drowned, the remainder being rescued by steamers that witnessed the disaster.

The Ryoha Maru was a steamer of 81 tons net, built in 1878, at Hiogo, Japan, and owned by the Yoshida Keitaro, while the Mori Maru was a steamer of 1,109 tons net, built at West Hartlepool, Eng., in 1880, and owned by the Yoshida Seiko.

Lavergne Keeps Out.

Quebec, Feb. 14.—The report to the effect that Mr. Armand Lavergne had left for South Renfrew, to speak in favor of Hon. George P. Graham, is unfounded.

Mr. Lavergne is at his seat in the Legislature. When interviewed yesterday he said that his health was not good enough to allow him to take part in an election fight at the moment.

TO BE BUSY SESSION

History Making Probable in British Parliament.

His Majesty To-day Opens the Houses of Great Britain and Outlook Is For an Exciting Time — Militant Suffragettes Have a Surprise In Store — Split In Liberal Ranks Is Predicted.

London, Feb. 14.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—To-day the King will open what is certain to be the most exciting session of Parliament within recent years. It is unlikely, however, that the most momentous questions will be reached until after the Easter debate on the address, which will probably occupy a fortnight and will be followed by financial matters.

There is not the slightest doubt but that many Ministerialist supporters are uneasy through the mammoth character of the program, embracing home rule, Welsh disestablishment, and electoral reform, to say nothing of women's suffrage.

Concerning the last named, militant suffragettes have, it is rumored, what is called a big surprise awaiting the Government, unless women's suffrage is mentioned in the King's speech. It is unlikely the speech will contain such a reference, so we may anticipate another orgy of window-smashing. The police are making full preparations.

Regarding home rule, Unionists are confident that any allocation of Irish customs to the proposed Dublin Parliament will split the Liberal ranks hopelessly, but, unless Redmond obtains this, his Parliamentary authority will be seriously jeopardized.

Nobody claims that there is any general enthusiasm for Welsh disestablishment, and a campaign against it is being pushed vigorously throughout England.

It is improbable that the question of electoral reform will be touched until autumn.

Outside Parliament, the feeling grows that there will be a general election this year. The rates of insurance against this have risen during the last week.

Can Make Bodies Transparent.

DUNLOP Traction Tread

Another Opinion:

"I have had excellent satisfaction with the two Dunlop Tracton Tread tires purchased in the early spring. I have run without chains, as I would not have attempted to before, up steep hills and through all conditions of roads, and with a feeling of comfort which I did not think possible, for my greatest fear in automobiling was from skidding."

SHE GAVE UP HOPE

When Mrs. Joseph Lombard, who lives at 229 Starr Street, Brooklyn, wrote this letter in the hope that it would be seen by discouraged women, she did something that will be of help to thousands.

She says: "After suffering for five years from weakness and loss of flesh without finding any relief, I almost gave up hope of ever getting better.

"About this time Vinol was recommended to me and I have found it a truly wonderful remedy. I have regained my health and feel strong and well again. I cannot say enough in praise of Vinol."

All weak, exhausted women and men, all pale, puny children and feeble old folks, can have new health and strength by taking this delicious cod liver and iron remedy. It contains no oil and is agreeable to even the most delicate stomach. Vinol is a great appetizer and body-builder for every person who is run down and weak. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim.—Red Cross Drug Store—J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY WAS ABLY DISCUSSED

By Prof. Morrison of Queen's Unniversity, Kingston—An Able and Instructive Address Before the Canadian Club—A Pleasant Social Gathering Which was Thoroughly Enjoyed by All who were Present

The Canadian Club of this city have been most fortunate in securing able and pleasing speakers at their monthly gatherings, and last evening's speaker was no exception to the rule. The gathering took place at Wallace's restaurant and the spacious banqueting room was filled by members of the Club and others. A most tempting repast was provided and served by a number of capable and obliging waiters.

Mr. J. Elliott, President of the Club, occupied the chair and in introducing the speaker of the evening, Prof. Morrison, of Queen's University, referred to the fact that the Club was progressing and the membership had reached the 200 mark. He was pleased to welcome the new members.

Prof. Morrison, at the commencement of his able and interesting address, launched out at once upon the subject, the title of which was "British Foreign Policy." The speaker referred to the British policy as it affected the colonies, British possessions and the European powers generally. The key note of his address was that the British foreign policy is one of peace and conciliation. Britain 250 years ago put off autocracy rule and accepted democracy rule. Britain has interests the world over, and it was a fact that within the Empire there were some foes. Britain always has been to keep her domains in peace. In referring to Canada and the United States the Professor said that Britain was pursuing a policy of arbitration between the two countries, which was beneficial and friendly. Her policy was and has been where danger exists to neutralize same. The greatest gift that Britain had given to us is peace with the neighboring republic. This was a glorious policy. The speaker than spoke of the motherland's policy in regard to India, Egypt and other countries. In referring especially to India, Prof. Morrison said, can we grip that country and rule it still, and beat off enemies, internal and external? Britain must hold on to India. The natural vocation of Britain is to keep the balance wheel of peace balancing. She will save Europe by her friendly policy. What a great country Germany was. Germany long ago should have had her place in the world. Bismarck had the work of raising Germany. Germany must increase, Germany shall not intervene to overthrow existing policies. Autocracy is still on her throne. It is a great military country; this military power has at its back the German nation. It was an exceedingly patriotic nation. All must admire Germany in many respects. The question of England's navy was spoken upon, and the speaker said it was absolutely necessary that Britain should be the mistress of the seas. What links Canada to the mother-land? What links other colonies to Britain? The navy. This question of the navy cannot be trifled with, and Canada must go hand in hand with Great Britain in this matter and take her share. The navy was not militarism. In concluding his address, Prof. Morrison said the British Empire may be defeated, but never downed. (Loud applause.)

At the conclusion of the address the audience sang "Rule Britannia."

A vote of thanks, appropriately moved by Col. Ponton and seconded by Mr. Henry Pringle, was tendered to the speaker, after which the National Anthem was sung.

RUSH TO NEW GOLD FIELD

Yukon Valley is Believed to be the Best Discovery Since the Klondike

The new gold fever which recently broke out in the Yukon territory, sending almost every able-bodied man scurrying out of Dawson in the dead of winter to stake claims, appears to be fully justified, according to United States Consul G. C. Cole at Dawson.

Mr. Cole declares in his official report that the new Yukon discovery is reliably regarded as one of the best since the days of the Klondyke discovery in 1898. The new gold-field is about sixty miles from the mouth of Sixty-mile River, one hundred and twenty miles southwest of Dawson, and twenty-five miles from the Alaska line. The find, Mr. Cole learns, averages about $1 to the square foot of bedrock, and on receipt of reports of the discovery some 200 men who had come to Dawson to spend the long winter immediately stampeded to the new field, though the temperature was 30 degrees below zero and the ground was covered by fifteen inches ed."

A very reliable miner who has been engaged in mining here since the gold rush in 1908 was the discoverer," reports Mr. Cole. "He reports these formations in sinking a shaft of nineteen and a half feet to bedrock: Six inches of muck, six feet of gravel containing gold, 3 cents to the pan; six feet of muck and seven feet of gravel to bedrock, where the gold is found. In cleaning up the surface of the bedrock, a space of five by eight feet, he obtained $40 worth of high-grade gold, as shown by the gold commissioner's scales here.

"He reports the valley in which the discovery was made to be twenty miles long and 2,000 feet wide, with good working gravel quite similar to that of the famous Benanza Creek of the Klondyke and frozen solid from the surface to bedrock. Should the rest of the valley prove one-fourth as good as the discovery claim is represented to be, many more millions of dollars in gold will be aded to the one hundred and fifty-odd millions the Yukon territory has already produc- of snow.

THE WARSHIP MAINE IS NOW AFLOAT IN HER COFFERDAM

Water Pumped Into the Basin Surrounding the Historic Hulk in Havana Harbor—She is Ready to be Towed Out—Orders from Washington to Release the Ship are Expected Within a Fortnight

HAVANA, Feb. 12.—It was announced tonight that Major Ferguson, who has been in charge of the engineering task of raising the wreck of the Maine in Havana harbor, hopes to float the ship to the top of the cofferdam tomorrow morning.

The actual freeing of the wreck from the walls of the cofferdam is a question which now rests with the Navy Department in Washington. Major Ferguson will have the Maine all ready for her exit as soon as he receives orders.

Havana, Feb. 12.—The wreck of the Maine floated free of the mud tonight, when water was turned into the cofferdam surrounding the wreck. The water in the cofferdam is now about fourteen feet below the harbor leval at low tide. It is the intention tomorrow to admit the water more rapidly, so that by nightfall the wreck will be raised to the harbor level, leaving nothing more to be done except to break the dam and float out the ship.

Water was forced into the cofferdam through a system of pipes fixed at the bottom of the ship, the power being supplied by a pump which had been recovered from the wreck. The ship began to rise almost immediately The midship section which had been furnished with a bulkhead, raised more readily because of superior buoyancy than the heavily weighted sharp-pointed stern, so that tonight the Maine is somewhat down by the stern. The hull still lists to port, which is being corrected by ballast. No leaks of any importance have been discovered.

As the water rose slowly until it covered the whole floor of the cofferdam nearly twenty feet of mooring line was run out fore and aft on both sides to hold the ship fast, and prevent the possibility of it being blown against the sides of the dam.

Many hundreds of visitors thronged the dam all day, watching the refloating of the Maine. None of them were admitted aboard ship however, for fear of accident. Major Ferguson, who has had charge of the work, has received congratulations from many quarters on his success. The ship will remain secure withn the dam until orders are received from Washington to float her out which can be done within a fortnight.

Ever since it was decided to remove the Maine from Havana harbor the Navy Department has been flooded with applications for various parts of the hull. Many of these offers were from persons entitled to consideration, but many of them were from theatrical managers who desired to exhibit the relics. Offers for that portion of the hull about to be towed to sea were made by exhibition interests and it was admitted that some of them approached $1,000,000.

This sum, it was said, would more than cover the cost of clearing the wreck, and Congressman Sisson, in the last session of Congress unsuccessfully endeavored to have the House adopt an amendment to the Naval Appropriation bill permitting the sale of the hull for exhibition purposes. He was backed up by Congressman Macon, who said there was plenty of novelty seekers and Coney Islanders who would gladly pay a good price for it, charge an admission fee for a view, and sell pieces of it at so much per curio. The mere suggestion of such a thing was put down with indignant speeches by several Representatives. Among them was Congressman Fitzgerald, who said that the American people would not tolerate making a show of the vessel for the sake of the profit there might be in it for the Government.

Early this year a board consisting of Lieut.-Col. Edward Burr of the corps of engineers, and Commander Richard H. Leigh was appointed to receive and pass upon all applications that had been made for relics. The mainmast is to be erected in Arlington National Cemetery. The foremast which is still at Governors' Isle, is still subject to disposal. Havana was given the choice of any part of the wreck it desires. Under a special act of Congress the parts of the wreck not needed by the Government may be given to any municipality, military or naval association, or to former officers and crew of the old Maine or their heirs, provided the relics will be cared for and the United States put to any expense.

Burn Caused Open Sore

ZAM-BUK WORKED A WONDERFUL CURE.

Sometimes a bad burn, a deep cut, or some similar mishap, sets up a more permanent injury, in the form of an open, discharging sore. In such cases Zam-Buk will be found of unequalled value.

Mr. J. Nixon, of 901 William Ave., Winnipeg, a blacksmith at the C.P.R. shops, had his foot badly burned by some molten metal falling upon it. He says: "The burn was a very bad one, and after the first few days it left an open sore, which showed marked signs of blood-poisoning. It discharged freely and caused me terrible agony. For three weeks I suffered acutely and could get no ease. At last I obtained a preparation from the doctor, which seemed to stop the discharging and made me quite hopeful, but finally the wound became as bad as ever.

"I was then advised to use Zam-Buk, and from the first application the balm gave relief. The inflammation was thoroughly checked, and the poisonous matter cleared away in a very short time after beginning with Zam-Buk. Healing then began, and in less than two weeks the wound was thoroughly cured."

One of the main lessons of this case lies right here—try Zam-Buk first for any injury, sore, skin disease or wound. Don't spend money and waste time in experiments. Zam-Buk is equally good for piles, blood-poisoning, festering wounds, haps and old sores, varicose ulcers, chilblains etc. All druggists and stores at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. You are warned against harmful substitutes and inferior preparations.

Challenge the Judge.

It was a case in an Irish court, and, the prisoner seeming hard to satisfy, juryman after juryman was asked to leave the box. However, all things come to an end, even in Ireland, and at last the swearing of the jury was completed. And then the prisoner leaned over the dock and sought the ear of his counsel.

"The jury's all right now, I think," he whispered; "but ye must challenge the judge. I've been convicted under him sivral times already, and maybe he's beginnin' to have a prejudice."

Sophistry of a Sophist.

A certain archbishop, when asked woman to misstate her age, replied:

"A lie may be defined as a statement made by one rational being to another rational being, with the intent to deceive. Now, as no rational being would think of asking a woman her age with the expectation of being answered truthfully, one of the elements of the lie is lacking, and the woman's statement cannot, strictly speaking, be defined as such."

Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high. Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

A TIE GAME.

At the rink last night between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock, a very fast and exciting game of hockey was played between the Jewellers and the Corby I.X.L. teams. In the first half the game was fast and it looked close for both sides. The checking was heavy and the Jewelers looked slim beside their opponents. The half ended with 2 to 1 in favor of Corby's. The second half was equally as fast and when it finished the score was 2—2. Had the outsiders played their usual team, no doubt the Jewellers would have defeated them badly, but they secured men from the city. Mr. Dawkins refereed the game.

The line up was as follows:—

A DISCLAIMER.

Dear Sir,—You say I was standing on my head when watching the game between Belleville and Trenton in Belleville. I beg to inform you different. I was standing on three legs, right side up with care, too. I did not write up that game at all. I did not have my write up ready, so it was written by somebody else. I hope you will be, as you always have been, fair, and insert this in your paper. Thanking you in advance, I beg to remain

Yours respectfully,
P. J. JENNINGS, Trenton.

CHAUCER'S CLEVER RETORT.

Chaucer Elliott is right there with the ready retort every time some one heckles him. Saturday night at Excelsior rink, while he was refereeing the T.A.A.C.-Eaton game, a bibulous individual with a fiery red nose shouted down at Elliott during a cessation of play:

"Say, Chaucer, aren't you a bit off color to-night?"

"No, old chap," replied Chaucer, right off the bat. "It's your nose."—Toronto Star.

BILLIARDS.

FRENCH CHAMPION BEATEN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Edouard Roudil, holder of the amateur billiard title of Europe, was decisively defeated in the opening match yesterday afternoon of the international 18.2 balk-line billiard tournament at the Liederkranz Club, by Joseph Mayer of the Columbia Club of Philadelphia. The match went forty-four innings, and the score was 400 to 221. Mayer's winning average was 9 4-44, while the Frenchman averaged only 5 1-44.

POGGENBURG SECOND.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The playoff of the tie for second place in the national amateur 18.2 balk-line billiard tournament at the Hanover Club in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon resulted in a victory for J. Ferdinard Poggenburg over Percy Collins in forty-four innings by a score of 400 to 310. Poggenburg led from the start and piled up billiards so swiftly in the early part of the game that Collins was left far in the rear. Runs of 58, 46 and 42 in a bunch sent his total to 221, while Collins had only reached the 105 mark.

DEMAREST CHALLENGES HOPPE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Calvin Demarest, of Chicago, former champion at 18.2 balk-line billiards, has challenged Willie Hoppe, present holder of the championship. If Hoppe accepts ,which is more than likely, the game will be played within sixty days at the Hotel Astor.

THE RING.

A POOR BOUT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Fight fans agreed to-day that Jim Stewart, the Brooklyn architect, was a wonderful "turkey trotter," but no miller. In his bout with Carl Morris last night he hung on, and backed around the ring until Referee Charlie White warned him that he was supposed to be engaged in a boxing match, instead of a dance. Morris did not show to much advantage, although he flattened Stewart's nose and cut his mouth. His punches lacked steam.
